MY MAGAZINE "INVESTING FOR PROFIT" (which I'll send free as worth $50 a copy to any man who intends to invest any money, however small; who has money invested unprofitably, or who can save $5 or more per month, but who hasn't learned the art of investing for profit.

It demonstrates the real earning power of money—the knowledge financiers and bankers hide from the masses.

It reveals the enormous profits bankers make and shows how one can make the same profits safely.

It explains HOW stupendous fortunes are made and WHY they are made—how $5,000 grows to $50,000.

To introduce my magazine write me NOW mention this paper and I'll send it SIX MONTHS FREE.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY
OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1500 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mine has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mine has averaged about $975 a ton, or about $1.20 for every foot of sinking, the mine being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mine running less than $5.00 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mine. Another shipment of 60 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

Before Treatment. After Treatment.

He was surprised at how the sores healed: "I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

I saw the wisdom contained in her remark, and accordingly pulled myself together and set to work to turn the boat's head in the direction we had come. But when we had gone about, my dismay may be imagined at discovering that a thick fog had obscured the island, and was fast bearing down upon us. Those on board the vessel we had been chasing must have seen it approaching, and have thought it advisable to give the island and its treacherous surroundings as wide a berth as possible.

"Can you see the land at all, Mr. Wrexford?" asked Miss Maybourne, who had herself been staring in the direction in which our bows were pointing.

"I must confess I can see nothing of it," I answered. "But if we continue in this direction and keep our ears open for the sound of the surf, there can be no doubt as to our being able to make our way back to the bay."

"How thick the fog is," she continued, "and how quickly it has come up! It makes me feel more nervous than even the thought of that ship forsaking us."

I stared at her in complete surprise. To think of Miss Maybourne, whom I had always found so cool and collected in moments of danger, talking of feeling nervous! I rallied her on the subject as I pulled along, and in a few moments she had forgotten her fear.

While I pulled along I tried to figure out what distance we could be from the island. When we discovered that the vessel had turned her back on us I had been rowing for something like half an hour. At the rate we had been traveling that would have carried us about a couple of miles from the shore. After we had noticed the change in her course we had probably pulled another four at most. That being so, we should now be between five and six miles from land—two hours' hard work in my present condition. To add to the unpleasantness of our position, the fog by this time had completely enveloped us, and to enable you to judge how dense it was I may say that I could only just distinguish my companion sitting in the stern of the boat. Still, however, I pulled on, pausing every now and again to listen for the noise of thes urf breaking on the shore.

The silence was intense; the only sound we could hear was the tinkling of the water as it dripped off the ends of the oars. There was something indescribably awful about the utter absence of noise. It was like the peace which precedes some great calamity. It stretched the nerves to breaking pitch. Indeed, once when I allowed myself to think what our fate would be if by any chance we should miss the island, I had such a shock as almost deprived me of my power of thinking for some minutes.

For at least an hour and a half I pulled on, keeping her head as nearly as possible in the some direction, and expecting every moment to hear the roar of the breakers ahead. The fog still remained as thick as ever, and each time I paused in my work to listen the same dead silence greeted me as before. Once more I turned to my work, and pulled on without stopping for another quarter of an hour. Still no sound of the kind we hoped to hear came to us. The island seemed as difficult to find in that fog as the proverbial needle in the bundle of hay.

The agony of mind I suffered was enough to turn a man's brain. If only the fog would lift and let us have a glimpse of where we were, it would have been a different matter, but no such luck. It continued as thick as ever, wreathing and circling about us like the smoke from the infernal regions. At last I drew in my oars and arranged them by my side. Under the circumstances it was no use wasting what remained of my strength by useless exertion.

From that time forward—that is to say for at least six hours—we drifted on and on, the fog remaining as dense as when we had first encountered it. Throughout that time we kept our ears continually strained for a sound that might guide us, but always without success. By this time it must have been considerably past three in the afternoon, and for all we knew to the contrary we might still be miles and miles out of our reckoning. All through this agonizing period, however, Miss Maybourne did not once complain, but bore herself with a quiet bravery that would have shamed the veriest coward into at least an affectation of courage. How bitterly I now reproached myself for having left the island to pursue that vessel I must leave you to imagine. But for that sui idal act of folly we might now be on ary land, if not perhaps as luxuriously housed as we should have liked, at least safer than we were now. The responsibility for that act of madness rested entirely upon my shoulders, and the burden of that knowledge was my continual punishment.

At last I was roused from my bitter thoughts by my companion exclaiming that she thought the fog was lifting a little in one particular quarter. I looked in the direction indicated and had to admit that the atmosphere certainly seemed to be clearer there than elsewhere. Still, however, there was no noise of breakers to be heard.

The light in the quarter pointed out by my companion was destined to be the signal for the fog's departure, and in less than a quarter of an hour, starting from the time of our first observing it, the whole expanse of sea, from horizon to horizon, stood revealed to us. We sprang to our feet almost simultaneously, and searched the ocean for the island. But to our horror it was not to be seen. We were alone on the open sea without either water or food, any real knowledge of where we were, or without being able to tell from which quarter we might expect assistance to come. A more dreadful situation could scarcely be imagined, and when, I considered the sex and weakness of my companion, and reflected what such a fate would mean for her, I could have cursed myself for the stupidity which had brought it all about.

For some moments after we had made our terrible discovery, neither of us spoke. Then our glances met and we read our career in each other's eyes.

"What are we to do? What can we do?" cried Miss Maybourne, running her eyes round the horizon and then meeting my gaze again.

I shook my head and tried to think before I answered her.

"For the moment I am as powerless as yourself to say," I replied. "Even if we could fix the direction, goodness only knows how far we are from the island. We may be only distant ten miles or so, or we may be twenty. It must be nearly four o'clock by this time, and in another four hours at most darkness will be falling; under cover of the night we may miss it again. On the other hand we cannot exist here without food or water. Oh, Miss Maybourne, to what straits have I brought you through my stupidity. If we had stayed on the island instead of putting off on this fool's chase you would be safe now."

"You must not blame yourself, Mr. Wrexford," she answered. "Indeed you must not! It is not just, for I was quite as anxious as yourself to try and intercept the vessel. That we did not succeed is not our fault, and in any case I will not let you reproach yourself."

NEW USES FOR ILUMINUM

Niagara Falls, January 29.—More aluminum is manufactured in Niagara Falls than in any other place in the world. It was on August 26, 1896, that the works at Niagara Falls started operation, and in the ten years that have passed the development has been wonderful, greatly benefiting for in the modern method of making steel aluminum is used in small quantities. Usually from two to five ounces of aluminum are put in each ton of open hearth steel made, and from six to eight ounces into a ton of Bessemer steel. In fact, had every ton of steel made in the United States in 1904 been subjected to this treatment, something like 5,000,000 pounds of aluminum would have been consumed by the steel industry alone.

In 1901 3,650,000 pounds of aluminum were made in the United States, an increase of 1,100,000 pounds over 1903. In 1902 the output in the United States was 7,300,000 pounds. The output in 1903 is of particular interest, because of the fact that twenty years before that the output was only eighty-three pounds, and at the end of the first decade of manufacture in 1897, only 130,820 pounds were made.

Every day aluminum is applied to new uses, increasing the consumption to a wonderful degree. Aluminum paper is one of the latest products, and it is said to be far superior to tin foil and similar articles. Aluminum is used for household utensils as well as those for military purposes. In textile mill work aluminum spools and bobbins are very popular, and as a setting for lenses aluminum is much lighter than brass. It is used on railway cars, on locomotives, lithographic plates, letter boxes, in patented explosives, for making acid carboys, and many other chemical vessels.

A Record Dinner.

The largest dinner ever given assembled at Paris a few days ago. The Mutualists of France dined at the Galerie des Machines. About 50,000 sat down together. Five hundred waiters served, and 15,000 dishes were used at nine miles of tables. There were 150,000 plates, which if piled up would reach ten times higher than the Eiffel tower. The "cheer" included 25,000 bottles of red and white wine, 15,000 bottles of beer, 6,000 bottles of milk, 10,000 bottles of mineral waters, 5,000 bottles of champagne, 4,000 half bottles of liqueur, and two steam urns, each of fifteen horsepower, brewed the coffee. Meats of all kinds weighed seventy tons, and there were three-quarters of a ton of cigars.

A Lost Chance.

After continuous employment for forty years, without losing a single day's work for any reason whatever and without a vacation during all those years, Vine Hovey, agent at Forest City, Mo., for the Burlington railroad, has been given a vacation which will last two years, his full pay going on for that length of time. Hovey is the oldest man in point of service on the Burlington system. At one time in Nevada he owned a mining claim near the famous Virginia mine for which he was offered $450,000. He wanted $1,000,000, and finally parted with it for a pair of old horses. Subsequently it was found that this was more than the claim was worth.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district to which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it reaches $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

It Will Pay You to Read and Investigate this Proposition.

Custer, Idaho, November 15, 1905.

To the Stock Holders of The Ozarna Mining Co.:—

We have steadily continued the development of our properties since last advising you June 20th. At that time we had no plant erected or contracted for, but now I am pleased to report that we have secured a Ten Stamp Mill, together with Boarding House, Assay Office and all other necessary buildings, originally costing $15,000.00, hence you will know that we have been making great progress, and are rapidly approaching a productive stage, but as we have a final payment to make on this Mill, we will not withdraw our stock from the market until this money is raised. We are now making preparations so that by early spring we can start our Mill for a long and continuous run. You will be advised later on as to the date when we will start so that you can be present if possible.

In addition to this Mill, which is now erected, with all machinery in place and in perfect running order, we have secured the machinery for an other Ten Stamp Mill, consisting of Battery, Seventy-five Horse Power Engine, two Forty Horse Power Boilers, and all other necessary machinery which we expect to install in the Mill now already erected, which will increase the capacity of our plant from 750 to 1500 tons a month, which means a great saving in the cost of reducing our ores, as it takes about the same labor to operate a Ten Stamp Mill as it does to operate a Twenty Stamp Mill, about the only additional expenses necessary to operate the larger Mill is a little additional fuel. In addition to above machinery we have also purchased an Ingersoll Air Compressor for use in the Mines, at a cost of $1200.00.

We are assured funds to complete our payment on the Ten Stamp Mill and for other purposes, and never having any brokers to place our stock, we have had no commissions to pay, hence we have financed the Company for a less sum than is usually required. We have no debts and will pay no salaries until after the Mill goes into commission.

I also beg to advise you that we expect to take over the control of the stock of the Corning Mining Company, at an early date, giving a part of our stock in payment therefore. This will give us an additional eighty acres of Mineral Land, twenty acres of which is the Black Mine. This Mine has produced $160,000.00 net, and has ore ready for shipments, reading over $70,000.00, and an additional sum of $10,127.00 has been expended in development this and last summer. Our Mill is on this group and is adjoined by "The Lucky Boy Mine," which has produced $1,000,000, and by "The Badger Group," which has paid $600,000.00 on a capital of $1200.00.

The time is rapidly approaching when THE OZARNA COMPANY WILL BE ONE OF THE STEADY PRODUCERS, and I urge each of the stock holders to buy all the stock that he or she can pay for while it can be had at the exceedingly low price of 10 cents a share. The officers are increasing their holdings and we want to give all the stock holders an equal chance with us. I have just put $1,000.00 more cash into the Company's Treasury for stock at 10 cents a share, the same that you will pay if you take advantage of this opportunity NOW.

I trust that you will be pleased with this report and with the efforts that are being made by your officers for the interests of each stock holder.

REGINALD CORYELL, Manager Ozarna Gold Mining Company.

To the readers of "The Times":—

The above report has been sent out to all our stock holders, and the allotment of stock for sale at 10 cents a share is being rapidly taken, for the ore that we are now taking out averages over $67.50 a ton and, with our Twenty Stamp Mill in operation, our earnings will not be less than $30,000.00 net per month, which will enable us to pay at least 100 per cent. (ten times the present cost) in dividends within six months from the time we put the Mill in commission. For immediate acceptance only, I can offer this stock for 10 cents a share cash, or one-quarter of the amount with order and a like amount in 30, 60 and 90 days. Make all orders payable to the undersigned, or remit through the NATIONAL BANK OF DELPHOS.

YOU ARE AILING

Find the Cause or the Weakness and Nervous Dread That Overshadows Your Life.

You can't keep up forever.

Sooner or later Nature will rebel against the strain that is imposed on your overworked system. So far, will power and nerve may have tied you over, but the end is probably near at hand.

To-day the common complaint with weak men and women is lack of kidney vitality. Here you have the cause of your ill-health.

Wouldn't it be wise to use a time-tested remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they cure that "ailing" feeling in one night. Next morning you feel like new—bright, fresh and happy. Appetite improves, dull, sallow color grows ruddy and clear, proving that great good is being done by this scientific medicine.

Thus writes Mrs. D. F. Fowler, from Yarmouth: "I used to feel drowsy and heavy, my color was sallow, and there was usually a bad taste in my mouth. I had severe pains all through my limbs, and an annoying headache as well.

"After one dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills there was a sudden change. I felt better, my appetite increased, and that exhaustion and depression gradually left me. Life seemed brighter and happier after I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, so I strongly recommend such a good medicine."

Mrs. Fowler's letter is a message to you and all others in poor health. You can't do better than follow her advice. Dr. Hamilton's Pills you certainly need; then why not get them now and enjoy the abundant good health they are sure to bring you? Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. At all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Police Magistrate Dumble is in Toronto.

—The Y.M.C.A. debating club meets on Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

—Reserve Saturday night, Jan. 27, first Y.M.C.A. "Pop." All citizens invited.

—The City Council, in Committee of the Whole were kept busy last night. Particulars in another column of this issue.

—The concert, which was to have been given in the T.A.S. hall last night, has been postponed until further notice.

—Mrs. (Rev.) E. A. Langfeldt and children who have been spending a few days in Orillia, returned to the city yesterday.

—Hamilton women must have a high opinion of themselves when one one of them values a kiss snatched from her at $1,000.

—St. John's choir rehearsals will be held this week as follows:—Wednesday, 7 p.m., for boys only; Thursday, 8 p.m., for full choir.

—The appointments of Matthew A. Morrison, Henry LeBrun, and James Kendry as the license board for West Peterboro have been gazetted.

—The Right Rev. I. O. Springer, Bishop of the MacKenzie River diocese, is expected to visit Peterboro shortly, and will preach in St. Luke's church.

—Twenty-three horses here in readiness for the races, and now soft weather will probably impel a postponement. Hard Luck, Peterboro Turf Club.

—The Picton races, which clash for today with the Lodal races, will probably have to be postponed for the same reason as those billed for Peterboro.

—Don't look for humming birds or bathing suits yet. You will probably get busy with your coal and snow shovels before either of the former are in evidence.

—The Children's Aid Society desire to acknowledge the following gifts,—Mrs. Walter Patterson, Cleveland, Ohio, $2, St. Luke's church Sunday school, $12.50.

—Three inches of water on the Driving Park track was the state of affairs last night. The races will probably have to be postponed until Jack Frost gets his work in.

—The races are postponed until Friday and Saturday of this week. This will give hundreds of men employed in the local factories a chance to see the races Saturday afternoon.

—The adjourned annual meeting of the subscribers of the public library was held yesterday evening. There was only a fair attendance. For particulars see other columns.

—To-night the Y.W.C.A. annual meeting will be held. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt will deliver an address. The secretary who has been in Toronto will return in time for the meeting.

—The bright little town of Galt has now a morgue fitted up with "modern conveniences," such as revolving glass slab on which to display corpses at all angles and points of view.

—At the meeting of the Presbyterian Guild of St. Paul's church yesterday evening, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt spoke on "The Evolution of a Boy." A good program was rendered and refreshments served.

—We understand that the recent rumors relative to the Oriental Hotel being sold are quite unfounded. A gentleman from Toronto, was here in this connection, but his price and that asked for the business could not assimilate.

—Last night about 7.30 six cars were bunched at the corner of George and Charlotte streets. A George street car jumped the track, and owing to the wet state of the street, the employes were somewhat nervous about handling the cars, fearing a shock. The difficulty, however was gotten away with in a short time.

Chas. McIver Drowned at Millbrook.

A sad accident occurred on Sunday morning at Millbrook, whereby Chas. McIver, was drowned by the heavy current below the mill upsetting the boat containing deceased and his brother Fred. Charles, 18 years of age, was drowned in the sight of his father, brother and a number of citizens, whose efforts were unable to save him. Fred, was with great difficulty saved. The body of the deceased was found at the mill flume, a quarter of a mile below the scene of the accident.

Children With Scissors.

Parents can take warning by the sad experience of little 3-year-old Florence Barrie of Hastings, who last week lost the sight of one eye for ever. An older sister was ripping some cloth with a pair of scissors and the scissors slipping the point of them struck the little girl in the right eye with the above result.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DANGER BY ICE

Local Creeks Greatly Swollen, Dams and Bridges Placed in Jeopardy

While this mild weather may be appreciated by those averse to contributing their shekels to our local coal barons, it keeps those interested in our local creeks and rivers in control, guessing.

The heavy thaws of last week, augmented by the downpour of rain on Saturday night and early Sunday morning caused the creeks in and around the city to greatly endanger bridges and dams. The rapid thawing of the snow and ice caused the water to rise quickly, causing the consequently released ice, to float at a mad rate of speed, down the swiftly flowing streams.

As the immature ice-fields would meet with any obstruction in their downward course, they would make the narrows into dams, causing the backed up water to rise suddenly and endanger surrounding property and bridges.

The greatest danger existed at the railway bridge near the Protestant Home. Here the ice had accumulated and the water was unable to get past. It flooded the boiler shop of the Wm. Hamilton Company, and the coal sheds of J. A. Fitzgerald. The jam threatened to carry away this bridge as well as the bridge on Bethune St. and the G.T.R. had a staff of men at work all day dynamiting the ice. Towards evening the ice being dislodged control was fortunately secured over this dangerously gaining flood. The dam near the old Patterson tannery was unable to withhold the press of ice and water, and was washed away. The north part of Downie street was flooded, many cellars being filled with water. On Sunday afternoon large numbers of spectators watched the fight between dynamite intelligently placed, and ice driven by brute force of the current.

Yesterday afternoon there was some trouble with the ice blockade on the creek between Stewart street foot bridge and the Bethune street railway bridge. The G.T.R. had a large staff of men, with dynamite, at work on the ice jam here. Towards evening their efforts had got the locality fairly under control.

Man Hurt at W. Hamilton's Foundry

One of those accidents which Fate seems to decree must happen at all large factories, occurred yesterday afternoon about four o'clock when Dr. Yeo; received a hurry-up call to the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company's works. A young man named Popshaw, had just got a finger badly crushed in one of the machines. The doctor promptly answered the call, and on arrival at this well known establishment found Mr. Popshaw had got the second finger of his left hand so badly injured, that amputation was necessary. He brought the injured man to his surgery, and took off the top two joints. Popshaw was then sent home, and will be unable to work for some days.

Conservative Club's Smoker.

THE WEAK SPOT.

When a boiler explodes carrying death and destruction with it, every body says "Why; we thought it was strong enough. It must have had a weak spot somewhere!" When a man who has the outward appearance of being sound and strong suddenly falls a prey to disease, his friends exclaim: "Why we thought he was all right—he must have had a weak spot somewhere."

The fact is, almost everybody has a weak spot somewhere. Death and disease are always looking for weak spots. If your stomach or your liver won't do its proper work, if your body fails to get its full nourishment from the food you eat, and your brain loses part of the sleep it ought to have, no matter how big your frame and muscular your limbs may be, you will give out; disease will find the weak spot, and sickness will give way.

"Three years ago this spring I was attacked with a severe cold which settled on my lungs," writes W. A. Cole, of Fort Wellington, Ont. "Doctored for it, but was troubled by five different doctors, but kept getting worse until I was advised to go to the hospital to see what they could do for me. They examined me and told me I could live but a year and advised me to go home and get my affairs in order. After suffering for nearly a year and taking off in weight from 180 pounds to 120 pounds I commenced taking 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken all of one bottle I began to feel relief, and kept on until I had taken eight bottles, and now I am as well and strong as anything. I weigh 160 pounds and feel fine all the time. My friends were surprised to notice such a quick change in me after reading me for so long. Several said they never expected to see me out of bed. I have not had to take any medicine for stomach trouble since. I cannot say enough in praise of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.'"

This glorious "Discovery" gives the stomach and liver power to do their natural work regularly and completely. It makes healthy blood and steady nerves. It helps the weak spots, making them sound and strong.

The best of it is, you don't need any money to start. A complete outfit free. P. O. Drawer No. 999, Buffalo, N. Y.

Among the singers and reciters who have kindly consented to take part are Messrs. A. P. Macdonald, W. H. Denham, Alex. Elliott, Wm. McIlroy, Gilbert Scott, W. H. Dunsiow and others. It will thus be seen that there will be no lack of good music. There will also be instrumental solos. Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P. for Midland, will make the address of the evening. Numbers of Conservatives from the villages and rural districts of the county have signified their intention of attending.

A CROWDED HOUSE

Conjoint Oddfellows' Lodges Give Splendid Entertainment.

Last night, from long before eight o'clock until nearly 8.30, not only was there a solid line of Peterboro's best citizens, en route to the Grand Opera house, but every car along George street, discharged a full complement bound to hear the splendid concert given under auspices of Peterboro's Oddfellows. By 8.15 every portion of the house, excepting the private boxes was simply jammed, many ladies having to content themselves with standing room.

The program was, as is always the case in entertainments gotten up by Peterboro's members of the mystic Triple Links, beyond compare. The program was divided into two parts, the first being solos, both vocal and instrumental by well-known artists. The second part was something laugh, being 12 songs of Childhood, given by the Misses Kirkwood and Lounsdale, and Messrs. Harold Wilds and Watkin Mills. The Watkin Mills Co. have established a name for themselves in this city.

King Peter About to Lose His Throne

Dynasty is Threatened by the Growth of Radical and Republican Influences---Boycotted Monarch Will be Expelled Within a Year.

London, Jan. 24.—Special despatches from Vienna to London newspapers are inclined to attribute the strained relations between Austria-Hungary and Servia partly to the waning influence of King Peter. The King is represented as being powerless to control the policy of his Cabinet, owing to the growth of radical and republican influences, which, it is said, appear to threaten the position of the Servian dynasty.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "It is believed in Austria that the days of the Karageorgevitch dynasty are numbered, and that before a year has elapsed King Peter and his family will be expelled. King Peter's court is virtually boycotted by the European courts, owing to suspicions that he had foreknowledge of the murder of King Alexander and Queen Draga, and already a strong party is trying to place a German Prince on the Servian throne."

The correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says he hears that Austria has learned of the conclusion of a military alliance between Servia and Hungaria.

Vienna, Jan. 24.—A despatch received from Belgrade says that the Austro-Hungarian frontier has been closed against Servian cattle. This marks an acute step in the quarrel between Austria-Hungary on one side and Bulgaria and Servia on the other as the result of secret negotiations between the Balkan States for a mutual customs union. All the efforts of Austria-Hungary to terminate the negotiations looking to the conclusion of the customs union have been unavailing. In its last note on the subject the Servian Government declined to be guided by Austria-Hungary's suggestions in the matter. The negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Servia for the conclusion of a commercial treaty were officially broken off yesterday because of Servia's persistence in endeavoring to form the union with the other Balkan States.

EXPELLED ONCE BEFORE.

King Peter received his early education at Belgrade, during the reign of his father, being thirteen years old when the family was expelled from Servian soil. Later he went to school in Perth and Tebeavar, and, besides repeated visits to Russia, he spent several years at the small court of Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, at Cettinje. While there he married in 1883, the latter's daughter, Princess Zorka. She died seven years later. The issue of this marriage was three children.

Because of his dissipated and spend-thrift habits, Prince Peter quarreled with his father-in-law of Montenegro, and also lost the good graces of Alexander III. of Russia, from whom he received large gifts of money on several occasions. On accession of the present Czar, Nicholas II., however, there was a sort of reconciliation with St. Petersburg, and the finances of Prince Peter were put and kept on a sound basis, but he was notoriously poor until his accession to the Servian throne. It is said that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria assisted materially in this financial rehabilitation.

Prince Peter Karageorgevitch studied at Berlin for eight years and was regarded as a zealous Socialist. The Prince at Zurich was called "Red Peter," or "The Red Prince."

BAVARIAN MAY ESCAPE

Surrounded by Several Feet of Ice She is Well Protected.

Quebec, January 24.—Major John T. Boyd, and Capt. Saunders, representing American underwriters interested in the S. S. Bavarian have just visited the vessel on Wye Rock, and express the belief that she will escape injury from the ice, and be floated next spring.

The experts, who were assigned to make a survey of the ship and its position, proceeded down the river on board the Government ice breaker Montcalm. They found the Bavarian lying in the same position as when she went on Wye Rock. She is surrounded by ice and all round the ship is formed a sort of frozen ground some few feet thick, which acts as a natural fender to keep floating ice from crushing up against the ship's side. Messrs. Boyd and Saunders made a thorough inspection of the ship and its position, and feel thoroughly satisfied with its safety during the balance of the winter months, and also feel confident that the steamer can be floated from her precarious position next spring.

France Has Two Allies.

St. Petersburg, January 24.—From information received by the Foreign Office here, France is clearly alarmed at the possibility of complications during the Algeciras conference, owing to fear that Germany will pursue an aggressive policy.

As France's ally, Russia is bound to sustain France, the reports that Great Britain has given France assurance of her support are confirmed.

THE TURF.

Last night Mr. Martin Connors, owner of Lady Gothard, and other fast steppers, received a telephone communication from Mr. Moffatt, from Picton, saying that the races there were postponed until Friday and Saturday, instead of on Tuesday and Wednesday, as at first intended. Lady Gothard, as already noted in The Times, is at Picton, and last night, a gentleman well posted in matters appertaining to the turf, and particularly to local horses, offered to back his opinion that at the Picton races, in the 2.35 class, Lady Gothard would come out 1. 1. 1. There were no takers.

The clerk of the weather and the clerk of the course yesterday did not agree as to a fit and proper sample of weather for Peterboro's races.

• • •

Should the weather turn sufficiently cold, to freeze up the three inches of water now covering the local track the races will be run here, at the Driving Park, the latter end of this week.

Belleville ice races will be held on Jan. 30th and 31st.

CURLING.

Lindsay will send two rinks to Winnipeg this winter and try to win the Ontario Tankard with what she has left. Last winter the Tankard went east without the aid of Flavelle's select quartette, who were in the west at the time.

A meeting of the curling club was held at the rink yesterday evening to select skips for the Lindsay-Peterboro match on February 1st.

HOCKEY.

Referring to a hockey game played in Hogtown last Saturday, the Toronto Globe says:

"There was no ice to speak of, the boards being coated with a thin, sugary substance that was as shifting as sand and as holding as uncoolened asphalt. At the east end of the rink the boards were exposed and it was almost impossible to shove the puck through the slush. It was not so bad in the vicinity of the other goal, the snow being a little more firm. Three of the four games were made at that end. There was little skating done, the players running on their blades.

The intermediate league game that was to have been played between Peterboro and Port Hope this evening in our south'rn suburb, has been postponed owing to the weather.

It is understood that an adequate trophy will be offered for the city league championship.

RUGBY.

Mr. Morgan Jellet of Toronto, is in the city. Mr. Jellet is one of the greatest Rugby players that ever stepped on the gridiron. He played with the Lorna's of Toronto, when they held the Dominion championship.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE SITE

The meeting, noted both by The Times and our evening contemporaries, as to have been held last night in the board room of the Toronto Savings & Loan Company, between the Board of Education and representatives of our local regiment, to discuss a proposed change of sites as regards the Collegiate Institute and the armories. The meeting, however, proved to be more in the nature of a meeting o. the 57th officers, to formulate their intended action in this matter. Before any decided action was taken, the press was given a pain, but politely conveyed, still plain hint that the meeting was a private one, and that the absence of reporters was far preferable to their company and subsequent reports.

Among those present up to the time of this intimation of desired privacy, there was present, as representing the 57th, Col. Miller, Maj. Hayes, Capt. Hounsell, Capt. Claxton, Lieut. Watt and Lieut. Wallace; and Messrs. Dunnble, Orange and Secretary Morrow, for the Board of Education.

Judging by the tone of the officers' conversation, they seemed to consider that the School Board were somewhat changeable. A prominent officer intimated to The Times representative present, that the Board had been given, and taken its choice of lots, and now wanted still another change.

T. V. C. WATERS

Superintendent McClellan Determined to Keep up a High Level.

Supt. McClellan says that the water in the Trent Canal is not "high," it is "steady." Mr. McClellan admits being an advocate of high water, and that it would have to be much more plentiful in the canal than at present, before he would say it was too high. His instructions to the lock tenders along the line of the canal from Balsam lake to the southern end are to keep their stop logs in, at least, until the water gets higher than it is now.

Whilst the water was at a higher level yesterday than it was some days ago, it has not yet reached a point where it is considered desirable by him to take out the stop logs in the dams under his control.

Engineers everywhere have predicted that not only the T.V.C. but all navigable waters of the Dominion, will be low during the coming summer, hence perhaps Mr. McClellan's careful conservation of our back country reservoirs.

DAN. EAGAN LOST

Septuagenarian Mentally Weak Missing Since Last October.

Daniel Eagan, of Norwood, has been missing since last fall. About a year ago, in a partially deranged state of mind, he came to this section of the country from Ohio, visiting Peterboro, Hastings and Norwood. He was last heard of at the Coughlin House, Hastings, on Oct. 25th, of last year.

While the missing man was at the hotel, Mr. Owen Eagan, his brother, living at Norwood, wrote the proprietor of the house. The letter got into the missing man's possession; having been written by his brother's niece, and the handwriting unknown to him, the mentally unbalanced man, concluded it was a trap, and that police were after and about to arrest him. He at once mysteriously left the place, and has not been heard of since.

The missing man is short and stout, about 70 years of age. He had, when last recognized, a dark moustache, slightly grizzled. He has a habit of shaking his head continually as though by St. Vitus Dance, and talks to himself in audible whispers.

Anyone knowing of his whereabouts might notify the police, or Mr. Owen Eagan, Norwood.

MERCILESS SEVERITY

Twenty-two More Revolutionists Executed by Soliegub.

St. Petersburg, January 24. — Despatches from Libau and Mikau show that Governor-General Soliegub continues to act with...ruthless severity against revolutionists caught with arms in hand or convicted of participation in incendiarism or murder. Twenty-two more persons have been tried by drumhead court-martial and shot near Libau. The troops are now advancing on Prasenburg, where the fleeing revolutionists have concentrated. Two leaders of an uprising among school teachers have been executed near Mitau.

OUR INDIANS ARE VERY PROSPEROUS

And There is a Fair Increase in Population.

MORE BIRTHS THAN DEATHS

Deputy Minister Says Intemperance is Not so Widespread as Generally Supposed.

The annual report of the Indian Department has just been issued. It shows that the Indian population of the Dominion for 1905 was 107,657, compared with 107,978 for 1904. Although this gives a decrease there was actual increase in the population, for the Province of Ontario 439 had been deducted because it was discovered that this number had been returned under two distinct headings previously.

The excess of births and deaths for the year was 273, which surpasses by eleven the increase of population from the same source during the year before.

Quebec, New Brunswick and Manitoba give increases in the population, while Ontario, because of the error in calculation, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia and the North-West show decreases. Some 227 souls were omitted in the North-West in Treaty 5. The actual increase was 296, of which 273 was natural increase and 23 migratory.

The aggregate earnings of Indians from all sources exclusive of interest moneys, annuities and rentals were $4,824,773, which exceeding the preceding year by $244,975.

These figures bear testimony to the material welfare of the Indians. The Indians who are being overtaken by settlement are in the most part either in a position to provide for their maintenance by farming or to avail themselves of other openings for industry. About 45,000 acres were under cultivation and $1,364,705 realized from grain and roots harvested.

There was an increase in the value of farm produce in all the Provinces except New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and British Columbia. The wages earned in the year were $1,621,739, an increase of $105,197 over the same time last year. From other industries there were realized $402,180, an increase of $80,000 over last year. The increase in wages has been proportionately greater in the older Provinces and that from industries greater in the younger Provinces. From hunting there was realized $610,020 and from fishing $466,958.

Deputy Minister Pedley, in his report says that intemperance among Indians is by no means the widespread evil that some seem to suppose. It is true that it is sadly prevalent among some bands, but among the better class it is extremely rare. A marked improvement is taking place as far as drinking is concerned.

There are 103 schools, an increase of five over the previous year.

The capital of the Indian Trust fund has increased to $4,546,756.

The Indian population by provinces for 1905 is as follows: Ontario, 20,850; Quebec, 11,218; Nova Scotia, 1,993; New Brunswick, 1,609; Prince Edward Island, 238; British Columbia, 25,142; Manitoba, 8,870; North-West Territories, 17,691; outside treaty limits, 23,-904; total, 107,657.

LOCAL FIRM NOTICED

Canadian Manufacturer Refers to Peterboro' Cereal Co.

In referring to the gas plant recently introduced by our hustling local industry, the Peterboro Cereal Co., and noted in a former issue of The Times, The Canadian Manufacturer says:

"The Peterboro Cereal Co., Peterboro, Ont., have installed a gas plant in their works, put in by the Gas Supplies & Construction Co., Toronto. The generator installed is built along different lines from the ordinary gas generator. This style of generator is in use largely in Europe, but very few are in operator in Canada and the United States. The new system of procuring heat and power is known as "Producer Gas" and it is claimed that a great deal more energy is derived from the coal than by the ordinary methods. Producer gas is made in a generator which allows no escape of the products of the coal from which the coal is generated. Steam which is made from the waste heat from the generator is automatically injected through the heated coal, which is decomposed into the form of hydrogen gas and the smoke, and gases which are lost with direct firing are combined in the producer gas and form a part thereof."

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Indictment re Death of W. Goodfellow Now Quashed.

Rex vs. Goodfellow. — Judgment (R.) on case reserved by Magee J., on a joint indictment of Sarah Goodfellow, Isabella Grant, Elizabeth See, and William Broadrett, for unlawfully conspiring and agreeing together and with each other to deprive William Goodfellow of the necessaries of life, to wit, proper medical care and nursing, whereby his death was caused. Upon this indictment the jury found defendants guilty of conspiracy. The questions reserved were; (1) Whether the first count of the indictment should have been quashed on the ground that on its face it disclosed no offence known to the law; (2) whether evidence to show specific cures effected by Christian Science treatment was properly rejected; (3) whether the judge should have ruled that there was no duty upon defendants to supply the deceased with medical care and nursing; (4) whether there was evidence for the jury that defendants were guilty on the first count; (5) whether the charge was erroneous. Upon the request of the Crown a question was also served as to whether the second count of the indictment was properly quashed. The court held that the first count should have been quashed, and did not find it necessary to consider the other questions. The court as far as they could deal with the question were also of opinion that the second count was properly quashed. Osler, J.A., refused to consider the question. Conviction quashed. H. Cassels, K.C., and T. C. Robinette, K.C., for the prisoners. J. R. Cartwright, K.C., for the Crown.

THE CHURCH WINS

St. Jean's A.C.P. Association Debate Regarding Powers of Press and Pulpit.

At the St. John's Anglican Young People's Association on Monday evening, The debate on "Resolved, that the Press Wields a Greater Influence than the Pulpit," elicited a great deal of interest among the large number present. Those taking part were; For the Press, W. H. Clurton, A. E. Walker, Joseph Bell. Negative, for the Pulpit, T. H. Jardine, C. H. Read, Rev. Canon Davidson.

The judges were Messrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot, H. Francis Ferguson and N. A. Howard-Moore, and after considerable discussion, the judges came to the conclusion that the "Pulpit" had won the debate, and had brought out the best argument in favor of their side. During the evening Mrs. Seward and Miss Ruth Dawson sang a duet, "Life's Dream is O'er," which was much appreciated.

HOSPITAL PRESENTATION

Handsome Souvenir Presented to Miss Dempster on Her Withdrawal.

A pretty ceremony was that enacted at the Nicholls Hospital, when Miss Minnie Dempster, of Toronto, who for the past two and a half years, has been one of the head nurses in the Nicholls Hospital training school, and who has resigned her position, was pleasantly surprised by the presentation of a handsome napkin ring, lined with gold. The presentation, made by a member of the nurses in training, was accompanied by a nicely worded address, in which reference was made to the high esteem in which Miss Dempster is held and the regret felt at her departure.

Though, taken by surprise, Miss Dempster made a very appropriate reply, thanking her friends for their kind token of remembrance and the kind words for her success.

Miss Dempster has accepted the position of lady superintendent of the Weyburn General Hospital, Saskatchewan. During her stay in Peterboro she has made many friends and her departure will be heard of with regret.

MACHINERY ORDERED

Sand Stone Brick Co. Will Proceed to Get Busy at Once.

Those interested, and who is not in Peterboro's industries, will be pleased to learn that the Board of Directors of the Peterboro Sandstone Brick Co., Limited, have met and transacted important business.

Those present were President J. J. English, Hastings; Vice President, J. J. Hartley; Secretary, E. S. Clarry, Peterboro; A. Brown, Peterboro; and Robt. Hartshorne, Warkworth.

The most important feature of the meeting was that the directors signed the contract for the purchase of the machinery necessary for a sandstone brick plant. The contract calls for a plant which will have a capacity of 12,000 bricks per day. If everything goes along smoothly the products of the Sandstone Brick Co., will be on the market by May 1st.

The company has acquired some ten acres of land to what is known as the May property, situated at the south-west limits of the city.

Beet Sugar Factory at Whitby.

The Keystone Beet Sugar Co., with a capital of $400,000, has secured a good location at Whitby Harbor, and the machinery from Wiarton factory—which failed owing to the land being unsuitable for beet growing—will be removed to Whitby in the spring, so that the factory may be ready to handle the fall supply of beets. The product of 5,000 acres will be required to keep the factory running at its fullest capacity, and 2,500 acres have already been secured. The tests made some years ago at Guelph College disclosed that the beets grown in Whitby and Lindsay districts contained the highest percentage of sugar of the many samples tested. It is likely that Victoria County will furnish many acres of sugar beets for the Whitby factory.

City Council and Board of Trade Will Send a Delegation to Ottawa to Urge the Granting of the C.P.R's Application---Transportation Demands New Route.

The City Council and Board of Trade met in Joint session last night to consider the C.P.R.'s proposed new line from Georgian Bay to connect with their main line to Montreal. It has been given out that the C.P.R. recognizing the crying need of a shorter cut from Georgian Bay, to meet the annual increasing requirements of transportation from the North-west to the seaboard, will if their application to Parliament is granted, create a port at Victoria Harbor and construct a new and direct railway route thence to their main right of way, connecting at Peterboro as a desirable distributing point. The importance of such action to Peterboro is apparent, and being readily recognized by our City Fathers and the Board of Trade, they decided to lose no time in publicly endorsing the C.P.R.'s proposition; and at a representative meeting last night, commended this scheme as one calling for undivided support from Peterboro, pledging themselves to exert their best energies toward inducing the Railway Commission to recognize the desirability of the C.P.R.'s request, being granted, in the interest not only of Peterboro, but likewise of the whole country.

At the close of an enthusiastic meeting on this measure, the following commendable resolution was unanimously adopted;—

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Mr. E. G. Patterson, that this joint meeting of the City Council and Board of Trade of the City of Peterboro is of opinion that it is in the highest interest of this city and district, as well as that of the whole country, that permission should be given the C. P. R. to construct their proposed new line from the Georgian Bay to their main line at Peterboro; and that the Mayor and President of the Board of Trade, with R. R. Hall, M.P., be a delegation to attend before the Railway Commission, and support the application of the C. P. R.—Carried.

The joint meeting convened at eight o'clock sharp, when there were present, His Worship Henry Best, Aldermen McWilliams, Johnston, Elliott, Hicks, Graham, Duncan, McIntyre, Munce, Ball and Tovey; The Board of Trade was represented, amongst others, by President D. Hughes-Charles, John E. Belcher, C. E., M. S. Dodds, local C.P.R. station agent; John Carnegie, R. R. Hall, M. P., E. G. Patterson, of the Canadian General; W. H. Moldrum, W. H. Bradburn, A. A. Hollingshead, W. Might, G. B. VanBlaricom.

Mr. Hughes-Charles, in his opening remarks, explained that it had not been suggested by any railway official that he call this meeting; he had done so simply in the interest of the city. He said that the G.T.R. are opposing this measure, on the ground that the proposed new route will parallel their line to Midland. The President did not think this would affect the G.T.R.'s interests as the new line will not parallel the G.T.R. for local trade, but simply for through freight transportation.

His Worship offered that the C.P.R. require a competing line from Parry Sound to the Atlantic, their present route being too indirect. And it is up to this city to get this connecting point with their main line at Peterboro. Providing they keep their tracks outside the business and residential portions of this city, it is, he argued, in our own interests to assist them in securing the granting of their application in any and every possible way.

Mr. E. G. Patterson concurred in the Mayor's remarks, and thought it would be unfortunate if Peterboro is not made the distributing point for the proposed new line.

Mr. W. H. Moldrum said the transportation problem has been a live issue for years past, and will be so in the far away future. Last year it was found impossible to meet transportation requirements at Collingwood, Midland and other ports; there were not sufficient cars. He could not understand the attitude of the G.T.R. in opposing this measure, as there is plenty of business at Midland and Victoria Harbors, for both roads. And according to the outlook it is up to Peterboro to connect with their main line to Montreal.

R. R. Hall, M.P., pointed out that of late years it had been suggested that the G.T.R. be double-tracked to Midland, and that the C.P.R. should have running rights over that route. This was probably explain the former company's opposition to the proposed new route. If the C.P.R. decide to build their own railway between Peterboro and Victoria Harbor, we should back them up for all we are worth. He endorsed the previous speakers' remarks that it is advisable and desirable to have this branch constructed in the interest of Peterboro and that of the whole country, and offered that a resolution should be passed to this effect, without any riders whatever attached thereto.

Mr. W. H. Moldrum contended that as there are no steep grades from Victoria Harbor to Peterboro, the C.P.R. could by such a route carry a third more cars in a given time than from Owen Sound.

Ald. McWilliams was heartily in accord with the previous speakers, and said that it is recognized that the direct route for transportation of products from the North-West is from Georgian Bay to Montreal. This new through route would be decidedly in the interest of Peterboro, particularly so in affording a return route for our products to the North-West. The C.P.R. propose to get to the seaboard by the nearest possible route and we apparently are all agreed that any step this city can take to assist the C.P.R.'s proposition should be gone into in no half-hearted manner. Ald. McWilliams then offered his resolution, which appears above, and it carried without a dissenting voice.

In conclusion President D. Hughes-Charles expressed his pleasure that so good a meeting had been taken as a result of the initiative steps of the Board of Trade on this live question. The action of this joint meeting will have more weight from the knowledge that it had been totally unsolicited by railway officials.

The meeting then adjourned.

MR. HOWARD WILL COME

Peterboro will Likely Get the Dominion Radiator Company.

It now looks as though Peterboro would get the factory proposed to be erected by the Dominion Radiator and Heater Co., at present of Montreal. Our readers will remember, that a short time since, we noted that Mr. Howard of Montreal, interviewed the council of this city in reference to their proposed possible location here.

His Worship, Mayor Best has received a letter from Mr. Howard. The letter stated that the company was progressing favorably with their organization work, and that 2.5 (Mr. Howard) expected to be in Peterboro again in a few days.

Mr. Howard is personally very much attracted with Peterboro as a location, and he has said that as far as he was concerned, he was ready to put in his share of the money and start the business at once. Geographically Peterboro is just as convenient for shipping to the east as to the west. When the C.P.R.'s new line is run through to Victoria Harbor, Peterboro will be in direct communication with the North-West, and there will also be a competition in freight rates between the C.P.R. and G.T.R. from Peterboro to the Georgian Bay, which will make a big saving in freight to local manufacturers and shippers.

It will also be remembered that Mr. Howard was quite satisfied with the price of electric power as offered by the Peterboro Light & Power Co., viz. $20 per h.p. for three years. The last clause was not as satisfactory as it might be, but he hopes to be able to get a five-year contract by the time they were ready to start operations.

MR. J. REYNOLDS DEAD

Resident of this City for Over 40 Years Passes Away.

Yesterday morning one of the old residents of this city, in the person of Mr. John Reynolds, 272 Simcoe St. passed away at his home.

Mr. Reynolds was seventy-one years of age, and was born in County Cavan, Ireland, in 1835. Over forty years ago he came to Peterboro, and until about twenty years ago conducted a hotel in the fifth ward. He retired from the hotel business about 1885, and for several years conducted a livery stable. This was burned down a few years ago, and since Mr. Reynolds has lived retired. He had a large number of friends.

Deceased is survived by a wife, four daughters and three sons. The daughters are; Mrs. Albert Davis, Kenilworth; Mrs. John Thompson, Lindsay; Mrs. Dan. Lipsett and Mrs. John Brown of Peterboro. The sons are Messrs. John, Frank and Joseph, all of Peterboro.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from his late residence to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. E. A. Langfeldt will officiate.

Calumet-Tellurid Golde Mining Co.

OF CALUMET, MICHIGAN,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzes and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on 10% bond, to yearly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.00 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. PETERBORO, JANUARY 24 1906

CHAMBERLAIN AND LABOR

Mr. Chamberlain predicts that the British Liberals will not long live happily with their Labor allies. This is the point at which the Chamberlain assault would naturally be directed. It is the workingman vote which he must convince of the advantages of preferential trade, if he is to carry the country eventually on that platform. The Liberals can and will promise to give the workingman many things; but Chamberlain has the only programme which promises them more competition for their labor, and hence higher wages.

There is no reason, however, why the Chamberlainite party should not be as democratic as the Liberal and give to the workingmen all the advantages which they can get from Campbell-Bannerman and his mixture of Whiggism and John Burns. Chamberlain has never been anything but a Liberal in domestic politics, and he should feel quite at home in the Liberal livery on domestic questions. To his Liberalism he adds Imperialism, however; and thus must rally to his support the fighting section of the old Conservative Imperialists, who still carry forward the traditions of Disraeli.

A PASTOR'S EXPERIMENT.

The Rev. Walter Rockford Ferris, of Middleton, N. Y., tired of talking to empty pews at regular services and of praying with a sparse half-dozen on Wednesday evenings, hit upon the plan of advertising among the want advertisements, with a view to interesting the members of his church and others in the good work which he is trying to do. He thought it best to experiment first of all with a union service, his brother ministers in Middleton evidently having a similar problem to solve and uniting in an effort to solve it. This was his initial classified ad.: "Wanted—Members of First Presbyterian church at union services afternoons and evening at the Methodist church. Walter Rockford Ferris." He was gratified on the evening of the day in which the advertisement appeared to find his church crowded with people who had previously made it a practice to be absent upon all sorts of pretences. Doubtless he is continuing the experiment, though the records do not state.

PRAISE FOR THE C.P.R.

Alex. McOwan, writing in the Winnipeg Free Press, says:—

It is perhaps a healthy sign suggestive of a progressive spirit, but the Western Canadian is disposed to be extremely critical of his governments, his institutions and his great corporations. He regards almost as a heritage, for instance, his right to abuse the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. for its iniquities of one sort and another, but more especially its excessive freight rates. These appeals to young and old alike and the theme of them is ever fresh and the outcry against them made with utmost sincerity of conviction. Robert Burns, the Scottish bard, prays that a higher power may endow us with the gift of seeing ourselves as others see us, and perhaps it would be interesting for readers of the Free Press to know how our greatest railway company is regarded in the old country. When in Scotland at the beginning of the year, on immigration business, my attention was directed to a complaint in the Scotsman newspaper, the national organ of the country. It was written by a well-known Scotch cattle breeder, a landed proprietor, near the town of Oban, on the west coast of Scotland. In his letter this gentleman complained that the steer at Calgary and the C. P. R. would haul it to St. John, N. B., a distance of about 3,000 miles, tranship it to one of their ocean steamers and carry it over sea another 2,000 miles, landing it in Liverpool cheaper than he could ship a beast by freight from Oban to London. You can depend that this gentleman did not think the Canadian farmer had not much to complain about in comparison with his own grievances.

Another case was brought under my notice by Mr. W. Haxton, of Dundee, of the firm of Fleming Haxton, shipping agents, through whose hands thousands of emigrants for Manitoba and the North-West have passed within the last ten or twelve years. "That Canadian Pacific of yours is a marvel for low rates," said Mr. Haxton to me one day. I ventured to remark that if he were on the other side he would hear more about it. "Oh! it'll be the old story," he said pawkily. "A prophet is always without honor in his own country."

He then laid before me the details of a comparison he had just made between Home and Canadian rates. Two years ago a family had passed through his hands from Forfarshire and gone to Brandon. A year after settling there, they sent home for some household effects that had been left behind. The weight was somewhere about two tons. The goods were shipped from Glasgow to Halifax and thence to Brandon. Out of curiosity, Mr. Haxton asked a quotation for the same weight of material from Dundee to London, and was more than astonished to find that the difference was a shilling in favor of the Brandon consignment. Now, Mr. Haxton is a man doing business, in the course of the year, with agents of almost every railway system in the world, and yet out of all these he was disposed to regard the C. P. R. as a marvel."

It has been my own privilege, at one time or another, to travel over nearly every one of the railways of Britain. I have also sampled, at odd times, those of Germany, France and Belgium, but nowhere in these countries can one enjoy the same comfort in travelling as one may do on the C. P. R. system. This same regard for the comfort of its passengers is displayed on the company's ocean going steamers, and I bid fair to say that if two or three fast boats were added to the Atlantic fleet the line would soon become the most popular between Britain and the Dominion.

It seems to me that during its history the policy of the company has been to promote the development of the West, first by encouraging production and again by providing for that produce being placed on the world's market on terms which will permit of its holding its own. I do not suggest that this has been undertaken as a philanthropic enterprise. The company is out for profit like every other business organization, but as a factor in the marvellous development of the West, the master minds which inaugurated and successfully if profitably carried out, the details of this policy have earned in my estimation no little measure of honor. When one reflects that billions of dollars are invested in railroads in America which are not earning a cent of dividend for the investors, one can understand the full meaning of what the Hon. Clifford Sifton said in as many words at the monster meeting at Brandon last October, that the success of the C. P. R. had not so much depended upon the fact that they had no opposition, but on a fact more creditable to its officials that it was one of the best managed railroads in the world.

MY MAGAZINE, "INVESTING FOR PROFIT" (which I'll send free) is worth $50 a copy to any man who intends to invest any money, however small; who has money invested profitably, or who can save $5 or more per month, but who hasn't learned the art of investing for profit.

It reveals the enormous profits bankers make and shows how you can make the same profits safely.

It explains HOW stupendous fortunes are made and WHY they are made—HOW $1,000 grows to $50,000.

To introduce my magazine write me NOW mentioning this paper and I'll send it SIX MONTHS FREE.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY
OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the winze has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the winze has averaged about $275 a ton, or about $1820 for every foot of sinking, the winze being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the winze running less than $50 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the winze. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT will cure you, and make a man of you. Under its influence the brain becomes active, the blood purified so that all pimples, blotches and ulcers heal up, the nerves become strong as steel, so that nervousness, bashfulness and despondency disappear, the eyes become bright, the face full and clear, energy returns to the body, and the moral, physical and sexual systems are invigorated; all drains cease—no more vital waste from the system. The various organs become natural and manly. You feel yourself a man and know marriage cannot be a failure. We invite all the afflicted to consult us confidentially and free of charge. Don't let quacks and fakirs rob you of your hard-earned dollars. WE WILL CURE YOU OR NO PAY.

☑ NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS.

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter B Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, nerves were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kergan, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through my nerves, I was cured mentally, physically and sexually. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

"Alas! I cannot help it," I replied. "And your generosity only makes me do so the more."

"In that case I shall cease to be generous," she said. We will see how that plan works. Come, come, my friend, let us look our situation in the face and see what is best to be done. Believe me, I have no fear. God will protect us in the future as He has done in the past."

I looked at the noble girl as she said this, and took heart from the smile upon her face. If she could be so brave surely I, who called myself a man, must not prove myself a coward. I pulled myself together and prepared to discuss the question as she desired. But it was the knowledge of our utter helplessness that discounted every hope. We had no food, we had no water. True, we might pull on; but if we did, in which direction should we proceed? To go east would be to find ourselves, if we lived so long—the chances against which were a thousand to one—on the most unhealthy part of the long coast line of Africa. To pull west would only be to get further out into mid-ocean, where, if we were not picked up within forty-eight hours, assistance would no longer be of any use to us. The Canary Islands, I knew, lay somewhere, say a hundred miles, to the southward, but we could not pull that distance without food or water, and even if we had a favorable breeze, we had no sail to take advantage of it. To make matters worse, the fishing line and hook I had manufactured for myself out of my scarf-pin, had been left on the island. Surely any man or woman might be excused for feeling melancholy under the pressure of such overwhelming misfortunes.

While we were thus considering our position the sun was sinking lower and lower to his rest, and would soon be below the horizon altogether. The sea was still as calm as a mill-pond, not a breath of air disturbed its placid surface. We sat just as we had done all day; Miss Maybourne in the stern, myself amidships. The oars lay on either side of me, useless as the rudder, the yoke lines had scarcely been touched since the ship had turned her back on us. When I look back on that awful time now, every detail of the boat, from the rowlocks to the grating on the bottom, seems impressed on my memory with a faithfulness that is almost a pain I can see Miss Maybourne sitting motionless in the stern, her elbows on her knees and her face buried in her hands.

At last to rouse her and take her out of herself, I began to talk. What I said I cannot recollect, nor can I even recall the subject of my conversation, I know, however, that I continued to talk and insisted upon her answering me. In the way we passed the time until darkness fell and the stars came out. For the past hour I had been suffering agonies of thirst, and I knew, instinctively, that my companion must be doing the same. I followed her example and dabbled my hands in the water alongside. The coolness, however, while proving infinitely refreshing to my parched skin, only helped to intensify my desire for something to drink. I searched the heavens in the hope of discovering a cloud that might bring us rain, but without success.

"Courage," said Miss Maybourne again, as she noticed me drop my head on to my hands in my despair. "As I said just now, we are in God's hands; and I feel certain we shall be saved at last."

As if in mockery of her faith I noticed that her voice had lost its usually clear ring, and that it was lower than I had ever hitherto heard it. But there was a note of conviction in it that showed me how firm her belief was. For my own part I must confess that I had long since given up all hope. In the face of so many calamitous circumstances it seemed impossible that we could be saved. My obvious duty there was to endeavor by every means in my power to make death as easy as possible for the woman I loved.

In the same tedious fashion hour after hour went by and still we remained as we were, floating idly upon the bosom of the deep. Twice I tried to persuade Miss Maybourne to lie down at the bottom of the boat and attempt to obtain some sleep, but she would not hear of such a thing. For myself I could not have closed my eyes for five minutes, even if by doing so I could have saved my life. Every faculty was strained to breaking pitch, and I was continually watching and listening for something, though what I expected to see or hear I could not have told if I had been asked. I pray to God that I may never again be called upon to spend such another absolutely despairing night.

CHAPTER IX.

The calm with which we had so far been favored was not, however, destined to be as permanent as we imagined, for towards the middle of the night the wind got up, and the sea, from being as smooth as glass, became more boisterous than I altogether liked. Miss Maybourne, who now seemed to be sunk into the lethargy from which she had roused me, lifted her head from her hands, and at intervals glanced over her shoulder apprehensively at the advancing waves. One thing was very evident: it would never do to let our boat drift broadside on to the seas, so I got out the oars again, and to distract my companion's thoughts, invited her to take the helm. She did as I requested, but without any sign of the eagerness she had hitherto displayed. Then, for something like an hour, we struggled on in this crab-like fashion. It was herculean labor, and every minute found my strength becoming more and more exhausted. The power of the wind was momentarily increasing, and with it the waves were assuming more threatening proportions. To say that I did not like the look of affairs would be to put my feelings very mildly. To tell the truth, I was too worn out to think of anything, save what our fate would be if by chance we should be on the edge of an hurricane. However, I knew it would not do to meet trouble half-way, so I [illegible] ted my attention upon the boat, and in this endeavoring to avert the evil of the present, found sufficient occupation to prevent me from [illegible] questioning the future.

Suddenly Miss Maybourne, who, as I have said, had for some time been sitting in a constrained attitude in the stern, sprang to her feet with a choking cry.

"Mr. Wrexford," she said, in a voice that at any other time I should not have recognized as hers, "I must have something to drink or I shall go mad."

Fearing she might fall overboard in her excitement, I leapt up, seized her in my arms, and dragged her down to her seat again. Had I not done so, I cannot say what might not have happened.

"Let me go," she moaned. "Oh, for Heaven's sake let me go! You don't know what agony I am suffering."

I could very well guess, for I had my own feelings to guide me. But it was my duty to try and cheer her at any cost, and upon this work I concentrated all my energies, at the same time keeping the boat's head in such a position that the racing seas should not overwhelm her—no light work, I can assure you. When at last I did succeed in calming her, she sat staring straight ahead of her like a woman turned to stone. It was pitiful to see a woman, who had hitherto been so brave, brought so low. I put my arm round her waist the better to hold her, and, as I did so, watched the black seas, with their tips of snowy foam, come hissing towards us. Overhead the stars shone brightly, and still not a vestige of a cloud was to be seen. It seemed like doubting Providence to believe that, after all the dangers from which we had been preserved since we had left England, we were destined to die of starvation in an open boat in mid-Atlantic. And yet how like it it looked.

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $20 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after $10,000 has been taken in dredge.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

It Will Pay You to Read and Investigate this Proposition.

Custer, Idaho, November 16, 1905.

To the Stock Holders of The Oxarna Mining Co.:—

We have steadily continued the development of our properties since last advising you June 25th. At that time we had no plant erected or contracted for, but now I am pleased to report that we have secured a Ten Stamp Mill, together with Boarding House, Assay Office and all other necessary buildings, originally costing $15,000.00, hence you will know that we have been making great progress, and are rapidly approaching a productive stage, but as we have a final payment to make on this Mill, we will not withdraw our stock from the market until this money is raised. We are now making preparations so that by early spring we can start our Mill for a long and continuous run. You will be advised later on as to the date when we will start so that you can be present if possible.

In addition to this Mill, which is now erected, with all machinery in place and in perfect running order, we have secured the machinery for an other Ten Stamp Mill, consisting of Battery, Seventy-five Horse Power Engine, two Forty Horse Power Boilers, and all other necessary machinery which we expect to install in the Mill now already equipped, which will increase the capacity of our plant from 750 to 1500 tons a month, which means a great saving in the cost of reducing our ores, as it takes about the same labor to operate a Ten Stamp Mill as it does to operate a Twenty Stamp Mill, about the only additional expenses necessary to operate the larger Mill is a little additional fuel. In addition to above machinery we have also purchased an Ingersoll Air Compressor for use in the Mines, at a cost of $1200.00.

We are assured funds to complete our payment on the Ten Stamp Mill and for other purposes, and never having any brokers to place our stock, we have had no commissions to pay, hence we have financed the Company for a less sum than is usually required. We have no debts and will pay no salaries until after the Mill goes into commission.

I also beg to advise you that we expect to take over the control of the stock of the Corning Mining Company, at an early date, giving a part of our stock in payment therefore. This will give us an additional eighty acres of Mineral Land, twenty acres of which is the Black Mine. This Mine has produced $100,000.00 net, and has one mile of developments, costing over $75,000.00, and an additional sum of $14,183.00 has been expended in developments this and last summer. Our Mill is on this group and is adjoined by "The Lucky Boy Mine," which has produced $1,000,000, and by "The Badger Group," which has paid $600,000.00 on a capital of $1200.00.

The time is rapidly approaching when THE OXARNA COMPANY WILL BE ONE OF THE STEADY PRODUCERS, and I urge each of the stock holders to buy all the stock that he or she can pay for while it can be had at the exceedingly low price of 10 cents a share. The officers are increasing their holdings and we want to give all the stock holders an equal chance with us. I have just put $1,200.00 more cash into the Company's Treasury for stock at 10 cents a share, the same that you will pay if you take advantage of this opportunity NOW.

I trust that you will be pleased with this report and with the efforts that are being made by your officers for the interests of each stock holder.

REGINALD CORTELL, Manager Oxarna Gold Mining Company.

To the readers of "The Times":—

The above report has been sent out to all our stock holders, and the allotment of stock for sale at 10 cents a share is being rapidly taken, for the ore that we are now taking out averages over $67.00 a ton and, with our Twenty Stamp Mill in operation, our earnings will not be less than $30,000.00 net per month, which will enable us to pay at least 100 per cent. (ten times the present cost) in dividends within six months from the time we put the Mill in commission. For immediate acceptance only, I can offer this stock for 10 cents a share cash, or one-quarter of the amount with order and a like amount in 30, 60 and 90 days. Make all orders payable to the undersigned, or remit through the NATIONAL BANK OF DELPHOS.

DYSPEPTIC

FOOD DOES YOU NO GOOD.

Half the time you're afraid to eat, your tongue is coated, mouth tastes bad, stomach is bloated. If you want to get well, stop using dyspepsia tablets and go to the source of the trouble before it is too late. Strengthen your stomach, cast out the bile, regulate the bowels—do this and dyspepsia will be no more.

For your condition the best prescription is Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are made specially for the stomach, kidneys and liver, no better remedy will ever be devised, for Dr. Hamilton's Pills are perfect. To the overworked organs they give new strength. The general health is built up, and all trace of dyspepsia disappears. Here is proof;

FIVE YEARS OF DYSPEPSIA CURED

"No one could realize my sufferings from stomach trouble and indigestion. For five years I have not been well. My food did me no good because I couldn't digest or assimilate. My doctor said constipation was at the root of my trouble, so I got Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My appetite improved, pain after eating ceased, and my food digested quickly. I am delighted with the thorough cure I derived from Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

(Signed) "MARTIN E. WALKER.

Cedric Sanderson Laid to Rest.

—Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Cedric Sanderson, who died Sunday, in Smith, were laid to rest in Little Lake cemetery. The funeral was an unusually large one. Rev. Dr. Crothers conducted the burial services. The officers of No. 4 Company, 57th Regiment, attended the funeral.

Lecture By Western Bishop.

The Rt. Rev. I. O. Stringer, Bishop of the Mackenzie River Diocese, will be in Peterboro in the near future and will preach and lecture at St. Luke's on his work among the Esk-Luke's on his work among the Eskimos. The date of his visit has notyet been announced.

Freeburn Paid $10.

The case, already noted in The Times of a former issue, in which Henry Freeburn, of Dummer, was charged by J. R. Payne of the same township with stealing some cord wood, has been settled out of court. The two parties came to an agreement before Judge Weller in the Judge's Chambers, and the whole quarrel was found to be due to a misunderstanding. The case was dismissed, the defendant paying costs which amounted to about $10.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Nothing doing in police court circles yesterday.

—It looks like Peterboro would have winter races after all.

—A bunch of keys are at the police station awaiting an owner.

—A joint meeting of the Board of Trade and the City Council was held last night.

—Now it is coal shovels and not bathing suits that occupy the attention of our citizens.

—Yesterday the Union Jack flew over the local court house. County Council in session.

—People hunting for the Canadian winter climate will have to look in the picture books.

—It is pretty tough on the other hardworking labor organizations to see the Snow Shovellers' Union only working about six minutes a week.

—Messrs. G. J. Morris and Thos. Brown, of Springville, returned yesterday morning from Montreal, where they had been with a car load of cattle.

—Dave Hall, the Snowden House tonsorial artist, was yesterday congratulated by his friends on putting in another chair in his parlors. The chair is one of the most up-to-date style.

—Once more the perch and sunfish of our local creeks, when travelling, do not have to make frequent portages round obstructing ice blockades. The ice barricades have been dynamited.

—Last night the Y.W.C.A. annual meeting was held in the parlors of the Simcoe street building. The long parlors were well filled. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt gave a good address, and the directors were appointed for the ensuring year.

The C.P.R. will run an excursion to Toronto on the evening of January 29th to accommodate those who wish to attend the Flag of England Concert at which Miss Helen Davies, our local queen of song, will sing.

—The Philomathean literary and debating society of the Collegiate Institute, will hold an open meeting in the Y.M.C.A. hall at eight o'clock on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 25th.

—A young lady of the east ward, on Monday saw a real live caterpillar. It will flutter by later on if the weather keeps warm. But by present indications, unlike hot cakes, it will not make the butter fly.

—The flag at the Collegiate Institute, yesterday flew at half mast, out of respect to the memory of the late Cedric Sanderson, who until a few days ago was a pupil at the P.C.I.

—Mr. W. McIlroy, city ticket agent for the C.P.R., has lost his gold beaded umbrella. The umbrella was presented to Mr. McIlroy when leaving St. Thomas, and his name is engraved on it.

—Minden Echo says: Mr. Asa Clark engineer on the I. B. & O. Railway, while working at his engine standing on the track, dropped dead. Death was the outcome of an accident sustained about a year ago.

—Last night the Board of Education and representatives, of the 57th Regt. in the Board room, discussed the exchange of Collegiate Institute and Armories sites. The session was held in private.

—Yesterday two car loads of hogs were handled here. One, collected from the surrounding country, was sent to Toronto, and the other, per G. T. R. from Lakefield, was consigned to Messrs. Geo. Matthews & Co.'s local packing house.

—One of our little local contemporaries stated the other day in cold print that there would be fewer fools if people talked less. This great family journal believes that our contemporary has the cart before the horse. There would be less talking if there were fewer fools.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Danger on Charlotte St. Bridge.

Yesterday two of the planks in the Charlotte street creek bridge, near the dye works, separated, leaving a dangerous hole, through which a passing horse might easily, by inserting a hoof, break a leg. Some good Samaritan, to ward against such possibilities, inserted a long piece of scantling, leaving about five feet of it, sticking up at an angle of 45 degrees. Had the G.S. noticed that the scantling projected, by actual count exactly 23 four-inch nails, he would have either let the horses take a chance or have gotten another piece of timber. The nails projecting were more dangerous than the hole. This bridge is sadly in need of repairs. By saving a handful of dollars now, before very long, the city will have to hand out a fist-ful for damages.

MR. HAMILTON BUSY

Peterboro Banker Meeting With Success at Fenelon Falls.

The Times is pleased to state that the new branch of the Bank of Montreal opened on January 16th at Fenelon Falls, under management of Mr. Miles Hamilton, is already proving itself a success.

The Fenelon Falls branch of this strongest Canadian bank is very well situated in the central part of the village, accessible to merchants and other customers.

The fittings of the bank are very handsome, being of polished birch throughout. A gentleman from Fenelon Falls yesterday said that the commodious quarters of the bank are well comparable with those of most city banks.

The manager of the bank, Mr. Miles Hamilton, an old Peterboro boy, is too well and favorably known here to require any eulogy on our part. His assistants are Mr. G. L. Mels, accountant, who recently filled a similar position in a manner acceptable to our local customers of the Bank of Montreal here, and Mr. A. W. Campbell, also popular with customers of the bank, as clerk.

The branch recently opened in Fenelon Falls has already, under the businesslike and courteous management of Mr. Hamilton, succeeded in securing the accounts of several of the prominent business men, and farmers of that village.

The Delineator For February.

For the woman of fashion, the February Delineator, with its display of Spring styles, is a most attractive number. Beside the fashions there is much of interest for the general reader, and the departments concerning the practical householder have been abundantly contributed to. There are short stories by Zona Gale and Margaret Beauchamp, with an interesting travel sketch entitled "In Cairo with a Camera," by Horace Wyndham. Miss Winslow's story of club life "The President of Quex" is continued, gaining much in interest. The "Collector's Manual" is concluded with an article on "Old Time Lights." For the children there is a delightful girl's serial "Sunlight and Shadow," one of Alice Brown's "Gradual Fairy Tales," and amusing games by Lina Beard. Mothers will find Dr. Murray's paper on "Exercise and Physical Culture," particularly helpful, and the numerous pages devoted to matters of housewifely interest, such as cooking, gardening, house furnishing, etc., will prove to be of equal interest to the young housewife.

Mr. Adlum Explains Local Waterways

Yesterday Mr. J. Adlum, expert, (from 40 years' experience) road and street builder, yesterday called The Times' attention to a cause for a result. On Simcoe street, just north of Aylmer, there yesterday existed a miniature lake of fully an acre in extent. Adlum, who was replacing the crossing approaches, near the Y.W.C.A. building, at the north-east corner of Aylmer and Simcoe, explained the aforesaid lake by showing how the waters came down, not at Ladore, but at this particular corner. Coming south along the east side of Aylmer street, the waters, during spring thaws or rain storms, must under the hoards leading to the N.E. corner of the above mentioned streets, meet at right angles, the water running, or supposed to run, through a tile drain beneath Aylmer street. This causes the waters meeting to form an eddy, driving ash mud and road scrapings into the tile drain, instead of such refuse flowing down to the creek. Yesterday this tile drain, filled with diluted mud, and having no perceptible devation, was completely plugged and, being only about eighteen inches beneath the surface, frozen solid. Hence the Simcoe street lake.

COUNTY COUNCIL MEET

Mr. Thos. J. Johnston is Unanimously Elected Warden.

Yesterday the County Council met and unanimously elected Councillor Thos. J. Johnston, of Otonabee, nominated by Councillor Buck, warden for the ensuring year. County Clerk E. M. Elliott, presided.

Those present at the opening meeting were Messrs. T. J. Johnston and John Carey, Otonabee division; S. Stinson and H. C. Garbutt, of the Bridgenorth division; Robt. Shaw and John Monaghan, of Lakehurst division; James Andrews and W. T. Buck, of Norwood division; D. Moloney and T. Webster, of Lakefield division.

County Clerk Elliott, with the newly elected warden, Mr. Johnston and Councillors Moloney and Buck then retired. The new warden took the declaration of office, and mounted the rostrum as presiding officer.

RETURNS THANKS.

Warden Johnston thanked his mover and seconder and "the members who had supported him.

After the minutes were read and adopted, the warden read several communications which were referred to the Finance Committee.

It was moved by Councillors Shaw and Monaghan that the council go into a committee of the whole to strike the standing committees for the year.—Carried.

The council adjourned and went into committee.

VOL XXXIV, NO 21 — PETERBORO, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1906. — PRICE TWO CENTS

Peterboro's Water Remarkably Pure

Important Report Made to Local Water Commissioners by Mr. W. E. Fuller, Representing Mr. Allen Hazen the Great New York Specialist on Filtering.

In view of the contemplated adoption and installation of a badly needed filtering system for Peterboro's water works supply, which now supplys practically all the water used in this city for industrial or domestic purposes, a most important report was yesterday afternoon, submitted by Mr. W. E. Fuller, of New York, representing Mr. Allen Hazen, the expert on filters for waterworks systems, who arrived in the city Tuesday night and has been registered at the Oriental Hotel.

Our readers will remember that Mr. Fuller was in Peterboro last fall and examined the surroundings of the intake at the pump house and the source from which the city water comes from a view to reporting on the best filtering system for the waterworks here. Mr. Fuller spent several days here and then reported to Mr. Hazen. Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the water commissioners was held when they received a report from Mr. Fuller and Mr. Hazen.

There were present, Messrs. Hill, Moore and Chairman Matthews, commissioners. Mr. W. E. Fuller, expert, and Supt. Henderson.

Before the regular business began Mr. Matthews called the attention, and especially that of the various press representative present, that Mr. Fuller's report, about to be presented, particularly noted that the water supplied by Peterboro Water Works was of good color and exceptional purity.

Mr. Fuller said that the pumping capacity, of the local works is fully able to attend to all present requirements of the city, both for fire and domestic purposes.

Mr. Matthews, chairman, then read the report presented by Mr. Fuller, which was practically, in fact almost verbatim, as follows;

To Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman of Peterboro Water Commissioners;

Gentlemen.—My report is based on investigations made on the ground by Mr. W. E. Fuller on Dec. 6th and 7th, and much local information bearing on the subject was secured by him.

There are two methods of filtration in common use for pumping water like that of Peterboro. These are [illegible] filtration. Each of these has a field of its own. Where waters are turbid or highly colored, mechanical filters are the better. For clear water and water not largely colored, and particularly for the removal of the effects of sewage pollution, sand filters are preferable. The question of site and amount of head available are also matters of great importance in determining the system to be used.

I find the water which you have to filter, is drawn from a water shed of considerable area, and before reaching your intake, it flows through a series of large lakes. These lakes act as sedimentation business for removing suspended matter which the water may contain. They also serve to bleach the water by sunshine.

Your raw water is substantially free from turbidity and is not subject to objectionable amount of coloring matter. The amount of sewerage impurities which enters it is rather small for a river its size.

Sand filters are best adapted to your needs. They are somewhat more expensive to build than mechanical On the other hand the operation will be cheaper, simpler and surer, and the effluent obtained, will be entirely satisfactory. They are cheaper to operate by avoiding use of chemicals, used in the mechanical system, and their operation is simpler and will require less trained supervision to keep in order.

For a mechanical filter plant I recommend, and regard as necessary a superintendent of filters with chemical and biological training.

A sand filter would require the occasional attention of a well-informed man and it is desirable to have frequent chemical and biological examinations of the applicant, but for your conditions it would not be necessary to have a chemist and bacteriologist. This is a considerable saving to such a plant as yours.

A comparision of the size of your pumps, population and consumption of water, and taken into account the rapid growth in use of water.

There is no available site for an elevated distributing reservoir. This necessitates a larger [illegible] than otherwise necessary. The minimum equipment suitable for your condition are four sand filters, of 0.2 acre, a filtered water reservoir holding 400,000 Imperial gallons. The filters would each furnish 500,000 imperial gallons.

As one filter would be out of use for cleaning purposes occasionally, the other three must do the work. Thus one and one-half million imperial gallons per day could be drawn from the three in use.

With water as good, as our analysis shows your raw water to be, it would be possible to occasionally use a somewhat higher rate of filtration without impairing the filtered water. Under your water shed area and lakes four million U.S. gallons per acre per day will not be objectionable if used with care. The pure water reservoir of the size stated will more than suffice to balance the hourly fluctuations in consumption. Your records show the consumption of water has doubled in the last eight years.

It is the greatest importance that the waste of water should be prevented. In cities where waste of water is least prevalent, the consumption rarely exceeds 50 imperial gallons per capita. The most important source of waste in defective plumbing, and thereby leakage. This can be stopped by water measurement by meter, then the plumbing will be kept in order.

In estimating the size of the works you require I have assumed you will take such steps to prevent unreasonable waste. If this is done, the filters will do for a long time, but should any local reason prevent this waste the filters should be larger.

It would be necessary to put the filters at an elevation requiring the raw water to be pumped to them. This is best done by installing a water wheel for driving a centrifugal pump. Less than 10 horse-power will be required for this. To be perfectly safe against accidents this equipment should be duplicated.

The maintenance of the supply to the filters, as well as the supply of filtered water to the city, depends on the dam. This dam is not now in secure condition. It will be necessary to strengthen or reconstruct the dam, and arrangements for setting the additional wheel, can be made in connection with this. There is a large amount of water power available not now used.

If, as contemplated you put in equipments to utilize surplus power, the centrifugal pumps to lift raw water to the filters could more conveniently be driven by electric motors, thus saving cost in installation.

Land	$ 300
Masonry	26,400
Excavation	6,000
Sand	4,800
Gravel	1,500
Pipe gate house and fixtures	12,000
30-in. supply pipe	5,000
Pure water reservoir, 400,000 Imperial gals.	7,500
Additional pumps, wheel and building	6,000
	$69,500
15 per cent. for engineering and contingencies	10,400
Total approx. cost	$79,900

COST OF OPERATING.

Extra labor, etc.	$ 900.00
Supervision	600.00
Cap. Charges 5 p.c.	3,996.00
Total	$5,496.00

These sand filters, estimated to cost $80,000, with all necessary appliances is the best way of purifying your water.

In its present state your raw water is of better quality than that used by many cities. Notwithstanding there are sources of pollution and possible infection These dangerous points will increase as the population grows. Even at the present time a serious epidemic might be caused by the discharge of a single typhoid patient into the river 80 miles of its course between the lake it came from and your city.

We believe that the advantage of having filtered water and the security which comes from its use will far more than justify the cost of this work.

Respectfully Submitted.
ALLEN HAZEN.

After the report was read, the commissioners then devoted about an hour to asking practical questions of Mr. Fuller, who fully and intelligently answered the volley of questions hurled at him. In regard to construction of the proposed pure water reservoir, Mr. Fuller said the filters would be four in number, each 2-10 of an acre in size, and would be made, sides, bottom and top of concrete.

The question of the dam was fully canvassed when Mr. Fuller explained that it was absolutely unsafe and should be repaired or rebuilt. There is grand water power there going to waste that could, comparing results with expenditure, be made to pay, could in fact be doubled. There are about 1250 horse powers to be got under favorable circumstances.

In reply to a question put by Mr. Matthews, Mr. Fuller said, as far as he could remember ever being consulted about such matters of any city that has better or purer water than we have in Peterboro.

Most of the questions asked and answered were about technical points of no particular interest to the average reader. The meeting adjourned about 5.30 o'clock, after a most interesting discussion along the questions of water works, filtration and kindred subjects. Perhaps the most generally interesting and popularly encouraging facts brought out were those invariably showing that Peterboro's Water Works are ably managed and that, both by bacteriological and chemical tests, our local drinking water is far above that of the average city.

POLICE COURT NEWS

At yesterday morning's police court Albert Crouter was charged with acting as a carter without having attended to the municipal regulations requiring a license to be taken out for such business. The case was dismissed by Crouter taking out a regular license.

Cecil Shanahan's name was called thrice in the court, but Cecil answered not. It will be remembered that some days ago he was charged, in the court, with being a vagrant, and, as the Chief of Police, prosecutor in the case, was not ready to go ahead, the case was enlarged until yesterday, Shanahan being allowed to go on his own recognizance to appear. The Magistrate, when letting him go on these terms, said, "If you do not appear, we will not send after you." Cecil seems to have taken His Worship's hint and, in Chesterfieldian language, has "flown his kite" and left for farther fields of usefulness. He was seen to board a G. T. R. car yesterday morning.

Before leaving town Cecil had one last mix up on Tuesday evening. It seems that Shanahan, as one branch of livelihood, acts as collector, and, on Tuesday evening, it is reported he was collecting a small account, which the alleged debtor did not acknowledge owing. A mix up resulted, and the other fellow got an eye into mourning. The amount of the account was said to be $2. The party whose eye ran into Shanahan's fist, asked several passers-by to send a policeman to the spot, and even stopped a street car to request the conductor if he saw an officer to send him after Shanahan. However, those to whom the request was made do not seem to have happened on a policeman, so Shanahan has gone.

The fact that flags about town were flying at half-mast yesterday had no connection with his absence.

This is still another charge, and a more serious one, against this man, so it is not likely he will return for several weeks.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

This Most Commendable Institution Has Had a Successful Year.

The Y.W.C.A. annual meeting held Tuesday evening in the parlors of their splendid building, developed that the association is under good progressive and financially able management. The financial statement showed that the local association has credit balance amounting to $296.84. Mrs. (Dr.) Smeet very capably filled the chair. Mrs. R. M. Danielstoun read the secretary's report, which was most encouraging and very intelligently prepared. Hon. Geo. A. Cox, the report mentioned, among other matters of great interest, is installing the baths in the gymnasium. Insurance to the amount of $10,500 has been placed on the building and contents.

The receipts of the Boarding House Department for eight months were $2,782.97, with expenditures of $2,-000.03, leaving a handsome surplus.

The general secretary's report was also well presented and calculated to cause congratulations to the association.

The total senior membership is 251, junior 37. The reading room is furnished with four daily papers, three weeklies, and 16 magazines. The library given by Mrs. A. L. Davis contains 262 volumes. 175 take books from the library.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

The members of the Board for 1906 will be as follows; Mrs; Jas. Wood, Mrs. W. M. Roger, Miss A. L. Davis, Mrs. (Dr.) R. P. Bowser, Mrs. Waddell, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. R. M. Danielstoun, Mrs. (Dr.) Geo. Burnham, Mrs. E. J. Hunter, Mrs. (Dr.) W. D. Scott, Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, Mrs. John Sugget, Mrs. D. J. Lundy, Mrs. A. W. Cressman, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. J. W. Garvin, Mrs. Kligour, Mrs. Thomas Gillespie, Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Mrs. (Rev. Dr.) Crothers, Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mrs. C. E. Hubbs, Mrs. T. H.G. Deane, Mrs. Robert Neill, Miss Nicholls, Miss M. Dickson, Miss E. Morrow, and Miss Bertram.

Rev E. A. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's church, gave a most interesting address. Refreshments were served.

TO ENCIRCLE THE WORLD.

UNDER THE HOUSE FLAG OF THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

Montreal, January 20.—Since the good old Elizabethan days, when the gallant Drake sailed from the English port of Plymouth, over three and a quarter centuries ago, on his memorable voyage of discovery, the circumnavigation of the globe has changed wonderfully. If the brave old fighting sailor were alive today he would marvel greatly at the advance that has been made in our knowledge of geography, at the birth and up-building of nations that in his time had no existence, and at the immense strides that civilization has made throughout the world. He would, it could easily be fancied, be startled at the sight of the huge ocean liners which would make his staunch little Pelican look like a dinghy, and by the roar and rattle of fast railway trains that were not even dreamed of in his day. He would be astounded at the luxury and comfort which are enjoyed by the twentieth-century travellers by land and sea, and he would wonder what might have been the possibilities had he had at his command the facilities for travelling that exist today. Could Sir Francis have been at the Windsor street station of the Canadian Pacific Railway last night, as the short line express pulled out for St. John, N. B., he would have have witnessed an interesting scene. It was in curious contrast to his quest of discovery, and yet it was an event that marks an epoch in Canadian history. It was the starting of two young men upon a voyage around the world—not a remarkable matter in itself, were it not for the attending circumstances. For the first time in history the world will be girdled by the ships and railway trains of one transportation corporation, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The two young men starting eastward from Montreal, returning by way of the west, are Master Fred Shaughnessy, son of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the C.P.R., and his private tutor, Mr. C. T. Anstey, who will, travelling leisurely, circle the globe in about four months instead of the three years that Sir Francis occupied in making his historic voyage. These globe-circlers, again like Sir Francis, will sail under one flag only, but while the British ensign will of course float from the foremast, the red and white house-flag of the C.P.R. will fly from the main. Unlike the daring Drake, however, the Montreal travellers will journey across a continent, but even then be under the care of Canada's great transportation company.

Leaving Montreal by the Canadian Pacific train, Messrs. Shaughnessy and Anstey will reach St. John this morning, and there board the C. P. R. steamship "Lake Champlain" for Liverpool, from which port another C. P. R. steamship, the "Monteagle," will be taken on February 5th to Kong Kong—on the other side of the world. The Monteagle's first port of call will be Cardiff, Wales, where she will take on her cargo. Cardiff will be the final port of departure from the British Isles, and sailing from that place on February 12th, the vessel is scheduled to arrive at Hong Kong on April 18th. Amongst the ports of call en route will be Teneriffe, Durban or Cape Town, and Singapore. Ten days after reaching Hong Kong the C. P. R. steamship Empress of India will carry with its other passengers the two travellers to Vancouver, arriving there on May 9th, and the Imperial Limited will bring them across the continent—over the majestic Rockies, and the great fast-filling prairies of the far west, around the northern rock-bound shores of Lake Superior—to Montreal in four days, so that under ordinary circumstances they should reach home on May 13th next.

In this around the world trip the two travellers will see parts of four continents—North America, Europe, Asia and Africa—and will traverse the North Atlantic and South Atlantic Oceans, the Indian Ocean, China Sea, the Inland Sea of Japan, and the North Pacific Ocean, besides crossing the North American continent. They will cover nearly thirty thousand miles, the distances being as follows:

Montreal to St. John, N.B. (C.P.R. train), 481 miles; St. John, N.B., to Liverpool (C. P. R. steamship) 3,224 miles; Liverpool to Hong Kong (C. P. R. steamship), 15,240 miles; Hong Kong to Vancouver (C. P. R. steamship), 7,354 miles; Vancouver to Montreal (C. P. R. train), 3,994 miles; total of 29,112 miles.

The equator will be crossed twice, once on the Atlantic and again on the Pacific, and a day will be gained in crossing the 180th meridian.

The Montcagle has hitherto been engaged in the North Atlantic trade, plying between Montreal and Bristol (Avonmouth), in summer, and between St. John and Bristol in winter, and is now being transferred to the North Pacific Ocean. The rapid growth of the Oriental trade has necessitated this addition to the magnificent C.P.R. fleet on the Pacific, to meet immediate and pressing requirements, and with the three White Empresses, the Athenian and the Tartar, the Monteagle will operate between Vancouver and Japanese and Chinese ports and Hong Kong. The Monteagle will be a decided acquisition to the Pacific Ocean shipping. She is almost a new vessel, having been built in 1899 by Palmer & Company at Newcastle, England, and is a splendid type of the Tyne-built steamship. She is a twin screw steel ship of 5,969 tons gross and 3,869 tons net. Her dimensions are: Length, 445 feet; breadth, 52.9 feet; depth, 29.7 feet. Having been entirely refitted with all modern improvements, she has excellent accommodation for nearly two hundred passengers. The furnishings of her cabins are luxurious, the social and dining saloons are spacious and artistically decorated, and in every detail she has been made worthy of a place in the White Empress fleet. She has a large carrying capacity, and attains a speed of thirteen knots. The Monteagle is under the command of Captain H. Perry, an experienced and skilful navigator, and the other officers share in the popularity and high esteem he enjoys.

This voyage of the Monteagle means something besides the mere sailing of an ocean liner. It marks an event of more than ordinary import. It is something of which Canadians should feel proud, for the good ship and her sister ships and the fast C. P. R. expresses bear around the globe gratifying evidences of Canada's growing importance in the world of commerce, and give another illustration of the enterprise and developing policy of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. A ticket like that used on this trip could not be issued by any other transportation company in the world, for no other one than the Canadian Pacific has the facilities for circling the globe under its own flag and by its own ships and trains. And that is something highly creditable to Canada and Canadians—something if we were a boastful people, to boast of with pardonable pride.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

THE TURF.

And now the date of the races has been changed again. It was decided on Tuesday evening, that as many of the merchants would not be able to attend the meet on Saturday, to hold them, frost permitting, on Thursday and Friday afternoons. It seems that some of the horsemen have advocated Saturday very strongly, and as that afternoon, hundreds of men employed in our various factories could attend, whilst debarred on other days, the Turf Club yesterday morning decided to hold the races on Friday and Saturday. If it keeps cold the races will not only be run, but will be the best Peterboro has held for years at a winter meet.

HOCKEY.

Owing to the disbandment of the Trent Valley League the Fenelon Falls Hockey Club, being the holders of the Stratton Cup, has, with the kind permission of A. H. Stratton, the donor of the cup, put same up to competition to any club in the Midland district in good amateur O. H.A. standing. Details will be arranged by correspondence

The Peterboro Port Hope match, that was to have been played last night, was declared off. The locals received word from Port Hope yesterday morning to the effect that they need not go down, as Port Hope were going to default their remaining games. This gives Peterboro the district championship with eight straight games to their credit.

• • • •

The Cobourg intermediate O.H.A. team has dropped out of the series. This gives Peterboro the championship of District No. 2.

• • • •

Last night's games, to have been played between 10 and 11 o'clock, between the Business College and the Mortar Manipulators was called off owing to state of the ice.

• • • •

Two games tonight in Brock street rink. The ice will probably be good, and good sport is in prospect. Two competent officials have been named Mr. R. M. Glover for the Bankers vs. Charlotte street contest, and Dr. Gibson in the Suicide vs. Suburb game.

• • • •

The Bankers vs. Charlotte street contest should be fast as both teams are playing good hockey. In the second game the Suburbs, will most likely hold their own against the Suicides, who are a speedy bunch. The first game will be between eight and nine and the second from nine to ten o'clock.

The competition for the district cup will take place next Tuesday. The Lindsay-Peterboro match, of eight rinks a side, will come off on Thursday of next week.

THE LITTLE WIDOW

A Mighty Good Sort of Neighbor to Have.

"A little widow, a neighbor of mine persuaded me to try Grape-Nuts when my stomach was so weak that it would not retain food of any other kind," writes a grateful woman, from San Bernardino Co., Cal.

"I had been ill and confined to my bed with fever and nervous prostration for three long months after the birth of my second boy. We were in despair until the little widow's advice brought relief.

"I liked Grape-Nuts food from the beginning, and in an incredibly short time it gave me such strength that I was able to leave my bed and enjoy my three good meals a day. In two months my weight increased from 95 to 117 pounds, my nerves had steadied down and I felt ready for anything. My neighbors were amazed to see me gain so rapidly and still more so when they heard that Grape-Nuts alone had brought the change.

"My four-year-old boy had eczema, very bad, last spring and lost his appetite entirely, which made him cross and peevish. I put him on a diet of Grape-Nuts, which he relished at once. He improved from the beginning, the eczema disappeared and now he is fat and rosy, with a delightfully soft, clear skin. The Grape-Nuts diet did it. I will willingly answer all Enquiries." Scores Of Lives Lost Off Vancouver

Bellingham, Wash., Jan. 24.—Last night the salvage steamer Salvor, from Victoria, reached the scene of the wreck of the Valencia, according to a special despatch to the Herald, but had to stand by until daylight, being unable to render assistance to the survivors during the night. The work is now proceeding.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 24.—The steamship Valencia, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's passenger fleet, which has temporarily replaced the City of Puebla on the San Francisco-Puget Sound route, pending repairs to the regular boat, drove to destruction in a dense fog Monday at midnight ten miles east of Cape Beale, and between 60 and 70 lives were lost.

The scene of the disaster is historic as the place of the Michigan's loss just a decade ago. Cape Beale is the northern entrance to Puget Sound, nearly opposite to Cape Flattery, on the American coast. How Capt. Johnson was than far from his course is still unknown.

One of the ship's boats with six men arrived yesterday afternoon at Beale, whence communication is open via Bamfield cable station. They report ninee survivors ashore 15 miles from the lighthouse and a ship's boat well filled was seen at one p.m., passing Carmanan, and heading towards Victoria.

MACHINERY WENT WRONG.

Fragmentary information now available is to the effect that the machinery of the Valencia in some minor particular went wrong, and thus, partially disabled, the ship drifted on the rocks, which rise precipitously almost from the water's edge to a height of three or four hundred feet.

The passengers were awakened from sleep to face imminent death in its most ormel form, and many lives were lost in the confusion.

The ship had 94 passengers and 60 of a crew. Nearly all these are still aboard the wreck, which at last advices threatened to break up at any moment. No pariloun is their flight that many account rescue impossible. Two men who succeeded in climbing a little way up the cliff had not advanced bayond high water mark, and found descent and retreat alike impossible. The tide was rising when they were last seen, and their fate seemed obvious.

DROPPED CHILD INTO SEA.

Many terrible dramas were enacted after the striking of the steamer. One lady dropped her young child into the sea in striving to pass it for greater security to her husband. A little boy of five years was miraculously cast back upon the ship after being swept overboard while running about the deck piteously crying for his mother whom the black waters had engulfed.

The boat arriving at Cape Beale shelter could give no connected story of the calamity. When they reported the wreck the steamer Salvor was forthwith despatched from here, followed two hours later by the steamer Queen, which landed her Californian-bound passengers here in order to proffer immediate relief to her sister liner. The Canadian Pacific steamer Queen City on her regular coasting voyage, was dun at the scene last night, and the whaler Orion is understood to have hastened from Seehart to afford such aid as she may. None of the others can hope to be of service until this morning by which time, if wind and weather hold bad, there will be nothing left of the ship or passengers.

ON THE SEABIRD ROCKS.

While positive information of the danger point is unavailable, the rescue fleet is headed for Pachena Bay, where the sea drives inland for half a mile or more. The bay is almost land-locked, but near the entrance are the Seabird Rocks, believed to be the precise location of the wreck.

BRIDES ON BOARD.

Victorians were looking on the present vessel for W. H. Langley, a well-known local barrister, and his bride, formerly Miss Raine. Another bridal couple on board were J. Downey of Saanich and wife, the latter a Miss Camp. Messrs. J. Lyle, a former purser of the Rosalie, and Fay, an insurance man, were also on board. The steamer Queen City, which left here last night for the west coast, had on board a member of Indians, who went to land both at Clayoss and Pachena Bay, where the Valencia is. This being the case, the Queen City could not fail to see the stranded vessel, and may have already rendered help.

Two young men, Daykin and Logan have come to the scene in a small boat, with ropes, in the hopes of rescuing the two men on the face of the cliff.

POLITICAL PRISONERS SUICIDES

Hang Themselves in Cells Because of Brutal Treatment.

St. Petersburg, January 25.—M. Schatoffsky, lately clerk at the Nadeja forwarding office, and another political prisoner hanged themselves in their cells on account of the awful treatment to which they were subjected.

It appears from the actual story of the suicide of Baron Boris Korff that on the first order to fire upon peasants he hesitated. On the second he told the soldiers to set. Twelve peasants fell dead. Baron Korff turned on his heel, saying this was no work for an officer, and went to his home and committed suicide.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE

Dry Goods Shop on Simcoe Street on Fire and Goods Damaged.

About 7 o'clock last night the lone city fire alarm bell rang out its sonorous warning that the fire brigade was wanted, and wanted badly. As usual the fire laddies, forsaking well earned hot suppers, and visions of an evening spent, after their day's work, with en-slippered feet close to the cheering comforts of the base-burner, were quickly on the spot. Fortunately for them, and particularly for those of them that have to clean the wagons and appliances after a long run through snow and mud, their trip last night was a short one.

It seems that a fire had broken out in the rear of the shop next to Anthony's shoe store on Simcoe, near George street.

The smoke was pouring out in dense volumes through the dry goods and general store next to Anthony's; flames were quickly beginning to make themselves in evidence when the brigade arrived.

The lines was, in one, two, three time attached to a hydrant and water turned on. Even with a good head of water, and hard as well as prompt work done by the firemen, there was some difficulty in subduing the rapidly growing fire. However in about three-quarters of an hour's time danger was over.

It was unable last night to ascertain the exact amount of damage done, still the damage to clothing, hosiery and gent's furnishings by smoke and water will amount to quite a sum. The goods were, we understand, but partly insured, but not to full amount of the damage sustained.

The actual cause of the fire is not yet known, but it started just back of Anthony's shoe store.

A WESTERN WEDDING

Miss Minnie Deenes, Becomes the Bride of Mr. G. H. A. Shaw.

The many friends of Mr. G. A. H. Shaw, in this city, will read with interest an account of his recent wedding, on Dec. 28th, taken from the Swift Current Sun. The account reads,

A very interesting event took place on Wednesday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Deenes, when their eldest daughter, Minnie, was united in marriage to Mr. G. H. A. Shaw, of Claresholme, Alta. Rev. G. W. Stillwell officiating. The contracting parties are well known and respected in Swift Current, the groom having, until a short time ago, acted as C.P.R. agent here.

The ceremony was a quiet one, only the near relatives, including Dr. Shaw, of Regina, father of the groom, and a few friends being present. After the ceremony the wedding party adjourned to the Hotel Imperial, where a sumptuous breakfast was given and the health of the happy couple was drunk with great enthusiasm. They left on No. 97 for their home in Claresholme, Alta., amid showers of rice and good wishes of their numerous friends. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Shaw a long, happy and prosperous married life.

SPECIAL TRAIN

Miss Davies to Sing in National Chorus in Toronto.

A special solid vestibule train will leave the Grand Trunk station, Monday, Jan. 29, at 4 p.m. for Toronto, via Port Hope. Anyone wishing to take in the National Chorus at Massey Hall may do do by taking this train. Miss Helen Davies will be the soprano soloist in this great event. The train will leave Toronto at 11.45 p.m. the same evening, but tickets are good for any train next day. 2d

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 311 King St. East, Toronto, who says: "After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c boxes or six for $2,50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

PRINCE ARTHUR'S MISSION

The visit of the Duke of Connaught to Japan on behalf of the royal family of Britain to perform a duty for the Empire is significant. Prince Arthur is now on his way to Tokio to convey from his royal brother, King Edward, the insignia of the highest order of British chivalry, the Garter, to Britain's ally, the Emperor of Japan.

This is more than a recognition of the splendid success with which Japan carried on the recent war with Russia. It commemorates the fact that Japan has become the joint guarantor with the British Empire of Asiatic tranquility. The bestowal of the "Most Noble Order of the Garter" may be considered as a sealing of the compact. There is no offence to Russia, nor slight to any other power in this compact. In fact, all should welcome this establishing Asiatic peace on a more secure basis. All nations who have commerce, or commercial ambitions, will benefit alike in the arrangement arrived at between Japan and China with reference to Manchuria. All countries will have equal rights in trading, and China is allowed time to reorganize her defensive army on a more efficient footing.

There is no doubt but that our allies in the Far East will fully appreciate and understand the [illegible] honor conveyed to them by the Empire of the Far West.

The usual number of official notices are being served on the North Pole that is about to be discovered.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MILLIONS IN AGRICULTURE

Ottawa, January 24.—Canada's aggregate trade for the six months ending with December last shows an increase of $31,516,751 over the returns for the same time in 1904. The aggregate trade was $279,856,231, compared with $242,639,470. The imports including dutiable and free goods were $139,814,210, a gain of $16,770,560.

The exports were $140,219,846, an increase of $21,218,826, compared with the same six months of previous year. The revenue shows an increase of about one and a half millions. In the exports there is an increase in all branches of trade.

In the fisheries there was an increase of over two millions; in animals and their produce of about four and a half millions; while there is an increase of twelve million dollars in agriculture.

Manufactures increased by over one million dollars, and the output of the mine and forest wealth remained about the same as in the year previous.

For the month of December there was an increase of about three millions in imports and over two millions in exports.

LABOUR UNIONS GONE MAD

How They Run Things in Uncle Sam's Country.

San Francisco, January 24.—The Tailors' Union has deliberately defied the courts by refusing to obey an injunction obtained by the Bohay Tailoring Company to prevent the union from picketing the front of the establishment. The strike was declared last month because Mr. Bohay, manager of the company, had discharged a union tailor named Birnbaum for incompetency after warning him several times to be more careful with his work. Birnbaum laughed at Bohay's threats and gave Bohay to understand that the union would refuse to allow him to be discharged. Bohay, not to be intimidated by threats, discharged the incompetent tailor, whereupon every union man in the establishment quit work, and foul-mouthed pickets were stationed on the sidewalk to shower abuse on patrons who had the nerve to pass the picket line. Bohay secured an injunction from Judge Murasky, which was served on the pickets only to be trampled under foot by them. To date, the judge has not punished the lawbreakers, and the indications are that he never will.

Inventor Holland's Prophecies.

New York, January 24.—When John P Holland prophesied the submarine boat, people looked at him askance and said to one another: "Isn't it a pity? And he looks so intelligent, too!" Now Mr. Holland says that he expects to fly from his home in Newark to his New York office within a few months, and that before the year is out any man who has one of the machines he has invented can easily go through the air at a speed of forty miles an hour or can move at the rate of fifteen miles an hour on land.

Spirited Away His Children.

Toronto, January 24.—Frank Haffey sued the St. Vincent de Paul Society; Patrick Hynds, secretary, and Rev. Father Tracey, before Justice Britton, in the Assize Court, yesterday. He claimed his children had been spirited away—a girl of 9 years and a boy of 7 years. A charge of not providing for the children had been lain against Hynds, but was withdrawn. The case was dismissed. Father Tracey admitted "We had to break up the home."

Russia and Her Troubles.

St. Petersburg, January 24. — The police of Moscow warned Vice-Admiral Doubasoff, Governor-General of Moscow, not to attend the ceremony of blessing the waters there, because they had learned of a plot to kill him with bombs. He replied that if they knew of the plot they ought to know how to prevent its execution. He attended the ceremony and returned unharmed.

MY MAGAZINE, "INVESTING FOR PROFIT" (which I'll send free) is worth $100 a copy to any man who intends to invest any money, however small; who has money invested unprofitably, or who can save $5 or more per month, but who hasn't learned the art of investing for profit.

It reveals the enormous profits bankers make and shows how one can make the same profits safely.

It explains HOW stupendous fortunes are made and WHY they are made—how $1,000 grows to $32,000.

To introduce my magazine write me NOW mentioning this paper and I'll send it SIX MONTHS FREE.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

After that one outburst of despair Miss Maybourne gave no more trouble, and when she had been sitting motionless beside me for an hour or thereabouts fell fast asleep, her head resting on my arm. Weak and suffering as I was, I was not so far gone as to be unable to feel a thrill of delight at this close contact with the woman I loved. What would I not have given to have been able to take her in my arms and have comforted her properly!—to have told her of my love, and, in the event of her returning it, to have faced King Death side by side as lovers. With her hand in mine Death would not surely be so very terrible. However such a thing could not be thought of. I was a criminal, a murderer flying from justice; and it would have been an act of the basest sacrilege on my part to have spoken a word to her of the affection which by this time had come to be part of my life. For this reason I had to crush it and keep it down; and, if by any chance we should be rescued, I would have to leave her and go out and hide myself in the world without allowing her ever to suspect the thoughts I had in my mind concerning her. God knows, in this alone I had suffered punishment enough for the sin I had unintentionally committed.

At last the eastern stars began to lose something of their brilliance, and within a short period of my noticing this change, the wind, which had been sensibly moderating for some time past, dropped to a mere zephyr, and then died away completely. With its departure the violence of the waves subsided, and the ocean was soon, if not so smooth as on the previous day, at least sufficiently so to prevent our feeling any further anxiety on the score of the boat's safety.

One by one the stars died out of the sky, and a faint grey light, almost dove-colored in its softness, took their place. In this light our boat looked double her real size, but such a lonely speck upon that waste of water that it would have made the heart of the boldest man sink into his shoes with fear. From the above-mentioned hue the color quickly turned to the palest turquoise, and again to the softest pink. From pink it grew into a kaleidoscope of changing tints until the sun rose like a ball of gold above the sea-line—and day was born to us. In the whole course of my experience I never remember to have seen a more glorious sunrise. How different was it in its joyous lightness and freshness to the figures presented by the two miserable occupants of that lonely boat!

At last Miss Maybourne opened her eyes, and, having glanced round her, sat up. My arm, when she did so, was so cramped and stiff that for a moment I could scarcely bear to move it. She noticed this, and tried to express her regret, but her tongue refused to obey her commands. Seeing this, with an inarticulate sound she dropped her head on to her hands once more. To restore some animation into my cramped limbs, I rose and endeavored to make my way to the bows of the boat. But, to my dismay, I discovered that I was as weak as a month-old child. My legs refused to support the weight of my body, and with a groan I sank down on the thwart where I had previously been rowing.

For upwards of half an hour we remained as we were, without speaking. Then I suddenly chanced to look along the sea-line to the westward. The atmosphere was so clear that the horizon stood out like a pencilled line. I looked, rubbed my eyes, and looked again. Could I be dreaming, or was it a delusion conjured up by an overtaxed brain. I shut my eyes for a moment, then opened them, and looked again. No, there could be no mistake about it this time. A ship was in sight, and heading directly for us! Oh, the excitement of that moment, the delirious joy, the wild, almost cruel, hope that raised me! But, mad with longing though I was, I had still sufficient presence of mind left to say nothing about my discovery to Miss Maybourne until I was sure of my facts. She was sitting with her back towards it, and therefore could not see it. So, while there was any chance of the vessel leaving us, I was not going to excite her hopes, only to have them blighted again. There would be plenty of time to tell her when she was close enough to see us.

For what seemed an eternity I kept my eyes fixed upon the advancing vessel, watching her rise higher and higher above the waves. She was a large steamer, almost twice the size of the ill-fated Fiji Princess. A long trail of smoke issued from her funnels; and at last, so close did she come, I could distinguish the water frothing at her bows with the naked eye. When she was not more than three miles distant, I sprang to my feet.

"We're saved, Miss Maybourne!" I cried frantically, finding my voice and strength as suddenly as I had lost them. "We're saved! Oh, thank God, thank God!"

She turned her head as I spoke, and looked steadily in the direction I pointed for nearly a minute. Then, with a little sigh, she fell upon the gunwale in a dead faint. I sprang to her assistance, and, kneeling at her feet, chafed her hands and called her by name, and implored her to speak to me. But in spite of my exertions, she did not open her eyes. When a quarter of an hour had elapsed, and she was still insensible, I began to wonder what I should do. To remain attending to her might mean that we should miss our deliverer. In that case we should both die. At any cost, and now more than ever, I knew I must attract the steamer's attention. She was not more than a mile behind us by this time, and, if I could only make her see us, she would be alongside in a few minutes. For this reason I tore off my coat, and, attaching it to an oar, began to wave it frantically above my head. Next moment a long whistle came across the waves to me. It was a signal that our boat had been observed, and never did a sound seem more musical to a human ear (to hearing I dare say it does to a dog) than that shrill blast. I cried out again, and, shading my eyes with my hands, watched her approach, my heart beating like a piston-rod. Closer and closer she came, until I could easily read the name, King of Carthage, upon her bows.

When she was less than a hundred yards distant, an officer on the bridge came to the railings, and hailed us.

"Boat, ahoy!" he cried. "Do you think you can manage to pull alongside? or shall we send assistance to you?"

In reply—for I could not trust my voice to speak—I got out my oars, and began to row towards her. Short as was the distance, it took me some time to accomplish it. Seeing this, the same officer again hailed me, and bade me make fast the line that was about to be thrown to me. The words were hardly out of his mouth before the line in question came whistling about my ears. I seized it as a drowning man is said to clutch at a straw, and, clambering forward, secured it to the ring in the bows. When that was done, I heard an order given, and willing hands pulled us quickly alongside.

By the time we reached it the gangway had been lowered, and a couple of men were standing at the foot of it ready to receive us. I remember leaning over to feed her off, and I also have a good recollection of seeing one of the men—the ship's doctor I afterwards discovered him to be—step into the boat.

"Can you walk up the steps your-

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work, it is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

Mme. de Pompadour.

Mme. de Pompadour was not, according to the testimony of her contemporaries, a beauty, nor anything more than a fairly good looking woman. She gained her influence by her pleasing manners and her wonderful tact and address. Her chief beauty was her hair, which, to increase her apparent height, she wore in the fashion that has since borne her name.

Art Vandals.

The recent mutilation by some unknown barbarian of a valuable antique head of Minerva presented in 1860 by the composer Halevy to the Beaux Arts has led to a proposal to have casts made from all important sculptures in France belonging to the state. In the present instance the nose has been knocked off and the head so damaged that repairs, easy enough to make if castings existed, are out of the question. The possession of perfect casts of all the statues in the Louvre would at least minimize the loss in case of fire.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 77 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winze and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations ABSOLUTELY up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. No Medicine Cures so Many Sick, Overstrained, Despondent, Weak People as DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS

The One True Medicine for Health and Strength

You will realize, as you read the following letters, the grand work being done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They have a direct action on the blood, nerves, heart kidneys and liver. All weakness is turned into strength, new energy and nourishing blood are created, buoyant good health is established in a short time.

DISCOURAGED WOMEN FOUND NEW HOPE.

"I had pretty nearly given myself up as incurable. I was weak and sickly all the time, had headache, poor digestion and sinking feeling. On rising in the morning there was a feeling of awful weariness.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped from the first. They must have strengthened my blood, for I gained in strength as soon as I took them. Steady improvement followed, and I am now completely cured."

Mrs. M. E. Benson, Woodstock.

STRENGTH AND SPIRITS IMPROVED.

"No medicine could possibly be better than Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes Mr. Jos. Devine from Ottawa. "I had pains in the back and side, caused by kidney trouble, was bothered considerably with headache, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured me quickly. I can recommend them to every man."

You'll become vigorous and strong, enjoy a good appetite, your sleep will be dreamless and sound, after regulating your system with Dr. Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Prince 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Employee of Shovel Co. Hurt.

Yesterday morning, as John Deanard, an employe of the Peterboro Tool & Shovel Co., was operating a welding machine, he had the misfortune to have the first and second fingers of his right hand badly crushed. A doctor was called and attended to the injured members As a result of the accident, Mr. Deanard will be laid up for two or three weeks.

Cheap Rates to Toronto.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will issue tickets to Toronto and return for the Flag of England Choral Concert on Monday, January 29th, good going only on the 5.15 P. M. train on that date, returning any train up to and including January 30th, at the low rate of $1.65 adult, and $1.05 for children.

All those who purpose going should call and leave their names at City Passenger Agent's Office, so that sufficient accommodation may be provided. W. McIlroy, Agent, 249 George George street.

Bank Clerks Nearly Smothered.

George Howson and M. Waumsboro, clerks in the Union Bank at Norwood, had a close call by death early Sunday morning last. The furnace door had been left partly open, while the fire damped down. Escaping coal gas nearly caused their death, the two men being taken out in an unconscious condition. It took several hours hard work to bring them to life and consciousness.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Take in the Y.M.C.A. Pop. Free for all, all welcome.

—The Ontario Legislature will open on Thursday, Feb. 15th.

—Hard coal is advertised at $5 per ton in Hamilton. Does the difference in the haul to Peterboro cost $2.50? Nat!

—On Thursday evening, Feb. 8th, St. Paul's church choir will give their grand sacred concert in Peterboro.

—A certificate of military instruction (captain's class) has been granted to Lieut. P. A. Davis of The 3rd Dragoons.

—Yesterday a car load of hogs, of the porkers, was yesterday loaded at Lakefield for Messrs. G. Matthews packing house here.

—It was rumored yesterday that Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Denniston will take a trip to England and other European countries in either April or May.

—The newly elected officers of Ponty pool lodge I.O.O.F. will be installed tomorrow night. A number of brethren will attend from Peterboro.

—Eighteen members of the E's Euchre Club drove to Lakefield Tuesday night, and had supper at the Lakefield House. The chaperons were Mesdames G. Browning and F. Sawers.

—The annual meeting of the 57th Regiment will be held the first week in February. The delay is due to the fact that the auditing of the books will not be completed for some time.

—Don't do any more kicking about the water supplied by the city. See our report of the Water Commissioners' meeting yesterday afternoon, given on the first page, and you will see why.

—Peterboro's drinking water is purer than that of most cities. If you find a stray minnow coming through your taps, blame the minnow for losing his bearings, and not the city waters.

—At the meeting of the Ladies Literary Association of St. Peter's T.A.S., tomorrow evening January 26, a paper of the "Deportation of the Acadians," will be read by Miss Josephine Condon.

—There is some talk of a sawmill being erected at Omemee. At any rate the farmers are anxious for one in order that they may have their logs sawn into timber for building purposes.—Lindsay Post.

—The executives of the Farmers' Institutes of East and West Peterboro and East Durham will meet at the Munro House on February 3rd to make arrangements for the annual excursion next summer.

—Hamilton Times says: An unusual sight occurred at the funeral of Miss Cora Cummins, Milgrove last Sunday. A swarm of bees was seen to gather upon the many beautiful flowers left upon the grave.

—Yesterday the Union Jack flew at half mast from the Post Office, Bank of Montreal, Customs House, City Buildings, J. J. Turner & Sons, and other buildings in respect to the late Hon. Mr. Prefontaine.

—The Philomathean Literary and Debating Society of the Collegiate Institute will hold an open meeting in the Y.M.C.A. Hall at eight o'clock this evening. An interesting program a feature of which will be a mock trial, will be presented.

—This was yesterday overheard in the Palace Cafe: "No," said a Water street resident, "we never have boiled ham at our house any more." "Why?" queried his friend, a George street merchant, "I thought you were very fond of it." "So I am, but my wife's pet dog won't eat it at all."

Mr. J. J. Turner Jr. Entertains.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner, Jr., on Tuesday evening, entertained Mr. Turner's Bible class of St. Luke's church. Business was combined with pleasure. Officers were elected as follows:—

Hon. Pres.—Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A.

Teacher—Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr.

Pres.—Mr. Webber Turner.

Vice-Pres.—Miss Carrie Whittaker.

Sec.-Treas.—Mr. Percy Crane.

Rec.-Sec.—Miss May Courtney.

Sick Visiting Com.—Misses E. Geskins, K. Cochrane and K. Calcutt.

On completion of the business end of the evening, a very pleasant time was spent, games and refreshments passing the time quickly, and enjoyably away.

BREATHE HEALING BALSAMS

Hyomei, the Medicated-Air Catarrh Cure, Endorsed by Physicians

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

Its base is the famous eucalyptus oil, well known for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler fills the air you breathe with germ killing disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the throat, nose and lungs.

Hyomei is endorsed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. It is the only natural and rational way of curing catarrh.

Would it be a common sense treatment to try and cure a corn by stomach dosing? Is it not just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the head and throat by swallowing tablets or liquids? The only natural way to cure this disease and all diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

PROSPECTS FAVORABLE

New Rumored That C. P. R. Has Secured 20 Acres of Land Here.

Augmenting our former reports of the rapidly growing chances for Peterboro being made an important point on the proposed new C. P. R. grain line between Georgian Bay and eastern and southern points, it was yesterday said, on seemingly reliable grounds that Canada's most prbgressive and popular railroad, the Canadian Pacific Railway have secured an option on twenty-two acres of land lying to the west of the city adjacent to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

We trust that the rumors are founded, as now seems credible, on good foundation. It is a matter that directly and substantially might affect our future growth, and Peterboro, in the opinion of those qualified to know, is well situated for the purpose.

Work on Pearl Ave. Sewer Being Pushed.

The work on the Pearl avenue sewer, which was, as noted in a previous issue, begun last Monday, is progressing very favorably. This is the second which the city has undertaken by day labor, and the result is being watched with particular interest by Ald. Hinks, chairman of the Board of Works. The first job proved even more successful than was expected, and there is just a possibility of a big change being made in the manner of doing sewer work in the city henceforth. The present work is being done by Commissioner Evans.

RUSSIAN CRUISERS DISAPPEAR

Fears That Crews Have Revolted and Vessels Sunk.

London, January 25.—Much mystery surrounds the movement of the cruisers Gromoboi, Bogatya and Rossia. They left Vladivostok with sealed orders about the middle of November, making a course outside of Japan. They were accompanied by a flotilla of torpedo boats, the commanders of which had instructions to send the cruisers to the bottom on the slightest sign of insubordination. Since then no news of their whereabouts has been received. It is rumored the crew of the Gromoboi mutinied and ran for a Japanese port in the middle of December. The government sent a dispatch to the Japanese to shoot the crews of the mutineer ships if they take shelter in a Japanese port.

Facts About Peterboro's Indians.

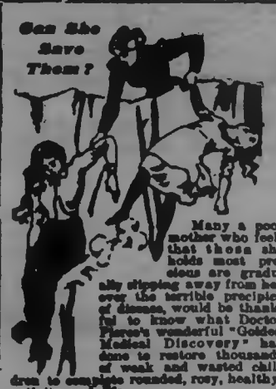
The Rice Lake Indian Reserve in Otonabee Township, Hiawatha, contains 1,920 acres of land, of which 955 are cleared; 370 acres are leased to white tenants. The total Indian population numbers 94. The occupation of the Indians, as given in the Dominion Government's annual report of Department of Indian Affairs, just issued, are trapping and gathering wild rice. The Indians own live stock worth $3,146, whilst that of the Mud Lake Indians is worth $4,750. The Rice Lake Indians own eight shot guns and 650 steel traps, whilst the Mud Lake band owns respectively 29 and 1,900. The real and personal property of the Rice Lake Indians is worth $65,765, about $3,540 more than that of the Mud Lake band.

Moose From Mountain in Labor.

No decision, blasted at in yesterday's issue, was attained Thursday at the private meeting held by officers of the 57th Regt and members of the Board of Education, relative to the final settlement of which lots, of Central Park shall, be used for Armories and which for the proposed Collegiate Institute. In all probability the officers of the Regiment will hold another meeting to consider the proposition presented by the Board of Education and then meet the Board of Education again.

Tonight's Great Smoker.

Remember that this is the anniversary of the great Conservative sweep in Ontario, and that it will be celebrated by a grand smoking concert in the Conservative Club rooms. Amongst those who will assist in entertaining the large crowd expected tonight, are Messrs. A. P. Macdonald, W. H. Denham, Alex. Elliott, Wm. McElroy, Gilbert Scott, Harry Dumbrow. And others. Mr. W. H. Bennett, the clever M.P. for East Simcoe, will make the address of the evening.



Many a poor mother who feels that these she holds most precious are gradually slipping away from her over the terrible precipice of disease, would be thankful to know what Doctor Pierce's wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" has done to restore thousands of weak and wasted children to complete rounded, rosy, healthy, activity and life.

"Three years ago this last fall I was taken down with a fever and was very bad for several months. I was under the care of Dr. [illegible] Ohio. She continues: "Finally recovered from the fever, then my lungs became very bad. The doctor said I had consumption and that I had done all he could for me, and he did not think that I could get well. My case was a very dangerous one. Became very weak, had night-sweats, also a very bad cough, night and day. At times would spit blood. I felt as though my time on earth would be short. Requested my husband to get me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and perhaps it would help me. Before I had taken one bottle my cough was almost gone. The next to the last time I had night-sweats. I am almost sure that if it had not been for your medicine I would not have been here to-day."

If mothers will only write to Dr. Pierce concerning the ailments of their family he will send them sound and valuable advice in a plain sealed envelope, and without any charge whatever. His remarkably wide experience has qualified him to deal with diseases which baffle the local practitioner. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1300 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $300,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $375 a ton, or about $1250 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1300 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

THE YORK LOAN

Toronto Shareholders Object to Proposed Sale of Lands.

Now a stumbling block seems about to be thrown in the way of the liquidators of the moribund York Loan & Savings Co., by the committee appointed by Toronto shareholders to look after their interests. This committee now want the company reorganized.

The committee decided to present a report to that effect to the general meeting of shareholders held in Association Hall yesterday evening.

The opinion of the committee is that the company should be re-organized and equipped with officers appointed by the shareholders at large, their duty after appointment being to develop the company's property by improvement, selling portions thereto, when satisfactory prices were offered, and in this way ultimately closing the affairs of the company.

The means that no further collections would be made from shareholders, or stock sold, excepting any shareholder wished to sell out to any person desiring to buy.

The committee believes that by reorganization, every shareholder receive every cent of his indebtedness with interest.

No objection is taken to the National Trust Company, but the committee does not want liquidation or sale. The committee agree that the sale of the property in its present condition would not realize more than fifty cents on the dollar.

Conservative Club Celebrates Victory

Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., E. Simcoe Gives Rattling Good Speech Replete With Patroitic and Good Advice to Young Conservatives---Mr. E. Bradburn Gives Speech Which Took Well.

Last night the Young Conservative Club rooms were crowded, some 300 or more of the local backbone of Canada's grand old Conservative party, being present.

This occasion as noted in former issues of The Times, was the anniversary of the return to power, after 30 years in the cold shades of opposition, of the Conservative party in Ontario.

All present were enthusiastic, in good humor, and the meeting was characterized by universal harmony.

The first part of the evening's entertainment was a splendid program of songs and recitations, all of which were applauded loudly.

Among those present were noticed; J. H Burham, president C.C.; D. H. Burritt, John Irwin, W. Coons, W. Green, J. M. Wilson, W. Langford, W. Gibbs, Capt. Carson, W. Brundrett, secretary; Jas. Edgar, treasurer; J. M. Brooks, Geo. Bennett, Peter Gardiner, vice-president; J. D. Crang, John Watt, fishery inspect.; Dawson Kennedy, H. Dunsiow, Alex. Elliott, W. Mellroy, Harold Cluxton, A. P. McDonald, J. J. Lynch, H. LeBrun, H. Evans, G. W. Fitzgerald, Noble Graham, Erasmus Green, L. M. Hayes, M. Mowry, D. Hillier, G. Benton, jr., T. Wilson, J. D. Baptie, W. Fleetwood, J. Firth, Jas. Metheral, H. T. Strickland, H. P. Phelan, G. Schneider, accountanist; D. Kernaghan, J. Armstrong, S. Jordan, Chris Clements, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Van Harkness, editor Review; W. H. Isaacs, W. Butler, J. A. Andrews, of D.v. No 4, Asphodel; Newels, K. Eardley-Wilmot, R. E. Layfield, ex-president; Dr. Geo. Burnham, W. Dodds T Murphy, F. Lindsay, Lakefield; R. C. Strickland, Lakefield; Mr. Garoutt and J. A. Davidson, of Smith, and very many others.

Mr. Duncan Campbell, in splendid voice, opened the proceedings with a song in splendid baritone voice, and was compelled to give an encore, a well rendered Scotch ballad.

Mr. Alex. Elliott in his old time voice, as rich and clear as in days of yore, gave "The Song of the Desert," and could not waggon out of an encore, which he began with the old-time favorite, "When I dream of the Friends of My Youth, etc.," the whole meeting joined lustily in that favorite old ballad.

Mr. Bert Scott, of the C.G.E. Co., gave a most funny story, in song, on a ban bought for young, but proving to be impregnable to all the bullets of Waterloo. Mr. Scott would be well received on any stage as a humorous vocalist. His rendering of the ban that was born at the tower of Babel, raised by Cain and Abel, and older than the oldest table, fairly made the room shake with applause. His encore, most splendidly arranged to be of local interest, gave reference to "The author of 'Marcelle,' " "Hon. J. R. Stratton," "Eby, Bradburn, who snowed McWilliams out of sight," made the room howl with laughter.

Mr. W. Mellroy, C.P.R. ticket agent, next, in his inimitable style and fine sonorous voice, gave the catching and patriotic song "Heroes and Gentlemen. When the large audience insisted on an encore, Mr. Mellroy, with his well-known modesty, tried to give "Everybody Works But Father."

Mr. McDonald, of the C.G.E. Co., next gave in fine voice, and without accompaniment, the favorite old Scotch song "My Bonnie Prince Charlie." Once again the audience insisted on an encore, when Mr. McDonald, with good expression and great feeling, gave "Bon Bolt."

Mr. H Dunslow then gave a very humorous recitation, descriptive of a lady's usual love for and fondness (?) a mouse. His recitation, as he came to the point where the mouse got up the leg of his pantaloons, and Maria tried to kill it by throwing the irons, coal scuttles at it, as he held it in place, and then tried boiling water on the mouse, brought down the house. He gave as an encore, a well-rendered Cockney Coster dialect recitation.

THE SPEAKER.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, president of the club, introduced Mr. W. H. Bennett, M.P., of East Simcoe, thanking him for coming from Midland for the evening. Mr. Burnham went on to speak of the greatest political victory that had ever characterized Canadian politics.

He drew attention to the Grits finding fault because a few minor officials had been dismissed.

In the coming session, Whitney will not, in pledged not to dismiss a man without well proven evidence of wrong doing or personal ineligibility. We are delighted to see our friends from the county present. We are in touch with our friends from the county. In this he expresses the wish of the club to have the county Conservatives join with those of the city in carrying on the good work.

Mr. Bennett, said he had been here before, but is delighted to be here again. For the first time in thirty years, Tories as well as Grits had a right to breathe the fresh air of heaven.

He drew attention to the caricature drawn once of "Jimmy" Stratton bringing up that old gelding with other ministers carrying the pails and sponges, but the gelding died of the leaves. Now we are actually living in an honest atmosphere, we do not see hotel keepers running out of the way to escape a levy for politics. (Laughter.) Now the liquor men are only asked to keep hotel. He has no notes to speak for, not even bank notes. (Laughter.) He then gave a funny story of a Frenchman and a colored man.

When you have such splendid rooms, and such an intelligent audience as I see here tonight, you mean business. The young men of Peterboro must be responsible for the next coming victory. The young men of this county must take a great abiding interest in political affairs. In the United States it is the young men like Jerome, who have tried to purify politics.

Purity can only be brought about in one way, by educating young men that it is an honor and a credit to work for good of the country and not for dirty bribery money. There is a great future for Canada, does not believe that everything is done for necessary purposes.

We might talk a little practical politics. Did not believe in politics, as the Grits rip, in introducing politics into municipal politics, but if a Tory and a Grit are running in civic politics, al. other things being equal, plunk one for the Tory. Do as David Harum says, "Do unto the other fellow as you think he will do to you, and do it first." (Laughter.)

The Conservative party, in Federal politics, has been the best, and done the most for this country. After the death of Sir John A. Macdonald, that whited sepulchre and political parasite, Sir Richard Cartwright, attacked him in his grave. Sir John will be remembered and revered for years after all that will be known of Cartwright will be the number of Cartwrights holding down fat political salaries. (Laughter and applause.)

He next said that a tariff of protection for the farmers, the backbone of the country, is the best in their interests.

You have a large electrical works in this city, why have electrical goods brought to Peterboro. There is only one policy, that of an adequate protection policy. Referring to the English elections, he said, if we had two million men begging for bread, they would turn any government out. It only remains for the people of England to be educated, and they will protect their home markets and industries. Competition has brought down the price of cement to one-quarter what it was a few years ago.

A man's word given in public life should be as inviolable as in private life. Has heard Sir. Wilfrid Laurier openly accused in the House of not keeping his pre-election promises. His only answer was "Well we are here and you are on the other side of the House."

Sir Wilfrid promised to cut down the number of Cabinet Ministers, and made other promises, all of which he has broken. To convert people get around their firesides. Ask any decent Grit how the country's debt has more than doubled, and yet why no Important Government undertaking has been started by his party. All the great works were started by the Conservatives. He next spoke of the $3,000 appropriation made for a dock on the Indian River, East Peterboro. The Minister of Public Works, did not know, when asked, when the Indian was. When shown that the dock would be of no possible public use. Mr. Lang of East Peterboro's only reason for getting this appropriation was that "East Peterboro has never had public money spent on such works." (Laughter.)

"You should get Mr. Hall to get you a dock, every body is getting one!" (Laughter.)

Over forty millions have been added to the National expenditure. "When is it going to end?" the speaker asked.

It is up to the young men of this country to see that higher ideals control the destinies of Canada. Any one has been in public life would be startled to see how the country has been debauched. He instanced a dock built at public expense in the County of Stanstead, at an expense of $75,000 to help one man get his lumber out. When the lumber is all cut away, the mill will be removed, and the dock left to rot away. The public life of Canada has fallen and is falling in purity.

When a man like, and in such a position as Sir Richard Cartwright, has a host of sons and relatives in fat offices, drawing large salaries, how can you expect the younger members to be honest?

Young men should known that there are some men in public life for honesty and the good of their country.

There has never been a public man in Canada who is more honest, impossible to approach for idiot purposes, or more capable than Mr. R. L. Borden. (Applause.)

He wound up by complimenting the club on their splendid quarters, saying that it is the young men who will settle the destinies of both Ontario and the Dominion. Ontario would not have been Ontario, without the policy enacted by the Conservative party.

Mr. Burnham thanked the last speaker for his splendid speech and called upon Mr. Bradburn, our popular representative in the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Bradburn gave a rattling speech, every word of which breathed patriotic sentiments, both as regard the Dominion, the Province, and the County and City of Peterboro.

He was fully in according with Mr. Bennett's sentiments as regards the necessity of clean government, and believed with him that it is up to the young Conservatives to help give it. Mr. Bradburn was applauded to the echo.

Mr. Roland Strickland, Lakefield, representing the ex-urban Conservatives, followed in a good speech, saying that the Conservatives of the county were hand in glove with those of the city for Provincial good government.

Mr. R. E Layfield, ex-president of the Young Conservative Club, wound up the evening's speeches, by a well timed and stirring address that was enthusiastically received, and which showed that he is a politician of rare ability.

COUNTY COUNCIL

School Inspector Brown Reads His Semi Annual Report.

The present session of Peterboro County Council, received and heard School Inspector Brown's semi-annual report, which read, in part, as follows.

Gentlemen,—I have the honor to present to you the report of the inspection of the Public schools of the part of the county assigned to me, for the last half of 1905.

In some cases the school grounds are not cultivated. While this may be overlooked in the case of some poor sections, there is no excuse for it, say, in North Monaghan and Otonabee. There are cases also where the grounds are too small, and the children have to play in the road.

School grounds should be smooth, sufficiently large and properly fenced. It practicable, there should be a well on the premises.

Closets should receive more attention.

Many more shade trees should be found on school grounds.

The school house and its surroundings should be made as attractive as possible. This they could be made without inordinate expenditure.

In the school house in some cases the blackboards are not what they ought to be.

In many cases the schools are still without dictionaries, gazetters, and other works of reference. The ability to obtain from a dictionary or other work of reference the knowledge it is intended to give and to do it in a reasonable time is a necessary part of an education of a boy or girl.

Many parents are seemingly indifferent as to the regularity of their children's attendances at school. When a child is away a day it not only loses that day but is not in a position to do the next day's work. One day's absence entails a loss of perhaps a day and a half. Here again the teacher is placed at a disadvantage.

In every school there should be a map of the County of Peterboro, a hemisphere map of the world, a map of Canada and a map of Ontario.

By examining the register column of the detailed report it will be seen that comparatively few are marked five (excellent). Nearly every one should be thus marked. The rating in the "scribbler" column is very much lower than it ought to be. It is to be hoped that a better showing may be made during the current year in both these reports.

In almost all the schools more attention should be paid to the language of each of the subjects taught.

At the model school last year there were twenty-five teachers in training. About half of these were declared in scholarship, and were only eligible for district certificates. In future none will be admitted who will not on passing be legally entitled to a third-class certificate, valid for this province.

The half-day plan was tried in two schools in Otonabee during the past summer. These schools were Nos. 1 and 16. In the former four pupils passed the entrance examination. In the latter three passed. Had thirty rural schools in any part of the county examined by me just term done as well they would have passed one hundred and five. As it was they only passed twenty-four. It is to be hoped that many rural schools will try the experiment in this coming summer.

In every rural school there should be a cabinet containing specimens of different kinds of soils, rocks, weeds and their seeds, timbers, fruits in jars, insects and many other things.

Some advocate the teaching of religion in the Public school. The president of the Agricultural College at Guelph advocates teaching agriculture, manual training and domestic economy.

The constant change of teachers going on in the country makes satisfactory progress impossible. Men have been driven out by the smallness of the salaries paid. Women, as a general thing, are intending to remain in it for a short time only. Teachers' salaries should be raised at least 50 per cent.

The majority of teachers are doing their best but they have to contend with many drawbacks, unfavorable surroundings, deficient appliances, irregular attendance, and their own limited experience.

In conclusion, were you to offer a prize to the pupil passing the highest at the entrance examination in each municipality of the county, and also for the collection of information regarding soils, trees weeds, insects, birds, etc., bearing on the subject of agriculture, it would have a stimulating and healthful effect.

I am, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

J. COYLE BROWN.

Mr. Wm. Anderson, M.P.P., of Otonabee, gave a long address in reference to the Government grant to roads. He began by saying that the present Government had not only assented to the grant given by the late Ontario Government, but had done better for the municipalities. The conditions on which a share of this grant is obtainable, is simple and easily carried out.

The time for getting it is limited, and councils should be prompt to lay out a system of county roads in accordance with requirements of the act. The time has been extended to 1907. The Government thinks it better to have counties take hold of the roads than townships. He agreed with the Minister of Public Works in this respect. A certain amount of road making machinery is necessary. If the county were to take hold of the road machinery, it could be busy during the whole season.

Mr. Anderson next referred to the matter of bridges, several of which will have to be rebuilt shortly. Work on bridges would come under the meaning of the act being part of the roads, and thus the Government would pay one-third of the expense.

Taken on the whole, in his opinion, the county control of roads is best. The act leaves the framing of the necessary by-law with the county councils, and these must be adopted by two-thirds of these township councils, and then signed by the Lieut.-Governor.

Villagers have nothing to say in the adoption of the county system, nor its benefits financially, any township council. The county councils must frame the by-law. This expenditures on roads can run as long a period as ten years, and this county would be entitled to a grant of $40,000 from the Ontario Government for roads.

The amount to be raised yearly by county councils is not restricted, but left to them. This county should take advantage of the Government grant of $40,000.

COUNTY CONSTABLE KICKS.

Mr. Thomas Wilson, county constable, from Warsaw, complained against the action of High County Constable George Cochrane. He says that Mr Cochrane takes what few cases he (Mr. Wilson) gets out of his hands, and, therefore, he loses not get the fees. He wanted to know if this was fair to him, or whether Mr. Cochrane should not be restricted to certain territory.

REVOLT SPREADS THROUGH RUSSIA

One Million in Arms in Russian Provinces.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS LEAD

Czar Hurrying Troops into the Revolting Provinces.

Odessa, January 26.—It is estimated that at least a million of the peasants in the Caucasus have revolted against the central government and are trying to establish a republic in Southern Russia. A million of rebels, even of peasants, will not be easy for the Russian government to control. As a general thing, most of the real serious troubles of Russia have heretofore been confined to the army, the navy and the workingmen. Of course, the peasants in a scattered sort of fashion have joined in the revolutionary movements, but not to the extent here reported in Southern Russia. If it should be found that a systematic Socialistic propaganda has been successful among the agricultural peasantry it would look as though the troubles in Russia were even more serious than has been heretofore anticipated. In Russia, as in other countries, the interests of the workingmen and the farmers has been relied upon in the last resort to stand by the throne. The fact that they, too, are participating in strikes, in anarchy and in revolution means more in an economical and political sense than would the destruction of one of the Czar's armies or one of his fleets.

The Social Democrats have really been taking the lead in the agitations in the Caucasus. The labor movement appears to have originated in Tiflis about seven years ago, spreading to Batam, Baku and Thiaturi, the latter place a center of the manganese industry. The strike appears to have been purely economic in character, becoming political only by force of circumstances. The first socialistic leaflet in question, which urged co-operation with the Social Democrats in Western Europe, was read and approved and revolutionary songs were sung. The news of this meeting excited much interest among workmen who had not yet been initiated into the movement. In the same year the first strike in the Caucasus took place at Tiflis. The railway employees ceased to work as a protest against the circular of the minister of ways and communications, which was subsequently withdrawn. The success of this, the first strike in Southern Russia, was the more gratifying to the employees because the circular to which they objected affected not only the employees of the Caucasus, but those in other parts of the empire as well.

Until about three years ago the Social Democrats were the only revolutionary party which had any standing in the Caucasus. The Social revolutionaries about this time broke into the field with a more radical program. In some respects, however, the ideas of the Socialist revolutionaries were more popular with the inhabitants of Transcaucasia than were those of the Social Democrats. The Social revolutionaries are more along the line of home rulers, while the Social Democrats are Centralists. It happens that all three of the chief native races in Transcaucasia, Georgians, Armenians, and Tartars alike, are eager for autonomy. Again, the "socialization" of the land—that is to say, its transference as communal property to the tillers of the soil, state, church and private owners being expropriated—which the revolutionaries propose is much more likely to be understood by a peasant than nationalization along the lines advocated by Karl Marx nad the Social Democrats. However, it is no unusual thing for all the anti-governmental forces to act together. Only a few dyas ago a joint proclamation was signed by all of the revolutionary and socialistic organizations affirming the necessity of a republican form of government. One of the significant facts regarding the signing of this practically Caucasian declaration of independence was that it was favored by the Dashnakhtzutiun, or Droshakists, the Nationalist organization of the Armenian radicals. Radicals though they may be, the Droshakists are, nevertheless, the most conservative of the Armenians not directly attached to the crown, and the drift of a conservative organization of this kind, toward a republic has naturally caused a vast deal of heart and alarm at St. Petersburg, and among the followers of the Czar in Tiflis, Baku and other large cities of Transcaucasia.

The movement of the Droshakists in the direction of a republic is explained by the facts that the events of the past year have convinced many Armenians that they are in imminent danger of being crushed between the hammer and the anvil. For years the Armenian Droshakists persistently endeavored to avoid any irreparable breach with the Russian government. What they desired above all things really was freedom to carry on their ordinary pursuits without interference. In this case, as in the cases of the other conservative forces, their leaders appear to have been driven away from the Czar by sheer force of circumstances.

NEVER INTENDED

Man Prevents the Intent of Providence.

We do not believe that Providence which placed us in a world filled with countless delights, ever intended that we drug ourselves, bring on diseases and live cheerless, unhappy, and painfilled lives.

On the contrary, the joys of each day should make us look forward with pleasant anticipations to the coming of the next: without health this is impossible.

We have, to an extent, the power to command that health.

A lady writing from Meadville, Pa., says that for 20 years she was a great sufferer from headaches (which were frequent and confined her to her bed for 24 hours at a time) and kidney troubles; that she employed numerous physicians from time to time and took much medicine but got no help; that one doctor said her spine was afflicted, another that her sufferings came from female weakness, a third that her eyes brought it all on her, etc., etc., but when the truth was reached it was found that her coffee-drinking habit was alone responsible—that she was 'coffee poisoned.'

So the good Samaritan told her about Postum Coffee Food and she determined to quit using the old kind and see what the new would do for her. She consigned the medicine bottles to the trash barrel along with the coffee canister and began to drink Postum.

"At first I did not like it," she says, 'but when I learned how to prepare it I found it a most agreeable and refreshing beverage. I soon began to feel better, the headaches grew less and less frequent and severe, my sleep became natural and restful, and now, after 2 years' use all my troubles have disappeared, including the affection of the kidneys, of which I was at one time most apprehensive.

"I wish to speak within moderation, but I tell you the truth when I say that life looks bright to me now, and I could not if I would, and would not if I could, give up Postum and go back to the old kind of coffee again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Did Cummings Get Away With a Million

Innocent, Inoffensive Looking Man Who is Accused of Offering Green Goods May Be in the Expert Class.

Toronto, Jan. 26.—"I am informed that he stole $1,000,000 in New York City," said Sergeant of Detectives Duncan, yesterday, when Alex. M. Cummings, the alleged green goods man, was asked to show himself in the police court dock again, charged with attempting to sell a consignment of the "queer."

If Sergeant Duncan's statement be true, than the short-Cummings of Alex. M. puts him in the same class with Life Insurance Presidents McCall and McCurdy, also James Hazen Hyde and Cassie Chadwick.

A plea was made for bail, but Mr. Curry steamed the plea by saying "While we are keeping him in custody we are getting a great deal of information."

"I believe, also," said Mr. Curry, "that Cummings is the man who recently flimflammed some farmers out of $5,000.

John Tierney, of Brooklyn, arrived at police headquarters this afternoon. Tierney claims to have been swindled out of $500 by Cummings, whom he had known for forty years.

Tierney said he recognized Cummings as Ned Lyons, one of the most notorious criminals America ever produced. Tierney says he has known Cummings for 40 years, and points to Cummings' gunshot wounded side and his torn ear-lobe as the souvenirs of burglaries.

"Shake with me," said the aged white-bearded Cummings or Lyons, as he extended his trembling hand to Tierney, who visited him in his cell.

"Never, I could see you die in jail," hissed Tierney, drawing back, "You know the turn you did me."

Tierney claims Cummings robbed him of $500.

"I am only a poor man, drawing but $14 a week, but I would go to the ends of the earth to see you punished.

CURLING.

Last night in the Brock street rink a match for the oyster supper was played between Messrs. M. Tooley, skip, T. Rutherford, vice; Herb. Snowden and J. Robinson versus Col. Edwards, skip, Aylmer; vice; Hartshorn and T. Yates. Mr. Tooley's rink led the way to the Palace Restaurant, and did the graceful. Out of mercy to the afflicted we will not publish the score.

At the 30th annual meeting of the members of the Granite Curling Club of Toronto, held recently, it was decided to erect a new rink next spring at a cost of $25,000.

THE TURF.

The Peterboro Turf Club yesterday decided to declare the races which were to have been held on the 23rd and 24th inst., and postponed until today and tomorrow, off. This was compulsory, owing to the recent warm weather playing havoc with the track. The Club on Wednesday, at considerable expense, had the track scraped, this being necessary as the thawing snow and ice melted so unevenly as to leave the track very rough. Had we had a fall of snow yesterday or last night, the races could have been held, but as things are now, there is not slipping enough to induce owners of valuable horses to run them. Better luck next time!

AN IMPORTANT SALE

Mr. Gardiner will Hold Important Sale of Farm and Stock in Cavan.

Mr. J. H Gardiner, Peterboro's popular and silver tongued auctioneer, will, on February 6th, hold a most important sale.

This, of his numerous sales, will possibly attract more attention than the ordinary sale of farm property and stock. The sale in question is 100 acres of valuable farm property, belonging to Mr. Robt. Pethick, lot 5, con. 10, in the Township of Cavan.

The stock consists of a number of valuable horses, eight milch cows, due to calve in March and April, together with other cattle, pedigreed hogs, sheep, a Shropshire ram, and thirty hens.

There is a grand lot of farm implements, binders, sulky rake, seeder, etc., etc. The farm is a square 100 acres, with comfortable frame house, barns, water, etc. For particulars see large bills.

DEPUTATION GONE

Peterboro Delegates Go to Ottawa re C.P.R. Line From Victoria Harbor.

OUR BIGGEST FIGHTING SHIP

The Mighty Deadnaught Now Under Way.

SECRECY IS MAINTAINED

In Her Construction—No Outsider is Allowed to Approach the Dock Where She Is Being Built.

New York, January 26.—The New York Herald has the following in a special cable from London: Britain's biggest battleship, the Dreadnaught, now in course of construction at Portsmouth, was inspected by the Lords of the Admiralty Saturday, but it was a secret visit, nothing transpiring as to the result.

Heretofore it has been permissible for any British subject to enter the royal dockyard and witness the building of a warship, but quite a new order of things is now ordained by the admiralty.

Extreme secrecy is to mark the building of warships in the future. A cordon of police surround the place where the Dreadnaught is being built, workmen are kept solely to their respective departments, and foremen are allowed to see only such sections of the plans as are necessary for them to consult.

The reason for all this secrecy is that the vessel is to embody many striking developments in battleship design which it is desired to keep as long as possible from foreign naval constructors. One thing I am able to state, however. The Dreadnaught will be of 18,000 tons displacement, and is expected to attain a speed of twenty-two nots. She will be driven by turbine machinery of 25,000 indicated horse-power, constituted on the Parson's principle by Harland and Wolff, of Belfast.

The armament will be ten 16-inch guns, but nothing is yet known about the arm or its method of distribution, or of the manner in which it will be sought to render it invulnerable against torpedo attack.

The Dreadnaught is expected to mark a new era in battleship design, but she is regarded as an experiment, and as her cost will be considerably over £1,500,000 ($7,500,000), no more vessels of her class will be laid down till she has been tested, which means that pending these trials battleship construction will be in abeyance.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Ask Help From Peterboro County Council.

The following delegates representing the local Children's Aid Society, one of Peterboro's most commendable charities, appeared before the County Council, viz., Messrs. J. H. Burnham, president; R. M. Dennistoun, secretary; Peter Campbell, treasurer; Rev. Father McColl, and Mr. D. Hughes-Charles.

Mr. Burnham explained that the deputation appeared before the council to seek the usual grant from the county, and, if possible, to get additional assistance. The reason for the request for further subsidies was owing to an increase in the work.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, read the annual report of that institution, and gave a short history of each child which had come under the society's care during the past three years. Mr. Dennistoun then put forth a lot of excellent reasons why the county should increase their grant, in fact, he said the society could not continue their work without more money.

Several other members of the deputation also addressed the council along the same lines. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee to report upon.

The council then went into committee.

DOCKS ASSURED

Dominion Govt. Engineer Looking Over the Site and Preparing Plans

It now looks as though the proposed docks along the channel now being dredged in the Otonabee will be tangibly in evidence. Yesterday Mr. J. G. Sing, of Toronto, engineer in charge of the Dominion Public Works in this district, was in the city inspecting the property in the neighborhood of the Otonabee River between the C.P.R. and Hunter street bridges.

Mr. Sing is much pleased with the work done by the dredge. He is now busy preparing the plans for future operations.

Mr. Robt. Stuart, of Chicago, treasurer of the American Cereal Company with Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., yesterday looked over the work that had been done near the mill. He expressed himself as well pleased with the advancement made. He also inspected the new addition to the Cereal Company's mill.

How Consumption Starts

Tired When You Waken--Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out —Soap All Gone

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start to-day. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Lowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this;

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE CANADIAN HOG RAISING INDUSTRY.

Investigations by the Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have shown that for some time past the supply of bacon hogs in Canada has been falling off. Even before the order was issued debarring packers from importing United States hogs to be slaughtered in bond, difficulty was experienced by Canadian packers in procuring sufficient hogs. The amount of the shortage during the summer and fall is indicated by the fact that packers claim to have been able to secure only from 30 to 50 per cent. of the capacity of their factories.

Hog raisers, on the other hand, claim that the production is considerably nearer the normal than would appear from the statements of the packers. It is, they say, partly an increase in the packing house capacity rather than a decrease in hog raising. In some of the dairying sections the supplies are reported to be very little if any below the normal, while in other districts the shortage is placed at about 20 to 25 per cent.

Enquiries as to the cause of the shortage brought from packers and producers a variety of replies. The packers claim that for the past three years or more the competition between buyers of hogs has been so keen that top prices have been paid continuously and that these prices have been high enough to give a profit to the producer. They claim, therefore, to be at a loss to understand why there is a shortage at this time. Speaking from the standpoint of the producer, well informed authorities claim that the price has not been as uniformly high as it should have been. At times of the year when packers anticipated heavy prices were dropped to a point where the profit was left to the feeder. This they claim, took place last season when sows would be bred for the supplies of the fall just past, and as coarse grains were high and labor scarce at that time many brood sows were sent to the market.

Again it is argued that the majority of packers have not encouraged the production of hogs of the bacon type and weight. For a number of years improvement in the hog stock of the country made satisfactory progress, but during the past season, at least, the producers of the ideal sort have received no encouragement to continue their good work; a flat rate has been paid for good and bad alike. The hogs fit only to compete with the low price American stock brought quite as much as the sort that competes with the Irish and Danish bacon for the highest place on the British market.

Whatever may be the extent of the shortage or the real cause of it, the fact remains that unless producers and packers grapple in sympathetic co-operation with the situation, Canada's valuable bacon industry, which has cost years of strenuous effort to build up, may become seriously demoralized.

In 1890, there were only two packing houses in the export trade, with a weekly capacity of some 7,000 hogs, while in 1905 the weekly capacity of the sixteen packing houses in operation was some 50,000. While this limit has not been reached within from 10,000 to 15,000 hogs weekly, according to the season, the output from Canada has reached about $15,000,000 annually, or 70 per cent. of the total quantity of bacon imported by Great Britain. To jeopardize so valuable an industry would be nothing less than a national calamity.

If the farmers who have been in the habit of raising hogs will accord the bacon industry a steady, persistent support, begotten of the knowledge that hog raising pays year in and year out, the future has very large possibilities for the Canadian bacon industry. Canadian bacon having won a place on the British market commanding respect, as it increases in quantity and improves in quality it will undoubtedly become a daily necessity of the British consumer. That it may occupy this enviable position both farmer and packer must co-operate, the farmer by producing the steady supply of the right class of hogs, the packer by paying a fairly uniform price from month to month and from year to year; and he must give value per pound according to the quality of the product he received. Let each do his part, and there will be little trouble about the supply of hogs for keeping the factories going at normal capacity. What appears to be most needed at the present time is that relations of confidence be restored and maintained between packer and farmer through fair dealing and intelligent co-operation. With these and an appreciation on the part of the producer, of the possibilities of the industry, hog raising cannot fail to be one of the most profitable branches of Canadian agriculture.

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

The Lust of Hate

self, or would you like to be carried?" he asked, as I sank down on the thwart again.

"Carry the lady," I answered hurriedly; "I can manage to get up myself. Take her quickly, or she will die."

I saw him pick Miss Maybourne up, and, assisted by the quartermaster who had accompanied him, carry her up the ladder. I attempted to follow, only to discover how weak I really was. By the exercise of sheer will, however, I managed to scramble up, holding on to the rail, and so gained the deck. Even after all this lapse of time I can distinctly see the crowd of eager faces pressed round the top of the ladder to catch a glimpse of us, and I can hear again the murmurs of sympathy that went up as we made our appearance. After that all seems a blank, and I can only believe what I am told—namely, that I looked round me in a dazed sort of fashion, and then fell in a dead faint upon the deck.

When I recovered consciousness again, I had to think for a moment before I could understand what had happened. I found myself in a handsomely-furnished cabin that I had never seen before. For an instant I imagined myself back again on the ill-fated Fiji Princess. Then a tall red-bearded man—the same who had carried Miss Maybourne up from the boat—entered, and came towards me. Through the door, which he had left open, I could see the awning-covered promenade-deck outside. As soon as I saw him I tried to sit up on the velvet-cushioned locker upon which I had been placed, but he bade me be content to lie still for a little while.

"You will be far better where you are," he said. "What you want is rest and quiet. Take a few sips of this, and then lie down again and try to get to sleep. You have some arrears to make up in that line, or I'm mistaken."

He handed me a glass from the tray above my couch, and held it for me while I drank. When I had finished I laid myself down again, and, instead of obeying him, began to question him as to where I was. But once more I was forestalled, this time by the entrance of a steward carrying a bowl of broth on a tray.

"You see we're determined, one way or another, to close your mouth," he said, with a laugh. "But this stuff is too hot for you at present. We'll put it down here to cool, and in the meantime I'll answer not more than half-a-dozen questions. Fire away, if you feel inclined."

I took him at his word, and put the one question of all others I was longing to have answered.

"How is the lady who was rescued with me?"

"Doing as well as can be expected, poor soul," he replied. "She's being well looked after, so you need not be anxious about her. You must have had a terrible time in that boat, to judge from the effects produced. Now, what is the next question?"

"I want to know what ship this is, and how far we were from the Salvages when you picked us up?"

"This vessel is The King of Carthage—Captain Blockman in command. I'm afraid I can't answer your last question offhand, for the reason that, being the doctor, I have nothing to do with the navigation of the ship; but I'll soon find out for you."

He left the cabin, and went to the foot of the ladder that led to the bridge. I heard him call the officer of the watch, and say something to him. Presently he returned.

"The Salvages lie about seventy miles due nor' nor'-east of our present position," he said.

"Nor'-nor'-east!" I cried. "Then I was even further out in my calculations than I expected."

"Why do you ask about the Salvages?"

"Because it was on a rock off those islands that our ship, the Fiji Princess, was lost. We put off from the island to try and catch a sailing vessel that came in sight yesterday morning. A dense fog came on, however, and during the time it lasted we lost both the ship we went out to stop and also our island. Ever since then we have been drifting without food or water."

"You have indeed had a terrible experience. But you've a splendid constitution, and you'll soon get over the effects of it. And now tell me, were no others saved from the wreck?"

"As far as we could tell, with the exception of our three selves, not a single soul."

"You say 'three selves,' but we only rescued the lady and yourself. What, then, became of the third?"

"The third was a child about eight years old. The poor little thing must have been hurt internally when we were sucked under by the sinking ship, and her condition was probably not improved by the long exposure we had to endure on the bottom of the boat from which you rescued us. She scarcely recovered consciousness, and died on the island a short time before we left it in our attempt to catch the vessel I spoke of just now."

"I never heard a sadder case," said the doctor. "You are indeed to be pitied. I wonder the lady, your companion, came through it alive. By the way, the skipper was asking me just now if I knew your names."

"The lady is Miss Maybourne, whose father is a well-known man at the Cape, I believe."

"Surely not Cornelius Maybourne, the mining man?"

"Yes, she is his daughter. He will be in a terrible state when the Fiji Princess is reported missing."

"I expect he will; but, fortunately, we shall be in Cape Town almost as soon as she would have been, and he will find that his daughter, thanks to your care, is safe and sound. Now I am not going to let you talk any more. First, take as much of this broth as you can manage, and then lie down and try to get to sleep again. As I said just now, I prophesy that in a few days you'll be up and about, feeling no ill-effects from your terrible adventure."

I obeyed him, and drank the broth. When I had done so I laid down again, and in a very short time was once more in the Land of Nod. When I opened my eyes again the cabin was almost dark. The doctor was still in attendance, and, as soon as he saw that I was awake, asked me if I would like to get up for a while. I answered that I should be only too glad to do so; and when he had helped me to dress, I took possession of a chair on the promenade deck outside. It was just dinner-time in the saloon, and by orders of the Captain, who came personally to enquire how I was, I was served with a meal on deck. Nothing could have exceeded the kindness and thoughtfulness of the officers and passengers. The latter, though anxious to hear our story from my own lips, refrained from bothering me with questions; and thinking quiet would conduce to my recovery, allowed me to have the use of that end of the deck unmolested. As soon as I could do so, I enquired once more after Miss Maybourne, and was relieved to hear that she was making most satisfactory progress towards recovery. After dinner the Captain came up, and seating himself in a chair beside me, asked a few questions concerning the foundering of the Fiji Princess, which information, I presumed, he required for his log.

To the Canadian Investor

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 35c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $300,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $675 a ton, or about $1350 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 100 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, wings and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling Ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.00 to $14.00 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of nine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

When Kidneys Fail, Health Declines

After experimenting for nearly 20 years, Dr. Hamilton discovered an absolute specific for weak kidneys. His pills of mandrake and butternut cure permanently.

Can you afford to delay? No, your interest compels you to use this certain cure now—to-day. Only take Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and an absolute recovery is guaranteed. In thousands of cases relief has been instantaneous. Such was the experience of James G. Gordon, of Marysville.

Twenty Years a Sufferer.

"My kidneys bothered me for twenty years. I had gnawing pains in the back and my limbs ached with weariness all the time. My digestion was poor and I had specks before my eyes.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me from the first day. Relief was immediate. They restored me and my health's better than ever."

All complaints kindred to kidney disease are prevented by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Their use insures you against Diabetes, Bright's disease and liver trouble. No house should be without such a valuable medicine. Sold everywhere by druggists, 25c. per box, or five for $1.00. By mail from M. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

The village of Havelock has a veritable Poobah, and cheap at that! Mr. Elias Williams, at a salary of $500 per year that tax collector, dog and poll tax collector, constable, sanitary inspector and caretaker of the town hall for village.

Mr. Pedley's Lecture.

On Friday evening Rev. J. W. Pedley, of Toronto, will give his delightful address on "Making a Man" in the school room of St. Paul's church. Mr. Pedley is one of the best lecturers in Canada and no doubt there will be a large attendance. Our readers will remember Mr. Pedley's lecture here last year on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Admission 15 cents. 3d

Philomathean Society's Evening.

Last night a crowded parlor was deeply interested in the entertainment given under auspices of the Collegiate Institute Philomathean Society. The programme rendered was of high quality. Perhaps the most notable feature of the evening, was the address given by Mr. S. Fife, president, which was a great interest and eagerly listened to. A splendid program of songs and recitations was rendered. The mock trial, in which students of the institute took part, was especially good. Those taking the part of the lawyers sustained their places with great ease.

Cheap Rates to Toronto.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will issue tickets to Toronto and return for the Flag of England Choral Concert on Monday, January 29th, good going only on the 8.15 P. LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Conservative Club smoker last night was a success.

—Are the good intentions you made on January 1st still acted up to?

—There was good skating yesterday evening on Knox church rink.

—Are the good intentions you made on January 1st, still acted up to?

—All went merry as a marriage bell at the Conservative Club smoker last night.

—Yesterday the County Council almost immediately after opening, went into Committee of the Whole.

—The Bell Telephone Co., have now finished connections by which residents near Cavanagh and Dynden Valley can talk.

—Nothing doing in police circles yesterday. The Magistrate was on hand, but there was nothing for him to do in the police court.

—Peterboro's water was pronounced pure in our issue of yesterday, but Lord how scanty it was shortly before breakfast time.

—Did you take your "bawth" yesterday morning, or have to borrow from the tea kettle and use the neither end of a dry towel?

—An open meeting of the Collegiate Institute Philomathean Society was held in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday evening. An interesting program was presented.

—The annual meeting of St. Andrews' church congregation was held yesterday evening, when reports were presented and officers elected for the coming year.

—Last night the merry whiss of the toboggan was enjoyed by large crowds. The Jackson Park rink was in perfect condition, and hundreds of citizens enjoyed a few hours flying on the ringing blades.

—There will prosably be some revelations before the Separate School buildin; question is settled. That is the building now a bone of contention between the Board of Education and the local military authorities.

—Alterations are being made to the store at the corner of George and McDonnel street recently occupied by Mr. Wm. Pratt as a grocer, Mrs. Lee has leased the premises and will open out a millinery establishment.

—At a meeting of the painters and paper hangers of Port Hope on Jan. 22nd inst., it was decided that the rate of wages would be 22 1-2 cents per hour after Feb. 1st. 1906, and 12 1-2 cents per roll for hanging paper on side walls.

—Last night Rev. E. A. Langfeldt gave a most interesting lecture in All Saints' church, under auspices of the Young Men's Guild of that church. His subject "A Trip Down the Rhine," was most ably handled, and was illustrated by lime-light views.

—This year Toronto's main source of ice-supply will be Sturgeon Lake. Toronto has, in years gone by, obtained its ice from Lake Simcoe, but this year Simcoe has only five or six inches of ice. The Sturgeon Lake ice has been tested by Toronto representatives, and found to run from 11 to 12 inches.

—The Pre-payment Electric Meter Co., are strenuously pushing business forward. Yesterday they received a heavy consignment of machinery, consisting of presses, dies, and other portions of their up-to-date plant. They expect, to very soon be manufacturing and shipping their products.

—Yesterday morning a British flag in this city was dragged through the dirt of our streets, or to be strictly correct, parts of the Union Jack flying at half-mast on the city building, were yesterday morning lying on Simcoe street, blown from the old worn-out civic flag. One piece would measure about 8 x 15 inches, and several small fragments were to be seen on the street.

—Yesterday there was weighed on the market, a young bull, only 22 months old, that turned the scales at 1370 pounds. This is a pedigreed Durham, and at auction by Peterboro's well-known auctioneer, Mr. J. H. Gardiner at Mr. H. Staple's sale, and purchased by Messrs. Miller Bros., Keene.

—The primary and junior union of Sunday school teachers will meet tonight in St. Paul's Endeavor room at seven o'clock instead of eight, the usual hour of meeting, owing to a lecture which is to be given in the Sunday school room. St. Andrew's Sunday school will have charge of the meeting, and the primary lessons will be taken by Mrs. Geo. Laing, while Mr. William Stevens will conduct the junior lesson.

DEPT. OF ELOCUTION

Peterboro Conservatory of Music Branches Out in New Department

Yesterday a new department was added to our rapidly developing and greatly appreciated Conservatory of Music. This, is announced by Mr. R. Gliddon, the capable director, to be a long wanted Elocution Department.

Mr. Gliddon has been fortunate in securing Miss Ada Heath, who is connected with the faculty of the Toronto Conservatory School of Expression, to take charge. All who are interested in elocution will find Mr. Gliddon ready and pleased to give full particulars of this new department.

Another Billiard Parlor.

Still another billiard parlor, bowling alley in connection will soon be open in the city, with seven new pool and one billiard table, by Mr. J. T. Smyths, late of Renfrew, Ont., who has leased the premises at 360 Water street, formerly occupied by the Otonabee Power Company.

C.P.R. Surveyors Leave Town.

The surveying camp of the C.P.R. which has been located at the end of Bethune street for the past few weeks, was broken up yesterday. The surveyors have finished their work in this vicinity and will continue it in the vicinity of Lindsay.

TRADES COUNCIL

Elect Officers and Endorse Employment of Day Laborers on City Sewers.

There was a large attendance at the Trades and Labor Council, on the occasion of the annual meeting, President, O. P. Murty filled the chair, and congratulated those present on the successful reports of last year. The election of officers resulted as follows,

Pres.—O. P. Murty.
Vice Pres.—Thomas Stenton.
Cor.-Sec.—Walter Tighe.
Sec.-Treas.—Hugh McWha.
Sergt.-at-Arms—John McAuliffe.
Municipal and Legislative Committee.—Messrs. Crowe, Stenton, Trombley, Baker and Alexander.

It was decided to hold only one meeting a month henceforth instead of two. The regular meeting night will be on the second Wednesday of each month.

The meeting enthusiastically endorsed the system now in vogue by the City Council, in having sewers built by the day labor system.

The success of the Labor party in the elections in Great Britain was also the subject of several congratulatory remarks; it being considered that this victory in England would have a tendency to enlarge the prestige of labor in this country.

The matter of holding an annual dinner by the Trades and Labor Council is now being considered.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Hon. Raymond Prefontaine took place yesterday morning in zero weather. The procession started from the Montreal city hall, where the remains had been lying in state since Tuesday night about nine o'clock. The streets along the route to St. James' Cathedral were lined with troops to keep the large crowds back. The procession was led by the police and a detachment of militia. The hearse was drawn by six heavily draped horses and was surrounded by a detachment of sailors and officers of the Canadian cruiser Canada as well as by the police. At the Cathedral Requiem was sung by Archbishop Bruchesi attended by a large number of clergy. The services concluded the procession re-formed and proceeded to Cote Des Neiges cemetery, where the body was interred.

All Saints' Anniversary Services.

Special services to commemorate the anniversary of All Saints' church will be held on Sunday. The preacher at both morning and evening services will be Rev. L. E. Sissy, M.A., rector of St. Annes' church, Toronto. The services will be of an interesting nature and as Mr. Sissy is an excellent speaker, the attendance should be large.

SIN'S CONSEQUENCES

The consequences of violating physical law are often as unpleasant as the breaking of a moral rule. The innocent indulgence of over-eating brings consequences that amount to real suffering. Indigestion is not natural; it is not right; it should not be. We offer a means of escape in Mi-o-na tablets that is simple and practical.

These simple tablets are composed of such valuable medicinal agents as bismuth subgallate, which is superior to all other remedies for stomach troubles, cerium oxalate, and tonics and correctives which promote the action of the digestive organs, strengthen the whole digestive tract, and make it possible to eat what you like and when you like.

If you suffer with head aches, indigestion, flatulency, heart burn, dizziness, sleeplessness, back ache, or debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once. Just one tablet out of a 50 cent box before each meal, and you will regain perfect health and strength.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Over-Burdened Women.

Many a man sees his wife bend and sag at burdens that strain the back and the heart alike, without any idea of the outrage. Children follow in too quick succession to allow the mother time to recuperate. The womanly organs become displaced, there are debilitating, disagreeable drains, with the added pain of inflamed or ulcerated parts. In this condition the woman bravely tries to carry her household load, afraid to take the rest she needs lest a meal will be late. No wonder she is pale, weak, wretched, surly of temper and unapt of tongue. She would be false to nature if she were anything else. No patent med'cine can help her as the cause of where this woman is the type. And for such women no help is so sure, so wonderful, as that given by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It restores all the womanly organs to perfect health. Establishes regularity in their functions. It restores the strained and shattered nervous system. It clears up the complexion, rounds out the form and makes life a daily happiness. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol or whisky. It is the best medicine for women. Nothing can be "just as good" as the best. Tell the dealer so if he offers a substitute.

"I wrote to you in 1898, about my case," writes Mrs. [illegible], of Kingsley, Va. "For 18 months I suffered from the results of a miscarriage. I had a bearing-down pain, and was troubled with female weakness. I had taken medicine from the doctor, but got no relief. After writing you I began taking your medicines, and you prescribed for me. I took in all five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of 'Pleasant Pellets.' I am now the mother of a little girl baby, and I feel that I owe my happiness entirely to you. I was in the family way when I began taking your medicines, and I had no more pain. I was troubled with a weak stomach, but your medicines brought me from a weak, sickly woman to a strong, healthy one. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for what you have done for me, and you may be sure that I will always recommend your medicines to my friends. I think 'Favorite Prescription' is the best medicine for women."

Ancher Ice Did It.

Yesterday morning many families were seriously embarrassed when getting breakfast by the lack of water. More than one householder breathed a "sigh of relief when he discovered his neighbor was in trouble like himself, and that he was not confronted with a three-foot long bill for thawing out his pipes by the plumbers.

Yesterday Peterboro went "dry," not in the temperance way but, far worse, for lack of badly needed water. The trouble was owing to anchor ice at the main water works pumping station. The pumps were shut down from four a.m. until shortly after 8 a.m.

Dramatic Club Rehearsal.

Another very successful rehearsal was held last night by the St. John's Dramatic Club, in St. John's church school room. The rehearsal was conducted under the management of Mr. S. R. Bradburn, stage director. The drama entitled, "The Blacksmith's Daughter," which will appear before the public on the evening of Friday, Feb. 16th, will consist of three very interesting acts. This will be one of the most interesting events of the season and will be presented in aid of the Young People's Association and deserves the hearty patronage of the whole church.

Chief Rossel Improved.

Chief Rossel, who has been laid up quite ill at his residence, we are pleased to state was reported as somewhat improved yesterday. He is very weak yet, his illness being attributed to an attack of grip sustained last spring. The Chief was advised to go to bed and lay up for a short time, but instead of taking this good advice, stuck to his post. We trust he will shortly be able to attend to duty again.

Horticultural Society Asks Aid.

Yesterday a deputation from the Horticultural Society appeared before the County Council and asked for an additional grant to assist in laying a new concrete walk and steps through Victoria Park to the Court House.

Canadian Northern's System.

Ottawa, January 25.—Mr. C. W. Spencer, general manager of the eastern division of the Mackenzie-Mann lines, who is in the city today, says that work on the Montreal-Ottawa section of the Canadian Northern's system will be commenced in May next.

LOVING-CUP PUZZLE TO PARIS COUNCILS

Mystified at First by Gift from London, But Quickly Realizes Meaning.

Paris, Jan. 27.—When the members of the Municipal Council heard that the citizens of Westminster had subscribed to present them with a loving cup they wondered what a loving cup was, for this good British institution is unknown in France.

Lord Cheylesmore explained to them to-day the origin, use and traditions of the cup that is passed round, when he and the deputation of the Westminster Corporation were entertained at lunch at the Hotel de Ville by the Paris Council. When the cup had been filled with champagne and passed round the 200 guests fully understood its meaning.

The ceremony was one of the most significant manifestations of the entente cordiale that has yet taken place. The Hotel de Ville was magnificently decorated. The Westminster councillors drove to the building in their robes of office, accompanied by the city mace-bearers, and were cheered on the way by enthusiastic crowds.

Soldiers of the municipal guard lined the staircases, and M. Brousse, the president, with all the members and officials of the Paris Council, received the guests. The cup was presented after a little informal speech. King Edward's health was drunk to tremendous enthusiasm and the tune of "God Save the King."

Then M. Brousse summed up the sentiments of the meeting in the happiest of speeches. "Your presence," he said, turning to Lord Cheylesmore, "conjures up for us the historical riches of one of the greatest cities that go to make up England.

"In you, M. le Maire, this glorious part has found a fitting representative. As soldier, sportsman and philanthropist you unite in your person the finest qualities of the British mind—bravery, energy and benevolence," Mr. Granville Smith replied in French.

KUBELIK MUST PAY IMPRESARIO'S CLAIM

Paris, Jan. 27.—Mr. Kubelik, the famous violinist, has just been sued by Mr. Schurman, the well known impresario, for various sums in the Third Chamber of the Civil Court here.

Mr. Schurman said he had to pay $160 to a theatre manager in Madrid for a concert that was not held; $1,200 for the hire of a theatre in Barcelona, and $120 for the lady accompanist at five concerts. He also claimed $1,460 for damages.

The violinist set up the defence that as he was domiciled in Bohemia the French courts had no jurisdiction.

The court ruled that such domicile was not proved, and ordered Mr. Kubelik to pay the claim.

SHERIFF TERRORIZED, RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Vienna, Jan. 27.—M. Gustav Kovacs, who was attacked by a mob at Debreczan yesterday and dangerously injured, on arriving to take up his position as high sheriff, has resigned his position.

The revolt of the people against the appointments made by the Fejervary Government grows, and several other sheriffs have resigned rather than face the fury of the mob.

"Hungary shall not be governed by an Austrian clique," is the battle cry of the rebels, and the Government is powerless to enforce recognition of its nominees.

The situation is made all the more difficult by the fact that the municipal authorities in the Hungarian towns are aiding the revolt by every means in their power, and the local police are always absent from the scenes of riots.

For some days before the arrival of M. Kovacs in Debreczen the following placard was prominently displayed all over the town:—

"To the liberty-loving population.—No one in Debreczen shall help this hireling of an unconstitutional government. No cabman shall drive him, no hotelkeeper serve him, no shopman sell to him. His money is Judas money.

"He shall hunger and thirst like a beast in the desert, and must be destroyed, with all who help him. Children, not accordingly."

NO TEDDIPLOMAT QUITS PUBLIC OFFICE

LONDON,

A notable public official has just retired from active life in the person of Sir Halliday Macartney, Counsellor and English Secretary to the Chinese Legation in London.

Sir Halliday has had a remarkable career.

He was present at and assisted in the capture of the Taku Forts in 1860, the surrender of Pekin, and the destruction of the Summer Palace with its priceless art treasures and beautiful grounds by the order of Lord Elgin as a warning to the Chinese for their perfidious treachery to the English and French forces.

He greatly assisted his friend Gordon in crushing the Taiping Rebellion in 1863 and 1864 by drilling a force of some 3000 men, who proved most deadly against the rebels.

With extraordinary versatility and energy he established a military arsenal at Nankin, of which he was the director till 1876.

Organizer and Negotiator.

The Chinese Government quickly discovered that Mr. Macartney was not only a first-rate soldier and organizer but also a most able negotiator.

De facto, Sir Halliday has, one may say, been the Chinese Ambassador.

So thoroughly has he identified himself with his role as the representative of the Celestial empire that he has sometimes been playfully spoken of as more Chinese than British.

He has represented China on various historic occasions, and since 1878, as counsellor and English secretary to the Legation, he has influenced Chinese diplomacy throughout Europe.

The present emperor has heaped presents and honors upon him as a reward for his well-tried services, and he combines the English K. C. M. G. with the high Chinese Orders of the Double Dragon and the Precious Star.

YOUNG ARCHDUKE HURT

Nephew of Emperor of Austria Fractures His Thigh.

He had gone to the ground of the Vienna Skaters' Association, in company with his brother, the Archduke Maximilian. On the ice he came into collision with another boy, and fell heavily. He was carried to the residence of the Archduke Otto, his father, where it was found that he had received a bad fracture.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN DRESSMAKERS' TOUTS

Live Luxuriously on Riviera and Lure Wealthy Into Patronage of Firms.

MONTE CARLO,

A new form of employment on the Riviera for pretty, tactful women has been discovered by certain enterprising Paris dressmakers.

These women, who are, as a rule, excellent linguists, are sent to the most fashionable hotels, where they live in luxurious style and entertain freely. They are dressed with exquisite taste.

Their business is, of course, to introduce clients to their employers, and they do this in such a way that the victim does not suspect what is happening.

The fair model courts the society of wealthy women staying in the hotel, and at a favorable moment turns the conversation deftly upon the question of dress.

She gathers round her small parties at afternoon teas, private dinners and motor excursions, at which she appears as hostess, and soon becomes on intimate terms with the most likely subjects for her schemes.

The association ends almost invariably in the victim being informed where the model has her clothes made.

SCARED BY A MUMMY

Weird Noises During Changes of Egyptian Section of Museum.

LONDON, —Many visitors to the British Museum were chilled to the bone yesterday by unearthly screeches proceeding from the Egyptian section, where the mummies are. It was as though the spirits of the tenants of the granite sarcophagi had returned to protest against the "general post" which is going on in response to the order for systematic arrangement of the exhibits.

As the huge black granite coffin of Hapimen, royal scribe of the XXVI Dynasty, was being dragged on wooden rollers from its place to its new position, the rollers gave birth to heartrending moans and squeaks.

Once there was a cry of dismay from the men when it was seen that the delicately engraved surface of the coffin had cracked. But the damage was only to the cunning plaster restoration, and could easily be replaced.

So the labor and the noise went on, while Ramases and Menephtah, Osiris and Hathor gazed apparently unmoved.

ONCE KISSED BY KINGS, NOW NINETY-SEVEN

"The Beautiful Miss Croker" Verges Close on to the Century Mark.

LONDON,

When the last century was young she was known as "the beautiful Miss Croker," although her name was never Croker, for she was the daughter of William Pennell, who was once Consul General in Brazil.

But she was the niece and adopted daughter of the Right Hon. John Wilson Croker, whose defence of the Duke of York won him the secretaryship of the Admiralty in 1809, who attacked Keats and broke a literary lance or two with Macaulay, who invented the name Conservative, and helped to found the Athenaeum Club, in addition to writing seventeen works, which are mostly forgotten, but one of which suggested Scott's "Tales of a Grandfather."

"Miss Croker" was painted at the age of 17 by Sir Thomas Lawrence, and the portrait was exhibited in the Royal Academy. From that moment she became famous as the most beautiful girl in England.

George IV kissed her, and when she went to the Court of William IV after Lawrence's picture had made her fame, that monarch said: "I am so pleased to be introduced to a young lady of whom I have heard so much," and stooped and kissed her on both cheeks.

The adulation which she received had no effect on "Miss Croker." Always of a pious and contemplative nature, she withdrew from society, and, it is said, never looked in a mirror for two years.

She married Sir George Barrow in 1831, and bore him three sons and five daughters. Her grandson is the present holder of the title.

Lady Barrow has lived in the reigns of five sovereigns, and is still in the possession of all her faculties. She is beloved by the poor of Molesey and the district for her invariably practical philanthropy.

UNREQUITED LOVE LEADS TO TRAGEDY

Young Officer of Russian Imperial Guard Commits Suicide in Nice Hotel.

NICE,

A young officer of the Russian Imperial Guard attached to the Czar, and currently reported to belong to one of the most eminent families in Russia, has committed suicide in his hotel here, as the outcome, it is said, of a disappointment in love.

When the tragedy became known, Duke George of Leuchtenberg, an uncle of the Czar, was informed, as was also the Princess Yurievski, and they in turn communicated with the family.

The body was placed in a shell yesterday morning in the presence of the Duke and the Princess and of another lady, who fainted, and had to be carried from the death chamber. The coffin has been temporarily placed in the Russian cemetery prior to its removal to St. Petersburg.

ENGLAND'S KING AND QUEEN GUESTS OF DUKE AND DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE

Magnificent Reception Accorded Edward VII—Hundreds of Torch Bearers Usher Their Majesties Into Historic Residence of Chief of the Cavendish Family—Noted Beauties in Amateur Theatricals

LONDON,

THE King and Queen have just returned to Buckingham Palace from Chatsworth House, where they were for a week the guests of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire.

The house party invited to meet their Majesties included A. J. Balfour, Lord Stanley and Lady Alice Stanley, Earl and Countess De Grey, the Earl and Countess of Gosford and the Ladies Acheson, Cossela, Duchess of Manchester; the Countess of Crewe, the Earl and Countess of Mar and Kellie, Princess Henry of Pless, Lady Maud Warrender, the Marquis de Soveral, Lord Lurgan, Mr. and Mrs. Grenfell, Mrs. Sneyd, the Hon. Evan Charteris, Sir L. J. Oliphant, Lord Charles Montagu, Lord and Lady Hicho, Miss Muriel Wilson, Captain Cavendish and Lord Herbert Vane-Tempest.

Their Majesties, who were accompanied by Princess Victoria, arrived by special train at Rowsley, the station three miles from Chatsworth, at 5 o'clock Monday, and were received by the Duke amid the cheers of the onlookers. The booking hall was beautifully upholstered, and electric and acetylene lamps shone brightly from among the foliage.

Darkness had fallen when the party, traveling in motor cars, set out on the rapid, exhilarating drive in the frosty air, but when the great park was neared the sky was seen to be lit up.

Three hundred torch-bearers—Edensor schoolboys, the Bakewell Boys' Brigade, the Chatsworth fire brigade and estate workmen—with a great crowd of spectators, were waiting at the park entrance. While the cheers which greeted the arrival of the party were still ringing they formed in procession and set out to escort the cars down the splendid avenue to the great house.

On Wednesday night the King and Queen witnessed an interesting theatrical performance in the beautiful private theatre at Chatsworth. Many residents in the vicinity of Chatsworth were present. Tickets were sold at 10s each, and the proceeds will be given to various local charities.

Their Majesties and the house party entered the house a little after 10 o'clock. The King led, and, notwithstanding the assistance of a stick, betrayed a pronounced limp.

The Queen wore a lovely mauve dress trimmed with lace and violets, over which she wore an ermine cape. The Duchess of Devonshire was in cream, and Countess Duchess of Sutherland wore a magnificent Empire gown of chiffon with ermine cape.

The programme opened with a monologue, "Lotos," in which Princess Henry of Pless scored a notable triumph. The monologue, which is descriptive of the victory of love over the forces of life and death, was delivered with remarkable dramatic force.

During the interval Carl Heuberr's band rendered several selections, and Ernest Pike sang an air from "Faust" and "Take a Pair of Sparkling Eyes."

"Time is Money" concluded the programme. It is a mirth-provoking comedy, and afforded scope for the exceptional capabilities of Lady Maud Warrender, Miss Muriel Wilson and Charles Hawtrey.

IRISH GOODS BOOMED BY GAELIC LEAGUE

LONDON,

The London branch of the Gaelic League is preparing a scheme for placing the principal Irish products on the English markets.

A. O'Brien, secretary of the league, explained the scheme yesterday. He said:

"The plan originated in London, and arose from a desire among the Irish here to use Irish manufactures, and to be certain that when paying for Irish manufactures they obtained what they paid for.

"We have 2000 members in the Gaelic League itself, and our members are all prepared to support Irish manufactures.

"There are numerous other Irish associations in London with large lists of members, and they, too, will be among the first to support the new venture. We hope to get the English customer by degrees, when we have proved to him that it is to his own advantage to deal with us.

"We hope to make a large profit, as we have full confidence in the worth of the goods we shall exploit. We have no fear of any jealousy on the part of English manufacturers or consumers.

"The English consumer wants the best article at the lowest price, and he is always prepared to pay the lowest price for a good thing, even if it is Irish."

FAMINE IN SIGHT

CALCUTTA, —A severe scarcity of food is threatened over a large part of northern India during the next few months.

Almost famine prices are prevailing in many districts, and the pinch of scarcity is being felt everywhere. While actual famine is not yet prevalent, except in a few isolated localities, there is every indication that a long season of rural depression and distress is likely.

Common country maize is at three times its usual price. The cheaper foodstuffs, in fact, are more affected than the provisions of the better classes.

Possibly the inflation of prices in Allahabad itself is due to local causes, but high prices are general, and it is as yet uncertain how the spring harvest will turn out.

Terror for Tramps.

BELGRADE, —Punishment by [illegible] "shaver hauling" has just been adopted in some of the prisons of Servia.

SOUP FOR SOLDIERS ON THE FIRING LINE

CALCUTTA,

The "Kitchener soup cart" is likely to become an important and popular feature of the Indian army.

Its object is the provision of hot beef tea for soldiers on the march and in the fighting line, and it is now being tested by order of Lord Kitchener in the command of General R. A. P. Clements at Sirhind.

The cart has been adapted from a Russian pattern, which was used in Manchuria. For men who lie exposed in trenches it will prove a great blessing, providing a welcome change to the cold-tinned rations which frequently form their staple food.

On the march the soup boiler will simmer away ready for the first long halt, and on resting for the day a pint of beef tea will be ready at once, thus allowing the cooks ample time to prepare a full evening meal.

Lord Kitchener is experimenting with many forms of equipment and gear used by the belligerents in the Far Eastern campaign, including the Japanese ammunition carrier, the Austrian field telephone and the German system of wireless telegraphy.

TAILORS URGE UNIFORM FOR FRENCH PRESIDENT

Would Have Him and Presidents of the Legislature Represent the Tricolor.

PARIS,

Indignant that the President of the French Republic should have no distinguishing uniform, the Paris tailors have combined to design one which they intend submitting for official approval. They have also designed uniforms for the presidents of the Senate and the president of the Chamber.

In the creations the whimsicality of the oriental mind has shown itself, for while the President of the Republic will, if the tailors have their way, wear a uniform of spotless white, the president of the Senate with be clad in blue, and his brother of the Chamber in scarlet red.

When together, the ingenious tailors assert, the three gentlemen will represent the French tricolor.

SAYS POLE MAY BE REACHED BY AIRSHIP

Santos-Dumont Would Make Attempt if Substantial Offer Were Made Him.

PARIS

M. Santos-Dumont, the famous aeronaut, who is at present in Paris, was interviewed this morning as to the probability of his going to the North Pole in an airship with Mr. Wellman, who is to attempt the voyage this summer for the Chicago Record-Herald.

In the course of the interview he said: "Nothing whatever has been settled on this subject, and I do not know whether anything is likely to come of the proposal. Mr. Wellman wrote to me, as well as to M. Lebaudy and M. Deutsch, to ask us whether we thought it possible to reach the North Pole in an airship or navigable balloon.

"My reply was that it was quite possible to do this. I pointed out that it was necessary to construct a very large and comfortable balloon, or airship, shaped like the last that I have built. The envelope would require to cube at least 3000 or 10,000 yards.

"Mr. Wellman asked me whether a balloon could remain up in the air for forty days. My reply was that this is quite impossible, but that I could remain fifteen days in the air in a balloon, and this is ample time in which to reach the North Pole.

"Then, again, it is necessary to leave in the spring, when the temperature is not too low. I would certainly agree to attempt the journey to the North Pole if a firm offer were made to me, but so far I have been merely asked for information."

ROYAL LOVERS TO MEET

King Alfonso of Spain to Visit Princess Ena on the Continent.

MADRID, —Excitement prevails in Madrid as to the approaching meeting between King Alfonso and Princess Ena of Battenberg.

This, according to El Liberal, will take place the present month.

The Princess will arrive at the La Rochefoucauld palace about the middle of January, and the King of Spain is expected to join the royal party. His Majesty will stay about five days. It is reported that King Edward will arrive at Vigo on board his yacht in May next for the purpose of assisting in the marriage.

A Lafian Rome message says that Princess Ena will shortly be received by the Pope at the Vatican, after which she will go to Naples and again meet King Alfonso.

POISONED SWEETS CRIMINALS' REVENGE

Woman Who Aided Police in Murder Mystery is Done to Death.

PARIS,

A murder mystery in which poisoned chocolates were the chosen means of vengeance is puzzling the Paris police.

Last August a Dutchman named Florimondus, living in the Rue de Temple, was found murdered in his rooms. All his belongings, including jewelry, were missing. The police succeeded in arresting three suspected men, thanks to the aid of Mme. Viale, the concierge of the murdered man's house.

Mme. Viale, a young and pretty woman, went out yesterday evening to visit one of her neighbors. She was eating chocolate creams which, she explained, had been given to her as a present. She was in the best of health and good spirits.

While talking to her companion she took the last chocolate from the box and placed it in her mouth. She had swallowed a portion of it, when she exclaimed that it was bad.

Her suspicions of poison were apparently at once aroused. She ran home and sent her husband for a doctor, who, however, arrived too late to help her. Two hours after eating the chocolate she died in terrible convulsions.

The post-mortem examination leaves little doubt as to the presence of some poison in the sweets. There is no clue whatever as to who gave the chocolates to Mme. Viale, but it is thought that her death was due to revenge on the part of some friends of the man accused of the murder of Florimondus.

LIFE RUINED BY LOVE, MAN TURNS HERMIT

Gives Up His Business and Isolates Himself From World for 23 Years.

LONDON,

"For twenty-three years he lived the life of a hermit owing to being crossed in love."

This extraordinary statement was made at the inquest at Chatham yesterday on the body of Walter Tibball, aged 63 years, whose home was an old hut in a meadow adjoining Rochester football ground.

He was formerly a pork butcher at Cambridge, but when the course of his love failed to run smoothly he cut himself off from all his friends, finally taking up his residence in the hut at Rochester.

Here, with two cats, two rabbits, a hedge sparrow and and two linnets, he lived the life of a recluse, seldom speaking to a human being.

On Monday morning a woman living nearby, alarmed at seeing no smoke rising from the chimney of Tibball's hut, went across and found the man crouched in a corner. He was dying, and before the woman could obtain the services of a doctor he was dead.

The hut was in an exceptionally dirty condition, the only furniture being an old couch. Tibball's clothing, which included three shirts, two waistcoats and two jackets, was tied up with string. It was stated, evident that the man had not undressed himself for years.

THE PETERBORO MORNING TIMES

The Scourge of Consumption

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABELED

PETERBORO, JANUARY 27 1906

A MUNICIPAL LESSON

Cities and towns which are being importuned for competing telephone franchises on the inducement of an automatic service would find much to interest them in the situation in Peterboro.

Two years ago our City Council, out of sympathy for local investors in an automatic switch, granted a franchise to the Canadian Machine Telephone Company. The contract required that a service sufficient in all respects to handle the business of its subscribers should be established within one year, but subscribers were assured of service within six months. The outside plant has been completed at large expense, but the Machine, apparently, has "fallen down." There have been months of waiting and experimenting, but practically no service yet, and so far as the public can see no progress is being made. The Bell Telephone rates have not been lowered, while the number of its subscribers has increased, and the service extended more rapidly than ever before.

Competition in telephone service has twice been a failure in Peterboro, and most signally in the attempt to introduce the automatic system.

ENGLISH BOOKS FOR JAPANESE

A rather remarkable appeal is being circulated in England. It is signed by prominent editors, clergymen, lawyers and attaches of the Japanese Legation in London, and the leading papers are gladly seconding it. The appeal is for books, old and new, in the English language, for the use of Japanese people, or such of them as have mastered that tongue.

It seems that "thousands upon thousands of Japanese" are learning English, and from every city in the Empire comes the cry for English books. There is, one Japanese signer says, "an absolute mental famine" there with "limitless opportunities for doing good by allaying this longing for all that is best in Western literature," and, incidentally, for influencing the thought of the educated youth of Japan.

The war has left that Empire poor. Many are out of employment and forced to emigrate. The central and local authorities must think of bread and necessaries for the destitute, and appropriations for books are not to be expected in the near future. In the English-speaking countries there are tens of thousands of persons, associations, libraries and publishing houses that have books to spare. The idea of asking for such books originated with the Japanese themselves, and they want all givers to furnish names, addresses and even photographs for a huge album to be kept at the Tokio library.

The response to this appeal has been hearty. Thousands of volumes, covering every branch of literature, have already been sent out, and collecting centers have been opened in various cities.

The unique movement should commend itself to Canadians. There is no better gift than a good book, and it is not often that a nation has a chance to make such gifts to another nation, eager to get and devour them. Anything may be sent—from A B C books to volumes on constitutional interpretation and metaphysics—except trash. It is worthy of note that the Japanese also ask for music, especially oratorio scores, saying that music, the universal language, would reach those who do not read English, French or any Western language.

THE WARDEN'S DINNER

Warden Johnston Entertains Members and Officials of the County Council.

Last night a long T shaped table, embellished with flowers, glass and silver, and laden with all the choicest delicacies of the season, at H. Long's Palm Parlors, in the inside dining hall, was comfortably filled by guests of the newly elected warden of the county, Mr. Thos. J. Johnston, of Otonabee.

Among those present were Warden Johnston, the host, J. E. Belcher, county engineer, G. M. Hunter, ex-warden; R. Lees, and J. Ogle-Brown, school inspectors; Jas. Andrew, D. Moloney, T. Stanton, H. Garbutt, R. Shaw, John Carey, W. D. Buck, John Menegue, county councillors; E. M. Elliott, county clerk; Dr. Caldwell, jail surgeon.

After the very elegant and sumptuous banquet had been put under the various waistcoats, speechifying began.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., was first called upon.

Mr. Hall spoke along the lines of the Trent Valley Canal, and said that every step should be taken to complete the Trent Valley Canal. He next spoke along the matter of the Burkhorn and other dams, saying that the county and the Government should co-operate in the matter of the canal.

The Dominion, Ontario and county governments should see to the construction of an overhead bridge at Hunter street. There are many people from Otonabee, Douro, and other townships, who as much as the City of Peterboro, use the Otonabee river bridge. Mr. Hall said that now is the time to build the bridge. The county should recognize that they have certain rights and should spend part of the money on the bridge.

Mr. Andrews, of Asphodel, replied to the toast to the county. Mr. Andrews was very glad to be present, and gave a funny story that brought forth roars of laughter.

Mr. John Belcher, county architect, with his proverbial, unintentional, but genuine native Irish wit, kept the party in roars of laughter, when he gave his experience in county engineering work covering a period of a third of a century. "Peterboro," he said, "has the most intellectual crowd of councillors of any county in Canada."

Mr. Lees, county school inspector, next spoke. He did not intend, or expect to be called up for a speech. He told an amusing story of a deer hunting party in the back country, where the wrong man, not belonging to the party, was awakened at 3 a.m., to go hunting; he being called upon to speak was somewhat like the man awakened to go hunting, when he did not know the butt from the muzzle of a gun.

Referring to educational matters, the county has some good schools, whilst other parts were very deficient.

There are many difficulties to meet in the matter of schools, but by co-operation of those in high places in the county, they can be overcome.

Mr. Ogle-Brown, school inspector, paid Warden Johnston a high compliment, and said the county affairs would be safe under his control. He had been 25 years in his position in educational affairs. He then quoted a piece of original poetry, illustrative of his experience in a country house where the mice had a nest in the mattress.

In all his long experience, he had had many differences of opinion with the county council and, in nearly every case he had been right, and the county wrong.

A short time ago there was an important forestry convention in Ottawa; the County of Peterboro, especially in Galway, Anstruther, Methuen, Belmont and other places where the land is not available for farming, purposes, should be given over to timbering purposes. This he threw out as a strong hint to the council.

Mr. Brown then went on in a patriotic strain on Canada's present growing wealth and prosperity. Mr. Brown's political proclivities were then displayed by his deprecating a high protective policy.

Dr. Caldwell next took the floor, and thanked them present for calling on him, and congratulated them elected to the council.

Mr. E. M. Elliot congratulated Mr. Johnston on his elevation to the wardenship, and said a wise choice had been made. This is an enviable position. The people of Otonabee have been honored by this choice. Mr. Carey he knew, at the election, had been very anxious to see Mr. Johnston made warden.

From a serious standpoint there is a great undertaking before the council this year. This is the location of the House of Refuge.

When the most of the cars gone, it will be a creditable monument to those whose names were connected with building it. This Keene bridge, was Mr. Elliott's next subject. This would cost the county $2,000 more now than if the Hastings dam had not been built. He would therefore look to Mr. Hall, M.P., to see that the Dominion Government remembered this, and did right by the County of Peterboro.

It has been his pleasure and honor to be clerk under four different county administrations.

He next gave a sly dig at Mr. Hunter, ex-warden, predicting that Mr. Hunter intended to give them all a house warming soon. Although having every respect for banking, legal, and other city institutions, he was simply a member of the farming community. The farmer holds first place in Canada's industries. Half a million dollars worth of cheese was sold in this country last year. The agriculturists here are wide awake and have little to learn. We have every reason to be proud of being agriculturists. He wound up by expressing a belief that under Mr. Johnston's wardenship the county would progress.

Mr. E. A. Peak considered when he came here last night, he was one of the "old fellows," but when he saw Mr. Belcher and others at the table, he thought, a connection with the county council was a good life insurance. He would, and always did like to hear Mr. R. R. Hall speak about the T.V. canal. His (Mr. Hall's) heart, is evidently in the canal matter.

Twenty years ago he, the speaker, was first connected with the canal matters. The canal will have a wonderful effect on this county. The American Cereal will, on completion of the canal, double their plant. With the canal finished, we will be as large a city as Toronto.

Mr. H Nesbitt said he believed he was the oldest official of the county, having been in their service for over 36 years.

Mr. Elliott then proposed the toast of the visitors; the toast was followed by singing "There are all jolly good fellows."

Mr. Hughes-Charles on behalf of the visitors replied to the toast.

This was his fourth occasion of the kind. The county could get along without some of its officials better than without him, as a banker. He then advocated the claims of the Bank of Commerce upon the farmers of Peterboro, its president being a Peterboro man. Every warden and councillor of this county he has met has been a fine fellow. He still has a note of the county that he intends to keep as a curiosity.

The county has done well in the past year, built banks, etc., and soon will not owe one dollar to the bank. He next referred to the Trent Valley canal, along the same lines as the previous speakers.

Soon a larger delegation than ever before will go to Ottawa. It will help the farmers of the Northwest by reducing the freight charges. It is infamous the way railways will get the last cent of freight rates on any article, that it will bear. Mr Stuart of the American Cereal Company, told him yesterday that if the canal is finished, his company would, at once, put up a mill to turn out five thousand barrels of flour a day.

Mr. Hunter, of North Monaghan, ex-councillor, complimented the county in its selection of councillors. He had seen signs of prosperity every where throughout the county. Did not believe in building houses of refuge; the farmers could spend their money better other ways. He advocated Monaghan for the house of refuge if built.

Mr. Hall then proposed the health of the county councillors.

Mr. Johnston, warden of the county replied first for the council. He expressed the pleasure of having them present as his guests, and he thanked them for placing him in the honorable position he holds. He looked upon it with great pleasure, that after 15 years in the council, he should have been elected by acclamation. His speech was short, and wound up by thanking those present for drinking the health of the council.

Ex-Warden Buck congratulated the warden on being elected to so honorable a position.

Mr. Garbutt, of Smith, then said, that with the present warden and council, he hoped at the end of the year to have a surplus. The Trent Valley canal should be backed up by every man in the county.

The township of Smith sent a good delegation to Ottawa regarding the canal. Not a word was said about the expenses of sending the delegation.

We live in an age of improvement and every one in city or county should assist in helping to get the canal finished. We have the best set of officials that any county can boast of.

After Mr. Garbutt's speech had been observed to the echo, the other members of the council replied to the toast. The meeting broke up about midnight.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD.

Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes:

"Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and in a day I had a most miserable cold, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. But it hung to me for two weeks, when I felt something must be done, as my condition was serious.

"I had heard so much about Peruna and in its praise that I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold and cough was broken up, and three weeks' treatment completely restored my usual good health."—Lillian Powell.

How Consumption Develops.

This cold is dilly-dallied with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then another cold is caught and a cough develops. Cough syrups are resorted to, but they give only temporary relief.

By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair.

The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse.

Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption.

It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off."

However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition.

Fortunately, Peruna had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late.

In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peruna.

Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.

The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage.

At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. If you have taken a cold, buy Peruna without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has fastened itself on the lungs.

Thousands of Testimonials.

We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peruna. We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving every month. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

MY MAGAZINE, "INVESTING FOR PROFIT" (which I'll send free) is worth $50 a copy to any man who intends to invest any money, however small, who has money invested unprofitably, or who can save $5 or more per month, but who hasn't learned the art of investing for profit.

It reveals the enormous profits bankers make and shows how one can make the same profits safely.

It explains HOW stupendous fortunes are made and WHY they are made—how $1,000 grows to $22,000.

To introduce my magazine write me NOW mention this paper and I'll send it SIX MONTHS FREE.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

"You have placed Mr. Maybourne very deeply in your debt," he said, after a little further conversation; "and I don't doubt but there will be many who will envy your good fortune in having conferred so signal a service upon his daughter. By the way, you have not told us your own name."

My heart gave a great jump, and for the moment I seemed to feel myself blushing to the roots of my hair. After the great kindness I had already received from everyone on board the vessel, it seemed worse than ungrateful to deceive them. But I dared not tell the truth. For all I knew to the contrary, my name might have been proclaimed everywhere in England before they left.

"My name is Wrexford," I said, feeling about as guilty as a man could well do.

"Any relation to the Wrexfords of Shrewsbury?" asked the Captain with mild curiosity.

"Not that I'm aware of," I answered. "I have been living out of England for many years, and have no knowledge of my relations."

"It's not a common name," continued the skipper; "that is why I ask. Sir George Wrexford is one of our directors, and a splendid fellow. I thought it was just possible that you might be some connection of his. Now, if you will excuse me, I'll be off. Take my advice and turn in early. I'm sorry to say we're carrying our full complement of passengers, so that I cannot give you a proper berth; but I've ordered a bed to be made up for you in my chart-room, where you have been all day to-day. If you can manage to make yourself comfortable there it is quite at your service."

"It is very kind of you to put yourself to so much inconvenience," I answered. "I fear by the time we reach Cape Town I shall have caused you a considerable amount of trouble."

"Not at all!" the hospitable skipper replied, as he rose to go. "I'm only too glad to have picked you up. It's our duty to do what we can for each other, for we none of us know when we may be placed in a similar plight ourselves."

After he left me, I was not long in following the good advice he had given me; and when I had once reached my couch, fell into a dreamless sleep, from which I did not wake until after eight o'clock next morning. Indeed, I don't know that I should have waked even then, had I not been disturbed by the noise made by someone entering the cabin. It proved to be the doctor.

"How are you feeling this morning?" he asked, when he had felt my pulse.

"Ever so much better," I replied. "In fact, I think I'm quite myself again. How is Miss Maybourne?"

"Still progressing satisfactorily," he answered. "She bids me give you her kind regards. She has been most constant in her enquiries after your welfare."

I don't know whether my face revealed my secret, or whether it was only supposition on his part, but he looked at me pretty hard for a moment, and then laughed outright.

"You may not know it," he said, "but when all's said and done, you're a jolly lucky fellow."

I sighed, and hesitated a moment before I replied.

"I'm afraid you're mistaken," I said. "Luck and I have never been companions. I doubt if there is a man in this world whose career has been more devoid of good fortune than mine. As a boy, I was unlucky in everything I undertook. If I played cricket, I was always either bowled for a duck's egg, or run out just as I was beginning to score. If there was an accident in the football field, when I was playing, I was invariably the sufferer. I left Oxford under a cloud, because I could not explain something that I knew to be a mistake on the part of the authorities. I quarrelled with my family on the same misunderstanding. I was once on the verge of becoming a millionaire, but illness prevented my taking advantage of my opportunity; and while I was thus delayed another man stepped in and forestalled me. I had a legacy, but it brought me nothing but ill-luck, and has finally driven me out of England."

"And since then the tide of ill-fortune has turned," he said. "A beautiful and wealthy girl falls overboard—you dive in, and rescue her. I have heard about that, you see. The ship you are traveling by goes to the bottom—you save your own and the same girl's life. Then, as if that is not enough, you try your luck a third time, and, just as a terrible fate seems to be going to settle you for good and all, we heave in sight and rescue you. Now you have Miss Maybourne's gratitude, which would strike most men as a more than desirable possession, and at the same time you will have her father's."

"And, by the peculiar irony of fate, both come to me when I am quite powerless to take advantage of them."

"Come, come, you mustn't let yourself down like this. You know very well what the end of it all will be, if you spend your life believing yourself to be a marked man."

"You mean that I shall lose my reason? No, no! you needn't be afraid of that. I come of a hard-headed race that has not been in the habit of storking suicide."

"I am glad of that. Now what do you say to getting up? I'll have your breakfast sent to you in here, and after you've eaten it, I'll introduce you to some of the passengers. On the whole, they are a nice lot, and very much interested in my two patients."

I thanked him, and, to show how very much better I felt, sprang out of bed and began to dress. True to his promise, my breakfast was brought to me by a steward, and I partook of it on the chart-room table. Just as I finished the doctor reappeared, and, after a little conversation, we left the cabin and proceeded out on to the deck together. Here we found the majority of the passengers promenading, or seated in their chairs. Among them I noticed two clergymen, two or three elderly gentlemen of the military stamp, a couple of dapper young fellows whom I set down in my own mind as belonging to the military profession, the usual number of elderly ladies, half a dozen younger ones, of more or less fascinating appearances, and the same number of children. As soon as they saw me several of those seated rose and came to meet us. The doctor performed the necessary introductions, and in a few minutes I found myself seated in a comfortable deck-chair receiving innumerable congratulations on my recovery. Strange to say, I did not dislike their sympathy as much as I had imagined I should do. There was something so spontaneous and unaffected about it that I would have defied even the most sensitive to take offence. To my astonishment, I discovered that no less than three were personal friends of Miss Maybourne's, though all confessed to having failed in recognising her when the boat came alongside. For the greater part of the morning I remained chatting in my chair, and by midday felt so much stronger that, on the doctor's suggestion, ventured to accompany him down to the saloon for lunch. The King of Carthage was a finer vessel in every way than the ill-fated Fiji Princess. Her saloon was situated amidships, and could have contained the other twice over comfortably. The appointments generally were on a scale of great magnificence; and, from what I saw at lunch, the living was on a scale to correspond. I sat at a small table presided over by the doctor, and situated near the foot of the companion ladder. In the pauses of the meal I looked round at the fine paintings let into the panels between the ports, at the thick carpet upon the floor, the glass dome overhead, and then at the alley-ways leading to the cabins at either end, in which direction did Miss Maybourne's cabin lie, I wondered. The doctor must have guessed what was passing in my mind, for he nodded his head towards the after-alley on the starboard side, and from that time forward I found my eyes continually reverting to it.

REVOLT SPREADS THROUGH RUSSIA

One Million in Arms in Russian Provinces.

SOC'AL DEMOCRATS LEAD

Czar Hurrying Troops into the Revolting Provinces.

Odessa, January 26.—It is estimated that at least a million of the peasants in the Caucasus have revolted against the central government and are trying to establish a republic in Southern Russia. A million of rebels, even of peasants, will not be easy for the Russian government to control. As a general thing, most of the real serious troubles of Russia have heretofore been confined to the army, the navy and the workingmen. Of course, the peasants in a scattered sort of fashion have joined in the revolutionary movements, but not to the extent here reported in Southern Russia. If it should be found that a systematic Socialistic propaganda has been successful among the agricultural peasantry it would log as though the troubles in Russia were even more serious than has been heretofore anticipated. In Russia, as in other countries, the interests of the workingmen and the farmers has been relied upon in the last resort to stand by the throne. The fact that they, too, are participating in strikes, in anarchy and in revolution means more in an economical and political sense than would the destruction of one of the Czar's armies or one of his fleets.

The Social Democrats have really been taking the lead in the agitations in the Caucasus. The labor movement appears to have originated in Tiflis about seven years ago, spreading to Batum, Baku and Thiaturi, the latter place a center of the manganese industry. At first it appears to have been purely economic in character, becoming political only by force of circumstances. The first socialistic leaflet in question, which urged co-operation with the Social Democrats in Western Europe, was read and approved and revolutionary songs were sung. The news of this meeting excited much interest among workmen who had not yet been initiated into the movement. In the same year the first strike in the Caucasus took place at Tiflis. The railway employees ceased to work as a protest against the circular of the minister of ways and communications, which was subsequently withdrawn. The success of this, the first strike in Southern Russia, was the more gratifying to the employees because the circular to which they objected affected not only the employees of the Caucasus, but those in other parts of the empire as well.

Until about three years ago the Social Democrats were the only revolutionary party which had any standing in the Caucasus. The Social revolutionaries about this time broke into the field with a more radical program. In some respects, however, the ideas of the Socialist revolutionaries were more popular with the inhabitants of Transcaucasia than were those of the Social Democrats. The Social revolutionaries are more along the line of home rulers, while the Social Democrats are Centralists. It happens that all three of the chief native races in Transcaucasia, Georgians, Armenians, and Tartars alike, are eager for autonomy. Again, the "socialisation" of the land—that is to say, its transference as communal property to the tillers of the soil, state, church and private owners being expropriated—which the revolutionaries propose is much more likely to be understood by a peasant than nationalization along the lines advocated by Karl Marx and the Social Democrats. However, it is no unusual thing for all the anti-governmental forces to act together. Only a few days ago a joint proclamation was signed by all of the revolutionary and socialistic organizations affirming the necessity of a republican form of government. One of the significant facts regarding the signing of this practically Caucasian declaration of independence was that it was favored by the Dashnakhtzutiun, or Droshakists, the Nationalist organization of the Armenian radicals. Radicals though they may be, the Droshakists are, nevertheless, the most conservative of the Armenians not directly attached to the crown and the drift of a conservative organization of this kind toward a republic has naturally caused a vast deal of worry and alarm at St. Petersburg, and among the followers of the Czar in Tiflis, Baku and other large cities of Transcaucasia.

The movement of the Droshakists in the direction of a republic is explained by the facts that the events of the past year have convinced many Armenians that they are in imminent danger of being crushed between the hammer and the anvil. For years the Armenian Droshakists persistently endeavored to avoid any irreparable breach with the Russian government. What they desired above all things really was freedom to carry on their ordinary pursuits without interference. In this case, as in the cases of the other conservative forces, their leaders appear to have been driven away from the Czar by sheer force of circumstances.

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26), not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $20 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after the first $10,000.

TURNING BACKWARD

By BELLE MANIATES

Copyright, 1905, by I. D. Marshall

It was the night of the wedding of Mrs. Baxter's youngest daughter. The mother had bidden her a fond farewell and watched her with her lord depart. When the wedding guests all had gone save those who were to remain—all night Mrs. Baxter went to her room, dismissed her maid and gave full sway to her unwonted hour of solitude. She had loved her youngest daughter even more devotedly and fondly than she had her other two children, but she was not grieving over her departure now. Instead she was reveling in the first taste of freedom she had known in years, for her children—the practical Walter, the domineering Julia and the spoiled Dolly—had each and all in turn and en concerto ruled each movement, great or small, of her life.

When five years ago her husband had been the hero of a little adventure that had shocked a shocking world and her fond, foolish heart would have forgiven him as he desired, Walter had taken the affair into his hands, ably seconded by his sister Julia, and before the prostrated, bewildered wife had fully grasped the situation she had found herself divorced. David Baxter, contrite and conciliatory, had been most generous in settlements and had then completely effaced himself from the lives of all he held dear and had taken up his abode in a distant city.

Dolly had been too young to know much about the affair, and to her mother's timid proposal that the father should be asked to give the hand of his youngest and his favorite child in marriage she had lent a willing ear, but Walter and Julia had emphatically vetoed such an outrageous act.

An hour after the wedding ceremony Walter had started on an important business journey and Julia had taken the same train to her home and children. Her mother was under orders to follow in a few days, when the big house should be closed for the summer. Julia had arranged for some cousins to remain also until her departure.

"I feel," thought Mrs. Baxter, with a nervous little giggle, "as I used to when I was a little girl and my mother went away and left me alone in the house. It seems as if I ought to play with the clock or do something forbidden."

Suddenly she arose and went to her writing desk. Opening a secret drawer, she drew forth two photographs—David Baxter, boyish and debonair, aged twenty-one, and David Baxter, shrewd and jovial at the threshold of middle age, as when she had last seen him. There was also a slip of paper bearing his present address, for Mrs. Baxter had surreptitiously mailed him newspapers with marked articles from time to time, though she had never dared to write or hope to hear from him.

A tender look came into her eyes, and she swiftly reviewed her past. "It was my fault," she thought. "I neglected him for the children and their friends. Their wishes came first."

"We were perfectly happy that first year only—before David got so very rich, and we lived in that dear little cottage on the forty acres. I wish—I will!"

A sudden bold resolution came to her, and fearful lest her weak nature should make her change her mind she dashed off two letters, one of which was to the people who lived in their old home, which she had never sold, but had allowed some needy friends to occupy rent free.

Her dreams that night were happy pictures of woods, meadows and country lanes. In the morning she looked almost girlish. At the breakfast table she made a welcome proposal to her cousins, who were left in charge of

She asked them if they would like to stay in the house for awhile and entertain their friends as they willwhile she made a visit to some kin in the country.

"I am so tired out," she explained. "I need the rest and quiet, and there is no end of the children knowing anybody about it. I'll send my letters here to be remailed to them."

Her cousins, who had ever disapproved of Julia and Walter espousing their mother, heartily concurred in the little conspiracy. The following day brought a response to her letter to Helen. They would be only too glad to receive her, not as a summer boarder, but as a guest. The next week found her at her old home, where she planned to stay a few weeks and where the olden days in her native

She gave a little cry of pleasure as they drove up to The Nutshell, as David had named it. Here time seemed to have stood still. The vine covered porch, the flower beds, the old apple orchard and the little rustic seat in the arbor were the same. She went over the whole place. Every spot was replete with beautiful memories. The next morning she arose with a little tremor of excitement running through her veins.

Never, not even for Dolly's wedding, had she taken such care with her toilet. She was glad the day gave promise of being one of extreme heat. It would account to the farm folk for the light, delicate gown she was donning. Her hair still waved softly back from her brow with an occasional escaping ring, as it had in her youth. Her thoughts and hopes had brought a delicate pink flush to her cheeks.

After breakfast she went through the meadows and down the lane to a piece of cool, dark woods that skirted the river. Her heart beat almost painfully as she came nearer to her destination.

"I am a foolish old woman," she told herself. "Of course no one will be there!"

Some one was there, however. A tall, familiar form came quickly toward her.

"Oh, David!" she cried, with a little gasp. "I was afraid you wouldn't come."

"You knew I would," he asserted. "But wait."

He put his arms about her and led her through the woods. Not a word was spoken. She guessed what was in his mind and smiled happily when he led her to a certain tree apart from the others.

"There," he said. "Now I feel thirty years younger, and, Helen, you look not a year older than you did when we were here last."

"Oh, David! When I was left alone there in that big house the longing came to see you once more, but I didn't dare hope you would come."

"I have been waiting for the letter you wrote for five long years!"

"Have you, David? I didn't want a divorce—it was Julia and Walter"—

"Yes, I know. It was always Julia and Walter, but their day is over."

"I thought we'd have a little visit here in our old home for just this once, and no one need know."

"Helen," he said gravely, "you can't retract now. You called me and I came. I have the license, and we will either go to the old parsonage or have a little wedding up there at the house. We'll spend our honeymoon here, and then we will go abroad, and"—

"Oh, David! And the same minister who married us is still living here!"

Taking Chances.

A small boy had been punished and in consequence was feeling at enmity with all the world, but with his father in particular. When he came to say his prayers at night he gabbled through them at a high rate of speed, and while asking for the customary blessing on all the other members of the family, including the cat, he left out his offending parent.

His mother understood, but thought it best to "appeal to his better self."

"Harold," she said sweetly, "what about papa? You forgot, dear."

"Didn't. Don't want papa blessed!"

"Why, Harold, when you love him so! Just think, dear. Papa has gone downtown now, and how would you feel if he got lost or hurt because you hadn't prayed for him?"

This rather worked on the boy's mind, and slowly he began to clamber out of bed, when just as he got on his knees he heard the familiar click of his father's key in the lock. "I guess I'll risk it!" he announced and quick as a wink jumped back into bed.—Lippincott's Magazine.

Once more the ponies are on the track. This time it is on the railway track en route for the winter races at Ottawa. About 21 horses were shipped from Peterboro yesterday, owing to cancellation of the local races. While Jack Frost is seldom a welcome visitor, his tardy appearance here has disrupted the local race meet.

—Peterboro's water was pronounced pure in our issue of yesterday, but Lord how smarty it was shortly before breakfast time;

A trip around the world in 60 minutes at a mere trifle.

Magnificently finished and exquisitely photo-color views in place of the oldtime and antiquated views of the past. A most pleasant and interesting hour to spend journeying around the globe viewing the places of greatest interest, most beautiful scenery, etc., at a mere trifle of cost through our liberal plan. These views illustrate some of the most noted places in the world—mountain scenery both in America and Europe—waterfalls and other famous natural phenomena, some of the world's most famous buildings, places of historical interest and places famous for beautiful architecture or beautiful natural scenery. This set is of the greatest educational value, presenting, as it does, such realistic likenesses of scenes and places that we all should know about. We want every household in this city to have one of these sets. Imagine yourself taken through the Orient, on a trip to California, through the world's Fair to see the splendid scenes as though you were right there on the spot. By a special process, a combination of lithographing and half-tone work, we are able to offer a collection of colored views from every part of the world in the most beautiful, natural and startling life-like color effects, which must be seen to be appreciated. It is impossible to describe the grandeur and beauty of these views. Come and see them. We want each and every household in this city to have a set of these.

Yellow Stone Park, U. S. A.; The Swiss Alps; On board a Russian Man-of-War; Scene from a Klondyke Camp; The Famous Ferry Depot, San Francisco; Cathedral from the Grand Canal, Rotterdam; Moulin Rouge, Paris; Street Scene, Mexico City; Emperor Wm. II Inspecting a Regiment; Chickamauga Park; Cotton Plantation Scene; On the Pike at the World's Fair, St. Louis; Holiday Street Scene Parade in Havana, Cuba; Scene Showing a Public Well, Pekin, China; Lookout Mountain; Steamboat Scene on the Mississippi; Garden of Gethsemane, Palestine; Scene Showing the Famous Southern Trestle; Hauling Trains Through Mountains in the South; The National Capitol at Washington, D. C.; The Pantheon at Rome; Victory Monument; Leipsic; Luna Island at Niagara Falls; David's Judgment Seat, Jerusalem; Interior View of President Diaz' Palace, Mexico; Ostrich Farm, Egypt; Royal Gardens, Dresden, Germany; (very beautiful), Palm Garden, Frankfort, Germany; Morro Castle, Havana; Plaza, World's Fair, St. Louis; Bird's Eye View of St. Louis Exposition; The Tomb of Gen. Grant, N. Y., Street Scene of Cairo, Egypt; Street Scene in Venice, Italy; Japanese Royal Garden Scene; Zoological Garden at Berlin, Germany; Ice Cave at Niagara Falls, N. Y., etc., etc., besides dozens of comic, sentimental and interesting views of every nature. These pictures are the genuine Oleo Stereoscopic Views, made especially for this purpose and are executed in a most artistic manner, being a combination process of lithographing and half-tone work enabling a magnificent depth of detail and splendid color reproduction true to life. You cannot enjoy an hour more delightfully than by viewing a set of these beautiful and decidedly interesting pictures.

It wasn't so very long ago that hundreds of thousands of people spent many pleasant hours with the stereoscope, but heretofore they were compelled to pay enormous prices for views, think of it, as high as 50c each for colored pictures. We sold thousands upon thousands of stereoscopic views, in colors, at 50c each in those days, but imagine each and every view had to be colored by hand. In the past few months we have had repeated demands for them, and being able to secure the latest and most beautiful colored views to furnish to the public at a ridiculously low price, we entered into the stereoscope plan on quite a large scale, and have taken immediate advantage of the International Art Association, who have spent an enormous amount of money to get out special color plates and have finally completed their end, namely: To place on the market thousands of magnificent stereoscopic views, the most beautiful, interesting and exciting scenes from every land, in the grandest and most exquisite natural colors.

Now we come to our great special offer. Read our plan carefully as it describes the stereoscope and tells how to secure the scope and views at almost no cost to you.

First the stereoscope. The Stereoscope is our world-famous "Aluminum Crystal Lens" Stereoscope. Genuine aluminum hood, bound with dark rich red velvet. Frame is of fine finished cherry wood with patent folding handle, folding underneath frame, and sliding bar. The lenses are extra fine quality, selected for clearness and brilliancy, 1¾ inches in diameter, ground from best quality glass and carefully adjusted. This Crystal Lens Aluminum "Scope" has won universal praise from lovers of the beautiful, and as a means of entertainment stands second to nothing.

OUR BIGGEST FIGHTING SHIP

The Mighty Deadnaught Now Under Way.

SECRECY IS MAINTAINED

In Her Construction—No Outsider is Allowed to Approach the Dock Where She Is Being Built.

New York, January 26.—The New York Herald has the following in a special cable from London: Britain's biggest battleship, the Dreadnaught, now in course of construction at Portsmouth, was inspected by the Lords of the Admiralty Saturday, but it was a secret visit, nothing transpiring as to the result.

Heretofore it has been permissible for any British subject to enter the royal dockyard and witness the building of a warship, but quite a new order of things is now ordained by the admiralty.

Extreme secrecy is to mark the building of warships in the future. A cordon of police surround the place where the Dreadnaught is being built, workmen are kept solely to their respective departments, and foremen are allowed to see only such sections of the plans as are necessary for them to consult.

The reason for all this secrecy is that the vessel is to embody many striking developments in battleship design which it is desired to keep as long as possible from foreign naval constructors. One thing I am able to state, however. The Dreadnaught will be of 18,000 tons displacement, and is expected to attain a speed of twenty-two nots. She will be driven by turbine machinery of 25,000 indicated horse-power, constituted on the Parson's principle by Harland and Wolff, of Belfast.

The armament will be ten 12-inch guns, but nothing is yet known about the arm or its method of distribution, or of the manner in which it will be sought to render it invulnerable against torpedo attack.

The Dreadnaught is expected to mark a new era in battleship design, but she is regarded as an experiment, and as her cost will be considerably over (1,500,000 ($7,500,000), no more vessels of her class will be laid down till she has been tested, which means that pending these trials battleship construction will be in abeyance.

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1800 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the winze has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the winze has averaged about $575 a ton, or about $1820 for every foot of sinking, the winze being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the winze running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the winze. Another shipment of 60 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

—Lent this year begins on February 28th, and ends on April 15th, Easter Sunday. Good Friday will accordingly be observed on the 13th of April.

—The Sterling Bank authorities have been in Bethany looking over the ground with a view to opening. Certainly Bethany deserves anything good that's going.

—There was a good attendance at the "smoker" in the old opera house last night. A good exhibition of fisticuffs was given as well as some good club swinging and music.

—The Salvation Army, assisted by the Ontario Government, has undertaken to supply farm laborers to Ontario farmers. Application should be made now for the coming season.

—The small boy was in his glory yesterday at noon when his arduous school labors were rewarded by hearing the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" band playing several airs on Hunter St.

—Milkmen who are accused of selling watered milk will, of course, never think of defending themselves with the sworn statement that their cows were caught out in a rainstorm.

—At the meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A.S., on Friday evening, Jan. 26th, a paper on the "Department of the Academe" will be read by Miss Josephine Dundon.

—The directors of the Peterboro and Ashburnham Horticultural Society met yesterday evening for the purpose of deciding what bulbs and plants the society will supply to the members this season.

—Port Hope Guide: During the hockey match Wednesday, Miss Ruby Haskill received a severe blow from one of the players' sticks, inflicting a long gash on the upper part of the lid. Dr. Powers was called and the wound necessitated several stitches.

—An "at home" will be tendered to the junior brotherhood of St. Andrew of St. John's church on Monday evening in the Guild house. A tea will be served to the members of the Junior Chapter, at 7 p.m., and at 8 sharp a good program will be rendered of a musical and literary nature.

—The Minister of Education will have to introduce a new lesson in the text books, "What is Ice?" It is a substance formed by the action of frost upon water. Ice was formerly manufactured by the winter climate of Canada, but has now to be imported, and is a luxury only enjoyed by the very rich."

OVER HEAD BRIDGE

American Cereal Co. will Not Contribute to its cost.

An important conference was held on Thursday relative to the proposed overhead bridge across the Otonabee at Hunter street. Mr. Robt. Stuart of the American Cereal Company with Mr. R. B. Hall, M.P., and Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, had a talk with Mr. J. G. Sing, engineer from the Dominion Department of Public Works, and the question of the overhead bridge came up in connection with the plans for the dockage north and south of the Hunter street bridge.

The mayor called a meeting for Thursday night, which was attended by Messrs. Robt. Stuart, D. Hughes-Charles, R. M. Dennistoun, J. H. Larmouth, and R. B. Hall, M.P. From the council there were Mayor Best, who occupied the chair, Ald. Graham, Elliott, Hall, McIntyre, Mason, Johnston, Adams, McWilliams and Tovey.

Mr. Hughes-Charles noted what he had discussed the matter with the Government engineer, on the subject of the overhead bridge. He remarked on the present danger existing from the railway crossing, and said that this danger would increase from the enlarged business of the Cereal Co., owing to their present enlargements. He thought an overhead bridge should be built for public safety and convenience.

Mr. R. B. Hall, M.P., agreed with Mr. Hughes-Charles. The Government engineer, in connection with the plans for the 1,100 feet of dockage along the canal first noticed that the bridge at present would be an impediment to traffic and to navigation. Should a swing be put on the present bridge then the bridge would be practically useless for traffic. Mr. Hall also spoke of the great and growing danger at this point. He considered that a high bridge was the only way to overcome the trouble.

The proposed bridge would only have to span from Sheridan street to near McAllister's mill. He thought that now in the time to build the bridge. The Ontario Government should also assist in the expense, and so should the county. He suggested that the city engineer prepare a plan and estimate of the cost.

The Mayor—If the overheard bridge is built, will it be strong enough to carry the street cars?

Ald. Adams—Will the street railway run their cars across it the bridge is built?

Mr. Stuart—The American Cereal Company are not prepared to pay anything towards the cost of the bridge.

In reply to a question Mr. Larmouth said the bridge would have to have a devation of 28 feet.

Mr. Dennistoun advocated building the bridge, and suggested that the Dominion and Ontario governments, the county and the city should join in the matter.

Ald. McWilliams was against submitting the proposition to the people now.

It was finally decided to have the city engineer prepare plans and secure estimates of cost.

THE CANAL BURSTS

The East Ward Threatened With a Johnstown Flood.

Yesterday morning a most early look a disastrous break occurred in the embankment of the Trent Canal, above the lift lock, and before it could be stopped 25,000 tons of water had poured over the land lying below the canal. Considerable damage was done. The break was due, according to the official statement of the superintendent, to the defective construction of the bank, and not to the high water, which has been maintained at normal height in the reach.

Next to the Government, the heaviest losers will be Messrs. Curtis Bros., brick manufacturers, whose yards are immediately to the east of the bank of the canal.

Messrs. Curtis Bros., however, will, in all probability have a good case in which to obtain ample damages from the Dominion Government.

Their premises were flooded. After the water had flooded all the low ground to the east of the bank, it flowed through a 4-foot culvert and the east ward was deluged. It was the water flowing through the streets which awoke the citizens there at five o'clock, and led to a general alarm being given.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED.

The break was reported to M. J. Butler, chief engineer of the Department of Railway and Canals, and he instructed that an investigation take place and that steps be taken immediately to repair the damage. Estimates of the extent of which have not yet been made.

A POLITICAL COMPARISON

Mr. John Green's Nephew, of Australia, Speaks of the Labor Party There.

In a letter to Mr. J. Green, of this city, from a nephew of his in Australia, a clever writer upon the economic questions of that country, we give the following extract:

It is rather a pity that Empire bonds are not somewhat stronger in trade affairs. Liberals in Australia, do not view with equanimity the assent to office of the Liberals in England—a seeming paradox—but foreign trade vs. Empire trade is the chief dividing questions here as far as Imperial affairs are concerned. But I remember you have begun to look on politics distastefully, on account of the sagerness of politicians to look after No. 1.

Well, in Australia, there are a few exceptions, but on the whole, I think politics are dealt with on an honester base than is the case in America. There are very many (mostly outside of Australia), who speak with derision regarding the "Labor party," in Australia. But though the Labor party here has socialistic tendencies, Australian socialism is vastly different from the socialism of Europe. The body of our Labor party is composed of hard headed, practical men, whose chief aim is not destructive, not to pull down the wealthy man, but rather to build up the poor man. They confine themselves to the limits of practical and practicable problems.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt's Lecture.

Once more Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, the popular rector of St. Luke's church has delivered his beautifully illustrated and highly interesting lecture on "A Trip Down the Rhine." This lecture was given at a meeting of the Young Men's Guild of All Saints' church on Thursday evening, Rev. Wm. Major presided and there was a good attendance. The views were operated by Mr. R. B. Rogers. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker, being moved by Mr. Frank Winn and Mr. G.L. Maughan.

Proved He Saw a Blackbird.

A black-bird was seen gaily hopping about on a Weller street lawn on Thursday by several prominent local citizens. The gentleman who first spied the bird, hardly believed his eye-sight, and still less believing that his news would be accepted in good faith, ran as fast as his legs could carry him, to a neighbor's house, in order to bring his friend to see the black-bird and subsequently corroborate the story. He even insisted on his friend rushing back with him. They arrived in time to see the bird, and now the gentleman who first saw it, is happy.

THE OBSTRUCTIVE POLES

Mayor Best Proposes Compromise to Mr. Stuart of Am. Cereal Co.

Mayor Best, with his universal custom of taking advantage of every opportunity to advance the interests of Peterboro, took advantage of Mr. Robt. Stuart's visit here, already noted in The Times, to discuss the question of having the Peterboro Light & Power Co., owned by the American Cereal Co., placing their wires under ground.

Mayor Best asked Mr. Robt. Stuart about putting his company's wires under ground. The mayor said that for several years the city had been contemplating the paving of George street from Charlotte street to Brock street. He said that it would be impossible to do so as long as there were so many poles on the street. The mayor said that if the Peterboro Light & Power Co. would consent to remove their poles, the street would be wide enough to allow the street railway company to double track.

Mr. Stuart wanted to know how much it would cost to put their wires under ground.

Mr. J. H. Larmouth said that the expense would be great. The wires would all have to be put underground before connecting with the main line, otherwise all users of electric light along that portion of George street would be without light at least two weeks. He did not think the companies would stand for anything of that kind. But he suggested the company would be willing to do the work if the city would pay the cost.

The mayor said that the city would be prepared to contribute something towards the expense.

REV. MR. PEDLEY'S LECTURE

The lecture room of St. Paul's church was filled to overflowing last night, when Rev. Mr. Pedley delivered his interesting and instructive lecture on "The Making of a Man." The lecture was given under the auspices of the Faithful Workers' Mission Band, of which Miss Laura Davidson, is the popular and energetic president.

The chair was filled by Rev. Mr. McKay, pastor of Knox church, who introduced the lecturer in a few well chosen sentences.

At its conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Pedley.

A VISITING J. P.

Mr. C. A. Humber Police Magistrate, Goderich in the City.

Yesterday a gentleman holding the important position of police magistrate of Goderich, Mr. C. A. Humber, was a visitor within our walls.

Mr. Humber has resided in Goderich for the last thirty-two years, and is a brother of Mr. C. Humber, and at one time taught school at Keene and Allandale. Mr. Humber has been visiting his father, Mr. David Humber at Bowmanville, and had accompanied him to Warkworth, where Mr. Humber, sr., will spend the winter with his daughter. It is three years since Mr. C. A. Humber visited Peterboro and he was evidently astounded at the rapid strides Peterboro had since taken both commercially and industrially.

MANY INITIATIONS

Peterboro Tent, K. O. T. M. Admit Many Neophytes to Its Mysteries

There was not something, but much doing at Peterboro Tent No. 69, K.O.T.M., on Thursday night. This flourishing branch of the Knights of the Maccabees, held their annual meeting, as usual, in the Sons of England spacious, and beautifully decorated hall.

A large number of candidates were initiated by the Degree Team of Peterboro Tent, assisted by Sir Kt. Deputy C. A. Yule, of Colborne, and Sir Kt. Cameron of Lindsay.

The local court of the Maccabees is growing very rapidly, and many applications for initiation are being constantly received and considered.

At the close of the regular meeting Sir Kt. Yule gave a short address. He spoke in reference to an article which appeared in a local paper of recent date, explaining that the Modern Maccabees mentioned in that article, have no connection, either fraternally or financially, with the Maccabees of the Supreme Tent under which the local tent is chartered. Neither has N. S. Boynton any connection with the Supreme Knights of the Maccabees of the World.

QUIT THE MACHINE COMPANY

Expert J. E. Browne Leaves the Machine Telephone Company.

Mr. E. J. Brown, who some time ago was engaged by the Machine Telephone Company, as electrical expert, and who had charge of the mechanical department of the plant they are installing in this city, has severed his connection with the company and with we understand, reside in Toronto, his former home. This will be a heavy loss to this company, which, of course, is merely in an experimental stage of development, and seems to make headway very slowly.

Office or line-men are procurable at any time or place, but in a concern like this, whose apparatus is so extremely complicated, and has not as yet, being in its infancy, been subjected to the test of real work, cannot but fail to miss the services of a practical and experienced electrician and engineer.

Application to Parliament

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an application will be made on behalf of the City of Peterborough to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, at the next session thereof, for an Act for the following purposes:

1. To authorize the Council of the City of Peterborough to purchase the lands in the said City and in the Township of North Monaghan, adjoining the Southern limits of the said City, formerly owned by the Peterborough Sugar Company, Limited, and to issue debentures for the purchase money thereof, and to annex that part of the said land not now within the limits of the said City, to the City of Peterborough, and to grant or lease the same or parts thereof to manufacturers on such terms as may be agreed on, and to fix the assessment of the parts so granted or leased for a term of years.

2. To authorize the said Council to acquire by purchase or lease water or electric power and to develop and transmit electric power to the said City and to use or dispose of the same.

3. To authorize the issue of Debentures for a sum not exceeding $12,500 to pay for the cost of the outfall sewer and sedimentation tank in Ward No. 5 of the said City.

4. To extend the time for issuing Debentures under By-law No. 1077 of the said Corporation, and to authorize a change in the manner of payment of same, and the rate of interest payable thereon.

5. To authorize the construction of drainage works and the diversion of the creeks in Wards Nos. 3 and 4 and in Ward No. 5 of the said City as local improvements and the assessment of the cost thereof on the property benefitted thereby or by general tax, as may be determined by the Council, and to issue Debentures therefor.

6. To ratify and confirm the following By-laws passed by the said Council, namely:

BY-LAW No. 1148—To provide for borrowing $7897.41 to pay the proportion of the cost of granolithic sidewalks constructed in 1904 secured by local special rates.

BY-LAW NO. 1149—To provide for borrowing $4035.09 to pay the City's proportion of the cost of granolithic sidewalks constructed in 1904.

BY-LAW NO. 1150—To provide for borrowing $1771.58 to pay the City's proportion of the cost of sewers constructed in 1904.

BY-LAW NO. 1151—To provide for borrowing $7614.68 to pay the proportion of the cost of sewers constructed in 1904 secured by local special rates.

BY-LAW NO. 1177—To aid F. Downham in the establishment of a Creamery by a fixed assessment of $1000. for five years.

BY-LAW NO. 1186—To aid the Central Mining Company (Limited) by a fixed assessment of $12000 for ten years.

BY-LAW NO. .....—To provide for borrowing the sum of $35,000. for the erection and equipment of a Fire Hall and the purchase of appliances for fire protection.

7. To authorize the Commissioners of the Waterworks to take means to prevent the pollution of the source of supply of the Waterworks, and to provide that the provisions of subsections 4 and 7 of section 94 of "The Municipal Waterworks Act" may be made to apply to the River Otonabee above the Waterworks Dam and to Katchawanooka, Clear and Stony Lakes and the streams emptying into the same.

AN AMERICAN DISEASE

Indigestion is Responsible for More Sickness in America Than Any Other Disease.

Some doctors go so far as to say that indigestion is the national disease of America. Repeated attacks inflame the lining of the stomach and cause the glands to secrete mucous instead of the juice of natural digestion. Consequently the blood is poisoned, nerve force is reduced, the vitality of the entire system is weakened.

There is but one national remedy for indigestion and that remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are being used by thousands with marvellous success.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills accelerate the action of the gastric glands and give tone to the digestive organs. They strengthen the kidneys and liver, cleanse and purify the blood, and thus add general tone to every organ of the body. Flesh and strength are fast restored and the patient can eat and digest any food he pleases.

Under the vitalizing affect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills your system will soon rally; once more you'll enjoy the blessings of health. Test Dr. Hamilton's Pills yourself. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1; at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

A Poor Ice Crop.

And now people, who must have something to worry about, are getting anxious about the possibilities of the ice crop being a failure. February and March are yet to be heard from, when ice may be plentiful.

Coal $4.75 in Hamilton.

The Times has been asked why it is that the best brands of hard coal sell for $4.75 in Toronto and Hamilton, and is so nigh in Peterboro, where the price is $7.50. We don't know, unless the local dealers have formed a combine, which appears to be the case.

A New Car Ferry.

The Oshawa Reformer says that it is estimated that the company that has been formed to operate a car ferry on Lake Ontario between Port Hope and Charlotte, hope to begin running by July 1st, 1906. It is expected that when the road has been put in first class condition and the ferry running, cattle, grain and other merchandise will be diverted from their ordinary route and sent to the ports of New York and Boston.

More Honors.

Colborne Express: Honors continue to be thrust on newspaper men, the latest instance being the appointment of Bror. Scriver, of the Hastings Star, to the office of fence viewer, an honor he greatly appreciates—to a degree of excitement prompting him to throw off his winter clothing while, with the official tape in hand, taking measurements of all the fences fronting on the corporation streets.

Wipe Out County Councils.

Mr. John Auld, M.P.P., believes that the county councils can be dispensed with. About the only business transacted by the county councils, he says, is equalization of assessments, and in numerous counties special commissions have had to be appointed to do this work. He believes that the entire business done by the county councils could be done as well by the different municipal councils in each county, and the taxpayers be relieved of the expense of the present body. He will advocate this at the next session.

MR. HAULTAIN'S POPULARITY

Ex-Premier Refuses a Purse of Ten Thousand Dollars.

Hon. W. F. Haultain, who is a native of Peterboro, is adding fresh laurels to his career as a statesman. At the Moosejaw Provincial Rights convention Tuesday one act of the convention, which indicated the high opinion in which Mr. Haultain was held, was the resolution of the Committee on Finance to present him with a purse of $10,000. He thanked the convention for the gift, but positively declined to receive it.

An additional $500 had been decided upon with which to pass eight protests and when Mr. Haultain refused to take the intended gift this sum was increased to $12,000.

Five Thousand New Cars.

The recent inquiry into the congestion of the grain traffic in Western Ontario and at Georgian Bay points will result in an increase in the rolling stock of the Grand Trunk Railway Company. It is announced that the Grand Trunk Railway Company would put on 5,000 new freight cars to satisfy the demand of the grain traffic. This will be good news to the millers and shippers of Peterboro.

Government Detectives Used.

That the Ontario Government intend to stop the illegal sale of liquor is apparent. In Port Hope the proprietors of the Ontario House and the Midland House appeared in the police court, charged with selling liquor during prohibited hours. They pleaded guilty. The Midland House was fined $25 and and $7.50 costs, and the Ontario House $20 and $7.50 costs. The information was laid by a couple of Frenchmen in the employ of the Provincial Government.

A $5,000 Sale.

The great sale of Mr. W. H. Staples, of Cavan, on Thursday last, was a grand success from every point of view. The weather was all that could be desired and the sleighing good, so that the crowd was very large. Prices ranged high, but not too high considering the quality of animals offered. The auctioneers, Messrs. Gardiner, of Peterboro, and Jackson, of Port Perry, held the vast crowd right odwn to business all afternoon. Lunch was provided for all. It goes on record as the largest and most successful sale in these parts for years, says the Millbrook Reporter. The proceeds, we understand, were over $5,000.

Cheap Rates to Toronto.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will issue tickets to Toronto and return for the Flag of England Choral Concert on Monday, January 29th, good going only on the 5.15 P. M. train on that date, returning any train up to and including January 30th, at the low rate of $2.85 adult, and $1.05 for children.

All those who purpose going should call and leave their names at City Passenger Agent's Office, so that sufficient accommodation may be provided. W. McIlroy, Agent, 342 George street.

Many Licenses Cut Off.

That local prohibition of liquor selling has now a large hold in Ontario is shown in the current issue of The Pioneer, which states 239 Ontario municipalities are free from bar rooms. These include one hundred municipalities where the abolition is the result of a vote, in 86 of them on local option and in four on the Dunkin Act. The remaining 139 are without licenses for various reasons, such as the failure of applicants to secure enough signatures, too high license fees, overwhelming temperance sentiment, or the refusal of the commissioners for various causes to grant licenses. Contests are now proceeding in five more municipalities, in each of which there was a large majority for the liquor act at the referendum vote in 1902. The temperance party are asked by the paper to keep up the agitation, as there is plenty of time to vote on local option to secure its going into effect on May 1st.

Want Lake Simcoe Ice.

Lindsay Post: Mr. John Dickson, who has been at Sturgeon Point for a few weeks storing ice for summer use, was in Toronto yesterday interviewing a number of dealers relative to the possibility of securing a contract in case they decide to get their supply from Sturgeon Lake. They told him frankly that the great difference in the freight rates as between the Lake Simcoe and Sturgeon Lake or Cameron Lake, hauls almost compelled them to give up all thought of coming here, and justified them taking chances in waiting for cold weather to improve the Lake Simcoe ice, which is now about five inches in thickness. The facilities there for cutting and loading are so good that they could get an ample supply in a couple of weeks. Mr. Dickson has taken out 2,500 blocks of 12 inch ice at Sturgeon Point, 1,000 of which went into his own ice house, and he has yet to fill Mr. Nasmith's ice house at Ancona Point.

PETERBORO AND JAMES BAY

We Will be on the Great Grand Trunk Grain Route.

In addition to the new C. P. R. line which is to be built to Georgian Bay, Peterboro will be on the new James Bay route, which is now being built from Beaverton. This will give us direct connection with a vast country which is now just being opened up to the settler.

While not optimistic, The Times is of opinion that Peterboro is to be one of the great centers of Canada in the near future.

Railway Changes.

The correspondent at Omemee of the Lindsay Post, writes: The railway situation here is causing citizens a good deal of anxiety. It is reported that the old G. T. R. track is to be abandoned and a new line built running directly from Reaboro to Bethany. This step will be taken in order to secure a level road, and to avoid grades and curves. To avoid big grades and to secure a direct road to Peterboro, the Peterboro-Georgian Bay branch of the C. P. R. is bound to keep three miles north of the village, which is somewhat disappointing to the citizens, who thought that the line would run through Omemee.

Have heard a mother here to early before the sun got her child to take its first step. It is just about as hard to induce a confirmed invalid—especially one suffering with weakness of the lungs, to take the first step to health. There is a lack of confidence, and perhaps a crushing experience of a former failure which depresses and discourages the sufferer.

In spite of doubts and fears you will take the first step to health when you take the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It never fails to help. In ninety-eight cases out of one hundred it never fails to cure. Never mind about the symptoms. Obstinate cough, bleeding of the lungs, spitting of blood, emaciation, night-sweats, conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate in consumption, have yielded permanently to "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I am thankful to say that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of completely restoring my health," writes Mrs. Deakon, of Kingston, Ill. Co. "My health had been bad for several months, mostly before I had symptoms of consumption. Had night-sweats, a bad cough, loss of appetite and a great deal of headache. My limbs were other symptoms of disease that disappeared by the use of the 'Discovery.' By the time I used one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I began to regain my appetite and after using two and a half bottles my cough was cured. I could eat heartily and my feeling of consumption had disappeared. I took seven bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one of the 'Favorite Prescription.' Am very thankful I received such good results before I would have been dead if I had waited and not taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Sick persons are invited to consult Dr. R. V. Pierce, by letter, absolutely without fee or charge. Every letter is regarded as sacredly confidential. Each answer is mailed in a plain envelope. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

WITTE'S BIG SCHEME

Will Announce a New Loan and Renew His Popularity.

St. Petersburg, January 26.—It appears that Count Witte obtained in Germany, owing to the friendship of the Kaiser, from the Mendelssohn banking combination, a promise of a loan of 600,000,000 rubles on comparatively easy terms. The Premier is keeping this to himself, until a time when the financial situation will be much worse. He will utilize it about the time of the Douma meeting, counting upon the announcement to arouse a wave of public gratitude, and renew his popularity, making him the only man to save his country, and secure in his position as Premier.

FINDS HUSBAND IS A WOMAN

Bride, Shocked by Discovery After Ceremony, Causes Spouse's Arrest

Kansas City, Mo., January 25.—Miss Marietta Jelley married John Allaire Whitman at Independence Friday only to learn later that her husband was a woman. The "bridegroom" was arrested yesterday, and will be prosecuted on a charge of perjury.

"For the past three years I have lived and dressed as a man," said prisoner at the police station. "I married Marietta because she said she could not live without me. My real name is Pauline Webster."

Miss Jelley is heart broken. "I loved him and cannot believe he—I mean she—is a woman. It is too awful."

Bill For Shoveling Fog.

Last night an eccentric man from Bridgenorth, who, by the way, is also a strong advocate of local option, brought in several accounts to collect. One was made chargeable to a prominent officer of the Fire Brigade, and three to as many local hotel men. The bills were presented by him in good faith and with a straight face. The alleged debtors, on looking at the accounts, made for 25c. each, were somewhat surprised to see that the item of their indebtedness was for "Shovelling fog from your house last week." The Bridgenorth man, whose initials are T. O., was given a dime in each case. He now proposes levying on each Bridgenorth cottager for shovelling fog from his summer residence. Someone at the village had put the poor fellow next to this idea of "raising the wind."

Luck Money.

Luck money in Great Britain is the gratuitous return of 1 shilling per head on all cattle sold at auction marts, 2 shillings per score upon sheep, 1 penny per head on pigs up to 20 shillings in value, twopence per head over 20 shillings and up to 60 shillings and threepence per head over 60 shillings. What applies to pigs also applies to calves.

Sunny.

The word sunny borrowed its original significance from astrology. It described a person born under the influence of the sun, this luminary being supposed to exercise a beneficial influence on the character of the individual.

Unlucky Astronomers.

Two Chinese astronomers are said to have been put to death by an emperor for getting drunk on the night when an eclipse was due.

The Bread of Sweden.

The common bread of Sweden is a rye cake about the size of a batter cake and with a hole in the middle. These cakes are baked twice a year, and after baking are hung up to dry. They are said to be nourishing and are about as easy to chew as disks of mortar.

Alligator Boats.

"Alligator boats," used by Canadian lumbermen, can travel both on land and water. When the boat comes to a place where the river has entirely dried up or to a sand bank, an anchor and cable are taken out some way ahead, the engines are set working, and the boat is slowly hauled up to the anchor.

Found Drowned in Otonabee at Auburn

Partially Decomposed Body of Female Infant Found at Wicket of Auburn's Source of Power--Foul Play Strongly in Evidence

On Saturday evening, as the clock struck the half hour past five o'clock, a coroner's jury, hastily gathered by P. C. Adams, acting under instruction of County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, and Coroner Dr. J. W. Gray, assembled at the fine undertaking establishment of Mr. D. Bellegham, Hunter street.

These gentlemen comprised, Messrs.

Jas. Fennie.
F. W. Miles.
C. A. Stanton.
W. Stabler.
W. Shea.
W. J. Johnston.
Jos. Johnston.
R. Shenby.
C. L. Hayes.
Bert Waight.
Jno. Logan.
W. P. Adamson.
W. P. White.

When the above assembled, and were, of themselves sufficient to constitute a legal quorum, the coroner, Dr. Gray, explained the meaning of their being summoned, and in few words related the details leading to the occasion, mainly as follows:

At about 1.45, Saturday afternoon, as Patrick Sullivan, grocer, 949 Water street, was passing the Auburn power house he noticed the body of an infant child floating in the race-way against the grating. He succeeded in getting the body out of the water, and got Mr. H. Grisdale, an employe at the power house to phone Coroner Dr. Gray, at once, who had the remains removed to Bellegham's undertaking establishment. The body had evidently been in the water a long time and was badly decayed.

While the jury had gathered in the room at the rear of the shop, and had heard the coroner's description, as far as was then available, of the case, attention was given to the remains.

The body, a well developed female child, was wrapped in a waterproof tarpaulin and enclosed in a rough box, about 2 by 1 foot in size.

When the tarpaulin was removed and the body displayed, it, the body, was seen to have evidently been exposed to action of the elements for possibly many weeks, if not months. The legs and arms were almost completely covered with a green coating, perhaps an eighth of an inch in thickness. As decomposition had badly set in, the sight presented, was not a pleasant one. There were other particulars that might appeal to those of morbid mind, but of no particular bearing on the case.

After the roll of jurymen had been called, by direction of Coroner Dr. Grey, they unanimously elected Mr. Jas. Fennie as foreman. He and his fellow jurymen then took the prescribed oath of office.

The coroner then called upon Dr. Greer for his opinion on the case. In reply to a question by the coroner, Dr. Greer said, in his opinion, from the general appearance of the body it had received some of the usual care given newly born infants. It was evident that the umbilicum had never been attended to. As to whether the child had ever breathed or not, could only be told by a post-mortem examination. This would develope whether air had ever entered the lungs or not, before being thrown in the water. As regarded the covering of green matter covering the child, that was owing to action of the water.

Coroner Gray, then addressing the jury, explained that in such cases, as was the case in the recent East Ward autopsy, it was very difficult for one physician to perform the post-mortem, and, at the same time, jot down his findings, for obvious reasons. He, by consent of the jury asked Dr. Greer to name a medical man to assist him in the post-mortem. Dr. Greer named Dr. Morgan as his assistant. They performed the post-mortem at eight o'clock Saturday night, but of course could not disclose their finding until next meeting of the coroner's jury set for Thursday night in the council chambers at eight o'clock.

The jury then adjourned until the day set as above noted.

—There was a large audience in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon to hear Mr. Thos. MacGillivray, of Toronto. He is an able and humorous speaker, whose words are evidently the reflection of a clear mind, thoroughly in earnest.

THE T. V. C. WASHOUT

Immediate Steps will Be Taken to Repair the Damages.

Mr. M. J. Butler, chief engineer, Ottawa, has now received reports as to the recent break in the Trent Valley canal bank. Mess. Butler and Supt. McClellan, will complete immediate arrangements for repairing the break.

Mr McClellan states that the necessary material for the repairs will be placed on the ground at once, so that the work can be started at the earliest opportunity. The cost of making the repairs will not be very large.

A rumor was current Saturday that muskrats had been burrowing in the bank of the canal where the break occurred and by some of the people this theory is given credence. It is impossible, however, to secure any definite information upon this this point.

Curtis Bros. are making a careful estimate of the damage to their property and will send in a bill to the government asking for compensation.

HORSES FOR PETERBORO

That the Peterboro Turf Club's track at the Driving Park is equal to anything in this part of the country is assured by the fact that arrangements were about completed on Saturday, whereby some of Ontario's most prominent horse owners will bring their racers here in the spring to get into training for the summer's racing circuits.

Among those who have already expressed a probability of bringing their horses here, as noted above are, Van Woodruff, of Whitby, who thinks of bringing his horse "Silk Light;" Dr. McAlpine will bring his green horse, not yet named; T. Hayes, of Ottawa, a green horse, a trotter, with great possibilities, not yet named; W. Simpson, his pacer, "Joe Allen," Jim Daly, of Orillia, "Orillia Belle;" George Powell, of Orillia, "Minnie Belle;" and also "El Paso," and "Jas. Watson," a green one from "Governor Johnston."

PETERBORO PRESS CLUB

Representatives of the Local Press, Form a Club.

On Saturday night a number of representatives, both editorial and reportorial, of the Peterboro Press Club, met at McCallum's restaurant, and, during the progress of a little social oyster supper, discussed ways and means of advancing the interests of the various local papers, and those to whose efforts are due the high standing of Peterboro's newspapers.

It was decided unanimously to organize the Peterboro Press Club, the officers elected being as follows;

Hon. Pres.—Messrs. Hon. J. R. Stratton, W. H. Robertson, Yoakum, Jamieson, and Dobbie.
Pres.—Mr. Van Blarcom.
1st Vice Pres.—Mr. Hutchison.
Executive Committee — Messrs. Craig, Clementi, McCrae.

A constitution will be drawn up and presented at the next meeting to be held Saturday evening, a most enthusiastic spirit dominated the meeting of Saturday night and the future prospects of the club are bright.

IS IT A COMBINE ?

Kingston Thinks Insurance Companies are Law-Breakers.

Kingston, January 27.—At a special meeting of the City Council yesterday the civic insurance question was considered, in view of the Union Company having been compelled by the Underwriters to cancel its policy at the old rates. The matter of renewal was held over till next week. There is a possibility of all the insurance being given to non-tariff companies. The aldermen complained of the exorbitant rates charged Kingston by the insurance companies when this city was a first-class risk, the total loss by fire last year amounting to only $5,900. A resolution was passed for presentation to the Attorney-General, drawing his attention to the existence of a combine of insurance companies operating, as the experience of the Kingston City Council has demonstrated, adversely to the public interests by reason of exorbitant rates and prevention of free competition.

CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES

Now comes the after slap following on the recent disastrous break in the Trent Valley canal, near Messrs. Curtis brick yards.

On Saturday Ald. George E. Elliott and Mr. Thomas J. Wilson, began going over the flooded district in Ashburnham, and made an estimate of the loss which each individual sustained, as a result of the break in the canal bank. It is estimated that about sixty cellars have been flooded. Potatoes and other goods in the cellars are injured. The cellars, which have water in them, are on Dorchester, Douro, Brown, Rogers and Elizabeth streets.

While considerable actual damage was done, the amount is not to be considered so much in dollars and cents as in the nuisance and possible effect in health.

It will take several days yet before these gentlemen can ascertain the full extent of the damage done. When finished they will make their report regarding the damage to the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa.

Abolished Use of Bible in Court.

New York, Jan. 27.—Justice Tierney, of a municipal court in the Bronx, has abolished the use of the Bible in his court. Explaining his action he said: "I have removed the Bible from use in my court. It was a desecration to use it there. The lying words from the mouths of witnesses made it into a mockery, a travesty. I was brought up to regard it with veneration and reverence as the word of God. It is shocking to find men calling upon the Deity to witness the truth of what they say—"So help me God"—with a lie in their hearts and upon the lips by which they profaned the Good Book. I now swear, or affirm a witness with uplifted hand, but it really has no significance to my mind. I would prefer to let every person tell his or her story without either oath or affirmation, and then do the best I can toward ascertaining the truth."

SLAUGHTER OF WORKINGMEN

Nearly Eighteen Thousand are Killed in United States.

Pittsburg, Pa., January 28.—Statistics for the year 1905 just given out by the authorities of Allegheny County indicate that during the past year more than 17,700 persons were killed and injured in this county, while at their daily work. Of this number, the blast furnaces and iron and steel mills are responsible for 2,500. The other factories and shops have 4,000 to their credit, and the victims of the railroads numbered 4,000, while those of the mines numbered 600. Besides this there were several thousand injured whose cases were not reported, as the injured persons were taken straight home and not to any of the hospitals or morgues. Several of the mills have furnished such a large number of death and injury cases, that the insurance companies refuse to insure men working there.

Murdered Wrong Man.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 27.—Col. Prosorovski, Chief of the Gendarmerie at Pensa, East Russia, has been informed by the local revolutionary organization that the recent murder of Col. Lishovski, commanding the seventy-eight infantry division, by members of the organization was a blunder. He had been mistaken for Col. Prosorovski, and the organization has now notified the latter that the error will shortly be rectified.

ALL RUSSIA IS FOR THE CZAR

Republican's Attempt to Overthrow Monarchy Receives Little Support.

MAY CHECK RULER'S POWER

Constitutional Convention Favors "Little Father," and Witte is Encouraged.

St. Petersburg, January 29.—The attitude of the Russian people toward the monarchy, showing that the peasant as well as the soldier would be quick to resent anything directed against the person of the "little father," has been recognized by the constitutional democratic convention now in session here. In spite of the objections of many theoretical republican delegates, the convention today incorporated in its platform a clause declaring that "Russia is a constitutional, parliamentary monarchy." The republicans, though recognizing that the acknowledgement of republican aims would spell ruin for the party, wished to dodge the issue altogether, but the majority adopted the view of Professor Bedouin de Courtenay, who said: "Our demand for a republic would lead to military rule, a dictatorship and ruin. We must come out plainly in favor of a monarchial form of government."

CHECK FOR THE CZAR.

A change in the historic, fundamental definition of Russian sovereignty is recognized as necessary in the government camp also, and the result of ministerial conferences on the subject probably will be the issue shortly of a manifesto eliminating the first article of Russia's fundamental laws, namely, "the Emperor's power is autocratic and unlimited," doing away with the word "unlimited."

The peaceful passage of the dreaded "red Sunday" anniversary yesterday, the apparent impotency of the active revolutionists and the initiation of the constructive labors by all the political factions taking part in the electoral campaign have greatly encouraged the government. Premier Witte is confident of his ability to restore order.

BALTIC REBELS STUBBORN.

Riga, Livonia, January 29.— Military operations for the pacification of the Baltic provinces are proceeding actively under the direction of Governor General Sologub, who is controlling the movements of 30,000 troops acting in diffferent localities. The governor general estimates that the revolutionists number 20,000 men, and that it will take two years to crush the guerilla warfare. All the revolutionists captured are promptly court-martialed.

AMERICAN SEES PERIL.

Moscow, January 29. — Alexander Barry, a naturalized American, who is among the most prominent manufacturers of Moscow, takes an exceedingly gloomy view of the situation industrially and politically. Mr. Barry employes from 500 to 3,000 men and has a profound knowledge of Russian conditions. He is convinced that the Russian people are not ripe for a full constitutional regime.

The opening of the flood gates of agitation by the publication of the imperial reform manifesto only served, he believes, to demoralize a portion of the masses which had already been distributed by the agitators.

Continuing, Mr. Barry said:

The ignorant masses neither understand nor care for true political rights. The national assembly therefore will be overwhelmingly conservative and will become an institution to register the decrees of the government. This is sure to drive into the camp of the extremists the liberals, intellectual classes and the visionary, impracticable class. The revolutionary agitation will then enter on a new and more dangerous phase.

AGITATORS AT WORK.

The agitation as yet has taken little hold upon the army, but agitators are everywhere. Fifty per cent. of the workmen in the cities will be out of work in 1906. All the conditions will make for desperation and anarchy, in which a revival of the revolutionary agitation will find the best opportunity.

Mr. Barry said in conclusion that the people at present are incapable of a gradual evolution into a stable, popular regime, and that Russia will be confronted either with excesses of power or excesses of liberty.

THE BIRTHDAY OF THE KAISER

Was Celebrated on Saturday Throughout the Empire.

ALL BUSINESS SUSPENDED

Grand Reception Attended By All High Diplomats.

Berlin, January 29.—Emperor William is forty-seven years old on Saturday, and the anniversary of his birth was celebrated throughout the German Empire. According to a conservative estimate twenty thousand thanksgiving services were held in the churches in all parts of Germany. The official celebration of the day took the form of military reviews, of which there were probably one hundred in all parts of the empire, official receptions and banquets.

In this city the Bourse and nearly all business places were closed in honor of the day, and not even the newspapers appeared. The city was profusely decorated with flags, evergreens and bunting, and the streets crowded with people all day, particularly in the vicinity of the palace Unter den Linden. There was a great deal to see, state carriages, bearing members of the royal family and representatives of other European courts, driving to and from the castle at short intervals.

The Emperor was an extremely busy man all day, and his whole time was practically taken up with receiving his royal and other visitors and their congratulations. During the morning hours the Emperor received the congratulations of the members of his family and of the members of his immediate household. Then came the members of the cabinet, the heads of the two houses of parliament, members of the diplomatic corps, special envoys from various European courts, reigning and other princes and deputations of the army, the navy, the various branches of the civil government, and of the various federal governments and, finally, deputations of various civic and military organizations from all parts of Germany.

As usual, there was a grand court reception in honor of the Emperor's birthday in the evening, which was attended by about one thousand guests. The Empress and all the members of the royal family were present, and the scene was unusually brilliant.

In honor of the day several diplomatic dinners were given, among them one at the United States embassy. This evening there will be many hundreds of banquets and celebrations by the officers of the army and navy, government officials and hundreds of civic organizations. It is an interesting fact that "Kaiser's birthday" is the only day in the year when military etiquette excuses officers of the army and navy becoming intoxicated. It is not considered improper to become intoxicated by drinking the Kaiser's health.

Emperor William II. was born on January 27, 1859, and succeeded his father, Emperor Frederick III, on June 15, 1888. He is the ninth monarch of the House of Hohenzollern to rule over the Kingdom of Prussia, and the third of the same house to rule over the Empire of United Germany. He is Hohenzollern by his father; Guelph by his mother, who was a daughter of Queen Victoria; while French blood flows in his veins through one of his ancestors, Louise de Coligny, a daughter of the great admiral. On February 27, 1881, he married Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein-Sondersburg-Augustenburg, (born October 22, 1858) with whom he had six sons and one daughter.

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the Emperor and Empress will be celebrated on February 27, of this year. It had been intended, at first, to make the celebration a magnificent state affair, and preparations were already made for the reception of a number of royal visitors. This program has been changed, however, and it has been semi-officially announced that no invitations to take part in the celebration of the event would be sent to any European court. This change of the original program was a very clever manoeuvre of the Emperor, which diplomatically took all the wind out of the sails of the British Court, which had decided not to be represented at the celebration, as a pointed rebuke for some of the things that Emperor William did and which displeased His Majesty, King Edward VII. Notwithstanding this change in the original program, the celebration will be on a magnificent scale, and throughout the German Empire extensive preparations are made now for the grand festivities which will be held in honor of the silver wedding jubilee of the imperial couple.

UNUSUAL LAND SALE

Interesting and Unique Condition of Real Estate Sale.

Newark, Del., January 29. — Sheriff Gillie, of New Castle County, Delaware, will, this afternoon, publicly sell the farm of a bankrupt farmer named John T. Johnston, near this town. The sale is attracting considerable interest, owing to the peculiar circumstances and conditions surrounding the sale. The farm is located at a point where the States of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware meet, and parts of the property are situated in each of the three States. Ordinarily a sale of this character would present a rather difficult problem, and it would be almost impossible for the purchaser to obtain a clear title. Sheriff Gillie, however, has solved the difficulty by making arrangements with Sheriff Biddle, of Cecil County, Maryland, and Sheriff Griswold, of Chester County, Pennsylvania, to be on the spot at the time of the sale this afternoon and to sell the parts of the farm, located in their respective counties, at the same time. It will not be necessary for the bidders to leap from one state into the other to announce their bids, for the three sheriffs can stand within handgrasping distance of each other and still remain within their respective states.

OSLER'S IDEA VOTED DOWN

Ohio Legislature Will Not Allow Killing of People Hopelessly Ill.

Columbus, Ohio, January 26.—Representative Hunt, of Cincinnati, introduced into the House of Representatives yesterday a bill making it lawful for persons to kill other persons suffering intense pain, and for whose recovery there is no hope. The measure was introduced at the request of Miss Ann Hall, of Cincinnati, who gained her inspiration from Dr. Osler's ideas on the subject of chloroforming. She is a woman of wealth, and the daughter of an Arctic explorer, who died several years ago. She sat in the gallery and witnessed the voting down by 74 to 23 of the motion to reject the bill.

Priest Scores Secret Orders.

Kalamazoo, Mich., January 29.—Father O'Brien, dean of the Roman Catholic church for Southern Michigan, has made a bitter attack on secret orders from the pulpit of St. Augustine church of this city. In his sermon last night he denounced Free Masons, Odd Fellows, and other fraternal societies, saying in part:

"The Masons and Odd Fellows have rituals and services for burying their dead; consequently no good Catholic can enter these orders without committing a mortal sin. You can join a labor union, provided it has no ritual."

Father O'Brien then scored the public school system, claiming that the text-books poison young minds against Roman Catholicism.

New C.P.R. Atlantic Liner is Launched

The New C.P.R. Steamer Empress of Ireland, Built For Trade Between Liverpool And Montreal, Launched.

London, Jan. 29.—A large number of spectators, Saturday afternoon, were present at the yard of the Fairfield Ship-building Co., Govan, Glasgow, when the new C.P.R. steamer, Empress of Ireland, built for the trade between Liverpool and Montreal, was launched. Mrs. Gracie, wife of the managing director of the Fairfield Company, performed the christening with wine. Cake and speeches followed the launching.

A FLEET OF 60 SHIPS.

The Empress of Ireland, with her sister ship, the Empress of Britain, launched last November, will be a decided acquisition to the Canadian Pacific fleet, which already numbers sixty vessels, including the new Empresses and other craft under construction—thirteen steamships on the Atlantic, six on the Pacific ocean, thirteen on the Pacific coast service, fifteen on the inland waters of British Columbia, and three on the Upper Lakes. This new vessel has the same launching weight as the Empress of Britain, which is the largest ever put into the Clyde from the Fairfield yards, and in every other respect is an exact duplicate of that magnificent ocean liner. Its actual measurements are; Length, 550 feet, breadth, 65 feet; and depth to the upper deck, 40 feet. Her registered tonnage is 14,500, and displacement about 20,000.

COMFORT AND SAFETY.

Everything that science and art of shipbuilding has devised and the comfort and safety of passengers could suggest has here been imbodied. The accommodation for travelers is both luxurious and extensive. On and above the main deck can be accommodated 310 first-class, 470 second, and 500 third-class passengers, and 270 steerage on the lower deck forward. Thus much space is devoted to cargo, and special arrangements are made for carrying frozen meat and refrigerating appliances. There are in all eight decks; and long spacious promenades—prepared against all kinds of weather—extend for the greater length of the ship, in one case running right aft to the stern. The stateroom arrangements are outstanding features—large, airy, and comfortable, and the dining rooms are finished in sumptuous style. There are smoking rooms, music rooms, libraries, social halls, and cafes, in every case furnished and upholstered with lavish attention to comfort. There is complete installation of electric light and generating plant, as well as wireless telegraph installation.

The propelling machinery consists of two sets of quadruple expansion engines, and is of sufficient horsepower to maintain an average speed of 18 knots an hour at sea. Nineboilers will generate the steam with a total of 60 furnaces. In the engine room, as in the upper parts, the fittings and appliances are of the most modern description.

QUESTIONABLE RUMOR

Toronto Globe Says Lift Lock was Badly Constructed.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Globe says;

The report of Mr. Holgate, C.E., of Montreal, embodying the results of his investigation into the complaint that the lift lock at Peterboro was improperly constructed, is said to disclose a most serious condition of affairs. It is alleged, if rumor be true, that no comprehensive plans were prepared, and that the work was faulty and carried on in a sort of haphazard way without proper supervision. The lift lock now leaks badly, and, although the blunders made are not irreparable, the repairs will involve a considerable amount of money. The Minister would not talk on the matter this morning, neither would he say what the report of Mr. Holgate contained. "Until the Cabinet have taken up and dealt with the report," he observed, "I deem it advisable to say nothing."

The above despatch from the Globe in its issue of Saturday, gives what it states is a rumor regarding the report of Commissioner Holgate on the alleged defects in the construction of the hydraulic lift lock at Peterboro.

Those who followed carefully the evidence given under oath, during the recent investigation, cannot intelligently or intelligibly reconcile the statements of witnesses, with such a palpably different conclusion. It is too early yet to judge what the verdict will be, but it is altogether unlikely that the Globe's account can be correct.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

All Saints' Church Hear Rev. L. E. Skey of Toronto.

Yesterday, Rev. L. E. Skey, of St. Anne's church, Toronto, gave special and highly interesting sermons at All Saints' church. Yesterday was the anniversary of this flourishing and rapidly growing place of worship. The Rector, Rev. Mr. Major, has every reason for congratulation on the continuous progress of his parish.

A leading feature of the services was the music, which had been specially selected, thoroughly practiced, and most efficiently rendered. The music was as follows;

Morning—
Hymns.
Venite Woodward.
Gloria, Hyggins.
Te deum, Sanstance.
Jubilate, Schilling.
Anthem, "Oh Taste and See," Sir John Goss.
Evening—
Hymns.
Gloria, Loud.
Magnificat, Plummer.
Anthem, "O Praise God," Softer.
Duet, male voices, "Hark, Hark, My Soul, Nevins.
Vesper, Fivefold, Amen.

At the afternoon service Rev. Mr. Skey gave a well timed talk to the Sunday school scholars.

THE TURF.

Secretary Wm. Karew, of the Belleville Turf Club, telephoned on Saturday to Mr. A. Rountree, secretary of the Peterboro Turf Club, that the Belleville races were declared off. The Picton races have also been declared off. The tracks in both these towns are in very poor condition, although there are twenty-two inches of ice on the Ottawa track.

At a meeting of the O.H.A. at the King Edward Hotel, Friday night, Stratford was ordered to replay their game of Jan. 17th with Woodstock in Woodstock. The evidence was very contradictory. Stratford won the protested game by 5 goals to 4. Roy Armstrong was refused permission to play with Newmarket. Elvie, whose status under the residence rule was in doubt, will be allowed to play with Berlin.

The Ottawa License Question.

Ottawa, January 27. — Alderman Hopewell is going ahead with his license reduction proposal. He has tabled for the next meeting of council a resolution to introduce a bylaw reducing the number of shop licenses from 81 to 20. He also gives notice of a motion to rescind Ald. Laverdure's resolution for a plebiscite on the question requiring a majority of all votes on the lists before becoming effective.

Recommend Early Marriage

Boston, Mass., January 28.—Mayor Fitzgerald was a guest at the tenth annual reunion held last night in Paul Revere Hall, under the auspices of the Prince Edward Island Club. He arrived shortly after ten o'clock and spoke for about 15 minutes. He dwelt on the race suicide question and recommended early marriages. The mayor's suggestion elicited four applause.

MEXICANS DIE IN STREETS

Governor Ordered Fires Lit in the Streets.

Mexico City, Jan. 29.—The great cold wave which has caused so much suffering in Central Mexico, and even on the gulf coast, has abated, and the warmth of the sun has been most welcome after three days of clouds and north winds.

The police report that night before last twelve members of the lower class perished on the streets from cold and exposure, being poorly clad, and most of them being victims of alcoholism. The cold produced congestions of the lungs, and the victims died sitting in the doorways of business buildings.

Governor Landa had built fires in the streets for poor people to sit at night. The poor have suffered greatly during this remarkable period of cold.

TIREDNESS MEANS DANGER

When you're tired all day, bothered by trifles, exhausted with nervousness, be sure there is something wrong.

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvelous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic so scientific as to be the admiration of every physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life that is at once dispatched to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vitalizes energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 20, Benton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To get satisfactory results be sure you get Ferrozone only. Fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

PETERBORO, JANUARY 20 1906

A COMPLETE FAILURE.

The failure of the Canadian Machine Telephone Company to comply with the requirements of its franchise in Peterboro, and the fact that none of the glowing promises upon which the Council and the people were induced to allow a competing telephone in the field have been fulfilled, are matters of public interest. Our observation is that the same tactics which secured the franchise here are adapted elsewhere; in fact, these tactics are generally successful in securing what the promoters are after.

The first of these is abuse of the existing company. Public prejudice is easily aroused against a corporation, and this is the promoters chief stock in trade. Competition and the Machine switch are to introduce the millenium.

The result everybody knows. The Bell Company has pursued its business practically unconcerned and unaffected. The public have been brought to a realization of the fact of how well the city is served in the reliability and efficiency of the Bell service, and in their exchange and rural connections which makes one community of the whole district tributary to Peterboro. The Bell Company's rates have not been affected by competition, and now comes the admission by the Machine Company that the rate they established here is too low, and that it was fixed, not on the cost of the service, but to drive the existing company from the field and give it a foothold. This is an admission that the representations upon which they were granted a franchise were false. Further, the admission is the best evidence that the Bell Company, while possessing a monopoly, are not extortionate in their charges.

We have only further to refer to the fact, admitted by all, that not a single representation of the success of the Machine system has been realized, and to compare this with the prompt and efficient manner in which the Bell Company has always observed its contracts with the city and its patrons, to completely dispel the fabric of illusions upon which the promoters of the Machine Telephone Company obtained its franchise in this place.

In May, 1904, this franchise was granted, and subscribers were promised the system would be completed in six months. Nearly two years have elapsed and there is no public service yet. It was asserted that the Machine switch was perfect, but so far the public bear only of further experiments and further delays. Telephone subscribers and the public have long since realized that the granting of this competing franchise was a mistake, that it has been a complete failure, and everyone, except those who are unfortunate enough to be financially interested, are glad of it.

WAR ON THE WHITE PLAGUE.

A new crusade has been begun in New York against the "great white plague, from which 23,000 are suffering in Manhattan alone. An exhibition has been opened by Dr. Darlington, which will remain for eleven days. Here are models of unsanitary tenement houses, opposed to fac-similies of houses where the disease cannot breed. There are diagrams showing the ravages of the plague, and pictures representing homes in the "lung-block" districts. Demonstrations are made here nightly by experienced medical men. "Too much saloon and too little rest," says Dr. Darlington, "weaken the power of resistance, and the deadly germ successfully works on the system that has been thus exposed." A tour has been arranged which will keep this exhibition moving till May through the various parts of New York, and it is hoped that the educative influence will do something to check the spread of the disease. One of the most remarkable part of the exhibition is the model of a block on the East Side. There are 29 tenements in this block, with 805 different apartments, containing 2,781 persons. Of these 269 are two-room apartments. There is not a bathroom in the whole block, and the sanitary arrangements are appallingly inadequate. There are 44 dark rooms, without ventilation. But the rent of this block brings $118,964 per annum. The education of the tenement builders is as necessary as the education of their occupants. There are 8,786 beds in the city hospitals devoted for tuberculosis. Hardly any medicine is given, but just good, fresh air, good food, and rest. Of the nationalities most predisposed to consumption the red Indian and the negro come first. The Irish lead the death-rate among the white races, followed by the Bohemian and Scandinavian races. Removal from original conditions of open air life and addition to drinking habits is the primary cause of mortality.

PROVINCIAL Y.M.C.A.

Representatives of Y.M.C.A. Meet in Toronto--Peterboro Represented

Messrs. C. M. Rogor and local Secretary Williamson, as delegates from Peterboro, attended the annual meeting of the Provincial Committee of the Y.M.C.A. held at Toronto. Every part of the province was represented, including many prominent business men, county secretaries and workers.

The General Secretaries were in session at the central building during the morning, discussing their work under three heads, (1) Encouraging Feature, (2) The Needs; (3) New Plans for Work. Mr. C. M. Copeland, Provincial Secretary, presided, and the meeting was full of enthusiasm and good suggestions.

At three o'clock the provincial Committee met at the Queen's Hotel, and at four o'clock the secretaries were called in to confer with that body on the policy for 1906. Many recommendations were adopted, a few good announcements being made.

At six o'clock the company were the guests at dinner of Mr. John Lennan, the efficient chairman of the committee. About 60 men sat down at the tables. After dinner speeches were made by prominent members, as well as by Messrs. Gregg and Moore, of New York City, who were also present representing the International Committee.

G. T. R. WANTS INFORMATION

General Manager Hays Does Not Object to Parallel Lines of C.P.R.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, yesterday afternoon heard the application of counsel for the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific as to railway connection plans which the latter want approved to enable them to build from Peterboro via Orillia to Midland and the new terminals port they intend establishing at Victoria Harbor.

The Grand Trunk have a line already traversing the same route, and it was generally understood that General Manager Hays would object to the line being paralleled by a rival company.

This is not the case, however, The G.T.R. do not oppose parallels, but ask the C.P.R. to put in a more detailed plan so that it may be seen where the two lines come into touch with one another.

The G.T.R. complain, also, that the C.P.R. are not justified in crossing and recrossing their line three times within eight miles.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

Luncheon over, I returned to the promenade-deck, and, after a smoke—the first in which I had indulged since we left the island—acted on the doctor's advice, and went to my cabin to lie down for an hour or so.

When I returned to the deck, afternoon tea was going forward, and a chair having been found for me, I was invited to take a cup. While I was drinking it, the skipper put in an appearance. He waited until I had finished, and then said he would like to show me something if I would accompany him along the deck to his private cabin. When we reached it, he opened the door and invited me to enter. I did so, and, as I crossed the threshold, gave a little start of surprise, for Miss Maybourne was there, lying upon the locker.

"Why, Miss Maybourne!" I cried, in complete astonishment, "this is a pleasant surprise. I had no idea you were about again. I hope you are feeling stronger."

"Much stronger," she answered. "I expect I shall soon be quite myself again, now that I have once made a start. Mr. Wrexford, I asked Captain Blockman to let me see you in here for the first time, in order that I might have an opportunity of expressing my gratitude to you before we face the passengers. You cannot imagine how grateful I am to you for all you have done for me since that awful night when the Fiji Princess went down. How can I ever repay you for it?"

"By becoming yourself again as quickly as possible," I answered; "I ask no better payment."

I thought she looked at me in rather a strange way as I said this; but it was not until some time later that I knew the reason of it. At the time I would have given worlds to have spoken the thoughts that were in my mind; but that being impossible, I had to hold my tongue, though my heart should break under the strain. We were both silent for a little while, and then Miss Maybourne took my hand, and I could see that she was steeling herself to ask some question, and was not quite certain what answer she would receive to it.

"Mr. Wrexford," she began, and there was a little falter in her voice as she spoke, "you told me on board the Fiji Princess that you were going to South Africa to try and obtain employment. You must forgive my saying anything about it, but I also gathered from what you told me that you would arrive there without influence of any sort. Now, I want you to promise me that you will let papa help you. I'm sure he will be only too grateful for the chance. It would be a kindness to him, for he will remember that, but for you, he would never have seen me again."

"I did not do it for the sake of reward, Miss Maybourne," I answered, with an outburst of foolish pride that was not very becoming to me.

"Who knows that better than I?" she replied, her face flushing at the thought that she had offended me. "But you must not be angry with me. It would be kind of you to let me show my gratitude in some way. Papa would be so glad to give you letters of introduction, or to introduce you personally to people of influence, and then there is nothing you might not be able to do. You will let him help you, won't you?"

If she could only have known what she was asking of me! To be introduced to the prominent people of the colony was the very last thing in the world I wanted. My desire was to not only attract as little attention as might be, but also to get up country and beyond the reach of invitations as quickly as possible.

However, I was not going to make Miss Maybourne unhappy on the first day of her convalescence, so I promised to consider the matter, and let her know my decision before we reached Cape Town. By this compromise I hoped to be able to hit upon some way out of the difficulty before them.

From that day forward the voyage was as pleasant as it would be possible for one to be. Delicate as was our position on board, we were not allowed for one moment to feel that we were not upon the same footing as those who had paid heavily for their accommodation. The officers and passengers vied with each other in showing us kindnesses, and, as may be imagined, we were not slow to express our gratitude.

Day after day slipped quickly by, and each one brought us nearer and nearer to our destination. As the distance lessened my old fears returned upon me. After all the attention I had received from our fellow-travelers, after Miss Maybourne's gracious behavior towards me, it will be readily imagined how much I dreaded the chance of exposure. How much better, I asked myself, would it not be to drop overboard while my secret was still undiscovered, than to stay on board and be proclaimed a murderer before them all?

On the evening prior to our reaching Cape Town I was leaning on the rails of the promenade deck, just below the bridge, when Miss Maybourne left a lady with whom she had been conversing, and came and stood beside me. The evening was cool, and for this reason she had thrown a lace mantilla, lent her by one of the passengers, over her head, and had draped it round her shapely neck. It gave her an infinitely charming appearance; indeed, in my eyes, she appeared the most beautiful of all God's creatures—a being to be loved and longed for beyond all her sex.

"And so to-morrow, after all our adventures, we shall be in Cape Town," she said. "Have you thought of the promise you gave me a fortnight ago?"

"What promise was that?" I asked, though I knew full well to what she alluded.

"To let papa find you some employment. I do hope you will allow him to do so."

I looked at her as she stood beside me, one little hand resting on the rail and her beautiful eyes gazing across the starlit sea, and thought how hard it was to make him. But at any cost I could not remain in Cape Town. Every hour I spent there would bring me into greater danger.

"I have been thinking it over as I promised," I said, "and I have come to the conclusion that it would not be wise for me to accept you offer. I have told you repeatedly, Miss Maybourne, that I am not like other men. God knows how heartily I repent my foolish past. But repentance, however sincere, will not take away the stain. I want to get away from civilization as far and as quickly as possible. For this reason immediately we arrive I shall start for the Transvaal, and once there shall endeavor to carve out a new name and a new life for myself. This time, Providence helping me, it shall be a life of honor."

"God grant you may succeed!" she said, but so softly that I could scarcely hear it.

"May I tell myself that I have your good wishes, Miss Maybourne?" I asked, with, I believe, a little tremor in my voice.

"Every good wish I have is yours," she replied. "I should be worse than ungrateful, after all you have done for me, if I did not take an interest in your future."

Then I did a thing for which it was long before I could forgive myself. Heaven alone knows what induced me to do it; but if my life had depended on it I could not have acted otherwise. I took her hand in mine and drew her a little closer to me.

Trapped Elephants.

In "Jungle Trails and Jungle People" Caspar Whitney tells of trapping a herd of elephants and driving them into the grasl. Curiously enough, the animals are quite docile until they once discover they are confined, whereupon they throw off their good manners and become rampant. Mr. Whitney continues:

Some fight the posts, some fight one another, in groups they surge against the stout sides of the inclosure, grunting prodigiously, and wherever a venturesome spectator shows a head between the posts he is charged. Not all the herd are so violent. Some show their perturbation by thrusting down into their stomach reservoir and drawing forth water which they squirt over their backs; others express contempt for things generally by making little dust piles, which they blow over everything in sight, including their own legs. Some utter the mouthing low note; some rap the ground with their trunks, thus knocking out several peculiar rattling, crackling high notes. The calves squeak through their little trunks shrilly and frequently.

To the Canadian Investor

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1500 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $975 a ton, or about $1230 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $200 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

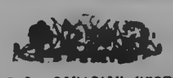
SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.



SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winze and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.90 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization 500,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 205,000 shares. Show us something better.

RHEUMATISM

Lives in the Blood

Consequently it requires an internal treatment, one that will restore the blood, and thereby relieve the cause of the pain.

After years of experiment, Dr. Hamilton succeeded in producing a remedy that quickly cures rheumatism, gout and all uric acid disorders. This marvelous cure has been given to the public as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills; in every case they cure quickly.

By toning the kidneys and liver, Dr. Hamilton's Pills ensure a clean healthy body. The blood is restored to a normal healthy condition, renewed vigor is imparted to overworked organs, and thus the general health is built up, and no room is left for rheumatism to creep in.

A Cripple's Story of Cure

"This is a glad day for me," writes James E. Brown, Ill. from Midland, Ont., "because I can speak of my permanent cure of rheumatism. I have been all through the aching days and sleepless nights, have spent my money on worthless remedies, and consequently in recommending Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I feel sure of their merit. No remedy gave such relief or did me so much good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My rheumatism they cured, and ever since my health has been perfect."

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are to be had in any drug store, it's foolish to live on in misery and ill-health. You ought to get this medicine today and cure yourself. Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1 at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The Finance Committee will meet this evening.

—Nothing doing in police court circles Saturday.

—A local railway official lost a roll of bill Saturday morning.

—Beef was flat on the Saturday market, only bringing 5½ to 6½c.

—In speaking of "last summer," be careful to mention which one you mean.

—The County Council in session last week concluded their labors on Saturday at noon.

—Rev. W. M. Mackay conducted a service for young men in Knox church yesterday evening.

—None is better than the Parker Lucky Curve Fountain Pen, see them before buying. Times Bookstore.

—There was an appreciable raise in hogs on Saturday. Dressed hogs brought 8 1-2 to 9, and live hogs $5.80 for mixed to 7c.

—And now Brantford is following the lead set by Peterboro. A sand-lime brick factory has been organized in that city.

—Messrs. Morris and T. Brown on Saturday, shipped two car loads of cattle to Montreal, one mixed and one straight goods.

—The Lindsay man who announced that he found viorets, probably neglected to mention that they cost him 65 cents a bunch.

—On Saturday night an elderly man, who works in a local shoestore, was a guest at the Hotel des Cops. Too much tanglefoot!

—It was estimated Saturday night that fully two hundred would avail themselves of the special train cheap trip to Toronto today.

—Two pocket-books found on Saturday, each of which contains a small sum of money are now at the police station awaiting claimants.

—Yesterday Rev. Canon Davidson preached at St. John's church instead of exchanging with Rev. Mr. Warren, of Lakefield, as said by the city press on Saturday.

—The Jackson Park entertainments draw immense crowds daily. It is worth more than a drug store full of nostrums to take a few whizzes down the slide.

—For the balance of the month we will sell all paper bound books at reduced prices. 25 cent books at two for 25c. Choice of 15 different authors. Times Bookstore.

—The result of the inquest held Saturday night by Drs. Greer and Morgan, on the dead baby found at Auburn, will not be made public until the coroner's jury meets on Thursday.

—Yesterday a large audience heard Miss L. Lockhead, in "Origin and Romance of that grand old hymn, "Near er My God to Thee," at the Y.W.C.A. gospel meeting. Miss R. Dawson very acceptably rendered the Glory song.

—Miss Host Jas. Head, of the Clarey House, on Saturday had a phone, Hello, No. 574, placed in his hotel. As this hotel has a large clientele from Emmsmore and Smith, it will be especially useful for his patrons stopping at or passing through Bridgenorth, where there is a fire central station.

—Miss Weir, the popular Modern Language Teacher, in the Collegiate Institute, entertained in a charming manner, the German class of the Fourth Form of this Institute to a delightful five o'clock tea, at the residence of Mrs. Mastchke, Dublin St. east, on Saturday afternoon. The conversation was entirely in German, and the refreshments were also prepared after the German style. Mrs. Mastchke told a number of German stories in her native tongue of course, which added greatly to the pleasure of the young people.

Local Signs of Spring.

A gentleman from Barrie told a Times representative on Saturday that he had already planted out two beds of early onions. We will bet a secret the onions will lose their fragrance before they are used on the table.

A local market gardener on Saturday, bespoke with Mr. Brown, the popular clerk of the market, a table for onions and fresh rhubarb for Saturday of this week. This looks like spring.

Whilst a farmer of Smith was clearing out an old well last Thursday, a good sized garter snake, fully alive instead of in the numbed comatose state that snakes are always found in cold weather. The snake was kept in the cow barn alive for several days and then escaped. This looks like spring, but more like too frequent internal applications of "red-eye." However, it was not the latter.

Crowds Visit the Canal.

All day yesterday, crowds of local citizens, including many hotel visitors from distant places, flocked to the scene of the recent wash out on the Trent Valley canal. This is very evidence of this out ourst of waters in many of the east ward streets, they being covered with a coating of frozen mud. During the afternoon fully five hundred people inspected the place where the canal waters cut their way through the bank, and then flooded Messrs. Curtis Bros. brick yard. Two young ladies en route to visit the spot asked a resident living near the canal for permission to cross his yard and thus save a round-about eburn. "Why yes, ladies," he said, "but if I had collected a 5c. toll from every one going through my yard today, I would be from $12 to $18 ahead.

Chief Russell Much Better

We are pleased to be able to state that a report received at this office last night, stated that Chief of Police, Geo. I. Russell, who has been seriously ill at his residence, has taken quite a turn for the better. He was resting much easier yesterday, and his return to health is now only a matter of time and quiet rest. Had he taken the advice of his friends after his attack of grippe some months ago, and laid off duty for a week or two, it is altogether likely he would have escaped his present illness.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. Harry Oberman, Winnipeg, is visiting friends in the city.

—Miss Hannah, of Toronto, who has been visiting Miss Morrow returned home Saturday morning.

—Lindsay Post says: Mr. J. B. Douglas, of Peterboro, was a guest at the Simpson house today.

—Rev. L. E. Skey of Toronto, is in the city. He conducted anniversary services in All Saints' church yesterday.

—Mr. H. LeBrun, Peterboro's popular merchant tailor, left for Toronto Saturday night for a few days' business trip in Toronto. Mr. LeBrun whilst in Toronto, will choose part of the spring's stock.

—We are pleased to say that Miss Margaret Stevenson, corner of Aylmer and Dalhousie streets, who has recently been somewhat confined to the house, after a recent accident, is now entirely recovered and able to get about with her little friends as well as ever.

—D. Taylor, Wardsville; Chas. A. Lifferton, Montreal; J. O. Donohue, Emsmsmore; Walter McKaye, Miss Pauline Johnston, Toronto; W. H. H. Sparks, Sunderland; Mrs. E. H. Denham, Montreal; L. Van der Mey, New York, were registered at the Oriental Saturday.

—On Saturday Mr. Chas. S. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

As a result of the recent report given by The Times a few days ago, of the meeting when Mr. Fuller, presented his report, concerning the proposed filtration plant for Peterboro, the following is given. Two sons of Erin, one living in the 1st Ward, and on in Peterboro's Brooklyn, were heard on Saturday afternoon as follows.

The first speaker, by name Patrick ———, who is employed on the C.P.R., said;

"Moike, I was laughin' this marnin' til I taught I wud discollate me jaw."

"Phwat was the cause av your strenyous jocularthorty, Pat?"

"Me wolde, av course ye know, Moike, she is fond of pinats and flowers. This marnin' says to me, says she, 'Pat, I made a plant in the yard to take the place of the noight bloomin' mayroocious, wich wur sunstruck.' She handed me some rash, an' phwat do you think she said."

"Phwat did she say, Pat?"

"She said, here is a quather, Pat, an' now I want yez to bring home wan av thim plants that the Toimes' is talkin' about." Phwat koind av a plant es it. Bridgettaf' says I. So she got the Toimes an, pinted it out. An' Moike, phwat koind av a plant do you think she wanted?"

"Shure, I don't know, Pat.'

"A filtration plant."

HIS FIRST VISIT

Mr. J. B. McWilliams Returns From Trip to Lumber Camps.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, manager of the Ontario Lumber Company, returned on Saturday from a three weeks' trip through the camps of the company. This is Mr. McWilliams' first visit to these camps as manager of the company. He found everything in a satisfactory state, although more snow was needed to enable the company to handle their large cut of logs.

The Angel of marriage is always a baby. Without it, wedlock is a summer field that never blooms, a flower that never buds, a night without stars, a sermon without a benediction, a prayer without an Amen.

There never was a husband worthy of the name, who did not aspire to be the father and the grandfather of healthy, capable children, to hand down his name and the fortune accumulated by the sweat of his brow, from generation to generation. There never was a wife fit to bear that noble title, who did not wish to wear womanhood's most glorious crown, the sceptre of motherhood. Thousands of wedded couples, otherwise happy, fall short of wedlock's greatest happiness because they are childless. In the majority of cases, this is because the wife, through ignorance or neglect, suffers from weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. For women who suffer in this way there is one great medicine that does not fail to accomplish its purpose. It is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly on the delicate organs concerned and makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and virile. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones the shattered nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It quickens and vitalizes the distinctly feminine organism. It banishes the maladies of the expectant months and makes baby's introduction to the world easy and almost painless. In restores the little new-comer's health and nourishment in plenty. It is the best supportive tonic for nursing mothers.

Mrs. Jennie Parks, of Marshall, Spokane Co., Wash., writes: "I am glad to tell of the good results of your great medicine—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives me strength. I have no tired feeling and my baby is the picture of health. I feel better than I have in ten years."

In cases of constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used as an adjunct to "Favorite Prescription." They are extremely simple, perfectly natural and insure prompt and permanent relief.

Horse Causes Great Fright.

Saturday afternoon a peculiar case, that might have resulted with a serious ending was in evidence in front of Messrs. F. E. Mason & Co's. upper George street grocery establishment. Three people sitting in a buggy, standing in front of the store were somewhat startled to suddenly receive a shock from behind and hear their buggy being crushed. It seems that a horse attached to a rig near by became frightened by a passing car, and tried to run away. In its fright it suddenly reared and brought its front feet down on the buggy in which the people, as above, were seated. One of the occupants of the buggy thus boarded by the frightened horse was a baby who came within a very few inches of death from the plunging beast's feet. Fortunately none of the people were hurt, but the buggy was somewhat damaged.

Mr. Donnistoun's Lecture.

On Monday, Feb. 5th, Mr. R. M. Donnistoun will deliver an address on "Folk Lore," in the Sunday school of St. John's church. At this entertainment, Mr. Ulsa Mitchell, the genial employe of the Snowden House, will give a number of selections on his phonograph. This phonograph to be used at this entertainment, is the largest and best ever seen or heard in this part of the country. The musical portion of the entertainment is in charge of Mr. T. H. Jardine, who has several times taken the services of the English church at Bethany.

—The first Y.M.C.A. "Pop" held Saturday night, was well attended, and proved very successful.

INSIDE INFORMATION

The Times Readers Chance for Profit---Everyone Ought to Grasp this Opportunity.

To have even a simple case of indigestion is to have "inside information" of suffering that warns of serious trouble in the future, unless the digestive system is strengthened.

If you cannot eat and digest three good, square and satisfying meals each day without discomfort, your stomach needs Mi-o-na tablets. They are not a mere temporary relief, but are composed of valuable medicinal agents which strengthen the digestive organs, and cure and prevent stomach troubles.

When there are pains or distress after eating, head aches, belching of gases, a sour taste in the mouth, dizziness, heart burn, specks before the eyes, furred tongue, sleeplessness, nervousness, or back ache, the stomach needs the help of Mi-o-na.

Every reader of the Times should grasp the opportunity offered to try Mi-o-na. Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of this remedy before each meal for a few days, and you will soon have a strong stomach and perfect health.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

City's Water Bill On Sliding Scale

Finance Committee and Water Commissioners Arrange That Water For Public Purposes Be Raised Yearly to $2000, on 5-Year Contract.

Last night an important meeting was held in the committee room of the city building, when the Finance Committee met the Water Commissioners. Those representing the council were Aldermen Hicks, McWilliams, Elliott, Ball, Mayor Best and Ald. Mason in the chair.

The first business taken up was account of the Water Commissioners, which they, the commissioners thought the city should pay. The oldest account in dispute was for 1903 for repairs to a water main. Mr. Henderson, superintendent explained that the main had been injured by a pick, the pipe being still held as an exhibit.

The accounts brought up discussion as to liability of the Water Commissioners regarding the condition in which the mains are left after work has been done by the latter branch of the city's officials. An account in which Contractor Sheehy was alleged to have injured a pipe was presented.

A bill for stop cock boxes presented, brought up a question as to why such items be charged to the city. Mr. Matthews explained that these repairs were due to pavements being changed. It was better to replace them.

It seems that the Water Commissioners had introduced iron boxes in place of the old played out wooden ones. Mr Matthews, said the commissioners were prepared to withdraw the charges for stop cock boxes. His worship the Mayor asked why not get a distinct understanding with the water commissioners as to charges on the stop-cock boxes, so as to see where the city and the commissioners stood as to ownership, etc., of these, as well as to get a basis for future business.

Ald. Mason offered to give the commissioners all the stand pipes in the city, amounting to some $1200, for nothing, provided the commissioners receipt the bill.

Chairman Matthews explained that the water stand pipes were of no use to the commissioners, and only a source of expense. They did not want them.

Mr. Moore offered to assume all accounts for damages to stop-cocks, etc., and that the city, on the other hand give $2,000 instead of $1,500 as in the past, per year, for street watering, flushing sewers, stand pipes, etc. This would simplify bookkeeping. In this agreement, the commissioners would keep these articles in good order and not charge the city for damages.

Ald. McWilliams thought it better, before making any general arrangement to settle up all accounts till 1st. January, 1906.

Mr. Matthews explained that the great expense with stand pipes, was in the early spring and late fall, as valves freeze and pipes split then.

The total claims of the water commissioners, deducting the amount as noted above were $488.62, for stop boxes, stand pipes, etc., and shutting off water.

$367.96 of this was for new stand pipes. There is still an account of about $100 yet to be presented, but not yet made out. $66.96 was for repairs to standpipes. There are now 20 steam pipes, which average $35 each, or $700.

Supt. Henderson said that there are 110,000 gallons of water used daily for watering streets.

Mr. Matthews said that the city was hardly paying a fair amount for the water it uses.

Ald. McWilliams said that the city to get at the proper amount, that should be paid this city, was to see if the $1500 now paid was correct or not; this would take a great amount of investigation.

Supt. Henderson said that if the city gave on increasing the number of stand pipes as in the past, it would take all the water the pumps could supply.

Mr. Matthews suggested that the city, for a period of five years pay $1800 a year, the commissioners to assume all charges for the stand pipes.

Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. McWilliams brought forward a motion that practically amounted as follows, viz:—That the stand pipes, coupled with expense of maintainence, repairing and turning them off and on, to be transferred to the water commissioners, and that for all water supplied for use of the city, for watering streets, sewers, street connection, etc., for which city now pays $1500 per annum, the city shall now pay on a sliding scale, viz., during 1906, $1800; in 1907, $1900; and $2000 per annum for the next three years. The city shall have the right to place two new stand pipes each year during the contract. That this contract shall not include any damages to mains, nor any of the accounts rendered for stand pipes as presented yesterday evening.—Carried.

Mr. Matthews then brought forward the subject of the probable repairs to or rebuilding of the old water works dam.

To rebuild the dam would cost from $80,000 to $100,00, as Mr. Matthews' idea in bringing the matter up was to ultimately get an arrangement with the city relative to such debentures as would pay for the dam, until such time as the amount could be paid out of surplus funds. This being too great a subject for dealing with off-hand, the matter was held over for future consideration.

YESTERDAY'S COLD SNAP

The Mercury was About Zero But High in Comparison with a Year Ago.

Winter like historical events repeats itself. Yesterday morning as water families got out of bed and wondered whether he would devote his spare time to taking off his cutaside sash or taking a walk out to see if the mayflowers were beginning to show up, he became aware, when his blind went up that the clerk of the weather had handled out a very different sample of climate to that of late.

A reference to his dairy disclosed the fact that one year ago yesterday the thermometer stood just 20 degrees below zero, or in few words, the coldest day of 1905. Mr. P. by a closer inspection of his diary found that this time last year there was 30 inches of snow on the level and about 100 yards drifted whenever he had to take a constitutional with his snow shovel.

One year ago yesterday the mercury had crept down to 19 degrees below zero, and nearly every train was late owing to the snow. This fact somewhat compensated Mr. Paterfamilias for having to once more don his fur coat yesterday.

ANOTHER BURGLARY

Mr. Huston's Residence, on Sherbrooke St. Robbed Sunday Night.

That Peterboro is keeping up her record, as a city, not only in industrial, commercial and progressive ways, but also in the deplored lines of activity usually synonymous with city life is again in evidence.

In the days of Peterboro's existence as a town, burglaries were almost an unknown quantity, now they have become common.

It will be remembered that within the past three weeks we have had a case of work done by "Pete" men, or safe blowing and a bad example of the burglar's art; Now, still another residence has been entered, and valuables stolen.

On Sunday night at the residence of Mrs. M Huston, Sherbrooke street while the family was at church, the front door key was obligingly, and invitingly left, in that so rare (?) a hiding spot, under the front door mat. Those who entered the house, as about to be noted, were sufficiently thoughtful and polite, before leaving the premises, to return the key, by which they evidently gained admission, to its place of security. Probably those who did the job are of large mind and averse to monopoly, so left the ready means of access for their confreres in the business.

On coming home Mrs. Huston noticed that the lights upstairs were burning. The house was in darkness when she left. Nearly sixteen dollars was stolen from different drawers in the dressers of various bedrooms. The missing money consists of a $5 and also a $2.50 American gold piece, a $5 bill, a $2 bill, a $1 bill and twenty-five cents in silver. There were several burnt matches scattered about the rooms.

There were also two watches and a fountain pen missing, but they were found during the morning by Constable Stewart on the back steps leading into the shed, having evidently been left behind by the thieves in fear of being found in possession of incriminating evidence.

The thief or thieves fortunately overlooked a large sum of money hidden in another part of the residence.

As long as householders pursue the foolish policy of leaving their keys in places of concealment that are proverbial as customary, as this city is and it now and always has been, at the mercy of thieves. Up to date manifestly insufficient to give protection for the residential parts, they must expect to get "touched."

POLICE COURT NEWS

At yesterday morning's police court, Clarence Shaw, an elderly man, who works in Anthony's shoe shop, was charged with being drunk in a public place on Saturday night. Shaw broke a window in the shop of Anthony's shoe store on Simcoe street. Two dollars to be paid in 10 days or ten days in jail.

Shaw, who is not altogether a stranger to the hospitalities of Castle Nesbitt, after the court adjourned, and the magistrate had gone out of the front room, accompanied by P. O. Stewart, still sat on in the dock, not understanding that he had his freedom for 10 days or until such time therein, as he might pay his fine. A press representative sprang the pleasing news to him, and the prisoner fled to the outside sunshine.

John Dunsford was charged with letting a cart for hire without having a license. Dunsford in reply to the usual question put by his Worship, "Guilty or not guilty?" said "I let the cart all right enough!" "Why did not you take out your license?" "I have been laid up for a while and got a little short," replied Dunsford. The magistrate enlarged the case for one week, failing defendant to get his license or he would be dealt with severely.

MR. T. J. DELANEY'S DEATH

Well Known Former Citizen of Peterboro, Dies in Florence, S. C.

The very many warm friends of Mr. Thos J. Delaney, formerly of this city, were shocked to hear of his lamented death, which occurred last Thursday. His sister is Mrs. W. J. Morrow, the well known musician of Peterboro.

The deceased, who passed away in Florence, South Carolina, was a son of the late John Delaney, and was born in Peterboro some 35 years ago in the house now occupied by Mrs. Morrow, corner Downie and Brock streets. The late Thomas Delaney received his education in the schools here and was afterwards a watchmaker with W. A. Sanderson & Co. Some fifteen years ago the deceased left Peterboro and went to Naugatuck, Conn., where he was with his brother, Dr. Delaney until about six months ago, when he went to Florence, S.C., and entered into partnership with Mr. Root. Muncaster.

For about a year past the deceased has been complaining of trouble with his heart, still his death was unexpected and comes as a great shock to his large circle of relatives and friends.

Fuller particulars respecting the death and funeral will appear later.

W. Jarvis Has Head Cut by Saw.

Yesterday morning, William Jarvis, an employe in Mann's sash and door factory on Dublin street, received a gashed cut in the head while operating a circular saw. It seems a splinter from the plank he was cutting became detached and struck Mr. Jarvis on the head, inflicting a nasty gash. It required several stitches to close the wound. Mr. Jarvis will be prevented from working for a few days.

FALL CATARRH

Disease Prevalent Now, But Can be Quickly Cured with Hyomei

A great many people suffer more with catarrh during the fall months than at any other season of the year, the changes in weather seeming to have a bad effect upon the disease.

Some of the cures made by Hyomei seem marvelous when one remembers that the patients had suffered from catarrh since childhood, and that for years they had been unable to get a good night's sleep, on account of the disagreeable tickling and dropping at the back of the throat caused by this offensive disease. A few day's treatment with Hyomei brought quick relief, and its continued use made a complete and lasting cure.

By breathing Hyomei through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, all the air passages of the lungs and throat are filled with air laden with Nature's remedies for the cure of catarrh. All disease germs are killed, and the irritated mucous membrane is healed.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

PLEASING "AT HOME"

The boys of the above organization, gave a very enjoyable "at home" to their parents and members of St. John's congregation last night.

The boys were served a splendid tea in the school room of dining hall at seven o'clock, after which followed toasts and responses, the little folk taking their respective parts in quite a manly manner. At eight o'clock the guests adjourned to the Sunday school room, where they rendered a very acceptable concert program in entertainment of a hearty large gathering of their adult friends and supporters.

Mr. Harold Clarkson, people's warden, presided over the entertainment, assisted by Mr. Harold Moore, who organized this Junior Chapter some two months ago. All Halpany orchestra generously contributed to the evening's pleasure in their usual delightful style, and Karl in his solo, "Just for Fun," was excellent and mirth provoking, while Frank in the recitation, "Casey at the Bat," displayed no small degree of irresistible humor.

Mr. William Dundas in banjo solos, took his audience by storm, and his imitation of the 57th marching down George street, was true to life. Mr. Ferguson's execution on the piano, was highly commendable, and the difficult waltz he selected, admirably rendered.

The boys acquitted themselves well in their various numbers, considerable credit being due them for their unreserved willingness to entertain as well as work in the good cause with which they have affiliated themselves.

Midway between the program, Master John Hogan, director of the Junior Chapter; Evans Bradburn, secretary, and Donald Denban, treasurer, reported, showing the organization to be in a flourishing condition, and filled with energy in the church's cause. Mr. Howard Moore also gave a brief review of the chapter's aims and objects, which are deserving of the most generous support and sympathy.

The entertainment closed with "God Save the King, after which refreshments were served the boys' guests. This was the first "at home" given by this Chapter, the little folk did it handsomely and thoroughly earned the vote of thanks considerately moved by Mr. Jos. Bell and seconded by Mr. Hogan.

ANOTHER CLUE FOUND

Hockey Stick Belonging to Louis Bell Found Back of Golf Links.

The sad, but as yet not altogether proven, but still feared death of young Alex. Bell, son of Mr. W. Bell, of Auburn, who was believed to have been drowned in November last while skating on the ice on the canal, is now one more stage towards being founded.

Sunday afternoon as a young man named Russell was skating on the canal, he found a hockey stick, on which had the initials "L.B." burned on the handle, and which Russell returned to the boy's father. It was discovered on the east side of the bay at the back of the golf club house, about 200 yards north of where Bell's boots were found the morning after the accident.

The finding of this hockey stick would seem to indicate more clearly that young Bell met a watery grave. It is now believed that his body is in the canal several hundred feet further up than where the diver was at work some weeks ago.

TO-DAY'S FUNERAL

Mr. Jacob Doupe to be Buried This Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Mr. Jack Doupe, who passed away Sunday at his residence, 93 Robinson street, East Ward, will take place this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery, Rev. J. G. Lewis officiating.

The late Mr. Doupe was 68 years of age, and was born near Kingston. In 1873 he moved to Peterboro, where he has resided ever since. Mr. Doupe had been ailing for some time with Bright's disease and was confined to the house for the past six months. He was caretaker of the public school in fifth ward.

Mr. Doupe was predeceased by his wife about a year and a half ago. He is survived by two sons, James, of El Pasco, Texas, and Bruce, of this city, and one daughter, Mrs. Whiskin, also of Peterboro. In addition to these there are five brothers, Samuel and Joseph, of Havelock, Michael of Marmora, and Henry and Owsley, of Michigan; also two sisters, Mrs. Defoe, of Havelock, and Sarah, of Pittsburg, U.S.A.

STATE CAPITOL IN DANGER

Stairways Ordered Closed to Public and Building to be Examined.

Albany, N.Y., Jan. 29.—The trustees of State public buildings this afternoon instructed Robert J. Hill, superintendent of public buildings, to close all approaches to the assembly staircase in the State capitol, including the entrances to the assembly chamber and the elevators leading thereto.

This action was taken on the recommendation of the State architect, Geo L. Heins, on the basis of a report made to him by William Barclay Parsons and Daniel E. Moran, expert engineers of New York City, after an examination of the assembly staircase, which has been under suspicion for several months.

The engineers have informed the State architect that the integrity of the capitol building as a whole should be investigated in this connection, including tests of the foundations.

With reference to the crumbling condition of the assembly staircase, the engineers advise that the conditions which caused the cracks observed for several years are still in force, and that a state of great internal stress exists in that part of the structure, and that the public should be excluded from use of the staircase, because of the danger of falling pieces of stone or of a collapse of the staircase.

It is believed by those familiar with the conditions that the situation is exceedingly serious, and that at best that part of the building will be out of use for two or three years.

Steel Girders Kill a Man in Their Fall

New York, Jan. 29.—Nine tons of steel girders fell from above the seventh floor of the new Altman building in process of erection in Fifth avenue, Saturday, tore through several floors of steel beams on the way downward, and crushed Edward Steinman to death and seriously injured five other workmen.

The accident was caused by the breaking of the cable of a derrick which was hoisting the girders to the upper part of the building.

Steinman and the two other men were on the second floor and, hearing the crashing of the floor beams above them, jumped 50 feet into the basement, hoping to escape.

Steinman fell in the way of the falling steel, and the others narrowly escaped death.

To Oust Buffalo's Mayor.

Buffalo, Jan. 29.—Charges of neglect of duty have been drawn up against Mayor J. N. Adam. They are to be forwarded to Governor Higgins late this afternoon.

The specific charge is the refusal of Mayor Adam to attend the meeting of the board of police commissioners last Wednesday to try Superintendent of Police Bull on charges of neglect of duty. The governor will be asked to remove Mayor Adam.

A SPLENDID SHOWING

North American Life Assurance Co. Steadily Advancing its Business.

In these days of strenuous activity, and increasing competition between the great life insurance companies of Canada for public patronage, it is not only interesting to the general public, but of great encouragement to policy-holders, in any particular company, to know absolutely that the company in which one has invested, and will, for years, invest his money, is safe beyond dispute, and founded upon a conservative and progressive foundation.

On December 31st, ult., the North American Life Assurance Company held their 25th annual meeting in the Home office, Toronto. At this meeting the annual financial report of the company was presented. The report, duly audited by expert accountants, was of a nature calculated to inspire feelings of profound confidence among its thousands of policy-holders.

During 1905, in addition to the insurance already in force, the North American Life Assurance Co. issued the enormous, and startlingly suggestive, amount of $6,154,903 in new insurance: This is good food for reflection to those carrying or thinking of carrying insurance, as it places beyond doubt the stability of the company, as expressed by those most vitally interested, the policy-holders.

During 1905 the company paid out $350,476 for death claims, $52,301 for matured endowments, $37,740 for surrendered policies, nearly one hundred thousand dollars for matured investment policies surrendered, and almost an equal sum in dividends to policy-holders.

The assets of the company, as given in detail in another column, are of the highest, safest and most conservative character, including $1,041,947 in first mortgages on real estate, $4,379,495 on stocks, bonds and first class debentures whose actual present market value is really worth $100,000 more than the amount above quoted.

Messrs. W. B. Taylor, B.A., LL.B., and L. Goldman, the progressive financially distinguished managing officers of this company, as well as their co-adjutors in the North American Co., have every reason for congratulation for the wonderfully successful record of this strong institution, especially during the past year.

Mr. G. B. Stevenson, whose offices are situated on Water street, opposite the Public Library, is the local district agent for this company. It is only fair to say that in no small measure is the great success of the North American Life, during the past year, attributable to Mr. Stevenson's office. The insuring public can, at all times, rely on universally courteous treatment and square dealing, when doing business in the local office of this company.

Pense Carries The Day In Kingston

The Liberal Candidate Elected By a Small Majority---Deputies Charged With Using Numbered Ballots.

Kingston, Jan. 30.—Mr. Pense, the Liberal candidate, was yesterday elected to represent Kingston in the Ontario House by a majority of 34 over Mr. McIntyre, the Conservative candidate, after one of the most exciting contest ever held here. The Liberals held a big torch-light procession after the result became known.

Kingston, Jan. 29.—A bright day with zero temperature favored the by-election today. Both sides are confident of winning. Nearly all the cabmen are driving on their own account for Mr. Pense, while a couple o' the liveries turned out vehicles for Mr. McIntyre. There is indignation in Liberal circles over the reported action of Mr. John McIntyre, K.C., brother of the Conservative candidate in sending out circulars to the Liberal students of Queen's warning them that they had no vote in this election, as their names were on lists in their Toronto constituencies.

TROUBLE AT BOOTH.

There was trouble at several of the polling places over the ballots. It was understood that these were not to be numbered, the Whitney Government having abolished the old numbering system. However, the ballots were all numbered, and the Liberals lodged protests to Returning Officer Dawson over the action of the deputies in putting their initials directly under the number on the outside of the ballot.

Mr. Dawson went around the polling places and threatened to shut down all those whose deputies did not put their initials on the corner of the ballot, away from the numbers.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

SKATING.

Many of our readers who take active interest in sporting matters, will remember how, about three years ago, Mr. Oliver Dusty was the local district champion in skating for one or two miles. Many of the friends of Mr Dusty here will be glad to learn that he is still keeping in the front ranks of not only amateur but professional skaters. A Western Manitoba paper devotes quite an amount of space to a recent championship skating contest, held at Melitta, Man. In this contest Mr. Oliver Dusty, who is, by the way, a son of Mr. Charles Dusty, the genial wine clerk at the Queen's Hotel, won the $100 purse, for which eight contestants were entered. This race was for all comers, two heats out of three, and Mr. Dusty easily won out in two straight heats. Peterboro athletes and others seem to get there everywhere. Congratulations Oliver!

THE TURF.

The Central Canada Racing Association will open the Ottawa meet on Saturday. This promises to be the greatest ice meeting of the kind ever held in the world. Over one hundred and twenty horses have been entered and the arrangements for the gathering are well nigh perfect. The association never had a better track and the buildings are on a larger scale than ever before attempted. The ice on the river is twenty inches thick and the track is perfectly safe. Every days for the past two weeks the horsemen have been working out their flyers, in preparation for the meet. Frank G. Smith, too well known here, to require comment, will act as starter.

CURLING.

The Lindsay Curling Club have adopted club colors, and Saturday morning, there were issued very natty looking sweaters of red, blue and old gold, with the letters L.C.C. on the front. They are the same as the L.C.J. sweaters.

Diplomatic Corps Protest.

Caracas, Jan. 29. — Twenty-five members of the diplomatic corps today delivered to the Venezuelan government a formal joint note, stating that they could not accept Venezuela's position that M. Taigny, the former French charge d'affaires here, had been deprived of his official character, and that he ranked only as a French citizen at the time of his forced departure from this country. The diplomats have communicated the text of this note to their respective governments.

A French line steamer which arrived at La Guaira today was granted the usual privilege of communicating with the shore.

MISS EVA BOOTH IN RAGS.

New York, Jan. 30.—Dressed in rags Miss Eva Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army, spoke for two hours in Carnegie Hall last night on Army work in London. The tops of her stockingless feet protruded through a pair of slippers, which were tied with strings, and a yellow handkerchief was about her throat. The sleeves of her dress were so torn that both elbows were plainly seen every time she made a gesture. Much of the time she had part of her audience in tears. The hall was packed, and hundreds of persons were sent away, although more than 1,000 were permitted to stand.

"GYP" LASHES BRITISH

French Novelist Says English Character is Rooted in Hypocrisy.

London, Jan. 30.—The following amusingly frank criticism of English manners by Gyp, the famous French novelist, has just been published in a London paper.

"English character is rooted in hypocrisy. To hear them talk, to read their books and to see their race, you would think them the purest nation in the world. Look below the surface and what do you find? Making allowance for differences of temperament, caused by race and climate influences, the English are exactly the same morally as any other nation. In what other country is religion so often used as a cloak for every kind of breach of confidence?"

HE SCORES ENGLISH WOMEN.

Gyp is equally unsparing of English men and women in society. He says: "It serves England right that she possesses so many caricatures of feminity. It is such a pity, too, for the women of England are very beautiful—much more so than the French women. Even considering the way they dress in London they have a chic all their own. The aristocratic Englishman is superb, and no other man dresses so well. He is chivalrous and his manners are absolutely correct, and he would be perfect if he never talked. Directly he opens his mouth I hate him."

On the boasted beauty of English home life, Gyp says: "In a climate like theirs they are obliged to sit indoors by the fire and expend all their energies on the interior. If it is a question of the beauty of family life there is more beauty in limiting the family so that you can do justice to two or three children and give each its full chance in life than in producing a dozen to fight for themselves."

WANT MORE PROTECTION

Halifax, Jan. 30.—The Tariff Commission held a session on Saturday at Londonderry, Messrs. Fielding and Paterson attending.

Mr. Thomas J. Drummond, president of the Londonderry Iron Company, asked for an increase of duty on pig iron and for a continuance of the bounty on pig iron. He claimed that the duty and bounty combined only amounted to $2.72 in 1908, and after June, 1907, there would be no bounty. He asked that a bounty of $2 a ton be paid for a further period of five years, and that the duty be increased so as to give protection equivalent to $2.50 per ton, regardless of the British preference. The chief competition was from England and Scotland.

Mr. B. F. Pearson, M.P.P., presented a strong argument, for a larger bounty to furnaces, using native ore, pointing out that pig iron, which is a basic product, gets little protection, and that practically all the competition has to be borne by the Nova Scotia ironmasters, who suffered from the British preference, while the interior manufacturers, by reason of the long rail haul, were much better protected.

EASY

Its Nice to Feel Easy.

Speaking of food a Kansas City woman says:

"I had always eaten any kind of food I fancied, and suffered no ill effects till a few years ago, when I began to have trouble with gas in the stomach, to which was added, three years ago, a condition commonly called 'heart-burn,' but which, of course, is in reality nothing but a bad condition of the stomach, due to the use of improper food.

"The trouble became chronic and affected me seriously in various ways. It depressed my spirits and filled my mind with gloomy forebodings, constantly. My mental powers seemed to grow dull and sluggish and my memory became so poor that I had difficulty in recalling even the occurrences of the previous day. The doctor diagnosed my trouble as 'nervous indigestion' and gave me medicine.

"One day I met a friend looking so blooming and wholesome that I asked her 'what will make me look like you?' When she answered that she owed it to Grape-Nuts food I laughed at her. For two long years I kept on eating everything that tempted my appetite and taking medicine between meals, till I became thoroughly disgusted with drugs—they gave me no lasting relief.

"Three months ago I heard from another friend who had been cured of a stomach trouble by the use of Grape-Nuts food. I was desperate enough for anything by this time, and determined to stop the drugs and give the new food a trial. I relished it from the beginning and have learned to like it so well that I can hardly eat without it.

"The result has been marvelous. My digestion has been restored, my stomach trouble, the 'heart-burn,' gloomy forebodings and melancholia, have all disappeared, my brain is clear and active and I can do as much housework in half a day as I could before in a whole day, and with little or no fatigue. It is such a relief to have steady quiet nerves once more. I feel like a new woman, living on a new plane, with new and most agreeable people.

"We have Grape-Nuts every meal at our house and my little 4-year-old generally calls for more between times." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle of Moncton N B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they woke up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrosone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrosone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, given me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrosone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the less of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrosone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

PETERBORO, JANUARY 3 1906

ONLY EXPERIMENTAL.

Why is it that nearly two years after the granting of a franchise to the Machine Telephone Company its system is not yet in operation in Peterboro, and the company is practically at a standstill? The question has been asked many times of late by shareholders, and the general public of Peterboro, but the answers given have been evasive and unsatisfactory.

The real reason, we believe, is that the automatic telephone is as yet in only an experimental stage, and this conviction has been strengthened by the conduct of the Machine Company during the past year and a half. It is still further confirmed by two reports of telephone experts, which have recently come under our notice.

Mr. H. W. Kent, General Superintendent of the British Columbia Telephone Company, has just lately returned to Vancouver after a month's trip East, during which he visited Winnipeg, St. Paul, Chicago, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Toronto, Peterboro and Montreal. In each of the above cities Mr. Kent looked into the workings of the telephone, and to the Vancouver "News-Advertiser" he thus reports the result of his observations:—

"Yes, I have just returned from the East. My trip was for the purpose of investigating the latest and most up-to-date telephone systems. I went to Chicago, where I spent several days in the factory of the Automatic Telephone Company and also the Western Electric Company; the latter are the largest manufacturers of manual switchboards in the world.

"I also observed the use of the two systems in Chicago. It appeared to me that the automatic was very little used and that the manual did nearly all the business. Nearly all the subscribers in the district served by both systems had two telephones.

"In Grand Rapids the Automatic appeared to be satisfactory to some of the subscribers, but to others it was not so. An automatic instrument, which I observed for two hours, required the service of an inspector twice to straighten it out during that time. There are at least four thousand duplicate telephones in Grand Rapids, and everyone I spoke to earnestly wished there was only one company operating in the city, as two were a nuisance and cost double.

"Mr. Fisher and other officials of the Automatic Company were very desirous of selling my company an automatic switchboard and instruments. I have not yet made a report to my directors, but I may say that I cannot recommend that system.

"The automatic is a most ingenious and pretty machine, but from a practical point of view it has so many drawbacks that I am satisfied our clients here will get better service through the latest manual central energy switchboard, such as we have already in operation in Victoria."

Mr. John Hasketh, Electrical Engineer in the Postmaster General's Department at Queensland, Australia, after completing a trip round the world, during which he made a thorough examination of telephone systems in various countries, has just made a report to his Government. His remarks on the automatic telephone appear in the Electrical Review, New York, and are as follows:—

"I have most seriously and carefully considered the question, and am obliged to report that there is not in operation today any system of automatic or semi-automatic telephone exchange that I could recommend to the Minister to adopt for the large centres in Australia. I desire, however, that this should not be taken as a wholesale condemnation of automatic systems. On the contrary, I consider that we must look to automatic assistances of manually operated boards for future developments. What I am compelled to believe is that at the present date the highest development of telephony is the common battery system as operated so extensively and successfully by all classes of users practically throughout the whole of the United States. It must not be forgotten that the operation of the common battery switchboard is very largely automatic, and is tending to become more so; but the automatic features are under the care and control of trained operators, where they can be applied to the best effect.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the common battery system will enable an administration to do more in building up a permanently satisfactory system than any other method in use at the present date. Further, there is nothing to indicate that this system will, if adopted, fail to give facilities for the adoption of newer methods as they may be devised."

The testimony of these gentlemen, both experienced and practical men, whose investigations should further enable them to speak with authority, is to the effect that automatic telephones are not a commercial success, being as yet practically in an experimental stage, and this finding seems to harmonize completely with our experience in Peterboro.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

"Agnes," I said, very softly, as she turned her beautiful face towards me, "to-morrow we shall be separated, perhaps never to meet again. After to-night it is possible, if not probable, that we shall not have another opportunity of being alone together. You don't know what your companionship has been to me. Before I met you, I was desperate. My life was not worth living; but you have changed it all—you have made me a better man. You have taught me to love you, and in that love I have found my belief in all that is good—even, I believe, a faith in God. Oh, Agnes, Agnes! I am not worthy to touch the ground you have walked on, but I love you as I shall never love woman again!"

She was trembling violently, but she did not speak. Her silence had the effect, however, of bringing me to myself, and it showed me my conduct in all its naked baseness.

"Forgive me," I whispered; "it was vile of me to have insulted you with this avowal. Forget—and forgive, if you can—that I ever spoke the words. Remember me only as a man, the most miserable in the whole world, who would count it heaven to be allowed to lay down his life for you or those you love. Oh, Agnes! is it possible that you can forgive me?"

"I have nothing to forgive," she said, looking up into my face with those proud, fearless eyes that seemed to hold all the truth in the world; "I am proud beyond measure to think you love me."

When I heard these precious words, I could have fallen at her feet and kissed the hem of her dress; but I dared not speak, lest I should forget myself in my joy, and say something for which I should never be able to atone. Agnes, however, was braver than I.

"Mr. Wrexford," she said, "you have told me that you love me, and now you are reproaching yourself for having done so. Is it because, as you say, you are poor? Do you think so badly of me as to imagine that that could make any difference to me?"

"I could not think so badly of you if I tried," I answered.

"You have said that you love me?"

"And I mean it. I love you as I believe man never loved woman before—certainly as I shall never love again."

Then, lowering her head so that I could not see her face, she whispered—

"Will it make you happier if I say that I love you?"

Her voice was soft as the breath of the evening rustling some tiny leaf, but it made my heart leap with a delight I had never known before, and then sink deeper and deeper down with a greater shame.

"God forbid!" I cried, almost fiercely. "You must not love me. You shall not do so, I am not worthy even that you should think of me."

"You are worthy of a great deal more," she answered. "Oh, why will you so continually reproach yourself?"

"Because, Agnes, my conscience will not let me be silent," I cried. "Because, Agnes, you do not know the shame of my life."

"I will not let you my 'shame,'" she replied. "Have I not grown to know you better than you know yourself?"

How little she knew of me! How little she guessed what I was! We were both silent again, and for nearly five minutes I was the first to speak. And it took all the pluck of which I was master to say what was in my mind.

"Agnes," I began, "this must be the end of such talk between us. God knows, if I were able in honor to do so, I would take your love, and hold you against the world. But, as things are, to do that would be to proclaim myself the most despicable villain in existence. You must not ask me why. I could not tell you. But some day, if by chance you should hear the world's verdict, try to remember that, whatever I may have been, I did my best to behave like a man of honor to you."

She did not answer, but dropped her head on to her hands and sobbed as if her heart would break. Then, regaining her composure a little, she stood up again and faced me. Holding out her hand, she said:

"You have told me that you love me. I have said that I love you. You say that we must part. Let it be so. You know best. May God have mercy on us both!"

I tried to say "Amen," but my voice refused to serve me, and as I turned and looked across the sea I felt the hot salt tears rolling down my cheeks. By the time I recovered my self-possession she had left me and had gone below.

CHAPTER X.

Seven o'clock next morning found us entering Table Bay, our eventful journey accomplished. Overhead towered the famous mountain from which the Bay derives its name, its top shrouded in its cloth. At its foot repelled the town with which my destiny seemed so vitally connected, and which I was approaching with so much trepidation. As I stood on the promenade deck and watched the land open out before me, my sensations would have formed a good problem for a student of character. With a perception rendered abnormally acute by my fear, I could discern the bent of the port authorities putting off to us long before I should, at any other time, have been able to see it. It had yet to be discovered whether or not it contained a police official in search of me. As I watched her dipping her nose into the seas, and then tossing the spray off from either bow, in her haste to get to us, she seemed to me to be like a bloodhound on my track. The closer she came the more violent by my heart began to beat, until it was as much as I could do to breathe. If only I could be certain that she was conveying an officer to arrest me, I felt I might find pluck enough to drop overboard and so end the pursuit for good and all. But I did not know, and the doubt upon the point drained me to remain where I was and brave the upshot.

As I watched her, I heard a footstep [illegible] behind me. I turned, [illegible] head to find that it was Miss Maybourne. She came up beside me, and having glanced ashore at the city nestling at the foot of the great mountain, and then at the launch coming out to meet us, turned to address me.

"Mr. Wrexford," she began, "I am going to ask you to do me a great favor, and I want you to promise me to grant it before I tell you what it is."

"I'm afraid I can hardly do that," I answered. "But if you will tell me what it is, I will promise to do it for you if it is in any way possible."

"It is this," she said: "I want you, in the event of my father not meeting me, to take me home. Oh don't say no, Mr. Wrexford, I want you so much to do it. Surely you will not deny me the last request I make to you?"

She looked so pleadingly into my face that, as usual, it required all my courage not to give way to her. But the risk was too great for me even to contemplate such a thing for a moment. My rescue of the daughter of Cornelius Maybourne, and my presence in Cape Town, would soon leak out, and then it would be only a matter of hours before I should be arrested. Whatever my own inclinations may have been, I felt there was nothing for it but for me to refuse.

"I am not my own master in this matter," I replied, with a bitterness which must have shown her how much in earnest I was. "It is impossible that I can remain so long in the place. There are the most vital reasons in the world against it. I can only ask you to believe that."

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1300 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mines and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $300,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $975 a ton, or about $1830 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 3 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $200 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

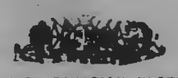
SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 5,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.



SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 or 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, wings and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.30 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of nine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Watch the Skin for Bad Blood

It Comes to the Surface in the Form of Pimples, Boils, Rashes and Humors

Where the blood is weak and depraved the system lacks staying power and force. Frightful ulcers and unsightly blotches break out, the skin becomes yellow and muddy, the eyes lack lustre.

Reader, does YOUR blood need attention? If so get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they filter out all poisons, eliminate disease-making germs, nourish and re-vitalize every drop of blood in the body.

No medicine exerts such a marvelous influence for good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they clear the complexion, make it exquisitely beautiful; they cure pimples, rashes and skin troubles of every kind. Read the following carefully:

"I was run down," writes Mr. Albert E. Dickson, of Fairbank P. O. My color was dull and unhealthy, appetite was poor, and I was constantly suffered from rheumatism. I found it hard to sleep, and felt worn out and tired all the time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills made an instant change. I grew stronger, my blood was revitalized, rheumatism vanished. To-day I am vigorous, cheery and healthy in every respect.

You will never realize what good health means until you feel the quickening vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every tired, overstrained, nervous man and woman should use this grand tonic regularly. Life will then be full of happiness and buoyant health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, by mail if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

QUEEN'S FATHER PASSED AWAY

King Christian of Denmark, Died Yesterday Afternoon.

Copenhagen, Jan. 29. — King Christian of Denmark died at 3.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The king passed away quietly, surrounded by the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess and children, and the Dowager Empress of Russia. The news of his death has caused widespread grief. Prince Royal Frederick, the king's eldest son, is heir to the throne.

The dead king was King Christian IX. He was the father of Queen Alexandria. He came to the throne in 1863.

ANY FOOL

Knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise one is he who carries one when it is only cloudy.

Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bed-fast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper precautionary, preventive and curative measures when first appear the ills which, if unchecked and uncured, grow into serious illness.

Impaired digestion and nutrition are generally the forerunners of a nervous or functional break-down.

Nature has provided remedies most abundantly for all such conditions in our native medicinal plants. With the use of chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength and as a proper sustained temperature, Dr. Pierce extracts from Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot and Mandrake (podophyllin) principles which, when combined in just the right proportions, constitute his widely famed "Golden Medical Discovery." It restores the tone of the stomach, the activity of the liver and the steadiness of the nerves, pouring vitality into the blood till the once sick and debilitated one is so renewed in health, strength and power that he can resume his work, whatever it is, with vigor and elasticity.

All medical authorities, of whatever school, agree that Hydrastis, or Golden Seal — one of the essential roots in the make-up of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery — is of very great value as a pure tonic, and as an alterative — valuable in chronic affections of the stomach, intestines and bladder.

Not only the Original but the best Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, have been much imitated but never equaled, as thousands attest. They're purely vegetable, being made up of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from the roots of American plants. Do not gripe. One or two for stomach corrective, three or four for cathartic.

—Mr. Thos. Eastwood, mine host, of the Buckhorn Hotel, was in the city yesterday, a guest of the Snowdon House. Mr. Eastwood reports that the roads are in splendid condition.

—Mr. J. H. Campbell, the popular Charlotte street tonorial artist who has been for the past week visiting friends in Franklin, Bethany, Millbrook and other points has returned home and once more is waiting on customers.

—Mrs. G. Harry Thompson (nee McBain) will receive for the first time since her marriage, at her home, No. 377 Hunter street, on Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday afternoon of this week, and afterwards on the 1st and 2nd Tuesday of the month.

—C. E. Fortier, Montreal; H. G. A. McCutcheon, Toronto; Chas. S. Procter, W. H. Fox, P. J. Rooney, W. H. Magee, Toronto; C. R. Holloway, Chicago; A. Morton, Toronto; A. C. Martha, New York; C. A. Hall, Morgan Jellett, Toronto; John Rose, Napanee, are guests of the Oriental.

—On Saturday Mrs. W. J. Morrow received word of the death of her brother, Thos. Delaney, which occurred at Florence, South Carolina. Mr. Delaney was in business at that point, with Mr. R. Munnester. It is fifteen years since Mr. Delaney left Peterboro, and when here was in the store of W. A. Sanderman & Co.

—Mr. Geo. Tait, of Toronto; a gentleman well known to many of our local citizens, yesterday when in the city, was heard to talk along the line of local property owners association in Toronto, and other cities. Several local gentlemen on hearing from Mr. Tait the advantages to be gained from such an association, decided to organize a Property Holders Association here, and steps will shortly be taken to get a large number of local citizens interested in such a movement.

MR. REID HURT

Local Expressman Laid Up For Several Days.

Yesterday morning, a well-known local expressman, Mr. Walter Reid, sustained not only a severe shock but very painful injuries that will likely lay him up for some days to come.

It seems that as Mr. Reid was, in course of his daily avocation, driving his express cart along Charlotte St., came to the G.T.R. Crossing, one of the wheels of his cart became caught between the parallel tracks.

The horse, feeling the sudden check to his progress, became alarmed and made a sudden leap forward, breaking the whiffle-tree, and pulling Mr. Reid out of the rig. He fell on his left hand and dropped forward on his face, receiving some severe bruises and scratches. His knee joint is also badly injured.

DOWNIE STREET DRAIN

Dangerous Creek Conditions May Be Altered by a General Tax.

At the next meeting of the City Council a deputation will address the city fathers with a view to having the Downie street creek diverted and the work paid for by general tax. The Downie street creek is running practically all the year and at high water it overflows its banks and floods a lot of property in that neighborhood. This drain has always been very unsatisfactory and it will cost considerable to make the necessary alterations and repairs.

The diversion, if made as requested, will be at Downie and Dublin streets. This will be four creeks that will have to be done by general tax. One in Ashburnham, one up north, which may be diverted at Barnardo avenue; Park street drain in the south end, and the Downie street drain.

Watch the Skin for Bad Blood

It Comes to the Surface in the Form of Pimples, Boils, Rashes and Humors

Where the blood is weak and degraded the system lacks staying power and force. Frightful ulcers and unsightly blotches break out, the skin becomes yellow and muddy, the eyes lack lustre.

Reader, does YOUR blood need attention? If so get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they filter out all poisons, eliminate disease-making germs, nourish and re-vitalize every drop of blood in the body.

No medicine exerts such a marvelous influence for good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they clear the complexion, make it exquisitely beautiful; they cure pimples, rashes and skin troubles of every kind. Read the following carefully;

No Appetite—Bad Color—Severe Debility

"I was run down," writes Mr. Albert E. Dickens, of Fairhaven-P. O. My color was dull and unhealthy, appetite was poor, and constantly suffered from rheumatism.

I found it hard to sleep, and felt worn out and tired all the time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills made an instant change. I grew stronger, my blood was restored, rheumatism vanished. To-day I am vigorous, cheery and healthy in every respect.

You will never realize what good health means until you feel the quickening vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every tired, overstrained, nervous man and woman should use this grand tonic regularly. Life will then be full of happiness and buoyant health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, by mail if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Cold again yesterday.

—Did you take in the Toronto trip yesterday?

—Finance Committee met last night and received the annual statement.

—The Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' church will meet this afternoon.

—The Water Commissioners met yesterday afternoon in the city clerk's office.

—It was rumored yesterday that Prof. Clark, of Trinity College, is to be married again.

—The annual meeting of St. Paul's church congregation will be held on Wednesday night.

—Quite a number missed the late [illegible] concert. "There's a reason."

—The German Conversation Club will meet at the St. Luke's rectory this evening at 7.30 o'clock.

—Mrs. R. F. McWilliams read a paper on Idylls of the King, last night before the Presbyterian Guild.

—Murray street Baptist church is holding evangelistic services every night this week, under charge of Rev. Mr. Scott.

Band at Street Railway Rink To-night. Good Skating and Tobogganing.

—A meeting of the new board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. will be held this afternoon for the election of officers.

—On Thursday night the return cubbo match between No. 1 ward and the city will be played at the Young Conservative Club rooms.

—It's a wise man this winter who, on going to bed, can bet whether next morning a fur-coat, rain-coat or a linen-duster will be in order.

—A very large number of local citizens went to Toronto yesterday afternoon on the special train, to hear the great concert in Massey Hall.

—Massey Hall was crowded last night and Miss Davies, our local and distinguished artiste made a debut that will long be remembered in Canada's musical circles.

—Venerable Archdeacon Warren, of Lakefield, and Rev. Canon Davidson, left yesterday to attend the Deanery of Northumberland meeting at Campbellford. Rev. Wm. Major will attend tomorrow.

—Peterboro City Council have adopted the Old Country custom of going to church in a body soon after the election. This is a custom which might with propriety be adopted in Lindsay.—Post.

—Mr. Robert Leary went to Toronto yesterday afternoon to consult with a representative of the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Company in reference to taking hold of that company's business in eastern Ontario.

—The Times offers its congratulations to Mr. Edward Green, 326 Water street, who today celebrates his 80th birthday. Mr. Green is one of our oldest and most respected citizens, having lived in Peterboro for upwards of 57 years.

—A fire alarm brought out the Fire Brigade yesterday shortly after nine o'clock. The wagons flew in short order to 33 Parnell street, to find that a chimney in Jas. Peter's house had been on fire. A pail of water extinguished the trouble without damage.

—"Straight goods now!" Did you take to the concert last night, as told your wife you were going to, or did you sneak up town on arrival at the Union Station, and tell the folks on return how you enjoyed the music?

—Mr. A. Rountree, the George St. grocer, as per his adv. for tomorrow's issue, does not believe in keeping him-self and his employes working at night, when people are at home enjoying the comforts of life. On and after this date he will close his large grocery establishment at 6.30, except on Saturdays, and the days before holidays.

—The St. Catharines Star-Journal, of January 27th, contains a loaded display adv. offering $10 for return of two cats, "one full grown and one a kitten" that were lost in that city recently. We have not those two cats, but there is a large supply of assorted cats, mainly Toms of vigorous voice, and untiring energy, which make night hideous round this city, that the advertiser can have, coupled with one blessing, and no $10 demanded either!

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

QUEEN'S FATHER PASSED AWAY

King Christian of Denmark, Died Yesterday Afternoon.

Copenhagen, Jan. 29. — King Christian of Denmark died at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The king passed away quietly, surrounded by the Crown Prince and the Crown Princess and children, and the Dowager Empress of Russia. The news of his death has caused widespread grief. Prince Royal Frederick, the king's eldest son, is heir to the throne.

The dead king was King Christian IX. He was the father of Queen Alexandria. He came to the throne in 1863.

ANY FOOL

Knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise one is he who carries one when it is only cloudy.

Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bed-fast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper precautionary, preventive and curative measures when first appear the ills which, if unchecked and uncured, grow into serious illness.

Impaired digestion and nutrition are generally the forerunners of a nervous or functional break-down.

Nature has provided remedies most abundantly for all such conditions in our native medicinal plants. With the use of chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength and at a proper sustained temperature, Dr. Pierce extracts from Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, medicinal principles which, when combined in just the right proportions, constitute his widely famed "Golden Medical Discovery." It restores the tone of the stomach, the activity of the liver and the steadiness of the nerves, pouring vitality into the blood till the once sick and debilitated man is so restored in health, strength and power that he can resume his work, whatever it is, with vigor and elasticity.

All medical authorities, of whatever school, agree that Hydrastis, or Golden Seal—one of the essential roots in the make-up of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—is of very great value as a pure tonic, and as an alterative—valuable in chronic affections of the stomach, intestines and bladder.

Not only the Original but the best Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, have been much imitated but never equalled, as thousands attest. They're purely vegetable, being made up of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from the roots of American plants. Do not gripe. One or two for stomach corrective, three or four for cathartic.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. John Ross, of Napanee, is in the city.

—Mr. E. M. Best went up to Toronto yesterday afternoon.

—On Saturday Mrs. W. J. Morrow received word of the death of her brother, Thos. Delaney, which occurred at Florence, South Carolina. Mr. Delaney was in business at that point with Mr. R. Manchester. It is fifteen years since Mr. Delaney left Peterboro, and when here was in the store of W. A. Sanderson & Co.

—Mr. Geo. Tait, of Toronto; a gentleman well known to many of our local citizens, yesterday when in the city, was heard to talk along the line of local property owners association in Toronto, and other cities. Several local gentlemen on hearing from Mr. Tait the advantages to be gained from such an association, decided to organize a Property Holders Association here, and steps will shortly be taken to get a large number of local citizens interested in such a movement.

MR. REID HURT

Local Expressman Laid Up For Several Days.

Yesterday morning, a well-known local expressman, Mr. Walter Reid, sustained not only a severe shock but very painful injuries that will likely lay him up for some days to come.

It seems that as Mr. Reid was, in course of his daily avocation, driving his express cart along Charlotte St., came to the G.T.R. Crossing, one of the wheels of his cart became caught between the parallel tracks.

The horse, feeling the sudden check to his progress, became alarmed and made a sudden leap forward, breaking the whiffle-tree, and pulling Mr. Reid out of the rig. He fell on the left knee and dropped forward on his face, receiving some severe bruises and scratches. His knee joint is also badly injured.

DOWNIE STREET DRAIN

Dangerous Creek Conditions May Be Altered by a General Tax.

At the next meeting of the City Council a deputation will address the city fathers with a view to having the Downie street creek diverted and the work paid for by general tax. The Downie street creek is running practically all the year and at high water it overflows its banks and floods a lot of property in that neighborhood. This drain has always been very unsatisfactory and it will cost considerable to make the necessary alterations and repairs.

The diversion, if made as requested, will be at Downie and Dublin streets. This will be four weeks that will have to be done by general tax. One in Ashburnham, one up north, which may be diverted at Barnardo avenue; Park street drain in the south end, and the Downie street drain.

MAN MAY SOON FLY LIKE A BIRD

Holland Genius of the Submarine, Says it is Easier Than Walking.

ALL TO USE IN A YEAR

Muscular Power Instead of Engines to Drive the Smaller Aerial Machines.

New York, January 29.—"The simplest mode of locomotion is soaring in the air and it can be done with the least effort," said John P. Holland, the genius of submarine fame, in discussing his experiments with flying machines.

"Within twelve months people will be flying in the air," he continued, "and it will become the most popular method of locomotion, because it is perfectly safe."

Mr. Holland has been interested in aerial navigation for a great many years, and he began building airships twelve years ago. It has only been within the last year that he has hit upon this ideal that he claims makes man's flight practicable. Mr. Holland has applied for a patent upon a flying machine that he has been working upon for the last year, and as soon he gains control of the rights he will complete the machine and have it given a public test.

EASY FOR MAN TO FLY.

"Man flight without the use of an engine or propeller is perfectly practicable," he said. "I have proved that the principle is all right. People did not seem to understand the nature of flight, and imagined all kinds of difficulties, where as a matter of fact it is the simplest method of manual locomotion. No method of locomotion is so simple so soaring, and it requires so little mechanical energy to continue it.

"The reason people haven't succeeded in aerial navigation so far is that they haven't observed effectively the mechanism of flight of nature, and some so-called authorities who fancy they understand perfectly the mechanism of nature declare that human flight forever will be impossible, thus discouraging persons who might make the attempt and possibly succeed.

"It requires very little, indeed, in addition to what has already been accomplished to make aeroplane flight practicable. Only some trifling oversights on the parts of those who have experimented have stood in the way of success. Their aeroplanes usually are too large for the power and driven at too low a rate of speed, but there is also something—a simple device of great effectiveness—which I hope to see in use very soon.

DANGER IN AEROPLANE.

"The use of the aeroplane, when it is perfected in this way, will be a great deal more dangerous than the use of the machine that will not require outside power, because an engine may break or stick, whereas the flying man's muscles are very much more reliable; but it will be possible to attain very much more speed with an aeroplane than with a flying machine.

"The aeroplane will have the advantage over the latter, also, in the ability to carry passengers and freight for very long distances at an exceedingly rapid rate of speed and at very small expense. They would fit admirably for carrying the mails, but I am afraid that some operators of aeroplanes would make considerable trouble for the revenue officers if they desired.

"People said that the submarine problem could never be solved. I solved it, though. They say that the flight of man is impossible; I have proved the practicability of flight, not by actual flight, but by a device that can be made easily and quickly, and which is as simple as it is practicable.

SAYS DEVICE IS SIMPLE.

"It didn't require genius or study or an adventure to discover this device, but simply observation of nature and it is surprising to me that everybody is not flying today.

"I have started to build four machines during the past twelve years, and when near the completion of each I have discovered an imperfection and destroyed the machines. I didn't destroy the last machine, but worked out the improvements, changing the entire original idea of flying machines."

Mr. Holland said the machine that he was working on now was not as large as predecessors. It has two sets of wings that measure sixteen feet from tip to tip. One of the wings is for the arms and the other for the legs. He says that it is not necessary to work both hands and feet at the same time unless extraordinary speed is desired.

NIAGARA FALLS OWNERSHIP

COURTS WILL BE CALLED UPON TO DECIDE.

Whether it Gives the Canadian Water to Ontario or Government is the Dispute.

Toronto, January 30.—The courts will be called upon to decide the ownership of Niagara Falls before the Dominion or the United States government can take steps to prevent them being piped to turbines by the power companies. The point in dispute on this side of the line is whether the British North America Act gives the Canadian water to Ontario or to the Federal government.

A recent judgment indicated the ownership of the river bed was with the Province, but the water belonged to the Dominion. Both governments and the Dominion have charged power companies to use the water.

The United States has a similar ownership dispute to settle with the State of New York concerning the power rights on the American side of the line.

The right to take 40,000 feet of water for service has been granted. Of this, 12,000 comes from the Canadian side. The appearance of the falls is already affected, though the whole of the water granted has not yet been made use of.

The International Waterways Commission is urging that the question of ownership should at once be settled, and steps taken to preserve the falls.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Last night an Englishman, accompanied by his wife, and an accent broad enough to span the great ditch, called at the police station, endeavoring to procure a summons for certain parties with whom they used to board, and whom the pair alleged, threaten to give them trouble.

P.C. Stewart, on duty with commendable patience listened to the tale o' woe, and when they both said that they were not so much afraid of being done bodily harm as having scandalous (?) tales told the neighborhood, into which they yesterday moved, advised the pair to go home and take no notice of threats alleged to have been made.

The policeman asked the man, "Could you swear that you are in fear of your life or of bodily injury at the hands of those people?" The lady chipped in, at once, saying "Afraid of her! No! I should not be afraid of a hundred like her!"

It seems that the couple had boarded at a house on Louis street, when a dispute arose, mainly concerning some of the pair's furniture, which was too bulky to get into the room they rented. The landlady threw their furniture out, and then the trouble started.

Acting on P.C. Stewart's advice the couple went home to their new quarters on Bolivar street, without binding the Louis street people over to keep the peace.

The husband described in graphic terms, how "Lawat nodgit the holday said as 'ow she would follow them up and tell all the neighbors about them!"

MARVEL OF WIRELESS

New Submarine Boat Steered From Shore by Use of Ether Waves

New York, January 30.—Five submarine torpedo boats to be operated by wireless telegraphy have been shipped to an eastern government. They are the invention of Henry Shoemaker, of Jersey City. The boat is so constructed that it may be launched from the deck of a vessel or from shore, and thereafter be controlled at will by the operator on the vessel or shore from which the boat may be launched.

At the point from which the boat is to be controlled there is a complete wireless apparatus, consisting of a transmitter, the usual masts, generators and other appliances. This marvelous new engine of destruction can be steered by ether waves with far more deadly accuracy than if piloted by the most courageous skipper.

Exhaustive tests have proved its practicability. Representatives of the foreign government to which five of the boats have been shipped, witnessed several tests a short time ago and were so favorably impressed that they at once paid for the five boats. Each boat cost in the neighborhood of $15,000, the engine alone costing more than $1,500. The boat complete weighs six tons.

LOCAL ARTISTE'S SUCCESS

MISS HELEN DAVIES WINS PLAUDITS OF TORONTO.

Immense Audience in Massey Hall, Toronto, Welcomes Peterboro's Accomplished Vocalist

Yesterday morning scores of local citizens who had attended the Grand National Chorus concert in Massey Hall, Toronto, the preceding evening, not only spoke most enthusiastically of the great success of the whole entertainment, but in particular of the part taken by Peterboro's rising young talented vocalist, Miss Helen Davies. Judging by the general tone of conversation of those present at the concert, their appreciation of Miss Davies' signal success, particularly in the exquisite part taken by her, was characterized by a local critic in Peterboro's possession of a voice, ably so highly endowed with a sweet voice and showing evidence of skilful training.

As the concert, as a whole, has already been criticized, and favorably by the press of Toronto, it is unnecessary to have, at this late hour, a resume of the whole entertainment with reference to entertainers.

Peterboro, both from its large number of lovers of the divine art of music, and its inherent pride in local performers of all kinds, sent up a good quota to Toronto.

The arrangements for transportation were very successfully carried out, about 110 local people taking advantage of the special 4 o'clock G.T.R. train, arriving here about 2.30 a.m.

The whole entertainment was a marked success; the chorus of over two hundred voices did excellent work throughout the evening. The most important of the choral numbers was, of course, "The Flag of England." The difficult solo parts were taken by Miss Helen Davies, who certainly has every reason to be proud of her success last evening. Her appearance was the occasion of an ovation, such as is not often given to such a young vocalist. The solo called for brilliant execution and dramatic expression and these were given with much effect. At the close of the number the applause was universal, appreciative and loud in its demand for an encore. Miss Davies was presented with two beautiful boquets one being from her local admirers.

Taking part in the grand chorus were several musicians, whose faces are familiar here, viz.; Miss G. Tate, Miss A. Winnifirth, Mr. A. L. Davis, and Mr. W. B. Pearce.

Those who went up from Peterboro to attend the concert were as follows; Mr. A. A. Hollingshead; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hatton, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Elliott, Miss Ina Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. John Crane, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hill, Prof. and Mrs. Alfred Davies, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Poussette, Mr. and Mrs. H. LeBrun, Miss Bernadette Hackett, Mr. W. H. NEW SCHOOL HALL

St. Peter's School Hall to be Opened on Monday, Feb. 26th.

A grand concert will inaugurate the formal opening of the large, well arranged and architecturally beautiful hall, which occupies the top floor of the new St. Peter's Separate school, corner of Reid and Brock Sts., on Monday night, Feb. 26th.

The new school is one of our handsomest and most business-like buildings, and is admirably, not only situated, but arranged for the purpose intended in a manner well worthy of emulation.

As noted, on Feb. 26th, a grand concert will be held in honor of the event and the best local talent will contribute.

It is hoped to have the formal opening of the new school at the same time on the next day following, but definite announcement will be made later.

A Popular Bank Clerk.

Galt Reporter: Another evidence of what close application to business means to the young man of today has been given in the promotion of Mr. Gladstone Main from the position of teller in the Peterboro branch of the Bank of Montreal to the accountancy of the new bank just opened at Fenelon Falls. "Glad," as he is familiarly known, is not yet 21 years of age, and yet with an experience of little more than three years, he has worked himself up to one of the most responsible positions in the gift of one of the strongest banks in the Dominion. "Glad" is busy receiving the congratulations of his friends, who hope that the near future will see him still further advanced.

War is Said to Be Now Unavoidable

Castro Prepares to Resist a French Invasion, and Will Force Apathetic Venezuelans to Fight.

New York, Jan. 31.—A Willemastadt, Curacao, despatch to the Herald, dated Monday, says: "A prominent Venezuelan, who has arrived here from Caracas says that President Castro, while supposed to be resting at Maracay, has been actively engaged in visiting the garrisons and preparing for an expected invasion by France.

"Governors of the states have been called to the capital for instructions, troops are mobilizing and the impressment of the army has begun. The people are apathetic, but will be forced to fight, though they blame President Castro for going too far with M. Taigny.

"Conservative opinion is that President Castro is putting on a bold front at the last moment to save his presidency from compliance with the expected demands from France for an apology and a salute to the flag.

WAR IS UNAVOIDABLE.

"President Castro has sent an extremely violent note to France, and has personally appealed to the Kaiser to intervene to save German interests in Venezuela. He made the same request to England, but was refused on the ground of British cordiality with France.

"Foreign representatives here believe that war is unavoidable, and contend that whatever the result of the war the nations should take action, as by President Castro's declaration that diplomats lose all immunity immediately relations are severed, he refuses to send ministers abroad, reducing Venezuela to the plane of countries accorded consular officers only."

The two rink competition for the District Cup, District No. 2, was played yesterday afternoon and evening, five clubs defeated—Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, Oshawa and Cobourg, leaving Port Hope, Lakefield, Keene, Lindsay and Peterboro. Peterboro rinks played with Keene and Lakefield with Lindsay. The skips are;

Lakefield—L. Payne and Mr. H. Simpson.

Port Hope—W. D. Stephens and D. McMillan.

Lindsay—D. F. L. Sutton and J. W. Ridgath.

Keene — W. Campbell and R. N. Ingle.

Peterboro—Thos Brightman and T. F. Matthews.

Referee—Col. E. B. Edwards.

The winners of the six districts have the privilege of playing for the Governor's prize at the final games in Toronto.

• • • •

The match during the afternoon, was well contested, but the ice was wet and heavy. Many straight shots either fell short though putting on the usual head of steam, or flew past the coveted circle by an overdose of muscle.

The result of the afternoon's play was that Peterboro carried off the honors from Keene, and Lindsay gave Lakefield a bad razzle-dazzle. Early during the evening Port Hope and Peterboro locked horns with the result that the Lakeside town won out. Port Hope will play off the finals in Lindsay.

• • • •

Arrangements have been made whereby a long standing dispute as to relative merits, on the ice, of Mine Host W. Snowdon, proprietor of the hotel of that ilk, and Mr. Wm. Croft, who supplies ginger beer to the thirsty souls of Peterboro will now be played. A challenge to a curling match for the oyster supper, was issued yesterday, and promptly accepted. This vindication of the claim for better player of the two will be settled some evening this week. It was yesterday rumored that Mr. Croft has a rink made in his back yard and practises thereon nightly, to the accompaniment of the soprano and mezzo-diapason voices of the neighbors' cats, whilst Mr. Snowden is daily wearing out the ice in the Charlotte street rink, morning, noon and night. A great game is looked for and three dozen brooms have been ordered for the event.

The betting at present favors neither candidate for the honors in this competition, being six on Snowden against half a dozen on Croft.

LINDSAY'S LAXITY

Lindsay's Water Evidently Far Inferior to our Local Supply.

Mr. P. P. Burrows, writing in the Lindsay Post, charges the Lindsay Water Commissioners with great looseness in the manner of carrying on the waterwork's management of that town. In speaking of a proposed expenditure of $30,000 for a system of "inefficient filter beds," he recommends in preference, that the town sink exploratory wells and that "the artesian supply of water thus gained be conveyed by gravitation to the pumphouse. He continues, "at any rate we would not be drinking water so filthily polluted as is the present supply."

Peterboro's water by comparison must be as a diamond to a hard coal clinker.

Mr. Burrowe charges that the system in which Lindsay's Commissioners run their office is most extravagant. The have, he claimed, adequate office room in the town building free, but rented an office at $126 a year, at a secret meeting, and engaged a special clerk at $60 a month. Then he says that the accounts are "audited" by an official belonging to them, in fact their treasurer, i. e., the accounts are audited by the same party keeping them. This would make easy auditing. Regarding the financial standing of the Lindsay waterworks, Mr. Burrowe says, "We have $91,175 of our town's credit invested, and I find in the report, 'Dominion Bank overdraft $3,-966.86.' 'Profit and loss $2,213 57.' Is this a very healthy showing?

We do things better in Peterboro.

A GLENGARRY DIVINE

Rev. H. D. Leitch, Minister of Church Noted in Popular Novel, was Here.

Yesterday a rev. gentleman, the pastor of a church which is prominently referred to in one of the recent successful works of fiction, passed through the city yesterday. The gentleman referred to was Rev. H. D. Leitch, Presbyterian minister of St. Elmo, Glengarry county, who is on his way to visit friends at Belleville.

Mr. Leitch is pastor of Gordon church, which is frequently spoken of in Ralph Connor's well-known novel, "The Man from Glengarry." The church was built in 1864 and near it stands the old log church which is often in evidence in the story. The latter is a very picturesque structure and is a source of much interest to visitors in that locality. Gallic service is held in it occasionally.

MR. A. C. DUNLOP DEAD

Last night at the corner of Water and Murray streets, there passed away one of the oldest and best known citizens of this part of Ontario in the person of Mr. A. C. Dunlop. The late Mr. Dunlop has been ailing for many months, and had become so feeble that for the past year or so, he was compelled to employ the services of a trained male nurse, to accompany him who never he went out. The late Mr. Dunlop was a gentleman of large means, and universally respected and beloved by all who knew him. He leaves to mourn his loss, a widow and one daughter, living at home. The deceased was about 80 years old. The funeral arrangements, under charge of Mr. Comstock, have not yet been arranged; full information will be given in tomorrow's issue.

PROCLAIMED KING

Frederick VIII of Denmark One of the Most Popular European Monarchs

Copenhagen, Denmark, January 31.—Frederick the Eighth was proclaimed King of Denmark at noon yesterday. The ceremony only lasted a few minutes, and fifty thousand people were present.

The King, in a short speech, declared that he would rule in accordance with the example set him by his father. King Frederick received a warm welcome from the assembled crowd. King Frederick is the oldest son of the late King Christian IX.

FAMOUS BUGLE ON SALE

Was Bid up to £1050 But Reserved Price £1500

London, January 30.—At the auction galleries of Messrs. Glendining, Argyll street, London, the bugle used by Trumpeter Wm. Brittain, in the charge of the Light Brigade, was offered for sale. It bears signs of very rough usage, there being a large hole in the bell. Trumpeter Brittain was attached to the 17th Lancers, one of the regiments which made up the Light Brigade, and on the day of the charge was Lord Cardigan's orderly. It has been traditional history in the Brittain family that the hole in the bell of the bugle was caused by a Cossack with his lance as he rode by Brittain, who fell mortally wounded on the field. The Cossack endeavored to get possession of the bugle, but as it was fastened securely to the trumpeter, he was unsuccessful. At a sale in London in 1896, a bugle which belonged to Trumpet Major Joy, of the Heavy Brigade, was sold for £750. At that sale a testimonial was furnished from Lord Lucan that Joy was trumpeter to Lord Lucan, and there was also a statement by Sir George Wombwell that Joy sounded the charge.

It is pointed out by some that the charge was originated by Lord Lucan and that Joy would give effect to that order, whilst, in turn, Brittain, as Lord Cardigan's trumpeter, would follow the instruction given. When the regiment returned to England the commanding officer of the 17th Lancers presented Brittain's bugle to the latter's father, who had served 17 years in the regiment. The interest in the sale in Messrs. Glendinning's was accentuated by the presence of Mr. James Mustard, of Trickenham, formerly of the 17th Lancers, and a survivor of the charge, wearing his several medals. The auctioneer, Mr. Glendinning, said that they had been told there were a good many Balaklava bugles on the market, but he thought they could rely upon the one before them as being the one that sounded the charge. Here Mr. Mustard, the survivor, interrupted the proceedings by saying, "That's poor Brittain's bugle. I heard the charge, and he fell into my arms. I was also wounded, and was with him in the hospital." In response to the auctioneer's invitation, there was an opening bid of £50, which was immediately responded to by five and ten pounds. Ultimately by offers of £50 the sum of £1,050 was reached. There being no further offer, the auctioneer said the bugle would not be sold. The owner had set a reserve of at least £1,500 upon it.

A JEWISH FATHERLAND

Egypt or Asia Minor Suggested For the Settlement.

Brussels, Jan. 30.—The general Jewish conference called to consider the state of the Jews in Russia, formally opened its session here today under the presidency of David Wolffsohn, chairman of the International Zionist Committee. In his opening address President Wolffsohn urged the establishment of an international committee, either in Berlin or in London to watch the interests of the Russian Jews. A motion to that effect went over until a later session. M. Mandelstamm, of Kieff, presented a report of the condition in Russia, from which it was gathered that the Jews had no hope of an improvement in their status resulting from a revolution or government reforms. The only solution of the problem, according to the report would be the foundation of a Jewish Fatherland.

M. Kohan, of Bialoieff, thought the eventual emigration of all the Jews from Russia was inevitable. He proposed Egypt or Asia Minor as available for a Jewish settlement.

Delegates from Germany, Austria-Hungary, Great Britain, Russia, France, Italy, Denmark and Argentina, are present, but the American delegates have not arrived.

TRYING IT ON THE DOG

Canines Become Unhealthy Under Impure Food Tests.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Jan. 31.—The Philadelphia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is hot on the trail of a Niagara Falls chef who is known throughout the country. The society alleges cruelty to dogs during the last few weeks. Some time ago the chef was designated by the National Culinary Society make tests of impure food and then formulate reports to assist in promoting the passage of the pure food bill now before Congress. In order to accomplish the best results, the chef decided to make tests on dogs, and he secured four Quaker City canines. After feeding them on present-day food stuffs he brought them to this city, and continued the treatment, with this result, it is said, that the animals soon became emaciated and unhealthy.

The other day the chef went to Philadelphia to report his progress, and he had been in the city only a short time when he was accosted by a member of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who notified him to stop his "barbarity" or suffer the prosecution of the society.

He explained that the experiments were not being made with a view to maltreating the dogs, but to protect humanity from unscrupulous food purveyors. This explanation failed to mollify the wrath of the agent and a heated controversy ensued.

TO EXTEND SYSTEM.

Orillia, Jan. 31.—The Fire, Water, Light and Power Committee of the Town Council has decided to extend the electric wires to the Narrows, and will supply lights to residents of Atherley, in the county of Ontario, as well as to those living on this side of the bridge.

EDISON IS NOW IN NEW QUEST

WANTS OFFICERS WHO PAY

Rev. Mr. Parkhurst Chief Speaker at "Anti-Graft" Meeting in New York.

New York, January 30.—Thomas A. Edison hopes soon to announce new discoveries, and this announcement may come next month, when he will be 59 years old. In a talk today he said it depended on how certain problems "panned out." "It would give me all the pleasure imaginable," he continued, "to make an announcement every day in the year, but it is mere foolishness to express hopes when all the world wants or is concerned in are results. There are far more vital and immediate discoveries to be made."

"For example?" he was asked.

"Well, the control of the energy, stored in coal, directly and without waste," replied Mr. Edison.

"Is it a possibility?"

"Yes, it is not only possible, but probable of discovery. Some day soon it will be done. Ninety per cent. of the energy stored in coal is now lost. If a means can be devised by which this enormous waste is saved, it will materially revolutionize and vastly cheapen the production of power. It will enable an ocean liner, of say, 20,000 horse power, to cross the Atlantic in unprecedented time, and with an expenditure of about one-tenth the amount of fuel now required—250 tons instead of 2,000 tons. It will enable an engine to draw an express train from New York to Buffalo on a two-bushel consumption of coal. Coal will be put in a receptacle, agencies applied for developing its energies with an inappreciable wastage, and through these agencies electric power of any necessary degree will be forthcoming. Yes, it can and will soon be done; some of the details are already mastered, practically. That problem seems to hold the greatest promise, to my way of think."

HIS MAJESTY IN LONDON

King Edward will Open the British Parliament in Person.

London, Jan. 31.—King Edward arrived in town yesterday, and Queen Alexandra proceeded to Sandringham, where she will remain until she goes to Copenhagen to attend the funeral of her father, King Christian.

King Edward has decided to open Parliament in person, but the Queen will not be present, and the state pageantry probably will be curtailed. The levees will be held as arranged, February 20 and February 28, but the drawing-rooms have been indefinitely postponed. The bell in the Curfew tower of Windsor Castle on the day of the funeral, will be tolled eighty-seven times, beginning at noon, representing the age of King Christian.

THE LAST SAD CHAPTER

Steamships and Indian Parties are Out Hunting for Bodies From the Valencia Wreck.

Victoria, B.C., Jan. 31.—Since the return of the Salvor from the scene of the Valencia wreck, there is little to add to the mournful story. Several tugs are now at the scene, patrolling the beach and coast to discover bodies afloat or ashore. Indian parties are also working, but hereafter they will confine themselves to working along the coasts of the Islands of Barclay Sound, or further north. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company are taking steps to have a thorough patrol established along the whole beach from Bamfield to Carmanah, and yesterday the tug Wyadda left Seattle with a crew of hardy prospectors, men accustomed to shore work, to relieve the volunteer force now at work there. They carried a good supply of provisions and will relieve the splendid force of men, consisting of Captain Logan and a number of others, who have been on duty continuously since the wreck occurred, and whose unremitting efforts on behalf of the survivors can never be adequately commended.

The Pacific Coast people have also chartered the Lorne from this port and have equipped her for the work in question. Most of the survivors and the bodies recovered have been taken to Seattle.

SEVERAL BODIES FOUND.

Capt. Beals reports the body of Fred Erickson, of Oilweiss, Iowa, taken one mile east of there. A purse containing $60.75 has an identification card from the Woodland Accident Association. Near Cape Beale also there are three bodies of young and middle aged men. One has a silver watch, but there is nothing else to identify either. Another body found may be Miss Van Wyck. She is described as about twenty years old, with light complexion and dark hair. There are two rings on the left hand, one set with a red stone and the other with large pearls. She has a dark skirt with two rows of buttons.

COL. MANN ARRESTED.

New York, Jan. 30.—Col. William D. Mann, editor and publisher of Town Topics, was arrested in his office on Saturday on the complaint of Robert J. Collier, who charges him with perjury at the trial of Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's Weekly. He was released on $10,000 bail, furnished by his daughter, Miss Helen Mann Wray.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well.

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

PETERBORO, JANUARY 1906

OUR GREAT FUTURE.

Lord Strathcona, Canadian High Commissioner at London, who has been visiting Canada and conferring with the Government at Ottawa, has taken occasion to reiterate his faith in the great future of the country he represents. He declares that before the end of the century Canada will have a larger population than Great Britain and Ireland combined. That is to say, if this prophecy is fulfilled, her people will number nearly 120,000,000 in a hundred years. What will happen then none of us are likely to know, but it would be interesting to know what some of the "statesmen" of this country, who in the past have hardly been aware of Canada's existence, would think if they could have a foreview.

BRITAIN'S GROWING TRADE.

Some interesting figures which might seem to have a bearing on the present political struggle going on in Great Britain have just been issued by the British Board of Trade. According to these the trade of Great Britain for the year 1905 reached the enormous aggregate, exclusive of re-exports, of $4,674,514,765, an amount which has never been before reached. It exceeds the record figures of 1904 by $217,500,000. With re-exports included, the total increase over 1904 is $235,000,000. While in some lines of industry there is and has been great stagnation, in others there has been during the past year the greatest activity. That the total trade of the country has reached the largest figure in its history seems to show that John Bull is still doing a pretty big business.

THEY DO NOT BRAGG.

Those who do not care to look further than the ends of their noses are fond of declaring that every feature their town boasts is undoubtedly the greatest in the world. This familiar chorus is getting too tame to even provoke a smile. A dose of travel, or honest reading about other lands, would purge our public oracles of this lamentable ailment. Nearly forty years ago, speaking of London only, there was a retail store which in the extent of its trade and astonishing array of its facilities and factories eclipsed all the great dry goods stores in the United States, probably does so still. London has always had its proportion of these stupendous institutions, for six millions of inhabitants need palatial shops, but it is the good old English rule to let deeds do the trumpet braying in business, and the papers are conservative enough to preserve their dignity by giving news and intellectual criticism rather than windy tattle and blatant puffery.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A woman's magazine prints fourteen columns about Miss Roosevelt's wedding, chiefly describing her dresses. With characteristic enthusiasm, it neglected to mention the name of the man she is going to marry.

A cable states that the British elections will be over on February 7, but it neglects to mention what year.

THE NEW BARRACKS

Minister of Public Works Approves Plans—The Cost will be $350,000

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—The Minister of Public Works has approved of the plans for the new barracks for the permanent corps at Toronto, and in the course of a few days tenders will be invited. The three principal buildings will be on the west side of Jameson avenue, and will constitute one side of the parade ground, which north and south will have a depth of one thousand feet, while east and west it extends from the administration building practically to the Humber a distance of fully three-quarters of a mile.

The administration building is at the head of the parade ground on the Jane street side, the ornamental gateway facing Annette street. This building will be 189 feet by 44 feet. Flanking it north and south are the men's quarters, each 268 feet by 44, and accommodation for 192 men in each of these barrack buildings.

The total cost will be $350,000.

KING EDWARD RECOVERS

His Injured Ankle Has Ceased to be Troublesome.

London, Jan. 30.—King Edward, who, since the accident in November last, when he fractured his ankle, has been spending most of his time at country homes, will come to London tomorrow. It is learned that the injury to his ankle was more serious than reported at the time. It has required almost continuous rest and the most careful treatment, but His Majesty now has almost entirely recovered. His health otherwise is excellent. He pursues an active outdoor life as much as possible. Even while suffering from his injured ankle he continues shooting from a pony cart or automobile.

KICKED TO DEATH.

Miss Annie Lamprey, of Goderich, Almost Instantly Killed.

Goderich, Jan. 30.—Miss Annie Lamprey, daughter of Wm. Lamprey, Huron Road, was almost instantly killed yesterday while driving home from Knox church in town. The horse kicked for some cause, striking the unfortunate young lady twice and causing her to fall out of the buggy. She uttered a cry, managed to walk to the side of the road and there fell dead. Miss Lamprey was well known, and much esteemed, and the sad occurrence is a shock to the community.

THOSE LIQUOR "SPOTTERS"

[To the Editor of The Times.]

Dear Sir,—It is well known, specially by the hotelkeepers of this city and those who have much business in the hotels, that there have been a couple of detectives working the city for the last few days. Their personal description is now public property. One thing I would like to ask your valuable paper, and that is: have these men, no matter who they are working for, whether for private parties or for the Ontario License Department, any more right to break the law than a private citizen? These men have asked several hotelkeepers for liquor in outside hours, that is when it is unlawful to sell liquor. I understand that a private citizen, who, after regular selling hours, asks for liquor, is liable to a fine. Are not these detectives liable to a fine for breaking the law as much as when a private citizen?

These men may be alright when assisting the Peterboro inspector, to try and catch the hotelkeepers who might break the liquor laws, but I don't think the law gives them the right to do so by unlawful means.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

[We do not know the exact law on this point, but our correspondent can obtain the information wanted from Mr. Cochrane, License Inspector.—Ed. Times.]

Diplomatic Corps Protest.

Caracas, Jan. 29. — Twenty-five members of the diplomatic corps today delivered to the Venezuelan government a formal joint note, stating that they could not accept Venezuela's position that M. Taigny, the former French charge d'affaires here, had been deprived of his official character, and that he ranked only as a French citizen at the time of his forced departure from this country. The diplomats have communicated the text of this note to their respective governments.

A French line steamer which arrived at La Guaira today was granted the usual privilege of communicating with the shore.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

I saw large tears rise in her eyes, though she turned hurriedly away in the hope that I should not see them. To see her weep, however, was more than I could bear, and under the influence of her trouble my resolutions began to give way. After all, if I was destined to be arrested, I might just as well be taken at Mr. Maybourne's house as elsewhere—perhaps better. Besides, it was more than likely, in the event of no warrant having been issued, Mr. Maybourne, whose influence, I had been told, was enormous in the colony, might prove just the very friend of all others I wanted. At any rate, if I were not taken before the time came for going ashore, I would do as she wished. I told her this, and she immediately thanked me and went down below again.

Just as I announced my decision the launch came alongside, and a moment later her passengers were ascending the accommodation ladder, which had been lowered to receive them. They were three in number, and included—so I was told by a gentleman who stood beside me—the harbor master, the officer of health, and another individual, about whose identity my informant was not quite assured. I looked at the last-named with no little apprehension; my nervousness endowed him with all the attributes of a police official, and my mind's eye could almost discover the manacles reposing in his coat pocket. I trust I may never pass through such another agonizing few minutes as I experienced then. I saw the party step on to the spar deck, where they shook hands with the purser and chief officer, and watched them as they ascended to the promenade deck and made their way towards the bridge. Here they were received by the skipper. I leaned against the rails, sick with fear and trembling in every limb, expecting every moment to feel a heavy hand upon my shoulder, and to hear a stern voice saying in my ear—"Gilbert Pennethorne, I arrest you on a charge of murder."

But minute after minute went by, and still not one came to speak the fatal words. The ship, which had been brought to a standstill to pick up the boat, had now got under weigh again, and we were approaching close again, and we were approaching closer and closer to the docks. In less than half an hour I should know my fate.

As soon as we were safely installed in dock, and everyone was looking after his or her luggage, saying "good-bye" and preparing to go ashore, I began to look about me for Miss Maybourne. Having found her we went to the chart-room together to bid the Captain "good-bye," and to thank him for the hospitality and kindness he had shown us. The doctor had next to be discovered, and when he had been assured of our gratitude, we made enquiries for Mr. Maybourne. It soon became evident that he was not on board, so, taking his daughter under my protection, we said our final farewells and went down the gangway. For the first time in my life I set foot on South African soil.

The Custom House once passed, and the authorities convinced that we had nothing to declare, I hailed a cab and invited Miss Maybourne to instruct the driver in which direction he was to proceed. Half an hour later we had left the city behind us, and were driving through the suburbs in the direction of Mr. Maybourne's residence. After following a pretty road for something like a mile, on either side of which I noticed a number of stately residences, we found ourselves confronted with a pair of large iron gates, behind which was a neat lodge. But for the difference in the vegetation, it might very well have been the entrance to an English park. Through the trees ahead I could distinguish, as we rolled along the well-kept drive, the chimneys of a noble residence; but I was quite unprepared for the picture which burst upon my view when we turned a corner and had the whole house before us. Unlike most South African dwellings, it was a building of three stories, surmounted by a tower. Broad verandahs ran round each floor, and the importance of the building was enhanced by the fact that it stood on a fine terrace, which again led down by a broad flight of steps to the flower gardens and orangery. A more delightful home could scarcely be imagined; and when I saw it, I ceased to wonder that Miss Maybourne had so often expressed a preference for South Africa as compared with England.

When the cab drew up at the front door I jumped out and was about to help my companion to alight when I heard the front door open, and next moment a tall, fine-looking man, about sixty years of age, crossed the verandah and came down the steps. At first he regarded me with a stare of surprise, but before he could ask me my business, Miss Maybourne had descended from the vehicle and was in his arms. Not desiring to interrupt them in their greetings I strolled down the path. But I was not permitted to go far before I heard my name called. I turned, and went back to have my hand shaken off by Mr. Maybourne.

"My daughter says you have saved her life," he cried. "I'll not ask questions now, but I thank you from the bottom of my heart I thank you. God knows you have done me a service the value of which no man can estimate."

The warmth of his manner was so much above what I had expected that it left me without power to reply.

"Come in, come in," he continued in a voice that fairly shook with emotion. "Oh, let us thank God for this happy day!"

He placed his arm round his daughter's waist, and drew her to him as if he would not let her move from his side again. I followed a few steps behind, and should have entered the house had I not been recalled by the cabman, who ventured to remind me that he had not yet been paid.

I instantly put my hand into my pocket, only to have the fact recalled to me that I possessed no money at all. All my capital had gone to the bottom in the Fiji Princess, and I was absolutely penniless. The sudden was an embarrassing one, and I was just reflecting what I had better do, when I heard Mr. Maybourne come out into the verandah again. He must have divined my difficulty, for without hesitation he discharged the debt, and apologising for not having thought of it, led me into the house.

Passing through an elegantly-furnished hall we entered the dining-room. Here breakfast was laid, and it was evidently from that meal that Mr. Maybourne had jumped up to receive us.

"Now, Mr. Wrexford," he cried, pointing to a chair, "sit yourself down yonder, and let me hear everything from the beginning to the end. Heaven knows I can hardly believe my good fortune. Half an hour ago I was the most miserable man under the sun! now that I have got my darling back safe and sound, I believe I am the happiest."

"Had you then heard of the wreck of the 'Fiji Princess?'" I enquired.

"Here is a telegram I received last night," he said handing me a paper he had taken from his pocket. "You see it is from Teneriffe, and says that nothing has yet been heard of the vessel which was then more than a fortnight overdue. Agnes tells me that you were rescued by the King of Carthage. I understood she was expected about mid-day to-day, and I had resolved to visit her as soon as she got into dock, in order to enquire if they had any tidings to report regarding the lost vessel. How little I expected

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1800 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the winze has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the winze has averaged about $275 a ton, or about $1250 for every foot of sinking, the winze being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the winze running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the winze. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth in possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

QUARTZ.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winze and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of nine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization $60,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 250,000 shares. Show us something better.

THE ROYAL CITY

Guelph, Ont., is a Good Progressive City Believing in Advertising

Yesterday, Mr. W. H. Meldrum, manager of the Peterboro Cereal Co., himself a booster, and exponent of the art of strenuous progressiveness, yesterday handed a Times' representative, an envelope gotten out by the City of Guelph Board of Trade, and that contains not only good food for reflection, but many an acceptable hint, worth of adoption.

On the back of the envelope, in good plain, easily read, and suitably displayed type appears a view of the inducements held out by the City of Guelph to coming industries or possible residents. Among the few (?) attractions set forth, are the following.

THE CITY OF GUELPH.

Ontario, County of Wellington. Board of Trade motto—Guelph, the cleanest, Guelph, the prettiest, Guelph the busiest of them all.

Every facility for manufacturers wanting a site.

Population over 13,000.

Railroad Connections—Grand Trunk, east and west, north and south; Can. Pacific, east and west, Goderich branch.

Guelph is the center of the finest agricultural, live stock and manufacturing district in Ontario.

Write for further information to the secretary Board of Trade, Guelph.

Peterboro might well copy part of this system of civic advertising, and in place of the now well-known picture of the lift lock, advertise a few of Peterboro's advantages. We have got the goods to deliver to industries or settlers, whilst Guelph, has the name and, seemingly, the ability to make people think they have got them as well.

EVANGELIST KENNEDY HOME

Returns to Town After an Absence of Over Five Month's.

Evangelist H. D. Kennedy, returned to the city last night after a campaign extending over a period of five months. He visited Minden in the early autumn, where he remained five weeks, holding services every night in the Methodist church of that village, and where 120 conversions were made.

Leaving Minden Mr. Kennedy went to Hanover, where 200 persons were converted during five weeks' work. A call from Georgetown, where he remained six weeks, resulted in over 100 conversions. He then visited Holstein, where he remained a week, and where much good seed was sown.

During the last two weeks, Mr. Kennedy assisted Torrey and Alexander, at Massey Hall, Toronto. Evangelist Kennedy received his training at the Bible Study School, conducted during the World's Fair at Chicago, 13 years ago, by D. L. Moody. Dr. Torrey was superintendent of this school, and Mr. Alexander was a fellow pupil with Mr. Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy will remain the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Kennedy, Water street, for a few days.

CURLERS BUY RINK

As noted, as being probable, the Peterboro Curling Rink Co., Limited, have concluded to purchase, for $4,500, the rink property on Charlotte street, owned by the Peterboro Curling and Skating Rink Co., and to take the property over as soon as possible.

The gathering was presided over by Mr. Thomas Brightman, president and the resolution, moved by Mr. Neil and seconded by Mr. Jas. Bogue, was carried after some discussion.

Geo. E. H. Edwards explained the procedure in reference to taking over the property.

It was decided that the Peterboro Curling Rink Co., Limited, be formed at once, and that the capital stock be $10,000, divided into 1,000 shares at $10 per share.

A provincial charter will be applied for immediately. Stock sheets were opened up, and already quite an amount has been subscribed. Messrs. R. M. Wadsell and Robert Kerr, were appointed a committee to look after further subscribers.

It is proposed to make several alterations to the rink property. The new company will next summer erect a handsome front to the building, having stores underneath, and a well fitted up club room overhead.

SUCCESS ASSURED

Big Dipper Mine Now Strikes Quartz with Their New Tunnel.

Last night, the leading officers of the Big Dipper Gold Mining Co., viz., Messrs. President John M. Fletcher and Vice-President J. J. Tisdale, of Buffalo arrived at the Snowden House. They will leave this morning for the mine in Frontenac County, where they will spend two or three days. This information is good news to the directors and shareholders in the Big Dipper Company.

Their visit of inspection, and general business is directly connected with the report received a few days ago, by Mr. J. S. Waldron, secretary that the tunnel had been completed for a distance of 250 feet, and that they had struck the edge of the quartz. The samples secured show up well, but the tunnel will be continued on through for some distance yet, as the company fully expect to strike much better ore.

If the gold that has just been discovered continues to appear in paying quantities the company will start at once to erect a mill. It is for this purpose that the president and vice-president are going to visit the mine.

No woman can look beautiful without good health. A woman's good health depends on those organs peculiarly feminine, and which so often become disordered, causing misery and dragging-down pain. Nature's laws are perfect, health ensures if you obey them, but disease follows disobedience. The distressing complaints of women are often brought about by catching cold at a critical period, breathing foul indoors' air and long hours of work and nervous tension. Go straight to Nature for the cure—to the forest. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the remedy for the distressing complaints of women. Prof. King, M. D., in his American Dispensatory, says of Black Cohosh or Black Snake-root—"our early American Indians set a high value on this root in diseases of women. It is surpassed by no other drug, in congestive conditions of the parts where there are dragging pains and tenderness."

Lady's Slipper root is a "nerve stimulant and tonic, improving both circulation and nutrition of the nerve centers—favoring sleep and cheerful condition of the mind; of service in mental depression, nervous headache, irregularities of women with despondency."—Prof. King. Besides the above ingredients there are—Golden Seal, Unicorn and Blue Cohosh roots in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Over 1000 pages and illustrated. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Four Men Had Close Call By Scaffolding Which Fell.

Yesterday morning as Messrs. H. H. Hillier, D. Wyers, Wm. Moore and Chas. Brewer, were laying bricks at about ten feet from the ground, whilst working on a job on the new double house on Simcoe street, belonging to Mr. Thos. Moore, they had a narrow escape from serious injury, if not fatal results.

It seems the scaffolding gave away unexpectedly, resulting in workers materials and planks falling heavily to the ground.

The only one of the quartette seriously hurt was Mr. Hillier. His right leg caught between two planks and was severely wrenched, the ankle being very badly sprained. Dr. Bradd attended to the injury, after which Mr. Hillier was removed to his home at the corner of Victoria avenue and George streets. The other three escaped with only a few bruises.

A Local Browning Club.

A new club has been organized in the city. It is known as the Browning Club, and its leader is Mr. Barton Earle. The first meeting—a most successful one was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Saturday. The next meeting will be on Monday evening, Feb. 5th.

Canal Gates are Raised.

The Trent canal authorities are taking every precaution to prevent another break in the bank. The gate at Nassau has been raised, and this will prevent any possibility of an accident, three making assurance doubly sure. Both the gates at Warsaw road, and at Nassau are also raised.

CZAR STILL HEARS ECHOES OF REVOLT

Encounters Between Troops and Peasantry Reported in Trauscaucasia.

REBEL 'ARMY' WIPED OUT

Pitched Battle Between Armed Revolutionaries and Cossacks Ends in Massacre.

St, Petersburg, February 1.—It is reported from Kutais, in Transcaucasia, that serious encounters have taken place there between the revolutionists and the troops, in which several of the latter were killed. The arrival of Gen. Alikhanoff with troops from Tiflis brought about the restoration of order, the revolutionists taking flight.

At Vlatka, in the government of that name, a band largely composed of schoolboys and schoolgirls seized the water works, which they held for fifteen hours against a whole battalion of infantry. The troops were attacked in the rear by two companies of revolutionaries, who were finally driven to a fortified house. This house was captured after a bombardment lasting two hours. Among the killed was the colonel commanding the troops.

COSSACKS BESIEGED FOR DAYS.

At Rotesi, on the Black Sear, eighty Cossacks of the garrison, who attempted to disperse a gathering in the market place, were routed by the revolutionists and forced to flee to their barracks outside the town, where they were regularly besieged. The insurgents brought up an old cannon from the port, and bombarded the barracks for two days with such effect that the Cossacks were forced to surrender.

The triumph of the revolutionists was short lived, however, for a torpedo boat destroyer arrived from Batoum and the population at the first threat of a bombardment hastened to liberate the prisoners and to deliver up their arms, as well as the funds of the city treasury, which had been taken to the mountains.

A letter from Pyatigorsk, in Circaucasia, describes the rise and fall of the "North Caucasian republic," which had a short and thrilling history of a month. After the revolt of the reserve battalion garrisoning Pyatigorsk the soldiers were joined by the entire population of that and four neighboring cities. A constituent assembly was summoned and a "revolutionary army," consisting of the mutinous soldiers, who were led by a renegade Cossack officer, and several bands of the fighting branch of the revolutionary organizations, and other irregulars, was formed.

ONE REBEL "ARMY" ANNIHILATED

This "army" carried on a successful campaign against the troops guarding the railroad stations, who were driven back for some forty miles along the line with considerable loss. The revolutionists conceived the plan of marching to Rostoff-on-Don, 350 miles away, and even talked of continuing on to Kharkoff to join hands with the supposed revolutionary army there. They were to stop on the way and attack the important arsenal at Georgievsk, where there are large stores of rifles, cannon, and machine guns.

The "army" was attacked by three companies of Cossacks, whom it defeated with heavy loss, most of the survivors being killed during their flight across the thin ice of a stream.

Later the "army" encountered a column consisting of infantry, a battery of artillery and several companies of Cossacks. This column was too strong to be resisted and the revolutionaries' leaders, after a hasty council of war, fled. The "republic" then came to an end.

MARK ST. CHURCH

Next Sunday Will Be a Red Letter Day, Celebrated by Special Services.

There will be busy times next Sunday in the Mark street church. Services will be held throughout the day, opening with a prayer service at seven o'clock. Love feast begins at 9.45, to be followed by the regular service and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. At three o'clock there will be a praise and prayer meeting. The evening meeting will be followed by an evangelistic service. The members of the church, and other Christians are asked to join in special prayer. The choir will provide suitable music using the Torrey-Alexander hymn book.

A DUAL DEANERY

The Bishop Asked to Create a Northumberland and Peterboro Deanery.

Rev. Rural Dean Davidson and Rev. Wm. Major returned yesterday from Campbellford, where they attended the meeting of the Deanery of Northumberland, held in Christ church, Campbellford, of which Rev. A. J. Reid is the rector. An able paper on "The Second Coming of Christ," was read by Mr. Major, and an interesting discussion followed, in which Rev. E. V. Pickford, Norwood; C. H. Brooks, Grafton; Venerable Archdeacon Warren, Lakefield; A. J. Reid, Campbellford; W. Burns, Hastings; H. Caplan, Havelock, and Rural Dean Davidson, participated.

It was decided to request his Lordship the Bishop of Toronto, to give his sanction to the change of the name of the "Deanery of Northumberland" to the "Deanery of Northumberland and Peterboro," as the deanery includes the parishes in both counties.

The clergy were hospitably entertained at the rectory by Rev. A. J. and Mrs. Reid. The next meeting of the Deanery will be held in May next, either in St. Peter's church, Cobourg, or All Saints' church, Peterboro.

CHOKED BY A CENT

Young Son of Mr. L. M. Henry Has a Narrow Escape.

Yesterday Mr. Myles Henry, the new star in Peterboro's galaxy of insurance experts, yesterday got a fright that will be remembered by him for many a day. Mr. Henry yesterday, shortly before noon, happened to be in the grocery establishment, of which, prior to his recent entry into insurance circles, he was proprietor, and received a telephone message to go home at once, as one of his children was in dangerous trouble.

It is needless to say that Mr. Henry made quick time to his residence on Brock street. On arrival he found that one of his children, had partially swallowed a cent, and was rapidly choking to death. A doctor was of course immediately summoned, but before his arrival, Mr. Henry had managed to dislodge the cent from the child's throat. As it was, the matter was nearly proving very serious, the child choking, gagging and emitting blood from his mouth. Mr. Henry's little one, we are pleased to say, is little the worse from its accident.

HOTEL IMPROVEMENTS

Mr. Sanford Smith, Toronto, Making Plans for Changing Oriental.

The Oriental, for many years, the leading hotel in this part of the country, is now about to indulge in many radical changes and improvements.

Mr. Sanford Smith, one of the leading architects of Toronto, several of whose creations, such as the Flemming Terrace, and others are in evidence here, is now in the city engaged in making plans for several important changes in the Oriental Hotel's interior. It is hardly known yet what the exact changes will be but they include a larger lavatory placed at the east side of the building further to the south than the present lavatory; it will be also greatly enlarged. Another probable change in addition to about 25 new bedrooms, with 25 more ample rooms added, owing to the large and rapidly growing commercial trade of this hotel. It is not beyond possibility that the whole hotel may be raised another storey in height. The changes to be made will, of course be dependent, to a great extent on Architect Smith's report.

The Dickson Co., owners of this popular hotel, recognizing the growing importance of Peterboro's business as represented by the travelling public, and with a patriotic desire to have Peterboro spoken of as a city having hotel accommodation second to none in places of anything like its size, have determined to spare neither trouble nor expense to have the Oriental as well spoken of in the present as it has been in the past.

Mr. George Graham, the popular proprietor, who is well and favorably known to the travelling public, as are his sons, Mr. Chris Graham, the well-known local athlete, in charge of the office, and another son Eddie, the very capable steward of the hotel, has secured a long extension of his lease, and will doubtless continue for many years to come to have a place for Peterboro's visitors that will bring credit to our city The new extension of lease will have the effect of shutting off the rumors lately current as to this hotel being sold or for sale.

A NEW RESORT

Majestic Billiard Rooms Now Running, and Greatly Appreciated.

Peterboro is well endowed with places of entertainment, in which our youth can get pleasurable and healthy pastime, away from contaminating influences connected with similar places of amusement connected with bar-rooms. Now another splendidly fitted up billiard room has been added to our local places of similar sport, viz., the Majestic Billiard and Pool Room, situated at the corner of Water and Simcoe streets, in the building lately vacated by the Ontario Light & Power Co.

Mr. J. J. Smyth, the proprietor, is evidently well posted in his business, and has fitted up a billiard room that will certainly secure a good share of local patronage.

In the Majestic Billiard Room, are seven new pool, and one billiard tables. The tables are of the latest design, having six massive legs instead of four, as in the old style tables. The tables are made in "weathered oak," which presents a well finished and rich appearance; the cushions and beds are of the latest style, and are very lively.

Along the walls of this extensive billiard room and the cue racks, mirrors, etc. all finished in the same style of oak as the tables.

Mr. Smyth, the proprietor, has obtained control of the cellar below the billiard room. This he is now arranging to have made into a bowling alley, with two courts. The bowling alleys will be regulation standard size, fitted up and furnished in most modern style. A feature of the new billiard room is that all games, pool or billiards, are run on the time scale, viz., the charges for playing are so much per hour, instead of so much per game, as is usually charged for pool.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Last night as P.C. Stewart was walking along George street, about 7.30, at the corner of Simcoe street, he saw a face that seemed to recall a long-felt want. It was in fact a face that had been wanted by the police here, since Dec. 5th, 1905.

It will be remembered by our readers that on the date mentioned above, Jos. Tobin, and another young man had supper, that Saturday night late, at McCallum's restaurant. This is not against the law, but the fact that the two, who had imbibed freely previous to the banquet, tried to walk out without paying for their victuals, was against it.

Mr. McCallum tried to stop the two men but they were too much for him and fled out of the back door and across the market square. P. C. Stewart grabbed one man, the present prisoner, Tobin, and locked him up. The other man escaped in the darkness. Sunday morning, following his arrest, Tobin was allowed to go on his promising to appear for trial Monday morning. However, last night when Officer Stewart recognized Tobin on George street, was the first glimpse the local police had of him, since the morning of Dec. 6th. He will appear for trial this morning.

This arrest reflects great credit upon P.C. Stewart's memory for faces, as he only saw Tobin, the night of his first arrest for about half an hour, and then spotted him on sight, more than two years after.

DOURO WEDDING

Rev. Father Kelly Unites Miss C. O'Shea and John Torpey.

Yesterday the prosperous township of Douro, in which is situated Rev. Father Kelly's popular church, turned out well to attend the marriage in St. Joseph's of Miss Catharine O'Shea, daughter of Mr. Daniel O'Shea, to Mr. John Torpey, of Otonabee.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Kelly in the presence of a number of friends. Miss Sarah O'Shea, sister of the bride, was bride maid, while Mr. W. J. Torpey, of Peterboro, cousin of the groom, was best man. The bride was attired in a handsome costume of brown velvet, and wore a hat to match.

After the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was enjoyed, and a reception held.

A large number of valuable presents were received. The newly wedded couple will take up their residence in Otonabee.

SUIT FOR INSURANCE

Mrs. S. H. Weir Issues Writ Against C. O. C. F.

Mrs. Simon H. Weir has issued a writ that will be watched with great interest by our local citizens, being against the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, an order that has a large clientele in Peterboro.

Mrs. Weir's writ against the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, is for $1,000 for insurance on the life of her late husband. Messrs. Donaldson, Peak & Kerr for the plaintiffs; Messrs. Lee, Farmer & Staunton, of Hamilton, for the defendants.

Witchcraft Among Them.

Boston, February 1.—Mrs. William H. Sheppard, a Boston missionary just returned from the Congo after twelve years' hard work for the American Missionary Association, tells some startling things as to conditions prevailing there under Belgian rule.

Cannibalism and slavery are still practiced universally, while witchcraft and other superstitions prevail among interior tribes. Over five thousand natives have been converted, however, and 1,000 children sold to cannibal chiefs repurchased and saved from horrible deaths.

Annual Meeting of St. Paul's Church

A Big Attendance Present---Officers Elected---Reports Were Highly Satisfactory and Give a Bright Outlook For the Future---Hearty Vote of Thanks For the Choir.

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian congregation was held in the school room last night, when the large attendance and interest manifested, showed a zeal in the interest of the church, worthy of emulation.

Ex-Mayor G. M. Roger presided over the proceedings, and Mr. R. E. Wood officiated as clerk.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved of.

REPORT OF SESSION.

Rev. Dr Torrance submitted the report of the Session, which showed that St. Paul's has existed as a congregation for 72 years, 42 of which the Rev. J. M. Roger served as pastor. Since its inception this congregation has grown very satisfactorily in numbers and financial strength. In June last the mission was organized as a congregation, and the sacred edifice named Knox church, with a membership of 46 from its mother church, St. Paul's, and 16 from other churches. In October this total membership of 62 had increased by 15. In 1904 a special effort was instituted to pay the church debt of $4,000 of which $1,994.88 has already been subscribed. During last year there were 78 additions to the membership of St. Paul's; 10 have been removed by death, 52 by affiliation with Knox church, and 11 with certificates of disjunction for union with other religious bodies. This leaves St. Paul's with a present membership of 769, the same as in 1904. In conclusion the report read hopefully for a bright outlook for the year 1906.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Mr. John Crane here remarked that the Board of Managers had not prepared a formal report, feeling that the treasurer's statement would give any necessary information. Summarized this financial report read as follows:

Receipts.

Collections		$5,682.12
Special collections...		559.64
From special debt fund	$994.88
From collection for repairs	$148.04
		$1,142.92

Expenditures.

Salaries	$3,648 72
General expense account ...	2,533 30
		6,182 02
Special coll. paid over	$555 08
		$6,737 64

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The auditors for 1906 are, Messrs. R. F. McWilliams and Stacey.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, president of the guild, presented its annual report, which showed the attendance and interest at and in the monthly meetings to have been larger and more enthusiastic than in several previous years. There is a membership of 70 with an average attendance of over 40. The annual meeting was held in September, when a new staff of officers was elected.

MISSIONARY REPORT.

Mr. Robert Innes, submitted the report of this society, of which he is secretary. There was contributed during the year, $1,804.80, including $750 specially collected for the support of three missions in the North-West. This report was adopted as eminently satisfactory, and the collections by the society were allotted as follows: For home missions, $475; foreign missions, $475; French evangelization, $104.80.

On motion of Dr. Torrance, seconded by Mr. Adam Hall, a missionary association was formed, and as many names accepted as its executive.

KNOX CHURCH.

Mr. J. W. Bennett reported for Knox church; at the first communion in October there were present 22 members. There is at present a membership of 62. The Wednesday evening services average 20 present, and the Sunday services 85. Collections amounted to $489.24.

The average attendance at Sunday school was 85, and their contributions totaled up to $65. There are 25 girls in the Mission Band, and last year they sent a bale of clothing, etc., to the North-west, and have on hand $25. The Ladies' Aid Society owe a debt of gratitude to their sister society of St. Paul's for funds with which to purchase a piano. This church is also much indebted to the assistant pastor, Rev. Mr. McKay, for his pains in drilling the young people, and his forethought in securing for them a recreation ground, on the church property.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mr. Medill's report of the Sunday school, showed the membership to be as follows: Primary class, 29; kindergarten, 26; intermediate, 24; Bible class, 25; teachers and officers, 29; total 211. 300 new books have been added to the library, and a new hymn book named "Gospel Hymns," very appropriate for little folk, and which has resulted in considerable improvement in the singing. The S.S. treasurer's report gave a balance on hand of $26.60. From this school's missionary collections for the year, a balance of $250 remains to be divided amongst missionary schemes.

WOMEN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Mrs. R. E. Wood, secretary of this organization, reported that in reviewing the work of last year, the society is much encouraged for renewed efforts during the coming year. The meetings have been healthful, interesting and instructive. There are 100 members, and of the auxiliary 49 are general, and 18 life members; the average attendance was 28. $306 collected by the thankoffering in October last.

FAITHFUL WORKERS' MISSION BAND.

The report of Miss Mattie Robertson, secretary of this society, was very encouraging and presaged increased enthusiasm and a bright outlook for 1906. Last year's attendance at the monthly meeting was larger than in previous years. There is a membership of 30, with an average attendance of 15. The total amount collected during 1905 was $70. A marked increase over any previous effort in this direction for many years.

FRASER MISSION BAND.

The contributions to this organization amounted in the year to $100, the thank-offering in November being $36. The roll shows an increase of seven members, with an average attendance at monthly meetings of 13.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

Mrs. Margaret Gibson's report of this society was highly satisfactory, and evidenced great interest and zeal on the part of its members in the cause, of visiting the sick and rendering aid to the poor and needy.

THANKS TO CHOIR.

On motion of Mr. Adam Hall, seconded by Mr. R. E. Wood, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the excellent choir and its talented leader, Mr. John Crane. Mr. Wood characterized this choir as second to none in the city for its exceptional musical skill, its magnificent culture and its galaxy of beauty.

Mr. Crane very modestly attributed all credit for the choir's efficiency to the members themselves; they are always on hand and ever willing. Any thing the congregation can say or do for them is none too good.

Mr. D Moore thought Mr. Crane too modest entirely; the members of the choir are but humans, and it is owing to their respected leader's ability and talented leadership that such a high measure of efficiency and harmony has been assured.

Mr. Adam Hall hoped the congregation would remember that $400 are needed for renovating and cleaning the church inside.

The meeting then adjourned.

St. John's Dramatic Club.

Last night St. John's Dramatic Club held a rehearsal of the play "The Blacksmith's Daughter," in the Sunday school, under the management of S. R Bradburn, the rehearsal was well attended, and those taking part in the play are rapidly making themselves familiar with their several parts in every respect. A feature of this coming entertainment will be Mr. Wm. Dundas in his well known musical act. This excellent drama will be presented to the public on Friday evening, Feb. 16th, and deserves a generous patronage.

A New Kawartha Lakes Houseboat.

Another pleasure boat will be added to the Kawartha Lakes fleet this coming summer. W. D. Grant of Lindsay, is building a house boat for Mr. Hamilton, of Youngstown, Pa., a regular at Peterboro's northern summer resort. The boat will be 75 feet long, with 20 feet beam. This will give a fine large general saloon, a number of state rooms, bath room, kitchen, etc., and there will be an awning over part of the upper deck. The lower decks will be a double one, having a thoroughly ventilated air space between, which will prevent dampness and ensure a dry floor.

DON'T DOSE THE STOMACH

Hyomei Cures Catarrh by Breathing Aromatic Healing Air.

You cannot afford to risk permanent loss of health by taking strong drugs into the stomach in the vain hope of curing catarrh of the nose and throat. The only true way of curing catarrhal troubles is by the use of Hyomei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

Hyomei is not a secret remedy, and its formula is given to all reputable physicians. Its base is the famous eucalyptus oil. This is combined with other healing, aromatic gums and balsams, so that when using Hyomei, the air you breathe is filled with germ-killing, health-giving, curative powers. It kills all catarrhal germs and restores the mucous membrance of the nose, throat and lungs to a perfectly healthy condition.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a neat pocket inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, costs but $1.00, and extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents, making it the most economical method of curing catarrh, as well as the most reliable. If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

THE LATE MR. T. DELANEY

Sudden Demise of a Former Citizen of Peterboro.

Many old friends of Mr. Thomas Delaney, son of the late Mr. John Delaney, of this city, will be pained to learn that he died suddenly in Florence, S. C., on Thursday, January 25th, while working in the jewellery store of his brother-in-law, Mr. R. W. Muncaster. Recently he came east from British Columbia, where he has spent the past twelve years prospecting. He visited his sisters, Mrs. Dr. Ward and Miss Alice Delaney, in Montreal, then spent two months with his brother, Dr. W. J. Delaney, at Saugatuck, Conn. He left December 4th to take a position at his old trade with Mr. Muncaster, in Florence, and was seemingly in the best of health and spirits previous to his sudden demise. Heart disease is assigned as the cause. He learned his trade of watchmaker and jeweller with the firm of Muncaster & Sanderson, now W. A. Sanderson & Co. Mrs. W. J. Morrow, of town, is a sister, John, of British Columbia, completes the family.

The Times extends its sympathies to the bereaved relatives and friends.

THE INSTITUTE QUESTION

Joint Meeting of Council, Board of Education and 57th Regt. Officers

Last night a meeting was called for nine o'clock in the committee room of the city building, of the committees appointed respectively by the City Council, Board of Education and 57th Regiment officers, owing to the meeting in St. Paul's church, was delayed for about an hour. Although no further people attended, the meeting was called to order about ten o'clock, with Ald. McWilliams in the chair.

Those present, as representing the Board of Education were; Messrs. Dumble, Ackerman and Dr. Morrison, for the City Fathers were, Aldermen McIntyre, Adams, Tovey and McWilliams, chairman; and for the 57th Regt. Capt. East wood.

Ald. McWilliams explained how he had sent Mr. Crane, chairman of the Education Committee, and Col. Miller of the 57th, and had asked them to notify members of their respective committees.

The first gun was fired by Mr. Dumble, who said that the Board of Education had made certain arrangements, perhaps without due forethought regarding the site. One advantage for the Military would be if they would consent to an exchange of lands, the School Board would build their school further back, and this military would not be harassed by a fence interfering with their movements; the Board wants the exchange because they do not want the Separate school building to be wasted.

The Board is cramped for lack of accommodation. He understands that the Menzies School has been sold, or any way the lease has expired. If the Menzies school is taken away and the Separate school torn down, where would the school children be? The Separate school building has six rooms fully the size required by law. The price for the 1-2 acre on which the school is built, is valued at $8,000. The Board would not for many reason buy the Menzies school. The School Board says to the Military take the north part of the Central Park lots and the School Board will take the south. He did not ask the Military to make any sacrifice. If the Military will not help the School Board, it might raise feelings that will not easily be downed. The only argument made by the Military is "The School Board has made its choice already for the northern site.

Dr. Morrison could not see why the Government should object to a change of lots.

His own opinion is, if the Separate school building could, for a reasonable amount, be made suitable for a school, the Board might as well retain it. Has heard that it would cost $4000 to fix up the building. If it could be made presentable for $2,500 it would pay the Board to go ahead. Can no see why the Military insist on keeping the south lots. Thought the Separate school building might be let and the Collegiate Institute be placed in front of it.

Mr. Ackerman agreed with both the previous speakers as to retaining the present Separate school building. It would be better for all concerned for the School Board to have the South lots.

Capt. Eastwood judged by absence of the other members of the two committees, that they were content to let matters remains as they are. As far as keeping the Separate school building in consequence, thought if it would cost $4,000 to repair it, it would be no economy to keep it. Father McColl had told him yesterday, it would cost $1500 to put in a heating system. There is no effort being made to sell the Menzies property. In his opinion there is no need for the Separate school building, more accommodation is wanted in the south end of the city.

Mr. Eastwood, asked by Chairman McWilliams, to give in brief, a few of the objections the military had to the exchange of lots, said he had nothing to say.

Ald. Adams would like to see the old building retained, and could not see why the Military raise their objections.

Ald. McWilliams thought the absence of the officers was intentional.

At this point, Ald. Tovey said those present were only talking to one another and wasting time.

The resolution is that this committee recommend to the council that a deed of lots, Nos. 3 and 4, south of Macdonald street, and west of George street, be given to the Board of Education for the Collegiate Institute site. In pursuance of the agreement made between the 57th Regiment, the Board of Education, the Minister of Public Works, and the Council, as embodied in their report of the Finance Committee to the Council of September 27th, 1904. This resolution was passed by the members of the Council Committee only.

A Successful Seer's Predictions for 1906.

GOD'S VENGEANCE TO FALL

Assassination of the Czar and Violent Death of Sultan on the Program.

New York, February 1.—Lee Spangler, of this city, who gave up a lucrative business to devote himself to evangelistic work and to prophecies, and who has come to be known in Southern Pennsylvania by his self-applied title, "Spangler, the last of the Prophets," has issued his predictions for 1906. Spangler attracted attention by the accuracy of some of his prophecies, including the death of Queen Victoria, the assassination of President McKinley, the victory of the Japanese over the Russians, the Chicago theater fire, the North River excursion steamer disaster, the election of President Roosevelt, and the uprising in Russia.

Assassination of the Czar of Russia, violent death of the Sultan of Turkey, bloody race war in the South, averting of three wars by the intervention of President Roosevelt, destructive eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, uprising in Spain, great increase in the death rate from disease, accident, murder, suicide, disaster, and work of the elements; spread of great religious movement throughout England and United States, dissolution of Russia, dissolution of Turkey, terrible visitation of God's vengeance upon the Russians for the massacres of Jews.

Spangler has fixed the date for the destruction of the world at about 1908 or 1909. He claims that his prophecies are messages to the people which he receives in conversation with the spirit of God.

PRIZE BIRDS

Mr. H. Lush Sends Many Handsome Chickens to Lindsay.

It is well known in Peterboro that Mr. Harry Lush, is not only an expert on bread making, but knows as much as perhaps any man in Canada about the points of a thoroughbred chicken.

Yesterday he sent, from his Dublin street establishment 110 prize birds to Lindsay, for the poultry show, which opened there yesterday. They were a fine lot of fowls, and, no doubt, will carry off a good share of the prizes. Mr. Lush is an enthusiastic poultry fancier, and has carried off many well merited prizes and diplomas for birds of various breeds.

A Train Load of Immigrants.

Montreal, February 1.—A train load of immigrants, numbering about three hundred, landed from the steamship Parisian at Halifax, have reached the city over the line of the Canadian Pacific. This is an unusually large consignment for this time of the year. The immigrants are for the most part of British extraction, and are bound for the West.

IN MATCHTOWN

Fortunately no Faith was Required, For She Had None.

"I had no faith whatever, but on the advice of a hale, hearty old gentleman who spoke from experience, I began to use Grape-Nuts about two years ago," writes an Ohio woman living in Barberton, who says she is 40, is known to be fair, and admits that she is growing plump on the new diet.

"I shall not try to tell you how I suffered for years from a deranged stomach that rejected almost all sorts of food, and assimilated what little was forced upon it only at the cost of great distress and pain. I was treated by many different medicines, and I even spent seven years in exile from my home, thinking change of scene might do me good. You may judge of the gravity of my condition when I tell you I was sometimes compelled to use morphine for weeks at a time.

"For two years I have eaten Grape-Nuts food at least twice a day and I can now say that I have perfect health. I have taken no medicine in that time—Grape-Nuts has done it all. I can eat absolutely anything I wish, without stomach distress. I am a business woman and can walk my two or three miles a day and feel better for doing so. I have to use brains in my work, and it is remarkable how quick, alert and tireless my mental powers have become." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Exhaustion All Gone!

o-day She is Buoyant With Health and Vital Energy Given by A Medicine Suited to the Female Sex

There is no medicine for health and strength that accomplishes so much as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For womanly troubles they have no equal.

"Two months ago I was completely used up. I was weak and miserable. My strength was gone, and I had no appetite or energy left. What I needed was a blood purifier and systematic tonic which I found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. To-day I am brimming over with spirits and virile good health that came from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

No one can over-estimate the true worth of Dr. Hamilton's Pills Their enormous curative power makes one marvel. You soon have richer blood, better appetite, clearer complexion, freedom from weakness and ill-health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are sold everywhere 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

BACON HOG PRODUCTION.

If the bacon trade of Canada is to continue to improve it is necessary that hog raisers adhere to the class of animals most suited to the requirements of the Irish market.

In the production of hogs of the lard type, Canada cannot compete successfully with the United States. A visit to the Chicago Stock Yards and the Western cattle feeding centers affords ample evidence of this. A large proportion of the cattle are fed on snapped or shelled corn. Herded with these are hogs that thrive and fatten on the undigested corn left by the steers. These hogs, constituting a by product of cattle feeding, are produced at a cost much lower than pork can be raised in Canada. All United States hogs are not fed in this way, but a large proportion of them have, at least, the advantage of cheap corn, than which, there is no better feed for producing fat hogs of the lard type. Let the Canadian farmer go back to the thick, fat type of hog, as some talk of doing because they feel they have a grievance with the packer, and it will not be long before the price of Canadian bacon will have fallen to a level with the United States product, which is usually from ten to fifteen shillings per hundred and twelve pounds lower than the quotations for Canadian "Wiltshire" sides.

It seems to be generally supposed that pork is more cheaply and easily produced from the hogs of the thick, short American breeds than from the three English breeds which are favored for bacon production. Why such a belief should be so general is difficult to understand, as repeated tests conducted at various experiment stations have shown that hogs of the Yorkshire, Berkshire and Tamworth breeds produce pork as cheaply as those of Poland China, the Chester White or the Duroc Jersey breeds. In the opinion of Prof. Day, of the Ontario Agricultural College, who is foremost among authorities on bacon production, the lusty, growthy pig of the bacon type is the most economical pork-maker we have, especially when reared, as bacon hogs should be, largely on such foods as roots, swilling crops, and dairy offal.

There is much difference of opinion regarding the cost at which hogs fit for market can be produced, and there is probably as much difference between the cost to one feeder and the cost to another as between these opinions. Under general conditions the production costs in the neighborhood of five dollars per hundred pounds on an average. In summer, under favorable conditions, the cost may be somewhat lessened, but in winter pork can hardly be produced at the figure mentioned. As in all other lines of production, the cost will vary according to the character of the animals fed and the amount of intelligence exercised by the feeder.

Taking one year with another the Canadian farmer on good land, who understands crop growing and hog raising, can undoubtedly raise hogs as cheaply as the figures quoted, and probably for less. He will keep only such sows as produce large, lusty litters of the right type. He will grow such pasture and soiling crops as clover, alfalfa, rape, vetches, mangels, sugar beets, and such coarse grains as yield the greatest number of pounds of hog feed per acre. In other words, he will manage his operations in such a way that will return him the greatest return in hogs per acre of land, and in so doing will learn to reduce the cost of raising hogs of the best type, to a minimum.

Considering the licking he received no wonder Rojestvensky was laboring under the impression that all the fleets on the ocean were hammering him.

WE ARE NOT INSULTED

Hon. Mr. Fisher's Plain Statement Has Brought Conviction to Men of All Parties in Britain.

London, Jan. 31.—The Yorkshire Post, referring to Hon. Sydney Fisher's speech, at Montreal, says; "The most notable of the post-election speeches has been delivered, not in this country, but in Canada. Men of all parties will be gratified to have the assurance of this Canadian statesman that the Mother Country has not in the recent elections thrown back in the face of the colonies a scheme which they had tendered as a necessary preservation of unity, and the advancement of prosperity within the Empire."

The Liverpool Evening Post, referring to Mr. Fisher's speech, says; "What he says bears a very close resemblance to the speech made in England at the beginning of Mr. Chamberlain's campaign by Hon Clifford Sifton. The whole tenor of Mr. Sifton's speech was, 'Canada needs no protection for her agricultural industry.'" The Post adds; "If Canada needs protection for its agriculture it can in no place for agricultural immigrants. Mr. Fisher's plain and honest statement should help enlighten even fiscal reformers."

M. FALLIERS' INAUGURATION

President-Elect Will Arrive at Elysee in Pomp, with Military Escort.

Paris, Jan. 31.—All the program for Mr. Loubet's departure from the Elysee has now been settled, having been duly considered at the last Cabinet Council.

Mr. Loubet will leave the Palace on February 17, with total absence of ceremonial, and will take up his abode in a flat he has rented in the Rue Dante, in the Latin quarter. At four o'clock on the following day, the precise hour at which his seven-year term comes to a close, Mr. Loubet will, surrounded by his Ministers, await his successor in the grand salon of the Elysee.

M. Falleres will arrive, with great pomp, in a gala carriage with a ful military escort. Mr. Rouvier will present the outgoing and incoming presidents, and there will be an exchange of complimentary addresses, followed by a promenade, through the various apartments of the official Palace. Then there will be a reception of the diplomatic corps and high State officials, after which Mr. Loubet, accompanied by Mr. Rouviere, will betake himself unostentatiously to his new and unofficial residence.

Fire in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Three firemen hurt and $1,200 loss was the result of a fire, which yesterday destroyed Charles Flynn's Liquor store, 199 Dalhousie street. The inflammable nature of the contents added to the blaze.

Deputy Chief Latimer fell through an open trap and landed in the cellar. He was in danger of being buried by fall debris, and was badly knocked out. Fireman Frederick and Boulger were badly burned about the face, the latter losing his moustache. They were blown off their feet by an explosion, presumably of alcohol.

A Season Pawned the Guillotine.

The Sanson have a place in French history, not only because they continued so long to hold their odious office, but because two of their number, a father and son, held office during the evil days of the reign of terror, when they were kept so busily engaged with their guillotine. The last of the Sanson dynasty was dismissed from his post in the reign of Louis Philippe, in 1847, under remarkable circumstances. Although he had inherited a comfortable fortune from his father, the executioner of the revolution, he got into pecuniary difficulties and was guilty of pawning his guillotine, surely the most ingobrious pledge ever taken by mortal pawnbroker. An order came from the prosecutor general for the execution of a criminal, and the necessary apparatus was not forthcoming. The prison authorities had perforce to get it out of pawn, and the execution took place. But the last of the Sansons was informed that his services would no longer be required. What became of him afterward does not appear to be known.

Quite the Contrary.

Tess—I certainly was surprised to hear that Maud was married. Jess—Yes, it was rather unexpected. Tess—Her family's quite incensed, I hear. They say her husband is a man of absolutely no family. Jess—That's all wrong. He was a widower with four children.—Philadelphia Press.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

to find that you were safe on board her, Aggie! Mr. Wrexford, you can have no idea of the agony I have suffered this week past."

"On the contrary," I answered, "I think I can very well imagine it."

"And now tell me your story. I must not be cheated of a single detail."

I saw from the way he looked at me that he expected me to do the narrating, so I did so, commencing with the striking of the vessel on the rock, and winding up with an account of our rescue by the King of Carthage. He listened with rapt attention until I had finished, and then turned to his daughter.

"Has Mr. Wrexford told me everything?" he asked with a smile.

"No," she answered. "He has not told you half enough. He has not told you that when I fell overboard one night, when we were off the Spanish coast, he sprang over after me and held me up until a boat came to our assistance. He has not told you that when the vessel sank he gave his own life-belt up to me, nor has he given you any idea of his constant kindness and self-sacrifice all through that dreadful time."

Mr. Maybourne rose from his chair as she finished speaking, and came round to where I sat. Holding out his hand to me, he said, with tears standing in his eyes:

"Mr. Wrexford, you are a brave man, and from the bottom of my heart I thank you. You have saved my girl, and brought her home safe to me; as long as I live I shall not be able to repay the debt I owe you. Remember, however, that henceforth I am your truest friend."

But I must draw a curtain over this scene. If I go into any further details I shall break down again as I did then. Suffice it that Mr. Maybourne refused to hear of my leaving his house as I proposed, but insisted that I should remain as his guest until I had decided what I intended to do with myself.

"For the future you must look upon this as your home in South Africa," he said. "I seem powerless to express my gratitude to you as I should like. But a time may come when I may even be able to do that."

"You have more than repaid me. I'm sure," I replied. "I have every reason to be deeply grateful to you for the way you have received me."

He replied in his former strain, and when he had done so, the conversation turned upon those who had been lost in the ill-fated Fiji Princess. It was easy to see that his brother-in-law's death cut him to the quick.

After luncheon that day I found myself alone with Mr. Maybourne. I was not sorry for this, as I wanted to sound him as to my future movements. As I have so often said, I had no sort of desire to remain in Cape Town, and judged that the sooner I was up country, and out of civilization, the better it would be for me.

"You must forgive my being frank with you, Mr. Wrexford," said my host, as we lit cigars preparatory to drawing our chairs into the verandah; "but I have gathered from what you yourself have said and from what my daughter has told me, that you are visiting South Africa on the chance of obtaining some sort of employment. Is this so?"

"That is exactly why I am here," I said. "I am most anxious to find something to do as soon as possible."

"In what direction will you seek it?" he asked. "What is your inclination? Remember, I may be able to help you."

"I am not at all particular," I answered. "I have knocked about the world a good deal, and I can turn my hand to most things. But if a choice were permitted me, I fancy I should prefer mining of some sort to anything else."

"Indeed! I had no idea you understood that sort of work."

"I have done a good deal of it," I replied, with a little touch of pride, for which next moment I found it difficult to account, considering the result to which it had brought me.

He asked one or two practical questions, which I was fortunately able to answer to his satisfaction, and then was silent for a couple of minutes or so. At last he consulted his pocket book, and then turned to me again.

"I fancy, Mr. Wrexford," he said, "that you have come in the nick of time for both of us. We may be able to do each other mutual services."

"I am very glad to hear that," I answered. "But in what possible way can I help you?"

"Well, the matter stands like this," he said. "As you are doubtless aware, my business is mostly in connection with mining, both in this colony and its neighbors. Well, information has lately reached me concerning what promises to prove a first-class property in Mashonaland, eighty-five miles from Bulawayo. The mine has been excellently reported on, and is now being got into good going order. It only needs a capable manager at its head to do really well. Of course such a man is easily procured in a country where every man seems to be engaged in mining, more or less; and yet for that very self-same reason I am unable to make a selection. The available men all know too much, and I have private reasons for wishing this mine to be well looked after. Now the question is, would you care for the post?"

Needless to say, I embraced the opportunity in much the same manner as a hungry trout jumps at a fly. If I could only manage to get up there without being caught the appointment would suit me in every way. Mr. Maybourne seemed as pleased at my acceptance of it as I was at his offer; and when, after a little further conversation—in which I received many useful hints and no small amount of advice—it was revealed to his daughter, she struck me as being even more delighted than either her father or myself. I noticed that Mr. Maybourne looked at her rather anxiously for a moment as if he suspected there might be some sort of understanding between us, but whatever he may have thought he kept it to himself. He need, however, have had no fear on that score. Circumstances had placed an insurmountable barrier between myself and any thought of marriage with his daughter.

As the result of our conversation, and at my special desire, it was arranged that I should start for my post on the following day. Nobody could have been more eager than I was to be out in the wilds. But, with it all, my heart felt sad when I thought that after to-morrow I might never see the woman I so ardently loved again. Since the previous night, when on the promenade-deck of the steamer I had told her of my love, neither of us had referred in any way to the subject. So remote was the chance that I should ever be able to make her my wife that I determined so far as possible, to prevent myself from giving any thought to the idea. But I was not destined after all to leave without referring to the matter.

That evening after dinner we were sitting in the verandah outside the drawing-room, when the butler came to inform Mr. Maybourne that a neighbor had called to see him. Asking us to excuse him for a few moments he left us and went into the house. When we were alone together I spoke to my companion of her father's kindness and told her how much I appreciated it. She uttered a little sigh, and as this seemed an extraordinary answer to my speech, I enquired the reason of it.

"You say you are going away to-morrow," she answered, "and yet you ask me why I sigh! Cannot you guess?"

A JEWISH FATHERLAND

Egypt or Asia Minor Suggested For the Settlement.

Brussels, Jan. 30.—The general Jewish conference called to consider the state of the Jews in Russia, formally opened its session here today under the presidency of David Wolffsohn, chairman of the International Zionist Committee. In his opening address President Wolffsohn urged the establishment of an international committee, either in Berlin or in London to watch the interests of the Russian Jews. A motion to that effect went over until a latter session. M. Mandelstamm, of Kieff, presented a report on the condition in Russia, from which it was gathered that the Jews had no hopes of an improvement in their status resulting from a revolution or government reforms. The only solution of the problem, according to the report would be the foundation of a Jewish Fatherland.

M. Kohan, of Kishineff, thought the eventual emigration of all the Jews from Russia was inevitable. He proposed Egypt or Asia Minor as suitable for a Jewish settlement.

Delegates from Germany, Austria-Hungary, Great Britain, Russia, France, Italy, Denmark and Argentina, are present, but the American delegates have not arrived.

TRYING IT ON THE DOG

Canines Become Unhealthy Under Impure Food Tests.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Jan. 31.—The Philadelphia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals is lot on the trail of a Niagara Falls chef who is known throughout the country. The society alleges cruelty to dogs during the last few weeks. Some time ago the chef was designated by the National Ordinary Society make tests of impure food and then formulate reports to assist in promoting the passage of the pure food bill now before Congress. In order to accomplish this best results, the chef decided to make tests on dogs, and he secured four Quaker City canines. After feeding them on present-day food stuffs he brought them to this city and continued the treatment, with the result, it is said, that the animals soon became emaciated and unhealthy.

The other day the chef went to Philadelphia to report his progress, and he had been in the city only a short time when he was accosted by a member of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who notified him to stop his "barbarity" or suffer the prosecution of the society.

He explained that the experiments were not being made with a view to maltreating the dogs, but to protect humanity from unscrupulous food purveyors. This explanation failed to mollify the wrath of the agent and a heated controversy ensued.

TO EXTEND SYSTEM.

Orillia, Jan. 31.—The Fire, Water, Light and Power Committee of the Town Council has decided to extend the electric wires to the Narrows, and will supply lights to residents of Atherley, in the county of Ontario, as well as to those living on this side of the bridge.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

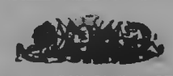
SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.



SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1,500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locater may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Rich Sample of Ore.

The secretary of the Big Dipper Mine, yesterday showed a Times' representative a sample of ore taken from that mine that would make the mouth of a brass image water. The free gold, not in three moles, but in, literally speaking, chunks, was in quantity enough to run perhaps $1,000 to the ton. He also had a small glass phial containing free gold he had picked out of other bits of ore.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Nothing doing in police circles yesterday.

—The directors of the Public Library met yesterday evening.

—Lindsay Post says; Sap was seen to fall from the trees on Sunday.

—The teachers' training class of St. Andrew's church met last night.

—There will be a total eclipse of the moon visible in Peterboro on Feb. 9th

—The annual meeting of St. Paul's church congregation was held yesterday evening.

—The officers' instruction class of the 57th Regiment met at the drill hall yesterday evening.

—The young men of Knox church will give a concert in the church tonight at eight o'clock.

—The first meeting of the new Board of Management of St. Andrew's church will be held tonight.

—A number of young men intend holding a dance in the Foresters' hall Simcoe street, on Wednesday, Feb. 7th.

—At the regular prayer meeting of St. Andrew's church last night, Rev. J. G. Potter gave an address on "A Mission Survey."

—Six coaches were filled with the Lindsay curlers and their friends, on Tuesday, when the Knights of the broom went to play in Toronto.

—The funeral of the late Mr. Geo. Martin, held under auspices of Court Stanley, No. 7680, A.O.F., on Tuesday, to Little Lake cemetery, was largely attended.

—If you eat a combination of pickles, fresh bread and sauer kraut, you may keep awake on the night of Feb. 9th, and at one a.m., see the total eclipse of the moon.

—The County Council have not yet made any known decision as to where the house of refuge will be located. Lakefield gave them a big time and are trying hard to get the poor house.

—A pair of steers under the yoke coming down Kent street today caused many to take a look. They were a well-trained pair and put the older citizens in mind of pioneer days.—Lindsay Post.

—The many friends of Mr. Tom Savigny will be pleased to hear that he is recovering at St. Joseph's hospital, after a very critical operation for appendicitis, under the treatment of Dr. Frank O. Neal.

—The village of Lakefield is having unprecedented excitement this year. Local option, midst a strenuous battle of the ballots, has been carried, and now the villagers are trying hard to get a poor house there.

—A lecture on "London," with limelight views will be given by Rev. Gilbert Davidson, vicar of Guelph, at the school room of St. John's church on Monday evening, Feb. 12th, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary.

—As Wm. Laird of Wolfe Island, was driving the well-known pacer Lord Russel, 2.19, from Kingston to Hattersea, on Tuesday, the horse and rig broke through the ice on Longhboro Lake. Both driver and horse were drowned.

—Ensign Edwards, of Toronto, financial special officer, arrived in the city yesterday, and conducted a special service at the Salvation Army barracks yesterday evening. To-night he will deliver an illustrated lecture on "The Coming of the King."

—Facts are now being unearthed in Toronto, showing that the late Ross Government gave away, no record being made in the Books of Ontario, nor no act passed by the Legislature allowing it, a trifle of public timber, worth over $300,000. What's the use of kicking over a trifle like that, especially if it would only come this way?

—Hogtown is evidently jealous of her eastern rival, Peterboro. The Toronto Mail & Empire, in its long and circumstantial account of the recent successful concert in Massey Hall, at which Peterboro's fair, young and talented vocalist, Miss Helen Davies, won so many well bestowed laurels, failed to either note that Miss Davies came from Peterboro, or to say one word about this city sending up, by special train, a large contingent. Perhaps the Hogtown reporters are hoping to claim Miss Davies as "Toronto's favorite singer," or to say that "Miss Davies whose debut was made before a Toronto audience, in her native city!" Still Toronto has perhaps a precedent to work on; it will be remembered that when Edward Hanlan, the oarsman, won the World's Championship, in England, the American press, almost to a unit spoke of Hanlan as "The American Champion."

Sharpe vs. Hannah.

Mrs. Charlotte Sharpe has issued a writ against Susan B. Hannah, for the specific performance of a contract in writing, made between the parties, for the purchase and sale of No. 217 Charlotte street, in the city of Peterboro, or for damages for breach of same. Messrs. Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Edmison & Dickson for the defendant.

Telephone Girls Not Mind Readers.

Yesterday a gentleman well known in this city, told The Times a story dated yesterday, that is too good to keep. It seems that a relative of the gentleman, telling the story, received a telephone message, saying that still another relative of the hero of this little tale was in a dangerous condition, and asking that the family doctor, who lives opposite his residence be sent at once. The relative at once rung off, and in due time called up Central. In reply to the Central's usual question "What number please?" in his excitement, he replied, "Give me the doctor's house, quick!" "Which doctor?" asked the Central. "Why, good Lord, what doctor do you suppose? The one just across the street," he fired off. (Meaning of course across from his own residence, he, the relative speaking from a George street place of business.) After further explanations, the gentleman wanting the doctor, and remembering that the central girls were not telepathists or mind readers, gave her the medical man's name or number, and, at once secured his services.

Customs Returns For January.

By courtesy of the local Customs House officials we are enabled to give our readers the returns of collections made in Peterboro for January of this year as compared with those of the same month last year. That Peterboro's business, both industrial and commercial, is rapidly expanding is shown conclusively by this great financial test, the customs collections during January of this year showing an increase of $9,257.54 over the corresponding month in 1905. The figures are;

Jan. 1906	$25,140.72
Jan. 1905	15,883.18
Increase	$9,257.54

C. P. R. New Grain Line.

Deputations are in the City of Ottawa, and yesterday afternoon, waited on the Minister of Railways. They represent the C.P.R. and the G.T.R. The former is applying for approval of its route map to run a loop knot from Peterboro to Victoria Harbor and Midland. It is an adjourned hearing, as at the first one those interested were asked to get additional information for the Minister. This has been done. It is understood that the G.T.R. only opposed the application in so far as it would likely affect their interests. Full particulars, not available for this issue, but will appear in tomorrow's Times.

When was the Dunkin Act Passed?

A number of farmers and local citizens on the market square, were much tickled over the way in which a controversy, incidentally involving a bet of $10, and which had lasted two days, between a farmer named Malcolm and a local official, was settled. It seems that Mr. Malcolm had got it in his mind that the Dunkin Act (?) act was passed [illegible] ago. The local official [illegible] and was taken up by [illegible] years ago. Several local citizens tried to decide the bet by affirming that the act was passed here in 1876, but Mr. Malcolm would not be convinced.

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1000 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $975 a ton, or about $1250 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of this has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

The Auburn Infant Died By Violence

Doctors Greer and Morgan Say Infant's Neck Was Fractured, Side Badly Bruised and Umbilical Cord Was Not Tied.

The adjourned Coroner's inquest on the body of an unknown infant found by Mr. P. Sullivan, at the wicket of Auburn Mills power intake on Saturday last, was continued last night in the council chamber.

Coroner Dr. Gray presided, and the following jurymen were present, viz. Messrs.:

Jas. Fennie—Foreman.
D. W. Miller.
C. A. Stratton.
W. Stebbeth
W. Shea.
W. J. Johnston.
Jas. Johnston.
R. Shuhy.
C. L. Hayes.
Bert Wallis.
John Logan.
W. P. Adamson.
W. P. White.

After the customary ceremonies had been attended to, Dr. Greer, who, as noted in a former issue, had been asked to perform the post-mortem investigation, was called upon to give his report. During the reading of his report, several practical questions were asked by County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, and several of the jurymen.

DR. GREER'S REPORT.

Dr. Greer sworn, produced a written report, signed by himself and Dr. Morgan, which said:

"The child's neck was fractured.

"I believe the child breathed before entering the water.

"Cannot be positive as to cause of death.

"Its death was not caused by drowning.

"It might have died from hemorrhage from umbilical cord, or from injury to the neck.

"The blow on the side must have been inflicted before death.

"A sudden twist of the neck might have fractured it, as it was fractured.

"There was an injury to the breast at the 6th and 7th rib, caused probably by a blow, rather than by a steady pressure.

"Death must have occurred just before or just after the neck was broken.

"The neck could not well have been broken by any injury sustained while in the water.

"There was no mark of injury on the head.

"Cause of death might be either hemorrhage from umbilical cord, from fracture or direct injury to breast or neck.

"Injury to breast was probably caused two or three hours before death.

"Blood in pleural cavities was apparently a post-mortem exudation.

"There was little blood on body indicating much bleeding from umbilical cord. A torn cord will bleed less than a cord that has been cut.

"A child would probably bleed to death if cord were not tied.

"Death must have been caused by violence or neglect.

"Didn't think the body was washed after birth. Body was not clothed. Believed child had practically no care after its birth. The dark substance partially covering the body when found, was probably from the water.

"Body was fully developed.

"Birth had not been premature.

"Time body was in water is a matter of conjecture, as weather was fairly cold.

"There was some little decomposition. Can't say definitely how long it was in the water.

"Neglect to tie the cord would in my opinion cause death."

(Sgd.) T. NEWTON GREER.

Dr. J. A. Morgan, who assisted Dr. Greer at the autopsy, then signed the report as above given, and certified to having nothing further in the case to communicate.

The coroner then addressed the jury, telling them to meet again in two weeks from date at the same time and place, i.e., on Feb. 15th, in the city building.

TO VISIT PETERBORO

Hon. Mr. Emmerson and His Deputy to Investigate T.V.C. Lift Lock.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail and Empire says:—The Cabinet today had under consideration the report on Mr. Holgate, C.E., of Montreal, on the details in the construction of the lift-lock at Peterboro. It is stated that the report reveals a serious condition of affairs, affecting both engineers and contractors. Full power was given to Mr. Emmerson to take action. The Minister and his deputy Mr. Butler, left for Toronto tonight to attend the annual banquet of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers. On Friday they will go to Peterboro, where some action will be taken.

The Globe says:

The Cabinet at a meeting this afternoon had before them the report of Mr. Holgate, C.E., upon the Peterboro lift lock. Mr. Emmerson gave his colleagues this most important features of the report, in which the investigating engineer explained the defects of the lift lock, and reflected severely upon those responsible. In Mr. Holgate's opinion the lock-gates, due to faulty workmanship, are unfastened. Certainly authorized his minister to take such action as the circumstances called for, and there appears to be little doubt but that the services of certain officials will be dispensed with.

RUSSIA CAN'T OBTAIN LOAN

German Bankers Will Not Fall in Line and Aid Witte.

St. Petersburg, February 2.—Herr von Mendelssohn's declaration that his combination of German bankers does not propose making the advance upon which high hopes had been built by Witte makes the financial situation awkward, because under the best of conditions, Paris bankers can only furnish 5,000,000 francs. It was expected that the Mendelssohn group, with the desire to keep Witte afloat would make special terms to save Russia from financial crisis.

M. Friedman, a well known broker, says: "Unless internal peace is soon restored, or a large foreign loan obtained, nothing can prevent the stoppage of gold payments by Russia."

On all sides are indications that financial conditions are critical.

LINDSAY POULTRY SHOW

Mr. H. Lush Enters Some Fine Birds at Scugogville.

According to the Lindsay Post, the poultry show, which opened in that town on Wednesday, is highly successful. There is a large number of entries, and the quality of the birds exhibited is excellent.

Bobcaygeon—Ormond Walsh.
Bowmanville—Sam Snowden, W. R. Knight, T. J. Cole.
Lindsay—Jas. Lander, Bert. Letts, Walter Calvert, Wilbert Hunter, F. J. Carew, Alex. Horne, Chas. E. Sutcliffe, R. A. Robinson, A. Cuthbert, George Calvert, S. Oliver, P. Conquergood.
Stouffville—L. B. Forsythe.
Nagagne—M. H. Fraelic.
East Toronto—W. H. Kerr, Geo. Elliott, Thos. F. McCabe.
Valentia—Victor Saggitt.
Oakwood—Gordon King, W. H. Hancock.
Springville—Jas. Baptie.
Powles' Corners—Wilbert Glaspell.
Cullis & Lane.
Burnt River—Jas. Harper.
Peterboro—H. T. Lush.
Brampton—Joseph Foster.

The entries comprise 450 chickens, 50 turkeys and geese, 25 ducks, 30 pairs pigeons and a large number of guinea pigs.

Lindsay's expert poultry judge, Mr. D. C. Trew, is acting in that capacity at the show, and commenced his duties this morning.

A SKUNK FARM IN DAKOTA

Farmer Makes Fortune in Raising Animals.

Elk Point, S. D., February 1.—John Lucas, living southwest of here in the great bluffs along the Missouri river, is slowly amassing a fortune by the raising and killing of skunks for their hides and oil. He has been doing this for several years and now has a veritable farm of these animals.

He has made an enclosure of stout wire covering an area of an acre. The wire fence is six feet high and the wires are buried three feet below the ground. As the bluffs form a natural home for skunk, he has no houses or shelter to build for the animals. The low marshes in one corner and the heavy growth of bushes at one end of the enclosure make a hiding place for the timid creatures.

The skunks derive their source of nourishment from the small mice they catch along the bluffs and from frogs in the summer time.

The time for killing the animals for their hides begins about November 1 or a little earlier should the weather be cold. Only a stick is necessary, for Lucas walking among the bushes and poking in the holes gives each specimen he selects a slight knock on the head, rendering the victims dead in an instant and not injuring the fur, as a trap or rifle ball would do.

Over 100 prime furs were collected this fall and as many more will be secured this month. The skins are shipped to Sioux City and Omaha and other markets and bring good prices.

The pure black ones are being bred in preference to other where found practicable as the pure black skunk hide is as valuable as mink.

MR. N. JOLLIFFE'S RECITAL

Son of Popular Local Divine to Give Recital in Y. M. C. A.

Owing to insistent local pressure, brought to bear on Lam, Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe, son of Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, of this city, has decided to give a recital in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Tuesday evening, February 20. He will be assisted by Miss H. Adele Bintchford, soprano; Miss Ethel Y. King, contralto, and Mr. W. Maurice van der Water, a tenor, all of Toronto.

Mr. Jolliffe needs no introduction to the citizens of Peterboro, and those who will assist him are spoken of very highly.

It goes without saying that there will be a large audience present.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Yesterday only one case occupied the attention of his Worship at the police court, that of Jos. Tobin, who, as noted in yesterday's issue, was arrested in Dec. of 1905 for being d. & d. are trying to get out of McCallum's restaurant without paying for his supper, and who was released by Chief Hessel, the following day, Sunday, on his promising to appear on Monday morning for trial.

Mr. McCallum was called as a witness and retold the tale of the occurrence.

His Worship gave young Tobin some hearty advice, regarding his actions in the future and imposed a fine of $2 with $4.85 costs to repaid forthwith or 15 days in jail. The young man's father, a most respectable citizen of the east ward, appeared before the court, and, whilst half inclined to let the young man be sent up to give him a lesson, he got up the money, and young Tobin was released.

CANADIAN SHOT IN WEST AFRICA

Dr. A. S. Donaldson Met His Death in German West Africa.

London, February 2.—A despatch to the Central News from Cape Town, published here, says:

"Canadians here are enraged at an alleged outrage by German soldiers at Swakopmund, German South-West Africa, who are said to have shot and killed Dr. Anson Donaldson, of Brockville, Ontario. According to the story, Dr. Donaldson was walking peacefully in the streets when a soldier fired at him, and while he was lying wounded on the ground other soldiers riddled his body with bullets."

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT WILL WAIT.

Ottawa, February 2.—The Canadian Government has not as yet had its attention called to the case of Dr. Donaldson. No action will be taken until they have been officially informed of the murder.

A POPULAR STUDENT.

Montreal, February 2.—Anson Scott Donaldson entered the Faculty of Medicine at McGill in the year 1897, and graduated M.D. in 1901. During his four years' course at the university, Mr. Donaldson was very popular with students and professors alike. He was a good student, as well as being a clever athlete, playing on the University football team and taking part in other games. At the time of his studies in McGill, the war in South Africa was going on, and as soon as he graduated Dr. Donaldson enlisted and went at the front.

NON-COM. HONORED

Corporal Mitchell Given Three Cheers on Occasion of His Leaving the 57th.

Our readers yesterday were given an account of the "smoker" held by the non-coms. of the 57th Regt. One thing that was inadvertently overlooked was the compliment paid to Corporal Chas. Mitchell, who gave the splendid selections on his recently purchased gramaphone.

During Wednesday evening Corporal Mitchell, who is leaving the city shortly was referred to in very glowing terms in most addresses made by Col. Miller, Sergt.-Major Brittain and others. All expressed regret at losing Corporal Mitchell who has been a faithful member of the regiment. The speakers wished him every success in whatever line of work he might be engaged. Corporal Mitchell made a suitable reply thanking those who had spoken, for their kindly references.

Col. Miller's speech, Auld Lang Syne, and three cheers for Corporal Mitchell were put onto records by the record-making apparatus in Corporal Mitchell's gramaphone, and were then reproduced, causing much amusement.

CZAR'S SOLDIERS VERY BRUTAL

Terrible Usage Accorded British Merchant by Russians in Manchuria.

HALF NAKED AND FLOGGED

Released Through Efforts of British Ambassadors But Got No Redress

London, February 2.—Mr. Joseph Ernest Geddes, a British merchant at Hongkong, has arrived in London to petition the Foreign Office regarding his arrest by the Russians in Manchuria on the charge of being a spy. He states that having obtained permission to trade in Manchuria, he left his branch at Tientsin in December a year ago. On reaching Mukden he was arrested as a spy and charged with selling to the Japanese plans of the fortifications of Port Arthur, a place he had never visited. His papers were torn up and his clothing was cut in the process of searching for incriminating documents. The only reply made to his remonstrances was: 'Oh, you British are all the same. You would help the Japanese.' Wearing nothing but trousers, shirt and stockings, he was placed in a small room preparatory to being shot on the following morning.

Ten days passed, and Mr. Geddes says on each day he was told that the next would be his last. He managed to write several letters to General Kuropatkin, asking for an explanation, but no reply came. At the end of 10 days he was sent under escort to the military prison at Kharbin. Here he remained for six months until June 16, his repeated applications to General Nadaroff for an investigation being futile. General Nadaroff eventually visited him, and, according to Mr. Geddes, admitted that he did not know why he was imprisoned except that it was by the orders of the Commander-in-Chief. A few days later Mr. Geddes was removed from Kharbin and placed with a gang of 40 criminals in a prison waggon closely guarded by soldiers. Their destination, he learned, was Irkutsk, in Siberia. He had then nothing but his trousers, shirt, and stockings, and was in that condition until he reached Warsaw.

The horrible journey amidst the snow included halting at 15 prisons on the way. At Warsaw, though suffering from exposure, he was placed in a small room devoid of furniture and without sufficient warmth. Each morning for 10 or 12 days, he says, an official came up, and giving him half a dozen lashes with his belt, said, "Confess you are a spy." He refused and the whipping ceased. Eventually he managed to get into touch with some political prisoners, and smuggled a letter to the British consul. He was removed to another prison, but the vice-consul sought him out, and having heard his story, communicated with the British Ambassador. The latter brought the matter before Count Lamsdorff.

Mr. Geddes states that he has since seen the correspondence in which Count Lamsdorff asked why Mr. Geddes was sent half-naked across Siberia and also ordered his immediate release. Ultimately he was set free, but no apology was offered him. A Jew gave Mr. Geddes some clothes, and the British consul bought his ticket to Berlin. From there the British Ambassador ambassador sent him to Hamburg, where the consul shipped him to Grimsby. Mr. Geddes was born in Hongkong, and possessed an extensive printing and general merchandise business.

OVER SEA HABIT

Difference on This Side the Water.

The persistent effect upon the heart of caffeine in coffee cannot but result in the gravest conditions in time.

Each attack of the drug (and that means each cup of coffee) weakens the organ a little more, and the end is almost a matter of mathematical demonstration. A lady writes from a Western state:

"I am of German descent and it was natural that I should learn at a very early age to drink coffee. Until I was 27 years old I drank scarcely anything else at my meals.

"A few years ago I began to be affected by a steadily increasing nervousness, which eventually developed into a distressing heart trouble that made me very weak and miserable. Then, some three years ago, was added asthma in its worst form. My sufferings from these things can be better imagined than described.

"During all this time my husband realized more fully than I did that coffee was injurious to me, and made every effort to make me stop.

"Finally it was decided a few months ago, to quit the use of coffee absolutely, and to adopt Postum Food Coffee as our hot table drink. I had but little idea that it would help me, but concerned to try it to please my husband. I prepared it very carefully, exactly according to directions, and delighted with its delicious flavor and refreshing qualities.

"Just as soon as the poison from the coffee had time to get out of my system the nutritive properties of the Postum began to build me up, and I am now fully recovered from all my nervousness, heart trouble and asthma. I gladly acknowledge that now, for the first time in years, I enjoy perfect health, and that I owe it all to Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Arrested for Libel.

Hamilton, Jan. 31.—Mr. Mark Lynch Staunton, proprietor of the Hamilton Review, a weekly paper which is distributed free, was arrested this morning on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by George Sanderson, of the Sanderson Stock Company, which is playing at the Grand Opera House this week. Staunton pleaded not guilty, and the case was enlarged till Thursday.

The article complained of appeared last week, and Sanderson's company was referred to as "one that had been playing in bar-rooms." The defendant is a brother of George Lynch Staunton, the eminent K.C. and formerly ran the Dundas Star.

THE PRINTERS' BANQUET

TYPO. UNION NO. 248 HOSTS LAST NIGHT.

Their Banquet in Forresters' Hall was a Splendid Succes.

Last night one of the most successful banquets, ever enjoyed in this city, was held in the fine and beautifully fitted up lodge rooms of the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street.

Across the lodge room, was the table presided over by Mr. Charles H. Reid, president of the local union. Along the vast lodge room, and throughout its length, in T shape, ran another long table. Every seat at these tables was occupied by a bright intelligent member of the 4th estate. The evening's proceedings, of course began with the banquet and although a glance at the program, most beautifully gotten up, in the highest style of the printers' art, might perhaps mislead those not present, by their thinking erroneously, that the bill of fare was more full of puns and witticisms than of food for gods and men, there was no misconception on the part of those fortunate enough to be present. The tables were laden with the best the market could provide, well served by a capable staff of waiters, but the menus card was, to use the immortal words of a Canadian politician, "A Corker."

Mr. Charles H. Reid, president of the local Union, of course, occupied the position of President of the Feast.

When it came to the proper and fitting time, Mr. Reid got up and, in a short, but well timed and patriotic speech, gave as present the universally popular toast of "The King," and coupled with this, as Hon. J. R. Stratton who was to have responded to the latter toast, "The Dominion."

The Toast List was as follows;

"THE KING."
"THE DOMINION."
"THE CRAFT."
"OUR GUESTS."
"OUR EMPLOYERS."
"THE SANCTUM."
"OFFICERS ELECT."
"THE LADIES."

Just previous to the toast to the "Officers Elect," Mr. A. Martin read an address, and Mr. Pearman presented Mr. Reid with a handsome ring on behalf of the Peterboro Typographical Union. Mr. Reid made a suitable acknowledgement.

Mr. Bagley in replying to the toast to the "Craft," got into a reminiscent mood. In a humorous way he told how in his first experience in the printing business, 17 years ago, he had not enough left out of his salary to buy a brewery. His speech was a thorough success and provoked continual rounds of laughter. Mr. Cowie next gave a short, pithy, but humorous speech. Mr. Shepherd then favored the company with a vocal solo.

Mr. Smith, vice-president, next proposed the health of "Our Guests" which was replied to first by Mr. Merry. It was 29 years ago since he attended the first banquet, when he was with the Review office. Mr. Scott next spoke on behalf of the leather workers of Peterboro. Mr. Cookson next spoke and congratulated the printers on getting the Eight-Hour Day. Mr. Baker next spoke on behalf of the barbers. Mr. Stockdale then made a good bright address, congratulating the printers on getting reduction in their hours. Mr. Evans next spoke on behalf of the tailors. Mr. Sharpe on behalf of the moulders also spoke.

Owing to the late hour when this this stage of the successful banquet was reached, we are unable, in this issue, to give further details until Saturday's issue.

But in the fewest words to convey a synopsis of last night's banquet, it was a success, and a most enjoyable entertainment.

President—Chas. H. Reid.
Vice-pres.—A. W. Smith.
Treas.—W. A. Lewis.
Rec.-Sec.—R. B. Pearman.
Fin.-Sec.—J. G. Parry.
Sergt.-at-Arms—J. T. Thompson.
Scribe—W. Peters.
Executive Committee—F. S. Tubbs, A. Martin, G. Cairns.

MEMBERS.

R. Beattie, T. J. Bagley, C. Brownlee, J. Brown, R. Breese, A. J. Bothwell, T. J. Chaliff, W. Cowie, D. J. Costello, D. C. Davis, W. Donnelly, C. Donovan, L. Frank, F. Gardner, A. C. Hawridge, R. T. Hemmell, D. Kane, L. Lachaer, R. J. Long, W. O'Rourke, T. W. Ramsay, S. A. Slight, J. Kennedy, A. Lathaer, C. H. Mitchell, G. Pearman, J. E. Sharrard, R. Wilson.

Last night's menu was as follows:

Scotch oysters
Blue fi points, stewed pied raw,
Dead or live.
Full face lamb- fat roast beef
Extended ox tongue Deviled calves
Reviled Shell.
Nonpareil hair, appreciation soup
Cow's wedding gravy, Lazy grimes celery, dead beet, sears head cabbage.
Double Yokome eggs, pissed onions.
Pickled Mc quad.
Rasberry tarts, Hutchinson Editorial Pills, Devilish pie, lemon tarts, Pastry short takes.

And so forth along the lines of runs on the types.

Working Plans For The New Fire Hall

To Be Prepared By Architect Blackwell---This Was Decided at Meeting of Fire, Water and Light Com. Last Night---Disposition of Old Steam Engine.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night in the committee room.

There were present his Worship, Mayor Henry Best; Chairman Ald. Adams, and Aldermen Elliott, Graham, Ball, Mason, Towey; Fire Chief Thos. Rutherford, City Engineer T. A. S. Hay, and Architect Blackwell, who has been retained to engineer the construction of the new fire hall, which was the main business under consideration.

Ald. Towey is not a member of this committee, but taking a deep interest in this live question, he made a point of being present.

The blue print of the proposed building prepared by the city engineer last year, was carefully considered.

Ald. Adams was afraid Mr. Hay's plan allowing for a building of 61 feet frontage, could not be erected for the sum appropriated, $9,000, and the committee under advise of the experts present, decided to reduce it two feet.

The blue print provides for four runaways, and accommodation for 12 men and a foreman. This new fire hall will be erected on Aylmer St., west, immediately below Dr. Greer's residence.

The question of kind and quality of flooring, and the material of the building in general, was discussed, but nothing definitely arrived at.

Ald. Hall—"I'm anxious to see the price kept down as low as possible, and the work begun at as early a date as convenient. The material with which the building is built can be left to the advice of those better acquainted with such matters than I am."

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Hall, that the plans be approved as amended by reducing the width from 63 to 79 feet, leaving a 10-ft. roadway each side of the building; and that Mr. Blackwell be instructed to prepare working plans and specifications.—Carried.

The depth of the hall will be 58 feet over all, and stand back from the sidewalk ten feet.

Mr. Blackwell will have the working plans ready in a week, when they will be submitted to the committee again.

THE OLD ENGINE.

The question of repairing the old steam fire engine came up for discussion. Communications on this matter show that the Waterous concern of Brantford, estimate the cost of repairing the machine at $1000 or $2,000, while the London firm would not fix any price until their representative had examined the engine.

Mr. Pritchard of the latter firm will be in the city in a few days. The Brantford firm offer to loan a small engine while ours is under repair.

The question of whether it would be necessary to buy a new steam engine if the old one is put in good condition was then gone into; but the committee as a whole advocated purchasing a new machine.

Ald. Mason favored spending say $1000 in repairing our present machine, and then selling it, the profits of which sale could go toward the cost of a new steamer. It was conceded that the old engine, properly overhauled, should fetch $2,000.

His Worship concurred in this view.

Ald. Elliott and Towey, thought the old engine as it stands, might be traded in part payment for a new one.

His Worship here asked on what valuation this could be done to advantage? He did not think any values in a trade deal could be secured commensurate with the advantage of repairing the engine for $1,000 and disposing of it for say $2,000. Of course if $1,000 were allowed in part payment, that would amount to the same thing.

Ald. Towey pointed out that the city should not be left without a steam engine at hand, as one cannot tell day by a steamer will be needed. The Brantford people offer to loan a small engine while our old one is under repair, which would be several months, should be taken into consideration.

It seems that in any event a new engine will not be shipped here until the new hall is ready, as according to Chief Rutherford there is no accommodation for so heavy a machine, and he advised last night that the floor of our present fire hall will not support any engine the Brantford people may loan the city.

Ald. Adams thought the floor could be sufficiently strengthened.

Incidentally, Ald. Adams asserted that the fire insurance companies are going to reduce by 15 per cent. all risks matured since January 1st.

The disposition of the old steamer was left in abeyance. It may be kept as an auxiliary, after repaired, or sold, or traded in part payment for a new one; which course will be pursued, will be recommended later.

Chief Rutherford reported that the hind wheels of the hook and ladder, need repairing. The chief was authorized to have this attended to.

The committee then adjourned.

MRS. MORROW'S ADDRESS

Eloquent Appeal Respecting Chinese in Victoria B. C.

On Wednesday night the Women's Missionary Society connected with Charlotte street church, conducted the weekly prayer meeting service in the lecture room. Mrs. Kilgour, president of the society, presided, and the members of the Mission Band, assisted by rendering two sacred choruses. The feature of the evening and what the large number present thoroughly enjoyed was Mrs. Morrow's address on the work in the Chinese Home in Victoria, B.C. Mrs. Morrow has been connected with the work there, and could therefore give a lot of inside information. She told many interesting stories about the work among the Chinese girls, and also told of the great need for more help in the work in British Columbia.

DELAY IN THE TENDERS

Modifications in the Specifications of the New Road being Discussed.

Ottawa, February 2.—The necessity of some modification in the specifications for the Western and Eastern ends of the Winnipeg-Quebec section of the Transcontinental Railway to which the consent of the G. T. P. directors must be given, will involve a few days' delay, so the tenders will not be invited as early as was expected. Messrs. Hays, Morse, and Wainwright, were in consultation yesterday afternoon with the Transcontinental commissioners concerning the modifications, which have reference to the telegraph lines to be constructed. No objection was raised and it is understood that the formal approval of the G. T. P. directorate will be given at a meeting to be called for the purpose. The specifications will then have to pass council and be approved by order-in-council, and then the call for tenders will be made.

ONTARIO'S IMMIGRATION

Preparing For Big Rush During Approaching Season.

Toronto, February 2.—The Ontario Government is preparing to receive 150,000 immigrants this year, and the department is active already with the arrangements. The old offices in the Union Station will be vacated soon and new quarters where there is more room are to be taken up where Col. Mellee's apartments were, near the station.

At the Grand Central Hotel, where the government immigrants stay while on their way to the West, nearly $15,000 is to be spent to put on two new storeys and as additional fifty rooms in anticipation of the promised rush. The plans are prepared and work will commence within a week or two.

A VERY OLD WOMAN

Who Has Just Died at the Age of 135 Years.

Philadelphia, February 1. Having lived nearly twice the allotted three score and ten, Mrs. Mary McDonald, the picturesque inmate of the Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Persons, Forty-fourth street and Girard avenue, died early yesterday morning after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. McDonald was born on November 14, 1770, and was said to be the oldest woman in the United States, having lived one hundred and thirty-five years, one month and twenty-one days. She remembered some of the battles of the war of independence, and is said to have met Washington.

SIN'S CONSEQUENCES

Innocent Indulgence Often Brings Trouble—Simple Means of Escape.

The consequences of violating physical law are often as unpleasant as the breaking of a moral rule. The innocent indulgence of over-eating brings consequences that amount to real suffering. Indigestion is not natural; it is not right; it should not be. We offer a means of escape in Mi-o-na tablets that is simple and practical.

These simple tablets are compounded of such valuable medicinal agents as bismuth subgallate, which is superior to all other remedies for stomach troubles, curtom oxalate, and tonic and corrective which promote the action of the digestive organs, strengthen the whole digestive tract, and make it possible to eat what you like and when you like.

If you suffer with head aches, indigestion, flatulency, heart burn, dizziness, sleeplessness, bad taste, or debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once. Just one tablet out of a 50 cent box before each meal, and you will regain perfect health and strength.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be [illegible] free. The R. T. Booth Co., Ithaca, N. Y.

When Run-down "Draggy," Used-up

You Lack the Vigor, Courage and Staying Power that "Ferrozone" Can Supply

Night comes and it's hard to sleep. Morning dawns and the exhausted, tired feeling is still there. Don't neglect this gradual decline; it can't cure itself. But by forming rich, pure blood, Ferrozone will quickly supply the nutriment and building material your system craves.

Instantly you are aware that some powerful force is building up your depleted energies. Day by day you feel braced, toned, strengthened. Search the world over and you won't find anything to tone up a weak system like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the most strength-giving, uplifting medicine ever discovered.

No more spells of tiredness, but bounding, joyful health when you take Ferrozone, of which Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Bowsman, Man., speaks in the following words of praise:

"I state my case because I think it may assist other women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffering from nervousness, and hysteria. Little things going wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments but they didn't help. He said my low condition was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous and was made so by Ferrozone."

Why not cast aside the claims of sickness and enter the bright, happy life of robust health. Let Ferrozone help you—let it cure you once and forever. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

GO SLOW ABOUT NIAGARA

The proposal of U. S. Senator Platt for a joint commission to inquire into the effect upon Niagara Falls of the subtraction of water for industrial purposes need not worry us very seriously from the point of international etiquette, as some of our contemporaries seem to think. The worthy Senator seeks this authority from Great Britain. That is but the ordinary way of sounding the Federal Government of Canada in such situations, says the London Free Press. The Government at Washington would hardly seek to deal directly with the Government at Ottawa on a question of international navigation, any conclusion regarding which would have to be ratified in London. And it is to the navigation of Niagara River that the point in is to be raised at Washington. The preservation of the falls for its scenic interest, as an attraction to tourists, is a matter belonging to the State of New York and, conjointly, the Province of Ontario. The American people thus concerned fear the drying up of the American fall by the drainage of large quantities of water away from it for industrial purposes. They foresee the time when this fall will be diminished until it ceases to be an object of scenic beauty, and they are petitioning Congress to interfere in whatever way its authority may direct it, to check what is regarded as a desecration of nature's great handiwork. Now, Niagara River is navigable for seven miles from Lake Ontario, and from Lake Erie to a point about a mile above the cataract. To this extent the Federal Governments of both countries have probably more or less jurisdiction. And on such plea the Washington authorities may see their way to an inquiry by commission which would involve the other point at issue, namely the cessation of the fall as a scenic wonder. If the subtraction of water can be checked for the purposes of navigation, it will cover all the ground. But do these questions concern Canada or Ontario very deeply? There is no pretence that the subtraction of water for industrial purposes in New York State will either destroy the Horseshoe Fall or alter its level very materially. It will remain in its glory as long as the rocky foundation stands. The subtraction of water from the Ontario side is strictly limited, and the Whitney Government will see to it that the matter is kept in safe bounds. The only fear is that the power produced on the Canadian side of the river may be drafted across for the industrial purposes of another country to such an extent that Western Ontario may not get the share that is expected. The interest we have in the fate of the American Fall is therefore only a sentimental one. We are satisfied to assist good neighbors to solve a problem which affects themselves chiefly, if not wholly. But is there any special need for Canada to interfere, either directly or in a roundabout way? Is the preservation of the American Fall for its beauty alone, a sufficient motive for the Canadian Government to join the U. S. Government in setting bounds to the industrial development of Ontario by Niagara power? For that is what it would come to. Has the Federal Government any right to tie up Ontario in its rights over the power to be gained from the cataract, on pretence of conserving navigation? It will do well to go carefully about the matter. Never mind whether it is the British Government or the Ottawa Government that is first approached. That is a side issue. The great fact is that the potentiality of the American Fall for power production is well nigh exhausted, while that of the Canadian Fall has been only tapped. Why should Ontario's hands be tied by any arrangement of the Federal Government made with the United States?

BIBLE IN THE SCHOOLS

Teachers and Churchmen Agree to Ask Government for its Use.

A step has been taken towards the the introduction of the Bible as a text-book in literature and history in the public and high schools of the Province in the adoption of a resolution at a conference between Principal L. E. Embree of Jameson avenue Collegiate Institute, Toronto, Principal William Scott of the Toronto Normal School and Principal J. O. Miller of Bishop Ridley College, St. Catharines, representing the Ontario Educational Association, and Mr. Hamilton Cassels, K.C., of a committee appointed by the Protestant denominations, to the effect that a request be made to the Minister of Education for legislation to set aside two periods a week in the curriculum of the public and high schools when possible to be devoted to instruction in Biblical knowledge and memorizing of passages of Scriptures.

This resolution will be presented separately to the Ministerial Committee and the Ontario Educational Association for their approval, and if both parties sanction it the measure will then be brought before the Government.

Japs as Nebraska Farmers.

Sioux City, Ia., February 1.—At Lexington, Neb., near here, a colony of fifty Japanese has settled on 640 acres of fine agricultural land, which they will plant to sugar beets. The land lies near a beet sugar factory, and the Japs have been working the past year in the Nebraska beet fields long enough to become familiar with the processes of caring for the beets to become proficient in their production.

They have built cute little huts and furnished them for their native land. Their horses are well stabled. They also have milch cows, although they do not use the milk.

The fruit is hauled to town by these thrifty foreigners and sold to the townspeople.

As neighbors they are well liked as they are generous in all their affairs and seem only to be inclined to attend to the business as concerns their farms.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

Agnes," I said, "you know I have no option but to go. Do not let us go over the ground we covered last night. It would be best not for both our sakes; you must see that yourself."

"You know that I love you, and I know that you love me—and yet you can go away so calmly. What can your love be worth?"

"You know what it is worth," I answered vehemently, roused out of myself by this accusation. "And if ever the chance occurs again of proving it you will be afforded another example. I cannot say more."

"And is it always to be like this, Gilbert," she asked, for the first time calling me by my Christian name. "Are we to be separated all our lives?"

"God knows—I fear so," I murmured, though it cut me to the heart to have to say the words.

She bowed her head on her hands with a little moan, while I, feeling that I should not be able to control myself much longer, sprang to my feet and went across to the verandah rails. For something like five minutes I stood looking into the dark garden, then I pulled myself together as well as I was able and went back to my chair.

"Agnes," I said, as I took possession of her little hand, "you cannot guess what it costs me to tell you how impossible it is for me ever to link my lot with yours. The reason why I cannot tell you. My secret is the bitterest one a man can have to keep, and it must remain locked in my own breast for all time. Had I met you earlier it might have been very different—but now our ways must be separate for ever. Don't think more hardly of me than you can help, dear. Remember only that as long as I live I shall call no other woman wife. Henceforward I will try to be worthy of the interest you have felt in me. No one shall ever have the right to say ought against me; and, if by chance you hear good of me in the dark days to come, you will know that it is for love of you I rule my life. May God bless and keep you always."

She held up her sweet face to me, and I kissed her on the lips. Then, Mr. Maybourne returned to the verandah; and, half-an-hour later, feeling that father and daughter would like a little time alone together before they retired to rest, I begged them to excuse me, and on a pretence of feeling tired went to my room.

Next morning after breakfast I drove with Mr. Maybourne into Cape Town, where I made the few purchases necessary for my journey. In extension of the kindness he had so far shown me, he insisted on advancing me half my first year's salary—a piece of generosity for which you may be sure I was not ungrateful, seeing that I had not a halfpenny in the world to call my own. Out of this sum I paid the steamship company for my passage—much against their wish—obtained a ready-made rig out suitable for the rough life I should henceforth live, also a revolver, a rifle, and among other things a small gold locket which I wished to give to Agnes as a keepsake and remembrance of myself.

At twelve o'clock I returned to the house, and, after lunch, prepared to bid the woman I loved "good-bye." Of that scene I cannot attempt to give you any description—the pain is too keen even now. Suffice it that when I left the house I carried with me, in addition to a sorrow that I thought would last me all my life, a little square parcel which, on opening, I found to contain a photo of herself in a Russian leather case. How I prized that little present I will leave you to guess.

Two hours later I was in the train bound for Johannesburg.

CHAPTER XI.

Six months had elapsed since I had left Cape Town and on looking back on them now I have to confess that they constituted the happiest period of my life up to that time. I had an excellent appointment, an interesting, if not all-absorbing, occupation, comfortable quarters, and the most agreeable of companions any man could desire to be associated with. I was as far removed from civilisation as the most misanthropic of men, living by civilised employment, could hope to get. Our nearest town, if by such a name a few scattered huts could be dignified, was nearly fifty miles distant, our mails only reached us once a week, and our stores every three months. As I had never left the mine for half a day during the whole of the time I had been on it, I had seen no strange faces, and by reason of the distance and the unsettled nature of the country, scarcely half-a-dozen had seen mine.

"The Pride of the South," as the mine had been somewhat grandiloquently christened by its discoverer, was proving a better property than had even been expected, and to my astonishment, for I had made haste to purchase shares in it, my luck had turned, and I found myself standing an excellent chance of becoming a rich man.

One thing surprised me more and more every day, and that was my freedom from arrest; how it had come about that I was permitted to remain at large so long I could not understand. When I had first come up to Rhodesia I had found a danger in everything about me. In the rustling of the coarse veldt grass at night, the sighing of the wind through the trees, and even the shadows of the mine buildings and machinery. But when week after week and month after month went by and still no notice was taken of me by the police, my fears began to abate until, at the time of which I am about to speak, I hardly thought of the matter at all. When I did I hastened to put it away from me in much the same way as I would have done the remembrance of some unpleasant dream of the previous week. One consolation, almost cruel in its uncertainty, was always with me. If suspicion had not so far fallen on me in England, it would be unlikely, I argued, ever to do so; and in this joy of this thought I began to make of the happiness that might possibly be mine in the future. Was it to be wondered at therefore that my work was pleasant to me and that the wording of Mr. Maybourne's letters of praise seemed sweeter in my ears than the strains of the loveliest music could have been. It was evident that my star was in the ascendant, but, though I could not guess it then, my troubles were by no means over; and, as I was soon to find out, I was on the edge of the bitterest period of all my life.

Almost on the day that celebrated my seventh month in Mr. Maybourne's employ, I received a letter from him announcing his intention of starting for Rhodesia in a week's time, and stating that while in our neighborhood he would embrace the opportunity of visiting "The Pride of the South." In the postscript he informed me that his daughter had decided to accompany him, and for this reason he would be glad if I would do my best to make my quarters as comfortable as possible in preparation for her. He, himself, he continued, was far too old a traveler to be worth considering.

I was standing at the engine-room door, talking to one of the men, when the store-keeper brought me my mail. After I had read my chief's letter, I felt a thrill go through me that I could hardly have diagnosed for pleasure or pain. I felt it difficult to believe that in a few weeks' time I should see Agnes again, be able to look into her face, and hear the gentle accents of her voice. The portrait she had given me of herself I carried continually about with me; and, as proof of the inspection it received, I may say that it was already beginning to show decided signs of wear. Mr. Maybourne had done well in asking me to see to her comfort. I told myself I would begin my preparations at once, and it should go hard with me if she were not pleased with my arrangements when she arrived.

Witchcraft Among Them.

Boston, February 1.—Mrs. William H. Sheppard, a Boston missionary just returned from the Congo after twelve years hard work for the American Missionary Association, tells some startling things as to conditions prevailing there under Belgian rule.

Cannibalism and slavery are still practiced universally, while witchcraft and other superstitions prevail among interior tribes. Over five thousand natives have been converted, however, and 1,000 children sold to cannibal chiefs repurchased and saved from horrible deaths.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1500 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $300,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $675 a ton, or about $1200 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1500 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 25 feet by 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locater may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Stick to Local Papers.

A good piece of advice is given to municipalities that are prone to advertise, that is applicable in its widest to the public in general, by the Bobcaygeon Independent, one of the brightest country papers in Canada. The Bob. Ind., Bro'r. Sniffs organ, says:

Mr. W T. Robson, who has charge of the C.P.R. advertising, speaking of municipal advertising, says every municipality should advertise, but they should avoid the travelling fakers, who come along with special editions of write-ups in foreign papers.

50c. Worth of Marriage License.

Yesterday Mr. Fred Cook the local sign writer placed on Mr. Chas. McClelland's Water street jewellery store window a gilt and illuminated sign "Marriage Licenses Issued Here." As Mr. Cook was just completing the job, a local wag dropped into the shop and throwing down 50c. said to Mr. McClelland, "Say Sharlap please give me half a dollars worth of marriage Mentems. The jeweller with a straight face replied, "Say old pal, if you will only get married and settle down, I'll give you a license for a wedding present and supply the ring at cost price. The humorist said he would think it over.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The young men of Knox church held a concert yesterday evening.

—The Saturday Bible Club at the Y.M.C.A. now meets at 7.30 o'clock.

—There were no choir rehearsals held yesterday evening of St. John's choir.

—The Board of Works Committee met last night. Full particulars in another column.

—Mr. F. J. Golden, Campbellford, was in the city yesterday a guest of the Snowden House.

—The inquest on the body of the infant found in the raceway at Auburn last Saturday, was resumed at the police station last night.

—Mr. Will. J. White, the popular Toronto comedian, passed through Peterboro yesterday, en route to the Snowden House, en route to Warsaw.

—Next this year begins on February 28th and ends on April 15th. Easter Sunday. Good Friday will accordingly be observed on the 13th of April.

—Last night Ensign Edwards, of the Salvation Army, gave an address on the "Coming of the King," illustrated by over seven stereopticon views.

—The usual weekly meeting of the Primary and Junior Union of Sunday School teachers will be withdrawn this week on account of St. Paul's Sunday School tea.

—Mrs. Maule, an old resident of Port Hope, was severely burned early yesterday morning. In lighting a lamp her clothing caught fire. She is in a critical condition.

—It was decided at the executive meeting of the Ontario Licensed Victuallers' Association held Monday, that Local men should fight any further restrictions of their business.

—Rev. J. J. Wright, agent of Queen's University, Kingston, was here recently and gave an interesting account of his work in the Yukon to St. Paul's church.—Bowmanville Statesman.

—J. A. Barber, Toronto; J. W. Barrington, Toronto; J. F. Golden, Campbellford. W. J. White, Toronto; F. C. Greer, and J. L. Bronsdon, Toronto, were guests at the Snowden House yesterday.

—Port Hope was in darkness on Wednesday night. No electric lights were in evidence as a squabble existed between the power company and the town council. The company's contract had expired and the trouble arose about the renewal.

—P.C. Adams is this week acting as chief of police in the absence of Chief Rossel, who is laid up seriously ill, but fortunately getting better. Mr. Adam's many friends feel confident that the peace of the city will be well looked after by the eagle eye of this veteran local policeman.

—The annual meeting of the Ottawa Electric Railway Company was held this week. Mr. Thomas Ahearn was re-elected president. Hon. Geo. A. Cox is one of the directors. The gross receipts of the road were $469,000 and the net profits of the year, $143,000. A dividend of 10 per cent. was declared.

PETERBORO'S EXPORTS

Messrs. Ackerman & Son's Harness Goes to the Antipodes.

Messrs. B. F. Ackerman & Son, the enterprising Peterboro harness makers, are branching out again, and are making a strenuous bid for the export trade. They have made a contract with an export agency to manufacture goods for export to South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand for three years. The first shipments of harness are all ready and will leave for their foreign destination this week.

Some years ago Messrs. Ackerman & Son made an experimental shipment to Australia, and it promised to develop a very satisfactory trade. Mr. Ackerman would have continued the line, but it not been that the home trade has grown to such an extent that he found it was all he could do to supply the Canadian market.

These first shipments are only samples, and the firm is making the experiment with a view to future business. They are expending a considerable sum of money in putting up the class of goods in demand in those countries, and in introducing the goods to the trade. In South Africa the harness demand is very different to that used in Canada. In Australia and New Zealand, the harness is more like the English make. However the natty styles and, more than all, the wear and durability of honest Peterboro made goods must, sooner or later, and probably sooner, meet with well merited recognition and consequent demand.

A LOCAL MARRIAGE

Mrs. Eliza Ostrom, Becomes the Bride of Mr. Alex Hamilton.

A very quiet wedding took place at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage, Greenbank, when Mrs. Eliza Ostrom, of Peterboro, and Mr. Alex. Hamilton of Warsaw, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. H. Neville, nephew of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left on the steaming train for their home in Warsaw. Their many friends in Peterboro extend congratulations.

Identification of Burglars.

A despatch was yesterday received from the City of Belleville, concerning a job done by them in the Bay City, which contains descriptions tallying in every particular to that possessed by the Peterboro force of three supposed of going through Hicks & Company's safe here. The suspects are all young men, named Robt. Bennett, aged 26, Joseph Gilman and Wm Scotin about the same age. Little doubt exists but that the recent burglaries perpetrated here were the work of these crooks, who operated at Belleville and other points.

In our issue of tomorrow will appear a long extract taken from the Toronto Mail & Empire which, not only mentions the Peterboro burglary but closely identifies those carrying it through.—Tomorrow's Times.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. L. F. Clarry, barrister, of Hastings, is in the city.

—Mr. J. A. Sutcliffe of Toronto, was in the city yesterday.

—Mr. E. V. Moore is attending the convention of engineers in Toronto.

—Mrs. T. O. Elliott will not receive until the second and fourth Fridays in March.

—Mr. A. W. Spence, C.E., of the Trent Valley Canal staff, Ottawa, is a guest at the Oriental.

—Hon. J. R. Stratton, president of the Trusts and Loan Company (Limited) attended the annual meeting in Toronto on Wednesday.

—Mrs. R. A. Dutton entertained most pleasantly a number of her friends to tea Wednesday afternoon at her residence, 197 London St.

—Miss Gussie Garden, of Barrie, who has been the guest of Miss Beatrice Dutton for the past three weeks returned to her home yesterday morning.

—Lindsay Post; Mr. A. E. Byrne, of Peterboro, was in town yesterday on business.—Mr. W. A. Irvine, of Peterboro, transacted business in town yesterday.

—Bowmanville Statesman; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cawker and Miss M. Adelaide Cawker left Monday for a visit with Mr. Dunstan, Winona, Miss., and other relatives.

—Yesterday, Mr. Fred Cook, placed a handsome gilt sign on this window of Mr. Chas. McClelland's Water St. jewellery store, which reads; "Marriage Licenses Issued Here."

—Mr. H. Francois Ferguson, who has been leading St. John's church choir for the past few weeks, has returned to Fort Erie. Mr. Richard J. Devey, late of England, now of Winchester, will take charge next week.

—A party living at 384 Stewart street yesterday found a purse containing a sum of money in the post office. The owner can obtain possession by proving property.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dobbin are spending a few days in Toronto. Mr. Dobbin is a member of the Executive Committee of the Canadian Press Association, and is attending the annual convention this week.

—Now banners across the principal streets betoken the first carnival of this year run under auspices of the Foresters. This means, weather permitting, that Peterboro will have a good series of carnivals this year.

LAID TO REST

Last Mortal Remains of Mr. C. Dunlop Followed By Long Cortege.

Yesterday afternoon, despite the cold weather, driving sleet, and piercing wind a large number of conveyances followed the solemn body of mourners, who turned out to show their respect to the late Mr. A. C. Dunlop.

Long before the hour advertised, conveyances of all kinds began to gather round the corner, facing St. Paul's church, on Water and Murray streets.

The slow and solemn procession slowly wound its way down George street to the Little Lake cemetery, and there was interred one of the most generally respected and widely known gentleman of this county. Citizens of all grades of society were represented at the funeral, showing by their presence the deep respect felt for the deceased gentleman. Many beautiful floral tributes were received.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance, assisted by Rev. Canon Davidson and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. Dr. Burnham, J. M. Roger, C. N. Brown, W. Blackwell, John E. Belcher, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., and Col. E. B. Edwards.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Officers Elected For Ensuing Year, With Various Committees.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Public Library held Wednesday evening the following officers and committees were elected;

Chairman—Dr. Burnham.

Vice Chairman—W. H. Hill.

Secretary-treasurer—John Corkery.

Library Committee—Messrs. W. H. Hill, Wm. Pringle, Wm. Hamilton and John Corkery.

Property Committee—Messrs. Jas. English, J. S. Knapman and R. Robertson.

Finance Committee—Messrs. W. H. Hill, Jas. English and T. A. S. Hay.

The library officials have of late been swamped by persons taking magazines and other periodicals away from the building, and also mutilating publications by cutting references and paragraphs from them. The directors will endeavor to put a stop to the practice, and a reward of $5 is offered for the detection of the guilty parties.

The board is also considering the advisability of increasing the membership of the library by employing canvassers. An effort will also be made to use if more suitable premises cannot be secured during the coming year.

LIFT LOCK REPORT

Mr. Holgate's Report Considered By Dominion Cabinet.

The Cabinet yesterday afternoon, at Ottawa, discussed the Peterboro lift lock at considerable length. Still there is no information available as to what will be the pursuit of Engineer Holgate's investigation. The Ministers agreed to refer the whole matter to Hon. Mr. Emmerson, for settlement, and he will make further investigations. Already the Minister of Railways and Canals, and his deputy, Mr. Butler, have looked into the affair very thoroughly and Mr. Emmerson was able to make an exhaustive report to his colleagues. After the council meeting he stated that he could give out no information yet, nor discuss the purport of Engineer Holgate's report. It is not expected the contents of this document will be made known till Mr. Emmerson has decided what course to take with regard to the work.

And a long pull describes the pathway of a woman afflicted with female weakness unless she is under the care of a doctor who has had successful experience in the treatment of such cases or else has found the right remedy which can be safely used independently of the doctor.

Forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that women were suffering grossly maltreated—mainly through ignorance and carelessness, and he determined to devote himself to study and research till he found the real cause of their suffering and a proper remedy for it.

He found it, and it came from Nature's Laboratory, the earth, Nature's remedies for woman's weaknesses and ailments. He found in Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root, the required ingredients.

The remedial virtues of these he extracted, combined and preserved by his own exclusive non-alcoholic glycerin process and the compound is now known the world over, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

"The vomiting of nausea too slight seemed to have trouble on an empty stomach pressed heavily after meals, and resulting in high-strung, nervous prostration and until I was not fit to walk, and at times could hardly stand on my feet," writes Mrs. Jennie Ferguson, of 124 Hamilton Ave., Hamilton, Ont. "A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took the first bottle was much relieved. I took three bottles and was entirely cured. Four months after I was taken with pneumonia and was attended by two doctors, but I was not relieved. I was a sick man, and was given up to die. I sent for your pamphlet and began taking your medicine. I am now perfectly well. I owe my life to your blessed remedy—I want to tell women."

Miss Lundy Entertains.

Last night Miss Lundy entertained about twenty guests at her handsome residence, so picturesquely situated in the East Ward, overlooking the Little Lake, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present. The evening was given in honor of the Misses Hudspeth, Port Hope, and Armstrong, of Toronto, guests of last night's hostess. Dancing was the order of the evening, and was kept up until about midnight when supper was served. Miss Lundy as a successful hostess is proverbial in Peterboro.

AMERICAN GAMBLER HAS GOOD LUCK AGAIN

THE PLANETS INVOKED

Father Gapon, the Russian Revolutionist, Often Takes Seat With Grand Dukes.

MONTE CARLO, [illegible]

Mr. Darnborough, the American gambler at the Casino, has once more apparently entered on a run of luck. Not long ago he had won $140,000 at roulette, but he was not content with this, and quite recently lost nearly all his winnings.

He stopped playing for a time, but has now resumed, and in one day this week reaped $60,000. The record for one day was made by the famous "Wells, of Monte Carlo," who "broke the bank" and took away $80,000 as a single day's winnings.

Mr. Darnborough's "system" is extraordinary. One of his great theories is never to place his stake before the ball is set rolling, because he believes that the croupier can regulate the ball's movements. But he invariably stakes on the same numbers, and the croupier therefore would always know beforehand what to do.

Another gambler who is creating interest here bases his play on the movements of the planets, each of which has a number. The inventor is followed by many other gamblers, but the planets hitherto have been unkind, and all his followers have lost.

Father Gapon, the Russian revolutionary leader, occasionally appears at the roulette tables. He is a very cautious player, and risks only a few shillings. He attracts a crowd wherever he appears, especially if by chance he takes a seat at the table where one of the many Russian Grand Dukes is already playing.

Driven to Drink by Twins.

GENEVA, Jan. 27.—A working man's wife at Frauenfeld, in the Canton of Zurich, Switzerland, has given birth to four quarters in one year. In January, 1905, triplets were born, and in December at last the woman gave birth to twins again. The four babies and the mother are doing well, but it is stated that the father has taken to drink and refuses to return home.

IRON-NERVED MAN BURNS OUT HIS EYES

Makes Comrade Pierce Them With Red-Hot Needle to Escape Work.

MARSEILLES,

A remarkable story of a "servolour" soldier who chose to undergo terrible agonies and ultimate blindness rather than perform a disagreeable task has come to light at Tunis.

The soldier, whose name is Delbasse, is in the French disciplinary battalion. He had been ordered to work on the roads, and in order to get out of this he asked his comrade, Pape, to blind him in one eye.

This Pape did by thrusting in a red-hot knitting needle while Delbasse sat stoically in his chair.

Delbasse told his officers that he had blinded himself by accident with a piece of broken glass, but the doctor discovered that the wound had been purposely inflicted. Delbasse escaped with a reprimand and was sent back to work.

He then asked Pape to blind his other eye, and Pape again used the red-hot knitting needle. Delbasse was then totally blind, and was sent to hospital. He has been discharged the army.

Pape was court-martialed, and was sentenced to eight years' hard labor at Tunis yesterday.

ITALIAN RAILWAYS IN STATE OF CHAOS

Would-Be Suicide Threatens to Sue One for Not Being Run Over on Track.

ROME,

Signor Tedesco, Minister of Public Works, in company with Commendatore Bianchi, Director General of State Railways, has started on a tour through the great commercial and maritime centres of Italy, with the object of remedying the new chronic disorganization of the service. The anarchy in the goods traffic is as bad as ever. Almost everywhere big commercial houses and small tradesmen are suffering seriously, many of the latter being ruined, and dealers in perishable merchandise often find it useless trouble to have delayed consignments unloaded.

According to expert advice, no permanent amelioration is possible till at least £20,000,000, has been expended on rolling stock. Owing to obstructionist tactics in Parliament, the railways' liquidation problem remains exactly where it was last July.

As regards passenger trains, even expresses are almost invariably overdue, so that connections cannot be relied upon. But the most provoking situations have their humorous side. Among the latest complaints is a would-be suicide. This gentleman, a commercial traveler, fixed upon the Milan express to end his life. Two minutes before the train was due he laid himself solemnly across the metals. After vainly expecting the train's approach for full fifty minutes, the gentleman was successfully compelled to relinquish the project. He threatens to sue the directorate for notable inconvenience caused him, in which case, it is said, the railway authorities will put in a counterclaim for services rendered.

STOIC ACTRESS PLAYS WITH ARM BROKEN

Fears to Create Panic by Screaming, and Faints When Curtain is Rung Down.

BUDAPEST,

Mme. Marie Jeanny, Hungary's leading tragedienne, broke her arm while playing Gertrude in "Bankban" yesterday, but gave no sign to either audience or players of her pain.

In the last act Gertrude is stabbed and falls, and it was in falling that the accident occurred.

The audience was in a state of nervous tension, and Mme. Jeanny says she felt that a scream from her might start a panic, so she lay for several minutes without a movement, and when the curtain ultimately fell was only just able to tell the others what had happened before she fainted.

The right arm is badly broken, and it will be some weeks before Mme. Jeanny is able to play again.

COUPLE TORTURED BY BRUTAL BURGLARS

Burning Brands From Fire Applied to Flesh of Farmer and His Wife.

PARIS, [illegible]

A farmer and his wife, living near Pierron, in West Flanders, were visited by the fiend here last night when three organized burglars entered the room, seized the couple, bound them to a table and then inquired where they kept their money.

Receiving no reply, the burglars took burning brands from the fire and applied them to the body of their victims until both had fainted. Then they rifled the house, and finally left with a large [illegible] of money.

WEEK OF BANQUETS FOR CITY FATHERS

London's County Councilors to be Feted by the Municipal Council of Paris.

PARIS,

The programme has now been arranged for the receptions to be given to the London County Councilors on their visit to Paris on February 5, in return for the visit paid them by the Paris Municipal Council.

The committee of the Municipal Council will attend at the station to receive their guests, and drive them to their hotel, where several floors have been reserved for them.

In the evening they will be entertained at a banquet, followed by a concert at the Hotel de Ville, which is being specially decorated for the occasion.

On the following day (Tuesday) there will be a special performance at the Opera; on Wednesday a ball at the Town Hall; on Thursday a reception, and probably a banquet at the Quai d'Orsay, where the County Councillors will be the guests of the French Government. On Friday there will be another special performance at one of the theatres, and on Saturday they will leave.

In addition to these festivities, there will be a reception by the President of the Republic and a reception at the British Embassy.

NIGHT ON A BEACON

Thrilling Experiences of Three Men Off South British Coast.

LONDON, —All Thursday night and during the best part of yesterday three lighthousemen, named Machen, Baxter and Turner, were crouched on a beacon outside St. Nectars Bay.

At noon on Thursday they left at. Hollow to work on the Dead de Pan Beacon, situated at the end of a ledge of rocks two miles from the harbor. While at work a gale sprang up, and the tug could not get sufficiently near to take the men off. Yesterday further efforts were made to remove the men from their perilous position, and about 3 o'clock they were successfully taken off, after being twenty-four hours without food or drink.

ARISTOCRATIC CANVASSERS AT ENGLISH ELECTIONS

HUNDREDS OF WOMEN IN FOREFRONT OF POLITICS IN ENGLISH ELECTION

Emissaries of Many Clubs Tour the Country in the Interests of Their Respective Parties, While Daughters of the Aristocracy Mingle With Electors and Solicit Their Votes

LONDON, [illegible]

ONE of the most notable features of the present election in the prominent part which women are playing. Emissaries of the following bodies are engaged all over the country in carrying on the political warfare:

The Ladies' Primrose League.
The Women's Tariff Reform League.
The Women's Liberal Unionist Association.
The Women's Suffrage Society.
The Women's Liberal Federation.
The Women's Liberal Association.
The Women's Co-operative Guild.
The Women's Temperance Association.

In London alone it is estimated that several thousand women canvassers are engaged in a daily struggle for votes. The Unionist candidates are being assisted by hordes of ladies of the Primrose League, who combine, with a rapidly acquired knowledge of the political situation, an invaluable amount of tact and a charm of personality which disarms the angry elector, who goes to the door with a determination to slam it in the face of every intruding politician.

In Tottenham Mrs. Chatterton, the wife of the Unionist candidate, is enlisting a great number of women canvassers, while Mr. Alden, the Liberal, has no fewer than 670 women armed with leaflets.

At Wimbledon C. Eric Hambro, the Unionist, has eight women's committees, with more than 300 members, who are doing valuable work.

Takes Sick Husband's Place.

The campaign in the Chichester division of Sussex will live in local history as the women's election.

On both sides there are not only woman canvassers, but woman orators, and the brunt of the election, from the Unionist point of view, is being borne by Lady Edmund Talbot, the wife of the Unionist member.

It is only eight months since Lord Edmund had to fight for re-election on his appointment as a Junior Lord of the Treasury, but the Liberals are now opposing him again with increased energy, and it so happens that at the very time his presence in Southwest Sussex is most needed Lord Edmund is laid up in London with an injured leg.

Lady Edmund has pluckily stepped into her husband's place, and is engaged daily in canvassing for votes. Accompanied by Miss Alice Fardell, the honorable secretary of the Women's Canvassing Committee, she has visited tradesmen and farmers and cottagers, and has persuaded waverers of their duty to the Unionist cause. Wherever she goes she rouses the enthusiasm of the Unionists.

Lady Edmund's charming personality is rousing the women as well as the men to a sense of loyalty to the invalid member, and often twice a day the persuasive lady orator makes effective little speeches to meetings for women only.

The women flock to see her, and go home determined that their husbands shall "vote for Lady Edmund," as some of them have dropped into the way of saying.

The Unionists are working more unitedly than at the by-election in May last, and have strong hope of increasing Lord Edmund's majority, which was 412.

Lady Edmund's campaign is, in fact, proving so effective that the Liberals have brought up a woman orator of their own to try and recapture voters who have sworn to vote for Lady Edmund.

Aristocratic Canvassers.

The Countess of Kerry, in her attempt to further the candidature of her talented soldier-sportsman husband in North Westmoreland, has proved herself as courageous as she is charming. For a week or more she refused to obey doctor's orders and lie up, in spite of the terrible weather in that bleak though beautiful country. In her case courage does not mean masculinity. She is thoroughly womanly, if one may say so of a bride who is now but twenty. Since her marriage, less than two years ago, she has thrown herself heartily into philanthropic work, and directed her efforts with a wisdom worthy her race, for she is a niece of Lord Rosebery and a descendant of Scott.

For the first time since her marriage Lady Castlereagh finds herself unrepresented in the Cabinet. When she became the daughter-in-law of the Marquess of Londonderry her father, the Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, was a member of the Cabinet; when he came out her father-in-law went in. Now she is doing her best to help her husband, Lord Castlereagh, the Marquess' son and heir to put his foot upon the ladder leading to the Cabinet by winning a seat in the House of Commons. She was married in 1899, and the King and Queen were godparents to her baby boy, who, preceded by a sister, made his welcome appearance nearly four years ago.

Lady Warwick's Daughter.

If the arts of a beautiful woman have not lost their power over electors, Viscount Helmsley should not fear the result of his election, for in his wife he has a most effective ally. Lady Helmsley is the elder daughter of the Earl and Countess of Warwick, and was voted at her wedding, two years ago, one of the loveliest brides of recent days. But she has in this contest more than personal appearance upon which to rely; she is trained to public life from having been, for the later years of her girlhood, understudy to her mother, the indefatigable Countess of Warwick. She does not go so far toward Socialism as the Countess, but she has been brought up in an atmosphere of catholic sympathies, and she would make the ideal wife for an ambitious young member of Parliament.

All's well that ends well. Married life could hardly have commenced more inauspiciously than it did for Lord and Lady Dalrymple. Accompanied by Lady Dalrymple's parents, Colonel and Mrs. Harford, the young couple went out to Cap Martin for their honeymoon. There the bridegroom developed scarlatina. The bride devotedly nursed him through his illness, and it was hoped that she might escape. But upon moving to the Riviera, Lady Dalrymple was found to be suffering from a virulent form of the epidemic. Happily, that has all passed away. She is now the proud and happy mother of a bouncing boy, and canvassing with all the ardor of a practiced politician for her husband in his election contest. Lord Dalrymple is heir to the Stair earldom, and already he and his wife have established themselves among the popular hosts and hostesses. Lady Dalrymple is musical, has good literary judgment, and brings to the fatigues of a London season a constitution rendered sound and vigorous by the free country life she led as a girl at her parents' pretty place near Windsor.

Lady Wimborne and Lady Beatrice Pole-Carew are also actively canvassing for their husbands.

AN IDEAL FRIENDSHIP.

Entente Cordiale Between England and France Good for Spain.

PARIS, —"The 'entente cordiale' between France and England is of the greatest benefit to the prosperity and economic development of Spain."

Senor Moret, the Spanish Premier, according to the Matin, made this statement to its Madrid correspondent in an interview in which he declared that he was a friend of England and of France, and that the Anglo-French friendship was to him the ideal friendship.

"So long as France and England remain on excellent terms," he said, "it will be well for Spain. If ever they quarrel it will mean disaster for us."

Sixty-Eight Years in One Place.

LONDON, —Henry Goring, of Theobald's road, who will be buried today, was employed by the same firm of artists' color men in Longacre for sixty-eight years. He never missed a day from work, except during his annual holidays, until a week ago.

ASTOR'S HISTORIC ENGLISH CASTLE BEING MADE A PARADISE.

William Waldorf Astor, proprietor of historic Hever Castle, in Kent, England, the birthplace of Anne Boleyn, one of the wives of King Henry VIII, is making extensive improvements on the estate.

The general scheme of this new Astor estate—Mr. Astor has another estate at Cliveden—comprises the following:

A model farm.

An Italian garden.

A lake of forty-five acres.

An artesian well and capacious reservoir.

Widening and changing the course of the River Eden.

A new public road three-quarters of a mile long.

An extensive deer park.

More than a million tons of material have passed over the roads leading to and from the estate.

Mr. Astor is having all the newer stonework removed, and to replace it he has reopened a quarry on the castle grounds. The paneling has been washed, so that not a trace of the linseed oil remains. The second, and outer, moat is to be reopened, while a drawbridge in quite the olden style will give admittance to the principal entrance.

One room, called after Henry VIII—in which that blew British King is declared to have slept while on a visit to Anne Boleyn—will be set apart for Mr. Astor himself, and the historic gallery will be the resting place of the manuscripts of many famous writers. Anne Boleyn's room is to be entombed.

TO DIE IS FOOLISH, BRITISH WRITER SAYS

He Claims to Have Discovered Long-Sought Secret of Perpetual Life.

LONDON,

"Why Die?" is the subject of a mysterious booklet by "Cornwall Round," published yesterday, in which the author professes to have discovered the secret of perpetual life.

"The very fact that a person is ailing and aged shows that, through ignorance, he has in some way mismanaged his bodily affairs," Mr. Round declares.

What everybody has to do, we are told, is to "overcome the death instinct." One of the ways this can be done is by "writing on incense paper. 'Health is natural,' or some other affirmation which you wish to impress on yourself, ignite the paper and hold yourself in a mentally relaxed, passive condition," then the perfume will tend to convey the associated suggestion to your mind.

"When man has learned to overcome his death instinct, and so prevent the gentle changes which lead him to his involuntary suicide, there will still remain microbes, wild animals, accidents and the violence of his fellow-man.

"As to the microbes and the wild animals, the stronger in body and more alert he becomes the better able he will be to resist them.

"Let us avoid reading tales that end badly or witnessing maudlin dramatic tragedies or recapitulating them in our thoughts. In fact, such mental virus which is the expression of morbid minds should be, as noxious drugs are, marked with a poison label in the interest of the unwary."

JEWEL THIEF SKIPS; HAS MANY VICTIMS

Posing as Agent, He is Intrusted With Gems and Pays in Worthless Cheques.

Vienna, —After defrauding several persons of this city, including jewellers, waiters, hotel proprietors and mine owners, of over $50,000, a clever swindler named Adolf Schmidt has disappeared just at the moment when the police were on his track.

Schmidt usually described himself as a jeweller's agent, his clients, according to his story, being mostly English and American visitors to Vienna. He had provided himself with the highest testimonials, and by means of these induced jewellers to trust him with valuable jewels to show to his clients. He generally returned a day or two after and paid with worthless cheeks drawn on English banks, at the same time receiving [illegible] commission.

He continued in this way to defraud a certain jeweller of $7,000, and a few days later another diamond merchant of $30,000.

It is alleged that Schmidt had an accomplice named Thywassen in London, whither he has fled. Sums of money were constantly sent to him in Vienna and returned by him to London, to give his victims the impression that he was a man of great wealth.

GIRL THIEF BETRAYED BY SCENT OF VOILETS

Larceny of Gold Bracelet Reduces the Number of Bridesmaids at a Wedding.

Geneva, —A young woman who is to be married next week invited her intimate friends yesterday to see her wedding presents.

After their departure she found that a valuable gold bracelet, the gift of her future husband, was missing from the case. As nobody but her intimate girl friends had been in the room, she concluded that one of them must be the thief.

A faint odor of violet scent coming from the jewel case supplied the clue to the thief. The woman drove to the house of the suspected person next day and boldly accused her of the robbery. The girl confessed, and returned the bracelet at once. There will now be only three bridesmaids at the wedding instead of four.

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO STOP EARTH-EATING

Curious Taste of the Oriental Gourmet, Which Has Disastrous Effects.

CALCUTTA, —

Efforts are being made to stamp out the habit of earth eating, which is prevalent among natives over almost all India.

In Northern India the favorite form of earth is a gray or drab-colored chalk. This is excavated mostly at Moth, in Rikanir, and is exported to the Punjaub at the rate of 2000 camel loads a year.

In different districts different varieties of clay are eaten, but if the natives have at one time a taste for a special kind of mud, as the habit increases the depraved appetite soon becomes satisfied with bricks and broken pots. White-ant soil with the nests and ants themselves is a great delicacy.

The reasons given for indulging in the habit are classified under the following heads: 1. A peculiar fascinating odor and taste in the clay, rendering it a delicacy. 2. An unnatural craving due to disease. 3. To satisfy hunger. 4. Force of example. 5. Supposed medicinal virtues.

A university graduate confessed to a friend that the bland earthy odor was a great temptation to him, and the thought of it made his mouth water. He always enjoyed the odor, he said, when April showers fell upon previously parched earth.

The effects of the habit are disastrous. Those women addicted to it very soon complain, first of pain and weakness in the limbs, palpitation and difficulty of walking a little distance uphill. After some time all the other symptoms of anaemia are fully established: sallow and pale complexion, tongue and gums bloodless, and general debility. Very often dropsy supervenes.

FEARLESS CZARINA STANDS BY HUSBAND

Rumor That She Escaped From Russia in Disguise Absolutely Without Foundation.

Copenhagen, —The rumor which has been circulated abroad to the effect that the Czarina had escaped with her children from Russia, first by coming to Copenhagen in disguise and then sending safety on the Continent, is absolutely unfounded.

The Czarina and her children celebrated Christmas at Tsarsko Selo, and my informant, who is a gentleman of the highest standing at the Russian court, assures me that the courageous Czarina will never abandon her husband at the post of danger.

AN OLD ALPINE GUIDE HURT BY AVALANCHE

President Loubet, of France, Presents Him With Cross of Legion of Honor.

Geneva, —Leopold Grand, the veteran Alpine guide, who has kept watch on the summit of the Petit St. Bernard for the last twenty-three years, was struck by an avalanche while searching for two lost travellers and badly injured.

During his long and dangerous career Grand, a tall, gaunt old man, has saved fifty-three lives, and has received many decorations for his bravery. In 1899 he rescued a detachment of Italian Alpine troops, who were swept away by an avalanche near the pass, and received the Order of Merit from the King of Italy.

Three years ago Grand and his son, aged nineteen years, were engaged in rescuing a dozen French soldiers belonging to the Alpine Regiment, when a second avalanche fell and carried the guide and his son over a precipice, killing the boy and injuring the father.

In spite of his injuries, Grand carried his dead son to his hut and returned to the soldiers. He dug them out one by one, and carried them on his back a mile to his hut, where they were brought round by a doctor. Last year M. Loubet presented the Legion of Honor to the courageous guide in recognition of his services. Grand has had several miraculous escapes, and has been carried away by avalanches, which are very frequent on the Petit St. Bernard, no fewer than nine times.

Although entitled to a pension, Leopold Grand refuses to quit his dangerous post, and is ever ready to set out in search of lost travellers. The picturesque veteran guide is well known to American tourists, who will be sorry to hear of his injury.

ENGLISH DRAMA IN HUNGARY.

Budapest, — [illegible] plays are now being performed at the Royal Opera at Budapest. The chief of these is Alfred Sutro's "The Walls of Jericho." In connection with the production of this play in Hungary, a remarkable example of the conservatism of the Hungarian censorship has come to light. The censor, who is a Roman Catholic priest, has insisted on the omission of the whole of the third act, which takes place in a Roman Catholic church, on the ground that the scene is irreverent, and that the performance of it would be offensive to the religious susceptibilities of the audience.

Pale and Anxious

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 484 King St. East, Toronto, who says: "After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBORO, FEBRUARY 3 1905

THE FUEL OF THE FUTURE.

It was in January of 1901 that the first "oil gusher" was discovered in South-East Texas. Since that time the enormous output has increased yearly, till there are hundreds of oil wells, which give up hundreds of thousands of gallons of oil. But it is impossible to get any idea of the quantity thus added to the world's supply unless we contrast the output of the first sixty wells with the combined output of the world previous to the time of this great discovery in Texas. In the Pennsylvania and California oil fields, and even in the Corsicana field, there are acres of producing wells, yet they, with all those of the rest of the world, can produce but about one-eighth as much oil as the first sixty "gushers" which were discovered in Texas. In the year 1900 the oil production of the world amounted to 178,000,000 barrels, or 378,000 barrels a day. This output was divided among Russia, producing 65,000,000 barrels; the United States, 58,000,000; the Dutch East Indies, 2,000,000; Austria, 2,000,000; Roumania, 2,000,000; and a half dozen other countries the remaining 5,000,000. The Corsicana field produces about 1,000,000 barrels annually. The "gushers" in Texas have altogether a capacity which can be conservatively estimated at 1,000,000 barrels a day. This is more than eight times as much as the daily output of the world for 1900. It raises the annual production from 178,000,000 to 1,825,000,000 barrels. At thirty cents a barrel the Texas discovery has increased the value of the product $397,500,000 annually.

Board of Works In Business Session

Tenders to Be Advertised For Charlotte St. Bridge---Purchase of a Portable Stone Crusher Recommended---Will Place Orders For Sewer Pipe For Coming Season Early.

The Board of Works met last night, and wiped off their business slate with commendable despatch.

There were present His Worship, Mayor Henry Best, Chairman Ald. Hicks and Aldermen Adams, McIntyre, Graham, Tovey and Johnston.

Chairman Hicks pointed out the need for securing without delay the plans and specifications for Charlotte street bridge, so as to avoid deplorable delay in its construction. It seems that orders for steel bridge work are not filled very promptly, as the steel girders for the Hunter street bridge, ordered last summer have but just arrived.

Tenders for constructing the Charlotte street bridge will be at once advertised for, and the engineer was instructed, to prepare plans and specifications therefor.

The committee will recommend that the sewer on Simcoe street, from Rubidge street, eastward, be constructed as a local improvement.

A communication was received from Contractor Bogue in reference to his failure to complete his contract for the outfall sewer in east Peterboro, and stating that he would like to meet the Board of Works in the presence of City Engineer Hay and Inspector Bartlett, so that he may explain his position.

No action was taken in this matter.

His Worship moved, seconded by Ald. Adams, that an account for $100 to repair damages sustained by streets and bridges in east Peterboro, by reason of the washing away of the canal's bank, be forwarded the proper Government authorities—Carried.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that Contractor Bogue be not paid more than 80 per cent. of actual work completed under his contract for the East Peterboro outfall sewer—Carried.

Ald. Graham moved that Mr. Thompson's request for a sewer be not considered until a properly signed petition is sent in—Carried.

The flooding of private property on the corner of Lafayette and Chamberlain streets, will be investigated by the city engineer. This matter was urgently pressed by Ald. Tovey.

Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the chairman look into the matter of purchasing a portable stone crusher, and also to report as to what power will be most economic for the stationary crusher—electricity or steam. The portable crusher is urgently needed to assure a more substantial degree of road making and repairing—Carried.

Regarding the purchase of sewer pipe, Chairman Hicks reported that the Canadian Co. quoted 73 per cent. discount off list prices, F.O.B. at Toronto, while the Dominion concern offered 77 per cent. discount off list prices; the latter concern advised that they did not know how long their discount of 77 per cent. would stand but would give timely notice of any advance.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey, that the Dominion Co's. prices be accepted, provided they are willing to supply what pipe the city may require, and as we need them, at 77 per cent off.—Carried.

The Board then adjourned.

HE MEANT NO OFFENCE

Satisfactory Elucidation of the Japanese Incident.

Tokio, Feb. 3.—An elucidation of the interpellation of the Minister of War, Gen. Terauchi, at a meeting of the budget committee of the Diet yesterday shows that Mr. Oishi, leader of the progressive party, interpellated the war minister as to the extent of the expansion of the Japanese army, which wealth he accentuated by an enforcement of the provisions of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. In so doing, Mr Oishi remarked that the British army was not undergoing a development equal to that of the British navy, and he asked if the British army did not require improvement in order to avoid a one-sided responsibility. Gen. Terauchi replied in the affirmative, evidently minding, it is explained of the provisions contained in article 7 of the agreement between Great Britain and Japan, which was signed on Aug. 12 last.

A SATISFACTORY EXPLANATION

London, Feb. 3.—The explanations elucidating the reply of Gen. Terauchi are accepted by the majority of the London morning papers as satisfactory. The long editorials on the matter, however, do not conceal the feeling of impatience that the question should be raised in such a novel manner in a way offensive to British amour propre.

An important outcome of the incident appears to be the realization by the British public that the Anglo-Japanese treaty involves some responsibilities which hitherto have been unnoticed, but even here the papers disagree. The pro-Japanese Morning Post, for example, argues that there is nothing in the terms of the treaty requiring either power to modify its naval or military arrangements.

ANGLICANS AND METHODISTS

Will Hold a Joint Conference in Belleville.

Belleville, February 3.—An important conference between Anglicans and Methodist clerical associations has been arranged to meet in the City Hall, Belleville, February 7. The conference will be presided over by the Very Rev. Dean Smith, D.D., of Kingston, and the Rev. Principal Dyer, D.D., of Belleville. The programme consists of papers by the Rev. M. E. Wilson, M.A., on "Church Disunion from a Historic Point of View." By the Ven. Archdeacon MacMarine, M.A., and the Rev. J. A. McCannis on "The Necessity and Advantage of Reunion." Also papers on "A Possible Policy for a Re-united Church," by the Rev. Edward Castligan, L.S.T., and the Rev. G. F. Matchler, B.D., Ph.D.

The membership of the conference numbers eighty of the clergy of the two bodies resident within the territory between Kingston and Trenton. This conference is not any new phase of the church union movement, now prominently before the country; but simply an unofficial discussion between the clergy of these two great bodies of topics of common interest at this time.

PRIEST URGES SUNDAY CARS

It Will Give People An Opportunity of Attending Church.

Winnipeg, Man., February 1. — Rev. Father Frigon, preaching in the Roman Catholic church, impressed upon his parishioners the fact that it was the duty of every good Catholic in the city of Winnipeg to vote for Sunday cars and to use their endeavors to get their friends to do so.

"It is the duty of every member of the Catholic church of this city, I want you to understand," said Father Frigon, "to vote, when the time comes to decide that question that cars will run to Winnipeg on the Sabbath. It is all nonsense to say that it will mean longer hours for employees of the Street Railway Company.

"It may mean work for a few men," said Father Frigon, "but what of that, when it will mean, at all events, that every one in our growing city will have an opportunity of paying homage to God and attending Divine worship on Sunday."

THE KNIFE

Advocated By the Great Dr. Osler To Cure Headaches.

Baltimore, M.D., February 2.—If you have a series of headaches, according to Dr. William Osler, who spoke tonight before the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland, you may be suffering from the first symptoms of brain tumor. The fact that seemingly ordinary headaches are often indicative of tumor was emphasized by both Dr. Osler and his successor at the John Hopkins University, Dr. L. F. Barker. Dr. Osler advised that tumor troubles be intrusted to the surgeon, as in many cases they are fatal if not thus treated. A cure may be effected by an operation. Dr. Barker said while the ordinary practitioner may err in not recognizing the first symptoms of tumor troubles, the surgeon used to performing such operations may use the knife necessarily.

To Increase Salaries.

Winnipeg, Man., February 2.—It is reported that the supplementary estimates of the Legislature this session will include amounts to increase the salaries of Cabinet Ministers from $5,000 to $6,000.

Canadian Northern to Hudson's Bay.

Winnipeg, Man., February 2.—James Cowan, of Kirkfield, Ontario, a railway contractor closely identified with Messrs. MacKenzie & Mann, was in the city yesterday. It is stated that he holds a large contract from them at the present time, on which he will be engaged during the entire season of 1905, and for some years following. The contract involves the building of a line, grading and laying of steel north from Gimpsed in the direction of Hudson's Bay, whither the railway will be pushed at as early a date as possible.

WINNIPEG BOOM PETERS OUT

Prices of Commodities Falling in Every Direction—Many Hundred Vacant Houses in the City.

Winnipeg, Feb. 3.—Residents in the east have small idea of the extent to which the people of Winnipeg have been "built up," by the boom year of the city generally.

The bottom, has however, fallen out of prices, and there are now lacking evidences that the Winnipeg boom is on the wane.

This is seen in the fact that there are nine hundred vacant houses in Winnipeg today. It is estimated, and that rents are dropping at a fast clip.

Prices of wearing apparel and of grocery supplies are also falling.

Merchants lay this at the door of the department stores, which have come in from Eastern Canada, and have knocked out the boom prices.

Beefsteaks that formerly were costing twenty-five cents per pound are now bringing only fifteen cents, and sugar, flour, tea and other pantry necessities are lessened in cost to the consumer in like fashion.

One effect of this has been to cause numerous failures among the smaller business houses of late.

WON'T SEND DEPUTATION

Counties' Council Refuse to Help Canal Scheme.

The Counties' Council of Northumberland and Durham, have refused to join with the other interested municipalities in sending a delegation to Ottawa to urge the Government the necessity for the completion of the Trent Valley canal.

Mr. J. Alex. Cutherwell appeared before the council, urging the appointment of a deputation.

In his address he said that the canal was looked to now as a great grain carrying route. It is today a different canal from that of the past. The new surveys are for a lock mill depth of 8 feet 4 inches, with a summary depth of 10 1-2 feet in the channel, whereas the old depth on the lock mill was only 6 feet. The total cost of this whole canal system will be only $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 whereas New York state has expended already fifty millions on the Erie canal, and is now making another expenditure of one hundred million dollars, and our lockage will take barges with 25,000 bushels, whereas the Erie canal will only give a 20,000 bushel barge accommodation. Our route is much shorter and cheaper. The Erie canal has 257 miles of actual cuttings, whereas the Trent Valley has less than 15 miles of cuttings.

The council finally decided not to send a deputation on account of having already a promise from the Government that the canal would be completed as soon as the engineers' reports were received.

REV. J. N. PARKER.

Rev. J. N. Parker, Utica, N. Y., writes: "In June, 1901, I lost my sense of hearing entirely. My hearing had been somewhat impaired for several years, but not so much affected but that I could hold converse with my friends; but in June, 1901, my sense of hearing left me so that I could hear no sound whatever. I was also troubled with rheumatic pains in my limbs.

"I commenced taking Peruna and now my hearing is restored as good as it was prior to June, 1901. My rheumatic pains are all gone. I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, and now when eighty-eight years old can say it has invigorated my whole system.

Strong and Vigorous At the Age of Eighty-eight Years.

"I cannot but think, dear Doctor, that you must feel very thankful to the All-loving Father that you have been permitted to live, and by your skill be such a blessing as you have been to suffering humanity."—J. N. Parker.

In old age the mucous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function. Peruna corrects all this by its specific operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

A Pleasure to Endorse Pe-ru-na.

Rev. Chas. Leander, pastor First Spiritual Society of San Francisco, writes from 311 Turk street, San Francisco, Cal., as follows:

"It is with pleasure that I give my endorsement of Peruna. My experience has been very satisfactory from its use, and I do firmly believe that it is the best known remedy for catarrh in all its different forms."—Chas. Leander.

No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

While I was mentally running my eye over what I should do, Mackinnon, my big Scotch overseer, came up from the shaft's mouth to where I stood, and reported that some timbering which I had been hurrying forward was ready for inspection. After we had visited it and I had signified my approval, I informed him of our employer's contemplated visit, and wound up by saying that his daughter would accompany him. He shook his head solemnly when he heard this.

"A foolish thing," he said, in his slow, matter-of fact way, "a vera foolish thing. This country's nae fit for a lady at present, as Mr. Maybourne kens well eno'. An' what's more, there'll be trouble among the boys (natives) before vera long. He'd best be out of it."

"My dear fellow," I said, a little testily I fear, for I did not care to hear him throw cold water on Mr. Maybourne's visit in this fashion, "you're always thinking the natives are going to give trouble, but you must confess that what you prophesy never comes off."

He shook his head more sagely than before.

"Ye can say what ye please," he said, "I'm nae settin' up for a prophet, but I canna help but see what's put plain before my eyes. As the proverb says—'Forewarned is forearmed.' There's been trouble an' discontent all through this country-side form months past, an' if Mr. Maybourne brings his daughter up here—well, he'll have to run the risk of mischief happenin' to the lass. It's no business o' mine, however. As the proverb says—'Let the wilful gang their own gait.'"

Accustomed as he was to look on the gloomy side of things, I could not but remember that he had been in the country a longer time than I had, and that he had also had a better experience of the treacherous Matabele than I could boast.

"In your opinion, then," I said, "I had better endeavor to dissuade Mr. Maybourne from coming up?"

"NAE! NAE! I'm na' sayin' that at all. Let him come by all means since he's set on it. But I'm not going to say I think he's wise in bringing the girl."

With this ambiguous answer I had to be content. I must confess, however, that I went back to the house feeling a little uneasy in my mind. Ought I to write and warn Mr. Maybourne, or should I leave the matter to chance? As I did not intend to send off my mail until the following day, I determined to sleep on it.

In the morning I discovered that my fears had entirely vanished. The boys we employed were going about their duties in much the same manner as usual, and the half-dozen natives who had come in during the course of the day in the hope of obtaining employment, seemed so peaceably inclined that I felt compelled to dismiss Mackinnon's suspicions from my mind as groundless, and determined on no account to alarm my friends in such needlessly silly fashion.

How well I remember Mr. and Miss Maybourne's arrival! It was on a Wednesday, exactly three weeks after my conversation with Mackinnon just recorded, that a boy appeared with a note from the old gentleman to me. It was written from the township, and stated that they had got so far and would be with me during the afternoon. From that time forward I examined my preparations with a critical eye, discussed the menu with the cook to make sure that he had not forgotten a single particular, drilled my servants in their duties until I had brought them as near perfection as it was possible for me to get them, and in one way and another fussed about generally until it was time for my guests to arrive. I had fitted up my own bedroom for Miss Maybourne, and made it as comfortable as the limited means at my disposal would allow. Her father would occupy the overseer's room, that individual sharing a tent with me at the back.

The sun was just sinking to his rest below the horizon when I espied a cloud of dust on the western veldt. Little by little it grew larger until we could distinctly make out a buggy drawn by a pair of horses. It was traveling at a high rate of speed, and before many minutes were over would be with us. As I watched it my heart began to beat so tumultuously that it seemed as if those around me could not fail to hear it. In the vehicle now approaching was the woman I loved, the woman whom I had made up my mind I should never see again.

Five minutes later the horses had pulled up opposite my verandah and I had shaken hands with my guests and was assisting Agnes to alight. Never before had I seen her look so lovely. She seemed quite to have recovered from the horrors of the shipwreck, and looked even stronger than when I had first seen her on the deck of the Fiji Princess, the day we had left Southampton. She greeted me with a fine show of cordiality, but under it it was easy to see that she was as nervous as myself. Having handed the horses and buggy over to a couple of my boys, I led my guests into the house I had prepared for them. Evidently they had come with the intention of being pleased, for they expressed themselves as surprised and delighted with every arrangement I had made for their comfort. It was a merry party, I can assure you, that sat down to the evening meal that night—so merry, indeed, that under the influence of Agnes' manner even Mackinnon forgot himself and ceased to prophesy ruin and desolation.

When the meal was finished we adjourned to the verandah and lit our pipes. The evening was delightfully cool after the heat of the day, and overhead the stars twinkled in the firmament of heaven like countless lamps, lighting up the sombre veldt till we could see the shadowy outline of trees miles away. The evening breeze rustled the long grass, and across the square the figure of our cook could just be seen, outlined against the ruddy glow of the fire in the hut behind him. Many hours I was [illegible] [illegible]

While I was mentally running my eye over what I should do, Mackinnon, my big Scotch overseer, came up from the shaft's mouth to where I stood, and reported that some timbering which I had been hurrying forward was ready for inspection. After we had visited it and I had signified my approval, I informed him of our employer's contemplated visit, and wound up by saying that his daughter would accompany him. He shook his head solemnly when he heard this.

"A foolish thing," he said, in his slow, matter-of fact way, "a vera foolish thing. This country's nae fit for a lady at present, as Mr. Maybourne kens well eno'. An' what's more, there'll be trouble among the boys (natives) before vera long. He'd best be out of it."

I sat I could catch a glimpse of my darling's face, and see the gleam of her rings as her hand rested on the arm of her chair. The memory of the awful time we had spent together on the island, and in the open boat, came back to me with a feeling that was half pleasure, half pain. When I realised that I was entertaining them in my abode in Rhodesia, it seemed scarcely possible that we could be the same people.

Towards the end of the evening, Mr. Maybourne made an excuse and went into the house, leaving us together. Mackinnon had long since departed. When we were alone, Agnes leant a little forward in her chair and said:

"Are you pleased to see me, Gilbert?"

"More pleased than I can tell you," I answered, truthfully. "But you must not ask me if I think you were wise to come."

"I can see that you think I was not," she continued. "But how little you understand my motives. I could not ——"

Thinking that perhaps she had said too much, she checked herself suddenly, and for a little while did not speak again. When she did, it was only about the loneliness of my life on the mine, and such like trivial matters. Illogical as men are, though I had hoped, for both our sakes, that she would not venture again on such delicate ground as we had traversed before we said good-bye, I could not help a little sensation of disappointment when she acted up to my advice. I was still more piqued when a little later she stated that she felt tired, and holding out her hand, bade me "good-night," and went to her room.

A POSTAL FREAK.

Where Letters Travel 294 Miles to Go Ten Feet.

Drop a letter addressed to Beebe Plain, Que., into the postoffice at Beebe Plain, Vt., and it will travel a distance of 294 miles, of which sixty-seven are in Canada and the remainder in the United States, before it reaches its destination. The actual distance between the two offices is about ten feet.

The plain, old fashioned store building which is situated on the international boundary line contains both the United States and Canadian offices. There are separate entrances to each, but both are in the same room, have the same lobby and there are no partitions to mark the division between the domain of Uncle Sam and the possession of King Edward.

The postmaster on the American side is C. M. Bayley, while C. House has charge of the Canadian mails. But these personalities are conspicuous by their absence. J. M. Grew is the actual charge d'affaires, says the Boston Globe.

Mr. Grew occupies a unique position and is perhaps the only man who is an official of both countries. He is the regularly appointed assistant postmaster of Beebe Plain, Vt., and has taken an equally ironclad oath to perform the duties of deputy postmaster in Canada. Thus he is left to himself the greater part of the time and performs the dual duties with satisfaction to both the Americans and their neighbors, the Canadians.

"Is it true that a letter travels a long distance to go from one window to the other?" he was recently asked.

"Yes, sir; that is one of the strangest things in connection with this office. If you mail a letter from the Vermont side addressed to the Quebec side, it goes from here to the junction, then to Newport, then to White River Junction and back to Lennoxville, Que., over the Boston and Maine. There it is transferred to the Grand Trunk and goes to Sherbrooke. It is there transferred to a southbound mail pouch and comes to Stanstead Junction and then back to this same building, a distance of 294 miles.

"If we wish to mail a letter from the American side to Derby Line, it must go to White River Junction and then come back over the official route."—New York World.

The Thumb's Value.

Various estimates have been made as to the relative industrial value of the thumb and fingers. Two French experts consider that the loss of the right thumb lessens the value of the hand 40 per cent and the left thumb 20 per cent; the index finger 10 to 20 per cent and middle finger 8 to 12 per cent.

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economise and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26), not reserved, may be homestead upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10c per ton shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 20 by 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5, renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

REVIVAL OF THE GAELIC

WHAT TWO WORKERS ARE DOING FOR A DEAD LANGUAGE.

Mrs. John R. Green and Dr. Douglas Hyde—Latter Has Studied the Celtic Language On Its Native Heath —Thus Drawn Into Intimate Relationships With the Sons and Daughters of Erin.

Mrs. Green, who is one of the active advocates of the Gaelic revival in Ireland, is the widow of J. R. Green, the British historian. Not long ago she visited America in the interest of the movement. She is a native of County Meath, Ireland, and was of great assistance to her husband when he was writing his "Short History of the English People." Mr. Gladstone often declared that her work was quite as remarkable as her husband's.

The revival of a dead language is usually no mean task. Mrs. Green and those who are working to revitalize the ancient Gaelic tongue believe that it is not yet so dead as to make this an impossibility. Dr. Douglas Hyde is really the leading exponent of the movement, and his movements have attracted special attention to its aims.

MRS. JOHN R. GREEN, GAELIC EXPERT.

Much has already been accomplished in this direction through the enthusiasm of Dr. Hyde and the work of the organizations which have come into existence partly as a result of his exertions. Dr. Hyde is the son of a Protestant clergyman, the Rev. Arthur Hyde, and he himself has studied theology, but instead of preaching the gospel has devoted himself to literature and scholarship and to the work of convincing the Irish people and those in other countries of Irish descent of the value of the tongue in which their forefathers spoke.

Dr. Hyde was educated at Trinity college, Dublin, where in 1884 he took the degree of bachelor of arts after an exceptionally brilliant undergraduate career and where he has since taken additional degrees. Although he won honors in German, French and Italian, it was the Celtic language which most attracted him, and on graduation, instead of making the tour of the continent usually taken by young men of his social position, he traveled extensively in his native province, making a study of the ancient Irish tales, songs and folklore of Connaught. In this way he was drawn into relations of intimacy with the Irish peasantry and came to realize more than ever before the qualities for the expression of emotion and tenderness possessed by the language of the poet.

In 1889 he published a book of tales in the ancient tongue, entitled "Leabhar Sgeuluigheachta." The praise this received from students of the Gaelic language encouraged him to write "Beside the Fire; Folklore of the Irish Celts," "The Love Songs of Connaught," "Story of Early Irish Literature," "Mediæval Tales From the Irish" and other works. Some of these books have gone through several editions. In order to encourage the use of the old language of Ireland in both writing and speaking he has written dramas in Gaelic and taken parts in them himself when presented on the stage. Personally he is recognized as a man of great versatility of talent, for he is poet, playwright, critic, actor, divinity student, orator, journalist, historian, linguist, translator, professor, archæologist, lecturer and folklorist.

Dr. Hyde is making a tour of Canada and United States and speaking in colleges and before learned societies of various kinds. Owing in large degree to his efforts the movement for the revival of the Gaelic language in Ireland now shows some surprising results. There are two main groups of the Celtic tongue—the Cymric, represented by the Celtic speech of Wales and Brittany, and the Gaelic, formerly more widely spoken, but now represented by the Celtic speech of Ireland, Scotland and the Isle of Man.

Scotland, with a population of 4,000,000, has not in the mainland or adjacent islands more than 300,000 persons who speak or understand Gaelic.

In Ireland, when the census of 1900 was taken, it was found that out of a population of about 4,500,000 not more than 700,000 could speak Gaelic. This was a decline of 19,000 in ten years. The decline was due in part to the large emigration from the western provinces, the last foothold of the Gaelic in Ireland.

Since then the current has turned. A few years ago most of those who spoke Gaelic in Ireland could neither read it nor write it. The system of education ignored it, and parents, assuming that their children should get on in the world, banished it from their homes. The Gaelic tongue, of which Dr. Hyde was the first president, has done much to change this condition. It employs traveling teachers and in many ways encourages the use of the ancient language both in conversation and literature. The number of schools in which the Gaelic language is taught has advanced from 105 in 1899 to over 1,000 in 1905, and those who can read, speak and write Gaelic is thus constantly increasing.

THE CHINESE WIFE.

Some of the Attributes of the Slant Eyed Helpmates—Content With Interest in Her Husband and Family.

The Chinese wife is nearly always constant, chaste and affectionate. Chinese stories like to dwell on the love of women that has no limit. This is why widowhood is revered and suicide on the part of the bereaved woman is not condemned in old classics. It is because of this general acknowledgment of the unwavering constancy of wives that the fickle woman is held up to scathing satire in their plays and proverbs. It was from a Chinese story that Voltaire drew his inspiration for the tale of the woman who promised her husband on his deathbed that she would not marry till his grave was dry and was found next day fanning the mound to hasten the drying process.

Much of this contentment on the part of the Chinese women may no doubt arise from the common interest of the husband and wife in the growing family. You will often see fathers wheeling baby carriages along the streets, just as you see older sisters carrying the little fellows or mothers taking them on a visit to their neighbor for a mutual comparison of baby ailments and engaging traits. Until his school days begin the little boy does about as he pleases, but as soon as his days of study begin he is put under very strict discipline.

Girl babies are less welcome arrivals in a family than their little brothers, especially if there be several of them already. Among very poor people in times of famine girls are sometimes sold into slavery by their parents, both to recover the rest of the family and the girls themselves from starvation. The lot of the slave girl is a hard one. She has none of the rights of a free woman. But it ought to be added that the Chinese look on this custom with great disfavor. A slave owner is nearly always a thoroughly hated individual in his community.

A trip around the world in 60 minutes at a mere trifle.

Magnificently finished and exquisitely photo-color views in place of the oldtime and antiquated views of the past. A most pleasant and interesting hour to spend journeying around the globe viewing the places of greatest interest, most beautiful scenery, etc., at a mere trifle of cost through our liberal plan. These views illustrate some of the most noted places in the world—mountain scenery both in America and Europe—waterfalls and other famous natural phenomena, some of the world's most famous buildings, places of historical interest and places famous for beautiful architecture or beautiful natural scenery. This set is of the greatest educational value, presenting, as it does, such realistic likenesses of scenes and places that we all should know about. We want every household in this city to have one of these sets. Imagine yourself taken through the Orient, on a trip to California, through the world's Fair to see the splendid scenes as though you were right there on the spot. By a special process, a combination of lithographing and half-tone work, we are able to offer a collection of colored views from every part of the world in the most beautiful, natural and startling life-like color effects, which must be seen to be appreciated. It is impossible to describe the grandeur and beauty of these views. Come and see them. We want each and every household in this city to have a set of these.

Yellow Stone Park, U. S. A.; The Swiss Alps; On board a Russian Man-of-War; Scene from a Klondyke Camp; The Famous Ferry Depot, San Francisco; Cathedral from the Grand Canal, Rotterdam; Moulin Rouge, Paris; Street Scene, Mexico City; Emperor Wm. These pictures are the genuine Oleo Stereoscopic Views, made especially for this purpose and are executed in a most artistic manner, being a combination process of lithographing and half-tone work enabling a magnificent depth of detail and splendid color reproduction true to life. You cannot enjoy an hour more delightfully than by viewing a set of these beautiful and decidedly interesting pictures.

It wasn't so very long ago that hundreds of thousands of people spent many pleasant hours with the stereoscope, but heretofore they were compelled to pay enormous prices for views, think of it, as high as 50c each for colored pictures. We sold thousands upon thousands of stereoscopic views, in colors, at 50c each in those days, but imagine each and every view had to be colored by hand. In the past few months we have had repeated demands for them, and being able to secure the latest and most beautiful colored views to furnish to the public at a ridiculously low price, we entered into the stereoscope plan on quite a large scale, and have taken immediate advantage of the International Art Association, who have spent an enormous amount of money to get out special color plates and have finally completed their end, namely: To place on the market thousands of magnificent stereoscopic views, the most beautiful, interesting and exciting scenes from every land, in the grandest and most exquisite natural colors.

Now we come to our great special offer. Read our plan carefully as it describes the stereoscope and tells how to secure the scope and views at almost no cost to you.

First the stereoscope. The Stereoscope is our world-famous "Aluminum Crystal Lens" Stereoscope. Genuine aluminum hood, bound with dark rich red velvet. Frame is of fine finished cherry wood with patent folding handle, folding underneath frame, and sliding bar. The lenses are extra fine quality, selected for clearness and brilliancy, 1¾ inches in diameter, ground from best quality glass and carefully adjusted. This Crystal Lens Aluminum "Scope" has won universal praise from lovers of the beautiful, and as a means of entertainment stands second to nothing.

CANADIAN SHOT IN WEST AFRICA

Dr. A. S. Donaldson Met His Death in German West Africa.

London, February 2.—A despatch to the Central News from Cape Town, published here, says:

"Canadians here are enraged at an alleged outrage by German soldiers at Swakopmund, German South-West Africa, who are said to have shot and killed Dr. Anson Donaldson, of Brockville, Ontario. According to the story, Dr. Donaldson was walking peacefully in the streets when a soldier fired at him, and while he was lying wounded on the ground other soldiers riddled his body with bullets."

Ottawa, February 2.—The Canadian Government has not as yet had its attention called to the case of Dr. Donaldson. No action will be taken until they have been officially informed of the murder.

Montreal, February 2.—Anson Scott Donaldson entered the Faculty of Medicine at McGill in the year 1897, and graduated M.D. in 1901. During his four years' course at the university, Mr. Donaldson was very popular with students and professors alike. He was a good student, as well as being a clever athlete, playing on the University football team and taking part in other games. At the time of his studies in McGill, the war in South Africa was going on, and as soon as he graduated Dr. Donaldson enlisted and went of the front.

Want Aster's Millions.

Pittsburg, February 1.—Abner Emery, of Lewiston, Is in Pittsburg, and declares it is his intention to get possession of $11,000,000, half of the present fortune of the Astors. He says he is trying to find the heirs of John Emery, who was a partner of the original John Jacob Astor, and that they were in business together when Aster started the fur trade. It is asserted that John Emery left a will leaving his share of the business to his heirs, but that this will was not discovered for seventy-five years. Abner Emery says this will was opened several years ago. He has found the heirs.

HOW TO LIVE A CENTURY

Avoid Doctors, Don't Worry, Eat Little Meat, Never Hurry.

New York, January 31.—Sitting in a chair at the home of his son-in-law, in Brooklyn, smoking a cigar and sipping a toddy, Joseph Zeillin celebrating his 100th birthday, gave the following rules for longevity:

"Never have a doctor, and don't go into a drug store. Don't worry. Never be in a hurry. Don't eat 'quick lunch' sons.' Take little meat, especially in early life. Sleep eight hours a day When you reach the age of 90 do as you please."

Zeillin, who was born in' Lods, Poland, where he accumulated a comfortable competence as a merchant, has been a resident of Brooklyn for 16 years He is still active, able to read a great deal, and is said to be the life of the home of Isaac Krinsky, with whom he lives.

The centenarian drinks and smokes freely, and believes that neither habit has a bad effect upon his health. He says he sees no reason why he should not live for another 25 years.

ONTARIO'S IMMIGRATION

Preparing For Big Rush During Approaching Season.

Toronto, February 2.—The Ontario Government is preparing to receive 150,000 immigrants this year, and the department is active already with the arrangements. The old offices in the Union Station will be vacated soon and new quarters where there is more room are to be taken up where Cyl. Nelles's apartments were, near the station.

At the Grand Central Hotel, where the government immigrants stay while on their way to the West, nearly $15,000 is to be spent to put on two new storeys and an additional fifty rooms in anticipation of the promised rush. The plans are prepared and work will commence within a week or two.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 10c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mine has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mine has averaged about $875 a ton, or about $1828 for every foot of sinking, the mine being 5 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mine running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mine. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1200 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Additional local news, on sixth page.

—Lent begins upon the last day of February.

—Everything was quiet at the police court yesterday.

—Campbellford is applying for incorporation as a town.

—Several cases of smallpox are reported at present in Orne.

—A fur [illegible] awaits an owner at Times Bookstore.

—The T.A.S. will give an "at home" in their rooms on the evening of Feb. 13th.

—The County Council will probably decide as to the location of the House of Refuge at a special meeting on February 10th.

—The bear saw his shadow yesterday, found it was not spring weather yet, and quickly hold back to his den for a couple of months.

—"Peak's Bad Boy" was presented in Lindsay for the last time on Monday, and it is hoped it has also appeared here for the last time.

—It's wonderful how well some amateur hockey players perform, considering the fact that their minds are so busily occupied with the gate receipts.

—The carrier boy of The Times on south end route, had his ears badly frozen yesterday morning, consequently some of our customers had to go without their paper.

—The Farmers' Institutes of East and West Peterboro and Durham will meet in executive at the Munro House today, at 10 a.m., to arrange for next June's annual convention.

—A joint committee of the Bay of Quinte (Parlal Union (Anglican) and the Ministerial Association of the Picton district (Methodist) have arranged for a conference to discuss Christian Union.

—We have a letter regarding the price of coal, which does not bear the name of the writer. Our correspondent says there is something wrong when coal is being sold for $4.75 in Toronto and $7.50 in Peterboro.

—Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, the eloquent and popular Rector of St. Luke's church, will lecture in St. Thomas' church Sunday school, Millbrook, on Tuesday evening, February 13, on "The Evolution of a Boy."

—On Thursday last the Counties Council, through a special committee, sold the Cobourg skating rink building to the Purdy Brothers for $35. There were several tenders, but the above being the highest bidder was accepted.

—Rev. A. P. Bruce, pastor of Newtonbrook Methodist church, son of Rev. A. H. Bruce, Peterboro, has received an invitation to become pastor of the Methodist church at Richmond Hill, at the close of the present conference year.

—Mapleine Hat holds the record this year for early threshing, also the record for early grain sowing. Planting in February, cutting the end of July, and threshing the second week in August, these are records to be proud of.—Mapleine Hat News.

—Millbrook Reporter: The remains of the late Robt. Greer, formerly of Ballieboro, brother of Jerry Greer, who died in Wyoming, were brought here for burial on Tuesday night, the interment taking place in Centreville yesterday. It is some twenty-four years since he left these parts.

On Monday, Mr. Geo. Weldon, a well-known farmer, cut a crop of clover which was left in the field in the fall and drew it in the same day. It was as dry as a chip, and it is said that the seed will not be spoiled. A number of farmers in Scott and Uxbridge were plowing last week.—Uxbridge Journal.

—The appointment of Mr. Hugh McMillan as Junior Judge of Lindsay, Victoria County, will afford general satisfaction. Mr. MacMillan's long experience in and knowledge of law, his mature judgment and his practical common sense, will fit him for the discharge of the duties which he has been called upon to perform.—Guelph Herald.

—At a meeting of the business men of Marmora, called to consider steps to be taken to induce the C. P. R. to run their new line through that village, a committee composed of J. W. Flavelle, M.P.P., Reeve McDonnell, Dr. Mackechnie, John Dempsey and P. S. Pearce was appointed to confer with citizens of Madoc and together do all in their power for the interests of Madoc and Marmora.

—In the year 1906 there will be five eclipses, three of the sun and two of the moon. A total eclipse of the moon February 8-9 will be visible in North America. There will be a partial eclipse of the sun February 24, July and August 10, all visible in Canada. The beginning of the partial eclipse of the moon on August 4 will be visible in the Western part of Canada.

—Lindsay Post: A fine Minorca fowl owned by Mr. T. Lamb, of Peterboro, died to death at the Poultry show yesterday. In the morning it cut its comb on the wire netting, and although Mr. Lamb noticed it bleeding before noon he did not think it anything serious. However, the bird died in the afternoon. It was a fine specimen, and was gaining to capture the red ticket.

ILLEGAL TRAFFIC IN GAME

Game Warden E. Tinsley Warns Caterers of Game to Observe the Game Laws.

Chief Game Warden Tinsley is distributing the following circular amongst butchers, hotel keepers, restaurant proprietors, and others who deal in game:

"I have been instructed to do all possible to stop the illegal traffic in game, especially in regard to the sale or barter of partridges or grouse. I therefore beg to inform you that hereafter, upon any information that a sale has been made, a charge will be laid, a search warrant issued, and the proprietor and all employes put in the box as witnesses and compelled to testify, under oath, as to the truth of the charges.

"I also desire to point out particularly that your customers are as much liable to be fined for buying partridge or grouse, as you would be for selling, and where a sale is found to have been made the purchaser will not only be summoned as a witness, but will also be charged at the police court for a violation of the game law, by making such illegal purchases.

"I therefore trust that in future all those catering to the public will realize the necessity of obeying the game laws, and, by so doing, save themselves and customers trouble."

Pretty Wedding.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, 24th January, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, of North Monaghan, when their second daughter, Jessie, was united in marriage to Mr. Thos. Robinson, of Zion Line, Cavan.

January a Mild Month.

The Toronto World gives the following weather statistics: The January of 1890 had a mean temperature of 28.7 degrees. This last month has only fallen 1.27 degrees below that record, viz., 21.60 degrees, which is 8.70 degrees above the average and 18.81 degrees above the same month of 1905. The coldest day was on the 9th, when the mercury dropped to 5.2 degrees; the warmest was Monday, the 22nd, with a record of 46.5 degrees. There was a slight increased rainfall, eight days registering 1.32 inches whilst the average is only 1.16 inches. Where the average snowfall for January is 17.2 inches, there was only 4.2 inches, and that spread over a period of eight days.

16-0 FOR PETERBORO

Was the Result of Last Night's Hockey Match With Uxbridge.

The confidence of the Uxbridge team in their ability to win from Peterboro in Canada's premier winter game must have been rudely shattered last night, when the locals played them off the ice with a score of 16—0. This first semi-final match, contested on the Brock street rink, was witnessed by a fairly large crowd of enthusiastic spectators. The ice was in splendid condition, and fairly fast hockey in evidence; but our boys were too heavy for the visitors. Ernie Wasson, for Peterboro, excelled himself in this match, and put up a highly commendable exhibition of goal keeping; in fact, he played a star game throughout.

The struggle was on the whole a clean one, and was acceptable to the lovers of hockey.

Morgan scored 9 goals out of Peterboro's 16, Whitcroft 3, Canavanagh 3, and Graham 1.

The teams lined up as follows:

Uxbridge.		Peterboro
Tunnell	Goal.	Wasson
Diggle	Point.	Moore
Anderson	Cover-point.	Crawley
Gordon	Rover.	Whitcroft
Wilson	Center.	Morgan
Patterson	Right Wing.	Graham

WATERWAY IMPROVEMENTS

Was the Object of Hon. H. R. Emmerson's Visit Yesterday.

Hon H R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, was in town yesterday. He arrived yesterday noon, accompanied by his secretary, Mr. Lambert Payne, and Mr. W. J. Butler, Deputy Minister Railway and Canals. The minister visited the scene of the break in the canal bank, and also took a look at the leak in the lift lock. The hon. gentleman's visit is not connected with these matters, but is purely of a departmental nature, embodying material improvements in the waterways of this district.

Last evening the distinguished visitors were entertained by Mr. J. Harris McClellan. They left for Ottawa at midnight.

Not Very Favorable.

Hastings Star: Regarding the prosperity we are having, we notice that, in Peterboro county during the year 1905, there was an increase in the number of writs issued both in the High Court and County Court, and an increase in the number of chattel mortgages filed. The value represented by the mortgages filed in 1905 was $123,620.39, as compared with $68,946 in 1904. There were four assignments in the city of Peterboro than in 1904. Lien notes showed an increase of $2,000 over 1904. The claim that we are in the midst of prosperity is not very really supported by the above returns. The number of farmers living on rented and mortgaged farms is increasing every year.

Lakefield a Busy Station.

The G.T.R. station at Lakefield is one of the busiest village depots in Ontario, and perhaps in all Canada. The earnings in 1905 were exceptionally large. And indications point toward a substantial increase this year. The summary of last year is summarized as follows:

Passenger, $6,899; inward freight, $62,894; outward freight, $74,468; total, $138,262. As of comparison with last year's business we give the averages of the two previous years.—1904—Passenger, $4,826; inward freight, $48,758; outward freight, $67,735; total, $116,848; 1903—Passenger, $4,225; inward freight, $34,123; outward freight $42,899; total, $80,888.

Saturday Bargains.

Lakefield's Latest Purpose

The Lakefield summit are taking steps towards the purchasing of the electric light plant in that village. As local option goes into effect in that village on May 1st, the council are evidently preparing for more light—whether to assist in enforcing the law or for the accommodation of more drunks we have not heard.

Dr. Donaldson is Alive.

London, Feb 3.—Somebody blundered in the story from Cape Town of the alleged murder of Dr. Donaldson by Germans at Swakopmund. It has been learned that Dr. Donaldson left Liverpool on Wednesday on the African steamer Napoleon, on which he is surgeon. Moreover, it seems he never has been in that part of Africa.

SACRED CONCERT

To Be Given By St. Paul's Church Choir in the Church Monday Night.

This event promises to be the best musical treat of the season. The choir itself enjoys an enviable reputation as the best organization of the kind in this city, and also for having attained a degree of efficiency extremely difficult to surpass even in the larger cities of the province. As to its exceptionally talented leader, Mr. John Orme, it is a recognized fact that anything in the way of a concert program that he undertakes is sufficient guarantee that the entertainment will be one lovers of high-class music really cannot afford to overlook. The price of admission to this concert is but 25 cents, and the audience should be a record one. It might be in order to mention here that the proceeds of this event will go toward paying for the vestments recently purchased for St. Paul's choir, which innovation is very acceptable to the congregation in general. Monday night's program has been very carefully prepared with a view to surpassing previous efforts in this direction, and a delightful evening will undoubtedly be spent by those of our citizens who are present.

CAMPBELLFORD BOARD OF TRADE

The following officers were elected at the last annual meeting of the Campbellford Board of Trade:—President, E. C. West; Vice-President, J. A. Stewart; Treasurer, W. B. Archer; Secretary, H. F. Sky; Council, C. L. Owen, A. A. Maybolland, F. J. Golden, J. A. Reesor, A. B. Colville, Dr. J. Macaura, J. C. Fowlds, R. Lowry, D. J. Lynch, Dr. F. H. Schurk, J. B. Ferris.

Cost of Smallpox.

The recent outbreak of smallpox in the townships of Chandos and Methuen cost nearly $2,500. In Chandos there were 67 cases and as a result a debt of $1,043 was created, while in Methuen, with 33 cases, the expenses were over $1,400, largely for doctors' fees. An appeal was made to the Peterboro county council for assistance and a grant of $200 was made to each township.

Application to Parliament

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an application will be made on behalf of the City of Peterborough to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, at the next session thereof, for an Act for the following purposes:

1. To authorize the Council of the City of Peterborough to purchase the lands in the said City and in the Township of North Monaghan, adjoining the Southern limits of the said City, formerly owned by the Peterborough Sugar Company, Limited, and to issue debentures for the purchase money thereof, and to annex that part of the said land not now within the limits of the said City, to the City of Peterborough, and to grant or lease the same or parts thereof to manufacturers on such terms as may be agreed on, and to fix the assessment of the parts so granted or leased for a term of years.

2. To authorize the said Council to acquire by purchase or lease water or electric power and to develop and transmit electric power to the said City and to use or dispose of the same.

3. To authorize the issue of Debentures for a sum not exceeding $13,000 to pay for the cost of the outfall sewer and sedimentation tank in Ward No. 5 of the said City.

4. To extend the time for issuing Debentures under By-law No. 1077 of the said Corporation and to authorize a change in the manner of payment of same, and the rate of interest payable thereon.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous

You have to work hard. This uses up lots of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. Somehow you must get more vitality. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from ever-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burdens. "My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 56, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

To Enforce Game Law.

Provincial Game Warden Tinsley has issued a circular warning all concerned as to the regulations to prevent illegal selling of game. It is to be extensively circulated throughout the Province. Not only will those who sell forbidden game be prosecuted, but those who buy it will be used as witnesses, and then prosecuted.

Some Weather Logic.

"I expect a greater number of bugs, worms, flies and creeping things after a warm winter, such as we are having, than after a cold one," said a citizen to The Times yesterday. "A hard winter kills millions of crop destroyers and, after all, I prefer a cold winter to a warm one," he concluded. This theory, my son, will hardly hold good. There are just as many "bugs" in the neighborhood of Dawson, in the Klondyke, and in Alaska, as there are in Florida, only they are a somewhat different kind. This s. f. j. does not charge for this information either.

CHILD NEARLY FROZEN

Was Found in a Helpless Condition on the Streets.

Yesterday morning as Mr. R. J. Kidd was on his way to his office, he overtook a little boy at the foot of Benson street, weeping bitterly with the cold, and apparently in a dazed condition. He picked the child in his arms and ran back home with him. When the little fellow's mitts were removed, the finger tips were found to have been frozen, and he was in bad shape. After rubbing the frost out, the child was bundled up and taken home, where he will probably be kept in-doors until the weather moderates. Ten minutes more would probably have killed the little fellow.

A New Proposition.

Ottawa, February 2.—An alternative to the proposition to create a department of mines, to be presided over by Hon. Wm. Templeman, is to add mines and geological survey branches to the Inland Revenue, and place Mr. Templeman at the head of the consolidated department.

And is Death Were Not Divided.

Kingston, February 2. — Tomorrow morning there will occur the burial of two sisters, the Misses Rosana and Catherine McFadden, Wellington street. The former died on Monday, aged seventy years, and the latter on Sunday, aged fifty-four years.

The third sister is also dangerously ill.

Electric Motive Power.

An Ottawa despatch says: The Canadian Pacific Railway says considering the advisability of substituting electricity for steam as a motive power, and will probably make the first experiment on the section between Montreal and Quebec. Tests will begin some time within the next six months. Should electric motor cars prove successful, the system of electrification will gradually be extended to the C. P. R. lines.

C. P. R. Orders 200 Steel Cars.

The Canadian Pacific have placed an order with the Dominion Car Company, of Bliss Bonnets, for two hundred steel coal cars, costing upwards of a million and a half dollars. The cars will have a carrying capacity of 110,000 pounds each, and will be used in coal service on the Port Burwell-Ashtabula route.

Want Municipal Act Changed.

A committee of the City Council of London have decided to petition the Provincial Government be to amend the Municipal Act as to prevent firms from other cities selling stocks here at slaughtered prices. The local business men want the outsiders to be subject at least to the local transient traders license fee of $250. This is along the right lines, and Peterboro should also take action.

A New Directory For Peterboro

Mr. D. O. Parker, representing the Union Publishing Company, of Ingersoll, is in the city. The company is now getting out a new directory for the counties of Peterboro, Victoria, Haliburton and the districts. The last directory was issued in 1903. It is up to some of our local publishing houses now to get a complete compendium of Peterboro's inhabitants and industries. It would pay.

Railway Application.

An application will be made to the Legislature at the next session by the Toronto and York Radial Company for the act empowering the company to construct and operate a line as far east as Cobourg. Should the charter be granted that part of the line will be constructed at an early date and then become a part of the Cornwall and Toronto Electric Railway. The capitalists interested in the last named project have been negotiating for the control of the Toronto end for some time and it is quite probable that they will succeed.

Boycott Against C.P.R. Called Off.

Montreal, February 2.—The boycott declared some time ago by the merchants of Vancouver against the Canadian Pacific Railway has been called off, and the decision of the Vancouver people to deal only with the Great Northern rescinded accordingly. A charge of discrimination was brought against the railway company by the merchants before the Railway Commission, and it was to force the railway to reply to the charge that the boycott was declared. Its removal at the present time is in consequence of the decision of the company to place the matter before the commission.

The Late Thomas Curran.

Port Hope Guide: The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Curran will extend their heartfelt sympathy to them in the loss of their eldest son, Thomas, which sad event occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterboro, on Saturday. Deceased went to Peterboro a week ago Wednesday, suffering from appendicitis and an operation was performed the same evening. He was progressing favorably until yesterday when pneumonia set in and despite the best medical skill he passed away this morning shortly after seven o'clock. Deceased was a bright, intelligent lad, and a general favorite with all who knew him. His untimely death is regretted by a large circle of friends, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of all in this their hour of sore affliction. The funeral took place from the family residence, Dorset street, on Monday morning at nine o'clock, to St. Mary's church and cemetery.

WILL SHORTEN THE LINE

C. P. R. LOOKING FOR SHORTER AND BETTER ROUTE.

Proposed New Line Will Cut Out the Tweed-Ivanhoe Loop and Save 10 to 14 Miles.

According to the North Hastings Review, the Canadian Pacific Railway seems to be coming Madoc's way.

Madoc should have been on the line years ago, when first built, but the starting of the old Toronto and Ottawa line between this village and Bridgewater caused the C. P. R. locators at the time to bear away to the south, and thus Tweed and Ivanhoe stations came into existence, while the Grand Trunk "hung up" the T. & O. line as soon as it was found out that the "bluff" wouldn't work.

Now, it appears the importance of straightening their line is being acted upon by the C. P. R. authorities. Starting from a point east of Sharbot Lake the straight line will run through Madoc and intersect the present line again at a point near Havelock.

The new line will be some 70 to 80 miles long; the distance saved by cutting out the Tweed-Ivanhoe loop will be 10 to 14 miles. Bad grades, curves, and bottomless sink holes will also be avoided.

—Mr. David Condon, of Cooktown, had the misfortune of breaking his new cutter on Friday last in Lakefield. He also had a thrilling adventure with a "circingular" this week. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Condon.

THE DOURO CLERKSHIP

Mr. Wm. O'Brien Writes a Strong Letter Regarding His Dismissal.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—In reference to my recent deposition from the position of Township Clerk of Douro, which I held to the general satisfaction of every resident of the township for more than a third of a century, and which position I filled without having ever had one slur cast at my honesty, integrity or ability, I would ask you to allow me the privilege of saying a few words in your valuable paper.

I would suggest that the Scriptural advice offered to "Him that standeth, that he take head left he fall," is deserving of deep consideration. The parable of the servant who, after being forgiven a heavy debt, and was ungrateful enough to expel his fellow-servant from office, might well be given consideration by the Reeve, in connection with my dismissal from office to make room for the Reeve's brother-in-law, Mr. J. J. Allen.

It is well known that I did not "resign" the Clerkship, but was unceremoniously discharged by the casting vote of Reeve Meiser; this was done largely through political motives.

It is known to every resident of the township that I was never bitter, either physically or mentally, than now, and that I am as fully capable of filling every duty of the Clerkship as well as when first appointed thirty-three years ago.

A peculiarity of the minutes of the Council meeting held January 8th, inst., is that, under the caption of "Appointments to office," "Mr. John J. Allen, come more Clerk." Query: when was this gentleman Clerk before? Our newly fledged Councillor, Mr. Walsh, made his debut by demanding me to send in my resignation as Clerk. This I refused to do, saying I could take my medicine. It was then moved by Mr. Walsh, seconded by Frank Leahy, that I be dismissed from office of Clerk: Mr. Quinlan and Mr. Jory voted against the motion, when the Reeve declared my dismissal confirmed.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM O'BRIEN.

ICE MEN HAPPY.

The Present Cold Dip Has Made Them Jubilant.

The ice men are jubilant over the change in the weather. Should the cold weather continue for a few days there will be plenty of ice for local consumption, although the cities are bound to suffer from the fact that the best ice month of the year has passed without any ice being harvested.

When the weather man on the staff of this great family journal phoned the good news to the ice man a couple of days ago that a cold wave was coming—the coldest of the season—they all wanted to buy drinks, but the weather man of this s. f. j. only smokes.

Russia Still Unlucky.

Berlin, February 2.—The German steamer Elvie, of the Hamburg-American Line, which started from Vladivostok with two thousand Russian troops for Odessa, when a few miles out struck floating mines, causing an explosion. The captain of the vessel closed the water tight compartments, and started for shore at full speed. He was able to beach the steamer in time to prevent her sinking. One man was killed and twenty-six injured by the explosion.

THE LIGHT OF OTHER DAYS.

Many years ago alcohol was used for lighting in combination with other fluids under the name of "Camphene," but it suffered banishment because it was too dangerous.

Alcohol is generally harmful when taken in the form of medicine, especially to a delicate system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a tonic-strengthening and flesh-rebuilding and digestion-strengthening plan of treatment is following after Nature's plan.

He uses natural remedies, that is native medicinal roots, prepared by processes wrought out by the expenditure of much time and money, without the use of alcohol, and by skilful combination in the most exact proportions.

Used as one of the active ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, BLACK CHERRY BARK proves its influence in cases of lung and bronchial troubles, and this "CHERRY BARK" is, therefore, a germicide, remedy for bronchitis, laryngitis, chronic coughs, catarrh and kindred ailments.

The curative of the medicinal ingredients of this world-famous remedy are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root.

"I have had such a wonderful experience with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery that I feel it my duty to write you, believing it to be a wonderful medicine to build up the tissues of the system," writes Miss Ella Brown, of Gregory, Kenosha Co., Wis. "Worry and nervous trouble had completely run down my health and strength; had no appetite, could hardly eat, was in a state of nervous collapse. I took twenty bottles in all, each week, knew that I was getting better and stronger, until finally was as well and strong as I ever was. Now I have the utmost faith and confidence in your medicine, and wish to thank you for my good health, which is a blessing to anyone."

For 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing, you can get a free copy of the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," paper-covers; or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" whenever a laxative is required.

INS AND OUTS

A Frenchman has invented an apparatus that will enable a man to sign cheques 1,000 miles away. What this great family journal needs, however, is for an apparatus that will make a cheque good when it is signed at short range.

KILLED AT HOCKEY

Wilbert Martin, of Welcome, Meets with Fatal Accident.

Wilbert Martin, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin, Welcome, met with a distressing accident a few weeks ago, which resulted fatally. While enjoying a game of hockey with a number of his companions, he was accidentally struck across the forehead. He was rendered unconscious, and when Dr. Aldrich was called he found that the left side of the body was paralyzed, and also the right side of the face. The little fellow passed away, and the funeral took place on Monday last.

February Canadian Magazine.

There are some features in the February Canadian Magazine which will justify attention. The most spectacular of these is a series of photographs of Rocky Mountain Wild Flowers contributed by Julia Henshaw. These were taken at high altitudes around Banff and Field and are wonderfully well done. Albert R. Carman has a well illustrated article on "Wall Paintings in Europe," showing what may be done to decorate the corridors of public buildings. The leading literary contribution is an article by Professor Goldwin Smith on "English Poetry and English History," showing how the poetry of the various periods has conformed to the contemporaneous phases of national life. Professor Keys contributes a valuable essay, entitled "Canadian Monographs on English Literature," reviewing the work of Crozier, Anderson, Schofield, Fotheringham and Wallace—names now well-known yet those of Canadian scholars who have won recognition abroad. The short stories by W. A. Fraser and Virna Sheard are excellent, while the departments are filled with suggestive material. John Graham's comments on "What Women Fear" show more than character as it manifests itself in ordinary ability to estimate human character as it manifests itself in this country.

Chris Holland Was Caught In England

Left His Wife and Child in Toronto When He Went to England Early Last Month.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—A cable despatch received in the city Saturday, states that Christopher Holland, accountant at the Ideal Bedding Co., of Jamieson avenue, Parkdale, has been arrested at Bristol, England, on a charge of stealing $13,902 from his employers, the Ideal Bedding Co. of Jefferson avenue. The arrest is another tribute to the energetic manner in which Sergt. Duncan is conducting the local detective department.

HAD BLANK SIGNED CHEQUES.

Holland is a South African veteran and had been in the employ of the Ideal Bedding Co. about two years. He was a confidential bookkeeper, and while he had not power of attorney, blank signed cheques were left with him. By this means he was enabled to secure the money. He lived in fairly good style at 9 Beaty avenue with his wife and child. When he left Toronto his wife was in Grace Hospital. He did not go to see her and left his child with a neighbor, without giving any intimation that he was going out of town. During the past year he purchased $1400 worth of jewelry from Ryrie, which Mrs. Holland has turned over to the Ideal Bedding Co.

Holland came from Monleigh, near Torrington, Devonshire. He is 38 years of age, a natty, dresser, was never known to gamble, but he took kindly to wine at times. He left Toronto Friday, June 12, and the detective department traced him to Montreal, where they found he had taken steamer for England. On Jan. 17 the warrant was issued and Scotland Yard was immediately communicated with.

WELL THOUGHT OF IN PICTON.

A despatch from Picton, says that residents there will find it hard to believe that Christopher Holland is guilty of the offence charged against him. While in that town he was in the offices of W. Boulter & Sons, as bookkeeper, having made the acquaintance of Mr. Boulter while coming across the ocean in the early part of 1899. In the fall he left with one of the Canadian contingents to South Africa and was wounded at Paardeberg. He was invalided to England, and while there won the nurse who attended him for a bride.

He came back to Canada alone about 1901, but his wife soon joined him. For a time he remained at Picton and then went to Toronto. He bore an excellent reputation in Picton.

WAS IN POOR HEALTH.

When Holland left for England he was in very poor health. He had complained to neighbors that he had to go to the old country on business and was too ill to travel. In fact he thought that the sea trip would about finish him.

The sale of the furnishings of the house on Beaty avenue was held a week ago Thursday, and many who attended were surprised at the non-appearance of Holland, who had promised to be there. Holland owed debts all over town. The Adams people were among the heaviest creditors for cost-ly furniture, nearly all of which was bought on time. Various other creditors at the sale were told by Mrs. Holland that Mr. Holland had left town for a few days, and that he had taken no money with him. At that time she had not sufficient funds to square accounts.

TO-NIGHT'S CONCERT

Grand Program in St. Paul's Church To-night.

Those of our readers who either accompanied St. Paul's church choir on their trip to Millbrook, or heard the eulogistic reports by those who did go, will be able tonight to enjoy the treat recently given to the good folk of Millbrook.

In addition to first-class solo talent, the choir will give for the first time in Peterboro, Gounod's "O Day of Penitence," for six parts, one of the most charming of this composer's shorter works. The program also contains Hawley's "Trisagion and Sanctus" for eight parts, Tours "Sing O Heavens," Sullivan's "Yes! Tho' I Walk," Gounod's "Sanctus and Benedictus," and a number of popular numbers.

A program containing the words of the various selections will be distributed, which will add materially to the enjoyment of the evening.

The probability is that St. Paul's will be packed to the doors on Monday night.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. Miles Hamilton, as Manager of Fenelon Falls Bank of Montreal.

The Lindsay Watchman-Warder in a long article descriptive of the branch of the Bank of Montreal, recently opened at Fenelon Falls, has these kind words to say of a Peterboro boy, Mr. Miles Hamilton. The article says:

"In opening the branch in Fenelon Falls, the directors made a good move in placing it under the management of Mr. Miles Hamilton. Mr. Hamilton is a man of sterling qualities who has been connected with banking business for many years and who will be able to give the public the benefit of his experience. He is also of a particularly courteous disposition and all doing business with him may rest assured that they will receive from him every attention and every possible accommodation compatible with the most legitimate and up-to-date banking methods. He will be ably assisted by Mr. Gladstone Main, who has served in the capacity of teller in both Lindsay and Peterboro. There is also a junior clerk who will ably assist in the work of the bank for the accommodation of the public. Under such management the branch cannot fail to be a success, and the people of Fenelon Falls are singularly fortunate in having placed in their midst such a bank under such splendid control.

CHICAGO THE WICKED

Thirty-One Murderers to be Rushed to Trial.

Chicago, Ill., February 4.—Thirty-one alleged murderers, now in the county jail, are to be rushed to trial within the next ten days under a plan of State Attorney Healy to put an end to the wave of homicide which has overspread Chicago.

In addition to the murder charges, fifteen hundred other criminal charges will be pushed by eight judges sitting continuously. Three additional judges were elected to the State prosecuter today, and these will at once begin the hearing of murder cases exclusively.

Next week is to be known as "murder-trial week," and Mr. Healy will make special efforts to secure convictions in all cases where the murdered persons were the victims of hold-up men and footpads.

Richard Ivens, who murdered Mrs. Hollister, will probably be placed on trial on next Tuesday.

WON 50 PRIZES

Mr. H. T. Lumb Carries Off Many 1st Prizes at Lindsay Poultry Show

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Mr. H. T. Lumb, Dublin street, Peterboro's leading poultry fancier and breeder, took a great many of his pets to the Lindsay poultry show.

Mr. Lumb on Saturday returned from the banks of the Scugog, and brought with him a splendid and satisfactory record for his birds. Despite the keen competition Mr. Lumb's birds carried off over fifty prizes, about twenty of which were firsts.

Mr. Lumb says that the show was one of the best local events of its kind ever held in the district. There was a large number of entries and the birds exhibited were an excellent quality. Mr. A. G. Gilbert of the Ottawa Experimental Farm, who was present, was greatly pleased with the show and the enthusiasm displayed.

Mr. Lumb exhibited Black Minorcas, Barred Rocks, White Wyandottes and Leghorns.

VOTED TO GO TO JAIL

Five Hundred Men Who Desired to Save Their Union a Steep Fine.

Chicago, February 4.—Five hundred members of Typographical Union, No. 16, voted unanimously yesterday to go to gaol. As they are on strike, they thought they might avoid the $1,000 fine assessed against the union by Judge Holdom if they were permitted to work out the amount in prison.

After the resolution was adopted a committee was sent to Attorney W. H. Barnum to learn if there was any hope for the strikers breaking into gaol, and in that manner satisfying justice. They were disappointed when he told them that if the fine was upheld by the higher courts, it would have to be paid, and that there was no prospect of the debt being liquidated by the strikers going to gaol.

IS A MILITARY WONDER WORKER

Remarkable Success of King Charles in Building Up Roumania.

IS NOW A STRONG FACTOR

Half a Million Men Can Be Summoned in Emergency—Bulgaria Also Advances.

Constantinople, February 4. — The growth of a number of strong military powers in South-Eastern Europe is sure to become a factor of no little importance in the future developments of the Eastern question. At comparatively short notice the two Danubian states, Roumania and Bulgaria, could put together into the field an army of 600,000 men, and a general mobilization in both countries would bring into existence a considerably larger force. It is unnecessary to forecast the political consequences which might ultimately result from such a combination; for the present Roumano-Bulgarian alliance would at least give pause to any predatory designs which may be entertained by powerful neighbors, and enable the two states to figure as minor pieces than as pawns on the eastern chessboard. As guardians of the great waterway of the Southern Danube the two countries have many interests in common, while there is nothing conflicting in their respective national aspirations, for Roumania disclaims all idea of territorial aggrandisement in Macedonia, only seeking to preserve the kindred element in that country against the encroachments of Hellenism, while no sane politician in Bulgaria dreams of ousting Roumania from the Dobrudja—the very inadequate reward which she received for her sacrifices in the war of Bulgarian liberation.

Some 40 years ago Roumania had scarcely emerged from a condition of semi-barbarism. The exactions of the Phanariotes—the tax gatherers of the Turks—and the tyranny of a corrupt aristocracy had reduced the people to the utmost misery and had almost extinguished their national sentiment. Till 1864 the peasants were serfs, and to a much later day the Boyards or nobles, intrigued with Russia against the independence of their country. To-day Roumania is as independent as Holland or Belgium; foreign intrigue has been baffled if not entirely suppressed, a patriotic spirit has been engendered in the population and the country possesses a civil and military organization which compares favorably with those of many old established states. The scheme of national defence has been completed in recent years; Bukarest is now the most strongly fortified city in Europe, except Paris, a great chain of fortresses from Focshani to Galatz, bidding defiance to invasion from the north, and in time of war Roumania can summon an army of 150,000 well-armed men, which may be increased to 250,000, or, in case of great national effort, to 500,000 men. The active army, with its reserve, the territorial militia, have all been remodeled. If, as has been generally supposed, Russia has in later years abandoned the idea of reaching Constantinople by land her eyes have not been closed to the formidable obstacles which her southward march must now encounter.

These remarkable results are in the main due to the military aptitude, as well as the political sagacity of King Charles. Every Hohenzollern is a born soldier and the present sovereign of Roumania was brought up to a military career. In the war against Denmark he gained his first experience in active campaigning, which proved invaluable to him in years to come. On arrival in Roumania he found the national army in a state of deplorable disorganization. The troops were little more than undisciplined levies; the men were, for the most part, without uniforms, some were armed with rifles, others with pikes or sabers; of ammunition there was next to none, while hospitals, barracks, fortifications in the modern sense, and all of the necessary equipment for an army was totally lacking. Insubordination was rife among the rank and file, and the corps of officers was pervaded by the spirit of faction. Shortly after the arrival of the new ruler the national guard flatly refused to obey his orders, and it was only by the display of great courage and presence of mind that he succeeded in averting a serious mutiny. The same evil which led to the dethronement of Prince Alexander of Battenberg—the mutual balousies of the officers in regard to promotion—was also rampant. Recognizing that his independence of his new country and even its political existence depended upon the efficacy of its means of defence, the young sovereign applied himself at once to the task of reforming its military organization, adopting the German model and the basis of universal liability to service. In little more than a year's time the first attempt at military manoeuvers took place near Cotroceni, the prince bivouacing with his troops.

During the next ten years the work of building up a strong national army progressed without interruption. In 1893 a complete scheme of military organization was promulgated and the troops were armed with the famous mauser gun. In 1899 a standing camp of instruction was established at Moldavia.

From that time on the upbuilding of the army has been rapid and successful. The importance of holding annual manoeuvers has always been recognized by King Charles, and the practice has never been interrupted, except in years of abnormal financial stress. The district selected for last year's operations was in the extreme north of Moldavia, between Dorohoi on the north and Hariova on the south; the ground being admirably suited for the purpose, being open and undulating with wide fields and downs interspersed with forests. The troops employed were the Seventh and Eighth divisions, composing the Fourth or Northern Moldavian army corps, numbering altogether about 23,000 men. The manoeuvers though prolific of tactical shortcomings, were nevertheless of a general character which reflected credit upon all those taking part.

DETECTIVE NABS THIEVING CLERK

Being a Rather Thrilling Story of an Exciting Finish to the Depradiction Committed in a Watertown Store.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—A midnight marauder surprised by a private detective lying in wait, a chase of almost a mile ended by a flying tackle, a strenuous struggle resulting in the thief being escorted to the home of the man whose place of business he had been trying to rob; these were the piquant features of an incident that Watertown is busily talking about.

F. W. Crooker is proprietor of a large general store there. For some time past goods have been mysteriously vanishing from counters and show cases. His clerks were able to make it clear that they had nothing to do with the disappearances, yet they went on steadily.

The spiriting away of a clock and a tobacco jar was the last straw. Mr. Crooker, mystified to the last degree, went to Noble's detective agency for help.

Starting with Monday night last a detective spent the time from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m., hidden in the store. Up till Friday night there was nothing doing. Then someone using a key opened the door safely and slipped inside. The visitor's grip closed on a china ox and he started a rubber sole movement toward the door. The sleuth came into the open, and the china was crashed to the floor in the thief's hurry. The detective was something of a sprinter, and with a dive he nailed his man after a chase that left them both winded. In the resulting mix-up the detective won out and marshed his captive to Mr. Crooker's house where he was locked up for the night. It was discovered that he was a former clerk, named Cameron. He was taken to Hamilton on Saturday.

TWO YEARS IN SING SING

First Convictions are Registered in New York For Violation of Bankruptcy Laws.

New York, Feb. 5.—Richard Cohen and Simon L. Simpson were on Saturday sentenced to two years in Sing Sing Prison and to pay a fine of $1,000 each, and Isidore G. Mann to nine months' imprisonment and $1,000 fine for conspiracy to violate the bankruptcy laws.

These men were the first to be prosecuted by the federal authorities and convicted under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Act.

They were found guilty in the United States Court yesterday on indictments charging the concealment of assets from trustees in bankruptcy with intent to defraud creditors and conspiracy against the government in connection with the failure of the American Wire and Steel Red Co.

The jury recommended leniency in the case of Mann.

The other two received the full limit of the prison sentence with the minimum fine.

NERVOUS BABIES

The Exact Cause.

Many a child, while nursing, has acquired an appetite for strong drink because the mother used beverages containing alcohol. A letter from an Elgin, Ill., mother illustrates the necessity of great care as to the mother's food and drink while she is nursing her child:

"What I have to say should be of interest to mothers who are so fortunate as to be able to nurse their babies," she writes. "Until my first baby came I did not realize that coffee was the cause of the severe attacks of nervousness to which I was subject at times. I found that when one of these attacks came upon me, baby was affected in the same way, at about the same time, and reflection led me to conclude that it was the coffee I drank that was making us both ill.

"Having read an article about Postum Food Coffee, I decided to give it a trial, and when I had learned to prepare it properly by boiling it at least 20 minutes, I found that with cream, it was a delicious drink. And it proved most beneficial to the health of both of us.

"However when I gave up the old coffee, I thought there would be no harm in having one cup of the old kind on Sunday mornings for old time's sake. Two Sundays showed me the folly of this. I was amazed at the influence the coffee had on my own and baby's nerves. It made me restless and unstrung till its effects had time to wear off, and about the time I began to feel easier it began to baby through the milk, so that it spoiled our entire day. When I found this to be the case I gave up the Sunday morning coffee indulgence.

"And that ended the nervous attacks for both of us. This was five years ago, and I have used Postum regularly ever since, and enjoy it as much as I ever did the other kind of coffee.

"I believe that the fretful condition of many babies is caused by the coffee-drinking habit of the mother.

"It is hard to deny children the drink they see their parents enjoying at table, and it is a great comfort to be able to let them have all the Postum they want, served with cream it has proved an ideal beverage for my three little ones.

"I found also that Postum is a great producer of healthy milk, and am sure that many a worried mother would be benefited by its use. I cannot commend it too highly." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

No Desire To Offend Just Aid Noble Ally

Man Who Put Question in Japanese Diet Surprised at British Indignation.

Tokio Feb. 5.—Mr. Oishi, leader of the progressive party, who recently interpellated War Minister Terauchi on the subject of the strengthening of the British army under article VII. of the Anglo-Japanese convention, is surprised at the British comment on his question. He authorizes the statement that he had not the slightest intention to give offense. His only motive in raising the question was a sincere desire to "help our noble ally in effecting a most difficult but indispensable reform." He thought that external stimulus often facilitated the accomplishment of a difficult task.

THE OFFICIAL BURDEN.

London, Feb. 5.—The Japanese embassy, which sabled the Government at Tokio on the subject of the Oishi-Terauchi incident, received today the official version of the war ministers' answer to Mr. Oishi. It is as follows:

"I am aware of the article in the alliance agreement pointed out by Mr. Oishi stipulating that the naval and military authorities of the two powers shall frankly and sincerely consult one another on the conditions and means for armed resistance to be rendered. The Government, therefore, will have to act upon this stipulation hereafter, but they have not yet entered into any discussion on the subject."

ALICE ROOSEVELT ALMOST MOBBED

President's Daughter Pleads with Camera Fiends in Vain.

PURSUED AT EVERY TURN

Longworth and Finance Welcome Countess Under Great Difficulties.

New York, February 4.—Miss Alice Roosevelt is not enjoying her visit to New York. Her friends, her family and relations have sought to mark the last visit of the daughter of the president as Miss Roosevelt as one of unalloyed pleasure. The young woman came here with the definite object of completing her trousseau, but she has been so pursued by the general public and a ubiquitous army of camera fiends that she has become impatient and thoroughly bored.

Wherever she has appeared in public during the two days of her visit there have been the click click of cameras, bold stares, questions and comments of a curious public. At first the president's daughter was disposed to accept these attentions in a good natured sort of way. But the ever increasing number and persistency of those who have followed her about, including the camera men, has worn out both her good nature and her endurance.

Seventy-second street, between Madison and Fifth avenue, on which block is the residence of Mr. Robert Goelet, Miss Roosevelt's hostess, was packed and jammed yesterday with a curious crowd. By 9 o'clock in the morning, two hours before Miss Roosevelt made her appearance, there were five photographers with large machines stationed directly before the door of the Goelet house. Before noon, in addition to the photographers, whose number had increased, hundreds of persons were promenading the street there, only for a look at the president's daughter.

WILL TRAVEL 30,000 MILES

Mr. Fred Shaughnessy and His Party are Now in London.

London, February 4.—Mr. Fred. Shaughnessy, son of the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and his party who are making a tour of the world, have arrived on the Canadian Pacific Railway steamer Lake Champlain. The party leaves for Hong Kong on the Monteagle and thence by the Empress for Vancouver; then on to Montreal, completing 30,000 miles per Canadian Pacific Railway steamers and trains.

COLD WEATHER IN NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 5.—Much suffering from the cold wave which began on Saturday, was reported yesterday, when, with the sun shining in a cloudless sky, the temperature dropped to six above zero. At the free dispensaries in the poorer sections of the city the freezing cases numbered scores.

LABOR PARTY HAS RADICAL PROGRAM

Extension of Government Control to All Branches of Public Service.

London, Feb. 5.—The death of her father, King Christian of Denmark has been a severe shock to Queen Alexandra, who was already in rather poor health and who has aged considerably during the last few months.

The death of King Christian will probably be felt nowhere more than at the English court, where all drawing room and court functions have been postponed indefinitely, greatly to the disappointment of a great many Americans, who had expected to be presented this winter.

King Edward himself is in rather poor health, his fractured ankle is causing him considerable pain and throughout most of yesterday he was decidedly stout that it will probably be necessary for him to go to Marienbad in the spring to take the waters which he disliked so much.

The days of the House of Lords are numbered if Mr. Will Thorne, the Labor member, who owns the election majority to the entering enemy of Lady Warwick, has his way.

Mr. Thorne, founder of the Gasworkers' and General Laborers' Union, considers the upper house an obstruction to the way of progress and has declared his intention of becoming a second Cromwell as far as the abolishing of that body is concerned.

The Countess of Warwick feels very proud of her political successes and predicts that after another general election the Labor party will hold the balance of power in the lower house.

The program of the Labor party has now been determined upon in all details and is one which is fairly shocking to the Conservative elements.

One of the first reforms which is to be pushed is that of women suffrage, which will be strongly opposed, not only by Conservative voters, but by many women.

Simultaneously with this, municipal ownership is to be extended to take in all branches of local public service and all railways are to become national property.

The Labor representatives in Parliament are well aware that if their plans cannot be carried out at once, but they believe that the day is not far off when the Liberal party now in power will have to choose between socialism and capitalism, and they anticipate that the Liberals will then divide into two groups, one of which will join hands with labor, while the other will join the ranks of the Unionist party in defense of capital.

FIRM GOT $1000 FOR NOT TENDERING

Worthington and Armstrong Give Evidence at Civic Inquiry.

Toronto, Feb. 5.—The statement of Thos. Worthington of the plumbing firm of Worthington, Garrett and Armstrong, that this firm had received $1000 from Purdy and Mannell for drawing out of the tendering on the civic plumbing contract, was a piquant bit of evidence at Saturday's sitting of the civic inquiry.

Mr. Wright of Bennett and Wright was asked what $400 had been paid for, the date being June 19, 1906. He disclaimed knowledge of such payment. He wouldn't swear that Mr. Lennox didn't get it. It was pointed out that the cheque for the amount was missing.

Mr. Wright was told that a minute inspection of the $3000 item in merchandise account showed recently an attempt to [illegible] expenses on contract[illegible]itials. He thought t[illegible] but didn't know [illegible] been erased, or the [illegible] didn't think, however[illegible] process on contract."

Mr. Wright said he couldn't find the figures for his original tender on the plumbing contract. He admitted he had not billed Lennox for the $6,300 owed him, or any portion thereof nor charged interest.

Mr. Wright said no knowledge that $2,385 had been paid to Purdy and Mannell, although he had done his best to find out. Mr. Drayton said he thought Mr. Clark would be able on return to give the information. Before leaving the box he stated he had got $3,177.91 extras on the civic plumbing contract.

Thomas Worthington of the now dissolved plumbing firm of Worthington, Garrett and Armstrong, said he had taken out quantities for the city hall from Mr. Lennox. On leaving with Mr. Mannell he was asked by the latter if $1000 would pay him for his trouble in getting into line for tendering on the plumbing. After consulting Mr. Armstrong the offer was accepted.

"How were you paid?"

"Either part note or part cash. I can't remember details." He was not sure whether a $477 cheque shown him was part of the $1000. Mr. Armstrong corroborated that $1000 had been received.

The inquiry adjourned till Feb. 15, when Mr. Mannell and Mr. Clark are expected to be back.

FIRE THREATENS VILLAGE.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—A fire, which started in dense dried grass, threatened a large section of the residence district of the suburb of Austin with destruction yesterday.

Three brick apartment houses in the path the fire took were attacked, as were a number of wooden houses.

BERNARD SHAW VERY ILL.

New York, Feb. 5.—A cable from London says: The condition of George Bernard Shaw, the dramatist, is causing great anxiety. His illness is very severe and chances of his recovery are slight. His malady is affection of the heart.

LADY GREY DYING.

London, Feb. 4.—Lady Grey, wife of Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, who was thrown from a trap February 1st, while driving in Buckinghamshire, Northumberland, [illegible] sustained a concussion of the brain, is dying.

MILITANT FRENCH CATHOLICS

Police Everywhere Meet Violent Resistance in Their Efforts to Enforce the New Church and State Separation Law.

Paris Feb. 5.—Everywhere in France the actual putting into operation of the clauses of the Church and State Separation Bill which provided for the making of inventories of the property of the Church, has aroused a storm of protest. In several Provincial parishes Catholics have gathered in the churches and made such strong resistance that the government Commissioners were unable to enter.

In Paris yesterday violent scenes occurred in several churches, notably those of St. Roch and St. Clothilde. An inventory of the property of St. Roch has not been made, owing to the opposition of the congregation, but the defenders of the latter church succumbed before the energetic assault of an armed force.

In the Chamber of Deputies, Premier Rouvier's reply to an interpellation on the subject by a Socialist Deputy, M. Allard, was given amid a great uproar. The Government, however, secured a vote of confidence by 384 against 168, after the Premier had assured the Chamber that the Government was desirous of using tact and moderation in carrying out the law but that it was fully determined to perform its duty.

VIOLENT SCENES.

Scenes of extreme violence were transpiring in the meantime at the Church of St. Clothilde, near the Chamber of Deputies. The church had been filled since early morning, the congregation including many prominent members of the nobility, senators and deputies.

M. Lepine, Prefect of Police, finally ordered the municipal guards and police to capture the church. Under a shower of broken chairs, the officers broke down the railings in front of the entrances, while the crowd rained heavy blows upon them. Then the firemen burst in the doors and the police and municipal guards entered the building. One of the principal officers was severely wounded.

Inside the church the congregations had erected barricades which had to be taken by assault while the men and women fainted. After the church had been cleared the Commissioner proceeded to take the inventory. The Catholics outside were singing canticles.

The ejection of the crowd resulted in the injuring of many persons on both sides, including 50 policemen and guards and a still higher number of militant Catholics. One hundred and fifty members of the congregation were arrested.

AUSTRIA'S DARK PERIOD

Unless Reforms are Conceded Trouble is Sure to Result, Workmen's Strike.

Vienna, February 4.—The present session of the Reichsrath promises to be memorable in history. Its assembly synchronizes with a formidable Hungarian movement which threatens war and with the prospective rise of a strong Balkan federation. The Reichsrath is expected to give parliamentary representation based on manhood suffrage and to pass a non-ecclesiastical marriage law. The social democratic party, including workers in factories and a large section of the professional and official classes, is in the forefront of the campaign for electoral reform. This party warns the retrogressives that if the popular movement is defeated, the workmen will declare a general strike.

Manitoba Marriage Law.

Winnipeg, Man., February 4.—Pursuant to representations made by the W. C. T. U., the marriage law will be amended by the Legislature, fixing the age limit at fourteen years, in uniformity with the other Provinces.

How Consumption Starts

Tired When You Waken--Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out —Soap All Gone

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start to-day. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and brooding, joyous health to disrelish established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Lloyd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this:

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

DENTAL INSPECTION FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Strasburg is looking after her children's teeth. The children who attend her public schools are obliged by law in this German city to have their teeth attended to whether they will or no, and the experiment has met with a great deal of success. At the Strasburg clinic [illegible] children were examined and 2,000 received treatment. The second year 6,000 were treated, 4,987 were treated. The report, just published, shows there were 13,621 visits to the clinic and 8,826 children [illegible], for whom 7,565 teeth were filled and 7,305 were extracted, and 6,972 other children had their teeth examined. Great advancement was made during the last year in the attention given children between the ages of three and six years. Of the children of these ages examined only 265 out of 2,320 had sound teeth, or less than 15 per cent. Of the children examined between the ages of six and eight years 160 out of a total of 2,180 had sound teeth, or but 7 1-5 per cent. The school teacher enters the name of each pupil on a card, which is taken to the clinic, where the dentist enters a detailed record of the condition of the teeth after making the examination, returning the card to the pupil and retaining a duplicate of it. The children are taught to clean their teeth three times daily, and especially before retiring. The dentist also instructs the children in the use of the toothbrush, each child receiving a brush for home use. The dentist also gives each child a piece of rye bread and instructs him how to masticate the same with the least injury to the teeth.

A REVERSED SCOTT ACT ELECTION.

They are to have another election in Prince Edward Island this week on the subject of the Scott Act. The Island Province has experimented more or less with the Canada Temperance Act (the Scott Act) and other restrictive legislation for years, especially in Charlottetown. Now, says the Montreal Star, there is a petition for an election to reconsider the revoking of the Scott Act in Prince County. Ordinarily the opposition to this "dry" law comes from all those interested in the traffic, or desirous of drinking. This time, however, those who want the repeal are the temperance people, and the supporters of the act are said to be the liquor men. The temperance people think that they have in their provincial license law a better system of suppressing the trade than the Scott Act gives, while the liquor men would rather continue to have the trade thus regulated, with them in control, than have that duty taken out of their hands. They have "learned" the Scott Act, and the Island temperance people think that, with the liquor men, it is a case of familiarity breeding contempt. The election which has been fixed for tomorrow, will thus be a most interesting one, and a victory for the Temperance Act will not necessarily be a temperance victory.

A WAITING ATTITUDE

France Will Not Make Known Her Program at Moroccan Conference Until Germany Has Spoken.

Paris, Feb. 3. — Safeguarding France's preponderating political influence in Morocco appears to be the main point of the French program at the Moroccan conference at Algeciras. On other questions France is prepared in a liberal spirit to meet any proposals formulated, but she will take a firm stand relative to the police. Such is the view expressed in quarters enjoying confidence of the Ministers here, where it is also affirmed that the French delegates are determined to await the disclosure of Germany's proposals before making known their own propositions.

It is argued that this waiting attitude is justified by the fact that the desire for a conference emanated from Germany, who should, therefore, talk; the initiative in declaring her views. The French Cabinet possesses the unanimous support of the country in maintaining the principle that France's position in Algeria gives her the right to a predominant voice in Moroccan affairs. Any other solution of the conference would be regarded by the country as a display of weakness, and the view is generally expressed that a return to the status quo would be preferable.

IS LOYAL TO BALFOUR

Chamberlain, According to The Daily Mail, is Not a Candidate for the Leadership.

London, Feb. 3.—The Daily Mail, a Unionist organ, with a positiveness seemingly inspired, says that Mr. Chamberlain has formally announced that he is not a candidate for the leadership of the party, and gives no sign of departing from his mature and carefully considered decision, nor is such a departure to be expected in the future. Now that Mr. Balfour has been so bitterly attacked it is certain Mr. Chamberlain will be less than ever inclined to deviate from the path of perfect loyalty which he held out for himself, and has so unswervingly followed.

The Daily Mail would have the Unionist party conference adopt Mr. Balfour as leader, with the Chamberlain policy as its program.

As a result of the meeting of the tariff reform committee, it is said Mr. Chamberlain will raise the fiscal question early next session.

Still five more columns of letters in the Morning Post and Standard are added to the indictment against Mr. Balfour.

MONEY ON HORSE RACES.

Legislation May be Sought Restricting Agricultural Societies.

Toronto, Feb. 3.—It is likely that the legislation which the Minister of Agriculture will have to propose at the coming session will include some provision placing restrictions on the amount spent in purses for horse racing by agricultural societies at fairs. As these societies receive a Government grant legislation of this kind can be made effective.

In this connection it is interesting to note what has been the result where horse-racing at fairs is common. An analysis of the fairs last year in the State of Maine, made by Mr. H B. Cowan, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, shows that fifty societies expended $60,295 for agricultural purposes. Of these 39 held horse races, on which they expended in purses $22,883, or $2,841 more than all the societies put into prizes for agricultural exhibits. An average of $586 was spent by each of the 39 on racing, while the Shapent only an average of $404 on legitimate objects.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

Here I can only give utterance to a remark which, I am told, is as old as the hills—and that is, how little we men understand the opposite sex. From that night forward, for the first three or four days of her visit, Agnes' manner towards me was as friendly as of old, but I noticed that she made but small difference between her treatment of Mackinnon and the way in which she behaved towards myself. This was more than I could bear, and in consequence my own behavior towards her changed. I found myself bringing every bit of ingenuity I possessed to bear on an attempt to win her back to the old state. But it was in vain! Whenever I found an opportunity, and hinted at my love for her, she invariably changed the conversation into such a channel that all my intentions were frustrated. In consequence, I exerted myself the more to please until my passion must have been plain to everyone about the place. Prudence, honor, everything that separated me from her was likely to be thrown to the winds. My infatuation for Agnes Mayhourne had grown to such a pitch that without her I felt that I could not go on living.

One day, a little more than a week after their arrival, it was my good fortune to accompany her on a riding excursion to a waterfall in the hills, distant some seven or eight miles from the mine. On the way she rallied me playfully on what she called "my unusual quietness." This was more than I could stand, and I determined, as soon as I could find a convenient opportunity, to test my fate and have it settled for good and all.

On reaching our destination, we tied our horses, by their reins, to a tree at the foot of the hill, and climbed up to the falls we had ridden over to explore. After the first impression, created by the wild grandeur of the scene, had passed, I endeavored to make the opportunity I wanted.

"How strangely little circumstances recall the past. What place does that remind you of?" I asked, pointing to the rocky hill on the other side of the fall.

"Of a good many," she answered, a little artfully, I'm afraid. "I cannot say that it reminds me of one more than another. All things considered, there is a great sameness in South African scenery."

Cleverly as she attempted to turn my question off, I was not to be balked so easily.

"Though the likeness has evidently not impressed you, it reminds me very much of Salvage Island," I said, drawing a step closer to her side. "Halfway up that hill one might well expect to find the plateau and the cave."

"Oh, why do you speak to me of that awful cave," she said, with a shudder; "though I try to forget it, it always gives me a nightmare."

"I am sorry I recalled it to your memory, then," I answered. "I think in spite of the way you have behaved towards me lately, Agnes, you are aware that I would not give you pain for anything. Do you know that?"

As I put this question to her, I looked into her face. She dropped her eyes and whispered "Yes."

Emboldened by my success, I resolved to push my fate still further.

"Agnes," I said, "I have been thinking ever what I am going to say to you now for some days past, and I believe I am doing right. I want to tell you the story of my life, and then to ask you a question that will decide the happiness of the rest of it. I want you to listen and, when I have done, answer me from the bottom of your heart. Whatever you say I will abide by."

She looked up at me with a startled expression on her face.

"I will listen," she said, "and whatever question you ask I will answer. But think first, Gilbert; do you really wish me to know your secret?"

"God knows I have as good reasons for wishing you to know as any man could have," I answered. "I can trust you as I can trust no one else in the world. I wish you to hear and judge me. Whatever you say, I will do and abide by it."

She put her little hand in mine, and having dried an, seated herself on a boulder. Then, after a little pause, she bade me tell her all.

"In the first place," I said, "I must make a confession that may surprise you. My name is not Wrexford, as I have so long led you to suppose. It is Penmorthorne. My father was Sir Anthony Penmorthorne, of Polten-Penna, in Cornwall. I was educated at Eton and Oxford; and, as you will now see, I [illegible] from either. After a college escape, the blame for which was thrown upon me, my father turned me out of England with a portion of my inheritance. I went to Australia, where I tried my hand at all sorts of employment, gold mining among the number. Details of my life out there, with one exception, would not interest you; so I will get on to the great catastrophe, the results of which were taking me out of England when I first met you. Up to this time ill-luck had constantly pursued me, and I had even known the direst poverty. You may imagine, therefore, what my feeling were when an old friend, a man with whom I had been gambling on many goldfields, told me of a place which he had discovered where, he said, there were prospects of [illegible] gold to make us both millionaires half a dozen times over. He, [illegible] was dying at the time, but he left his secret to me, bidding me take immediate advantage of it. True to my promise, I intended to set off to the place he had found as soon as he was buried, and having discovered it, to apply to Government for right to mine there, but fate was against me, and I was taken seriously ill. For weeks I hovered between life and death. When I recovered I saddled my horse, and, dreaming of all I was going to accomplish with my wealth, when I had obtained it, made my way across country by the chart he had given me. When I arrived at the spot it was only to learn that my greatest enemy in the world, a man who hated me as much as I did him, had fished my secret from me in my delirium, and had appropriated the mine. You cannot imagine my disappointment. I wanted money so badly, and I had [illegible] of finding my fortune that I had almost come to believe myself possessed of it. What need to tell the rest? He became enormously rich, and returned to England. In the meantime my father had died, leaving me a sufficient sum, when carefully invested, to just keep me alive. With this to help me I followed my enemy home, resolved, if ever a chance arose, to revenge myself upon him. When I arrived I saw his name everywhere. I found his wealth, his generosity, his success in life, extolled in every paper I picked up; while I, from whom he had stolen that which gave him his power, had barely sufficient to keep me out of the workhouse. You must understand that I had been seriously ill, for the second time, just before I left Australia, and perhaps for this reason—but more so, I believe, on account of the great disappointment to which I had been subjected—I began to brood over my wrongs by day and night, and pine for revenge. I could not eat or sleep for it. Remember, I do not say this in any way to excuse myself, but simply to show you that my mind was undoubtedly not quite itself at the time. At any rate, to such a pitch of hatred did I at length work myself that it was as much as I could do to prevent myself from laying violent hands upon my enemy when I saw him in the public street. After I had been entertaining the devil in this fashion for longer than was good for me, he in return sent one of his satellites to complete my ruin. That man—such a man as you could not picture to yourself—put before me a scheme for getting even with my enemy, so devilish that at first I could hardly believe he was in earnest. So insidiously did he tempt me, playing upon my hatred and increasing my desire for revenge, that at last I fell into his net as completely as he could wish. The means were immediately found for getting my victim into my clutches, and then nothing remained but to work out the hideous crime that had been planned for me."

I stopped for a moment and looked at Agnes, who was cowering with her face in her hands. She did not speak, so I continued my gruesome tale.

"I need not tell you how I got the man in my power, nor in what manner it was arranged that I should kill him. I will content myself with telling you that when I had got him, and could have killed him by lifting my little finger, difficult as you may find

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $750,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $275 a ton, or about $1250 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 6 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $200 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1200 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

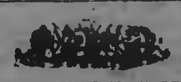
SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.



SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,500 by 1,500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

All taxes ($100) must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzes and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $6.40 to $14.50 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of nine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization $60,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 350,000 shares. Show us something better.

Special Mark St. Services.

Yesterday the services at the Mark street church were especially interesting. These special services were preparatory to a general and extended revival to be held in the city and county.

An early service was held from 7 to 8 a.m., and was followed by Love feast, beginning at 9.45 a.m., succeeded by another service and Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. A raise and testimony meeting was held at three p.m., at which George street Methodist quartette rendered some splendid selections. The regular evening service was well attended, and was followed by a special evangelistic service.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—A meeting of the Ministerial Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. this morning.

—Peterboro has won the Curlers' Silver Trophy as a result of the games with Lindsay.

—A regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held in the secretary's office, 497 George street, this evening.

—Rev. J. G. Potter yesterday spoke at the Y.M.C.A. men's meeting, taking "Sunday at the Y.M.C.A." as his subject.

—The Ontario Legislature will meet on Thursday, Feb. 15. The Dominion Parliament has been summoned to convene on March 8th.

—Tonight Mr. Deanstoun will give an address on "Folk Lore" at St. John's Guild. Mr. Chas. Mitchell will supply photograph music.

—Court Chemong, No. 530, I.O.F., will hold a most enjoyable evening, in the S.O.E. Hall, Friday night, Feb. 16th. Admission free to members, and a limited number of friends.

—Mr. La Flamme, who is head of the extensive body of missionaries and preachers in Comanada, a large City of India, will speak at the Murray street Baptist church meeting, tomorrow afternoon.

—Mr. D. C. Parker, representing the Union Publishing Co., of Ingersoll, is in the city. This company is having a new directory published for Hamilton, Victoria and Peterboro counties, and the districts.

—It is not true that patrons of the matinee in the new opera house on Saturday, had icycles hanging to their chins during the performance. This is a gross exaggeration, as very few ever had ears or fingers frozen.

—The 8th Hen Otonabee Sunday school, on Saturday, forwarded the sum of $5 to Mr. R. M. Dandeteau, as a contribution to the Children's Aid Society. This is a thoughtful and kindly act towards a most admirable institution.

—A young man, well known about town, who was arrested on Saturday night spent Sunday studying the architectural beauties of cell No. 1, in the Hotel des Cops. He will, at this morning's police court answer to a charge of having been drunk and disorderly.

—Mr. John Green, on behalf of John Lee and Etta Thompson, has issued a writ against the Peterboro Light & Power Co., for unstated damages to the plaintiffs, caused by the defendants allowing gas to escape from their mains on George street outside the plaintiffs' house. Messrs. Donoghue, Peck and Starr have filed an appearance on behalf of the company.

DAMAGED BY WATER

Bursted Pipe Floods Stroud's Tea Store.

On Saturday morning a scene of damage and devastation was in evidence in the tea and coffee store operated on George street by Mr. W. Stroud.

It seems that a water pipe supplying a bath room on the top flat of the building occupied by the tea store, and from which the water had not been disconnected, although that flat was unoccupied, had become a victim to the sudden and excessive cold snap of last week. The pipe had been burst by the expanding ice, and sometime during Friday night, the ice had thawed out, thus allowing the water to flow freely all over the floor in such quantities that it penetrated the lower floors, and covered Stroud's store to a depth of several inches.

The ceilings are all damaged, besides a large quantity of tea and other merchandise. Mr. Stroud had some sixty chests of tea on the premises, and a great deal of this will have to be thrown away. Besides his actual loss Mr. Stroud has a big job ahead of him getting the water all out of the store and washing all the china and crockery, and generally getting the place tidy again. Asked what he estimated the damage at, he said it wouldn't be less than $200.

The Peterboro Hardware Co. also suffered damage to the extent of $10 or $15. The water from Stroud's cellar got into the Hardware Co's cellar, but it was discovered and stopped before it did much damage.

FARMER'S EXCURSION

Will Be Run to Guelph on June the 14th.

It was finally decided at a meeting held in the Mimosa House, on Saturday morning, to run the annual excursion to the Experimental Farm at Guelph on June 14, the second Thursday of the month. The Executive Committee that will look after the plans is composed of the following gentlemen; F. E. Birdsall, Asphodel; Edward Hawthorne, Warsaw; Chas. O'Reilly, Norwood; Alex. Kelly, East Durham, and Thos. M. Hunter, North Monaghan.

Mr. Calihan, the popular secretary of the Institute, who so successfully managed last summer's excursion, will supervise the arrangements for the event, and a large crowd, it is expected, will avail themselves of this opportunity.

THE PHOTO IN THE "NEWS"

Mr. F. A. Clarke, Peterboro's All-round Athlete Portrayed.

The Toronto News of Saturday night contained an excellent likeness of Mr. F. A. Clarke, the George street hatter and furrier.

The News spoke in very high terms of Mr. Clarke's prominent position in several branches of Peterboro's athletic and sporting circles. Special reference was made to his being president of the Peterboro City Hockey League, and also to his connection with the C.L.A. executive.

The article was a very well timed reference to a gentleman who has always taken a prominent part in fostering every branch of local sports and athletics.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. H. Sutcliffe, of Toronto, is in the city.

—Mr. O. T. Dirty, of Picton, was in the city Saturday.

—Mr. Harry Johnson, of Hastings, was in the city Saturday.

—Mr. Alfred Simpson, Wiarton, is registered at the Snowden House.

—Lindsay Post: Mr. G. Gunnright of Peterboro, was in town today for a few hours.

—Mrs. F. D. Hewson, of Peterboro, is visiting Mrs. John Helm.—Port Hope Guide.

—Mrs. W. Cresswell, of Peterboro called on friends on Tuesday.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

—Mrs Kendry and Mrs. Burnett left on Saturday for a trip to Cornwall and Montreal.

—Mrs. A. E. Dixon left Saturday morning to spend a couple of weeks in New York with friends.

—Mrs. W. J. Grant and Miss Marjorie Grant of Hamilton, are the guests of Mrs. (Rev.) Langfeldt.

—Mr. W. S. Childs, of Toronto, formerly of this city, was in town last week combining business with pleasure.

—Mr. W. J. Lathmer, representing Alex. Elliott & Co., has returned from a three weeks' trip through New Ontario.

—Mr. Harry Rush, the popular accountant of the Ontario Bank, was confined to his room Saturday on account of illness.

—Mr. F. H. Dobbin was yesterday re-elected to the Executive Committee of the Canadian Press Association at its annual meeting held in Toronto.

—Mrs (Hon.) J. R. Stratton will this afternoon hold a very large reception and afternoon tea at her beautiful residence Strathermond. A very large number of invitations have been issued.

—Yesterday poor Mr. Head, of the Clancy House, who has been living under the delusion that his snow shovel could be tied up with blue ribbons, and decorated with a landscape across the blade, had to get busy with the same shovel in earnest, and dig out a path for the family to get to church.

—Mr. John Stevenson, of Frobisher, Sask., who has been visiting his brother Mr. G. B. Stevenson, district manager of the North American Life Assurance Company, for two weeks, has returned to his home. Mr. Stevenson is an old Hastings boy, who has done well in the West.

—Millbrook Reporter says; Mr. J. J. Fair was in Peterboro Tuesday on municipal business.—Mrs. Jno. Crewe, of Peterboro, was the guest of Miss Burton last week.—Dr. McKinnon was out from Peterboro on Friday last calling on old friends who were pleased to see him again.—Mrs. Jas. Busfield of Peterboro, and Mr. Jno. Busfield, of Claresvel, Alta., were calling on old friends here on Monday.

REFUSED STANDING ROOM

William Green Complains of Poor Welcome by Y.M.C.A.

On Saturday night, a respectable appearing man, though dressed in the garb of his work, was a lodger in the police station.

When the young man, by name, William Green, of Montreal, came to the station, he was armed with a letter signed by Mr. Roger of the Y.M.C.A. asking the police to give him accommodation for the night.

Mr. Green who has been for the past 30 days working in the woods for the Turner Lumber Co., and whose money, between $40 and $49, is in Belleville in the hands of the company he has worked for, was very indignant over his treatment by the local Y.M.C.A. authorities. He claims that he went to the Y.M.C.A. here, explaining how he had not yet drawn his pay, only having a ticket as far as Peterboro, and mentioned the name of the Montreal secretary, whom he claimed as a friend.

He was told that their accommodation was all taken up, and then asked to be allowed to stay in over night if only standing room were given him. This he says would not have been denied by the Montreal Y.M.C.A. under similar circumstances.

This is a case, however, where there are two sides to the story to be heard before judgment be passed.

THE VITAL CENTER

No Man Stronger than his Stomach—Let Mi-o-na Strengthen Your Digestive System.

The stomach is your vital center.

No man is stronger than his stomach.

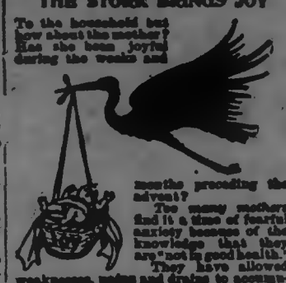
The average man measures his physical vitality by his heart, his kidneys, or his lungs. Yet it is the stomach that should be first considered when you cast up the account of health.

Every organ of the body is sustained and nourished by food which is converted into nutrition in the stomach and conveyed to every part of the system in the form of blood. For this reason, when the stomach is strengthened with Mi-o-na, and is able to convert the food into nourishment, all other organs soon become well. This explains many cures of heart, liver or kidney diseases in the cases where Mi-o-na is used. It is the most wonderful health restorer known.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na for a few days, and you will soon see a great improvement in your health.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialists which will be sent free. The E. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

THE STORK BRINGS JOY



To the household but how about the mother? Has she been joyful during the weeks and months preceding the advent?

Too many mothers find it a time of fearful anxiety because of the knowledge that they are "not in good health." They have allowed weaknesses, pains and drains to accumulate till the health is completely undermined and they are "more than discouraged," and all because they have been misadvised by well-meaning friends or maltreated by an ignorant doctor.

To all such here is the news that there is a remedy that will heal and not hurt. It was discovered forty years ago by Dr. Pierce while chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N.Y. He took Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Queen's root, Blue Cohosh root, Golden Seal root, and by extracting, combining and preserving, without the use of alcohol, the glycerin extracts of these natural curatives, gave to the world Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which has to its credit the enviable and unparalleled record of more than a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

"Only those who have given Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair and conscientious trial can appreciate what a boon it is to suffering women," writes Miss Virgie Summers, of P. O. Box 1, Toronto, Ont. "For two years I suffered intensely from female weakness and could not stand a burden so as to walk across the floor. My back ached so I could scarcely stand up. My feet felt as if they were asleep all the week, and utterly worn out. I had a terrible pain across the small of my back, and dragging pains through my lower abdomen. I could get no relief from medicine but continued to grow worse. I began to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and began to improve, and in four months time I was as well and strong as ever."

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

INTERRED AT CHARLESTON

Remains of Late Mr. T. J. Delaney Laid to Rest.

The many friends in the city of the late Mr. Thos. J. Delaney, who as noted in a former issue of The Times, died a week ago last Thursday in Florence, S.C., will be interested to learn that, by request of his sister, Mrs. R. W. Muncaster, who lives in Charleston, S.C., the remains were conveyed to that city.

In reference to Mr. Delaney's regrettable death, away from the scenes of his youth and society of his many friends here, Mrs. W. J. Morrow, has received further intelligence concerning the particulars of his decease.

Mr. Delaney was taken suddenly ill during the early morning hours at his boarding house. Rev. Father Wood and two physicians were summoned. On their arrival he was still conscious but passed away shortly after, heart trouble being the cause of his totally unexpected demise.

The funeral was largely attended, there being many beautiful floral offerings from friends of the deceased, Mrs. Muncaster and Mrs. Morrow, who resided some five years in Charleston. Mr. Delaney left Peterboro about fourteen years ago.

JUDGE LYNCH ADVISED

High County Constable Cochrane After Dastardly Foe.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says; There is great excitement at Silver Creek over a case of criminal assault, on a woman who is living by herself with a family of children. Two men went to the woman's house one night and ill-treated her and the children. In a most shameful manner. Magistrate Cobane has issued warrants, and Constable Cochrane, of Peterboro is after them. There is a strong disposition to lynch them if caught, for there are many who believe that is much the best way of checking such work and protecting the women whose they have necessarily to be left unprotected so often.

City Council In All-Night Session

When School Board Asks For the Site For Institute They Are Entitled to, Council Will Give Them a Conveyance of the Property.

The city aldermen are keeping early hours. They broke the record last night, by getting down to business sharp at eight o'clock in Committee of the Whole, meeting in regular session at nine o'clock, and adjourneying at a quarter to one this morning.

There were present Mayor Henry Best, and Aldermen Johnston, Tovey, Hicks, Mason, Elliott, Graham, Ball Duncan McIntyre, McWilliams and Adams.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Peterboro Fuel & Cartage Co. applied for permission to extend their railway siding across Reid street.—This was referred to the Board of Works.

The teamsters, petitioned the city to furnish them with a stand, where they may have their horses and carts remain while out at work, and waiting for calls. There are objections to them standing on the street they use at present, and they consequently asked for the erection of a suitable shelter from storms and cold. They also asked for telephone connection with the proposed shelter. Ald. Tovey thought an old car could be secured and fitted up for this purpose. This was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Com.

From Contractor James Bogue, re the notifying of the guarantee company by the council that he has not completed his contract in east Peterboro. Mr. Bogue asserted that the terms of his contract provides that he may keep on the work during the working season, which ends November 30th each year. Mr. Bogue will be heard before the Board of Works on this matter.

From Medical Health Officer J. Bingham, asking that the council make him a minimum salary of $400, dating from Jan. 1st last — Finance Committee.

From E. E. D. Hall, city solicitor, endorsing a letter from R. M. Dennistoun, asking for the Board of Education, requesting a conveyance from the city to the Board of the Collegiate Institute site—Received.

From D. O'Connell, enclosing statutory declaration, requesting the conveyance to be given to the Peterboro Shovel and Tool Company, and asking for this conveyance at earliest convenience — Manufacturers' Committee.

From John Carnegie, the city's arbitrator with J. B. Pearen for the county, enclosing their award. Fixing the city's total liabilities to the county of Peterboro, in payment in full of all claims against the city for administration of Justice and assessment of Ashburnham and Smith, at $684.20. Each corporation bears one-half of the cost of this arbitration, $119.47. The treasurer will be authorized to issue a cheque for the above amounts.

An application from J. J. Turner & Sons, for fixed assessment on their factory $6,000 and on stock $1,000, was referred to the Board of Works.

DIVERSION OF STREAMS.

In the report of the Committee of the Whole Council, Ald. Tovey objected to the diversion of Aylmer street and ward five streams being paid for by a general tax. Were such a policy adopted Park street residents who had paid for the diversion of their drain by a frontage tax, should be refunded what they had paid, and that work charged up on the general account. He moved that the clause in question be struck out. He was seconded by Ald. Mason.

The Mayor concurred in Ald. Tovey's views. He said to Ward five of the 4,000 feet to be diverted, but 400 ran through public property. This would mean improving 90 per cent. of private property, and he could not see why the general ratepayers should pay that cost. He claimed it a great injustice that Park street people, who paid frontage tax for draining their street should, assist by a general tax in draining private property in ward five.

Ald. Adams replied that they tried a year ago to get ward five's stream diverted under the Drainage Act, but legal enlightenment was secured, which showed that this work could not be done under the Drainage Act. Ald. Tovey's motion was lost, and nothing was made in the report except to provide for diverting Aylmer street drain either at Dalhousie avenue or Edinburgh street.

Ald Ball moved, seconded by Ald. McWilliams, that another clause be inserted in the city's bill before the Legislature, asking that the qualification for aldermen be the same as for freeholders. On motion of Ald. Hicks and Mason, this was referred to the committee of the Whole Council.

INSTITUTE SITE.

Ald. McWilliams submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Special Committee appointed in regard to the Armory and Collegiate Institute sites, beg leave to report and recommend that lots No 3 and 4 south of McDonnell street and west of George street, be given to the Board of Education for a site for the Collegiate Institute in pursuance of the agreement made between the 57th Regiment, the Board of Education, the Minister of Public Works and the Council as embodied in the report of the Finance Committee to the council on September 26th, 1904.

His Worship contended that nothing should be done hastily to antagonize the Government. The matter should be left open to see what the other parties will agree to.

Ald. McWilliams replied that this report practically was on the lines agreed to by all concerned, with the Government. The Board had no legal right to any other lots.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Mason, that when the School Board ask for the lots they are entitled to, that this council then give them a conveyance—Carried.

BYLAWS.

A bylaw to fix a charge of $25 for each connection for the use of sewers paid for by general tax, passed its several readings.

A bylaw to grant $300 to the Children's Aid Society passed its several readings.

A bylaw to authorize the construction of a sewer on Pearl avenue, and the making of an agreement for a temporary loan for the cost thereof, passed its several readings.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Ald. Tovey moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston, that Chief Roussel be given two months leave from duties, owing to sickness and his salary paid.—Carried.

The question of an acting chief and the appointing of an additional constable for two months were referred to the Police Commissioners.

ALD. JOHNSTON RESIGNS.

Ald. Johnston tendered his resignation as a member of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. He remarked that considering the amount of opposition he had met with, and the labor he had given in this department last year, more especially connected with the new fire hall and appliances, he thought he has been entitled to more consideration at the hands of the council when striking their committees this year. He considered public opinion is with him on this matter. He considered he had been dealt with unkindly and did not think any more unprincipled act had ever been committed in connection with these matters, when the council replaced him in the chairmanship of the committee he held last year.

Ald. Ball satisfactorily cleared his skirts of any share in Ald. Johnston's retirement from the chairmanship of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and Ald. Adams said he had not been aware of any change the council were going to make. He was as much surprised as Ald. Johnston. "I knew at the time the council had made a mistake, and was myself disappointed. But when the committees were reduced in number, two of the six old chairman had perforce to retire.

The upshot of this matter was that the council refused to accept Ald. Johnston's resignation.

Council then adjourned.

A PROSPEROUS COMPANY

Splendid Record During Past Year for Toronto Savings & Loan Co.

Amidst the many prosperous financial institutions of Canada, our citizens can regard with feelings of local pride, as well as gratification, in the success of a Canadian company, the Toronto Savings and Loan Company.

This strong company, which last year "came of age," having a record of twenty-one years of increasing and increasing business, has for its president a gentleman raised in, and possessing heavy interests in Peterboro, Hon. Senator Geo. A. Cox; the manager of the company, Mr. W. G. Morrow, is also a citizen and one of the rising young men of Peterboro; hence the local pride that must be awakened in this city by the encouraging reports presented at their 21st annual meeting of the shareholders, held at the head office of the company, 427 George street, on Friday, February 2nd.

The gross earnings of the company amounted to the goodly sum of $151,-558.19, which, after deducting the payment of interest on deposits and debentures, incidental expenses connected with monies borrowed or loaned, and all expenses of management, left a net profit of $97,907, an equivalent of nearly 16 per cent. on the company's paid-up capital.

In addition to this handsome net amount earned is to be added the sum of $24,692.60 brought forward from last year, making a total for distribution of $122,591.79. This latter sum was disposed of as follows, viz., an annual dividend of 6 per cent. paid quarterly, amounting to $90,000, $6,000 carried to reserve fund, and $22,591.79 carried to profit and loss account.

The assets of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. are of the most conservative and reassuring character, showing the huge sum of $3,586,196.99 in first-class investments, and among other items $12,699.54 cash in banks.

With so intelligent and progressive a record, combined with the careful and conservative nature of this company's system of business, the shareholders and directorate have every reason to congratulate themselves and to entertain feelings of the most profound confidence in the company's future.

Hon. Senator Cox was re-elected president. Messrs. W. G. Morrow and Richard Hall were elected vice-presidents. The directors appointed for the following year are Messrs. Peter Hamilton, H. J. LaFevre, H. C. Cox, D. W. Dumble, A. L. Davis and James Stevenson.

Under the control of such experienced financiers as the above named gentlemen, in view of the past history of the company, there is every reason for believing that next year will be even more prosperous for shareholders in the Toronto Savings and Loan Company.

GERMANY IS HOPEFUL

Now That Two Questions Are Disposed of at Algeciras Prospects For Settlement are Brighter.

Berlin Feb. 5.—Germany now takes a more hopeful view of the result of the conference at Algeciras on Moroccan reforms than she did a week ago.

Two questions, the smuggling of arms and taxation, having been disposed of without serious differences, the foreign office is inclined to believe that an agreement will be reached also with reference to the police administration, though this admittedly presents greater difficulties than the questions already settled.

INCREASING THE CUSTOMS.

Algeciras, Feb. 5.—The Moroccan conference held a short sitting today and agreed in principle to increase the customs duties of Morocco and to create a special fund out of the customs receipts for the improvement of the ports.

The proposals were adopted ad referendum, as some of the delegates were not instructed.

Many objections were raised to the proposed increase in the customs.

SEEK TO SEND ROGERS TO PRISON

May Try to Prove That Standard Oil Man Perjured Himself.

LAWSON SAYS HE IS GUILTY

Rogers Has Had Much Legal Trouble of Late But This Promises to Be Most Serious.

Boston, Mass., February 6 — Silent and non-committal, there is still something in the attitude of District Attorney Moran that leads those best acquainted with the man and his methods to believe that he intends to tackle Henry H. Rogers. The Suffolk county grand jury convenes next Monday and with the near approach of the date there has come a revival of the report that the grand jury will indict the Standard Oil magnate for perjury in connection with his testimony in the Bay State gas case.

When the case against Kidder, Peabody & Co. in the Bay State gas litigation was before the court in this city two years ago, Rogers and Thomas W. Lawson were witnesses. Each told a story that flatly contradicted the other on every essential point. Each was under oath.

The man of "frenzied finance" fame has been loudly voicing a desire ever since to have the courts determine which of the two witnesses was a liar and a perjurer. District Attorney Moran, who makes no concealment of his ambition to be known as the Folk of the Jerome of Boston, has been appealed to to take up the matter. As stated before, those best acquainted with the district attorney are of the opinion that he will lay the evidence before the grand jury which meets next week and ask that body to sift it to the bottom.

Mr. Rogers has more than once recently, been in difficulties with the law, but all his troubles will be small compared with those which will threaten if the grand jury shall bring in an indictment charging him with perjury. His trial on a criminal charge, in a Massachusetts court, would be the culmination of all the history of the past few years of the fight against the Standard Oil crowd.

BANK MANAGER'S DEATH

Body Found Along Railway--Frozen or Poisoned.

Kingston, Feb. 5.—Coroner Sands is investigating the case of Roderick MacKenzie, local manager of the Bank of Montreal, who was found frozen to death this morning, on the G. T. R. tracks about two and a half miles east of Kingston. He was about 60 years of age. It was ten below zero Saturday.

He was a great walker and was overcome while out last night. He came here from Cornwall.

Another Kingston despatch says that Mackenzie went out Saturday morning, it is said and took a drug which ended his life. He came here from Cornwall several years ago, and was a native of Lennoxville, Quebec.

McKee and McGrath Appointed Assessors

This Conclusion Arrived at After Considerable Beating About the Bush--The Cavan Swamp.

The Committee of the Whole Council met last night before the City Council convened in regular session. There were present, Mayor Henry Best, and Aldermen Johnston, Tovey, Hicks, Mason, Elliott, Graham, Ball, Duncan, McIntyre, McWilliams and Adams.

THE CAVAN SWAMP.

Reeve Neill and Councillor Shields Cavan appeared before the Committee of the Whole Council last night, and asked this city's moral support in urging upon the Legislature such measures as will result in draining the swamp in the townships of Cavan and Monaghan.

Mayor Neill explained that while the Government had appropriated $4,-000 in support of this scheme, a number of residents in Cavan are opposing the township's bill before the Private Bills Committee. In response to his Worship, Reeve Neill replied that although the actual land owners have a majority in favor of the bill, the last assessment, under the new municipal act, gives an opposing majority.

Councillor Shields pointed out that draining this swamp and subsequently creating a new and substantial road would bring Cavan township four concessions nearer to Peterboro than to Lindsay, which would entail considerable benefit to this city.

His Worship here incidentally remarked that Peterboro is about to absorb Lindsay.

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, That the Council of the City of Peterboro hereby expresses its hearty approval of the scheme for the draining of the swamp in the townships of Cavan and Monaghan, as being highly in the interests of this city and urges upon the Legislature the passing of such legislation as may be necessary to carry out the proposed scheme.—Carried unanimously

ASSESSORS APPOINTED.

Applications for the position of city assessors were received from Messrs. Thos. McKee, John Kincaid, Thos. McGrath, and Wm. Aldridge, and the committee decided to deal with them here so as to avoid taking up the time of the council in regular session.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That John Kincaid and Thos. McGrath be appointed assessors.

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Tovey, by amendment, — That Thos. McKee be appointed.

Ald. McWilliams could not purbandet to add a second name to his motion.

Ald Elliott moved in amendment to the amendment, seconded by Ald Hicks,—That this four applicants be balloted for, and the two highest receive the appointment.

The motions were withdrawn, and Ald. Elliott's amendment voted on as a motion, resulting in a tie.

Ald. Johnston thought the names should be deposited and voted on, as it had already been decided that three assessors were to be appointed he did not approve of beating around the bush.

In deference to Ald. Mason, His Worship again put the motion to ballot for the assessors, when it carried.

The ballot resulted in nine votes being cast for Kincaid, eight for McKee, and McGrath seven. This gave the appointments to Messrs. John Kincaid and Thos. McKee, so far as the Committee of the Whole were concerned.

The worthy aldermen, however, seemed dazed by the result and far from satisfied. Like last year the secret ballot have tried on the same question, and apparently again found wanting. This was undoubtedly manifested when the bylaw subsequently came up in the council, and no one could be found to recommend that the action of the committee be endorsed, and Messrs. McKee and Kincaid receive the appointment in the usual way.—Lost on a vote of 4—6.

On the contrary, Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks, that the bylaw be filled in with the names of Thos. R McGrath and John Kincaid.

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Graham, that the name of Thos. McKee be added.—Subsequently withdrawn.

Ald. McWilliams remarked that if the council were not satisfied with the result of their ballot in Committee of the Whole, they should each vote openly in council for two of the applicants.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan that Kincaid and McKee receive the appointment.—Lost on a vote of 3—7.

Ald. Mason moved, seconded by Ald. McWilliams,—That McKee and McGrath be appointed.—Lost on a vote of 3—4.

These combinations being all rejected, Ald Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Ball, that every name be taken separately.—Carried.

The aldermen started into the struggle on these lines, but after a couple of names had been moved, gave it up in despair. Finally the exception Ald. McWilliams' plan for each alderman to name his choice openly. The result was;

The Mayor—McKee and McGrath.
Ald. McIntyre—McKee and McGrath.
Ald. Adams—McGrath and Kincaid.
Ald. McWilliams—McKee and McGrath.
Ald. Hicks—McGrath and Kincaid.
Ald. Tovey—McKee and McGrath.
Ald. Johnston—McKee and Kincaid.

This gave nine votes each for McKee and McGrath and six for Kincaid. The names of McKee and McGrath were consequently written in the bylaw, and they are assessors for 1906.

His Worship contended that these two men had gone to considerable trouble last year in familiarizing themselves with the new assessment act, had done their work well, and consequently were entitled to the position this year. He was strongly supported by Ald. Tovey.

PETERBORO WINS.

Last night the local hockey team journeyed to Uxbridge where they added another victory to their list, defeating the team of that town by a score of 7—4, before a large crowd of spectators. The ice was in good condition, and the Uxbridge citizens had the pleasure of seeing one of the best games of hockey seen there for years. A small number of supporters accompanied the boys and cheered them on to victory. This is the second win in the semi-finals for the locals. The line-up for the Peterboro team last night was as follows;

Goal—Wasson.
Point—Glover.
Cover-point—Moore.
Rover—Whitcroft.
Centre—Morgan.

Where Is That Cup?

Can the formulator of Lindsay's opinions, the widely read "Post," throw any light on what became of that cup that Peterboro won last Friday. Our curlers went to Lindsay and played the Scugogvillians, with disastrous result to the ambitious wielders of the broom and besom of that town. It seems that Lindsay curlers are "long" on ambition to play the Winnipeg bonspiel, but mighty "short" on production of a cup fairly won, when the other fellows won it. Peterboro's record in Lindsay was a resurrection of Caesar's "veni, vidi, vici," but they did not get the spoils of victory.

When Peterboro played Orillia for the cup in that town, the Orillia curlers had the cup in evidence right in the rink, so that had Peterboro won, there was their cup to carry away on the shield of victory. When Peterboro played Lindsay the cup was not in the rink, at least not in sight when the Peterboro men won it. When the game was over the Lindsay players, like snow before a July sun, melted away, leaving their visitors "long" on thirst (except such as could be quenched with Scugog water), and "short" on the cup they had won. No one knew where that cup was (?) Can the Post throw any light on this peculiar state of affairs? If the cup has been pawned, send us the tickets and we will get it out of hock. We trust that the two rinks of Lindsay curlers will meet with every success in the Winnipeg bonspiel.

But all joking apart, "Where is that cup?"

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Rev. Canon Davidson Read Valuable Paper at Meeting.

Yesterday morning the following members of the Peterboro Ministerial Association met in the Y.M.C.A. Parlors, viz., Revs. Canon Davidson, F. J. Scott, Dr. Crothers, W. J. Follitt, J. G. Lewis and Dr. Torrance. Evangelist Kennedy was welcomed as a visitor.

Rev. Canon Davidson read a paper on "Ritual and Religion" which proved most interesting and instructive. He strongly emphasized the point that Ritual, however necessary and complete, is only serving its purpose when subsidiary to religion. Guarding the danger of relying on form, it may greatly promote the spiritual.

1st week, Rev. J. G. Lewis.
2nd week, Rev. Canon Davidson.
3rd week, Rev. A. H. Brace.
4th week, Rev. Dr. Crothers.

Evangelist Kennedy addressed the Association in reference to union evangelistic services.

Board of Education Demand Settlement

Last Night the Board Took Exception to the Manner in Which the City Council is Flirting With the Military in Regard to Collegiate Institute Lots.

Last night a regular meeting of the Board of Education was held in the secretary's office. Those present were; Messrs. Ferguson in the chair, Hill, Hayes, Pringle, Dr. Burnham, Ackerman, Dumble, Morrison, and Inspector Walker.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications were received from the following, viz.;

Miss Lillian H. Rush, tendering her resignation as first assistant teacher in South Central Kindergarten, and asking an immediate release, having obtained a better position in Ottawa.

Another letter from Miss G. Florence Bell was read, asking for Miss Rush's position.

Another from Mr. C. Fessenden saying he had been advised by the Education Dept., Toronto, that the Nicholls prize winners for 1905 were as follows;

Junior Matriculation, $15 — Max Fife.

Junior Teachers' Exams., $15—Jean Campbell.

Senio Exam., $50—H. Theobald.

The resignation of Miss Rush was accepted, and the applicant for her position was appointed, she having the necessary qualifications.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, as notice of motion had been given last meeting, that Mr. R. M. Dennistoun's services as legal adviser of the Board be retained at the sum of $100 per annum, payable half yearly.—Carried.

Signed by L. M. Hayes, chairman.—Carried

Attention was drawn in a report presented by Inspector Walker, as to the badly crowded state of the south and west ward schools, in which Mr. Walker noted that the capacity of these schools was taxed beyond possibility of efficient service.

Dr. Morrison thought that it was now up to the Board to do something to go ahead with the Collegiate Institute building. In view of the report of the congested state of schools made by Inspector Walker as noted above.

Dr. Morrison moved, seconded by Mr. Pringle, That a committee consisting of Messrs. Crane, Hayes, Hill, Dumble and Morrison be appointed a special committee to get plans, specifications and estimates for the erection of a Collegiate Institute, and that a further committee consisting of Messrs. Pringle, Ackerman, Burnham, Fair and Hill be appointed to consider the whole question of public school accommodation with power to get options on lots, and that these committees be requested to report at an adjourned meeting to be held on Feb. 19th, 1906.

Mr. Dumble noted that the Spartan school would be vacated in a few weeks, and this would give five more good school rooms.

Mr. Hill thought it would be perhaps advisable to raise the south central school one storey more in height, thus giving five more rooms. We have now six schools in the city for 26 teachers. By eliminating some of the six janitors, or part of the heating, by centralization, a great amount of expense could be saved. If we had only two or three schools in a central location, still further expense could be saved. A roof will have to be put on the South Central school, so why not, at a little more expense add another story. The Board by doing this, and making a Bastion three-storey building, the Board could save perhaps $20,000.

Mr. Pringle agreed with Dr. Morrison. The South Central is greatly overcrowded.

Mr. Morrison's motion was carried.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Hill, That the council of the city of Peterboro, be requested to carry out the arrangement made by the representatives of this Board, the council and the local military authorities at Ottawa, and convey to the Board of Education, lots 3, 4 and 5, and 6, south of McDonnell street and west of George street, as they have already conveyed to the Government the corresponding lots on Murray street.

The old vexed question of the Collegiate Institute grounds was once more threshed out. Mr. Dumble saying that when the citizens voted on this question, there was a wide spread opinion that the Board of Education was to divide the land with the militia. It now seems as though the city corporation were going to hold to the lots, to handover practically as they desire. "Is it possible," Mr. Dumble asked, "that you paid $10,000 without knowing what you paid it for? This," he continued, "seems to me a very loose way of doing business. Surely you must have some record of your transactions!"

Mr. Hill then explained the matter according to his interpretation, regarding the deal with the military, and the understanding as to the division of the lots for drilling and school play grounds. He considered the City Council were greatly to blame. On 1st Dec. the Board made a demand on the council; this latter seems to act for the militia rather than for the Board of Education.

Mr. Dumble explained that the Minister of Militia absolutely refused to adopt the conjoint use of land idea, winding up with the words, "You left the way pretty open!" Mr. Hill said the council should "smash" the lots to the Board absolutely and then the Board could deal direct with the Government.

All the old correspondence, respecting the sites, dating way back to 1904, was then read by the secretary. The communication of Oct. 28th, 1904, a result of the Ottawa negotiations, somewhat answered the questions asked by Mr. Dumble, and showed Mr. Hill's explanations as mainly correct.

Mr. Dumble's motion then carried.

Mr. Dumble then offered a suggestion that was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted, viz., that the giving of the prizes, as above mentioned, be made a public function to encourage the pupils.

The meeting then adjourned.

Scotland's Birth Rate.

Glasgow, February 6.—The annual report on the births, deaths and marriages in Scotland during the year 1905 just published, shows that the birth rate per 1,000 of the estimated population was 28.39, being the smallest birth rate recorded since the adoption of civil registration in Scotland.

Smallpox in Manitoba.

Carman, Man., February 6.—Rev. Mr. Hall, Baptist minister here, has been attached by smallpox and the case is serious. Rev. Mr. Morris, of Pilot Mound, who was his guest, is in quarantine also, so there will be two patients vacant.

LENTEN DIET

A Food More Powerful Than Meat.

A devout Catholic lady, of Washington, anxious to comply with the requirements of the Church as to diet during Lent and not suffer from insufficient food, says;

"As Lent approached last year, I found myself in such a run-down condition that I seriously hesitated upon the advisability of abstaining from flesh food, attending early services, etc., during the penitential season.

"I was very nervous and suffering from a severe mental shock, and felt that I needed all the strengthening properties that my usual large meat breakfasts and hot Sunday dinner gives me. And yet I was anxious to keep an exemplary Lent, not only in a spiritual sense, but by also practising self-denial.

"After thinking it over I concluded to try Grape-Nuts food in place of meat, determined, however, that at the first symptom of increased weakness or distress I would drop it and go back to my old diet. I began on Ash Wednesday to use Grape-Nuts instead of my pre-Lenten meat breakfasts. I ate the food dry, followed by a cup of cream or glass of milk. For luncheon I again took Grape-Nuts, but this time in the form of a pudding, boiled or baked. My dinner was of the usual character.

"To my great joy, I found I had solved the problem in three weeks I realized that I was not only holding my own, but gaining in the power of enduring fatigue and worry, and at the close of Lent I had gained 10 pounds in weight, had a clearer eye and color, a better appetite and digestion than for many years before.

"My views, both physical and mental, have been permanently affected. I feel this experience should benefit any doubter who longer wavers. Of course I still take a determinative view and need vigorous brain work, but if they are taken suitably nourishing food they can sustain their full vigor."

The Scourge of Consumption

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late

No child, man or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotlak, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tired-ness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBORO, FEBRUARY 6 1906

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.

A dispatch from Tokio makes the statement: "An official report submitted to the Diet shows that the actual outlay for the war, from the beginning of hostilities to their end, in September, was, for the army, $495,000,000, and for the navy, $90,000,000." A total of only $585,000,000 for all military operations! That statement, it seems to us, must be included in the classification "important if true." The war opened early in February of 1904, and the last great sea fight did not take place until May 27, 1905. Naval operations alone extended over a period of about fifteen months.

During the war Japan lost twelve warships, with a total displacement of 44,675 tons. She lost seventeen merchant vessels used by the navy in the attempts to block Port Arthur. She was carrying on during the period of actual hostilities the construction of two 16,500-ton battleships in England, one 15,000-ton battleship and three first class armored cruisers of 14,000 tons displacement at Japanese yards and a large variety of torpedo boats and destroyers. Then think [illegible] it must have cost to keep her ships at a high state of efficiency, with constant repairs and renewals in hulls, engines and guns. All that on a cost basis of $5,000,000 a month is incomprehensible.

The figures for the land campaigns also appear to be very much under what one could reasonably expect would be the cost of carrying on military campaigns such as were waged to drive the Russians out of Southern Manchuria and to take from them the stronghold of Port Arthur. If Japan was able to fight Russia on land and sea for fifteen months at a total expenditure of only a little over $600,000,000, the Japanese authorities have learned how to conduct war economically as well as successfully.

NIAGARA FRUIT GROWERS AND EXPERIMENTAL FARM

St. Catharines, Feb. 4.—The meeting of the executive committee of Niagara Peninsula United Fruit-Growers' Association, held here yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of selecting a site for the proposed experimental fruit farm, did not amount to a great deal, inasmuch as the committee, after considering the matter for some three hours, adjourned without settling on a site.

Some of the members were in favor of postponing the matter until such time as the Minister of Agriculture expressed himself, but the majority supported a resolution recommending that the farm should be located at some point in the midst of the fruit-growing area of the Niagara district, where all the more tender fruit can be grown to the best satisfaction, and at a point where suitable soil can be obtained, and where access can be had to it by [illegible] and where good hotel and proper educational institutions are in existence.

Thomas Merriman and A. U. Pettit were appointed a committee to go to Ottawa to press the views of the association, as expressed by resolution at the last regular meeting before the tariff commissioners.

President Merriman, Secretary Fisher and Messrs. Tweedie, A. H. Pettit, W. H. Hunting, A. Pay, W. O. Burgess was appointed a committee to arrange a series of meetings of instruction to be held throughout the district during March.

The Cruel Plant.

A Canadian climber, the Physianthus albens, has received the name of "cruel plant" from its ill treatment of butterflies. It flowers in the month of August, and the butterflies, attracted by the perfume, hover around it in large numbers and push their trunks into the corollas to sip the honey. A pair of sensitive vegetable pinchers in the heart of the flower grips the delicate proboscis, and in spite of struggles to get free the butterfly hangs suspended until it dies. Apparently the plant has nothing to gain by the death of the insect, as it is not carnivorous, like the Venus fly trap. In fact, if the butterfly were allowed to come and go it would tend to foster the species by assisting cross fertilization. It appears, however, that the "cruel plant" came originally from Brazil, where the butterflies are much stronger and extricate their suckers from the trap. We may add that another Canadian plant, the Cuicus discolor, is charged with cruelty. The flower has a gland which secretes a viscous liquid capable of luring insects which are fond of it. Moreover, they seem to be stupefied and poisoned by it, and no reason can as yet be assigned for the deadly consequence.

A Colossal Harp.

The largest harp ever made, so far as is known, was that invented and constructed by M. Veritan, provost of Burkli, near Basel. It was known as the gigantic meteorological Aeolian harp. It was 230 feet in length and was erected in the garden of its inventor in 1787. This harp consisted of fifteen iron wires, 230 feet in length, stretched between two poles. The wires were from two to three inches apart, the largest being one-sixth of an inch in thickness and the smallest one-twelfth of an inch. They were placed in the direction of north and south and inclined in such a manner as to form an angle of from twenty to thirty degrees with the horizon, being stretched by means of rollers properly disposed for the purpose. Whenever the weather changed the wires sounded with such loudness that it was impossible to go on with a concert in the house. The sound sometimes represented the blowing noise of water in rapid ebullition, sometimes that of a harmonium and sometimes that of distant chimes or an organ.

The First Hats.

Discoursing on the subject of hats an antiquary expressed the opinion that the hat was first used quite as much for decoration as for protection. The ancestor of all hats he considers to have been the fillet, or band, bound the hair worn by the ancient Greeks, among others. Probably the first hint gained by men regarding head ornaments was through observing the crests, plumes and antlers of various birds and beasts. The eastern races, with their fondness for ceremony and display, afford the most notable instances of the use of hats as signs of rank and authority. Thus in Buddhist countries the gods are represented as wearing elaborate forms of headgear. In Korea the fashion attains its height, no fewer than fifty kinds of hats being worn by the natives as indications of their social position.

The Horse's Head.

In the present elaborate form the head of a horse is the most perfect instrument of support which has been devised in the animal kingdom to uphold a large and swiftly moving animal at its passage over the ground. The original toe nail and the neighboring soft parts connected with it have been modified into a structure which in an extraordinary manner combines solidity with elasticity, so that it may strike violent blows upon the hard surface of the earth without harm. The result is that the horse can carry a greater weight at a swifter speed than any other animal approaching it in size.

Toronto Savings & Loan Company

Proceedings of the Twenty-first Annual General Meeting of Shareholders.

The twenty-first annual general meeting of the share-holders of the Toronto Savings and Loan Company was held at the head offices of the company, No. 417 George street, Peterboro, on Friday, the 2nd of February, 1906, at two o'clock p. m.

The President, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, having taken the chair, the Manager, Mr. W. G. Morrow, was requested to act as Secretary to the meeting.

After reading the notice convening the meeting, the secretary read the twenty-first annual report and the accompanying financial statement.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The directors have pleasure in submitting to the shareholders their twenty-first annual report for the year ending December 31st, 1905, as follows:

The gross earnings for the year amounted to $171,538.19, and after the payment of interest on deposits and debentures, the expenses in connection with money borrowed and loaned, as well as all expenses of management, there remain net earnings amounting to $97,393.89, or equivalent to about 9.39 per cent. on the company's paid-up capital. To these earnings has been added $24,627.89, the amount carried forward from last year, thus making a total sum for distribution of $122,-521.78. This amount has been disposed of in the following manner:

(a) By payment of four quarterly dividends of 11-2 per cent. each, equal to 6 per cent. for the year, and amounting to	$ 60,000 00
(b) By addition to the Reserve Fund	40,000 00
(c) By balance carried forward to Profit and Loss Account	22,521 78
	$122,521 78

The above addition to the reserve fund increases same to $650,000.00, making it now 65 per cent. of the present paid-up capital of $1,000,000.00.

The increase in deposits and debentures amounts to $186,747.18, and in assets to $250,577.83, the latter now amounting to $2,845,982.67.

All payments maturing during the year on the company's investments have been satisfactorily met, and the rentals from the property owned by the company have also been promptly paid.

The books, accounts and securities of the company have as usual been carefully examined by the auditors and their certificate is attached to the financial statement.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

it to believe it, I saw your face before me imploring me to repent. There and then I determined to throw off my disguise, to let him know who I was, and what I intended to do to him; after that I would have bidden him go, and have left him to his own conscience. But, to my horror, when I got down from my box—for I was driving him in a cab—I found that in some devilish fashion my work had been anticipated for me—the man was dead, killed by the same fatal agency that had been given to me to do the deed. Try for one moment to imagine my position. In one instant I stood in that quiet London street, stamped with the brand of cain. Never again could I be like my fellow men. Henceforth I must know myself for what I was—a murderer, whose proper end should be the gallows. In an agony of terror I got rid of the body—left it in the street in fact—and fled for my very life. While the town was still abed and asleep I tramped away into the country, and at a suburban station caught the earliest train to Southampton. On arrival there I booked my passage in the Fiji Princess for South Africa, and went on board. The rest you know. Now, Agnes, that you have heard my wretched story, you can see for yourself why I was so desirous of getting out of civilisation as quickly as possible. You can judge for yourself whether I was right or wrong in refusing to allow you to say you loved me. God knows you cannot judge me more harshly than I judge myself.

She looked up at me with terror-stricken eyes.

"But you did not mean to kill the man," she cried. "You repented—you said so just now yourself.

"If it had not been for me the man would not have died," I answered. "No, no! Agnes, you cannot make me out innocent of his death, however hard you try."

A look of fresh life darted into her face. It was as if she had been struck by a brilliant idea that might mean my salvation.

"But how do you know that you killed the man?" she asked. "Are you quite certain that he was dead when you looked at him?"

"Quite certain," I answered. "I examined him most carefully. Besides, I have made enquiries since and elicited the fact that he has never been seen or heard of since that awful night There have been advertisements in the papers offering rewards for any information concerning him."

She did not reply to this, only sat and rocked herself to and fro, her face once more covered in her hands. I knelt beside her, but did not dare, for very shame, to attempt to comfort her.

"Agnes," I said, "speak to me. If it only be to say how much you loathe me. Your silence cuts me to the heart. Speak to me, tell me my fate, advise me as to what I shall do. I swear by God that whatever you tell me, that I will do without questioning or comment."

Still she did not answer. When I say this I rose to my feet, and in my agony must have turned a little from her. This action evidently decided her, for she sprang up from the boulder on which she had hitherto been sitting, and, with a choking cry, fell into my arms and sobbed upon my shoulder.

"Gilbert," she moaned, 'come what may, I believe in you. Nothing shall ever convince me that you would have killed the man who so cruelly wronged you. You hated him; you longed to be revenged on him; but you never would have murdered him when it came to the point."

In answer I drew her closer to me. "Agnes, my good angel," I said; what can I say to you for the comfort you give me? You have put fresh life into me. If only you believe in me, what do I care for the world? Heaven knows I did not mean to kill the man—but still the fact remains that he is dead, and through my agency. Though morally I am innocent, the law would certainly hold me guilty."

"You do not mean to say that the police will take you?" she cried, starting away from me with a gesture of horror.

"If I am suspected, there can be no doubt that they will do so. How it happens that I have not been arrested ere this I cannot imagine."

"But, Gilbert, you must not let them find you. You must go away—you must hide yourself."

"It would be no use, they would find me sooner or later, wherever I went."

"Oh, what can you do then? Come what may I shall not let you be taken. Oh God, I pray—not hear that."

She glanced wildly round, as if she fancied the minions of the law might already be on my track. I endeavored to soothe her, but in vain. She was thoroughly frightened, and nothing I could say or do would convince her that I was not in immediate danger. At last, to try and bring her to a reasonable frame of mind, I adopted other tactics.

"But, Agnes, we are missing one point that is of vital importance," I said. "Knowing what I am, remember, everything must be over between us."

"No, no!" she cried, with a sudden change of front. "On the other hand, you have shown me that there is more reason than ever that I should love you. If you are in danger, this is the time for me to prove what my affection is worth. Do you value my love so lightly that you deem it only fit for fair weather? When the world is against you, you can see who are your friends."

"God bless you, darling," I said, kissing her sweet upturned face. "You know that there is no one in this world so dumb to me as you; therefore that very reason I cannot consent to link your fate with such a terrible one as mine."

"Gilbert," she said, "if you repulse me now you will make me miserable for life. Oh, why must I plead so hard with you?" Cannot you see that I am in earnest when I say I wish to share your danger with you?"

I was silent for a few moments, in what way could I make her see how base a thing it would be on my part to pull her down into the maelstrom of misery that might any day swallow me to my doom? At last an idea occurred to me.

"Agnes," I said, "will you agree to a compromise? Will you promise me to take a year to think it over? If at the end of that time I am at liberty I will go to your father, tell him my story as I have to-day told it to you, and, if he will still have anything to do with me, ask him for your hand. By that time I shall probably know my fate, you will be able to see things more clearly, and I shall not feel that I have taken advantage of your love and sympathy."

"But I want to be with you and to help you now."

"Believe me, you can help me best by agreeing to my proposal. Will you make me happy by consenting to what I wish?"

"If it will please you I will do so," she said, softly.

"God bless you, dear," I answered. And thus the matter was concluded.

CHAPTER XII.

Nearly a week had elapsed since I had made my confession to Agnes at the Falls, and in three days it was Mr. Maybourne's intention to set out on his return journey to the South. During the whole of that period not one word had been said by Miss Maybourne regarding my story. But if she did not refer to it in speech it was easy to see that the subject was never absent from her mind. On two occasions I heard her father question her as to the reason of her quietness, and I saw that each time she found it a more difficult task to invent a satisfactory reply. What this meant to me you will readily understand. I could not sleep at night for thinking of it, and not once but a thousand times I bitterly regretted having burdened her mind with my unhappy secret.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1500 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch tale seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mine has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mine has averaged about $975 a ton, or about $1520 for every foot of sinking, the mine being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $400 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1500 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company, Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (excepting 8 and 26), not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of two cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. Once $500 has been expended or paid, the holder may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 570 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winze and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization $60,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 305,000 shares. Show us something better.

HERE IS A CURE FOR

Sleeplessness

Weak, Listless, Sleepless Men and Women Cured Every Day by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The physical suffering and mental anguish that victims of sleeplessness endure is indeed a sad story. But in Dr. Hamilton's Pills there is swift relief from this awful condition. Thousands have proved the merit of this grand medicine, among them Mrs. G. T. Lyons, one of the best known residents of Geneva, who writes: "My health ran down and I was unable to sleep. I had headache and pains in different parts of my body. In the morning I was weary and exhausted—no rest or comfort came from the snatches of sleep I got.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills braced me at once. After the first night I got refreshing sleep, that extreme weariness left me and I recovered very fast.

"No medicine I ever used gave such telling results as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills."

Don't let sleeplessness drive you crazy. Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and get well. You will increase in flesh, your appetite will be vigorous, force and energy will be instilled into your nervous system.

By nourishing and purifying the blood and by stimulating the action of the kidneys, liver and stomach, Dr. Hamilton's Pills accomplish wonders. Try a 25c. box, or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Mrs. J. R. Stratton's "At Home"

Yesterday afternoon, Strathormonde, the beautiful home of Mrs. (Hon.) J. R. Stratton, was comfortably filled with a large number of the young ladies of the elite of Peterboro. Mrs Stratton, assisted by Mrs. Ormond, received her guests in the beautifully floral-decorated drawing rooms. Refreshments, supplied by Mr. H Long, were served in the dining room. Music was supplied by several of the talented young ladies among the guests, and a most enjoyable time was spent by all.

An Ex-Millbrook Lady 106 Years Old

Mrs. Henry Argue, formerly of Millbrook, but now of Elgin, Man., on August 15th next, will have passed the 106th mile-post of her life's history. It is perhaps superfluous to add that this lady was born in the Emerald Isle, where longevity is characteristic of the inhabitants. Those who know Mrs. Argue in this city, claim that the records in that part of Ireland, where she was born, entailed her being 106 years old now. She moved to Manitoba about 25 years ago.

Colonization Roads' Grants.

The District Superintendent of Colonization Roads, accompanied by the sagacious member for West Peterboro in the Ontario House, Mr. T. H. Bradburn, has left on a trip to the north, for the purpose of holding a series of conferences with representatives of the rural districts at various points in the riding in relation to the allotment and expenditure of Government colonization road grants for 1906.

This is different to ways that moneys on bygone lines, when grants and allotment plunders were synonymous.

A SAD JOURNEY

Mrs. A. W. Paterson Arrived too Late in Cornwall to See Her Brother Alive.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. W Paterson, Sherbrooke street, will be grieved to hear of their sad loss, by the death Sunday evening, of Mrs. Paterson's brother, Mr. J. M. Paterson at the town of Cornwall.

A particularly sad incident of this great blow to Mr. and Mrs. Paterson, is that yesterday, Mrs. Paterson, cit by the early train for Cornwall, hoping to arrive there in time to see her brother alive. She did not get to Cornwall until yesterday evening, and, as she was on her way, Mr. Paterson of this city, received a telegram conveying the sad intelligence that Mr. Paterson, his brother-in-law has passed away the preceding evening. The funeral arrangements are not as yet known here.

The deceased has frequently visited Peterboro. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Paterson in their sad affliction.

A MUSICAL TREAT

Sacred Concert By St. Paul's Church Choir.

The sacred concert given last night in St. Paul's by the splendid choir of that church, under the leadership of Mr. John Crane, was an unqualified success. The church was well filled with the music-loving citizens of the city and district.

The programme was one of special merit, every number being excellently rendered. The singing of Miss Helen Davies, Peterboro's charming and talented young vocalist, was never better. Mr. Geo. McCulloch Ross, tenor, of Toronto, also created a good impression, and added much to the enjoyment of the large audience.

Mr. Crane and the members of the choir are to be congratulated over the success of the entertainment.

MRS. BURKE'S FUNERAL

Remains of Late Mrs. Patrick Burke, to Be Interred To-day.

The friends of the late Mrs. Patrick Burke, who passed away on Saturday afternoon at her home, 654 George street, will be held this morning at nine o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the R.C. cemetery for interment.

Mrs. Burke came here with her husband from the township of Chandos 13 years ago. Besides a husband, one son, William, aged seven years, with five brothers and two sisters she has to mourn her loss. The brothers are, Peter Goudara, of Riverdale, Wash., Edward, Frank, Leslie and James Goudara, Eyre in Chandos. The sisters are Miss L. Goudara of Toronto, and Miss Kate Goudara of Chandos.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Board of Education met last night. For particulars see 1st page.

—Diamond Lodge, L.O.L., No. 80, held their regular meeting last night.

—The Ladies' Aid of Charlotte street church will meet this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

—The City Council held a regular meeting yesterday evening. Considerable business was transacted.

—And now the small boy is undecided whether to spend those eleven cents in candy or comic valentines.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of George street church will hold a meeting this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

—At the regular fortnightly meeting of the T.A.S. last night, an address on China, illustrated with stereopticon views, was given by Mr. R. M. Roy.

—Mr. B. M. Dennistoun gave a number of readings from "Uncle Remus" by Joel Chandler Harris, before the regular meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. John's church yesterday evening.

—Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, B.D., will deliver his amusing lecture, "The Evolution of a Boy," under the auspices of the Junior Auxiliary of St. Thomas' church, on Tuesday, Feb. 13.—Millbrook Mirror.

—A packed house greeted Evangelist H. D. Kennedy at Charlotte street Methodist church Sunday night. His address was listened to with keen attention and was most inspiring in tone.

—The County Orange Lodge of West Peterboro, meets in annual session this evening in the Orange Hall, Simcoe street, and Royal Black Preceptery, No. 281, will hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening.

—Peterboro's ways of approach vary as between the Arctic and Antartic Circles. In Ottonabee wheels are necessary whilst towards Lakefield and Young's Point, runners are "de regle." The best and safest plan is to take a toboggan abroad of your automobile.

—The Welland Canal is to be deepened from its present 14 feet to from 23 to 25 feet. Hydraulic locks 500 feet long are also to be added. What effect will this have on the T.V.C. Let the Government get the Trent Valley Canal finished, and Peterboro will take its chances!

—The local dealers in the substance that during summer months makes that roost and those cold chickens preserve their integrity for a longer period, and which makes a sherry cobbler so divine a beverage in the dog days, agree in saying, that they are all busy and having an fat time.

—Yesterday was tea drinking day at Messrs. White & Gillespie's George street grocery store. This enterprising firm having secured the agency for the celebrated "Mahgravia" tea, yesterday, aided by an expert in the art of tea brewing, served samples of the "Mahgravia" to all customers.

TOUR OF INSPECTION

County Council to Take Four Day's Tour re House of Refuge.

The County Council are determined now that it has been decided to erect a House of Refuge to only get the best and most up-to-date premises and equipments.

Yesterday County Warden Johnston, of Ottonabee, was in the city completing arrangements for the whole council to take a tour days' tour of inspection of the various houses of refuge in several towns and cities of Ontario.

The council will probably visit Lindsay, Guelph, Galt, Stratford, Woodstock, St. Thomas, London, and probably once or two other towns. They will leave this morning and return either Friday night or Saturday morning. The whole council will be joined by County Architect John Lauder and County Solicitor E. A. Peak.

The proposed route is: Peterboro to Lindsay, thence to Guelph via Toronto; from Guelph to Brantford, where they will take the electric road to Galt, (or from Guelph to Galt direct), from Galt to Woodstock, thence to St. Thomas, and from St. Thomas to London and Stratford, and back to Toronto Friday night, arriving in Peterboro again either the same night or Saturday morning.

The members of the council met at six o'clock last night, and finally decided upon what towns and route they will take.

On Saturday, after they have returned, another meeting will be held in the council chamber for the purpose of choosing officers of optional sites for the new House of refuge.

Recovers From Her Terrible Fright.

The young woman who received such a scare on Saturday night, when her male companion attempted to criminally assault her near Driscoll Terrace, and who was saved by vigorous screaming, which attracted the attention of Mr. Ed. Courtney, who came to her rescue, had yesterday somewhat recovered from the nervous nervous shock she sustained. The Times by special request of her employer withheld details in yesterday's issue. At the same time the sleuth-hound who attempted this villainous outrage should be arrested, and put for several years where the dogs will not bite him. This young woman, whilst as stated above, has somewhat recovered from the results of her fright, her nervous system is badly shaken up.

WARD OFF DISEASE

By fortifying your system with a reliable blood medicine. An alcoholic stimulant would do more harm than good and the reaction from it would leave you nearer complete prostration than ever before.

With stomach and blood in good order you can fight the battle of life successfully against all odds. GOLDEN SEAL ROOT (Hydrastis), is a famous remedy for dyspepsia, and QUEEN'S ROOT (Stillingia), has a direct action in promoting the renewal of the blood. Both of these are used in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in such a way, by skillful extraction, combination and solution without alcohol, that their best effects are secured.

Many years of actual practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he proved, time and again, both in time and memory, by perfect well known curative processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for continuous use as tonic and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of the ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle hereafter to be sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an "unknown remedy."

The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS, first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Small, but never squeezed. Little pill, Little dose, but give great results in a curative way in all derangements of Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

"Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Only two cases occupied the attention of his Worship at yesterday morning's police court.

A young man well known about town, who had tarried too long with the seductive red-eye on Saturday, and who in the seventh round was knocked out by the enemy, and thus became disorderly, was assessed the modest sum of two simoleons for his little indiscretion. The $2 was forthcoming.

The carter, John Dunsford, who was up before the court last week, charged with doing a carting business, although he had not attended to the necessary formality of taking out a license, and whose case was enlarged to enable him to take out the prescribed license, appeared before the rostrum, and on production of proof of having taken out his license, was allowed to go on payment of 50c. charges for summons and other incidentals.

FALL CATARRH

Disease Prevalent Now, But Can be Quickly Cured with Hyomei

A great many people suffer more with catarrh during the fall months than at any other season of the year, the changes in weather seeming to have a bad effect upon the disease.

Some of the cures made by Hyomei seem marvelous when one remembers that the patients had suffered from catarrh since childhood, and that for years they had been unable to get a good night's sleep, on account of the disagreeable tickling and dropping at the back of the throat caused by this offensive disease. A few days treatment with Hyomei brought quick relief, and its continued use made a complete and lasting cure.

By breathing Hyomei through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, all the air passages of the lungs and throat are filled with air laden with Nature's remedies for the cure of catarrh. All disease germs are killed, and the irritated mucous membrane is healed.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

A Big Row Over Educational Bills

Western Graduates of Toronto University Will Resist the Efforts of McGill Representatives to Secure Monopoly in British Columbia.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 7.—An interesting situation is being created in British Columbia as the result of two bills which are now before the Legislature, and which passed their second reading yesterday, entitled an Act to Incorporate the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning in British Columbia, and an Act respecting McGill University. These two bills are the outcome of several visits to the Province made by Dr. Torre, who is described as the business man of McGill, and who kept his movements as much as possible a secret. For several years both Victoria and Vancouver high schools have enjoyed affiliation with McGill, whereby pupils of the two high schools were able to take first and second year work for McGill at home. In Vancouver they got a two-years course.

Under the new Act the trustees of the new college, which is to be called the University College of British Columbia, will take over this advanced work, paying three or four teachers who are now employed on it, and McGill will fill out several professors to take up applied science work. No mention is yet made of endowment, although this will inevitably follow.

The proposal is to give a two years' course in Arts, two full years in applied science, and a course in chemistry and biology, and a preparatory to the medical course.

ABSOLUTE CONTROL.

McGill will have the absolute say as to the course of studies as certificates granted at the end of two years will be accepted by McGill.

The trustees will be the principal, Mr. Paterson, F. Carter Cotton, of Vancouver, Mr. A. C. Flummerfeldt, of Victoria, and Mr. J. W. Creighton, of New Westminster.

The bill has excited natural resentment in Victoria, being regarded as an attempt to locate in Vancouver an institution which is in no sense a Provincial university, even in embryo, but a mere offshoot of McGill.

There has been on the statute books for fifteen years an Act providing for a Provincial university, of which all graduates of Canadian universities who choose to register, were members of the State institution, and by whom the Senate would be elected. It has not been hitherto regarded as feasible to start a Provincial university, but opposition to the present bill is that it usurps for McGill the title of University College of British Columbia and excludes graduates of all other universities.

WITH TORONTO UNIVERSITY.

It is happens that Toronto University graduates are in the majority throughout British Columbia, there being associations in both Victoria and Vancouver and also in Kootenay. A meeting of these will be held in the office of Chief Justice Hunter, nearly all judges are Toronto University men, and a protest will be lodged with the Executive Council.

There is strong feeling in Victoria in favor of abrogating the affiliation arrangement with McGill and seeking these privileges from Toronto, as it is felt that under the proposed scheme all the schools in the Province can be made mere feeders to an offshoot of McGill, which will enjoy unwarranted advantages over equally deserving institutions.

In a speech in the House yesterday the Minister of Education said Sir William Macdonald has promised $6,000 a year for five years.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

THE TURF.

Yesterday only two heats in the 2.35 pacing stake, at Ottawa, for $1,000 in which Mr. Martin Conner's "Lady Gothard" was entered, and in which "Jim H." formerly owned by Mr. Jos. Fife, of Ottawa, also took part, were run. This important race will be finished today.

• • • •

Mr. Martin Conners, Peterboro's enthusiastic patron of the sport of harness in matters appertaining to baseball and the turf, left last night on the C.P.R. midnight train to take in the Ottawa winter races. Mr. Conners already has several horses, including Lady Gothard, in training at Ottawa. His horses will take part in the following races, viz: Today, the 2.35 class, pacing stake for $1000. Wednesday, the 2.20 class, pace or trot, for $600. Friday, the free for all, for $500, and Saturday the 2.25 trot or pace for $400. Mr. Conners will leave Ottawa for here on Friday night, although interested in the Saturday event.

• • • •

Messrs. J. M. Brooks and Chas. Fife of Otonabee, the latter being a former owner of the well-known horse Jim H., are in Ottawa, taking in the winter races there.

CURLING.

The following rinks have gone from Ontario to take part in the Winnipeg Bonspiel, viz.:

The Caledonian Rink, of Toronto, consists of J. George, W. G. Reanie, Thomas Reanie and John Reanie, skip.

Waterloo sends a rink with Mayor Bean, Seagram as skip. The other members are F. W. Hughes, G. B. Brickner and William Berg.

From Chatham two rinks went, composed of Robert Grey, Harry Gillies, John McCaig, D. W. Maulden, George Fulder, W. Bethune, John Stewart, M. Campbell, J. W. Atkin, R. Fisher and W. R. Landeau.

Calingwood has one rink consisting of Messrs Tailor, Watson, Campbell and Reid.

The two rinks of curlers from Lindsay for Winnipeg are as follows: Russ Hartstone, Dr. F. A. Walters, George A. Little, J. D. Flavelle, skip; Miss Edith Flavelle, skip; Walter E. Reazor, H. Butler, Hec. Cuthbert, L. V. O'Connor, skip; Miss Fanny A. Reazor, manor.

HOCKEY.

The City League games will be played tonight instead of Thursday night, as there are a number of players on the different teams, who have other engagements. The rink company have very kindly consented to the change.

• • • •

The games will be of the very best calibre and will decide who will carry off the trophy.

From eight to nine o'clock tonight the contestants will be Charlotte street vs. Suburbs; from nine to ten o'clock, High Life's vs. Bankers.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

Subscriber Approves the Position Taken By Mr. Dumble.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—In your admirable account of the meeting held by the Board of Education, Monday night, I was greatly pleased by the fair and impartial, and, at the same time comprehensive report given in your columns. One thing I would like, if you can spare me the space to do so, is to express my admiration of the stand taken by the new member of the Board, Mr. D. W. Dumble.

As is well known to our fellow citizens, the members of last year's Board did—to put the matter as kindly as possible—exert themselves very much to get Mr. James Stevenson, who had served this town in the School Board, faithfully, for over fifty years, in fact their efforts were directed to the contrary. This is a statement that I do not think will be denied by any member of last year's Board.

As for their reasons in turning down this old servant of the public, in his declining years, it is not necessary for any one, who has followed the course of the Board regarding the Collegiate Institute in particular, to dilate upon the matter. It is only too well known. Mr. Stevenson was resent, at least in the matter of that tryin: to feel the people about the cost of the building.

In your account of Monday's meeting it seems to me that the Board has now got a member who is making some of the others "Sit up and take notice." He clearly, at least in my opinion, showed that the Board did not, or does not, know exactly when they are at as regards the $10,000 they have spent of the public's money for late. By placing Mr. Dumble on the Board, those who like myself, voted for Mr. Dumble, are now assured that, in this choice of representatives at our local school system, they have a member in the Board who will not stand for spending money entrusted to their care, in an unbusinesslike manner.

The idea of any body representing, and spending the money of their constituents, without knowing months after it has gone, what they are getting for it, prompts a natural desire for having more men of good sound business judgment at the helm of their ship of finance. I do not, Mr. Editor, in any way, wish to hint, or insinuate that the old Board did anything irregular regarding the Collegiate Institute lots, but as was clearly shown by Mr. Dumble, they displayed a most remarkable and deplorable lack of business management, that would not have characterised the expenditure of $10,000 belonging to any member of the Board personally.

Yours truly,
SUBSCRIBER.

ENTERTAINMENT APPRECIATED

Mr. Jas. Stubbs, City, Well Spoken of By Kingston Press.

Referring to a local gentleman, Mr. Jas. Stubbs, who has recently given a large number of stereoptically illustrated entertainments throughout eastern Ontario, the Kingston Whig says, in part:

"On Sunday evening a crowd gathered to see "The Life of St. Paul," illustrated by lime-light views, given by James Stubbs, Peterboro.

Mr. Stubbs illustrated St. Paul's three missionary journeys, showing the cities and countries through which he travelled. Several sacred songs were sung, and illustrated by views during the evening. Moving pictures were given showing the shepherd watching their flocks by night.

On Monday night a st-reopticon entertainment was given by the same gentleman.

The entertainment was an educational and the greater part consisted of a lime-light travel talk through Europe. All platform were interpersed with ball cornet and band solos, on the phonograph. For over two hours the audience was rapt in greatest interest, and all declared they would not have missed it for anything. The proceedings closed with a portrait of his Majesty King Edward VII., and "God Save the King."

A SATISFACTORY REPORT

Peterboro Lock M'f'g Co. Holds Annual Meeting.

The Peterboro Lock Mfg. Company have done a most successful business during the past year. The financial statement submitted to the shareholders, at the annual meeting was most satisfactory, and was unanimously adopted.

It showed that a dividend of six per cent had been paid for the past year with an additional bonus of 1 per cent. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year;

President—Hon. J. R. Stratton.

Vice-President—Mr. W. G. Morrow.

Directors—Mr. Wm. Irwin, Mr. A. L. Davis, Mr. Thos. Fortye.

Mr. John Crann, manager of the Ontario Bank, Peterboro, was reappointed auditor of the company.

During the year the company has expended over $6,000 in a new plating room, in extending the moulding shop and in erecting a new fire proof building for the dyes and pattorns of the company. The facilities of the company have been improved to enable them to increase their output by about one-half.

Hon. Senator Cox, who is the largest shareholder of the company, visited the factory, examined the statements and expressed himself thoroughly satisfied with the management and business of the company.

A PROSPEROUS BANK

35th Annual Shareholders Meeting of Dominion Bank.

Those fortunate enough to hold stock in the Dominion Bank must feel highly gratified over the result of last year's business of this splendid member of Canada's financial institutions.

The 35th annual general meeting of the shareholders of this bank; held in Toronto on January 31st ult., developed the fact that the past year has been equally successful with the past prosperous history of the bank.

The report of the directors showed that the net profit of the bank, after deducting all charges of management, and fully providing for bad and doubtful debts, amounted to $480,625.20. Out of this sum four quarterly dividends at 2½ per cent., or at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, were paid to stockholders, and $75,000.07 was written off bank premises.

During the past year, the Dominion Bank has opened up branches in Hespeler, Ont.; on Davenport road and Union Stock Yards, Toronto, Ont.; at No. 649 Portage avenue and at the corner of Notre Dame and Nena streets, Winnipeg, Man. The bank has secured premises and will shortly open up a branch in Windsor, Ont.

Messrs. T. G. Brough, general manager, E. B. Osler, M.P., president, and the directorate of the bank will deserve the hearty vote of thanks tendered them by the grateful shareholders.

The directors for the present year are A. W. Austin, W. R. Brock, R. J. Christie, T. Baton, Hon. J. J. Foy, W. D. Matthews and E. B. Osler, M.P., and are leading and well known figures in the financial world of Canada.

CABINET CHANGES UNDER DISCUSSION

Hon. Mr. Emmerson May Be Given a Seat on the Bench.

FITZPATRICK TO SUCCEED

Aylesworth for Department of Justice Which Would Mean a New Postmaster General.

Ottawa, February 7.—There are rumors that a number of important cabinet changes are imminent. It is stated that the appointment of Hon. L. P. Brodeur, to succeed Hon. Raymond Prefontaine as Minister of Marine and of Hon. William Templeman temporarily as Minister of Inland Revenue, will be definitely announced this week, but that in the near future a much more important shuffle will take place. The story is that the Inland Revenue department will be added to the Customs department, and that Hon. William Templeman will be Minister of Mines. One of the various divisions of the interior department will be added to mines to make it equal in point of importance to other departments. Then it is said that Hon. Mr. Emmerson will be given a seat on the bench, and Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick will become Minister of Railways. Hon. A. B. Aylesworth will take the Department of Justice, which will necessitate the appointment of a new Postmaster General. There would not naturally be a struggle for this portfolio in the event of these changes occurring as New Brunswick would demand representation in the cabinet, and Mr. Calvert, M. P., Liberal whip, might not take kindly to being passed over again, so he was when Mr. Aylesworth was brought within the fold.

The rumor that Hon. R. W. Scott will retire is revived at brief intervals, but is emphatically denied by the friends of the secretary of state.

YESTERDAY'S WEDDING

Miss Mary Galvin Becomes the Bride of Mr. J. H. Deamard.

A very pretty wedding was that celebrated yesterday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Mary Galvin, daughter of Mr. Jas. Galvin, 187 Stewart street, was united in marriage to Mr. John H. Deamard of Peterboro.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Father Kelly.

The bride attired in a pretty costume of ships taffeta silk with rose point lace yoke, was assisted by her sister, Miss Ada Galvin, who wore a dress of cream panama cloth and carried a white prayer book. Mr. Geo. Lynch acted as best man.

Miss Doherty presided at the organ and the Ave Maria was rendered by Miss Nettie Lewis and Miss Mae Clancy. The altar was beautifully decorated with smilax and carnations.

At the conclusion of the ceremony which was celebrated in the presence of a large number of guests, a dainty wedding breakfast was partaken of at the home of the bride.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold cuke; to the bridesmaid a signet ring, and to the groomsman a pair of cuff links.

Among those from a distance present at the wedding were Mr. James Crowley of London; Mrs. Bailey of Toronto, Mrs. Gagliss of Hamilton and Mrs. Cummings of Rochester, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Deamard will reside at 479 Donegal street.

WILL MINISTER QUIT?

Rumored That Hon. H. R. Emmerson of Railways and Canals Dept. is For The Bench.

An Ottawa despatch of last night says:—To-morrow will witness the first series of changes in the composition of the Dominion Cabinet, which means one or more retirements.

As already intimated, Hon. L. P. Brodeur will formalize his portfolio of Minister of Inland Revenue to assume that of Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in succession to the late Mr. Prefontaine.

Hon. W. Templeman, minister without portfolio, will become Minister of Inland Revenue. He and Mr. Brodeur will be formally sworn in tomorrow.

Other changes will be made, but not before the meeting of Parliament on March 8th.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, by act of parliament will be made a Yull-fledged Minister as Postmaster-General.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways, will be dropped in the shuffle, and will be accommodated on the bench.

Hon. J. L. Domville, premier of New Brunswick, will take his place as representing that province after the session, when, also, Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick will become Minister of Railways, and Hon. A. B. Aylesworth will relinquish the rule of Postmaster-General to become Minister of Justice.

A CHEF D'OEUVRE

A Medicine Cabinet, Made By G. W. Mulligan, Contains 425 Various Kinds of Wood.

Peterboro has within her walls a gentleman whose patience is only exceeded by his ingenuity. In this display window of Mr. W. Modill's drug store, G. W. Mulligan, 304 George street, who is engaged as pattern maker at the American Cereal Co., has on exhibition a medicine cabinet which he has made himself.

Whilst this cabinet took the greater portion of every evening during the past two months, Mr. Mulligan has a piece of furniture which is of great value. He got the idea of this cabinet in the Ladies' Home Journal, but the design is entirely his own.

This medicine cabinet, a beautiful piece of workmanship, is small. In its make-up Mr. Mulligan has worked in 425 different kinds of wood, some of which are only half an inch by a quarter of an inch size.

The toute ensemble of the design constructed by a patient and artistic blending of the small fragments of various woods, is so perfect that the whole thing looks like one piece of wood. The main part of the cabinet is made of white pine. In front are two swinging doors, and inside are shelves for 3 oz., 5 oz., and 8 oz. bottles, a department for charts and books, and small drawers for bandages and prescriptions. It is most complete in every respect and is an ideal thing for the home.

Some of the different kinds of wood are walnut, oak, pine, mahogany, butternut, and all kinds of native and foreign woods. Mr. Mulligan has been at least twenty years collecting woods and he decided this means would be the best to preserve this collection. A similar cabinet, if made in New York city would cost at least $250.

Lady Strathcona's Gift.

London, Feb. 5.—Lady Strathcona and Mount Royal, wife of the Canada High Commissioner, has donated $52,500 to Queen Alexandra's fund for the assistance of the unemployed. In accordance with a stipulation of the donor $47,500 of the amount will be expended in providing for the emigration to Canada of deserving working and their families.

A TOUR OF INSPECTION

County Council Visit Lindsay To See House of Refuge.

Yesterday morning, as foretold in yesterday's issue of The Times, Warden M. J. Johnston, and the county council, accompanied by County Solicitor E. A. Peck, and County Architect John Belcher, took the 7.15 G.T.R. train to Lindsay where they made a flat stop on their tour of inspection. They visited the House of Refuge and then went on to Whitby.

At the meeting of the council Monday afternoon, it was decided that their itinery should include the following towns, viz., Lindsay, Whitby, Stratford, Woodstock, St. Thomas and London, taking in G.T. R. all the way. They will return however, in time to hold a meeting on Saturday to open the offers for options on properties.

GREAT DISTRESS IN JAPAN

Many Dying From Famine in Northern Provinces.

Victoria, B.C., February 6.—Advices from Japan by the Empress of Japan say that the famine conditions in North Japan are becoming awful, thousands suffering from starvation. Large numbers of deaths have occurred, and many others are dying. The government is organizing relief and foreign committees are distributing rice in the famine districts. One-third of the population of 3,626,000 in the three stricken provinces are in distress.

GREAT STRIKE IMPENDING

Iron Workers and Skilled Mechanics May Shortly Go Out.

New York, February 6.—Indications point to another big building strike, such as took place three years ago when 150,000 workers were idle for six months, at a loss of millions of wages to men, and millions in profits to employers. The allied iron associations of this city and the unions now working in harmony with them have taken a position which apparently makes the issue a fight to the finish.

The unions had requested that 5,000 members of the Housesmiths' Union, Sam Park's old organization, be reinstated and receive employment from the Allied Iron Association. The association's reply is a refusal.

It states that the men employed in structural work are not skilled mechanics and the regulations which apply for recognition of other unions by the iron trade do not apply to housesmiths.

C. P. R. HAS A RECORD

Cars Average Nearly Ten Miles a Day Above Other Lines.

Mr. George, S. Cantle, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company car service, and Mr. A. L. Smith, chief inspector of trains and stations of the same company, are in Buffalo attending a conference of official traffic operators of the North American lines. The subject of accelerating the traffic by the adjusting of schedules will occupy the attention of the conference. Another subject will be "How to get more work out of a car?" The Canadian Pacific Railway Company by their splendid organization have succeeded in getting on their immense rolling stock a daily average of nearly ten miles per car more than the best record known by any other line.

NO HEIR TO IMPERIAL THRONE

Expected Event in Berlin now Thought Will Not Occur.

Berlin, February 6.—The German Imperial family and court circles are greatly depressed over a revelation that has just been made concerning the Crown Princess. It has just been learned from excellent sources that the anticipated visit of the stork to the young Crown Princess' household which was said to be expected in the spring, will not occur.

Complications have set it, which, it is said, have made such an event quite impossible. A still more alarming feature of the situation is the fact that physicians are now in great fear that the Princesses health and physique are such as to render the prospects of her ever becoming the mother of a German Emperor extremely remote.

A Runaway Freight Caused a Collision

Terrible Scenes Following a Wreck on the Northern Pacific, in Which at Least Four Lives Were Lost.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 7.—A disastrous railroad wreck occurred last night shortly before midnight, two and a half miles west of Helena.

A runaway Northern Pacific freight train crashed into a passenger train on the same line, wrecked it completely, set fire to it, and up to three o'clock this morning four persons whose identity is assured were known to be dead with a probability that two more, whose names it is impossible to learn, may have been burned in the wreck. The known dead are;

J. S. Robinson, Missoula; Charles B. Rickle conductor passenger; J. A. Jessup, express messenger, and Foster Sanegal, merchant, of Elliston. Brakeman Edward Brown was seriously injured, but not fatally.

None of the passengers who escaped with their lives were seriously injured.

The passenger train passed through Austin about eight miles west of Helena on time. Following it was a long freight train made up of box and flat cars loaded down with lumber and shingles.

A DOWN GRADE RUNAWAY.

At Austin the engine was uncoupled from the freight to take water and the train was left standing on the track. There is a steep grade east of Austin, and by some means the freight train got started down the hill. The passenger train was standing at the Montana Central crossing, when the engineer heard a sound behind him that warned him of danger. He started his train, but had gone only a few feet when the runaway crashed into the rear car. There were but two cars in the passenger train and these were smashed and thrown into the ditch.

The engine did not leave the track, and Engineer Petty managed to keep ahead of the flying freight, which went about 500 feet after the collision before it, too, went off the track. In a few minutes fire started and for hours the cars and the lumber burned fiercely.

The crash of the collision was heard by persons living in the vicinity, who immediately started for the wreck. They found the combination car on fire and pinned under a mass of wreckage was Messenger Jessup.

BURNED TO DEATH.

He was conscious and heroic efforts were made to release him from his situation but the flames finally compelled the rescuers to withdraw.

Jessup was still conscious and struggled to release himself as the fire took hold of his limbs, but the effort was fruitless, and after a few moments of agony he became unconscious.

Exposed to full view, with blazing shingles all about him, and his head a mass of red hot coals, was the body of an unknown man. It was slowly consumed, until all that was left was the skull and outstretched were two stumps that a few hours before had been arms.

There are supposed to have been eight passengers on the train, of whom, two are still unaccounted for.

DUBLIN GIVES HIM WELCOME

New Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is Heartily Received—Countess a Great Favorite.

Dorling, Feb. 6.—The Earl of Aberdeen, the new lord lieutenant of Ireland, made his state entry into the Irish capital Saturday afternoon, almost exactly twenty years after he entered Dublin to begin his first term as lord lieutenant.

The streets were thronged with holiday makers and there was a profuse display of bunting.

The state procession was of the usual character.

The earl and countess met with a hearty reception from the sightseers, the countess, who is broadly interested in the Irish industries' Association, being a particular favorite with the people.

THE HALIFAX GARRISON CHAPEL

Halifax Feb. 7.—The garrison chapel has been handed over to his Lordship Bishop Worrell, by the Imperial Government, upon the same terms as those upon which the transfer of the garrison to the Dominion Government was made, viz.: that the chapel be maintained for military purposes only, failing compliance with that condition, it reverts to the Imperial Government.

DIED IN A CELL

Sad End to the Life of James F. Fox, Who Was Arrested Last Night.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—When Dr. Johnston, 35 Elm street, entered a cell in Police station No. 2, at 2.10 yesterday morning he found James F. Fox lying there dead. At 11.30 he had been arrested by P.C. Britton, on Yonge street, too drunk to tell his name or address. At 3.40 in the morning, Sergeant Charlton noticed he was dying, and at once sent for the reserve doctor. The young man was 24 years of age and unmarried. An inquest was held by Coroner Johnston in the Police court yesterday evening.

GREAT REVIVAL PRESAGED

Alexander and Torrey to Begin Series of Services in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., February 6.—What promises to be the most notable religious revival ever held in Philadelphia begins tomorrow under the direction of Messrs. Torrey and Alexander, the famous evangelists, who recently returned from a highly successful campaign in England. After weeks of preparation the local committee, headed by John Wanamaker and Bishop McCabe, announce everything in readiness for the opening meeting tomorrow afternoon in the Second Regiment armory. The Baptist Temple has been secured for overflow meetings. The singing of inspiring songs by a trained choir of 1,500 voices will be a feature of the revival services. It is planned to continue the services until May, when Messrs. Torrey and Alexander are to go to Atlanta to conduct a similar revival.

A SWIM IN ZERO WEATHER

During Attempt of G. A. H. Schmidt to Evade the Quarantine Regulations at New York.

New York, Feb. 7.—G. A. Schmidt, a second cabin passenger of the steamer Blucher, from Hamburg, jumped overboard into New York harbor yesterday. Although the temperature was five degrees above zero, and there was a sharp wind blowing a choppy sea into his face, Schmidt swam away from the steamer, avoiding the buoys which were sent to him, and attempting to dodge tug boats which rushed to rescue him.

Schmidt was finally captured by the crew of a quarantine tug and put aboard the Blucher. Apparently he had suffered no bad effects from his swim.

WINNIPEG'S POPULATION.

Winnipeg, Feb. 7.—Winnipeg's city directory for 1906 has been issued, and estimates the population, including suburbs, at 119,897. Ten thousand individuals' names were added during the year.

TIREDNESS MEANS DANGER

Indicates Faulty Blood and Worn Out Nerves—Build Up or Total Collapse Will Surely Follow

When you're tired all day, bothered by trifles, exhausted with nervousness, be sure there is something wrong.

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvelous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic so scientific as to be the admiration of every physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life that is at once dispatched to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 30, Euston, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To get satisfactory results be sure you get Ferrozone only. Fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or E. G. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

COUNTY COUNCILS.

The Municipal World figures that the present system of manufacturing county councils is much cheaper than the old way, and several esteemed contemporaries accept that fact—if it is a fact—as a good reason why the new plan should remain in force. The Weekly Sun (Toronto) is one of these. The Hamilton Spectator thinks that the queer thing about the attitude of these journals is that they apparently imagine that there are only two ways in which a county council can be put together—the present way and the old way. They do not seem to be able to understand that if the present way is cheaper than the old way, by reason of the less number of members in a council, it would be quite possible to reduce the number under the township system of election. Let the law declare that reeves only be members of the county council, and that each reeve, to be qualified, must represent a certain specified number of constituents. By bunching incorporated villages and smaller townships this could easily be done.

GERMANY AND JAPAN.

Does Germany want a quarrel with Japan? Baron Suyematsu, an eminent Japanese statesman, who sojourned in Europe during the war as a kind of official mouthpiece of his country's cause, although holding no specific diplomatic appointment, has made complaint to friends in England of the slight put upon himself and his suite when a passenger for home on a North German Lloyd steamship. His statement is that his party was assigned to the lowest places in the dining saloon of the steamer, although better places were unoccupied. The Chinese minister, it is said, was treated in a similar disrespectful fashion. The officers of the steamship company declare that the captain of the vessel had been expressly instructed to treat the baron and the Chinese minister with utmost courtesy. Nevertheless, Baron Suyematsu considers that he was treated with indignity. The Chinese minister, so far as we know, has not made any complaint abroad, whatever he may have reported at home. These Orientals have long memories. They may be a good while getting even, but if they feel that the German authorities are in any degree responsible for their treatment, Germany may some time suffer for it.

Prince Will Visit Regina.

EDITOR M.P. NOT PARTY-BOUND

That's Why Armand Lavergne Has Lost His Chair.

Montreal, Feb. 4.—Armand Lavergne, M.P. for Montmagny, has been dispossessed of his newspaper Editorship.

Some months ago Mr. Lavergne became editor of the Courrier de Montmagny, and started in with a Nationalist program. This caused a good deal of trouble in the Government camp in the Quebec district, as Mr. Bourassa's doctrines and Mr. Lavergne's editorials became most distasteful to the supporters of the Government, hence Mr. Lavergne's decapitation as a country journalist.

Alphonse Caron, proprietor of Le Courrier de Montmagny, now announces that he has taken charge of his own paper, that Armand Lavergne, M.P., has been dropped as director, and that in future the paper will be conducted on straight Liberal principles, and will support, as before, the Ottawa and Quebec Governments.

A STRANGE EXECUTION

Man on the Scaffold Spoke For More Than Quarter of an Hour.

Melbourne, February 6.—An interesting event is reported in connection with the execution of a man named Charles Hagen at Freemantle. He appeared to think that he could talk against time or eternity, as the case may be, and made a speech which lasted for more than a quarter of an hour. Several times during his introtory remarks a clergyman spoke to the condemned man urging him to meet his fate calmly. To all of these warning admonitions the condemned man would only reply: "All right," at once proceeding with his speech. At last the executioner approached and began to cover his face with the white cap.

"Put it on right," came from beneath the covering and Hagen again started his speech. "Not so tightly," Hagen ejaculated in a slightly louder tone of voice as the executioner made the noose fit closely to the neck. Everything was ready and still the speech of Hagen did not appear to have any end. He prepared to give utterance to other remarks, prefacing them with "Gentlemen—" when the trap doors opened and Hagen paid the penalty of his crime.

Why Greater New York?

What should be the purpose of living? Plainly to improve mental and moral conditions, to develop and elevate the manhood of the world. But is there a civilization which makes greater effort to do this than to accomplish desires much nearer the brute? If we have raised ourselves or have been raised above the animal and the savage, are we sinking backward or continuing to progress? New York at the present rate of "growth" will have 15,000,000 people long before the end of the century. Might it not be well to correct the tendencies that would make such growth possible? Giants are not the noblest of men. London has but 6,000,000, and already the wives of workingmen in a body have told the British Premier that their families were hungry and warned him that hungry people become desperate at last. Why should New York desire a population of 15,000,000 or even 6,000,000? Might it not be better for herself and for the country if she had a smaller population now than 4,000,000?—Florida Times-Union.

A Navajo Vice.

The Navajo is an inveterate gambler. Not only are there the professionals who live entirely by the practice, but even the small boys are gamesters and adapt the pictorial Sunday school cards to gaming purposes. Their blankets illustrate gambling, and even their account of the creation must have woven into it the story of a game. This a serious and apparently native vice of formidable proportions at once confronts the teacher and the missionary. The question of the best way to overcome it is still an open one. The prohibition of its practice does not go to the root of the matter, and all our logic fails to convince the Indian that he has not as great a right to play for stakes as he has to breathe.—Southern Workman.

The France-Prussian Dead.

The French Government some time ago expressed a wish that the bodies of French soldiers who died while prisoners in the Franco-Prussian war should be returned to France. Emperor William has now ordered that this be done and that military honors shall be rendered in every instance.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

Two afternoons prior to our guests' departure I was sitting in my verandah reading the letters which had been brought to the mine by the mail man at midday. Mr. Maybourne was sitting near me, also deep in his correspondence, while his daughter had gone to her own room for the same purpose. When I came to the end of my last epistle I sat with it in my hand, looking out across the veldt, and thinking of all that had happened since I had said good-bye to old England. From one thing my thoughts turned to another; I thought of my wandering life in Australia, of poor old Ben Garman, of Markaparile, and last of all of Bartrand. The memory of my hatred for him brought me home again to London, and I saw myself meeting Nikola in the Strand, and then accompanying him home to his extraordinary abode. As I pictured him seated in his armchair in that oddly-furnished room, all my old horror of him flashed back upon me. I seemed to feel the fascination of his eyes just as I had done that night when we visited that murderous cab in the room below.

While I was thinking of him, I heard a footstep on the path that led round the house, and presently Mackinnon appeared before me. He beckoned with his hand, and understanding that he desired to speak to me, I rose from my chair and went out to him.

"What is it?" I enquired, as I approached him, for at that hour he was generally in the depths of the mine. "Has anything gone wrong."

"That's as ye care to take my words," he answered, wheeling about and leading me out of earshot of the house. There was something in his manner that frightened me, though I could not for the life of me have said why. When we reached the fence that separated my garden from the open veldt I stopped, and leaning on the rails, once more asked him why he had called me out.

"I told ye a fortnight ago that there was trouble brewing for us with the natives," he said impressively "I warned ye a week ago that 'twas no better. Now I tell ye its close upon us, and if we're not prepared, God help us all."

"What do you mean? Don't speak in enigmas, man. Tell me straight out what your are driving at."

"Isn't that what I'm trying to do?" he said. "I tell ye the whole country's in a ferment. The Matabele are out, and in a few hours, if not before, we shall have proof of it."

"Good God man!" I cried, "how do you know this? And why did you not make me see the importance of it before?"

"Ye can lead a horse to the water but ye canna make him drink,' says the proverb," he answered. "Ye can tell a man of danger, but ye canna make him see it. An' so 'twas with ye. I told ye my suspicions a fortnight past, but 'twas only this minute I came to know how bad it really was."

"And how have you come to hear of it now?"

"Step this way an' I'll show ye."

He led me to a small hut near the kitchen. On reaching it, he opened it and showed me a man stretched out upon a bed of sacks and grass. He was a white man, and seemed utterly exhausted.

"This man's name," said Mackinnon, as if he were exhibiting some human curiosity, "is Andrews. He's a prospector, and we've been acquent for years. Now tell your yarn, Andrews, and let Mr. Wrexford here see how bad the matter is."

"I've not much to tell, sir," said the man addressed, sitting up as he spoke. "It came about like this: I am a prospector, and I was out away back on the river there, never dreaming there was mischief in the wind. Then my boys began to drop hints that there was likely to be trouble, and I'd best keep my weather eye open. At first I didn't believe them, but when I got back to camp at mid-day to-day and found both my servants murdered, my bullocks killed, and my rifles and everything else of value stolen, I guessed who had done it. Fortunately, they had passed on without waiting for me, so I got into the saddle again and came here post haste to warn you. I tell you this, the Matabele are rising. The least that murdered my men is under one of the king's oxen, and by this time they are not twenty miles distant from this spot. There can be no doubt that they are traveling this way. From what my boys told me, Maybourne is surrounded, while three more impis are traveling night and day with the same object as the one I now warn you of, namely, to cut off the advance of the troops being pushed forward to oppose them from the south."

"Do you mean this? On your oath, are your telling me the truth?"

"God strike me dead if I'm not," he answered, solemnly. Look at me, I've made my way in here as hard as a man could come, riding for his life! That should be proof enough; but if it isn't, Mr. Mackinnon here will speak up for me, I'm sure."

"That I will," said Mackinnon. "I've known you long enough, and always found you a straightforward man."

I stood for a few moments deep in thought.

"How far do you think they are away from us at the present moment?"

"Not more than twenty miles at most, sir. I left my camp in the river about mid-day, and I've been here about a quarter of an hour. I came in as hard as I could ride; my five hours riding at twelve miles an hour, making a big detour of about twenty miles, to avoid them. That should make between fifteen and twenty miles away now if they did five miles an hour straight across country."

"And you're sure they mean war?"

"There's not a doubt of it, sir. I know the varmin too well by this time not to be certain of that."

"Then I must tell Mr. Maybourne at once. Come with me, Mackinnon, and you too, Andrews, if you can manage it. We must hold a council of war and see what's best to be done."

I led them across the small paddock to my office, and then went on to the house in search of my employer. I found his packing up and down the verandah, looking rather flustered.

"Thank my dear fellow!" he began, on seeing me, "I have been looking for you. I want a few moments' earnest conversation with you."

"And I with you, sir," I answered.

He led me beyond the verandah before he spoke again.

"You must hear me first. What I want to see you about is as important as life and death to us all. I have received a number of letters by the mail, and one all all warn me that there is likely to be trouble with the Matabele. The Chartered Company have seen it coming, I am told, and are taking all the necessary steps to secure life and property, but there is no knowing when the brutes may not be on us, and what they may not do if they start with the upper hand. Now, you see, if I were alone I should have no hesitation in remaining to see it out—but there is Agnes to consider; and, with a woman in the question, one has to think twice before one ventures upon such a course."

"That is the very thing I came over to see you about, sir. Serious news has just reached me, and—well, to tell you the truth, we are in danger now, this very minute. If you will step over to my office, I have a man there who has seen the enemy within forty miles of this place, and he tells me they are advancing in our direction even now."

His face, for an instant, became deadly pale, and I noticed that he glanced anxiously at the sitting-room door.

"Steady, Wrexford, for heaven's sake," he said. "Not too loud, or Agnes will hear. We musn't frighten her before we are absolutely obliged. Come to the office and let me see this man for myself."

Together we walked over to my den where Mackinnon and Andrews were awaiting us.

Mr. Maybourne nodded to the former and then looked searchingly at the latter.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $275 a ton, or about $1200 for every foot of sinking, the mine being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $200 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1200 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 5,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $25 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the Mining Recorder in lieu thereof, and when $500 has been expended or paid, the locater may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 and renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Calumet-Tellurid Golde Mining Co.

OF CALUMET, MICHIGAN,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 370 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzs and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling Ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.00 to $14.00 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization $60,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 200,000 shares. Show us something better.

Moore Preceptory A.F. & A.M. Meet.

Moore Preceptory of the local local Free Masons, A.F. & A.M., last night held a meeting in the lodge room over Chinn Hall. Mine host of McMillan's Restaurant during the evening was busily employed in carrying baskets laden with glass and silverware, preparatory to the subsequent banquet. A most enjoyable evening was spent after the more serious business of the evening had been attended to.

A Narrow Escape.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Sam Cottingham, brother of the genial warm clerk of the Commercial House, had a narrow escape from serious injury. It seems that Mr. Cottingham, while on one of the elevated platforms in the William Hamilton Mfg. Co's Works was pulling a rope to open one of the ventilators which allow the fumes from the molten metal to escape the rope broke. This caused Mr. Cottingham to fall backwards from the platform to the floor, a distance of 15 feet. Whilst no bones were broken, he sustained a severe shaking, and was compelled to quit work for the day.

MR. CRANE PICTURED

St. Paul's Church Choir Presents Popular Leader With Handsome Picture.

A pleasing feature of the splendid sacred concert in St. Paul's church, by their very efficient choir, was the presentation, on completion of the concert, of a handsomely framed portrait of the choir, to Mr. John Crane, their efficient and popular leader.

The presentation was accomplished at a supper given by the Ladies' Aid Society in the Sunday school room, after the concert was over. On behalf of the choir, Mr. D. H. Moore took advantage of the occasion to make the presentation.

The picture was taken by Mr. Roy Cook in one of his best productions. All the members of the choir, a view of the church and also a view of the organ are clearly represented. Mr. Moore spoke a few words of appreciation regarding Mr. Crane's faithfulness and ability, and the recipient made a suitable reply, expressing his high opinion of the efficiency, devotion and worth of those whom it has been his pleasure to lead.

—A Saints' church choir will hold a special practice tonight at 7.30.

—The 57th Band drew a large attendance to Brock street rink last night.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Home Circle will be held on Thursday evening.

—Eko Camp will give another "at home" in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, on Thursday, Feb. 15th.

—The sleighing in the country is poor, the high winds having deposited all the snow in the fence corners.

—Court Chemong, 250, I.O.F. will hold a social entertainment and concert in the S.O.E. Hall on Friday, Feb. 16

—Valentines in large variety at Times Bookstore. Thirty cent hand sleighs to clear for twenty-five cents. Times Bookstore.

—Don't hit the man who asks "Is this cold enough for you?" The poor fellow may owe a last summer's ice bill or have sneaks.

—Firwood Circle, Woodmen of the World, will hold their regular meeting at seven o'clock sharp. A full attendance is requested.

—The small boy has dismissed to the real porch of his thinking machine, all ideas of swimming trunks and playing hookey to go fishing.

—Phew! 25 below zero on Monday night. Tea and sub-arboreal flirtations in Jackson Park and Stony Lake's islands are several days off yet.

—Another successful meeting of the Browning Club, under the direction of Mr. Barton Earle, was held at the Y.M.C.A. Monday night.

—The American Cereal Co., Peterboro Ont. have erected a five-storey addition to their factory at that place at a cost of about $35,000.—Canadian Manufacturer.

CORPORAL MITCHELL WRITES

Popular Non. Com. of 57th Thanks His Regimental Friends.

The following letter was yesterday handed in by Corporal Mitchell, of the 57th Regt., with a request for publication. It might be mentioned that this valuable non-com. will leave the week for Pembroke, Ont., where he has secured a good position with a manufacturing concern, and will be a great loss to our local soldiery.

Mr. Mitchell, while has been a most efficient employe of the Snowdon House, writes thusly:

(To the Editor of The Times.)

I desire to thank, through the columns of your valuable paper, the officers and non-commissioned officers of the 57th Regiment for the entertainment and kindly words spoken at the recent "smoker." It is with feelings of regret that I have to sever my connection with the gallant 57th, a regiment of which the prosperous city of Peterboro may well feel proud.

I also desire to thank the genial proprietor of the Snowdon House for his many acts of kindness shown me while in his employ. Also to the staff of the above-mentioned hotel, and the friends who came in touch with it.

Peterboro will always be a fond remembrance to me, and I firmly believe it is destined to be one of the leading cities of this fair Canada of ours.

Thanking you, sir, for this indulgence,

I remain very Sincerely,
Corp. Chas. Mitchell,
57th the 57th Regt.
Peterboro.

—Mr. John McClain of Lindsay, was in the city yesterday.

—Corporal Chas. Mitchell, of 57th Regiment, will leave shortly to assume a responsible position with a large Pembroke manufacturing establishment. Both the 57th and the various churches he has kindly assisted with his fine phonograph, as well as many personal friends will whilst congratulating him on his good position in Pembroke, regret to lose him from their midst.

The Choir of St. Andrew's Church will give a Sacred Concert in the church on Friday evening, February 16th. They will have the assistance of Miss Maud L. Smith, Elocutionist of Toronto.

THE SOUTH WARD SCHOOL

MR. GEO. W. HATTON WRITES A TIMELY LETTER.

Thinks That the Present South Ward School Lack Shade Trees and is Otherwise Not Up to Date.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I see by your report of the last meeting of the School Board that Mr. W. H. Hall is a member of a special committee to consider public school accommodation, etc., and that Mr. Hall expresses himself as favorable to pleasing another storey on the present south ward school, "to save expense," being his reason. The school is much over-crowded at present, but the addition of rooms only will not relieve one of the worst features of overcrowding. The site is entirely unsuitable for a ward school; it is not one-tenth large enough, and is without shade or any attractions whatever. What little play ground there is, is being covered by unsightly and dangerous piles of cordwood, during most of the school year. The building, as all ratepayers know, is a shell, and if fire caught in it, during school hours, would certainly not be factored safer by adding a third storey. I am surprised that any family man having children attending school should for a moment entertain such an idea, and especially with the sole object of saving money. School sites especially, should be chosen considering their surroundings not only at the date decided upon, but looking if possible to the future. Facing a park, or church grounds, in good residential portions of the city for instance, and not being liable to be shut in by or in the neighborhood of small and unsightly houses, foundry, manufacturing industries, etc. Land is fairly reasonable in this city, the price is not likely to depreciate and is a good asset for the Board of Education. As a ratepayer I am much in favor of having the public school question thoroughly considered and settled before erecting a Collegiate Institute, which I agree is needed, but the expenditures that are being entered by some of our public representatives are large enough to stagger the ratepayers and most of them are not backed nor bearable at the present time.

Thanking you for your space,

G. W. HATTON.

Bets on Dunsley Act Paid.

Yesterday the farmer, who as noted on Saturday's issue, a few days ago, made several bets as to the date on which the Dunsley Act was passed in Peterboro, was finally convinced, by records of the city clerk, that the act was passed more less than 25 years ago, and ordered all bets to be paid. There is an old saying, "Be sure you're right, and then go ahead." This is good advice, but whose our opinion is backed by several bets of $10 each could it be better to be "dead" sure you are right before going ahead. The loser of these bets was very sure in his mind that it was 25 years since the Dunsley act was passed here, but when it was fully fully proven to him wrong in honorably paid his bets, and went home to refresh on this seeming infallibility of his memory.

"Please Smile AND Look Pleasant."

When a woman says "I am racked with pain," the word "racked" recalls the days when they stretched the tender bodies of women on the rack with rope and pulley until the very joints cracked.

Fancy an attendant saying to the tortured woman, "Please smile and look pleasant."

And yet the woman "racked with pain," is expected to smile through her agony and to make home happy. She can't do it. It is against Nature. Generally speaking, the racking pains of ill-health such as headache, backache and "bearing-down pains" are related to derangements or disorders of the organs distantly sympathize. When this condition is removed the general health is restored, and with health comes back the smile of happiness.

Any woman may regain her health at home without offensive questionings or examinations by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Sick women may consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. All letters are held sacredly confidential.

"It affords my pleasure to relate the wonderful merits of your great medicines, especially your "Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. Geo. Kelley, of Woodbury, N. Jersey. "I have used it with the best results and by my own testimony, and all due to your wonder-worker. Your "Pleasant Pellets" are also worth many times their price. I have used them for biliousness and as a mild laxative, and have found them to do all that you claim. They are my constant companions;—once used, always kept."

Given away. The People's Common Sense Medical Advisor in paper covers is sent free on receipt of 21 stamps to pay expense of mailing only. The book contains 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations and several colored plates. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the paper-bound book, or 50 stamps for the cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BURNT BY GAS

Local Wine Clerk Hallucinated By Gas From a Furnace.

Yesterday the wine clerk of a popular George street dispensary of cough and other cures for troubles incurred in suffering humanity, had an experience that will be remembered by him for several days. This genial possessor of the secrets appertaining to the correct proportions and ingredients of such libations to Bacchus, as gin-fizzes, sherry cobblers, Manhattan, hens' bills, etc., yesterday morning went down, the cellar, it being cold in the place where one do congregate, to fix the furnace. Shortly before his visit to the furnace, another employe of the place had gone down, put on a lot of hard coal and turned on the drafts full to make the fire burn. When the cook-ing expert went down he quickly opened the feed door of the furnace to see how the fire stood. As he opened the door suddenly, it caused the recently accumulated gas to catch fire, thereby causing quite an explosion. Now, Mr. Wine Clerk is minus about 17 love locks, and pretty curls of nice blonde hair that went up in smoke, and incidentally amid language tinctured with words made forcible than parliamentary. His eye brows have more than half disappeared in tight little curlups that wrinkle into ashes when touched. His escape from losing his eye-sight, or suffering more severe burns was narrow.

Millions of Infants Are Sacrificed Yearly

Soothing Syrups, Pain Killers and Foods Denounced by Prof. Wiley of Chemistry Department of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture

Washington, Feb. 8.—That more than a million infants had been sacrificed to the various concoctions known as soothing syrups and pain killers, and over twice that number killed by impure milk, was the declaration made last night by Professor H. W. Wiley, Chief of the Chemistry Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"We do not know anything about the milk we have fed at our homes, or the conditions under which it was produced," he added. "There are a thousand and one possibilities which might have combined to make what nature intended for a food the most virile poison that chemistry can produce.

"I have found that the foods we daily consume are so fraught with germ life of a harmful nature that I am almost afraid to go to the table. The butter is painted; there is little other to be found anywhere. Canned goods are kept years and sold for the genuine article. I speak particularly on condensed milk. I do not know anything of the fresh milk supply, but surely our knowledge is more satisfied as to the product that is put into cans. The Lord intended us to resort to cans only to tide us over seasons; until green fruits could be had again, but the canneries don't know this. There is no law requiring them to stamp the date upon their goods; if they did, it would kill the sale."

SLAVE TRAFFIC IS INCREASING

Moroccan Slavery a Menace to Civilization.

WORTH FROM $10 UPWARDS

Some Bring as High as $100, Women Run From $100 to $400

Brussels, February 7.—A report which M. Rene Leclercq has addressed to the Moroccan committee contains interesting particulars concerning the Moorish slave market. He says that one of the grain markets at Fez is used for various purposes.

In the morning the woman of the district sell wool; from 11 o'clock until noon wheat is sold, and in the afternoon, between the "diour" and the "Maghreb," from four to seven o'clock, slaves are disposed of.

Slavery is openly carried on in Morocco. The slaves are negroes and negresses. They are recruited at Tafilet. The caravans coming from Touat and the Soudan sell the slaves to merchants. The slaves sold at Fez pass through Marrukesh. Others come from El-Kear, where they are sold cheap.

High functionaries, like Amill Moustafadh and Mohit Aelb, buy at Mikhnes, El-Kear and Sefrou, in order to sell at Fez through intermediaries. A male negro is worth from $10 to $100, a woman from $100 to $400. The sale is by auction, and the customers examine the "merchandise."

The market is a flourishing one, some days there being a large number of negroes sold.

A BOY'S BREAKFAST

There's a Natural Food That Makes It's Own Way.

There's a boy up in Hoosick Falls, N.Y. who is growing into sturdy manhood on Grape-Nuts breakfasts. It might have been different with him, as his mother explains:

"My 15-year-old boy is large, well developed and active, and has been made so by his fondness for Grape-Nuts food. At five years he was a very nervous child and was subject to frequent attacks of indigestion which used to rob him of his strength and were very troublesome to deal with. He never seemed to care for anything for his breakfast until I tried Grape-Nuts, and I have never had to change from that. He makes his entire breakfast of Grape-Nuts food. It is always relished by him and he says that it satisfies him better than the ordinary kind of a meal.

"Better than all he is no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness, and has got to be a splendidly developed fellow since he began to use Grape-Nuts food."

Union Leaders Condemned.

St. Louis, February 7.—The final report of the December grand jury today, submitted to Circuit Judge Withrow, condemned labor union leaders for alleged intimidation of workmen engaged under contract on building work. To prevent such practices, revision of the statutes regarding conspiracy, extortion, intimidation and restraint of trade was recommended, as well as a law requiring labor unions to incorporate.

THE ELEVATOR SUITS

Appeals Have Been Allowed in Lawsuits of Talbot vs. Hall and Delaire vs. Hall.

Our readers will remember the important suits entered against Messrs. Richard Hall & Sons, by Miss Edith Talbot and another by Miss Agnes Delaire, in the last spring assizes held by Mr. Justice Anglin, in which verdicts were rendered by the jury, against the defendants.

The divisional court has now considered that there are sufficient grounds for an appeal against the decision of that rendered at the spring assizes, and has ordered a new trial in each case.

Our readers will remember that, at the Assizes Miss Edith Talbot was awarded $2,500 damages and Miss Delaire $1,000 damages, for injuries sustained through the falling of the elevator in Messrs. Rich. Hall & Son's George street dry goods establishment.

An appeal was entered by Messrs. Hall & Son, and argued before the Divisional Court in Toronto, composed of Chief Justice Falconbridge, Mr. Justice Street and Mr. Justice Clute. Judgment was delivered on Tuesday, allowing the appeal, setting aside the verdict and granting a new trial. Hall & Hayes, Peterboro, and G. H. Watson, K.C., Toronto, for defendants, D. O'Connell, Peterboro, for plaintiffs. The new trial will probably come up at the spring assizes in Peterboro.

The following report of the proceedings appeared in yesterday's Osgoode Hall news in the Toronto papers:

DIVISIONAL COURT.

Before Falconbridge, C.J., Street, J., Clute, J.

Talbot vs. Hall; Delaire vs. Hall.—Judgment (R.) on appeal by defendants from judgments of Anglin, J., (5 O.W.R. 151), in favor of plaintiffs in each case, pronounced after answers given to the jury by questions proponded by the trial judge, and from his judgment refusing a non-suit. Plaintiffs were young women in the employment of defendants in their dry goods and millinery store at Peterboro, and were injured by the fall of the passenger elevator in the store, which was routed by defendants Held, that there was evidence proper to be submitted to the jury that no proper arrangements were made by defendants for the systematic inspection of the elevator in question, and that a proper inspection would have disclosed the defects in the adjustment of the safety appliances. The inspection which took place was not made under any contract to inspect, and was not remunerated but was purely voluntary; there was evidence also that it was not thorough. In these circumstances the motion for a non-suit was properly refused. The court, however, finds a serious difficulty in deciding that the verdict can stand, in the face of what appears to be ambiguous or contradictory findings by the jury. They found in answer to the first four questions that the fall of the elevator was due to the fact that the safety appliances were out of adjustment, and that their being out of adjustment was due to the negligence of defendants in not having them properly inspected. Then, in answer to the 23rd, 24th and 25th questions, they found that defendants had no knowledge of the defects in the elevator, but that their lack of knowledge was due to an omission on their part of their duty to employ an expert inspector. Question 26 was: What defects, if any, do you find the defendants knew or should have known? The jury answered: "They should, from the inspection of an expert, have known the stop bolts on the operating cable were too far apart." Order made setting aside judgment and directing a new trial. Costs of the former trial and of the appeal to be taxed to the parties who ultimately succeed. G. H. Watson, K.C., for defendants; D. O'Connell, Peterboro, for plaintiffs.

MR. HAY'S REPORT

City Engineer's Annual Statement of Money Expended on Local Improvements.

The city engineer, Mr. T. A. Hays, presented his annual statement at the council meeting on Monday. As the was too voluminous to read at the time and as our columns were filled with other matters, we withhold the report, and now give such extracts as are of interest to the general public.

Mr. Hay reports a very successful year. The total expenditures for streets and bridges, was $17,553.73; for sewers, $20,571.68 although this work is not all completed; for surface drains, $546.80; concrete walks, $14,349.99; concrete crossings, $692.82.

During the year, the Board of Works undertook several drains and sewers by day labor system and they proved very satisfactory. The engineer also makes several recommendations which the council will probably consider this year.

The engineer reported in part, as follows:

Appropriation for streets and bridges $13,000 00
Supplemented by 2,000 00
$15,000 00
Exceedes by 2,553 73
Total expenditure $17,553 73

The above among other items of expenditure includes,

General repairs to streets, labor $4,513 65
Street cleaning 666 05
Repairs and extensions to wood walks 1,044 54
Repairs to bridges in city ... 1,631 35
Removal of snow and ice 301 00
Cutting grass and weeds 115 20
Trimming trees 207 00
Gravelling, grading and rolling streets 7,289 17
Grading, laying broken stone, and rolling streets, labor 277 80

A NEW THEORY

Young Woman Disputes Theory of Gravitation.

Paris, February 7.—Miss Martha Craig has presented to the learned French Institute papers setting forth the theories and observations on which she bases her extraordinary claim to have disproved the theory of the formation of the world by the action of gravity, and to have established the vortex theory, on which she lectured recently in New York on returning by an exploration in Labrador. The French wise men will sit in Judgment on the American woman's theories and the papers she submitted will belong to the Institute's archives. At the Grand Hotel Miss Craig awaits the decision which will proclaim her either an epoch-making evolutionist or science

PRESENTS NEW VIEW OF RUSSIA

Winnipeg Man Returns From Visit to Czar's Land

IS NOT AS BAD AS PAINTED

Russia Has Problems as Other Countries Have—Jewish Question Serious.

Yesterday Mr. B. E. Jackson, of Winnipeg, was in town for a few hours on his way west. He arrived in New York from Liverpool a few days ago. During his visit to Europe Mr Jackson spent seven or eight weeks of his five months of absence in Russia, and had opportunity not only to study present conditions, but to confer with those who are devoting all their energies to the task of improving those conditions. In the course of an interview with The Times, Mr. Jackson said:

"A lot of exaggerated nonsense is talked and written about Russia. If there have been frequent disturbances, and if there have been frequent disturbances for years past, these have occurred nearly always in the annexed states on the borders of the empire proper. Remember that there is a territory in which 110 languages are spoken. Within the borders of the empire are from 60,000,000 to 70,000,000 of slavs and undoubtedly there is a pan-slav movement.

"The work of the revolutionist is done almost entirely in the large cities, of course, and those efforts have been very desperate, especially in Moscow. But they have been put down, and I do not think there is any possibility of these being repeated on the same scale as in the last named city. These uprisings were put down by force. What else could have been done? The government could not have done less.

"As a matter of fact, Russia has been and is altogether too lenient with criminals. We hear over and over again of the prison horrors of Siberia, and of the terrible overland march to penal settlements. But who fills the Siberian prisons and who blazed the way to penal settlements?

"The village commune, which rents or owns much of the land, and which directs the education of the children in the districts over which its jurisdiction extends, has the power to condemn to imprisonment those brought before it for trail. As so, as statistics will prove, considerably more than half of those who have been sent to Siberia during the last ten years have been persons handed over to the federal authorities for punishment by these town meetings of the peasants themselves.

"Do not believe all that you hear about the terrible acts of the bureaucracy. The bureaucracy of Russia is merely our own ideas on civil service reform worked out a la Russe to an extreme. There is altogether too much red tape, of course, and there is undoubtedly a certain amount of 'graft.' But there is no more 'graft' in Russia than anywhere else. Much is made of the question of the use of their native language by Finns and Poles, and this problem is discussed as though it were peculiar to Russia. Yet surely any sensible man must see that only one legal language can be permitted in a country. There must also be a language in use in the army which all shall understand. Any different system would be an absurdity.

"But is Russia alone in having this problem? Has England no Irish problem? Have the United States no Philippine problem? Does either Great Britain or the United States act very differently from Russia?

"Of that most difficult problem of all—the Jewish problem—what shall I say? Perhaps I may best indicate what I would like to say by telling you that this problem is to Russia what the negro problem is to the United States. It is a very real problem, and whatever side it is approached from it is a difficult one, just as the problem in the south is difficult, whether you regard it as a northerner or as a clansman black southerner of the most pronounced type."

POLICE COURT NEWS

Yesterday P. C. Stewart took the noon C. P. R. train, and incidentally a pair of steel bracelets in case of possible trouble, for Norwood, to bring up a man named Edward Renton, charged by his wife with non-support. Renton has been ill for some time, but yesterday the doctor pronounced him sufficiently well to take the train trip to Peterborough and answer to the charge at this morning's police court.

It might be added that P.C. Stewart brought his man up last night, and Mr. E. Renton was allowed to go on his own recognizances to appear this morning.

Last night about seven o'clock, Acting Policeman Tom Miller lined his eagle eye on a gentleman at the corner of Simcoe and George streets, carrying a larger jag than nature or summer sense prescribed, and gently murmuring the strains of that old ballad, "We gather them in," brought him to the Hotel des Cops. This particular drunk carried about with him the name of Clarence Shaw, and Clarence has been enough some two and seven sat up have better judgment. Clarence is accordingly a regular patron, and an industrious patron of the places where red eye and tanglefoot are dispensed at 25 per dispense. Clarence, judging by the 725 ounces proceeding from him, as he reclined on the dance floor of suite No. 1, must have absorbed enough to supply three men in a local option county for several days. Clarence recently was a ten days' guest at Castle Nesbitt, and still has a fine of $2 unpaid for his last little indiscretion in the absorption of alcohol. It is likely his absence at this morning's police court will result in his retirement from the giddy whirl of city life for a few days.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Rev. Mr. Welch, B.A. of Lindsay and Murray St. Church Pastor Address Large Audience.

The special services in Murray street Baptist church are drawing immense audiences and are doing great good for the cause. The meeting on Tuesday night was not only well attended, but was of especially interest.

The addresses given were most interesting and helpful. The principal speaker was Mr. Laflamme, who has been engaged in missionary work in India for the past eighteen years. He is now home on furlough. On Tuesday night Mr. Laflamme spoke of the evangelistic work in India, with special reference to that portion of it being carried on by the Baptist church. Mr. Laflamme drew some lessons from the work in India and showed how some of the methods adopted there could be put to local application.

Rev. Mr. Welch, B.A. of Lindsay, also spoke, as did the pastor, Rev. F. J. Scott.

Last night Rev. Mr. Welch gave an inspiring address that was listened to with keen attention by the great crowd present. A feature of Tuesday's meetings, was the address given by Mr. Laflamme to children during the afternoon.

COMING TO CANADA

Unemployed Men Declare Their Readiness to Come Out and Work.

London, February 8.—The feeling is rapidly growing that emigration to Canada is the solution of the problem of Britain's unemployed. The latest evidence of this comes from Leith, Scotland. The distress committee called in Bruce Walker, immigration agent, at Glasgow, to explain the conditions of life in Canada to a party of twenty unemployed men. He frankly told them it meant hard work, but offered splendid opportunities. He was enthusiastically corroborated by a returned immigrant, and as a result all expressed their willingness to go.

THE WORLD'S CARTOONIST

Millbrooke's Oldest Resident Recalls the Youth of Mr. Sam Hunter.

Yesterday one of the "oldest residents" of Millbrook was in the city, talking with two or three local citizens. During progress of their conversation, a boy brought into the "Abode of spirits," where they were talking, some copies of yesterday's Toronto World, for sale. On the first page appeared a cartoon from the facile pencil of the leading cartoonist of that paper, Mr. Sam Hunter.

The "oldest resident," inspired by the cartoon, and also perhaps, by sundry libations he Bacchus, taken during the preceding half hour, got into a reminiscent mood. "Yes," he said to a Times representative, "I remember Sam Hunter well. Why he was raised in Millbrook and, when a boy, used to draw pictures of everything that took place in that village. Why, when I was a young fellow, I got into a fuss with another fellow, a scrap followed, and next morning on a barn door belonging to a neighbor, appeared a life-like picture of myself and ———, having it out with bare fists. Yes, Sam was always a hustler with his pencil or chalk. Sam could draw a life-like picture of the Devil if he only saw him for one-half minute."

L. O. L. OFFICERS ELECTED

West Peterboro Orangemen Meet in the Simcoe Street Lodge.

That the Orangemen of West Peterboro are fully alive and active was in evidence at the enthusiastic meeting held in Simcoe street lodge on Tuesday evening.

Bros. J. R. Stewart, C.M., of Lakefield, very ably filled the chair and after the usual opening formalities had been performed, called upon Bros. H. T. Everett and W. G. Hartley for the lecture.

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and confirmed, Worthy County Master Stewart appointed Bros. C. C. Bryan and W. A. Charlton, a committee on finance, and T. A. Young and T. C. Houlden, a committee on credentials.

The credential committee reported the following members present and entitled to sit and vote at the meeting, J. W. Stuart, C.M., 122; J. C. Walden, D.C.M., 321; W. H. G. Armstrong, C.R.S., 98; W. A. Kindred; P. C.M., 98; John A. McWilliams, P.C.M., 98; Jos. Batten, P. C. M., 98; T. A. Young, D.M., 176; R. Wilson, P.D.M., 98; W. G Hartley, W.M., 98; M. Hawley, D. of C., 98; Wm. Jones, P.M., 312; D. Hamilton, P.M., 457; Cpl. J. W. Miller, C.F.S., 98; John H. Briggs, P.D.M. 457; J. A. Armstrong, Dis. Chap., 457; R. N. Boddy, P.M., 98; Wesley Northcote, P.D.M. 1288; A. Carmichael, 1st Com., 98; C. C. Boyce, D.M., Lakefield, Dists., John Mabberry, 1st Com., 457; B. Sibbera, 321; W. J. Charlton 122; A. McCarthy, P.M., 321; George Campbell, 98; Wm. Miles, 98; H. T. Everett, 98; C. McBrien, 457; Wm. J. Hawes, 98; J. Cunningham, 98; J. G. Irvine, 98; W. A. Parker, Dist. Sec., A. Northy, chap., 417; Wm. Watt, R. S., 321; R. Ritchie, W. M., 321, C. Bayen, D.M., 1288; J. Morris, 321; J. Fredisbury, 98; D. Charlton, R.S., 122; B. J. Charlton, Chap., 122, E. W. Northcote, D. of C. 1288; W. J. Charlton, treas., 122; A. Kennedy, 1288; Thos Houlden.

The following resolution of condolence was passed on motion of Bros. W. H. G. Armstrong.

"Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call from this life, our late brother, Robt. Wells, P.C.M., be it, therefore, resolved —That we, the officers and members of this County Orange Lodge, extend to the widow and brother of our late brother, our heartfelt and sincere sympathy in the loss which they have sustained. We fully realize how little we can do to relieve their sorrows but we wish as members of our great brotherhood to place before them the fact that we are willing to obtain their sorrows, and pray that the guiding hand of our Divine Master, may aid them to bear their burden with fortitude and resignation to His divine will, that great parent, who, in His mercy, works all things for the best. We earnestly pray that divine grace will be given them to realize that our separations here are only for a time, and that by God's grace we shall be re-united to part no more, in the heavenly home above, where there shall be no more sorrows, nor pain for God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes.

He has only gone before us,
To the heavenly home on high,
Where we hope to meet our loved ones
Some sweet day, bye and bye.

The Masters in the several lodges in the jurisdiction gave very satisfactory reports of the association. The Keene and Lakehurst lodges having been re-organized lately.

The officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows; J. W. Stuart, C.M., J. C. Walden, D.M., W. A. Kindred, chap., W. H. G. Armstrong, R.S., Cpl. J. W. Miller, F.S., Jos. Batten, treas. W. G. Bartley, D. of C., Wms. Houlden 1st lect., Wm. A. Parker, 2nd lect., Wm. Brunswell, 3rd lect.

The above officers were duly installed by Bro. Jos. Batten, P.C.M., after which the lodge adjourned to meet in the village of Lakefield on the third Tuesday in June.

DETECTIVE MURRAY HERE

Well Known Toronto "Fly Cop" in Town Making Investigations.

Yesterday, Detective Murray, Toronto, whose auto-biographical reminiscences of his career as a sleuth is well and favorably known to many readers, was in the city ostensibly in connection with the death of the infant, as described in former issue of The Times, recently found at Auburn dam.

In connection with a member of the local police force, he visited the place where the infant was found, and conducted investigations regarding the infant's body found there.

The case was reported to the Attorney General's Department by the coroner, and Mr. Murray has been sent here to look into the matter, and if possible solve the mystery connected with it.

He was engaged yesterday in research and it is probable that at the adjourned inquest, which will be held on Thursday, Feb. 15th, he may be able to add something to the evidence which will help to solve the mystery.

It was currently reported last night, however, that the detective's visit was not absolutely disconnected with one of the recent local burglaries.

A UNIONIST ELECTED.

Glasgow, Feb. 8.—Aberdeen University has elected a Unionist to Parliament. The contest was a three-cornered one, the successful candidate being opposed by a Liberal and a Unionist Free Trader.

Big War Between Two Railway Forces

Exciting Time in the Don Valley at the Proposed Intersection of the James Bay and Grand Trunk Lines.

Toronto, Feb. 8.—Wrecked cars, dynamited earthworks, barricades of steel rails and wooden ties, were some of the realistic features of the all day battle for the right of way in the Don Valley, between the organized forces of the James Bay and the Grand Trunk Railway companies.

War was declared three or four months ago, when the Grand Trunk Railway Company backed a huge Hocking Valley coal car, filled with soft coal, up the spur line and dropped it across the route surveyed for the James Bay Railway.

Superintendent Brownlee was in command of the Grand Trunk forces. He admitted that the huge car of soft coal had been placed there, simply to prevent the construction gang from completing the grade.

"No Railway Commission has the power to give a railway right of way across another line that is completed, unless that line consents," declared Mr. Brownlee, as he watched his men laying a temporary track, on which it was proposed to shunt more cars to make the blockade more effective. There were already four cars derailed, or thrown off their trucks, and piled up close to the proposed "diamond."

JAMES BAY FORCES.

The James Bay Railway construction gang was directed in its operations by Mr. R. F. Tate, the divisional engineer, Mr. J. L. Boyd, the resident engineer, and Mr. Ernest Oliver, engineer of the Construction Department. They were assisted by Sheriff's Officer James Savers and Night Constable Ramsden, who were armed with a piece of illegal artillery in the shape of an order from Chief Justice Falconbridge, instructing them to take possession of, and hand over, free of obstruction, to the James Bay Railway, the one hundred feet of right of way through the Valley.

"Yes we have the law on our side," said Mr. G. F. Macdonnell, solicitor for the James Bay people. He arrived on the scene with the engineers.

"The Grand Trunk Railway's tracks at the point are illegal. They had an order of the Board of Railway Commissioners, approving of the spur line, but it has been cancelled so far as it affects our right of way."

DYNAMITED ROADBED.

Unmindful of legal technicalities, the contractors' men on each side continued their operations all afternoon. The track layers of the Grand Trunk were driven off twice by the explosion of dynamite, directly under the proposed line of their temporary railway. When the holes were drilled by the James Bay men into the frozen earth, and the charge and the fuse inserted, the warning "Fire" was the signal for scattering in all directions for cover. There were derisive yells from the sheltered enemy, when the charge missed fire, but when the real explosions occurred, great portions of solid earth were blown hundreds of feet in every direction, leaving a hole in which the end of a freight car could be buried. The James Bay men completed their fortifications by erecting big piles of ties and rails, thereby preventing their opponents from laying down any more rails.

GRAND TRUNK MEN RETIRED.

Finally, the Grand Trunk men were ordered to cease operations and retire.

"We cannot do anything more," said Roadmaster Ferguson, "We will let the lawyers fight it out at the courts."

Grand Trunk detectives were left to watch the position all night. Their orders were to allow the cars to be removed, but not to permit any interference with the Grand Trunk tracks. The James Bay Railway engineers intend to complete their grade across the spur line, and to bury the Grand Trunk tracks if that railway will not remove them. In the meantime the struggle will be continued in the courts.

A HORROR OF THE PAST

SEASICKNESS MAY NOW HAVE TO TAKE A BACK SEAT.

Introduction of Turbine on Steamers is Working Its Elimination.

London, February 7.—The latest hope for greatly diminishing seasickness has sprung from the adoption of the turbine in passenger steamers. Seasickness, being to a considerable extent a nervous and constitutional agitation, can probably never be eliminated from the experiences of ocean travel, but the reports by the captains and medical officers of turbine steamers show that their increased steadiness at sea, the absence of pitching, and the cessation of the terribly disturbing thud of reciprocating engines have banished causes of irritation which prostrated with seasickness scores of passengers not in robust health.

Captain Pritchard, who commands the Cunard liner Carmania, the largest turbine steamer in the world, states that both outward and home on her first trip, just completed, the vessel was subjected to severe tests. She encountered terrific squalls, yet worked smoothly and steadily in the heaviest seas. "In these circumstances," said Captain Pritchard, "seasickness was a physical impossibility."

The Carmania's doctor stated that there were no cases of seasickness to report. This he attributed entirely to the remarkable steadiness of the ship, toward which the turbines contributed their share.

"The stillness on board the Carmania," a passenger writes, "is almost uncanny, and except for a very slight vibration you would fancy yourself in an electric launch instead of a big liner carrying over 1,800 passengers."

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

DON'T DOSE THE STOMACH

Hyomei Cures Catarrh by Breathing Aromatic Healing Air.

You cannot afford to risk permanent loss of health by taking strong drugs into the stomach in the vain hope of curing catarrh of the nose and throat. The only true way of curing catarrhal troubles is by the use of Hyomei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

Hyomei is not a secret remedy, and its formula is given to all reputable physicians. Its base is the famous eucalyptus oil. This is combined with other healing, aromatic gums and balsams, so that when using Hyomei, the air you breathe is filled with germ-killing, health-giving, curative powers. It kills all catarrhal germs and restores the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and lungs to a perfectly healthy condition.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a neat pocket inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei, costs but $1.00, and extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents, making it the most economical method of curing catarrh, as well as the most reliable.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle of Moncton N B., Sends an open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, given me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of this nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

PETERBORO, FEBRUARY 8 1906

CHURCH AND STATE AND SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

We publish below, by request, an article taken from The Canadian Baptist, which should be carefully read by all who take an interest in the welfare of Canada. Our contemporary says:

In these days of much speaking on the subject of Church and State union, and the related subject of separate schools, no word has been heard on the money grants of Parliament to religious bodies in aid of Indian schools throughout Canada. The figures in the following table are compiled from the report of the Department of Indian affairs for the year ending June 30, 1904.

GOVERNMENT GRANTS TO INDIAN SCHOOLS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1904.

Anglican	$ 64,350
Methodist	53,402
Presbyterian	26,112
Roman Catholic	164,116
Salvation Army	300
Undenominational	45,451
Total	$354,152

Anglicans, Methodists, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics and the Salvation Army have been sharers in those grants, and the money has been used by them to sustain schools in connection with their various church missions. Over $300,000 has gone to them, and only $45,000 to undenominational schools, in one year. In the past eighteen years they have received from the Dominion Parliament more than $6,000,000, all of which has been spent to promote the enterprises of the churches.

If it is said that Roman Catholics get as much as all the other churches, it may be said in reply that they are doing more work than all the churches, and also that they have been at it a far longer time; their missionaries to the Indians went with the trapper and the voyageur before the days of the Great Company.

But the matter of how much one church or another may get is not the question. It is the policy of accepting the money of the State to sustain the mission of the church. How do Presbyterians justify it? And how do Methodists? As for Anglicans and Roman Catholics, history tells us where and how they stand; and their voices are not heard in protests at the present hour.

Another instance deserves mention. Before the Confederation of the Provinces various denominational schools in Upper Canada were receiving State aid, Roman Catholic, Methodist, Presbyterian and Anglican. Two or three years after the union their supplies were cut off by an almost unanimous vote of the Ontario Legislature, and until two or three years ago it was not in the power of even a municipality to help a sectarian college with a grant. But a change was quietly introduced into the Municipal Act, and forthwith a Presbyterian college was enabled to get from the city in which it is located (Kingston) a grant of $30,000. Inspired by this example a Methodist college was successful in getting from its city (St. Thomas) a grant of $25,000. Have the Presbyterian Church, whose voice in favor of State aid to church [illegible]. On the contrary, they [illegible] a matter of [illegible] the Methodist [illegible] in open meeting.

[illegible] amendment to the Municipal Act [illegible] such grants are colleges

ed should be repealed, and the Legislature of Ontario should do it this session before another wrong is done.

When this has been done, and when the Indian schools have been nationalized, we shall be glad to hear the voice of Methodists and Presbyterians on the subjects of church and state and separate schools. But until then the incident of the bad woman and casting the first stone at her will be remembered against them.

A SWIM IN ZERO WEATHER

Daring Attempt of G. A. H. Schmidt to Evade the Quarantine Regulations at New York.

New York, Feb. 7.—G. A. Schmidt, a second cabin passenger of the steamer Blucher, from Hamburg, jumped overboard into New York harbor yesterday. Although the temperature was five degrees above zero, and there was a sharp wind throwing a choppy sea into his face, Schmidt swam AWAY from the steamer, avoiding life buoys which were cast to him, and attempting to dodge tug boats which rushed to rescue him.

Schmidt was finally captured by the crew of a quarantine tug and put aboard the Blucher. Apparently he had suffered no bad effects from his swim.

THE HALIFAX GARRISON CHAPEL

Halifax Feb. 7.—The garrison chapel has been handed over to his Lordship Bishop Worrell by the Imperial Government, upon the same terms as those upon which the transfer of the garrison to the Dominion Government was made, viz.; that the chapel be maintained for military purposes only, failing compliance with that condition, it reverts to the Imperial Government.

A Hatter's Trials.

"There are tricks in every trade, you know," said a New York clubman. "Even in retail hat selling many dodges are employed.

"I said to a hatter one day:

"'I don't see how you can afford to keep for nothing all the silk hats you sell.'

"The man nodded at me gravely.

"'We have to do it, sir,' he said. 'The hats would last too long if we didn't.'"

The Last Word.

"Does your wife insist on having the last word?" asked the person who indulges in impertinent questions.

"Not at all," answered Mr. Meekton. "It is quite customary for me to close the conversation with 'very well,' or some such remark, to indicate that I understand what Henrietta intends to convey."

Took the Hint.

"This seems like a sweet dream," he rapturously remarked as he lingered with her at the doorstep.

"It doesn't seem like a dream to me," she replied, "for a dream soon vanishes, you know."

He vanished.

He Knew Her.

"I can't decide," she said, "whether to take the hat or not, but it is just the dearest thing I've seen this season."

"The dearest?" asked the husband, with a sardonic laugh. "Then it's certain that you'll take it."

Nothing New.

"Do you believe in original sin?"

"No; there's no such thing. They've all been used hundreds of times."

Duty puts a clear sky over every man, into which the skylark of happiness always goes singing.—Preston.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

"I am told that you have seen the Matabele under arms to-day," he began, coming straight to the point, as was characteristic of him.

"My servants were killed by them, and my camp was looted about forty miles from this office," replied Andrews, meeting Mr. Maybourne's glance without flinching.

"At what number should you estimate them?"

"Roughly speaking, from what I saw of them from a hill nearly a mile distant, I should say they were probably two thousand strong. They were in full war dress, and from what my servants had hinted to me that morning, I gathered that they are led by one of the king's sons."

"You have no doubt in your mind that they are coming this way?"

"I don't think there's a shadow of a doubt about it, sir. They're probably trying to effect a junction with another impi, and then they'll be ready to receive any troops that may come up against them from the South."

"There's something in that," said Mr. Maybourne, reflectively. "And now I am going to ask you the most important question of all, gentlemen. That is, what's to be done? If we abandon this place, the mine and the buildings will be wrecked for certain. At the best we can only reach the township, where we can certainly go into laager, but in my opinion we shall be even worse off there than we are here. What do you say?"

There could not be any doubt about the matter in my opinion. In the township we should certainly be able to make up a larger force, but our defences could not be made so perfect, while to abandon the mine was as not for which none of us were prepared.

"Very well then," continued Mr. Maybourne, when he had heard that we agreed with him, "in that case the best thing we can do is to form a laager here, and prepare to hold out until the troops that I have been told are on their way up can rescue us. How are we off for arms and ammunition, Wrantford?"

"I will show you," I said, and forthwith led the way through the office into a smaller room at the back. Here I pointed to an arm-rack in which twenty-two Winchester repeating rifles, a couple of Martini-Henrys, and about thirty cutlasses were arranged.

"How many men capable of firing a decent shot can we muster?" asked Mr. Maybourne, when he had overhauled the weapons.

"Nineteen white men, including ourselves, and about half-a-dozen natives."

"And how much ammunition have we?"

"I can tell you in a moment," I answered, taking up a book from the table and consulting it. "Here it is. Two thousand cartridges for the repeating rifles, two hundred for the Martinis, and a thousand for the six revolvers I have in this drawer."

"A good supply, and I congratulate you on it. Now let us get to work. Ring the bell, Mr. Mackinnon, and call all the hands up to the house. I'll talk to them, and when I've explained our position, we'll get to work on the laager."

Ten minutes later every man had been informed of his danger, and was taking his share of work upon the barricades. Wagons, cases, sacks of flour, sheets of iron—everything, in fact, which would be likely to give shelter to ourselves and resistance to the enemy was pressed into our service, while all that would be likely to afford cover to the enemy for a hundred yards or so round the house was destroyed. Every tank that could be utilized was carried to the house and filled with water. The cattle were driven in, and when small earthworks had been thrown up and the stores had been stacked in a safe place, we felt we might consider ourselves prepared for a siege. By nightfall we were ready and waiting for the appearance of our foe. Sentries were posted, and in order that the township might be apprised of its danger and also that the troops who were hourly expected, as Mr. Maybourne had informed us, might know of our peril, a runner was despatched on a fast horse with a letter to the inhabitants.

Having accompanied Mr. Maybourne round the square, and assured myself that our defences were as perfect as the limited means at our disposal would permit, our share of arms was brought from the office and the distribution commenced. A Winchester repeating rifle and a hundred cartridges, a cutlass, and a revolver, were issued to each white man, and after they were supplied the native boys were called up. To our astonishment and momentary dismay only one put in an appearance. The rest had decamped, doubtless considering discretion the better part of valour. Which, however, we saw the small of which they were made this did not trouble us very much.

As soon as every man had received his weapons, and had had his post and his duties pointed out to him, Mr. Maybourne and I left them to their own devices, and went up to the house. The former had told his daughter of our danger, and for this reason I was prepared to find her, if not nervous, at least showing some alarm. But to my amazement I discovered her hard at work preparing a meal for the gentlemen, just as calmly and quietly as if nothing out of the common were occurring. She greeted me with a smile, showed me her puddings boiling on the fire, and pointed to a number of rashers which stood about the table. These were fried with some peculiar-looking fruit; and I enquired what it might be. In answer I was told that was oatmeal and water.

"If we are to fight," said the daughter of war, "you will find it thirsty work. I shall put these rashers with mugs, at convenient places, so that you may sustain your thirst at occasion serves."

I noticed also that she had prepared a large quantity of lint in case it should be required, and had arranged a number of mattresses in the verandah. Her courage put fresh heart into us, as without doubt it did into every one else who saw her. I said her chief ally must never dare the bushes more except to end the campaign that ed that she still had sufficient of the woman left in her to blush with pleasure at the compliment.

"If the enemy were only forty miles away at midday," said Mr. Maybourne as we carried the men's tea out into the open to them, "they ought to be close at hand now. When we've done our meal we'll post extra sentries; for though I do not for a moment expect they'll attack us in the dar, it would never do to allow ourselves to be surprised."

I agreed with him; and, accordingly, as soon as our tea was finished, men were placed not only at the four corners of the laager, but at equal distances between them. The remainder lay down to rest wherever they could make themselves most comfortable. I found myself about the only exception to the rule; and, do what I would, I could not sleep. Having tried for an hour and a half, and found it still impossible, I went across to the verandah and sat down in one of the cane chairs there. I had not been there many moments before I was joined by Agnes, who seated herself beside me. I reproved her for not resting after her labors of the day.

"I could not sleep," she answered. "Brave as you call me, I am far too nervous to rest. Do you really think the enemy will attack us in the morning?"

GREAT DISTRESS IN JAPAN

Many Dying From Famine in Northern Provinces.

Victoria, B.C., February 6.—Advices from Japan by the Empress of Japan say that the famine conditions in North Japan are becoming awful, thousands suffering from starvation. Large numbers of deaths have occurred, and many others are dying. The government is organising relief and foreign committees are distributing rice in the famine districts. One-third of the population of 3,230,000 in the three stricken provinces are in distress.

DIED IN A CELL

Sad End to the Life of James F. Fox, Who Was Arrested Last Night.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—When Dr. Johnston, 35 Elm street, entered a cell in Police station No. 2, at 2.10 yesterday morning he found James F. Fox lying there dead. At 11.30 he had been arrested by P.C. Britton, on Yonge street, too drunk to tell his name or address. At 2.40 in the morning, Sergeant Charlton noticed he was dying, and at once sent for the nearest doctor. The young man was 24 years of age and unmarried. An inquest was held by Coroner Johnston in the Police court yesterday evening.

In accordance with a stipulation of the donor £47,500 of the amount will be expended in providing for the emigration to Canada of deserving working and their families.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 50c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch vein exists on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines now produced $300,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines now averaged about $75 a ton, or about $1200 for every foot of sinking, the value being 4 to 1 in silver.

Ore from the mines running less than $200 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 100 tons of ore has been shipped from these mines, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 100 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are starting in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1200 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from when work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledges by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $25 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500x1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the holder may obtain a crown grant. Before receiving such grant, however, he must have a survey made and open mine thereon, within the time mentioned, unless the land is fit for it.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER MINING claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5. An annual royalty of 2½ per cent. on the output after a certain number of dollars has been taken out.

A free miner may obtain two leases, each of five miles in length for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each mile in length. $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after a certain $10,000.

W. W. CORY,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $35 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winze and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. These groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.80 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization $60,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 50,000 shares. Show us something better.

Dr. Hamilton Cures Rheumatism

You Use His Mandrake and Butternut Pills—He Guarantees Lasting Cure.

Rheumatism begins and ends in the blood which at no time is ever free from poison. But if the kidneys are healthy, they will filter out the wastes and poisons.

In case of rheumatism, the kidneys are not doing their work. As a result poisons crystalize around the joints and cause pain almost akin to torture.

There can be no cure, no permanent relief until the kidneys are stimulated. First get them into working order. For this purpose Dr. Hamilton's Pills excel all other remedies; they heal and strengthen the kidneys as no other poisons depart from the blood and all medicine can do. Once the kidneys are renewed by Dr. Hamilton's Pills the cause of rheumatism disappears.

No Case is Too Chronic to Yield to the Marvellous Influence of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"I spent nearly three years experimenting with rheumatic remedies," writes Geo. K. Sawyer, of Portland. "I had almost given up hope, when I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they completely cured me. No remedy could be better."

You will never regret using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Get a supply today from your druggist. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Insulted Girl Will Not Prosecute.

It is understood that the girl a few nights ago insulted and threatened with criminal assault, in the Ashburnham Cereal Co's yard, will not prosecute the scoundrel, who gave her so bad a scare, owing to her fear of unpleasant notoriety. Whilst sympathising with the girl, much blackguardism as this man is, should not be allowed to go free, but should be given six months, summarily for about ten quarrymen.

Young Conservative Club Notes.

A card party will be held in the commodious apartments of the Young Conservative Club this evening, when the representatives from No. 1 ward will play against the representative experts of the whole city. This will make the third contest in the series and the city representatives hope this time to defeat the Conservatives from No. 1 ward.

On Thursday of next week, Feb. 15th, a reception will be tendered by the members of the club to their lady friends. The gentlemen will provide the refreshments and the ladies will contribute a musical programme.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Y.M.C.A. Debating Club met last night.

—Kingston will likely have a new lodge of Oddfellows.

—Some young men of the city last night held a dance in Forester's Hall.

—The ice is great on the Y.M.C.A. rink, and the boys are enjoying themselves.

—138,164 square feet of concrete walks were laid in Peterboro last summer.

—The Daughters of Erin of St. Andrew's church will hold a concert on the second of March.

—The city of Guelph sets an example in municipal politics, worthy of emulation. They have decided finally to go back to the ward system in election of councillors.

—Rev. Gilbert A. Davidson, vicar of Guelph, will give an illustrated lecture before the Women's Auxiliary of St. John's church on Monday evening next on "Old London."

—And now daily carts laden with thick clear blocks of ice pass through the city, calling up visions of cold drinks, claret cups, and cocktails during the dog days.

—Lee at the O.G.E. Co's Nassau power house on Tuesday, caused a temporary shut down of the machinery in that hive of industry. The wheels at the power house were clogged by the ice.

—Big bargains in games at Times Bookstore. Choice of half a dozen games for only ten cents. Don't be without amusement for the evenings, when ten cents will buy any of the popular games.

—Messrs. W. McIlroy and W. Hunton, respectively ticket agents for the C.P.R. and G.T.R. in this city, attended the meeting held in King Edward Hotel, of the Canadian Ticket Agents Executive Committee.

—There was a large attendance at Jackson Park last night. The skating rink and toboggan slide were well patronized. The company has now 8 toboggans for use at the slide, while many bring their own toboggans.

—Mr. F. W. Doane, local manager of the Bell Telephone Co., was in Port Hope this week. He reports that business in the lakeside town exchange, under the direction of Mr. George F. Jackson, formerly of Peterboro, is flourishing.

—The special services at the Salvation Army barracks this week are being conducted by local members of the Army. Sergeant Mrs. Gadd and Mrs. Payne led the meeting yesterday morning. Under Sergeant-Major Bratten and Bandsman Bowman will have charge tonight. The band will be in attendance.

—This Lakefield council are taking steps towards the purchasing of the electric light plant in that village. As local option goes into effect in that village on May 1st, the council are evidently preparing for more Light—whether to assist in inforcing the law or for the accommodation of more drinks, we have not heard.—Hastings Star.

—Yesterday afternoon three farmers were standing in front of Cottingham's cigar store, looking in the window; "Say," said one resident of Monaghan, who wore a bunch of a insect on his shin. "What the —— kind of a pipe is that there that looks like a mud turtle with his tail curled over his back?" A citizen standing by explained that the pipe in question was one of the new "Torpedo-boat" make. They are quite a curiosity and are made in a new model to prevent tobacco juice entering the mouth-piece.

THE STOVE BURST

Dublin Street Resident's Water Feed Pipe Freeze Up.

Last Friday a Dublin street resident had a mix-up with his kitchen stove that he will probably remember for some time. It seems that shortly after lighting the family range, the whole front of the stove blew clear out and was carried to the wood shed. The cause of this explosion was that the feed pipes supplying the hot water tank had become frozen and the pipes, in conjunction with the stove, not getting their requisite supply of water passing through quickly made steam within. The pressure of the steam became so great that the pipes burst, blowing out the whole front of the stove. The Dublin street citizen has had to make a choice between a new "Happy Home," "Kwick Kooker," "Jap of the Family," and other makes of stoves.

THE LAURIER BANQUET

Peterboro's Representation at the Massey Hall Love Feast.

The following gentlemen from the two ridings of this county, will attend the banquet to be held in Massey Hall Toronto, on Feb 21st, in honor of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, viz., Messrs. Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mr. D. O'Connell, Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, Mr. W. S. Davidson, Mr. O. Leplante, Mr. G. M. Rogers, Mr. F. D. Kerr, and Mr. V. Eastwood, from West Peterboro. Mr. John Lang, ex-M.P., Keene; Mr. John Finlay, M.P., Norwood; Mr. Wm. Miller, Otonabee, and Dr. Robertson, Norwood, from East Peterboro.

A New Grocery.

Mr. Thos. Jewitt, the well-known market gardener, whose place is situated in Otonabee, just to the south of the city has opened a fine new family grocery in the stand recently vacated by Mr. Frank Mason, whose grocer business adjoins, at the corner of Brook and Water streets. Mr. Jewitt has shown good judgment in his choice of a location for this new branch to the extensive number of Peterboro's grocery stores. This stand cannot but draw a large family trade from residents on Hunter, Brock, Water, Murray, Shaughn and other nearby streets, who have not time to go to the George street merchants when in a hurry for goods. Mr. Jewitt has ordered a large assortment of groceries that will shortly be distributed among residents of that neighborhood.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mrs. J. R. Stratton will not receive today.

—Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, Enniscorthy, was in the city yesterday.

—Mr. C. E. Gifford, of Napanee, is registered at the Snowdon House.

—Miss. Susie Anderson has gone to Glen Ewen, Sask., where she will spend some time.

—Mrs. Wilkinson, of Toronto, is in the city visiting Mrs. W. B. Getcher, Sherbrooke street.

—R. J. Dewey who will play St. John's church organ, is a guest at the Snowdon House.

—Mr. R. J. Munro, of the Munro House, is confined to his room with an attack of la grippe.

—Mr. J. G. Fitzgerald, of Toronto, auditor of the Singer Sewing Machine Company is in the city.

—Miss Irene Pentland made her debut yesterday evening at her grand parents' golden wedding.

—Mrs. Torrance Jack of Toronto, well known here, is in the city, the guest of the Snowden House.

—T. G. Chaliden, Winchester; J. Diver, Kingston; Jos. Cohen, W. E. Pilkington, Toronto, A. L. Carscallen, Toronto are guests at the Snowden House.

—Lindsay Post: Mr. C. W. Irvine, of Peterboro, was in town for a few hours. * * Messrs. C. Young and E. Bradburn, of Peterboro, were in town today on business.

—Mr. and Mrs. McHatton of Pittsburg, Pa., have arrived in the city. They are guests at the Queen's Hotel. Mr. McHatton has accepted a responsible position with the Peterboro Tool and Shovel Co.

—Miss Minnie Barker, of Welland, Ont., who was visiting her sister, Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, Aylmer street, has received a telegram apprising her of the death of her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Taylor, of Welland. Mrs. Kennedy accompanied her home.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch yesterday evening celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding by holding an "at home" in the Sons of England Hall. A large number of guests were present.

—Mr. R. L. Choate, who recently left the Examiner's staff to take a position on the Montreal Herald, in the Monday issue of the latter paper had a number of clever cartoons. Mr. Choate is justifying The Times' prognostications of his future success in his new sphere of journalism.

—Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe, who will hold a concert in the Y.M.C.A. Hall here on Tuesday, Feb. 20th, and has been spending a few days in the city, returns to Toronto this morning. Mr. Jolliffe has been engaged as soloist of the Victoria College Glee Club which will shortly hold concerts at Whitby Belleville, and other points.

—Mr. Dewey the new organist of St. John's church, has taken a house at 284 Rubidge street, where he will shortly be prepared to take pupils in music. Mr. Dewey has had seventeen years experience in such work in the old country, and two years on this side of the water. For further particulars see adv. in tomorrow's issue of The Times.

—Ex-councillor Johnathan Smith, of North Monaghan, on Tuesday night, was the honored guest of a surprise party on the part of some Springville Presbyterians. His visitors presented Mr. and Mrs. Smith with a Flattering address and two easy and handsomely upholstered chairs. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will soon take up their residence in this city.

A COLBORNE WEDDING

Miss Alberta Neville Becomes the Bride of Mr. A. L. Chambers, of Milton.

Yesterday a very pretty wedding was celebrated in Colborne, Ont. which is of local interest as the groom, Mr. Albert L. Chambers, is well known here.

Mr. Chambers bride, Miss Alberta Neville, daughter of Mrs. Neville, of Colborne, was charmingly attired in white silk, and carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses.

The ceremony, at which Rev. Mr. Neville of Port Perry, a brother of the bride, officiated, was held in the tastefully decorated drawing room of the bride's mother, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. Among those present was Miss Margaret Chambers, Water St., a sister of the groom.

Miss Jessie Neville, a sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, whilst Mr. Norton Chambers, of Toronto, supported the groom.

The happy couple will reside in Milton, Ont., where Mr. Chambers has recently purchased a thriving baking business.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia, many nervous and general ailments. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and the blood is starved. The whole system then becomes filled with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed as good, and blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, headaches and general breakdown. It is then that heart, liver over plays all symptoms that does it, but poor digestion is the cause. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a pure compound of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for their use. Of these roots, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Queen's root, Blood root, Bitter Root, Alterative and rebuilding agents, Mandrake, Dandelion, and the important popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the outside wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret nostrum when its every ingredient is known all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper. The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

According to the stories told by the land. Last night they left for Port bluejackets, they have had almost no Townsend on the steamer Rolde. shore leave for two months. When the Marblehead came to San Diego three weeks ago, shore leave was expected, but again refused. The bluejackets also complained because they did not have enough fresh vegetables, and because their wages were not forthcoming on pay day. At Pichilinque Bay, the sailors say, while nobody actually refused to man ship, most of them were in so miserly that the job took five days instead of one, and much of the coal, with which the Marblehead was to be charged, was dumped into the sea instead of into the bunkers. Offensive mottoes, it is said, were written on the coal cars. Punishment of various sorts was meted out with liberal hands, and when the vessel arrived at San Diego she brought a thoroughly exasperated crew. The greater number of the men have only three or four months to serve, and they declare they will not re-ship.

The story of the trouble on the Marblehead is obtained wholly from members of the crew; but the versions of the affairs given by them tally closely with each other. Commander Mulligan flatly refused to say a word about the affair, and the other officers are equally reticent.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 9.—Eleven survivors of the wrecked ship, Challenger, tramped and emitted on the coast of Japan, arrived here on the Shinano yesterday. The men were sent to this country by the U.S. Consul at Yokohama. They and Captain Hendersen, master of the Challenger, had been sent to San Francisco, on one of the Oriental liners. All the men bore traces of the experience through which they had passed. For almost a month they had fought the flames on the old wooden hark, and at times the vessel was kept afloat by only the most heroic work on the part of the officers and crew. For days at a time, they were unable to get their reckonings or rest, and when the ship was fatally emitted on the Japanese coast they were almost too exhausted to get ashore. The ship was assailed without the loss of a single life.

Seattle, Wash. Feb. 9.—A tale of drifting 600 miles at the mercy of the sea, covering a period of more than 30 days, is told by Nee Quai, Chinese boy stowaway, rescued from the wrecked steamer Marlborough, in False Bay, on the Alaskan coast.

The Marlborough encountered her three difficulty about 400 miles of Cape Flattery when she suddenly sprang a leak. Work on the pumps was interrupted by sleeping, and for days the boat drifted, while the crew worked night and day with hand buckets to keep the ship afloat. From December 25 to January 20 this work was kept up, and the engineers were go fog able to use the upper boilers. No hail headway was made and then as things were sawed together into a hazardous raft. This gave almost enough headway for steerage room, but not enough to keep the Marlborough from

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE

Oddfellows' Lodge Cor. George and Hunter Streets Visited By the Fire Fiend.

Last night just about the time a majority of our citizens were winding their way home, with thoughts bent on supper, the fire brigade was hastily summoned, and as quickly responded to the call.

It seems that a base-burner stove in the Oddfellows' Lodge, corner of George and Hunter streets, just above Madill's drug store, had become too heated and, either from the refractories of the heat rays from a tin guard behind it, or by direct heat, set fire to the lodge floor.

As Bro. Green, an officer of Peterboro Lodge, I.O.O.F., No. 111, on his way home to supper, went to the lodge room to leave some documents to be used at the meeting of the lodge, last night, he found the large hall full of smoke. He at once turned in an alarm, which was, as noted, quickly responded to by the fire laddies. In some way the over-heated stove had fallen over and set fire to the west end of the lodge, i.e., where the noble grand and secretaries sit.

The firemen quickly extinguished the flames by means of their Babcocks, still the smoke did quite a considerable amount of damage. It is understood that the loss is fully covered by insurance.

A feature of the fire is a story told a Times representative present at the fire, but unable to vouch for its correctness owing to smoke, is the following related by two members of the brigade present.

It seems that two of the fire ladies, known respectively among their associates, as the "Deacon" and "Willie," whilst trying to fight their way through the dense smoke, heard a peculiar noise. "Willie," said the Deacon "what is that?" "I'll bet that's the lodge goat trying to get to fresh air," responded Willie. "Well we must save the poor critter for the lodge's sake," quoth the Deacon. They then fumbled and felt their way through the smoke until both fell over the secretaries desk and landed together on a pile of records.

It might be added that the goat still lives and will be ready for the next batch of candidates for initiation into the mysteries of F.L.T.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD

A New Caretaker to Be Advertised For at Once.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held Wednesday evening, those present being Mr. Joseph Gemlin, chairman, presiding, and Messrs. Henry, Lane, Burns, Berrigan, Lynch, Primeau, Carveth, Murty, and Hinkey. The superintendent, Rev. Father McColl, was also in attendance.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was deferred until another meeting.

The attendance reports for the month of January were presented, being as follows;

	On Roll	Aver.
Lake St. School	169	149
Queen school	272	237
Murray St. School	251	232
Total	792	635

Several accounts were presented and referred to the committee.

A communication was received from Cornelius Ryan applying for the position of caretaker of the new school.—Received.

Moved by Mr. Lynch and seconded by Mr. Murty, that the chairman and secretary-treasurer be authorized to borrow from the Bank of Toronto money to the amount of not exceeding $5,000 until the Board is placed in funds by the city treasurer.—Carried.

The Property Committee was authorized to procure the necessary supplies required for the several schools.

On motion of Mr. Murty, seconded by Mr. Murty, two sisters of the order of St. Joseph were engaged as teachers for the boys' school when opened, it being necessary to have an additional room, the third and fourth forms in the present school being overcrowded.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Lynch and seconded by Mr. Hickey, that when the new school is completed, the caretaker be advertised for, and that the matter be more fully considered at a future meeting.—Carried.

The Board adjourned.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Two cases were on yesterday's police court docket. The first was that of Clarence Shaw, who pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place on Wednesday night. His Worship imposed a fine of $2 and asked, "Have you any money with you?" "No sir, I have not." "Well you can go to jail for ten days." His Worship gave Shaw good warning by saying, "Shaw if you are found drunk again the charge against you will not be that of drunkenness but vagrancy, and I will send you up to the Central for six months. Shaw was escorted by P. C. Stewart to Castle Nesbitt to do his ten spot. By the time he has consumed his maternal meal of poached eggs or toast broiled bacon rashers and buckwheat pancakes, washed down by a half pint of Santerne wine, he will be greeted with another paper of commitment for another ten days in lieu of a $2 fine imposed after a perusal above. Clarence seems to require these "periodicals," but runs them two close together.

Edward Reston, whom, as noted in yesterday's issue, was brought from Norwood on Wednesday evening by P. C. Stewart, on a warrant sworn out by George Forsythe, for non-support, and who had been allowed to go free the same night or promising to appear next morning for trial, was called on. His wife, who was present explained that the matter between her and her husband had been fixed up, and asked the magistrate to dismiss the case.

"Yes," said his Worship, 'that is all very well, but who is going to pay the expenses of an officer going to Norwood, and other incidentals? People seem to think they can use the court for their own purposes, and then get the matter fixed up outside." Mr. Forsythe, complainant in the case appeared, and paid the costs amounting to $6; the case was then dismissed.

OUR INDIAN WARDS

Chemong Indians Were Hosts at an Entertainment Last Night

A crowded bus-load of local citizens last night drove out to the Chemong Lake Indian Reservation, by special invitation, to attend a grand powwow or entertainment in connection with the local Sunday school, given by the Indians of that village. Those who went down to Bridgenorth, and thus took the road across the foe of Chemong Lake, to the village. Here they were welcomed by Chief Dan Watung, and all who went had a grand time, and spent a most enjoyable evening, interspersed with music, both vocal and instrumental and dancing.

Among those invited, and most of whom went to Chemong Indian village, were; Messrs. W. Snowdon, of the hotel of that ilk; M. O. Tooley, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel; A. Blade, T. Rutherford, J. Robinson, Archie Moore, who acted as master of ceremonies, W. Butler, J. Segee, and several others. After having spent a most enjoyable and unique evening, the visitors left at an early hour for home. The party took out two large bundles of presents to distribute among the children.

Merited Appreciation.

A party of tourists traveling on the Canadian Pacific Railway, consisting of Messrs. Theo. B. Grant, First National Bank, Dayton, O.; Oswald Weymouth and V. Taymond, of Bedford, England; John G. Lawrence, of London, England, and Miss Lucy M. Millett, of Toronto, have sent the following laudatory letter to the Company's Superintendent of Sleeping and Dining Cars, Mr. W. A. Cooper:

"We desire to express our appreciation of the very excellent service rendered in your dining and sleeping cars on this train. Our trip from Winnipeg to Montreal has been most enjoyable. The service in the dining car was most excellent, and the politeness of the porter and conductor in charge of the sleeper could not be excelled. We wish your road every success."

This is merited appreciation and shows that the Company leaves nothing undone to provide excellent service at the hands of painstaking employees.

"SPOOK" OF EARL TALKS FROM GRAVE

Publication of Letters from Other World Stirs Comment in Occult Circles.

CONVERTED AFTER DEATH

London, February 8.—It must be uncommonly interesting for a dead statesman, who from the other world is able to read the minds of living ones, to watch the course of political events here on earth. That is what the late Lord Carlingford is doing, if we may believe the letters to mankind which a woman cousin of his declares that she and a professional medium have written from time to time at his dictation.

Some of these letters have just appeared here in Broad Views, a monthly publication devoted to ghosts and occultism, and owing to the eminence of their reputed author the attention which the documents have attracted is not confined to those who believe that the dead can communicate with the living.

It may be recalled that Lord Carlingford, who died eight years ago, was an associate of Gladstone's and a big figure generally in the political world. As Chichester Fortescue he was chief secretary for Ireland in the administration which Gladstone formed in 1868; he was raised to the peerage in recognition of his services in that office, and was made a cabinet minister in the Gladstonian government of 1886. A. P. Sinnot, who edits Broad Views, declares that there is not the slightest doubt that the deceased statesman inspired the remarkable letters which he has just published.

EDITOR HAS FAITH IN LETTERS.

"Soon after his death," said Sinnett, "Lord Carlingford began to communicate, from the other world, with his cousin Mrs. Arthur Nugent, whose own psychic faculties enabled her to become conscious of his presence, and during the six or seven years which since have elapsed the communications, coming over in this way, have constituted for Mrs. Nugent, who knew the author intimately in life, such overwhelming certainty of his actual identity that the whole correspondence, as it now stands, is one of peculiar and entrancing interest."

"It is, indeed; especially that part in which the dead peer declare that the departed politician and statesman who "has been soul-felt and earnest in life still takes an active interest in all his former efforts. But now," he adds, "having the advantage of knowing the minds of both exponents and friends, a deeper and practically livelier interest is aroused."

Lord Carlingford further describes himself as "at one moment absorbed in endeavoring to inspire the thought of an earthly colleague to surely grasp, and then render clearly his thoughts on questions raised—at another, while taking no personal or active part, listening eagerly and delightedly to the expression of thoughts and feelings of men, who, in their wordy wars evolved new thoughts and recalled (unknown to them, but nevertheless stored up) memories and former experiences to their aid and service."

SPIRITS OF INVENTORS BUSY.

In fact, according to Gladstone's former associates, spirits of all kinds still take an interest in matters which engaged their attention on earth. Inventors, for example. For Lord Carlingford says:

"I have seen the inventive genius—say an engineer,, for example—still working at his models in his efforts to produce a more practical machine or article; and I have known that spirit to return to earth and find in the mind of a mortal the clew he (the spirit) required to perfect his own invention. That same spirit I knew had a mortal on earth in affinity with himself, and together (unknown to the mortal) they have worked."

And most people will be interested in hearing that what he has seen in a better world has made Lord Carlingford a believer in the strenuous life.

"It seems to me," he says, "where I now am, that the highest and best spirits are not those who have held pleasant places on earth. They are those who have passed through the fire, who have fought the battle of life and overcome the obstacles in their path. For these you love do not pray for easy lives.

SEES BARRIER TO BROTHERHOOD.

"Here stands before us the result of selfish belief in empty religious forms and ceremonies; mumbled prayers without noble deeds; wasted lives of human beings immured in convents and monasteries, while the golden days of a God-given earth life in which an active part was intended for them are lost. I see stretched out before me such a vast field for labor and man's enlightenment. I see surely, in the far distance, the established brotherhood of man; but today I see that it is the mistaken forms of the worship of God which is the awful barrier between mankind."

And "Lord Carlingford" adds: "I am taught that if frequently happens that the same spirit reincarnates in the same family at intervals, but of this I have not yet had personal experience, neither have I learned that there is a given time or period when a disincarnate spirit must reincarnate and return to earth; but I am told that in cases where the spirit lived on earth the allotted time, say three score years, etc., many centuries elapse of material time ere reincarnation takes place again.

SPIRITS ALWAYS WITH US.

"But, on the other hand, where a child is, let us say perhaps, stillborn or an early death takes place, it frequently, indeed generally, happens that the spirit quickly reincarnates and in the same family.

"I know that there are states infinitely beyond me into which I cannot penetrate at present and there are others so far below that my spirit recoils from the horror and misery.

"I also realize that this spirit world is actually in the midst of the material one. That as spirits and mortals go they, so to speak, rub shoulders.

"I retain my actual personality as when on earth, but am surprised and delighted, to find a wider and unrestricted grasp and understanding of things. I feel as if hitherto I saw as through a glass darkly, now all things are made clearer and purple me no more."

All of which may be commended to the folk who take stock in such manifestations.

OTONABEE MAN MISSING

Mr. Jas. McMartin Last Week Took Logs to Bensfort Bridge and Not Heard of Since.

Considerable worry is being caused among the many friends of Mr. Jas. McMartin, who was engaged last week in taking some logs down the Otonabee to the Bensfort Bridge and has not been heard of since by his friends. He was expected home a couple of days after, but no word of him or his whereabouts have reached his family.

Previous to this, but at another season of the year Mr. McMartin has been away at different times, for as long a period, but now the dangers of his work are much greater.

Mr. McMartin lives on the other side of the Otonabee River, across from the southern terminus of the street railway.

OUR REPORT CRITICIZED

Exception Takes to Our Report of the Board of Education's Last Meeting.

It seems that some members of the Board of Education have taken exception to the report contained in Tuesday's issue of The Times, that was printed of the last meeting of the Board, held on Monday night.

We regret that such a view should have been taken of our article, and also that anything mentioned in this report should have been misconstrued into being intentionally one-sided.

The main contention of those members objecting to our report seems to be that undue prominence should have been given to speeches and remarks made by Mr. Dumble. We simply try to report all meetings as they take place. At this meeting, those present will remember, that in such matters, as Mr. Dumble's name appeared in connection with in our report, he was the most frequent and aggressive speaker.

We have no good reason for supposing that the deliberations of the Board of Education consist in a series of controversies between Mr. Dumble and the remainder of the Board in opposition or vice versa. When one member of any board or council occupies the floor more frequently than any other or others, it is but natural his name will appear in the report of such meeting more frequently.

Exception has also been taken to a letter in our issue of Wednesday, regarding a communication signed "Subscriber," in which the writer somewhat strongly endorses the position taken by Mr. Dumble, at the same meeting referred to above.

It is, or should be, a well understood fact that, outside of matters that might be libellous, a newspaper is never supposed to be responsible for the sentiments expressed by their correspondents. In fact, this very letter contained matters put in a way that The Times does not coincide with, notably his remarks concerning certain members using their influence to unseat Mr. Jas. Stevenson.

Our desire is to give the news as news, impartially, without prejudice and without fear or favor.

BUTTERMILK

A Surer Way Out.

The "buttermilk fad," which its followers insisted was the cure for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, has pretty well had its day.

Buttermilk is a pleasant and healthy drink, but there are a whole lot of desirable things that it cannot do. A Nebr. woman found something much more worth while. She says:

"Three years ago my stomach was in such a frightful condition that I could scarcely bear to take any food at all. Indeed there was once that I went for 14 days without a morsel of nourishment, preferring starvation to the acute agony that I suffered when I ate anything. And all this anguish upon me almost constant headaches and nervousness. My condition was truly pitiable.

"The doctor warned me that the coffee I drank was chiefly responsible for this condition, and ordered me to drink buttermilk instead. But I despised buttermilk and could not bring myself to use it.

"Then I was advised to try Postum Food Coffee. It has completely renovated and made over my whole system. The salutary effect on my poor stomach was simply marvelous, and that straightened out, the headaches, nervousness and other troubles soon vanished. For more than a year I have not felt any distress or pain, such as I once thought would kill me.

"I can truthfully say that Postum has brought me the blessing of the perfect health I enjoy, for I gave up medicines when I began its use." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

The Government's Pulp Woood Policy

Concessions Will be Disposed of by Public Competition to the Highest Bidder---Five Concessions Have Been Cancelled.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The Government has decided upon its pulp wood policy and Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, announced it this morning.

Concessions will be disposed of by public competition, going to the bidder who will offer the largest bonus in addition to the ones which will be fixed by the Minister of Lands and Mines. It is expected that the bonuses alone will yield several hundred thousand dollars to the revenue of the Province.

Coincident with this announcement Mr. Cochrane stated that five pulp concessions which had been granted to companies by the late Government had been cancelled owing to non-fulfillment.

AGREEMENTS CANCELLED.

The agreements cancelled are with the Nepigon Pulp, Paper and Manufacturing Company, made in April, 1900, superseding an agreement entered into in 1898; the Keewatin Power Co., April, 1901; the Montreal River Pulp & Paper Co., March, 1902; the Rainy Lake Pulp & Paper Co.; the Drydek, Ont., Board Mills Co.

These concessions will not be retained in the hands of the Government longer than is necessary to make a public sale, and advertisements will be published immediately, asking for tenders for the concessions in the areas covered by the lapsed agreements.

Large bonuses have already been offered by responsible parties who desire to possess these properties that have just lapsed from the first holders. The dues at the present time are 40 cents per cord on spruce and 10 cents per cord on poplar and jack pine.

NO SMALL TIMBER.

Hereafter concessionaires will not be allowed to cut timber having a diameter of less than eight inches at the stump as against a former reduction of six inches. This will result in added protection to the timber. The boundaries of the various areas will also be strictly defined, and the getting out of timber will be closely supervised by Government officials.

Rangers will guard against fire, and successful tenders will be required to build mills on their respective concessions as was provided for in the old agreements, and to manufacture pulp within the Province. The department will decide as to the amount of capital to be invested, and will control all details.

The areas whose concessions are to be granted are in proximity to the Montreal River, in the Nipissing district; the Nepigon River, in Thunder Bay district; Rainy Lake, Wabigoon River, and Lake of the Woods, all in the Rainy River district.

THE OTTAWA DEPUTATION

ALDERMAN MASON KEPT VERY BUSY GETTING READY.

All Municipalities Along the Route of the Trent Valley Canal will be Represented But Warkworth and Victoria Road.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Ald. E. F. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, and, in such capacity by coloboration of his fellow committee, has been trying hard to secure a large representation from every municipality along the Trent canal route, are meeting with great success. Up to the present time, Ald. Mason has received letters from eleven councils in reply to the circular he sent out about the first of the year, asking that a deputation be appointed to join with the City of Peterboro in its efforts to have the Government complete the canal at once. Of the 11 municipalities heard from, only two have refused to send delegates, the other nine having already appointed the committee to take in the trip to Ottawa, and have forwarded the names to Ald. Mason.

The two councils which will not be represented are Warkworth and Victoria Road. Those which will be represented are;

Lakefield by Reeve F. J. Moore, and Councillors J. W. Cornish, Robt. Duff, R. Carter, Clark W. Sherin and Mr. F. J. Burger.

Port Hope by Mayor T. B. Chalk, and Messrs. Robert A. Mulholland, F. W. Wilson, W. H. Giddy, Barlow Cumberland, J. A. Cotterwell, Dr. L. B. Powers and J. E. Clark.

Barrie by Ald. A. W. Beardsley.

Bayshore by Reeve James Thompson.

Seymour by Reeve F. Peake and Clark J. B. Ferris.

Cannington by Dr. Donald Gillespie.

Township of Sydney by Reeve M. F. Sullivan, Messrs. Geo. Weston, Orville Sills, R. H. Ostrom, Clerk A. M. Chapman. Messrs. E. F. Turley and Wm. A. Rothbourne.

Cobourg by Mayor D. Ewing, Councillors, Harry Field, James Kerr, Thos. Mitchell, C. A. Munson, B. MacAllister, Wm. Pratt, and Messrs. E. C. S. Hayche, K.C., J. D. Hayden, J. B. McColl, M.P., F. M. Field, W. J. Cronin.

Belmont and Methuen township by Reeve Jas. Johnston of Havelock.

The Township of Smith will send the reeve and all the councillors.

Every day more letters are being received and Ald. Mason has every reason to expect that a very large majority of the municipalities will be represented on the deputation. They will go to Ottawa about March 14 or 15.

MR. R. J. WINCH ENTERTAINS

A Golden Wedding Gathering That Was Most Successful.

On Tuesday night, from early evening until the wee sma' hours yesterday morning, Forrestere' Hall, Simcoe street, was a scene of enjoyment, merriment and congratulatory speeches, by the hundred and a half guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch.

As before noted, this pleasant gathering was on invitation of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch, in honor of their golden wedding.

Music was contributed by an orchestra composed of Prof. C. E. Milner, Louis Mundle and Arthur Saw and, while refreshments were served at one end of the long hall by Mr. H. Long.

The gathering was a most representative one, many prominent citizens being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Winch, assisted by several members of their family, as well as by their grandchildren, received the guests. The occasion was not only an interesting and memorable one to Mr. and Mrs. Winch, but it also marked the debut of their grand-daughter, Miss Irene Pentland, who was the recipient of numerous congratulations, which she gratefully acknowledged.

Among the messages received was one from Mr. and Mrs. Winch's son, Mr. R. V. Winch and family, of Vancouver, B.C., which read; "It is with heartfelt feelings and best of good wishes that we congratulate you on this, your golden wedding day."

The invited guests were; Rev. W. J. and Mrs. Jolliffe, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. Stratton, Miss Alberta Gooding, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dumble, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Winch, Rev. THE COMING COAL STRIKE

Resolution Which Forbids any Single District Making a Settlement

Indianapolis, February 8. — The Miners' executive board adjourned yesterday without issuing a formal statement. They will not meet again until after the New York anthracite conference. A resolution was adopted on motion of President Mitchell that no district under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, "whether anthracite, bituminous or block coal, in United States or Canada, shall make any agreement for a scale of wages unless all districts are included." It was said this resolution is designed to prevent any arrangement opposed to including demands of miners in all sections of country.

Tales of the Sea Shipwreck, Mutiny

Mutiny on Board the U.S. Cruiser Marblehead--Awful Fight For Life on Board the Challenger.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 8.—When the U.S. cruiser Marblehead arrived here yesterday, it was learned from certain of her crew that while at Pichilinque Bay several days ago, the men openly shirked work, and Commander Mulligan was forced to read them the articles of war covering mutiny.

According to the stories told by the bluejackets, they have had almost no shore leave for two months. When the Marblehead came to San Diego three weeks ago, shore leave was expected, but again refused. The bluejackets also complained because they did not have enough fresh vegetables, and because their wages were not forthcoming on pay day. At Pichilinque Bay, the sailors say, while nobody actually refused to coal ship, most of them worked so leisurely that the job took five days instead of one, and much of the coal, with which the Marblehead was to be charged, was dumped into the sea instead of into the bunkers. Offensive mottoes, it is said, were written on the coal sacks. Punishment of various sorts was meted out with liberal hands, and when the vessel arrived at San Diego she brought a thoroughly exasperated crew. The greater number of the men have only three or four months to serve, and they declare they will not re-ship.

The story of the trouble on the Marblehead is obtained wholly from members of the crew, but the versions of the affairs given by them tally closely with each other. Commander Mulligan flatly refused to say a word about the affair, and the other officers are equally reticent.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 9.—Eleven survivors of the wrecked ship, Challenger, burned and scuttled on the coast of Japan, arrived here on the Shiyano yesterday. The men were sent to this country by the U.S. Consul at Yokohama. They and Captain Hender son, master of the Challenger, had been sent to San Francisco, on one of the Oriental liners. All the men have traces of the experience through which they had passed. For almost a month they had fought the flames on the old wooden bark, and at times the vessel was kept afloat by only the most heroic work on the part of the officers and crew. For days at a time, they were unable to get their sleep or rest, and when the ship was finally scuttled on the Japanese coast they were almost too exhausted to get ashore. The ship was reached without the loss of a single life.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 9.—A tale of drifting 800 miles at the mercy of the sea, covering a period of more than 30 days, is told by Moo Quoi, Chinese boy steward, rescued from the wrecked ocean tramp, Marchand, in False Bay, on the Alaskan coast.

The Marchand encountered her three difficulty about 400 miles of Cape Flattery when she suddenly sprang a leak. Work on the pumps was interrupted by sleeping, and for days the boat drifted, while the crew worked any bit and day with head bunkers to keep the ship afloat. From December 25 to January 28 this work was to put up, and the engineers were only able to run the upper bellery, the hull headway was made and then the wings were sewed together into a leaky sail. This gave almost enough headway for steerage room, but not enough to keep the Marchand from striking in Chatham Straits in a northwest gale. Thirty-nine members of the crew succeeded in making the shore where they lay for four days almost perishing in the cold, finally being rescued by the Georgia, and taken to Juneau. From there the refugees were taken to this city, where they were not allowed to land. Last night they left for Port Townsend on the steamer Dolphin.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE

Oddfellows' Lodge Cor. George and Hunter Streets Visited By the Fire Fiend.

Last night just about the time a majority of our citizens were winding their way home, with thoughts bent on supper, the fire brigade was hastily summoned, and as quickly responded to the call.

It seems that a base-burner stove in the Oddfellows' Lodge, corner of George and Hunter streets, just above Madill's drug store, had become too heated and, either from the refractories of the heat rays from a tin guard behind it, or by direct heat, set fire to the lodge floor.

As Bro. Green, an officer of Peterboro Lodge, I.O.O.F., No. 111, on his way home to supper, went to the lodge room to leave some documents to be used at the meeting of the lodge, last night, he found the large hall full of smoke. He at once turned in an alarm, which was, as stated, quickly responded to by the fire laddies. In some way the over-heated stove had fallen over and set fire to the west end of the lodge, i.e., where the noble grand and secretaries sit.

The firemen quickly extinguished the flames by means of their Babcocks, still the smoke did quite a considerable amount of damage. It is understood that the loss is fully covered by insurance.

A feature of the fire is a story told a Times representative present at the fire, but unable to vouch for its correctness owing to smoke, is the following related by two members of the brigade present.

It seems that two of the fire ladies, known respectively among their associates, as the "Deacon" and "Willie," whilst trying to fight their way through the dense smoke, heard a peculiar noise. "Whist," said the Deacon "what is that?" "I'll bet that's the lodge goat trying to get to fresh air," responded Willie. "Well we must save the poor critter for the lodge's sake," quoth the Deacon. They then fumbled and felt their way through the smoke until both fell over the secretaries desk and landed together on a pile of records.

It might be added that the goat still lives and will be ready for the next batch of candidates for initiation into the mysteries of F.L.T.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD

A New Caretaker to Be Advertised For at Once.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held Wednesday evening, those present being Mr. Joseph Gosskin, chairman, presiding, and Messrs. Henry, Lane, Burns, Bourrigue, Lynch, Primeau, Carveth, Murty, and Hickey. The superintendent, Rev. Father McColl, was also in attendance.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was deferred until another meeting.

The attendance reports for the month of January were presented, being as follows:

	On Roll	Aver.
Lake St. School	169	149
Convent school	272	239
Murray St. School	251	227
Total	722	635

Several accounts were presented and referred to the committee.

A communication was received from Cornelius Ryan applying for the position of caretaker of the new school.—Received.

Moved by Mr. Lynch and seconded by Mr. Murty, that the chairman and secretary-treasurer be authorized to borrow from the Bank of Toronto money to the amount of not exceeding $6,000 until the Board is placed in funds by the city treasurer.—Carried.

The Property Committee was authorized to procure the necessary supplies required for the several schools.

On motion of Mr. Murty, seconded by Mr. Murty, two sisters of the order of St. Joseph were engaged as teachers for the boys' school when opened, it being necessary to have an additional room, the third and fourth forms in the present school being overcrowded.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Lynch and seconded by Mr Hickey, that when the new school is completed, the caretaker be advertised for, and that the matter be more fully considered at a future meeting.—Carried.

The Board adjourned.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Two cases were on yesterday's police court docket. The first was that of Clarence Shaw, who pleaded guilty to being drunk in a public place on Wednesday night. His Worship imposed a fine of $2 and asked, "Have you any money with you?" "No sir, I have not." "Well you can go to jail for ten days." His Worship gave Shaw good warning by saying, "Shaw if you are found drunk again the charge against you will not be that of drunkenness but vagrancy, and I will send you up to the Central for six months." Shaw was escorted by P. C. Stewart to Castle Nesmith to do his ten spot. By the time he has consumed his matutinal meal of poached eggs or toast broiled bacon rashers and buckwheat pancakes, washed down by a half pint of Sauterne wine, he will be greeted with another paper of commitment for another ten days in lieu of a $2 fine imposed after a previous spree. Clarence seems to require these "periodicals," but runs them two at a time together.

Edward Renton, whom, as noted in yesterday's issue, was brought from Norwood on Wednesday evening by P. C. Stewart, on a warrant sworn out by George Forsythe, for non-support, and who had been allowed to go free the same night on promising to appear next morning for trial, was called on. His wife, who was present explained that the matter between her and her husband had been fixed up, and asked the magistrate to dismiss the case.

"Yes," said his Worship, "that is all very well, but who is going to pay the expenses of an officer going to Norwood, and other incidentals? People seem to think they can use the court for their own purposes, and then get the matter fixed up outside." Mr. Forsythe, complainant in the case appeared, and paid the costs amounting to $8; the case was then dismissed.

OUR INDIAN WARDS

Chemong Indians Were Hosts at an Entertainment Last Night

A crowded tram-load of local citizens last night drove out to the Chemong Lake Indian Reservation, by special invitation, to attend a grand powwow or entertainment in connection with the local Sunday school, given by the Indians of that village. Those who went down to Bridgenorth, and there took the road across the ice of Chemong Lake, to the village. Here they were welcomed by Chief Dan Wetung, and all who went had a grand time, and spent a most enjoyable evening, interspersed with music, both vocal and instrumental and dancing.

Among those invited, and most of whom went to Chemong Indian village, were; Messrs. W. Scrowden, of the hotel of that ilk; M. O. Tooley, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel; A. Blade, T. Rutherford, J. Robinson, Archie Moore, who acted as master of ceremonies, W. Butler, J. Segue, and several others. After having spent a most enjoyable and unique evening the visitors left at an early hour for home. The party took out two large bundles of presents to distribute among the children.

Merited Appreciation.

A party of tourists traveling on the Canadian Pacific Railway, consisting of Messrs. Theo. B. Grant, First National Bank, Dayton, O.; Oswald Weymouth and V. Taymond, of Bedford, England; John G. Lawrence, of London, England, and Miss Lucy M. Millett, of Toronto, have sent the following laudatory letter to the Company's Superintendent of Sleeping and Dining Cars, Mr. W. A. Cooper:

"We desire to express our appreciation of the very excellent service rendered in your dining and sleeping cars on this train. Our trip from Winnipeg to Montreal has been most enjoyable. The service in the dining car was most excellent, and the politeness of the porter and conductor in charge of the sleeper could not be excelled. We wish your road every success."

This is merited appreciation and shows that the Company leaves nothing undone to provide excellent service at the hands of painstaking employees.

"SPOOK" OF EARL TALKS FROM GRAVE

Publication of Letters from Other World Stirs Comment in Occult Circles.

CONVERTED AFTER DEATH

London, February 8.—It must be uncommonly interesting for a dead statesman, who from the other world is able to read the minds of living ones, to watch the course of political events here on earth. That is what the late Lord Carlingford is doing, if we may believe the letters to mankind which a woman cousin of his declares that she and a professional medium have written from time to time at his dictation.

Some of these letters have just appeared here in Broad Views, a monthly publication devoted to ghosts and occultism, and owing to the eminence of their reputed author the attention which the documents have attracted is not confined to those who believe that the dead can communicate with the living.

It may be recalled that Lord Carlingford, who died eight years ago, was an associate of Gladstone's and a big figure generally in the political world. As Chichester Fortescue he was chief secretary for Ireland in the administration which Gladstone formed in 1868; he was raised to the peerage in recognition of his services in that office, and was made a cabinet minister in the Gladstonian government of 1880. A. P. Sinnot, who edits Broad Views, declares that there is not the slightest doubt that the deceased statesman inspired the remarkable letters which he has just published.

EDITOR HAS FAITH IN LETTERS.

"Soon after his death," said Sinnott, "Lord Carlingford began to communicate, from the other world, with his cousin Mrs. Arthur Nugent, whose own psychic faculties enabled her to become conscious of his presence, and during the six or seven years which since have elapsed the communications, coming over in this way, have constituted for Mrs. Nugent, who knew the author intimately in life such overwhelming certainty of his actual identity that the whole correspondence, as it now stands, is one of peculiar and entrancing interest."

"It is, indeed; especially that part in which the dead peer declare that the departed politician and statesman who "has been soul-felt and earnest in life still takes an active interest in all his former efforts. But now," he adds, "having the advantage of knowing the minds of both opponents and friends, a deeper and practically livelier interest is aroused."

Lord Carlingford further describes himself as "at one moment absorbed in endeavoring to inspire the thought of an earthly colleague to surely grasp, and then render clearly his thoughts on questions raised—at another, while taking no personal or active part, listening eagerly and delightedly to the expression of thoughts and feelings of men, who, in their wordy wars evolved new thoughts and recalled (unknown to them, but nevertheless stored up) memories and former experiences to their aid and service."

SPIRITS OF INVENTORS BUSY.

In fact, according to Gladstone's former associates, spirits of all kinds still take an interest in matters which engaged their attention on earth. Inventors, for example. For Lord Carlingford says:

"I have seen the inventive genius—say an engineer,—for example—still working at his models in his efforts to produce a more practical machine or article; and I have known that spirit to return to earth and find in the mind of a mortal the clew he (the spirit) required to perfect his own invention. That same spirit I knew had a mortal on earth in affinity with himself, and together (unknown to the mortal) they have worked."

And most people will be interested in hearing that what he has seen in a better world has made Lord Carlingford a believer in the strenuous life.

"It seems to me," he says, "where I saw dim, that the highest and best spirits are not those who have held pleasant places on earth. They are those who have passed through the fire, who have fought the battle of life and overcome the obstacles in their path. For those you love do not pray for easy lives.

SEES BARRIER TO BROTHERHOOD.

"Here stands before us the result of selfish belief in empty religious forms and ceremonies; assembled prayers without noble deeds; wasted lives of human beings immured in convents and monasteries, while the golden days of a God-given earth life in which an active part was intended for them are lost. I see stretched out before me such a vast field for interest and man's enlightenment. I see surely, in the far distance, the established brotherhood of man; but today I see that it is the mistaken forms of the worship of God which is the awful barrier between mankind."

And "Lord Carlingford" adds: "I am taught that if frequently happens that the same spirit reincarnates in the same family at intervals, but of this I have not yet had personal experience, neither have I learned that there is a given time or period when a discarnate spirit must reincarnate and return to earth; but I am told that in cases where the spirit lived on earth the allotted time, say three score years, etc., many centuries elapse of material time ere reincarnation takes place again.

SPIRITS ALWAYS WITH US.

"But, on the other hand, where a child is, let us say perhaps, stillborn or an early death takes place, it frequently, indeed generally, happens that the spirit quickly reincarnates and in the same family.

"I know that there are states infinitely beyond me into which I cannot penetrate at present and there are others so far below that my spirit recoils from the horror and misery.

"I also realise that this spirit world is actually in the midst of the material one. That as spirits and mortals go they, so to speak, rub shoulders.

"I retain my actual personality as when on earth, but am surprised and delighted to find a wider and unrestricted grasp and understanding of things. I feel as if hitherto I saw as through a glass darkly, now all things are made clearer and puzzle me no more."

All of which may be commended to the folk who take stock in such manifestations.

OTONABEE MAN MISSING

Mr. Jas. McMartin Last Week Took Logs to Beaufort Bridge and Not Heard of Since.

Considerable worry is being caused among the many friends of Mr. Jas. McMartin, who was engaged last week in taking some logs down the Otonabee to the Beaufort Bridge and has not been heard of since by his friends. He was expected home a couple of days after, but no word of him or his whereabouts have reached his family.

Previous to this, but at another season of the year Mr. McMartin has been away at different times, for as long a period, but now the dangers of his work are much greater.

Mr. McMartin lives on the other side of the Otonabee River, across from the southern terminus of the street railway.

OUR REPORT CRITICIZED

Exception Taken to Our Report of the Board of Education's Last Meeting.

It seems that some members of the Board of Education have taken exception to the report contained in Tuesday's issue of The Times, that we printed of the last meeting of the Board, held on Monday night.

We regret that such a view should have been taken of our article, and also that anything mentioned in this report should have been misconstrued into being intentionally one-sided.

The main contention of those members objecting to our report seems to be that undue prominence should have been given to speeches and remarks made by Mr. Dumble. We simply try to report all meetings as they take place. At this meeting, those present will remember, that in such matters, as Mr. Dumble's name appeared in connection with in our report, he was the most frequent and aggressive speaker.

We have no good reason for supposing that the deliberations of the Board of Education consist in a series of controversies between Mr. Dumble and the remainder of the Board in opposition or vice versa. When one member of any board or council occupies the floor more frequently than any other or others, it is but natural his name will appear in the report of such meeting more frequently.

Exception has also been taken to a letter in our issue of Wednesday, regarding a communication signed "Subscriber," in which the writer somewhat strongly endorses the position taken by Mr. Dumble, at the same meeting referred to above.

It is, or should be, a well understood fact that, outside of matters that might be libellous, a newspaper is never supposed to be responsible for the sentiments expressed by their correspondents. In fact, this very letter contained matters put in a way that The Times does not coincide with, notably his remarks concerning certain members using their influence to unseat Mr. Jas. Stevenson.

Our desire is to give the news as news, impartially, without prejudice and without fear or favor.

BUTTERMILK

A Saner Way Out.

The "buttermilk fad," which its followers insisted was the cure for all the ills that human flesh is heir to, has pretty well had its day.

Buttermilk is a pleasant and healthy drink, but there are a whole lot of desirable things that it cannot do. A Kent woman found something much more worth while. She says:

"Three years ago my stomach was in such a frightful condition that I could scarcely bear to take any food at all. Indeed there was once that I went for 14 days without a morsel of nourishment, preferring starvation to the acute agony that I suffered when I ate anything. And all this entailed upon me almost constant headaches and nervousness. My condition was truly pitiable.

"The doctor warned me that the coffee I drank was chiefly responsible for this condition, and ordered me to drink buttermilk instead. But I despised buttermilk and could not bring myself to use it.

"Then I was advised to try Postum Food Coffee. It has completely revolutionized and made over my whole system. The salutary effect on my poor stomach was simply marvelous, and that straightened out, the headaches, nervousness and other troubles soon vanished. For more than a year I have not felt any distress or pain, such as I once thought would kill me.

"I can truthfully say that Postum has brought me the blessing of the perfect health I enjoy, for I gave up medicines when I began its use." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

The Government's Pulp Woood Policy

Concessions Will be Disposed of by Public Competition to the Highest Bidder---Five Concessions Have Been Cancelled.

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The Government has decided upon its pulp wood policy and Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Lands and Mines, announced it this morning.

Concessions will be disposed of by public competition, going to the bidder who will offer the largest bonus in addition to the ones which will be fixed by the Minister of Lands and Mines. It is expected that the bonuses alone will yield several hundred thousand dollars to the revenue of the Province.

Coincident with this announcement Mr. Cochrane stated that five pulp concessions which had been granted to companies by the late Government had been cancelled owing to non-fulfillment.

AGREEMENTS CANCELLED.

The agreements cancelled are with the Nepigon Pulp, Paper and Manufacturing Company, made in April, 1900, superseding an agreement entered into in 1898; the Keewatin Power Co., April, 1901; the Montreal River Pulp & Paper Co., March, 1902; the Rainy Lake Pulp & Paper Co.; the Drydem, Ont., Board Mills Co.

These concessions will not be retained in the hands of the Government longer than is necessary to make a public sale, and advertisements will be published immediately, asking for tenders for the concessions in the areas covered by the lapsed agreements.

Large bonuses have already been offered by responsible parties who desire to possess these properties that have just lapsed from the first holders. The dues at the present time are 40 cents per cord on spruce and 10 cents per cord on poplar and jack pine.

NO SMALL TIMBER.

Hereafter concessionaires will not be allowed to cut timber having a diameter of less than eight inches at the stump as against a former reduction of six inches. This will result in added protection to the timber. The boundaries of the various areas will also be strictly defined, and the getting out of timber will be closely supervised by Government officials.

Rangers will guard against fire, and successful tenders will be required to build mills on their respective concessions as was provided for in the old agreements, and to manufacture pulp within the Province. The department will decide as to the amount of capital to be invested, and will control all details.

The areas where concessions are to be granted are in proximity to the Montreal River, in the Nipissing district; the Nepigon River, in Thunder Bay district; Rainy Lake, Wabigoon River, and Lake of the Woods, all in the Rainy River district.

THE OTTAWA DEPUTATION

ALDERMAN MASON KEPT VERY BUSY GETTING READY.

All Municipalities Along the Route of the Trent Valley Canal will be Represented But Warkworth and Victoria Road.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Ald. E. F. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, and, in such capacity by comberation of his fellow committee, has been trying hard to secure a large representation from every municipality along the Trent canal route, are meeting with great success. Up to the present time, Ald. Mason has received letters from eleven councils in reply to the circular he sent out about the first of the year, asking that a deputation be appointed to join with the City of Peterboro in its efforts to have the Government complete the canal at once. Of the 11 municipalities heard from, only two have refused to send delegates, the other nine having already appointed the committee to take in the trip to Ottawa, and have forwarded the names to Ald. Mason.

The two councils which will not be represented are Warkworth and Victoria Road. Those which will be represented are;

Lakefield by Reeve F. J. Moore, and Councillors J. W. Cornish, Robt. Duff, R. Carter, Clerk W. Sherin and Mr. F. J. Burger.

Port Hope by Mayor T. B. Chalk, and Messrs. Robert A. Mulholland, F. W. Wilson, W. H. Giddy, Barlow Cumberland, J. A. Cawerwell, Dr. L. B. Powers and J. E. Clark.

Bailey by Ald. A. W. Beardsley.

Havelock by Reeve James Thompson.

Seymour by Reeve F. Peake and Clerk J. B. Ferris.

Cavanington by Dr. Donald Gillespie.

Township of Sydney by Reeve M. F. Sullivan, Messrs. Geo. Weston, Orville Sills, B. H. Ostrom, Clerk A. M. Chapman, Messrs. E. F. Turley and Wm. A. Estabrooks.

Cobourg by Mayor D. Ewing, Councillors, Harry Field, James Kerr, Thos. Mitchell, C. A. Munsson, B. McAllister, Wm. Pratt, and Messrs. E. C. S. Hayelis, K.C., J. D. Hayden, J. B. McCull, M.P., F. M. Field, W. J. Cronsis.

Belmont and Methuen townships by Reeve Jas. Johnston of Havelock.

The Township of Smith will send the reeve and all its councillors.

Every day more letters are being received and Ald. Mason has every reason to expect that a very large majority of the municipalities will be represented on the deputation. They will go to Ottawa about March 14 or 15.

MR. R. J. WINCH ENTERTAINS

A Golden Wedding Gathering That Was Most Successful.

On Tuesday night, from early evening until the wee small hours yesterday morning, Forresters' Hall, Simcoe street, was a scene of enjoyment, merriment and congratulatory speeches, by the hundred and a half guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch.

As before noted, this pleasant gathering was on invitation of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Winch, in honor of their golden wedding.

Music was contributed by an orchestra composed of Prof. C. E. Milner, Louis Mundle and Arthur Seward, while refreshments were served at one end of the long hall by Mr. H. Long.

The gathering was a most representative one, many prominent citizens being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Winch, assisted by several members of their family, as well as by their grandchildren, received the guests. The occasion was not only an interesting and memorable one to Mr. and Mrs. Winch, but it also marked the debut of their grand-daughter, Miss Irene Pentland, who was the recipient of numerous congratulations, which she gratefully acknowledged.

Among the messages received was one from Mr. and Mrs. Winch's son, Mr. R. W. Winch and family, of Vancouver, B.C., which read; "It is with heartfelt feelings and best of good wishes that we congratulate you on this, your golden wedding day."

The invited guests were; Rev. W. J. and Mrs. Jolliffe, Hon. J. R. Stratton, Mrs. Stratton, Miss Alberta Gooding, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Dumble, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wimsh, Rev. THE COMING COAL STRIKE

Resolution Which Forbids any Single District Making a Settlement

Indianapolis, February 8. — The Miners' executive board adjourned yesterday without issuing a formal statement. They will not meet again until after the New York anthracite conference. A resolution was adopted on motion of President Mitchell that no district under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, "whether anthracite, bituminous or block coal, in United States or Canada, shall make any agreement for a scale of wages unless all districts are included." It was said this resolution is designed to prevent any arrangement unless it includes demands of miners in all sections of country.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well.

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

ELECTRIC POWER AND ITS BEARING ON FARM WORK

Prof. Dean, in the course of his address before the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Convention in Peterboro, expressed the opinion that the milking machine and electric power combined will revolutionize the dairying industry of Ontario. Electrical energy drawn from the power wires, which are beginning to thread the country, will, he believes, be used to cut and chop the feed for the cows, and to drive the machines which will supplant hand work as a means of drawing milk from the animals. Prof. Dean does not expect that each dairy farmer will have his own electric milking machine, but he expects to see two or three farmers co-operate in the purchase of an outfit, and the cows of the co-operators will be driven to a central point to be milked by experts.

There is nothing extravagant in the prediction that electrical energy will be applied to many lines of farm work, says the Farmers' Sun, in fact, development along this line is among the certainties of the future. Ontario living along the lines of wires used for the transmission of power undoubtedly will use this energy for lighting as well as for the operation of the straw cutter, pulper, threshing machine and grain crusher. We believe eventually they will utilize it for plowing, as is already being done in Italy. It hardly seems possible, however, that Prof. Dean's prediction of central milking stations, to which the cows of two or three neighbors are to be driven for the purpose of being milked, will be made good. That plan might not be at all practicable in a winter such as the last two. The milking machine is certainly coming, but it will be used by single dairy farmers, whose herds run into fifty or beyond.

The point to be chiefly emphasized in all this is that the electric problem is not solely a city question; it is a farmer's question as well, and farmers as well as people living in large centres should join in taking such measures as will insure that the electrical development now going on shall be so controlled that they will be made to serve the general good rather than to pile up immense fortunes for the few.

AN AGREEMENT REACHED

C.P.R. Trainmen and Officials Revising Schedules.

Montreal, February 7.—Representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway trainmen were conferring yesterday and today with General Superintendent Charns with regard to the drawing up of a new schedule of wages, and an agreement has been reached, in which the schedule will be based.

The old schedule was made in 1903, and was subject to change or cancellation by sixty days' notice from either party to it. In November last the trainmen gave notice that increases would be applied for, and negotiations to this end have now been in progress for some weeks.

HOCKEY.

A despatch from Brockville, practically confirming our notice in yesterday's issue, says:

Peterboro, Invincibles' next opponents in the play-off for the O.H.A. intermediate championship, has a team which can give any of the senior O.H.A. teams a chase. This will not daunt the Invincibles, however, and they will go after the championship with greater energy than ever. They are practicing hard with the Federals, and will be in the pink of condition for the first game here on Friday night.

CURLING.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Brock street rink, as well as the regular curlers' rink on Charlotte street, has been secured for the third annual Bonspiel held by the local curling club, on Tuesday, Feb. 13th. This will give the Bonspiel 10 places in which to wield the stones and besom.

Two competitions are on the program, viz., the primary competition with a total value of $76 and $81 respectively. Fourteen ends will be played in both events, and, starting at 1.30 o'clock, the games will be governed by the Ontario Curling Association rules. All entries should be made with the secretary, Mr. J. S. Knapman, not later than Monday, Feb. 12th.

It is expected that a large number of rinks will be entered from curling clubs in surrounding towns, and there is every prospect of this being a new Ling success. The secretary and management committee are working hard, and they will neglect no detail in connection therewith.

Following are the prizes offered;

Primary competition—1st prize, four solid leather suit cases, value $44, second prize, four solid gold locketa, value, $32.

Consolation Competition — First prize, four hand bags, value, $30 second prize, four cut glass bowls, value, $26; third prize, four sets of carvers, value, $18; fourth prize, four boxes of cigars, value, $10.

Winnipeg Free Press: While Manitoba and the sister western provinces have long since established their prowess, "while besoms and stanes," formidable rivlas and worthy foemen are assured this year from distant points. Of these the crack Brickland rink from Dawson must receive particular consideration, because of the enviable record it is making at Brandon. Then there is the famous Rennie rink of Toronto, a quartette which has made a reputation in Ontario, which even that true friend of all western curlers, Flavelle, of Lindsay, cannot surpass. All will be more than glad to welcome the Lindsay gallants back, especially as they are strongly reinforced this year. The same warm welcome will be extended to the Chatham, Waterloo and other Ontario visitors. And then there is our old friend, Dunbar, the champion of champions, who will be up from the saintly city with a stronger rink than ever, and unless all the signs are wrong, Robert promises to be somewhere adjacent when the distribution of jewellery takes place.

All in all, the eighteenth annual bonspiel promises to be the greatest that has been.

COURT OF REVISION

TAKE NOTICE that the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough has constructed a sewer on Water street between Smith street and Hilliard street, and intends to assess a portion of the final cost thereof upon the real property to be immediately benefited thereby fronting or abutting upon the said part of the said street. A statement showing the land liable to and proposed to be specially assessed for the said work, and the names of the owners thereof, so far as the same can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll and otherwise is now filed in the office of the Clerk of the Municipality and is open for inspection during office hours. The cost of the work is $1,838.60 of which $367.72 is to be provided out of the general funds of the municipality.

A COURT OF REVISION will be held on the 22nd day of February, 1906

at the hour of 8 o'clock in the evening at the City Council Chambers, for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed assessment or the accuracy of frontage measurements or any other complaints which the persons interested may desire to make and which is by law cognizable by the Court.

Dated at Peterborough the 8th day of February, 1906.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

"Not knowing their plans, I cannot say," I replied, "but I must confess it looks terribly like it."

"In that case I want you to promise me something, Gilbert."

"What is it?" I asked. "You know there is nothing I would not do for you, Agnes. What am I to promise?"

"That if we are overpowered you will not let me fall into their hands alive. You may think me a coward, but I dread that more than any thought of death."

"Hush! You must not talk like that. Have no fear, we will not let you fall into their hands. You know there is not a man upon the mine who would not give his life for you."

She leaned a little forward and looked into my face. "I know you would protect me, would you not?"

"Wait and see. The man who touches you, Agnes, will have to do it over my dead body. Do you know that to-night, for some reason or other, I feel more superstitious than I have ever done before. I can't rid myself of the thought that I am near the one vital crisis of my life."

"What do you mean, Gilbert? You frighten me."

"I cannot tell you what I mean, for I don't know myself. I think I'm what the Scotch call 'fey.'"

"I have prayed to God for you," she said. "He who has protected us before will do so again. Let us do our duty and leave the rest to Him."

"Amen to that," I answered solemnly; and then with a whispered "good-night" she got up and went into the house again.

Hour after hour I sat on in the verandah, as much unable to sleep as I had been at the beginning. At intervals I made a circuit of the sentries, and convinced myself that no man was sleeping at his post, but for the greater part of the time I sat staring at the winking stars. Though I searched the open space outside the hanger over and over again, not a sign of the enemy could I discover. If they were there, they must have been keeping wonderfully quiet. The sighing of the breeze in the long veldt grass was the only sound that I could distinguish.

I heard the clock in the house behind me strike one, two, and then three. By the time the last hour sounded, it was beginning to grow light. From where I sat in the verandah, I could just discern the shadowy outline of the wagons, and distinguish the figures of the sentries as they paced to and fro at their posts.

Thinking it was time to be astir, I rose from my chair and went into the house to help Agnes by lighting the fire for her, and putting the kettle on to boil.

I had just laid the sticks, and was about to set a match to them, when a shot rang out on the northern side of the laager. It was immediately followed by another from the south. I waited to hear no more, but snatched up my rifle from the table and ran out into the open. Before I had crossed the verandah, shots were being fired in all directions, and on reaching my post, I discovered a black crowd advancing at a run towards us.

"Steady men, steady," I heard Mr. Mayhurne shout as he took up his station. "Don't lose your heads, whatever you do. Keep under cover, and don't fire till you're certain your shot will tell."

The words were hardly out of his mouth before the enemy were upon us, brandishing their assegais and shields, and yelling in a manner that would have chilled the blood of the oldest veteran. It was the first time I had ever fired a shot at my fellow men, and for the moment I will confess to feeling afraid. However, that soon passed, and I found myself taking aim, and firing as coolly as the best of them. Though I was hardly conscious then I had pulled the trigger, I saw the man directly in front of me—a fine, tall fellow with a nodding head-dress of feathers—suddenly throw up his arms and fall forward on his face, tearing at the ground with his hands in his death agony. But I was not able to do more than glance at him before two others were upon me. This time I fired with more deliberation than before, with the result that both went down, one after the other, like ninepins. Then for what seemed a year, but must in reality have been about three minutes, I continued to fire, depressing the finger lever between each shot and tipping out the empty cartridge with automatic regularity. In front of my defences a ghastly pile of bodies was fast accumulating, and by craning my neck to right and left, I could discern similar heaps before the shelters of my next-door neighbours.

This desire to ascertain how my friends were getting on was, however, nearly my undoing; for if I had been more intent upon my own concerns, I should have seen a man wriggling along on the ground towards me. Just however, as he was about to hurl his assegai I caught sight of him, and brought my rifle to the shoulder. Seeing this, he rose to his feet with a jump, and hurled his spear. It dashed with the quickness of lightning, and heard it whirling through the air whizz behind me. At the same instant I covered him and pulled the trigger. To my horror the rifle did not go off. I had fired my nine shots, and the magazine was empty. But my wits did not desert me for long. Before the savage had time to clamber on to the wheel and raise his knob-kerrie, I was within striking distance, and, swinging my rifle by the barrel high into the air, brought the butt down upon his head with a crash that might have been heard yards away. It crushed in his skull like an egg-shell, and he fell like a log and never moved again.

As he went down a sudden peace descended upon the field, and for a moment or two every man wondered what had happened. The smoke quickly cleared away, and when it did we saw that the foe had retired. I accordingly clambered back to my old position, and looked about me. My throat was like a lime kiln, and my eyes were dry as dust. But I was not going to take any refreshment, though a bucket stood quite close to me, until I had reported the state of affairs. I crossed to the bucket, filled the mug and drank its contents with a relish such as I had never known in my life before. When I had handed it to another man, I turned about, and endeavored to take stock of our company. From where I stood I could see two men stretched out upon the ground. The one nearest me I knew instantly. It was Mackinnon, and a single glance was sufficient to tell me that he was dead. The other I could not for the moment identify. Mr. Maybourne, I was relieved to see, was where—save for a wound on his left hand, which he explained he had received in a hand-to-hand encounter in his corner.

"We've taught the brutes a lesson in all conscience," he said. "I don't fancy they'll be so eager next time. How many men have we lost?"

In order to find out, we walked quickly round our defences, encouraging the garrison as we went, and bidding them replenish the magazines of their rifles while they had the chance.

DEAD MAN COMES TO LIFE

Watchers at Side of Supposed Corpse Are Surprised.

Rome, February 7.—A man named Giovanella, residing at Magherno, near Povia, who had for a long time suffered from an affection of the heart, was supposed to have died suddenly. He was a bachelor and lived alone. Neighbors agreed to watch the body in turn, and candles were lit and placed around the bed. When the body was about to be put into the coffin the supposed dead man rose up and was astounded to see so many people and lights about him. The people present escaped, attack with terror. Signor Giovanella was soon quite well, and later went out for a walk.

Union Leaders Condemned.

St. Louis, February 7.—The final report of the December grand jury today, submitted to Circuit Judge Withrow, condemned labor union leaders for alleged intimidation of workmen engaged under contract on building work. To prevent such practices, revision of the statutes regarding conspiracy, extortion, intimidation and restraint of trade was recommended, as well as a law requiring labor unions to incorporate.

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 50c. per share for development work. This property is just 1500 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch tale runs on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $675 a ton, or about $135 for every foot of sinking, the veins being 4 x 7 in size.

Ore from the mines running less than $200 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. We have then 100 tons of ore just been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the veins. Another shipment of 40 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1500 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

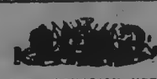
SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.



SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district to which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 570 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzes and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.00 to $14.00 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Diseases of Women

OFTEN DUE TO

Deranged Kidneys

When the Kidneys Are Weak It is Impossible for Any Woman to be Happy or Healthy.

If the girls and women who are silently suffering with what they suppose is "female trouble," would look to their kidneys they would soon find the source of their ill-health.

The kidneys are very closely allied with the female organs and if the vitality of the kidneys is in any way impaired, great suffering is sure to ensue.

No better medicine is known for the kidneys than Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Buttermilk; they stimulate and strengthen the kidneys and thereby assist the other organs to do nature's work. Instant benefit and perfect cure are guaranteed in every case.

Sufferer, don't wait, begin treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they will cure you as they did Mrs. A. B. Coburn, a well-known resident of the town of Portland. Read her experience:

"For two years past I have been sickly and weak. My color was dull and sallow, and I felt exhausted and weary, as if all my strength were being eaten up with some hidden trouble. I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to use them. The change in a few days was surprising. They regulated my kidneys and bowels and cured all my suffering; to-day I am perfectly well."

Every woman can take Dr. Hamilton's Pills with safety and benefit. Their occasional use keeps the system in healthy, well regulated order. No medicine more gentle or more prompt in results. Now is the time to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn. U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont.

Bad Fire at Frost and Wood's.

Yesterday the main portion of Frost & Wood's extensive plant at Smiths' Falls, was destroyed by fire. The big machine shop, with all its costly machinery, the carpenter shop with its contents, and the paint shop are burnt. The fire is supposed to have started in the vicinity of the kilns. The loss while heavy, is well covered by insurance.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The Girls' Guild of All Saints' church met last night in the school room.

—Two excellent croquet tables have just been placed in the boys rooms at the Y.M.C.A.

—The annual meeting of the 57th Regiment will be held on Thursday night, February 15th.

—The German Conversation Club will meet at St. Luke's rectory on Saturday night at 7.30 o'clock.

—The next sitting of the First Division Court will be held before His Honor Judge Walker, on Friday, Feb. 23rd.

—Rev. J. G. Potter will speak at the Y.M.C.A. again next Sunday at four o'clock. Subject, "The Worst of all Mesdames."

—The funeral of Mr. Michael Crank took place yesterday afternoon from 264 Smith street to Little Lake cemetery.

—A joint meeting of the Trustee Board and Quarterly Official Board of the George street church, was held yesterday evening.

—Notice of motion has been given the town council of Lindsay, to the effect that by-law No. 538 appointing a town solicitor be repealed.

The Band at Street Railway Rink To-night

—An interesting euchre contest was held in the Young Conservative Club rooms yesterday evening, when representatives from No. 1 Ward played against the whole city.

—A meeting of the Board of Works Committee will be held this afternoon to consider the application of the Peterboro Fuel and Cartage Co., for the right to extend their freight sheds.

—In Tuesday's issue of The Times we referred in plain language to the peculiar way in which the cup won by the Petherboro curlers at Lindsay, had not been given the victors. It has since been sent by express.

—And still the crowds flock to Jackson Park rink and toboggan slide. Local doctors should go on strike as this exhilarating pastime is putting down sickness among those attending, down sickness among those attending.

—It is now up to Mr. T. E. Bradburn M.P.P. to back up the request of our local Board of Education and get a Normal School for Peterboro. If Mr. Bradburn insists on this, it is without bounds of possibility that Peterboro will secure it.

—A couple of Buffalo tea dealers were in Fenelon Falls last week looking over the prospects for getting ice out of Cameron Lake and Mr. J. H. Brandon is endeavoring to secure the contract.—Lindsay Post.

—The primary and junior union of Sunday school teachers will meet tonight in St. Paul's Endeavor room at eight o'clock. The lessons for the following Sunday will be in charge of Miss Smith and Miss M. Everson, both representing Park street Baptist Sunday school.

—A young lady of Merritton, near St. Catharines, claims to have found a river in Haldimand Co., 500 feet below the surface of the ground. The river was discovered as men were boring for natural gas, and could be, it is claimed, distinctly heard rushing on its subterranean way.

—City Engineer Hay, in his annual report, extracts of which we gave in yesterday's issue, recommends that the street corners be adorned with legible plates showing the names of the various streets. For a stranger in Peterboro to find any particular street by trusting to the plates placed at the different corners is practically an impossibility.

—At the meeting of the Ladies' Literary Association of St. Peter's T. A.S. this evening, Miss Nora Fitzgerald will read a paper on "Shakespeare." The young ladies of the committee are all requested to be present at a meeting of the committee after the evening's entertainment for the purpose of making complete returns of the sale of tickets.

A BELLEVILLE WEDDING

Miss Helena F. Butler Becomes the Bride of Mr. W. Featherstonhaugh.

A wedding of local interest was celebrated in Belleville yesterday. This was the marriage of Miss Helena F. Butler, well known in Peterboro, and a sister of M. J. Butler, deputy minister of railways and canals, to Mr. William Featherstonhaugh, one of Edmonton's leading engineers, but formerly of Ottawa. The nuptial ceremony was celebrated in St. Michael's church promptly.

Rev. Father Twomey performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her brother, the deputy minister. She wore a gown of white duchesse satin, with sequin trimmings. The bridesmaid was Miss Lulu Davey, of Belleville, and the groomsman, E. J. Butler, barrister, brother of the bride.

After the wedding reception was held Mr. and Mrs. Featherstonhaugh left for the east, where they will spend some time before leaving for the west.

THE SPECIAL SERVICES

Murray Street Baptist Church is Being Crowded Nightly.

The special services being held this week in Murray street Baptist church are drawing immense crowds, who are greatly influenced by the eloquent and inspired speakers present.

The address given by Rev. Mr. Welsh, of Lindsay, was listened to with rapt attention. Mr. Welsh is an excellent speaker and his address will, no doubt, be productive of much good. His subject last night was "The Parable of the Lost Coin."

The service of last night, addressed by Rev. Mr. Welsh, was attended by a very large audience, all of whom were greatly interested by the eloquent words of the leading speaker. The meeting of last night was the main entertainment of the week. These services are attracting large crowds and the interest in them is growing daily; not only that but great good is being done for the cause.

STOMACH CURE

An Easy Way from Standpoint of Convenience.

The so-called cures for indigestion are almost as numerous as the victims themselves, and scarcely a day passes without the hopes of thousands of sufferers being raised by the discovery of some novel method of cure for this prevalent disease.

Until a combination of unusual remedial substances but little known in this country, was made in Mi-o-na tablets, a certain cure, for indigestion had been found, and it is therefore handy to be wondered at that our leading druggist, who has the Peterboro Agency, is selling large quantities of Mi-o-na.

Mi-o-na is a guaranteed cure for all diseases of the stomach excepting cancer. If you have pains or distress after eating, headache, belching of gases, sour taste in the mouth, dizziness, heartburn, specks before the eyes, furred tongue, sleeplessness, heaviness, debility or weakness, it shows that the stomach needs to be strengthened with Mi-o-na.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box before meals for a few days, and you will soon regain perfect health and strength.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS. SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian had learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "papoose root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skilfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not be unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly prepared from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines, put up for sale through druggists for woman's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of spirituous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who are on the sewing machine, or wear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

For constipation, the true, scientific cure is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Mild, harmless, yet sure.

LABOR PARTY NOW POWER IN BRITISH PARLIAMENT

Payment of Members and Other Radical Reforms, in Which Irish Will Aid, Will be Their Platform

LONDON.

THE astounding success of the Labor candidates in the general election has convinced thinking Englishmen that the class-bar-entered edifice of the wrecking MAN must and will be forced on the admission of Parliament.

What the new House will be like it is not yet possible to say. But it is fair to assume that Labor and pro Labor men will play the greater role in it. The Liberal party had been helped to many seats by the Labor votes, but in almost every instance where a Labor man has stood he has been returned by an astounding majority by his fellows, who have at last found that in the ballot they possess a weapon whose strength they have hitherto ignored.

The organization of the Labor party is now well-nigh perfect, and we may look forward to a long list of Labor legislation dictated by a powerful party whose voice the Liberal leaders will not be able to ignore without dire consequences. On the other hand, it is possible that Liberalism, finding itself hard pressed by Labor, will think it necessary to make new combinations. These things work slowly and gradually, but it is certain that the old order has changed for the present, at least, and that democratic Britain is at the helm.

It would be easy to show a long and charming list of revolutionary reforms demanded by sections of the Labor party. Adult suffrage, without sex distinction, has, for instance, been sustained by a large majority at the annual conference. Destitution. Even more advanced have been [illegible] readily received. But no one seriously believed that the Labor party will waste its parliamentary energy during the next [illegible] sessions on such things. It has an immediate and practical programme. The more advanced demands can wait.

The Labor [illegible] wants the government to deal directly and radically with the unemployed question. It will demand, first, the alteration of the law that disfranchises a voter who accepts poor relief. It asks that an elector who, in time of exceptional distress, accepts temporary pauper doles shall not have his name removed from the roll. This is a vital matter to the Labor party, because, in London alone, thousands of men among the class most likely to support it have lost their votes within the last year through accepting parish aid.

To Raise the Government Standard.

There is one direction in which the party is likely to do much. It will bring the utmost pressure to establish, in government employment, the same conditions that now prevail in municipal service. The municipal working man employs has become famous in the ranks of labor. He is usually paid well above the market rates, his hours are light, and he is free from the necessity of "hustling" imposed on most of us. He is the aristocrat of labor, and the chief struggle in some boroughs is as to who of an army of aspirants shall be favored enough.

In the government service this is not so. The conditions of labor in Woolwich Arsenal or at Chatham approximate to those of ordinary civil employment. This does not satisfy the labor party. It wants the government to be a "model employer"; that is, an employer who gives more wages for less work than any other, and by pressure on the Ministry to may well obtain much of what it wants. The next Liberal in this direction will be for an eight-hour day in government work.

Payment of Members.

Will payment of M. P.'s be the direct result of the great upheaval in Labor members, which is perhaps the most interesting feature of the election campaign?

It is very probable that when the next meeting comes there will be an additional shilling, in the shape of an income of £400 a year, for the poorer class of aspirants for a Parliamentary seat.

"We have already elected a number of candidates sufficient for our purpose," said one of the chief labor organizers of London yesterday. "Payment of members is one of the first objects we shall go for. The Irish will be with us, and united we cannot fail to bring official Liberalism to our terms."

"The expense would be a fleabite. Consider a moment. Two hundred pounds a year is enough to enable a man to live as an M. P. Two hundred pounds a year for 670 members is £134,000. No doubt the leftier order of official Conservative and Liberal would decline the dole as beneath his dignity. So much the better; though, as a matter of fact, I don't think many would refuse.

"But at the out-side the expense is less than £100,000 a year, and what is that? Probably the late government wasted as much every week of its existence.

"As a matter of fact, we must get State payment of members. Forty members at £200 each would cost £8000 a year, which is £2000 more than the amount annually set aside by the labor organizations for the purpose. Besides, election expenses are heavy. We shall have to see that they are paid by the State."

All the Independent Labor members are pledged to payment of members, and even John Burns, who is regarded by the Labor party as a Liberal, favors this policy, as he stated in his election address. There are only seven or eight Labor members who can be depended on to go into the Liberal lobby under any circumstances. They include Messrs. Brandhurst, Will Crooks, W. P. Byles, Burt, Creamer, Madison, Bell and Havelock Wilson.

SOME LABOR LEADERS ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT

All the men whose portraits are given above have been of the working men. Will Crooks is a carpenter, J. R. Macdonald is secretary of the Labor Representation Committee, Parker is secretary of the Labor party in the House of Commons, Broadhurst is a mason, Burt is a miner, Richards is a printer, Maddison is a compositor, Mr. Richards is a printer, Jowett is a compositor, Mr. Richards is a printer, Roberts is a worker in a mill and H. Broadhurst began his life as a blacksmith.

ANARCHY REIGNS ALONG SIBERIAN RAILWAY

Line Completely Held by Riotous Soldiers Returning From the Far East.

ST. PETERSBURG.

The government has authorized the Minister of War to organize a strong expedition to recover the Siberian Railway.

At present the railway is wholly in the hands of rioters and insubordinate soldiers returning from the Far East. Military trains do not pay the slightest attention to time tables, and give the civil trains from the Urals no opportunity to pass, so that there is danger of a complete stoppage of traffic.

In some instances half-starved soldiers have looted the railway towns through which they passed. At one village, near Irkutsk, an infantry battalion plundered all the provision and vodka shops, and afterward set the station buildings on fire.

The trains are often run by incompetent military engine-drivers. Many wrecks have occurred between Irkutsk and Harbin. Local authorities are absolutely helpless, and all protests are met with the threat to stop all trains if the government attempt reprisals.

Scores of railway stations are deserted, the civil officers and employes having fled to avoid the risk of being robbed or murdered by the vast hordes of desperate, half-savage soldiers now being conveyed across Siberia.

Many of the trains are without officers, the soldiers having seized all the places, and are, besides, utterly defiant of discipline.

"All the way to Cheliabinsk, in the Urals," said one officer who arrived ten days ago, "there was not a vestige of government authority to be seen.

"In Irkutsk absolute anarchy reigns. The authorities have folded their hands, and make no further efforts to keep order."

HANGMAN BLUNDERS AND CRIES LIKE CHILD

Unnerved by Accident at Triple Execution, at Which Warden it Badly Hurt.

SYDNEY.

A remarkable scene attended the execution yesterday of three men at Fremantle, West Australia, for the murder of a Jewish commercial traveler named Mark Lelbgild, who at one time lived in London.

Leibgild, who carried a considerable sum of money, was decoyed on board a coasting lugger on pretense of being shown a valuable pearl which was for sale.

He was murdered by the crew of three men, and his body was thrown overboard. The murderers, Charles Hagen, a Norwegian, and two Spaniards, named Espada and Mesques, were sentenced to death.

Hagen, who was the first to be executed, spoke for a quarter of an hour on the scaffold, asserting his innocence.

The other two prisoners were placed on the trap together and engaged in an angry altercation while the nooses were being placed around their necks. The executioner appeared to lose his presence of mind, and at the moment when Espada made a desperate effort with his manacled hands to clasp the rope above his head, pushed the lever.

At the same time Chief Warden Webster, who was taken unaware and was standing on the trapdoor, fell through and disappeared from sight.

Webster is not expected to recover. The hangman was so terribly unnerved by the accident that he broke down and cried like a child.

KILLED HIS ASSAILANT WITH AN UMBRELLA

Man Commits Involuntary Suicide and is Sent to Prison for Year.

GENEVA.

Nicholas Lieb, of Altheusern, in the Canton of [illegible], has been sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment and ordered to pay a fine of 500 for involuntary homicide.

Some time ago, when returning from a dance with his fiancee, he was attacked in the dark by a stranger. Lieb, in self-defence, made a heavy stroke with his umbrella, and his assailant dropped on the ground. He struggled to his feet again, and Lieb and his fiancee hurried away.

Next day a man named Albert Roy was found dead on the road, and the inquest showed that some instrument had pierced his eye and entered deeply into the brain.

Several of the victim's friends and acquaintances were arrested and released before Lieb heard of the affair, when he made a full confession. He has refused an appeal against the sentence.

ANXIOUS FATHERS BESIEGE A SCHOOL

Dearth of Higher Grade Institutions in Hamburg Keenly Felt by Its Populace.

HAMBURG.

The dearth of higher grade schools here has had curious results. Parents are required to attend at the beginning of the term and to inscribe the names of their children on the register. The schools are filled to overflowing, and anxious fathers take all sorts of measures to secure the acceptance of their sons.

One man yesterday went to take his place at the school door ready to sign the register at 5 o'clock in the morning. He had expected to be first on the scene, but found sixteen other anxious fathers already waiting.

Though only thirteen scholars could be taken, more than 300 parents applied for permission for their sons to enter, and assembled outside the door long before the proper time for making applications.

FRIENZIED APPLAUSE FOR BRITISH IN PARIS

Great Demonstration at Concert of Leeds Choir and London Symphony Orchestra.

PARIS.

The second and last concert of the Leeds Choir and the London Symphony Orchestra ended with an extraordinary demonstration this afternoon.

Long before the concert began a great crowd, composed mainly of the artists from the Opera and Opera Comique, gathered outside and gave the English singers and musicians a magnificent reception.

The theatre was densely crowded throughout the performance. M. Edouard Colonne, who conducted the overture to Berlioz's "Benvenute Cellini," was vociferously cheered.

After the orchestra and choir and soloists—Florence Greene, John Coates, Miss Marie Simms and Miss Perceval Allen—had been heartily applauded at the end of each item, the applause grew louder and more enthusiastic, and reached its height when "God Save the King" and the "Marseillaise" had been sung. The feelings of both audience and performers then became loose.

The scene was one of the most remarkable ever witnessed in Paris. The great theatre was packed tightly from gallery to stalls. The stage alone had 600 performers on it, and the whole of this crowd was on its feet swaying like a corn field in the wind with "ecstatic enthusiasm," and shouting itself hoarse.

The audience waved handkerchiefs and yelled "Bravo!" at the people on the stage, and the stage waved handkerchiefs back and shouted, "Hip! Hip! Hip!"

The choir will leave Paris tomorrow morning, and arrive in Leeds at 10 o'clock tomorrow night.

NAVAL OFFICERS MUST USE A LOUDER VOICE

English Authorities Object to Drawing Room Tones of Word of Command.

London, [illegible].—Naval officers have been impressing it on the Admiralty to give clear orders in a loud, distinct and decisive manner.

It has been noticed that the newer type of naval officer is being chosen more and more for his ability to shout out the word of command, and that the old-fashioned style favored by Queen Victoria's admirals is falling into disuse.

It is feared that the drawing room manners of the new breed of young officers will one day cause disaster, as it is believed they have been caused by the dreadful tendency of the times to discourage strong lungs in the man and a shrinking of confidence and discipline.

The young executive enlisman is to practice his voice as if it were the sole means of communicating orders in the din of battle. The disappearance of the "Speaking Trumpet" from the naval vocabulary is deplored by many seasoned men, who say there is no substitute for the lungs and strength the system exacts.

The Admiralty fears that the navy's reputation suffers. "Please, sir, Admiral will you do as God does?" will write half of the signal service and "send it to the bugs." In camp Tommy, the familiar "Aye, aye, sir," has given place to the reply, "Very good, sir."

ITALIAN OFFICER PUBLICLY DEGRADED

Traitor to His Country Robbed of Military Insignia Are Removed From Uniform.

Rome, [illegible].—A very sad and impressive ceremony took place yesterday in the military barracks of Messina.

Captain Ercolani, of the Italian army, who was accused and found guilty of having sold military secrets to a foreign power, appealed to the Court of Appeal for a revision of that judgment, but he was [illegible].

Following the representatives of all the regiments garrisoned at Messina were summoned to the main barracks, and Capt. Ercolani was in their presence formally degraded by a court-martial. The prisoner on his coming on the scene, was [illegible] bugle, and he was [illegible].

Public opinion approved the severity of the punishment, and it is [illegible] that Ercolani's family will [illegible] with shame, [illegible] beauty, [illegible] name, have to bear [illegible] of the prisoner of crime.

WOOD PIE MAY BE DISH OF THE FUTURE

Almshouse Inmate Finds Common Deal Cut Fine a Valuable Food and Medicine.

LONDON.

Great interest has been aroused by the report that John Hayton, once an inmate of the Mile End Workhouse, has found common deal wood to be "a valuable food and medicine, if cut small and eaten."

"Considering that some of our chief tonic medicines are derived from wood," said Dr. Forbes Winslow yesterday, "there is no reason why wood should not be used for food.

"I can quite understand the rationality of this. It is worth investigating. Everything that crops up in medicine, every new treatment of disease, is looked upon with suspicion. It timid people with common sense and the courage of their convictions to establish something new.

"It is like the case of the man who ate the first oyster. He was regarded with disgust—and he was the oyster.

"Is it possible to use wood as a food? Certainly it is. My mind is very open, and I believe that everything that is brought forward is worthy of investigation.

"Monkeys eat wood in the forests, and you can often see dogs gnawing it.

"Animals eat wood. The stomach of an animal is very similar to that of a human being, and if wood satisfies them, why should it not satisfy us?

"I see no reason why this wood, chopped fine, should not be useful to us," Dr. Winslow concluded. "It is good for the animal world in the forests, it is good for us."

The further development of the idea of a satisfying food may possibly lead to the formation of a new sect of Wood-foodere—the wood-eaters or the deal-devourers—and wood, served in various enticing forms, may soon figure on the menus of our restaurants.

ALSATIANS DREAD FRANCO-GERMAN WAR

The Wildest Rumors Prevalent in the Provinces Lost to France in 1870.

STRASBURG.

For some days past war between France and Germany has been the sole subject of interest in the wards of Alsace-Lorraine.

The children bring the "news" of a declaration of war back from school and grown men stand in the streets telling each other that war is near. A rumor suddenly spread three days ago that the German Ambassador in Paris had been murdered. It was, of course, untrue, but the report, until it was denied, convinced everybody that war was inevitable.

It is a curious fact that when the Franco-German situation was critical last summer the Alsatians were quite unconcerned. The rumors are believed to be mainly due to the increased activity of the German military authorities near the French frontier, and to the knowledge that Alsace-Lorraine would suffer most from Franco-German hostilities.

A similar and not less remarkable state of affairs prevails in Schleswig. Rumors of war of the wildest character are being circulated. It was recently stated that Great Britain and France had sent an ultimatum to Germany and that war had been declared.

GERMANS PETITION FOR LARGER NAVY

Newspapers Urge People to See That the Reichstag Enforces the Popular Desire.

KIEL.

A monster petition for the further increase of the German navy is being circulated by the Navy League through the newspapers. Every newspaper in Germany contains a paragraph recommending the arguments for the strengthening of the fleet, and having at the end a blank space in which the reader is requested to sign his name.

"It is the duty of the German Navy League," the paragraph concludes, "to see that the Reichstag not only accepts the new naval proposals, but makes provision that ineffective vessels shall every year be replaced by up-to-date warships."

Thousands of signatures have already been received in this way, and a deputation representing them, will shortly be laid before the Reichstag, as proof of the popular desire for an increase in the navy.

CHRISTMAS GIFT MADE FOR THE CZAREVITCH BY THE CZARINA

The Czarina, who is an expert wood carver, fashioned the toy here illustrated herself. It is an exact model of the Czar's favorite chalet, or summer house, in the Imperial pleasure grounds attached to Tsarskoe-Selo Palace. The model, which is beautifully carved in soft white wood, is built up of eighty-four separate pieces, and can be pulled to pieces by the Imperial baby. The photograph was taken at Tsarskoe-Selo on January 2, the Russian Christmas Day.

ONE MAN, ONE VOTE IN RUSSIA A FRAUD

Wholesale Arrests Made to Secure Return of Government Candidates to Duma.

MOSCOW.

Wholesale arrests are being effected by administrative orders everywhere in Russia for the sole purpose of preventing the victims registering in time to participate in the elections of the Duma.

Moreover, the people are being urged by threats and persuasion to vote for "reliable" [illegible] candidates, who can be depended upon to maintain the old regime. Socialist and labor leaders have been offered bribes to give the government candidates their influence, and others have been thrown into gaol and threatened with deportation to Archangel or Siberia unless they promise to vote in behalf of those "picked" men.

There is not the slightest doubt that the government candidates alone will succeed in securing seats in the new Russian Parliament.

The four Moscow members of the Duma are already declared. They are all octogenarians.

Admiral Dubasow, the Governor General of Moscow, will be appointed Minister of the Interior as a reward for his activity in suppressing the recent insurrection.

The present Minister of the Interior, M. Durnovo, is marked for President of the Duma. The fact that he is already known as the government nominee indicates the contempt of the Bureaucracy for the elections, as it is impossible for a "picked" assembly.

STUDENT LOSES LIFE BY HIS PRACTICAL JOKE

Strange Method of Revenge on Professor Recoils on Man With Weak Heart.

GENEVA.

A student of the University died here yesterday as the result of his own practical joke or grudge.

The young man tried to take revenge upon Professor Chodat in a remarkable manner. On Thursday a procession of tradesmen's carts began to arrive at the university, bringing all kinds of goods for which orders had been received.

The goods were all addressed to the professor, and included a motor car, 1000 visiting cards, dozens of boxes of cigars and cigarettes (the professor does not smoke), a valuable painting, two cadies of Madeira, several gold watches, twelve umbrellas, two legs of mutton, six hams and a chest of cereals.

A bunch for 100 persons had also been ordered in honor of the baptism of Professor Chodat's baby. The professor's youngest child is 9 years old.

All day long the professor was busy explaining to irate tradesmen that he had not ordered the goods. He placed the matter in the hands of the police, who have arrested one of the students.

The culprit had a weak heart, and was so much overcome by what had been done that he had several attacks, as one of which he succumbed.

The student was extremely popular with his comrades, who have shown their sympathy by sending dozens of wreaths of flowers to his

Exhaustion All Gone!

To-day She is Buoyant With Health and Vital Energy Given by A Medicine Suited to the Female Sex

There is no medicine for health and strength that accomplishes so much as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For womanly troubles they have no equal.

Miss Katie E. Emerson, one of Brockton's popular young ladies, in the following letter voices the conviction of hosts of her friends:

"Two months ago I was completely used up. I was weak and miserable. My strength was gone, and I had no appetite or energy left. What I needed was a blood purifier and nervinatic tonic which I found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Today I am brimming over with spirits and virile good health that came from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

No one can over-estimate the worth of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Their enormous curative power makes one marvel. You soon have richer blood, better appetite, clearer complexion, freedom from weakness and ill-health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are sold everywhere 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

GAINING ON IT.

It has long been plain that with all the "new cures" there are nobody needs to be sick long, and there are indications that by and by nobody will need to be sick at all. Furthermore and hettermore, all may soon be able to live as they please without fear. Professor Luff, who is said to be the greatest living authority on gout and kindred evils, says that such articles as red meats, sugar, jam, bread, fruit, etc., which have been prohibited food for persons suffering from the various forms of rheumatic, are perfectly wholesome, if they do not produce indigestion; that uric acid is a "harmless by-product of the human economy which has been most shamefully exploited as a dangerous poison," and that "it has no part in the production of any of these morbid conditions." So that anybody may eat what he pleases, so long as he does not overfeed himself.

Observing. Let us have more of the same kind. If it isn't all true perhaps there will be as much truth in it as there have been in the "scares."

Peterboro After New Normal School

Delegates from Boards of Education, Trade, S. S. School, City Council and Other Citizens to Interview Minister of Education Next Wednesday.

A conjoint meeting of representatives of the Board of Education, City Council, Board of Trade, and other prominent citizens, gathered last night in the city building to discuss ways and means of securing for Peterboro one of the three new Normal schools the Ontario Government proposes building.

Among those present were: Messrs. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mayor Best, Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Education; Pringle, Matthews, Patterson of the C.G.E. Co., Pemberton, principal Collegiate Institute, Moore, Mason Dennistoun and others.

The Mayor explained the reason of calling the meeting, and called upon Mr. Bradburn.

Mr. Bradburn said he was very much interested, as were all the citizens of Peterboro, in every branch of Peterboro's means of progress. He thought it was a matter of vital importance to the city to get a Normal school here. He recently received a communication marked "private" in which the Toronto Department of Education had decided to do away with Model schools and to establish three Normal schools. The Minister feels that cheap teachers for the county schools should be done away with. Here, the nearest Normal school to this east, is at Ottawa, and we should get one here. The city should get a large delegation to wait on the Minister of Education. Port Hope and Cobourg have already sent deputations. Mr. Pyne had said, he would not receive any more deputations on this subject before the 20th inst. He Mr. Bradburn, himself, had said to the Minister he would not stand for this, and had arranged for a reception on Wednesday next. The deputation should have a tangible argument in writing to lay before the Minister. This was all he had to say on the matter.

Mayor Bell then referred to Peterboro's geographical position, as to her deserving the school.

He then read a letter from the President of the Board of Trade of this city advocating securing the Normal school for Peterboro.

Mr. Fessenden, said aside from every other argument, Peterboro has good claims for the school. Toronto certainly is near, but the schools for teachers in London and Toronto, are crowded and, frequently, applicants are compelled to be refused admittance. Another school should be established in the western portion of the eastern part of Ontario. Kingston is on the border whilst Peterboro is central.

The school would be of great financial assistance to Peterboro in many ways, not to mention the prestige it would give her.

It would be possible to save $20,000 a year by having the Normal school here to the Government by combining it with the proposed Collegiate Institute. The gymnasium and laboratories used by the Collegiate Institute and the Normal school could be held in the same rooms, thus saving extra rooms.

One building and one heating plant would suffice for both purposes; and one lot would do for two buildings. One caretaker would do for both buildings, one drill instructor could serve for two schools. Special teachers in music and drawing, etc., would do for two schools. If the Government would select Peterboro for the Normal school, it would be a good thing for Peterboro as a city, and for its educational purposes.

Mr. Patterson of the C.G.E. Co., advocated erecting two separate build ings to give more labor here. It is not for Peterboro to dictate to the Government what to do, but to try and get them to get a Normal school here. If the Government took as long to build the Normal school as the city was in building the Collegiate Institute, it would be the children of our present children who would attend. He suggested that a strong committee be sent to tell the Government if they did not do as Peterboro asked, they would not have a representative from Peterboro in the House. (Laughter.)

Mr. Burgess, chairman of the Board of Education, thought that Peterboro's claims were stronger than those of any other place. Regarding Mr. Fessenden's suggestion about having a combined Normal school and Collegiate Institute, that was a detail that could be considered with advantage. By combining the two, as was done in Hamilton, we would get a better building for Collegiate Institute perhaps than the city could build themselves. From the different bodies present a strong representation could be sent to Toronto.

Mr. Dennistoun said $50,000 had been voted for the Collegiate Institute, and the Board could, by combining the two buildings have for, say, $150,000, a building that would answer for all purposes. The Government Government would get for $100,000, the town supplying a free site, a better building than if they acted alone throughout. He approved recommending this combination to the Government. No other town could say to them, "We have $50,000 to put in with you, and this would be a strong argument.

Mr. Pringle wondered whether the amalgamation building as it exists in Hamilton is satisfactory or not. It would be well to find out the truth of this matter before proposing it to the Government.

Mr. Moore said there was practical unanimity regarding procuring the Normal school. It was important to put the matter to the Government on its merits than to ask it as a favor.

Our position is unique in the matter of inducements. The best way to get at the case is to put a written memorial before the Government as suggested by Mr. Bradburn. He then moved that a committee composed of Messrs. Fergusson, and on Mr. Bradburn's suggestion, Father McColl, Fessenden, Inspector, himself, and Mr. Dennistoun, chairman, be appointed to draw up a memorial to present to the Government on Wednesday.—Carried.

Mr. Bradburn strongly recommended that a member of the Separate school Board be included on the committee to go to Toronto. Mr. Fergusson moved that Mr. Dunable's name be added to the committee, but it was thought there were enough already to do the work quickly.

It was then decided that the City Council Board of Education, Separate School Board, Board of Trade and County Council would each nominate delegates to go to Toronto on Wednesday. The meeting then adjourned till Monday night. The committee to draft the memorial will meet in the city clerk's office tonight.

THE ECLIPSE SEEN

Visitors to Chemong Indian Village Witness the Phenomenon.

Yesterday morning about (7) o'clock three local citizens who attended the big Indian entertainment at Chemong reservation, arrived in the city. They report having had a splendid time, and that they enjoyed themselves immensely. On their arrival they were met by Mr. Dan Wetung, chief of the tribe, who took charge of their horses. The moment head on the large pinkeen hill was a very good one, all those taking part, both in the vocal, and instrumental parts, belonging to the Indian village; their several parts were well rendered.

Our wards of that village thoroughly enjoyed the show, and were quite "tickled" at the large representation sent from the city.

During the return of the pilgrims from Peterboro, they, the pilgrims had a good view of last night's total eclipse of the moon. About three a.m., the moon which was at the full, and unobscured by any clouds, was seen to show a slight semi-spherical obstruction against its round disc; the shadow gradually spread, and then seemed to recede. Again the shadow spread the further and once more contracted. Still, once more the darkness across the face of the moon broadened, and once more it contracted, but not so far. This went on, at intervals, until an hour or so later the moon was almost entirely obliterated from their view. Before the whole surface of the Queen of Night was hidden from view, the darkness across the silvery orb, gradually receded, and once more the moon shone with all its kindly light upon the returning guests of the Indians.

Rural Telephones.

The Peterboro county farmers might with advantage copy the example of the farmers in the vicinity of Alto Pass, Illinois, who are building a telephone line for their own use. They call it the "Hayseed" line, because they are building and maintaining it themselves. They are extending it for miles in every direction, and now the housewife can talk to her acquaintances in every portion of the county without leaving her house. Much of the loneliness of the country districts has been dispelled by means of the telephone. Social conversations by the long distance 'phone are carried on every evening. Many of the farmers have graphophones, and give impromptu concerts for the benefit of their less fortunate neighbors, who can hear over the wire. There is now a greater feeling of security in the county. Doctors can be summoned without trouble, and officers of the law are always within easy reach if needed. The telephone and trolley car are certainly great conveniences for the farmers.

Some Fine Ivory Balls.

Yesterday Mr. Pappas, proprietor of the splendidly furnished billiard parlors on George street, just north of the City Hotel, yesterday was in receipt of some of the best ivory balls that ever were seen in this city. As is well known ivory has of late years become so scarce that composition balls made of paper are very generally being substituted for the better and quicker running ivory goods. Mr. Pappas, with some difficulty, and at great expense procured some of the genuine ivory billiard balls, being determined that only the best shall be used in his beautifully fitted up establishment.

MORE POLES ON STREETS

Decide to Allow Canadian Machine Telephone Company to Erect More Poles on the City Highways.

Yesterday afternoon, shortly after four o'clock, the Board of Works held a short session in the city clerk's office. Those present were: Mayor Best, Aldermen Hicks, chairman, Ball, Johnston, McIntyre and Graham.

The principal business transacted was a consideration of the Machine Telephone Company's application to erect a large number, of additional poles, and incidentally obstruct the passage ways of our city and render Peterboro a more easy victim in case of fire.

The Board of Works, regardless of such matters, authorized this telephone company to erect a small forest of poles, although their main argument in favor of obtaining the franchise given them, was that the principal part of their system was to be underground work. The Board have authorized them to erect right poles on the south part of Aylmer street, six on Dublin street, seven on Edinboro street, four on Sherbrooke street, three on Brock street, nine on Dickson street, two on Smith street, twelve on Bonaca street, seven on Murchison street and eight on Aylmer, north of Hunter street.

Whilst having no animosity against the Machine Telephone Co., it being in a sense partly a local concern as regards the system they are now proposing to instal in this city, nor however, we believe that no second system of telephone service in this or any other city is an advantage but decidedly the reverse, as it simply means a hold-up of those already possessing a sufficiently good telephone service, we do think, in fact, we strenuously urge that the Board of Works or City Council, are betraying their trust in filling our city with useless, unsightly and dangerous lines of unnecessary poles.

Any thinking boy of 12 years old would easily know that every pole, and consequent mass of wires added to a city's streets, means, not only the appearance of the town being injured but a serious obstacle to the work of the fire brigade, and an inconvenience to drivers. If the Machine Telephone Company obtained a charter from Peterboro as the understanding that their lines were going to be placed underground, why are they now allowed to fill our streets with poles? This utter disregard of their promises regarding underground work is about on a par with their promises as to having two hundred instruments in operation about six months ago, whilst there are less than one hundred now visible.

MEDICAL EXAMINER

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

Prominent Physicians Endorse Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering.

"Follow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."—Llewellyn Jordan.

DR. LLEWELLYN JORDAN, Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

Doctors have been loathe to endorse a catarrh remedy because catarrh and catarrhal diseases have puzzled the medical fraternity for many decades.

The popular endorsements that Peruna has received at the hands of the people have induced a great many doctors to try the remedy.

More prominent physicians use and endorse Peruna each year.

Dr. A. Morgan, 214 Ister street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"Regular physicians do not, as a rule, endorse patent medicines. I have, however, found in my practice that Peruna is a notable exception and not at all like any other medicine generally sold as 'patent medicine.'

"In examining it I find that it is a scientifically prepared medicine, composed of herbal remedies of high medicinal value.

"It is a specific for catarrh of the head, lungs or stomach, a fine remedy for female troubles, and invaluable to mothers and children.

"After fevers or other protracted illness, it is one of the best tonics I know of to restore the system to normal condition and I recommend it to convalescents.

"It is a high class family remedy, good for young and old."—A. Morgan.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert R. Roberts.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MRS. WILLIAM BUTLER.

The Venerable Founder of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Mrs. William Butler of Newton Center, Mass., "our mother of missions," as she is called, the venerable founder of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, is a remarkable woman and in spite of her great age and life of privation and hardship is still vigorous and active in the sphere of life to which she has devoted her energy and her intellect.

In 1856, with her husband and two children, Mrs. Butler sailed for India. Her missionary labors were disturbed by the Indian mutiny three years later. "We barely escaped with our lives," she said to a reporter, "and for months were supposed by our friends to be dead. A month after we took to the mountains another child was born to me. We were trying to get round to Delhi at the time, and I had a goat to provide milk for the baby. One night a tiger came and carried off the goat."

There was not one native Christian in all that part of India then. Mrs. Butler, now in her eighty-fifth year, is planning to attend the forthcoming jubilee of Methodism in India—its fiftieth anniversary—when 150,000 native Christians will give her a great ovation. The sum of $6,000 is to be raised by the Methodist women as a special thank offering for her splendid services in the cause of Methodism.—New York Tribune.

How She Keeps Her Servants.

Here are a few rules given by a woman who enjoys a reputation for never having trouble with her numerous servants and retaining them in her service for years:

She pays good wages—that is, she pays as liberally as she can afford and is always punctual in payment.

She allows her servants a reasonable share of all the dainties served the family and is liberal in the matter of their food, maintaining that good work cannot be done on an empty stomach.

She rarely criticises, but when reproof is needed gives it with firmness and without fear, but kindly.

Praise is always given when due; she thinks it well to acknowledge good service to encourage.

She allows each reasonable time for outings and to attend church, and she does not require service when a girl is taking her afternoon off.

She allows her maids time to keep their clothes in order, and requires them to be neat, cleanly and orderly about their sleeping apartments.

She is never familiar; only evinces a kindly interest in the general welfare without becoming in any way involved in the family affairs of any one of her servants.

If a matter goes wrong, she takes time to investigate before reproving and never scolds or rebukes when angry.

If necessary to dismiss a servant, she never does so when in a temper, but waits until she can control herself, so as to command respect.

She will not allow her maids to gossip about her neighbors' affairs nor to make remarks about one member of the family to another.

She will not allow her children to be rude or insolent to the servants, nor will she allow too great familiarity.

And her servants remain with her decades and are devoted to her.

Two Wives and a Maid.

A Young Maiden sought the counsel of Two Wives.

"Tell me," said she, "when I am wed is it wise to be Jealous of my Husband?"

Said One Wife:

"Often am I Jealous of my Husband, but carefully do I hide my Jealousy. Thus he doth never suspect it, and so do I keep his Love and his Respect."

Spoke the Other Wife:

"I care not what my Husband may do, and never am I Jealous of him. Yet often do I pretend that I am Greatly Jealous and exhibit brave fits of Jealousy before him. Thus do I keep his Love and his Respect."

"Ah," quoth the Young Maiden. "I learn, then, that the Wise Woman conceiveth Jealousy when it is present and feigneth it when it is absent. Remembering this, I, too, shall be enabled to keep my Husband's Love and his Respect."—Life.

Home Dressmaking.

There is no way in which a woman can save so much money as in making her own clothes, but to do it to the best advantage she needs to have knowledge and experience. Working with a home dressmaker in a good training, and taking advantage of the tricks of the trade as soon in the shop windows will save time and trouble. For instance, the large buttons on outside garments of the better class have small buttons on the inside to hold them in place. The thread is not as firm as this little helper and not as tightly. Frocks made from material with a loose weave have a narrow tape sewed with the seams so that they cannot pull out. Buttonholes are often strengthened with tip gum applied before the cutting or with machine stitching between two rows of which the hole is cut. These are what I mean by tricks of the trade.—Boston Traveler.

Cleaning Velvet.

A jeweler told this splendid secret for cleaning velvet. I had taken to him for riveting a little dangling bag, to be suspended from a silver clasp. As he gave it back into my hands he said, "It will need to be brushed." Then, with a smile, for I was an old patron, he added: "I'll tell you a secret. Dip your velvet brush in damp sand, and see, the velvet comes forth as fresh as though it were new. It is a cleaning process, too, for the slight moisture removes dust, and the harsh action of the sandy friction gives new life to the nap which has been worn down."

A Damaged Mirror.

To repair a damaged mirror pour upon a sheet of tinfoil about three drams of quicksilver to the square foot of foil. Rub smartly with a piece of buckskin until the foil becomes brilliant. Lay the glass upon a flat table face downward. Place the foil upon the damaged portion of the glass, lay a sheet of paper over the foil and place upon it a block of wood or a piece of marble with a perfectly flat surface; put upon it sufficient weight to press it down tightly; let it remain in this position a few hours. The foil will adhere to the glass.

The Bedroom Lamp Shade.

On a plain silk lamp shade for use in sleeping apartments in an upper hall or in a dining room dainty red roses or forgetmenots could be painted in the center for ornament, making a border at the top and bottom by joining the flowers into wreaths. Or if the plain shade needs decoration a pretty piece of gimp could be sewed on diamond shape, running from the top to the bottom.

Blistered Linen.

To prevent blistering in linen, which is almost always due to bad starching, but occasionally to ironing the articles when too wet, each article must be well starched through, and when about to iron it it must be dampened evenly, but not wet. Use a hot iron. Collars and cuffs that have to be turned down should be fixed in the proper shape immediately after each one is ironed, for then the starch is still flexible.

Orange Salad.

Sour oranges may be utilized in a delicious salad. Slice the oranges not too thin and remove the skin, leaving the pulp in small triangular pieces. Serve on lettuce or crisp water cress, with French dressing or white mayonnaise. The little oranges called cumquats are very good indeed served in exactly the same way. Blanched English walnuts combined with such salads are a great addition.

Keeping Your Figure.

Always carry the chest further in front of you than any other part of you, certainly than the part below the waist, but draw this latter part up and up many times a day, especially if you are inclined to get fat there, and nothing destroys a figure more than this, which has been described as "the middle aged spread."

Library Books.

Did you ever think of the danger that may come through the innocent habit of reading library books? They are universal property, and the hand that has turned the leaves just before you may be a vehicle for contamination of any kind. Inhale a disinfectant and expose the books to sun before use.

Pincushions.

If you were to take apart an old pincushion you would find an astonishing number of needles in it. To prevent this, when you stick a needle into the cushion, stick it in sideways, not straight down, for if put in pin fashion it is sure to work its way into the cushion and get lost.

Chammy Hands.

Chammy hands may be improved by washing in very hot water and, when thoroughly dried, dusting with fuller's earth. A sprinkling of ordinary starch, powdered and scented with verbena or sandalwood, in the gloves will also help to do away with the unpleasant feeling.

ARRANGED FOR THE TIMES.

A trip around the world in 60 minutes at a mere trifle.

Laughable, interesting and exciting scenes from every land--A trip around the world at almost no cost.

Magnificently finished and exquisitely photo-color views in place of the oldtime and antiquated views of the past. A most pleasant and interesting hour to spend journeying around the globe viewing the places of greatest interest, most beautiful scenery, etc., at a mere trifle of cost through our liberal plan. These views illustrate some of the most noted places in the world—mountain scenery both in America and Europe—waterfalls and other famous natural phenomena, some of the world's most famous buildings, places of historical interest and places famous for beautiful architecture or beautiful natural scenery. This set is of the greatest educational value, presenting, as it does, such realistic likenesses of scenes and places that we all should know about. We want every household in this city to have one of these sets. Imagine yourself taken through the Orient, on a trip to California, through the world's Fair to see the splendid scenes as though you were right there on the spot. By a special process, a combination of lithographing and half-tone work, we are able to offer a collection of colored views from every part of the world in the most beautiful, natural and startling life-like color effects, which must be seen to be appreciated. It is impossible to describe the grandeur and beauty of these views. Come and see them. We want each and every household in this city to have a set of these.

Yellow Stone Park, U. S. A.; The Swiss Alps; On board a Russian Man-of-War; Scene from a Klondyke Camp; The Famous Ferry Depot, San Francisco; Cathedral from the Grand Canal, Rotterdam; Moulin Rouge, Paris; Street Scene, Mexico City; Emperor Wm. II Inspecting a Regiment; Chickamauga Park; Cotton Plantation Scene; On the Pike at the World's Fair, St. Louis; Holiday Street Scene Parade in Havana, Cuba; Scene Showing a Public Well, Pekin, China; Lookout Mountain; Steamboat Scene on the Mississippi; Garden of Gethsemane, Palestine; Scene Showing the Famous Southern Trestle; Hauling Trains Through Mountains in the South; The National Capitol at Washington, D. C.; The Pantheon at Rome; Victory Monument; Leipsic; Luna Island at Niagara Falls; David's Judgment Seat, Jerusalem; Interior View of President Diaz' Palace, Mexico; Ostrich Farm, Egypt; Royal Gardens, Dresden, Germany; (very beautiful), Palm Garden, Frankfort, Germany; Morro Castle, Havana; Plaza, World's Fair, St. Louis; Bird's Eye View of St. Louis Exposition; The Tomb of Gen. Grant, N. Y., Street Scene of Cairo, Egypt; Street Scene in Venice, Italy; Japanese Royal Garden Scene; Zoological Garden at Berlin, Germany; Ice Cave at Niagara Falls, N. Y., etc., etc., besides dozens of comic, sentimental and interesting views of every nature. These pictures are the genuine Oleo Stereoscopic Views, made especially for this purpose and are executed in a most artistic manner, being a combination process of lithographing and half-tone work enabling a magnificent depth of detail and splendid color reproduction true to life. You cannot enjoy an hour more delightfully than by viewing a set of these beautiful and decidedly interesting pictures.

It wasn't so very long ago that hundreds of thousands of people spent many pleasant hours with the stereoscope, but heretofore they were compelled to pay enormous prices for views, think of it, as high as 50c each for colored pictures. We sold thousands upon thousands of stereoscopic views, in colors, at 50c each in those days, but imagine each and every view had to be colored by hand. In the past few months we have had repeated demands for them, and being able to secure the latest and most beautiful colored views to furnish to the public at a ridiculously low price, we entered into the stereoscope plan on quite a large scale, and have taken immediate advantage of the International Art Association, who have spent an enormous amount of money to get out special color plates and have finally completed their end, namely: To place on the market thousands of magnificent stereoscopic views, the most beautiful, interesting and exciting scenes from every land, in the grandest and most exquisite natural colors.

Now we come to our great special offer. Read our plan carefully as it describes the stereoscope and tells how to secure the scope and views at almost no cost to you.

First the stereoscope. The Stereoscope is our world-famous "Aluminum Crystal Lens" Stereoscope. Genuine aluminum hood, bound with dark rich red velvet. Frame is of fine finished cherry wood with patent folding handle, folding underneath frame, and sliding bar. The lenses are extra fine quality, selected for clearness and brilliancy, 1¾ inches in diameter, ground from best quality glass and carefully adjusted. This Crystal Lens Aluminum "Scope" has won universal praise from lovers of the beautiful, and as a means of entertainment stands second to nothing.

Cherry Trees.

Cherry trees grew originally at Cerasus, a city of Pontus, and were introduced to the Romans about 70 B. C. by Lucullus.

Deep Breathing.

Full use of the lungs always means strength. Throughout the brute creation, from the mouse, which breathes 150 times a minute, to the elephant, which breathes only six times a minute, one rule holds good—the larger and stronger the animal the more slowly and deeply it breathes.

St. Paul's.

St Paul's cathedral, London, was built on the site of a temple to Diana in 226. Several times it has either been destroyed or injured by fire, being wrecked by the great conflagration in 1080 and again in 1666.

Hunger Sauce.

Marshal Ney said that the best meal he ever made was on a piece of half raw pork. During the Russian campaign of 1812 he was passing by a campfire where a soldier was cleaning a part of a pig he had shot. He offered the marshal a piece, which he after thankfully accepted and devoured on the spot with an excellent appetite.

Rye.

Rye is believed to be one of the most modern of grains. It was not known to the Egyptians. No ancient nation has a name for it before the days of the Roman empire.

Messina.

Messina was the first to bring the secrets of the oil painting of the Netherlands to Italy. He studied with the Myeks about the middle of the fifteenth century and after returning to Italy introduced the improved methods in the use of oils.

The Radish.

The radish is a native of China and Japan.

Oneida.

Oneida was the name of an Indian tribe. The word means the "people of the beacon stone," there being a tradition that in all their wanderings they were followed by a certain great stone that took up its station on the highest hill in the neighborhood.

Hats.

Hats were first made by a Swiss. They were introduced in Paris in 1404 and in England in 1510. Silk hats were introduced in 1820.

Killed the Industry.

Some years ago the government of Java offered a reward for all crocodiles killed or captured. For a time enormous numbers of them were brought to the authorities. Then it was discovered that nearly all the natives had gone to raising crocodiles, so the reward was withdrawn.

The Ancient Purse.

For several centuries the purse was always worn fastened to the girdle. A cut purse got his name from the fact that rather than take the time to loose the purse from the belt, where it was secured by buckles, he cut the straps.

Chinese in Siam.

Every three years all Chinese domiciled in Siam have to pay a small poll tax. When this has been paid the collector ties a string around the man's left wrist and fastens the knot with a special official seal. The bracelet is the Chinese's receipt and must be worn one month.

Cape Henlopen.

Cape Henlopen, Delaware, was named from a Dutch expression, "un loten," to run in, meaning the entrance to a harbor. It was first called Cape Cornelius, after a Dutch admiral.

To Knuckle Under.

To "knuckle under" or "knuckle to" a person is a phrase derived from an old meaning of "knuckle," the word being formerly applied to any joint of the body, especially the knee; hence to "knuckle under" was equivalent to kneeling for pardon. The knuckles of the hands were not referred to in any respect.

NOT LOSING MUCH MONEY

Transactions For December Show a Considerable Surplus.

Ottawa, February 7.—The intercolonial's transactions for the month of December show a surplus of $9,871, the gross earnings have been $699,-482, and expenses $689,787. Taking the six months from July to December, a reduction of $178,790 was effected in the working expenses, while the revenue increased by $232,396, giving a total betterment of $411,496. The working expenses for the six months were $3,335,219, as against a revenue of $3,-351,766, so that for the first half of the present fiscal year there is a balance on the wrong side of but $71,686.

GROCERS AGAIN REMANDED.

Hamilton, Feb. 9.—The preliminary examination in the case of the officers of The Dominion Wholesale Grocers' Guild, charged with conspiracy, was further enlarged this morning at the request of the defendants, their counsel not being to be present. The case was postponed until Monday.

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY

OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 30c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the winze has produced $200,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the winze has averaged about $675 a ton, or about $1350 for every foot of sinking, the winze being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the winze running less than $250 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the winze. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1200 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

On the other side of the house we discovered Agnes, busily engaged binding up the wounds of those who had been hurt. She was deadly pale, but her bravery was not a bit diminished. When we got back to our own quarters we had counted three dead men, two placed hors de combat by their wounds, and five more or less cut and scratched. Of the enemy we estimated that at least a hundred had fallen before our rifles, never to rise again.

For something like half-an-hour we stood at our posts, waiting to be attacked, but the foe showed no sign of moving. I was just wondering what the next move would be when I heard a shout from the right. I gripped my rifle and peered ahead of me, but there was nothing to be seen save the foe crouching behind their shelters in the distance.

"What is it?" I cried to my right-hand neighbor. "What do they see?"

"A horseman," he replied, "and coming in our direction."

"Is he mad?" I cried, "or doesn't he see his danger?"

My informant did not reply, and a moment later I saw for myself the person referred to. He was mounted on a grey horse, and was riding as fast as his animal could travel in our direction. I turned my eyes away from him for a moment. When I looked again I saw a man rise from behind a bush and hurl a spear at him. The cruel weapon was thrown with unerring aim and struck the horse just behind the saddle. He leapt into the air, and then with a scream of agony that could be heard quite plainly where we all stood watching, dashed frantically towards us. He had not, however, gone a hundred yards before he put his foot into a hole, and fell with a crash to the ground, to lie there motionless. His neck was broken, as we discovered later.

From where I stood, to the place where the man and beast lay, was scarcely eighty yards; thence, on to the spot where the enemy were in ambush, not more than a hundred. For some reason—why, I shall never be able to explain—an irresistible desire to save the injured man came over me. I could not have resisted it, even had I wished to do so. Accordingly, I placed my rifle against the axle, sprang upon the box of the wagon wheel, vaulted over, and ran as hard as I could go towards the victim of the accident. Ahead of me I could distinctly see the nodding plumes of the foe as they crouched behind their enormous shields. They did not, however, move, and I was thus enabled to reach the man's side, and to take him in my arms unmolested. I had not gone ten yards on my return journey, however, before I heard their yells, and knew that they were after me. Fortunately, I had nearly a hundred and twenty yards start; but I had a heavy man to carry, and was quite out of breath. However, I was not going to be beaten, so putting out every ounce of strength I boasted in my body, I raced on. By the time I reached the wagons again, the foe were not fifty yards behind me. A couple of assegais whistled passed my ears as I climbed over the wheel and dropped my burden on the ground, but fortunately neither hit me. So exhausted was I that for a moment I leant against the wagon, unable to move. But the instinct of self-preservation gave me strength, and picking up my rifle I let drive blindly at the nearest of the foe who was already on the wheel before me. I saw the man's forehead open out like a cracked walnut as my shot caught it, and a moment later he fell forward on the tyre—dead. I threw him off in time to shoot the next man as he took his place. Of the following five minutes my only recollection is a sense of overpowering heat; a throat and mouth parched like the sands of the Great Sahara; a rifle growing every moment hotter in my hand, and deafening till the necessity of steadying, at any cost, the crowd of black humanity that seemed to be overwhelming me. How long the fight lasted I cannot say. But at last a cheer from the other side of the laager reached me, and almost at the same instant the enemy turned tail and fled for their lives. Then, with an empty rifle at my feet, a dripping cutlass in one hand, and a still smoking revolver in the other, I leant against the wagon and laughed hysterically till I fell fainting to the ground.

CHAPTER XIII.

When I recovered consciousness I found a stranger dressed in uniform kneeling beside me. What was more singular still I was not under the wagon as before, but was lying surrounded by a dozen or so of my comrades in the verandah of my own house. Agnes was kneeling beside me, and her father was holding a basin of water at my feet.

"There is nothing at all to be alarmed about, my dear young lady," the man in uniform was saying as he felt my pulse. "Your friend here will live to fight another day, or a hundred days for that matter. By this time to-morrow he'll be as well as ever." Then, turning to me, he added: "How do you feel now?"

I replied that I felt much stronger; and then, looking up at Mr. Maybourne, enquired if we had beaten off the enemy.

"They have been utterly routed," replied the gentleman I addressed. "The credit, however, is due to Captain Haviland and his men; but for their timely arrival I fear we should have been done for. Flesh and blood could not have stood the strain another half hour."

"Stuff and nonsense," said the doctor, for such I afterwards discovered he was, "all the credit is due to yourselves; and, by George, you deserve it. A finer stand was never made in this country, or for that matter in any other."

After a few minutes' rest and another sip of brandy, I managed to get on to my feet. It was a sad sight I had before me. Stretched out in rows beyond the verandah rails were the bodies of the gallant fellows who had been killed—twelve in number. On rough beds placed in the verandah itself and also in the house were the wounded; while on the plain all round beyond the laager might have been seen the bodies of the Matabele dead. On the left of the house the regiment of mounted infantry, who had so opportunely come to our assistance, were unsaddling after chasing the enemy, and preparing to camp.

After I had had a few moments' conversation with the doctor, Mr Maybourne and Agnes came up to me again, and congratulated me on having saved the stranger's life. The praise they gave me was altogether undeserved, for, as I have already explained, I had done the thing on the spur of the moment without for an instant considering the danger to which I had exposed myself. When they had finished I enquired where the man was, and in reply they led me into the house.

"The doctor says it is quite a hopeless case," said Agnes, turning to me in the doorway; "the poor fellow must have injured his spine when his horse fell with him."

I followed her into the room which had once been my own sleeping apartment. It was now filled with wounded. The man I had brought in lay upon a mattress in the corner by the window, and, with Agnes beside me, I went across to him. Once there I looked down at his face, and then, with a cry that even on pain of death I could not have kept back, I fell against the wall, as Agnes afterwards told me, pallid to the very lips. I don't know how to tell you who I saw there; I

DEAD MAN COMES TO LIFE

Watchers at Side of Supposed Corpse Are Surprised.

Rome, February 7.—A man named Giovanella, residing at Magherno, near Pavia who had for a long time suffered from an affection of the heart, was supposed to have died suddenly, he was a bachelor and lived alone. Neighbors agreed to watch the body in turn, and candles were lit and placed around the bed. When the body was about to be put into the coffin the supposed dead man rose up and was astounded to see so many people and lights about him. The people present escaped, struck with terror. Signor Giovanella was soon quite well, and later went out for a walk.

A Generous Foe.

At Gibraltar during the most famous of its sieges the French commander, learning that Elliot's men were suffering from scurvy, sent them as a present a boat load of carrots.

Prolific Fruit.

The producing power of the banana is forty-four times as great as that of the potato. The dried fruit is readily converted into nutritious flour. It may also be manufactured into sausages. Beer can be made from it, while the skin can be turned into cloth and the juice made to do service either as ink or vinegar.

Skeleton's Strange Hiding Place.

Cutting a hole in a large tree to secure a fox which had taken refuge within it, some men out hunting at Marrar, in New South Wales, discovered the complete skeleton of a man in the hole of the tree.

An Egyptian Relic.

An Egyptian wig in the British museum contains no fewer than 360 little braided pigtails.

A Most Remarkable Month.

The month of February, 1866, was in one respect the most remarkable in the world's history. It had no full moon. January had two full moons, and so had March, but February had none. This had not occurred since the creation of the world, and it will not occur again. Fixed on a garden wall in Maida Vale is a tablet announcing this fact.

Use a jardinier as a receptacle for waste water in the room where you are compelled to use a washstand. It is much prettier than the ordinary unsightly receptacle belonging to the toilet set.

In wall coverings for the kitchen and bathroom paper with an oil finish is now preferred to varnish. It looks better and withstands the effect of moisture just as well.

Ammonia vapor is said to be the best disinfectant for use in cases of cholera or diphtheria. It will free a room from germs in two hours.

Shower baths are considered invigorating, and hot baths will more frequently increase than reduce flesh.

Resolution Which Forbids any Single District Making a Settlement

Indianapolis, February 8. — The miners executive board adjourned yesterday without issuing a formal statement. They will not meet again until after the New York anthracite conference. A resolution was adopted on motion of President Mitchell that no district under the jurisdiction of the United Mine Workers, "whether anthracite, bituminous or block coal, in United States or Canada, shall make any agreement for a scale of wages unless all districts are included." It was said this resolution is designed to prevent any arrangement unless it includes demands of miners in all sections of country.

Union Leaders Condemned.

St. Louis, February 7.—The final report of the December grand jury today, submitted to Circuit Judge Withrow, condemned labor union leaders for alleged intimidation of workmen engaged under contract on building work. To prevent such practices, revision of the statutes regarding conspiracy, extortion, intimidation and restraint of trade was recommended, as well as a law requiring labor unions to incorporate.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $20 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 50 by 1,320 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the holder may, on a variety survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after $10,000.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

COMMITTEE AT WORK

Board of Education Are Investigating School Matters in South Ward.

It will be remembered by our readers, that at the last meeting of the Board of Education, held Monday night, a committee, consisting of Messrs. Pringle, Ackerman, Burnham, Hill and Fair, to thoroughly investigate the question of providing more adequate accommodations for the now necessarily cramped capacity of our local public schools.

The committee have driven about the south ward, visited the South Central School and looked over the territory which that school is supposed to accommodate.

It is a well known fact that the south ward school is practically doing the work of two schools. The classes are so large now that it is impossible for any teacher to do the work satisfactorily to either herself or the pupils. The members of the Board of Education are acquainted with all the facts and no one knows the needs more thoroughly than they do.

There is no question but what the Board is trying all that lies in their power to lessen the present deplorable conditions. It is now up to this, that either a third storey, as suggested by Mr. Hill, at the last meeting, be added to the south ward school, or else another building must be acquired or erected.

The Engineering Magazine.

The Engineering Magazine for February opens with a second part of Mr. Louis J. Magne's study of "The Americans and the German Peril" — a study which takes first importance on account of the author's intimate connections with the leading industrial forces on both sides of the Atlantic. He presents in this number a striking definition of modern German commercial policy and ideals which has much suggestive value for the American and the British manufacturer. Mr. Beckett's profusely illustrated article on the Square Deal in Work's Management takes up those practical instruments which can be made in the shop to the advantage of efficiency in operation and especially of harmony with the employes. Other timely illustrated contributions are those by Wm. M. Brewer, on southern Alaskan mining development, and by R. Emerson on Pneumatic Power Appliances in the Machine Shop, giving the data of some recent thorough tests on the cost and efficiency of air motors. Dr. Louis Bell has a most interesting review of alternating-current electric traction—the newest thing in electrical engineering; Mr. W. Pollard Digby makes a very instructive analysis of engineering expenses in their relation to industrial depressions, and Mr. E. C. Rebst, of the U.S. Geological Survey, makes a striking survey of the enormous expansion and prospects of cement manufacture in America—a movement which parallels closely the growth of the structural steel industry.

PETERBORO WINS

The Brockville Game Results Peterboro 14 Brockville 2.

Last night a large crowd, in fact a packed rink at Brockville, watched the great struggle in the semifinal championship O.H.A. game at Brockville.

The Peterboro team who left on the 8.25 G.T.R. train for Brockville, yesterday morning, lined up as follows:

Goal—Wasson.
Point—Glover.
Cover-point—Moore.
Rover—Whiteroft.
Center—Morgan.

The game at the end of the first half stood 7—1 in favor of Peterboro, and at completion of the game in favor of the white and blue's by 14—2.

In the senior O.H.A. league last night the Toronto Argonauts defeated Barrie at the latter place by a score of 4—2.

HOUSE OF REFUGE

Plain Facts, or Inside Information Regarding Proposed Site.

One of our evening contemporaries, the Examiner, in its edition of 6th inst., assumes to have "inside information," as to the site to be selected by the County Council for a House of Refuge. It is scarcely credible that the different members of the council have intimated their views on the subject, it is more probable that the article in question is intended to be an advocacy of the site mentioned, viz., the Braden lot. We respectfully suggested that the council "hasten gently" with regard to this most important matter. A present expenditure of $20000 at least on buildings alone is contemplated; surely the land upon which they are to be placed, should be desirable in every way. Sanitary conditions are of vital moment to the health of the inmate and aged inmates of the institution, and there should be sufficient acreage of the right kind of soil to afford employment to these persons, as well as to produce the necessary food for their maintenance. Then too, the future must not be overlooked; with a constantly increasing population, better now obtain sufficient land than at some later date when a much larger price will have to be paid. What are the facts with regard to the Braden lot? It is not, as stated, "half a mile from Lakefield," but principally within the corporation; it contains only 45 acres, is immediately south of the Lakefield marshes, and in no part has an elevation of more than 25 feet above the level of same.

Would any wise man select such a property for his own permanent residence? Why then foist it upon these poor people who have no choice in the matter? It might be well also to enquire about the depth of soil for it is stated that the owner on an assessment appeal before Judge Weller, swore that the rock is so near the surface in some of his fields that it was only every third or fourth year that he could raise a satisfactory crop.

Unquestionably 100 acres is not too much; the land should be high and rolling so that the buildings may be placed upon an elevation where plenty of fresh, not vitrated air may be had. We have confidence that the County Council will give these points full and due consideration, and not allow cheapness to govern in their selection.

OPERA HOUSE PHOTOGRAPHED

Mr. R. M. Roy Takes Splendid View of Large Local Audience.

Mr. R. M. Roy, Peterboro's now celebrated photographic artist, took a most artistic and wonderfully clear flash-light photo of the audience in the Grand Opera House on Thursday night.

He now has several pictures, which are 8x10 displayed at his studio. The work is of a very superior character and each patron of the house is easily seen, and recognized. The view is remarkably clear and over 1,200 persons are represented in it. Those on the main floor, balcony and gallery, can be readily recognized, while those at the rear can be easily distinguished by means of a magnifying glass.

A RUMOR CONTRADICTED

Mr. Jas. McMartin Reported to Be Missing Now at Home.

Yesterday it was rumored about the city, and the rumors were embodied in a long account given by an evening contemporary, that Mr. Jas. McMartin, who last week took some logs down to Bramfort Bridge from Otonabee, had been missing for a week days and that his friends and relatives in consequence were much alarmed.

We are pleased to state that these rumors are absolutely without truth or foundation. Yesterday, Mrs. McMartin wife of the supposedly missing man called at the Times office, and indignantly denied the whole story.

According to Mrs. McMartin's story told The Times yesterday, and which we have reason to believe is absolutely correct, Mr. McMartin did, a week ago Thursday take a lot of logs to Bramfort as per the report in Thursday's paper, but he returned home on Friday, as he had arranged to do prior to leaving.

The whole story is made of whole cloth and without one atom of foundation.

A SAD DEATH

Miss Helen Hazel Galley Passed Away Yesterday.

The many friends of Miss Helen Hazel Galley, daughter of the late Mr. Wm. Galley, 508 George street, will be grieved to learn that she passed away yesterday afternoon at half-past four o'clock.

The late Miss Galley had been ill for about a year, suffering from a complication of different troubles. The funeral will be held from the family residence, 508 George street to the Little Lake cemetery on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

A CREAM CASE

Manvers' Farmers Object to Treatment By a Toronto Dairy Co.

A case was tried at the Millbrook Division Court, on Thursday, that is of great interest to the farming community of this and other counties of Ontario. Mr. Edward Beaman of Manvers, represented by Mr. K. D. Kerr of Bowmanville, Peck & Kerr was complainant in a action taken against the Ogoode Dairy Co. of Toronto.

It seems that this case was the outcome of a lack of proper understanding, put "in black and white," regarding the quality of cream, as regards its "butter fat" strength.

A representative of the Ogoode Dairy Co., Toronto, had met their representative among the farmers of Manvers township, to buy cream, at 75c. a gallon for the latter. The cream was to be delivered at Manvers station.

The agreement was to last all summer, but owing to certain unsatisfactory circumstances the agreement was called off in July. But during part of June and July the farmers were delivering cream to the company's representative. The representative always tested the cream but he failed to tell the farmers the result of the test. In consequence when the time came to settle up accounts, the company said to the farmers, "We can't pay you 75c for that cream because there should have been a greater percentage of butter fat." But there was nothing to that effect in the agreement and the representative of the company had never said that he was not satisfied with the cream.

Mr. Beaman was one of the farmers caught. He was not satisfied with taking less than he had bargained to take and when the case was heard the judge gave the plaintiff a decision with costs for both this trial and the postponed trial.

Application to Parliament

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an application will be made on behalf of the City of Peterborough to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, at the next session thereof, for an Act for the following purposes:

1. To authorize the Council of the City of Peterborough to purchase the lands in the said City and in the Township of North Monaghan, adjoining the Southern limits of the said City, formerly owned by the Peterborough Sugar Company, Limited, and to issue debentures for the purchase money thereof, and to annex that part of the said land not now within the limits of the said City, to the City of Peterborough, and to grant or lease the same or parts thereof to manufacturers on such terms as may be agreed on, and to fix the assessment of the parts so granted or leased for a term of years.

2. To authorize the said Council to acquire by purchase or lease water or electric power and to develop and transmit electric power to the said City and to use or dispose of the same.

Hospital's Good Work.

Norwood Register: Mr. W. C. Mackenzie, who has been in the hospital at Peterboro for the past few weeks undergoing treatment for one of his eyes, returned home Thursday night. About [illegible] while at work getting [illegible] was struck in the eye with some substance, thought to be a piece of lime, thrown by the saw. The injury caused him considerable suffering and after enduring it for a while, without any apparent improvement, he decided to go to the hospital to be treated. We are pleased to learn that the injured optic is all right again.

An Official Orator.

A citizen yesterday remarked to The Times: "What Peterboro needs more than anything else in the world is an official orator and a poet laureate. Every day visitors arrive here in official capacities from various municipalities, states, principalities, foreign nations and powers. They must always be welcomed, and it isn't always done as it should be. What we want, therefore, is a man whose business it will be to have the right kind of a speech ready to meet the demands of all occasions. And a poet who can hand out a line or couple that will make all agents turn [illegible] the first rattle rattle outside the yard." Jokes. How would the President of the Lime Juice Club do for the job?

POSTAL REGULATIONS

Transparent Envelopes with Addresses Inside Barred from Mails.

The Postoffice Department publishes notices to the effect that all mail matter enclosed in transparent envelopes, having the address on the enclosure, is to be treated as non-transmissable by mail in Canada, and the same regulation applies to matter in envelopes having a transparent front portion covering the address. Attention is drawn to the fact that the stamps used for prepaying postage on post cards or unenclosed cards mailed to other countries as printed matter must be placed on the front or address side. The postal administration of the Commonwealth of Australia has given notice that the rates of postage on postcards sent from Australia to Canada has been reduced from one and one-half pence to one penny each for single post cards, and from threepence to twopence for reply post cards from January 1st. A reduction has been made in the rates of postage on parcels sent from Canada to Dutch Guiana. The rate varies from 75 cents for one pound to $1.60 for 11 pounds. A convention has been arranged between the postal administrations of Canada and Trinidad for the direct exchange of parcels by parcel post. The limit of weight for a single parcel is seven pounds. Parcel mails for Trinidad are made up at St. John, N. B.

MISS RUSH LEAVING

All Saint's Church Choir Tender a Banquet.

A pleasing but still sad feature of the choir practice at All Saints' church on Wednesday evening, was their farewell to Miss Lillian Rush, who leaves on Saturday for Ottawa, where she has accepted a position as kindergarten teacher.

Miss Rush has been associated with the choir at All Saints' church about nine years and has been one of the most popular members of the organization from which her valuable services will be sadly missed.

After choir practice was over, the members adjourned to the Sunday school rooms, and held an impromptu banquet, expressive of their regard for Miss Rush and as a means of conveying their united regret at her leaving. The rector, Rev. Mr. Major occupied the chair. After the toasts to the King, choir and church wardens, the rector proposed the toast, "Our Guest," eulogizing in very kindly manner on Miss Rush's services to the choir and the sorrow that was felt by the members at her departure. Miss Rush in replying to the toast expressed her appreciation of the kindness of the choir towards her and her regret at having to sever her connection with All Saints' church and the city.

The evening's proceedings were sustained complete by solos, very ably rendered by the Misses Rush, Pearl Lundy, Mabel Rickey and Mr. W. Grey.

MILLIONS OF FISH

Adjacent Lakes and Rivers will be Angler's Paradise in a Few Years.

Havelock Standard: The Havelock Fish and Game Club have applied to the Dominion Government, through our local representative, Mr. John Finlay, M.P., of Norwood, and have been assured of receiving every three and a half million fry for distribution this spring as follows:

1,000,000 Pickerel fry will be deposited in Rice Lake.
1,000,000 Pickerel fry in Belmont Lake.
1,000,000 Pickerel fry in Trent River.
50,000 Salmon Trout fry in Kasshagawong Lake.
10,000 Speckled Trout fry in Plateau Creek, Haveloch.

The fry will arrive in about three months and will be distributed in the respective localities through the assistance of boats of the rod and line.

The Price of Coal.

MECHANIC.

Seed Inspection.

On the 1st of September, 1905, the Seed Control Act went into effect. It does not affect the sale of seed by one farmer to another, but seed dealers must exercise some caution. Seeds offered for sale must be free from seeds of weeds, and must bear the names of the seller, and seed, and the names of the seeds of weeds that may be in it. The act is very strict respecting clover. Timothy or alsike seeds. If a purchaser is to be fined it must be absolutely free of weed seeds. And there are heavy penalties for the violation of the act. Any farmer who wants to sell seed to a dealer had better send a sample to the Official Seed Analyst, Ottawa, and get a certificate of its analysis. We understand that the sample will go through the entire free if marked seed sample.

Mother's Awful Deed.

Pittsburg, Feb. 5.—In a state of delirium last night, Mrs. E. W. Kerr, of Allegheny, killed her seventeen months' old daughter, Margaret, with a pair-knife, that her life is despaired of. Mrs. Kerr is in a critical condition, [illegible] from pneumonia. Her reason is destroyed.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart—[illegible]. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to bilious[illegible], loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, [illegible] backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and when taking the doctor's medicine, she brought me a bottle and we soon found that it was [illegible] so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became natural, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine had done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

A SUCCESSFUL NEWSPAPER

Boycott Against the Los Angeles Times Fall Flat.

In the face of an unrelenting boycott by labor organizations against the Los Angeles Times 1905 was the greatest year in that paper's history, as all the former records were broken. The circulation crept up from an average of 37,703 copies daily to 42,150, while the advertising in columns increased from 32,000 to 47,513. It was a bitter fight, this fight between the labor unions for an imaginary grievance, and the Times for a square deal for the employer, but it has shown that the public cannot be diverted from seeing the right involved in every question. We congratulate the Times on its splendid showing made in spite of the opposition against it.

E. B. Eddy Passes Away at Ottawa

Veteran Hull Manufacturer Dies in His 80th Year---His Business, World-Known, a Monument to His Energy and Integrity.

Ottawa, Feb. 11.—E. B. Eddy died at his residence here yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. For several days he had been unable to retain nourishment. Although not in good health for some time, he declined to consider himself an invalid, and remained "in the harness" practically to the time of his death.

Ezra Butler Eddy was one of the largest manufacturers of woodenware and paper in the British possessions, his establishment at Hull employing between 2000 and 3000 hands. His ancestors came originally from Scotland.

He was born near Bristol, Vermont, Aug. 22, 1827, the son of the late Samuel Eddy and Clarissa Eastman, who was a direct descendant of Miles Standish. Mr. Eddy was educated at the district school at Bristol, and commenced his business career in New York city. He afterwards removed to Burlington, Vermont, and embarked in the manufacture of friction matches in 1851.

In 1854 he removed to Hull, where he erected extensive shops and warehouses but in 1856 he added woodenware, such as pails and tubs, and, in 1862, paper. Mr. Edd formed a joint stock company in 1886 and since then the business has been carried on under the name of the E. B.Eddy Company of which he has been president.

From 1871 to 1875 he sat for Ottawa county in the Quebec legislature as a Conservative. He also served a term as mayor of Hull.

Mr. Eddy held high rank in the Masonic Order, and was a member of the Presbyterian community. His first wife, whom he married on Dec. 1, 1846 was Zalda Diana, daughter of U. F Armold, She died in 1883. In 1884 he married Jennie, daughter of the late John Sherriff, of Chatham, N.B

He was accounted one of Canada's millionaires.

The remains will be taken to Bristol, Vermont, by special train. They will be interred in the family plot by the side of his first wife.

A BUILDING BOOM

The Kincaid Farm Sold for $11,000 Being a Good Investment

That Peterboro's suburban, as well as urban real estate is absolute certain, in the quite near future to be in great demand, and to rapidly advance in value is now assured.

Last week an important real estate deal was carried through, by which a far sighted local citizen purchased the 216 acres comprising what is generally known as "The Kincaid Farm." Our older readers will remember that Dr. R. Kincaid, who left this city to take up a lucrative medical practice in British Columbia, and there, where there were very few more farsighted or better posted men on real estate in this county, after looking well over all the lands adjacent to Peterboro, in selecting a location for Pthe breeding establishment he so successfully carried on, chose these 216 acres situated about a mile and a half south of the then town of Peterboro.

The gentleman who, as noted above, recently purchased the Kincaid farm, is a shrewd speculator who not only has inside information as to several large factories about to be located in this city, but has utmost faith in the city's future, has gotten a property that will, before many seasons pass by be eagerly sought after by prospective homebuilders and builders as so much per foot instead of so much per acre.

Without violating certain confidential information given this journal, we may, although not at liberty to mention names, say that, within the next two years and possibly within a much shorter time, there will be at least two important industries started in the neighborhood of the south end of this city that will result before long, in starting a boom for Peterboro that will equal, if not eclipse, the now proverbial boom in several of our western cities.

There are now industrial schemes already promulgated and actively being pushed that give good reasons for implicit belief that within the next decade Peterboro's population will advance from its present modest figure of, say, 15,000 to 50,000 or 60,000.

The completition of the Trent Valley Canal, which is now practically assured, will result in a tremendous advance: in the price of all lands contiguous to its route, especially of land adjacent to or near the Otonabee river, and particularly so, such land as lies south of this city.

RAILWAY IN HOLY LAND

Proposal to Build a Road to the Red Sea

London, February 12.—To the Red Sea one, not in Pharaoh's chariots, but in steam cars, is what the people are to do early in the year. Most of the constructive material and locomotives have been sent from Glasgow. The line extends from Suakim, the present sea terminus, 232 miles into the interior, traversing first northward and then ascending the plateau 2,000 feet high, which runs parallel with the coast. Stretching fifty miles across the waterless waste of desert it reaches the Atbara river, twenty miles below its confluence with the Nile. Skirting the river it ultimately joins the Khartum-Wady-Haifa railway north of the Atbara bridge.

The new line will cost about $10,000,000 and will include extensive bridge works. Suakim may cease to be a great port, as the new terminus, now known as Port Soudan, forty-five miles north of Suakim, already has developed greatly and has a population of 3,000. The country traversed is capable of great development.

Trouble at the Conference

Berlin, February 12.—The latest attitude of the French press regarding the Algeciras conference has made a bad impression here, more so since information in other quarters corroborates the suspicion that the latest French demands are of an inadmissable character. France's latest proposal to organize a police with Spain's joint control, Italy being accorded a nominal participation, will not meet acceptance here, since it would mean practically sole French control, both Italy and Spain being bound by secret arrangements with France.

ARGUMENTS FOR CANADA

Disgusted Canadian in Chicago Advises Prospective English Immigrants

A clever letter, written by a disappointed Canadian, who has lived for some years in the city of Chicago, and addressed as an open letter to possible immigrants from England and other European countries, is appended below. The letter, replete with truth, was sent to The Times by a subscriber living in Chicago:

To prospective English immigrants.

You fellows do not know what a good thing you are missing by not becoming citizens of this grand country of ours. There isn't anything like it under the sun. You ought to send a delegation over here to see us—this land of the free—land of churches and 600,000 licensed saloons; bibles, forts and guns; houses of prayer; millionaires and paupers; theologians and thieves; libertines and liars; Christians and chain gangs; politicians and poverty; schools and scalawags; trusts and tramps; money and misery; homes and hunger; virtue and vice.

A land where you can get a good bible for 15 cents and a bad drink of whiskey for 5 cents; where we have men in congress with three wives and a lot in the penitentiaries for having two wives; where some men make sausages out of their wives and where some men want to eat them raw; where we make bologna sausage out of dogs, canned beef out of horses and sick cows, and corpses out of people who eat it; where we put a man in jail for not having the means of support and on the rock pile for asking for a job of work; where we find men for telling the truth on the street; where we have a congress of 400 men to make laws and a supreme court of nine men to set them aside; where good whiskey makes bad men, and bad men make good whiskey; where newspapers are suppressed for telling the truth and made rich for telling a lie; where preachers are paid $25,000 a year to dodge the devil and tickle the ear of the wealthy; where business consists in obtaining property in any way that won't land you in the penitentiaries; where trusts 'hold you up,'' and poverty holds you down; where they vote for what they do not want for fear they will not get what they want by voting for it; where the girl who goes wrong is made an outcast and her male partner flourishes as a gentleman; where women wear false hair and men dark their horses tails; where the political wirepuller has displaced the patriotic statesman; where men vote for a thing one day and cuss it 364 days; where we have prayers on the floor of our national capitol and whiskey in the cellar; where we spend $5,000,000 to bury a congressman who is rich and $10 to put away a workingman who is poor; where to be virtuous is to be lonesome and to be honest is to be called a crank; where we sit on the safety valve of energy and pull wide open the throttle of conscience; where gold is a substance, the one thing sought for—and God is a waste-basket for our better thoughts and good resolutions; where we pay $15,000 for a dog and 15 cents a dozen to a poor woman for making shirts; where we teach the untutored Indian eternal life and kill him with bad whiskey; where we put a man in jail for stealing a loaf of bread and in congress for stealing a railroad; where the cheque books talk, and walks in broad daylight; justice is asleep, crime rung amuck, corruption permeates our social and political fabric, and the devil laughs from every street corner.

Come to us Englishmen, we've got the grandest aggregation of good things, bad things, big things and little things, hot things and cold things, soft things and hard things, all sizes, varieties and colors, ever exhibited under one tent.

We've got more guns, more bibles and more whiskey, than any two shows on earth.

Of course, when you join us, you will have to stop eating other nations. You will be our meat them. Our people won't stand it to see a lot of good meat wasted that way. You can eat bologna or canned horse meat. It will be almost as healthy as the little nations you have devoured and will expand our meat trade.

MR. KENNEDY'S VIEWS

Prominent Educationalist Wants Another School in South Ward

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, who was last year chairman of the Building Committee on the Board of Education, discussing school matters on Saturday, said, "I am strongly in favor of the erection of a new school in the south end of the city, and do not endorse the proposition to add another story to the South Central building. It would be very unwise to crowd an extra story on the building, as there is not nearly sufficient room for a play ground there at present. We do not want children playing in a huddled up mass on top of a sand heap, and, if the structure was provided with a third story who would be the result? Many boys and girls would have to climb two flights of stairs instead of one. I do not think this is desirable. I believe that children should have plenty of exercise in the open air, and to enjoy this it is necessary there should be ample ground about the school. I think that a new public school should be built in the south end and a site selected farther south than the present one, to which many children have to walk a mile or so every days. Again, if a location was chosen at a more central point, it would, I believe result in this rapidly growing section growing still more. Additional families would locate there because there would be sufficient and convenient accommodation for their children. The heads of families moving into the city work principally in our factories which are situated in that portion of Peterboro, but, at present there is a disposition on the part of many not to take up residence owing to the overcrowded state of the school. By all means let a new building be put up further south, and let the matter of adding a story to the South Central school drop. We are not looking for a sky-scraper structure, around which there is little or no yard room."

Regarding the proposed change of lots for Collegiate Institute building, Mr. Kennedy favors the north lots in the park for the Institute on account of his advocacy of good light for the buildings. Mr. Kennedy would also have the Separate school building destroyed instead of preserved.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

HOCKEY.

The Knights, of Point St. Charles, P.Q., have come to the conclusion that what they don't know about playing hockey is hard to learn. These employees of Mr. McDonald's mill are now out with a challenge directed to the men of Munn's planning mill, to play a friendly game of hockey or an oyster supper, the losers to put up the simoleums therefore. The challengers are willing to play on any ice, the Little Lake preferred; the further the distance between rink and dressing room, the better, except internal allowed. Should the challenged men accept, their communication, in reply should be directed to Capt. Skinner, of "The Knights." The only stipulations the Knights make, is that the game be played on a Saturday afternoon, and that there is sufficient thickness of ice to make falls absolutely safe, as some of them can't swim. It is now up to the puck chasers of Munn's mill to take up the gauntlet and try to stick the Point St. Charles Knights for the price of several dozen Lusious oysters or to gracefully admit that they can't play hockey with the challengers.

Billy Lamour the best forward on the Brockville Federal League team, will lose his eyesight, as the result of an accident in last Thursday night's practice. He was struck on the right eye with the puck, causing a rupture of the ball. The injury will necessitate his retirement from the game for the balance of the season. His absence will greatly weaken the Brockville line. He went to Montreal to consult a specialist.

PRINCE RUPERT IS TERMINAL NAME

Grand Trunk Pacific's City on the Pacific's Ocean End

A WINNIPEG LADY'S IDEA

Two Others Who Suggested Use of Explorer's Name Will Also Get Prizes

Montreal, February 12.—Prince Rupert will be the name of the city that will be built at the terminus of the company's new railway, on the Pacific Ocean. In the competition on the name, Miss Eleanor M. Macdonald, of Winnipeg, was the winner out of [illegible] answers, and she obtains the prize of $250.

The official announcement of the contest says:

"As a result of the publication by the company throughout Canada of its offer of a prize of $250 to the person who would suggest the name that would be selected for the city which will be established at the western terminus of the company's transcontinental railway on the Pacific Coast, upwards of twelve thousand names were received, the majority of which complied with the conditions of the contest. It was the desire of the company, as explained in the notice of the competition, that the name chosen should be euphonious, and that it should be appropriately significant of Canada, and more particularly of the North-West and British Columbia, in the future development of which the railway is to take so large a part. With this end in view, therefore, the suggestions submitted have been carefully reviewed, and the name Prince Rupert has been selected as the name by which will be known the city that will be built at the terminus of the company's new railway on the Pacific Ocean, the name having been suggested by Miss Eleanor M. Macdonald, of Winnipeg.

OTHER PRIZES AWARDED.

"Under the terms of the competition that the name should contain not more than three syllables, nor exceed ten letters, the name suggested which complied with the conditions and most nearly resembled that selected was Port Rupert, this name having been suggested by Mrs. John Orme, of Bonnechere, Ontario, and by Mr. R. Kirkwood, of Copper Cliff, Ontario. As against Port Rupert, however, Prince Rupert constitutes the full name of the illustrious explorer, but it exceeds the conditions of the competition by two letters. On account of its selection, therefore, and with the desire to accord fair treatment to all, the company have awarded the full amount of the prize offered of $250 to each of the two who suggested Port Rupert, as well as the one who suggested the name which has been adopted.

"As Miss Macdonald very aptly says, it was in the year 1670 that King Charles the II. of England granted a charter to Prince Rupert, and a number of others, to trade with the Indians in British North America. They established trading posts throughout this immense country from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, including Alaska, which territory, from that time and for more than a century afterwards, was known as "Rupert's Land." In this way, therefore, the name in its entirety, which has been chosen for the new city at the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on the Pacific Coast, which will be situated about thirty miles south of the southern extremity of Alaska, is connected with the oldest records of the history of Canada, and particularly of the western portion thereof, and it seems especially fitting and appropriate at this time, after the centuries that have passed, that it should again be prominently identified with the march of progress which is wending its way across this Western Empire in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. It is Canadian in the broadest sense; it is of the vast North-West Territories and British Columbia, and beyond this, it was the name of one of those fearless and intrepid sons of Britain, who came and conquered this new land which is our proud heritage."

THE C.P.R. NOT INTERESTED

Rumor That Railway Was Interested in Niagara Tunnel Denied.

Montreal, Feb. 10.—It was reported in Buffalo yesterday that the Canadian Pacific Railway was back of the scheme of the Buffalo Subway Railway Company, a company incorporated in Albany with a capital stock of $1,000,000 to construct a subway from Niagara street to a point in West Buffalo and also to build a tunnel under the Niagara River, but Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, gave it a flat denial.

"I never heard of such a thing," said Sir Thomas at noon, when told of the report.

At the present time the Canadian Pacific Railway gets entrance to Buffalo by bridge, so that there could be no advantage from a tunnel that would compensate for the enormous expenditure its construction would cost.

CHURCH PROPERTY

Quebec Legislation Passes Bill to Tax Church Property

Montreal, February 12. — The Private Bills committee last night took action which, if initiated in Montreal would reduce by considerable sums the exemption from taxation now existing in the city. The bill under consideration was that to amend the charter of the town of Hinsouski. The Bishop's Palace, the Seminary, the Cathedral, the Hospitals and Homes conducted by nuns and the Ursuline Convent are all by the action of the committee subject to new taxes for sidewalks, public parks, markets, bridges, waterworks, sewers, and fire protection, while the taxation formerly imposed for the opening of maintenance of streets, water courses and public lighting, under the general law governing cities and towns is still preserved.

At the present time the property taxable for all purposes in Rimouski is assessed at $442,000, while the exempted property is valued at $447,000. The property subject to the new taxes which this bill contemplates is assessed as follows: Bishop's Palace, $50,000; cemetery, $1,500; seminary, $50,000; cathedral, $100,000; hospital and home, $50,000, and Ursuline Normal school $20,000. The rate of taxation on real estate is nine mills on the dollar, and the public debt is $120,000. Mr. Tellier, M. L. A., for Joliette, was the only one of the committee who objected to the proposed additional taxation, but finally the report was adopted and unanimously carried.

This marks the most advanced taxation law ever adopted by the Legislautre, and its course through the Assembly and the Legislative Council will be watched with interest.

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE

Either Norwood or Lakefield Will Get It—The City Not in the Running

The main bone of contention picked by the county council, at the session on Saturday, after their tour of inspection of Houses of Refuge in Lindsay, St. Thomas, Stratford and other places, was consideration of where to locate the building contemplated by this county.

As soon as the meeting opened Saturday morning, the council went into Committee of the Whole, and tenders were opened from property owners in and around Lakefield and Norwood, offering lots for the site of the House of Refuge. Various lots were offered, many of which would no doubt be suitable for the purpose intended. The prices ranged from $4,000 to $7,500, the prevailing figures being from $65 to $100 per acre.

A long discussed followed, relative to merits of the various sites.

Warden Johnston was of the opinion that this council should wait for a while before going ahead with the project. There was plenty of time, and several lots near Peterboro were available which might be considered.

The council were not favorable to establishing the institution in the city, although it was noted that the water and sewer facilities were worth serious consideration. Mr. Peck called attention to the fact that for the sewer advantageously the building would have to be near Locke street.

During the afternoon session, it practically became a struggle between Norwood and Lakefield, the Lakefield supporters being in the majority.

It is said that Messrs. Shaw, Corbutt, Stinson, Monaghan, Moloney and Webster are backing Lakefield's claim; while Messrs. Buck, Andrews, Carey and Warden Johnston are holding on for Norwood.

The council adjourned for two weeks to allow North Monaghan and Peterboro property owners to send in tenders, none having been received from these places.

IT'S DIFFERENT

Since Coffee Left

A Wisconsin lady says of coffee:

"From childhood I had been used to drinking coffee, and grew very fond of it.

"When in course of time I began to suffer from stomach and bowel troubles with accompanying headaches, pains in the chest and loss of appetite and flesh, I was slow to suspect that coffee was the cause. My sister, who had used and knew the virtues of Postum Food Coffee, persuaded me to try it. I gave up the old kind of coffee with reluctance, thinking that I would never find a hot table drink that I would relish so well.

"I was therefore most agreeably surprised to discover that Postum when properly made—thoroughly boiled, was so very palatable. It proved to be a rich, creamy, delicious beverage, nothing and quieting to the nerves and healthily invigorating. I also found it nutritious, as the old kind of coffee never was.

"Postum began to help me from the very beginning, and I was thus encouraged to continue its use, until, I am happy to say, it landed me safely in Wellville, where I have been for three years and where I propose to remain. I find it a glorious and happy place to be in.

"I never before had such good health as I have now. No trace of my former ailments remain. I have put on weight until I am almost 'fleshy' and my complexion has resumed the bloom of my girlhood days.

"My mother lost her life (as I can see now) through coffee drinking. Her ailments were not precisely the same as mine were, but no one suspected at the time that they were due to coffee, and she continued to use it, her health, growing steadily worse and worse till death put an end to her sufferings. If I had only known then what I do now, she might be living to this day.

"My father was also a great coffee drinker and tobacco user as well, and, I am sorry to say, too fond of liquor. He lives with me and I have taught him to drink Postum, with the result that he uses much less tobacco and has entirely lost his appetite for strong drink. I feel most sincerely grateful to the discoverer of Postum Food Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Intriguing at Vatican Secret Attacks on Pope

Italian Priests and Cardinals, Angered by Attempts to Put Down Graft, Resort to Scurrilous Anonymous Circulars Scattered Through Rome.

Paris Feb. 12.—The papal court has once more become the stage for all kinds of intrigues, the home of all kinds of adventurers," writes a French journalist from Rome.

If during the dictatorship of the late Pope Leo the XIII., the "iron man o' the church," the pasquil had to remain silent, it has awakened to new life under the goodhearted Pius X.

The way in which the Italian priests and cardinals attack the mild-mannered and childlike Pope Uius, calls back to memory the time when the Dutch Cardinal Hadrian VI. occupied the throne of St. Peters.

Pope Pius X. wants reforms; he wants to change the ignorant and lazy Italian priests into true exponents of the teachings of Christ, but he is opposed in every effort by the Roman cardinals, who see the peasant life of luxury and indolence threatened.

THROUGH PAMPHLETS.

They do not fight him in the open; that would not be Roman, and that might be dangerous, as they are well aware that when aroused the ill-mannered simple-minded Venetian priests would not hesitate to strike straight from the shoulder, but they attack him anonymously in pamphlets, which are spread broadcast over the city.

For many months Italy has been flooded with these scurrilous leaflets, written with jesuitic ingenuity, and evidently inspired by the cardinals, for one has just appeared which surpasses anything the Catholic world has ever seen.

In appearance it is like a vatican "black-book," bound in black with a sign of mourning, and tears on the cover the inscription, "Sede Vacante, which of course means that at the present time there is no pope in the chair o. St. Peter.

Under the disguise of a pastoral letter to the bishops of Italy it enumerates all the sins of Pope Pius.

DESECRATION CHARGED.

It tells how he is trying to drive priests and priests out of their offices, how he has spent half a million lires to buy a plot in Via San Martino near Porto Pia, there to build a reformatory for priests who have incurred his ill-will, where Roman priests are to be disciplined by French monks.

A venomous attack is made upon the Pope because he has "desecrated the holy vatican soil (sacrosanta vaticana) by transforming it into a gymnasium and surrounded himself with boys (zarzonelli) who "can see no farther than the ends of their noses."

"How disgraceful to think that a 'whole' man like Cardinal Rampolla, by low intrigues, was excluded from the papal throne," the writer says. "But surely the next conclave, which we hope is not far off, will make him Leo XIV."

THE REASON FOR IT.

The fury of the camarilla arises the fact that Pope Pius is endeavoring to put an end to corruption in the vatican and graft among the cardinals, many of whom, though they might stop at murder, would probably not hesitate to pray that death may soon relieve them of the man who has incurred their bitter hatred.

KING SEEKS SECLUSION

His Majesty Follows Custom Once Observed by Queen Victoria

London Feb. 12.—Those in the immediate court circle were much impressed with the solemnity which marked the recent anniversary of Queen Victoria's death.

The anniversary has always been kept by King Edward with the greatest reverence, but this time the whole day was spent practically in seclusion, both by the King and Queen. There was, of course, the usual memorial service at Frogmore, attended by their majesties and a few of their personal attendants.

In the afternoon, however, the King, instead of going out in his motor car or entertaining a few intimate friends to luncheon, remained alone in his study or in the Queen's apartments all day. The family also dined alone in the evening. The court officials concluded that the King, feeling the importance of the present political situation very keenly, wished to "think over things" on a day which has always meant much to him.

On the anniversary of the prince consort's death the late Queen had a way of shutting herself up in a room and reviewing the affairs of the country.

Rumors are afloat concerning the health of Queen Alexandra, who collapsed after her arrival at Copenhagen, and who is said to be only the shadow of her former self.

The King, also, is far from being well, and his ankle continues to give him considerable pain. Even under the most favorable conditions, he will probably never be able to walk again without limping.

Ordinarily the most congenial man imaginable, he has become exceedingly irritable, and all his surroundings are suffering under his ill-humor.

New C.P.R. Stock Issue

Montreal, February 12.—In commenting on the new issue of C. P. NEW ISSUE G. T. P. STOCK

General Manager of the Grand Trunk Has Left for England

Montreal, Feb. 12.—Charles M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk, has left for England for the purpose of consulting with the directors on matters relating to the company's policy preparatory to the half-yearly meeting which will shortly be held, preparatory, it is understood, to another issue of Grand Trunk Pacific capital.

An important question to be considered is their next issue of Grand Trunk Pacific securities. The success of last year's flotation was an indication that the investing public are prepared to take up very readily this extremely promising investment and thus to share in the building of the new transcontinental system.

The time of the next issue has not been fixed, but it is understood that Mr. Hays' visit has relation to this as well as to the consent to be issued.

The company's directors in London have their fingers on the pulse of the market. They know, if anybody knows, the favorable moment for actions.

With one of the heads of the great house of Rothchild on the board of directors, there can be no doubt whatever that the next issue of capital will be made under the most favorable conditions.

The company's present necessities will be put before the directors by Mr. Hays, whose practical knowledge will guide them as to the requirement, on this side and the opportunities that will be opened by Western development.

CONTRARY TO GRAVITATION

Denies Sun is Source of Heat—Scientists Beginning to Listen to Her

London, Feb. 12.—Miss Martha Craig a young Irish lady, in the estimation of a most remarkable essay, which entirely upsets all the now recognized theorems founded on the law of gravitation.

Her work has been much praised by the French Institute.

Miss Craig, who is a self-made woman in every sense of the word, replaces the law of gravitation by a system of vortexes.

The sun, the earth, the moon, and all the known constellations each have their own vortex, which holds their particles together by pressure.

She denies that the sun is the source of our light and heat, because the higher you rise the colder the atmosphere grows.

Light and heat, she says, are generated by friction of the vortex on the earth's surface, coming in contact with the rays of the sun.

Her theories, which at first were ridiculed by Scientists as has been the fate of all new theories from the time of Galileo, are now being seriously discussed in scientific circles.

Punch Bowl W. C. T. U.

Columbus, O., Feb. 12.—The various societies representing the Women's Christian Temperance Union in Columbus are up in arms over an announcement that the Ohio delegation in congress had decided to give Alice Roosevelt a punch bowl as a wedding gift. The W.C.T.U. indignation is not abated at a later announcement that the delegation decided to present her with a loving cup, which many of the W.C.T.U. women take to be practically a punch bowl.

NIGHT'S NOTICE OF HANGING.

Hackensack, N.J., Feb. 11. — Jerry Rosso an Italian, was hanged here yesterday for the murder of another Italian which was committed two years ago. Rosso was recently reprieved and no date had since been set for the execution of his death sentence until yesterday, when Governor Stokes directed that he should pay the penalty yesterday. The gallows then was hurried taken to the jail, and workmen were busy until late at night putting it into position. Deputies and witnesses had to be notified by telegraph in order that they might be here in time for the execution. Rosso was not informed until late in the evening that he was to die the next day.

Stratford Wants School

Stratford, Feb. 11.—Stratford is making a bid for a Normal school. A number of prominent citizens met Hon. Nelson Monteith here yesterday in reference to building a school, and Mr Monteith promised his support towards attaining that end.

The railway commissioners will register at the O.P.R. are expected here at an early date. The commissioners will go over the Guelph-Goderich line and discuss matter of crossings, subways, etc. It is thought that this visit will result in work being commenced on the road in the spring.

Pale and Anxious

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 514 King St. East, Toronto, who says: "After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

SEPARATE SCHOOL TEACHERS

Some time ago the Ontario lieutenant-governor-in-council submitted to the court of appeal this question in respect of the qualification of teachers in the Roman Catholic separate schools of Ontario:

Certain religious communities instituted for educational purposes, including the Brothers of the Christian schools, and certain religious communities, composed of persons of the female sex, including the Community General Hospital, Alma House and Seminary of Learning of the Sisters of Charity of Ottawa (commonly called the "Grey Nuns"), were in 1880, and had been for several years before, engaged in educational work within lower Canada, and the members of such communities were at the time of the passing of the B.N.A. act, 1867, exempt from undergoing an examination as teachers in the province of Quebec, under C.S.L.C., 1860, ch. 15. Having regard to the various pre-confederation provincial enactments relating to the subject of education in the late provinces of Upper and Lower Canada, and to the terms of the B.N.A. act, and to the enactments of the province of Ontario since confederation—are members of the above communities, who became members of such communities since the passing of the B.N.A. act, to be considered qualified teachers for the purposes of the separate schools act, and, therefore, eligible for employment as teachers in the Roman Catholic separate schools within Ontario, where such members have not received certificates of qualification to teach in the public schools of the province?

To the layman the idea that the laws of Quebec have anything whatever to do with the qualification of teachers in Ontario seems to be entirely absurd and the answer of the court, in the negative, given recently, will be entirely satisfactory.

In giving the judgment of the court, the chief justice said:

The legislative authority of the provinces in relation to education, involving as it does the power of establishing public schools for the education of the youth of the country, necessarily includes the power to declare and prescribe the quality of the teaching to be given to the pupils attending them, and as necessary and incident thereto the control of the qualifications of the teachers in the schools. The general policy shown in the legislation is the requiring from persons engaged as teachers in the public schools, separate or otherwise, the qualifications obtained by the courses and examinations prescribed under the public schools act, R.S.O., 1897, ch. 292. And giving to the language of the latter part of sec. 2 of R.S.O., 1897, ch. 294, the fair and natural meaning that should be attributed to it, there is nothing in it requiring any greater restriction upon the earlier part than is necessary to protect the rights of those persons who at the date mentioned were entitled to exemption from such examinations.

It will be noticed that the learned judge omits the separate schools of Ontario "public schools," in one place, and in another place makes allusion to "the public schools, separate or otherwise." This covers a point that is too often lost sight of—that the separate schools of Ontario are public schools, just as much as the general public schools. This fact, remembered, will often be found useful to the people of Ontario. Meanwhile the children who attend the separate school branch of the public schools are to be congratulated upon the fact that their teachers must be as well qualified as the teachers of non-Catholic children.

Y. C. C. RECEPTION

The Splendid Rooms of the Conservative Club Now in Good Shape.

The Young Conservative Club's reception, for next Thursday evening, promises to be one of the most successful functions this city has enjoyed for many a year.

It will be remembered that an unfortunate contretemps somewhat interfered with the last big social event in these rooms, owing to a misconception as to the exact dimensions of the novel stairway in the building, had been floored over, and when the crowds attending the reception congregated in that part of the room, the temporary boarding over the old stairway, not adapted to holding such a weight, partly gave way, although no one was hurt in the least.

A master carpenter has put every thing in proper shape and says there is now no possible danger. The public should also remember that the walls are all solid brick which is not the case in several other buildings considered quite safe.

The program will consist of songs by a number of ladies and gentlemen. There will also be cards and refreshments. The members of the club are requested to remember that in order to make this event successful, they must turn out, one and all. Each member has the privilege of bringing two lady friends.

We Have Variety.

Ontario may not have the most delightful winter weather of any locality on earth, but it can show up a greater variety than any other spot on the Western hemisphere. A change of 50 or 60 degrees within twenty-four hours is only a fair sample of what this country can do in the line of variable weather. If the wayfarer will only remain in Ontario a few days in January or February he will be certain to find just the kind of winter weather he likes, no matter what that may be. Other countries have a stand old kind of weather in mid-winter that repeats itself year in and year out. It may be disagreeable to one out of ten persons. There is never any change of program. Not so in Ontario. Here we have all kinds, and the changes follow each other with the regularity and certainty of acts on a vaudeville show. In brief, the weather in Ontario, during the winter months, may well be compared to a big department store. It affords something to please everybody. What one don't want another does. Great is Ontario!

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

Author of "A Beautiful White Devil," "A Bid For Fortune," "The Marriage of Esther," "Dr. Nikola," Etc., Etc.

don't know how to make you believe it, or how to enable you to appreciate my feelings. One thing was certain, lying on the bed before me, his head bandaged up, and a bushy beard clothing the lower half of the face, was no less a person than Richard Bartrand—my old enemy and the man I believed myself to have murdered in London so many months before. I could hardly believe my eyes; I stared at him and then looked away—only to look back again half expecting to find him gone. Could this be any mistake? I asked myself. Could it be only a deceiving likeness, or an hallucination of an overtaxed brain? Hardly knowing what I did I dragged Agnes by the wrist out of the house to a quiet corner, where I leant against the wall feeling as if I were going to faint again.

"What is the matter, Gilbert!" she cried. "Oh, what is the matter with you!"

"Matter!" I almost shouted in my joy. "This is the matter. I am free—free—free! Free to marry you—free to do as I please, and live as I please, and go where I please! ! ! For there in that bed is my old enemy, the man I told you I had killed."

For a second she must have thought me mad, for I noticed she shrank a step away from me, and looked at me with an apprehensive glance. But she soon recovered her composure, and asked if I were certain of what I said.

"As certain as I am that you are standing before me now," I answered. "I should know him anywhere. Where is the doctor?"

A moment later I had found the doctor.

"Doctor," I said, "there is a man in that room yonder whom, I am told, you say has a broken back. He is unconscious. Will he remain so until he dies?"

"Most probably," was the other's matter-of-fact reply as he began to bind up the arm of the man he had been operating on. "Why do you ask?"

"Because it is a matter of the most vital importance that I should speak with him before he dies. All the happiness of my life and another's depends upon it."

"Very well. Don't worry yourself. I'll see what I can do for you. Now go away and be quiet. I'm busy."

I went away as he ordered me, and leant against the verandah rails at the back of the house. My head was swimming, and I could hardly think coherently. Now that Bartrand was alive, every obstacle was cleared away—I was free to marry Agnes as soon as her father would let me; free to do whatever I pleased in the world. The reaction was almost more than I could bear. No words could over-estimate my relief and joy.

Half an hour later the doctor came to me.

"Your man is conscious now," he said. "But you'd better look sharp if you want to ask him anything. He won't last long."

I followed him into the house to the corner where the sick man lay. As soon as he saw me, Bartrand showed with his eyes that he recognised me.

"Pumetherne," he whispered, as I knelt by the bed, "this is a strange meeting. Do you know I've been hunting for you these nine months past?"

"Hunting for me!" I said. "Why, I thought you dead!"

"I allowed it to be supposed that I was," he answered. "I can tell you, Pumetherne, that money I swindled you out of never brought me an ounce of luck—nor Gibbs either. He turned cocktail and sent his share back to me almost at once. He was drinking himself to death on it, I heard. Now look at me, I'm here—dying in South Africa. They tell me you saved me to-day at the risk of your life."

"Never mind that now," I said. "We've got other things to talk about."

"But I must mind," he answered. "Listen to what I have to tell you, and don't interrupt me. Three nights before I disappeared last winter, I made my will, leaving you everything. It's more than the value of the mine, for I brought off some big speculations with the money, and almost doubled my capital. You may not believe it, but I always felt sorry for you, even when I stole your secret. I'm a pretty bad lot, but I couldn't steal your money and not be a bit sorry. But, funny as it may seem to any one, I hated you all the time too—hated you more than any other man on God's earth. Now you've risked your life for me, and I'm dying in your house. How strangely things turn out, don't they?"

Here the doctor gave him something to drink, and bade me let him be quiet for a few moments. Presently Bartrand recovered his strength, and he was again.

"One day, soon after I arrived in London from Australia, I fell in tow with a man named Nikola. I tell you, Pumetherne, if ever you see that man beware of him, for he's the Devil, and nobody else. I tell you he proposed the most fiendish things to me and showed me such a side of human nature that, if I hadn't quarrelled with him and cut-none so much of him—I should have been driven into a lunatic asylum. I can tell you it's not altogether a life of peace to be a millionaire. About this time I began to get threatening letters from men all over Europe trying to extort money from me for one purpose or another. Eventually Nikola found out that I was the victim of a secret society. How he managed it, the deuce only knows. They wanted money badly, and finally Nikola told me that for half a million he could get me clear. If I did not pay up I'd be dead, he said, in a month. But I wasn't to be frightened like that, so I told him I wouldn't give it. From that time forward attempts were made on my life until my nerve gave way—and in a blue funk I determined to forego the best of my wealth and clear out of England in the hopes of beginning a new life elsewhere.

He paused once more for a few moments; his strength was nearly exhausted, and I could see with half an eye that the end was not far distant now. When he spoke again his voice was much weaker, and he seemed to find it difficult to concentrate his ideas.

"Nikola wanted sixty thousand for himself, I suppose for one of his deviltments," he said, huskily. "He used every means in his power to induce me to give it to him, but I refused time after time. He showed me his power, tried to hypnotise me even, and finally told me I should be a dead man in a week if I did not let him have the money. I wasn't going to be bluffed, so I declined again. By this time I distrusted my servants, my friends, and everybody with whom I came in contact. I could not sleep, and I could not eat. All my arrangements were made, and I was going to leave England on the Saturday. On the Wednesday Nikola and I were to meet at a house on special business. We saw each other at a club, and I called a hansom, intending to go on and wait for him. I had a dreadful cold, and carried some cough drops in a little silver box in my pocket. He must have got possession of it, and substituted some preparations of his own. Feeling my cough returning, I took one in the cab as I drove along. After that I remember no more till I came round and found myself lying in the middle of the road, half covered with snow, and with a bruise the size of a tea-cup on the back of my head. For some reason of his own Nikola had tried to do for me; and the cabman, frightened at my state, had pitched me out and left me. As soon as I could walk and it was daylight, I determined to find you at your hotel, in order to hand over to you the money I had stolen from you, and then I was going to bolt from England for my life. But when I reached Blankerton's I was told that you had left. I traced your luggage to Aberdeen; but, though I wasted a week looking, I couldn't find you there. Three months ago I chanced upon a snapshot photograph [illegible]

To the Canadian Investor

DORES-MONTGOMERY MINING COMPANY
OF BULLFROG, NEVADA

The undersigned is pleased to announce to the investors of Canada that he has been appointed Canadian Fiscal Agent of the above company, and is offering a limited amount of treasury stock at 25c. per share for development work. This property is just 1200 feet southwest of the famous Montgomery Shoshone mine and both have unquestionably the same vein. The group shows a well defined vein cropping out through, and it is a perfect fissure. A six inch talc seam on the hanging wall gives high values. We have also several other ledges, and it is only a matter of development work to make this property equal to any producer in the section.

The management of the Montgomery Shoshone conservatively estimates that the mines has produced $250,000 worth of ore. If this is right, the ore from the mines has averaged about $75 a ton, or about $1.50 for every foot of sinking, the mines being 4 x 7 in clear.

Ore from the mines running less than $30 is thrown over the dump as milling ore. No less than 150 tons of ore has been shipped from this mine, all of it coming from the mines. Another shipment of 50 tons or more will be made via Las Vegas in a few days.

The figures given above are startling in the extreme, but the measurements and ore values as quoted are official—direct from the management of the wonderful mine that is today astonishing the world.

This property is only 1200 feet from the Dores Montgomery Mine.

RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED

SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Iron Spar Copper Mining Company Has Appointed a Canadian Agent —Only a Limited Number of Shares for Sale.

Among the new mining properties that are attracting attention in the Coeur D'Alene District of Idaho for their encouraging conditions, the Iron Spar Copper property is one of the foremost. A large auriferous copper ledge traverses the property for a distance of 6,000 feet, crossing from Idaho to Montana, over the main range of the Coeur d'Alene Mountains, which form the boundary line between these States. In the matter of transportation facilities the Iron Spar has a great advantage over many other properties, being distant only a mile and a half from the Northern Pacific Railroad, and a half mile from a good wagon road. The property is owned by the Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., and the greatest economy and dispatch is being practised in opening up vein.

Another contract will be let soon to extend the present tunnel another hundred feet on the vein, and a good workable ore is expected within ten days from time work is started. The character of the vein and enclosing formation is in all essential particulars similar to that of the Monitor and Richmond on the divide, a few miles to the east. Great depth is possible to be gained on the ledge by driving westward into the main range, which line of policy will be strictly adhered to in the matter of development, to further economize and expedite the work. It is the intention of the company to install a compressor and machine drills early in the spring.

Mr. W. K. Hall, of this city, has secured a block of stock of this splendid proposition, and will dispose of it for a short time at ten cents per share.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—All quiet in the Hotel des Cops yesterday.

—Butter went down on Saturday in price, consequently otherwise.

—There will be an "at home" given in the S.O.E. hall on the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 13th.

—The Epworth League of George street church will hold a tea on St. Valentine's night, Feb. 14th.

—There was a special collection for home missions at both services in St. Andrew's church yesterday.

—A new Guernsey scale of two tons lifting capacity is being placed in the baggage room of the G.T.R. station.

—Miss Halliday, Water street, has returned from a two-weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. R. A. Ross, Montreal.

—Mr. Stanley Blewett, of Lakefield has disposed of his thoroughbred horse to Mr. George Graham, of Peterboro.

—Mrs. (Dr.) Greer, corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets, will entertain a large number of friends tomorrow afternoon.

—The National Trust Co., of Toronto, have been appointed liquidators for the Peterboro Cold Storage & Provision Co., Limited.

—The session of the Ontario Legislature will open on Thursday next. A number from Peterboro will attend the opening ceremonies.

—At yesterday evening's service in All Saints' church, Rev. Wm. Major preached the second of his series of sermons on "The Creation."

—Lent this year begins on February 28th and ends on April 15th. Easter Sunday. Good Friday will accordingly be observed on the 13th of April.

—A rehearsal of the Choral Society will be held in the Central school tomorrow night when all the members are especially requested to be present.

—Everything quiet along the Otonabee was the motto at police headquarters on Saturday. No court, no arrests not even the officers' salaries being arrested.

—There was much doing at the Y.M.C.A. meeting yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. G. Potter spoke, taking as his subject "Worst of all Mockeries," and gave a very able address.

—They are having a H.O.T. at Belleville. The gas from mains which have sprung a leak, has caught fire and is creating a miniature Gehenna which is characterized by numerous explosions underground.

—The 3rd Y.M.C.A. Pop Saturday night went off as successfully as does the cork out of a bottle of Apollinaris water. There was a good attendance, and all present spoke in the highest terms concerning the pleasant evening spent.

—It was rumored yesterday that Mr. McKee, appointed as assessor for this year in conjunction with Mr. T. B. McGrath, will not accept the position nor act in the capacity of assessor. Now comes the tussle as to whom the recent appointment will be given.

—Some miscreant, by throwing a large piece of ice through a window in Sergt.-Major Brittain's residence on Murray street, caused considerable destruction. An expensive jardiniere and a plate glass, cook case door were destroyed by the missile. The police are investigating.

—The local merchants are kicking, and properly, because so many itinerant peddlers are doing business in the city. Housewives, when these gentry, nearly 10-tenths of whom are unreliable, call at their doors, should remember that whilst the goods they offer may seem cheap, these strangers pay nothing here towards rent, wages, fuel, taxes, religion, nor any other of Peterboro's expenses of municipal or other progress.

$10 Washington Excursion $10

Via Lehigh Valley Railroad, Friday, February 16th. Tickets only $10, round trip from Suspension Bridge. Tickets good 10 days. Stop-over allowed at Baltimore and Philadelphia on return trip. For tickets and further particulars, call on or address Robt. S. Lewis, L. V. R. Passenger Agent, 16 King street east, Toronto.

Miss Coleman Resigns

Miss S. Margaret Coleman, for nearly four years, superintendent of Nicholls Hospital, has resigned. At a meeting of the Board on Friday her resignation was accepted with regret. Advertisements will be placed in the Toronto papers for a new superintendent. Miss Coleman's superintending has been characterized by careful financial management, and strict economy.

Lack of Gas Compelled Union

A newspaper love feast by our evening contemporaries, was, paradoxical as it may seem, caused by a lack of gas, on Saturday. It is generally a superfluity of gas that causes estrangement between papers of opposite politics. On Saturday, an obstruction in the city gas mains compelled a shut down for several hours of the type setting machines. The evening papers, being both in trouble, united their efforts and thus were enabled to supply their readers on Saturday night.

Peterboro People in Lakefield

The Lakefield News, that bright little sheet issued in our northern suburb says; Miss Florence Madill is for a few days in Peterboro this week visiting friends.—Miss Mina Craft of Peterboro, is visiting in the village, the guest of Miss Ethel Davis.—Rev Father Whibbs of Campbellford, spent Tuesday in the village visiting his brother Mr. Thos. Whibbs.

Chicken Thieves in "Brooklyn"

Residents of our local Brooklyn, are being compelled to procure padlocks and bull dogs to protect their chickens by night, as chicken thieves are operating in that ward. One gentleman lost several hens the other night, and is now on the still hunt for the parties who fled midnight raids ar their neighbors' roosts cheaper than buying the usual 5 1-2 cents per pound, shipped on the cars.

WEDNESDAY'S TRIP

Many Will Accompany the Normal School Deputation

Much interest is being taken by every class of the community here over the endeavor to be made by our Council School Board, Board of Trade, County Council and citizens in general, to procure for Peterboro, one of the three new Normal schools to be established in Ontario. As noted in Saturday's issue of The Times, a committee with Mr. E. M. Dennistoun as chairman, was appointed to draw up a strong memorial to the Minister of Education, setting forth the claims of Peterboro, and the advantages of many kinds she offers for being chosen. This committee met in the city clerk's office Saturday night and drew up the momentous document, which is not lacking in either arguments or determination on the part of this city to secure the building.

During Saturday afternoon, Mr. T. R. Bradburn, M.P.P., made strenuous efforts to secure co-operation of members of the county council, and met with great encouragement.

He was promised that a good deputation of the County Council would accompany the city's deputation.

Arrangements have also been completed whereby a special train will leave Peterboro at 8.45 a.m., per C.P.R., on Wednesday, and will on the return trip leave Toronto at 11.30 that night. Them tickets by this special have been placed at the low price of $1.05 for return trip, and are good to return by any regular trains on Feb. 14th or 15th. This gives a trip by special train at less than single fare, and enables those going to take in the opening of Parliament.

It is the duty of all who can spare time or money to go up to Toronto, and help swell the deputation that will probably secure a fine public building for this city.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as whites, cures this and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 50 stamps.

A COLD JOB

For Two and a Half Days Pumping Oil at the Gas Works

Yesterday a heavy and hard job at the foot of Simcoe street was completed. On Wednesday the heaviest tank car of crude oil that ever came to Peterboro arrived and was shunted on the gas company's siding near the works. This car contained over seven thousand gallons of gas oil and unfortunately was not provided with the same couplings and connections as in vogue at the local gas house. It is customary then to attach a three-inch pipe leading to their tanks between Simcoe street, adjacent to the gas house, and by simply turning a cock let the oil, by force of gravity, empty through the long pipes into the tanks. This car however was of type unusual to Peterboro and a man has been standing, 10 hours a day, for the past two days and a half, speedily pumping the oil out through a dome on the top of the car into the pipes to their tanks. This was a heavy contract, as can be judged when one thinks of pumping by hand, through an ordinary kitchen cistern pump, over 7,000 gallons of oil, whilst standing on the semi-circular top of an iron tank, exposed to the cold breezes, sweeping up the Otonabee river.

Across Continent in 72 Hours

The Canadian Pacific will try the experiment this summer of a trans-continental train, which will make the trip across this continent in 72 hours, thus knocking off 24 hours from the fastest time heretofore made for the distance, in 96 hours. The time made last summer was 108 hours by both the Imperial Limited and the Transcontinental Express.

THE VITAL CENTER

No Man Stronger than his Stomach—Let Mi-o-na Strengthen Your Digestive System.

The stomach is your vital center. No man is stronger than his stomach.

The average man measures his physical vitality by his heart, his kidneys, or his lungs. Yet it is the stomach that should be first considered when you cast up the account of health.

Every organ of the body is sustained and nourished by food which is converted into nutrition in the stomach and conveyed to every part of the system in the form of blood. For this reason, when the stomach is strengthened with Mi-o-na and is able to convert the food into sustenance, all other organs soon become well. This explains many cases of heart, liver or kidney disease in the cases where Mi-o-na is used. It is the most wonderful health restorer known.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na for a few days, and you will soon see a great improvement in your health.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialists which will be sent free. The E. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Fifty Delegates From Peterboro

Will Support a Memorial to the Minister of Education for a Normal School in This City---John Kincaid Appointed Assessor in Place of Thos. McKee.

The City Council last night met last night jointly with committees from the Board of Trade and School Board to ratify a memorial to the Minister of Education for the establishment of one of the three proposed new Normal schools for Ontario, and to name a deputation to go to Toronto in support of said memorial.

There were present the following representative gentlemen:

T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.

City Council—Mayor Henry Best, and Aldermen Adams, Elliott, McWilliams, McIntyre, Ball, Mason, Graham Tovey and Duncan.

Board of Trade—Messrs. W. H. Maldrum W. H. Moore, E. G. Patterson and J. Coyle Brown.

Board of Education—Messrs. Wm. Pringle. W. H. Hall and School Inspector Duncan, Walker.

Mr. R. M. Denniston read a very carefully prepared memorial to the Minister of Education, advancing the reasons why a Normal school should be located in the city of Peterboro.

The was unanimously adopted by the meeting as satisfactory in every respect, and on motion of Alderman McWilliams, seconded by Ald. Elliott, it was decided that it should be submitted to the Minister of education at Toronto, tomorrow, supported by a deputation of 50 representative citizens, the city to pay their expenses, at the rate of $3 a head, including railway fare.

The deputation will consist of the Warden of the County of Peterboro such councillors as can go. His Worship, Mayor Best and all of the city aldermen who can attend, the Board of Education, and officers; Jas. Stevenson, Mr. Fessen ... principal of the Collegiate Institute ... nd School Inspector Duncan Walk... the Separate School Board; officers and inspector. Ten citizens to be named by the Mayor. The members from the Board of Trade suggested by Mr. W. H. Moore, and subsequently ratified by President D. Hughes-Charles, are Messrs. John Carnegie, Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., D. Hughes-Charles, W. H. Meldrum W. H. Moore, T. F. Matthews, R. M. Denniston, J. Coyle Brown, H. LeBrun, Wm. Langford. Our member, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., will of course, also be present in Peterboro's interests.

JOHN KINCAID, ASSESSOR.

On the adjournment of above meeting, the Council held a short session, to receive Mr. Thos. McKee's resignation as one of the city's two assessors for 1906, which resignation he offered in writing and on personal grounds.

The by-law appointing Thos. McKee and Thos. B. McGrath assessors was passed at the last Council meeting.

On motion of Ald. Ball, seconded by Ald McIntyre, the solicitor was authorized to prepare a bylaw to amend the bylaw appointing assessors by substituting the name of John Kincaid for that of Thos. McKee.

This of course will have to be ratified at council's next meeting.

Dr. Thomas Johnston, V.S., the well-known local horseman, has acquired that fast and well known mare, May Belle, giving in part payment, the mare, White Blaze. She is said to be the fastest green mare in Canada.

May Belle has already shown quarters in 36 seconds, her sire is Muskie Wilkes and dam Crown Imperial.

Dr. Johnston has another under his care by Mainville, that steps fast. Besides these two good mares, he has Harry Direct, that showed up well in Lindsay.

Hopes for Georgian Bay Canal

Ottawa, February 12.—At the dinner given by the Hon. C. S. Hyman to sixty engineers of the Department of Public Works, the Minister said that he hoped that the surveys which had been made of the Georgian Bay canal route would justify him in recommending to his colleagues of the Cabinet the prosecution of this work as a national enterprise.

Many Settlers From Eastern States

Winnipeg, February 12.—An Owen Sound land syndicate have disposed of a large section of Saskatchewan and Alberta lands to New York and Ohio farmers, who will locate there this spring. About 15,000 settlers are assured for the west through this source alone.

The Holland Succession

The Hague, February 12.—The newspapers of Holland are again advocating the proposition for a change in the constitution in order to regulate the succession in the event of Queen Wilhelmina leaving no offspring. The Handelsblad favors an amendment providing that free choice of a successor should replace the representation of the female line.

ON ELECTRIC WIRING

Mr. H. F. Strickland, Knows Here-Points Out Defects

Concerning the opinions of a gentleman, well known in this city, regarding defects in the present system of electric wiring, the Toronto World says:

H. F Strickland, inspector of electric wiring for the underwriters, read a paper at the regular meeting of the Toronto Chapter of Architects Association.

Mr. Strickland demonstrated the proper methods of wiring, pointing out many defects in the present systems in vogue.

He advocated a system of iron conduits in the downtown district, and pointed out the dangers of the telegraph wiring into buildings for callboxes.

The architects in discussing the paper, expressed themselves as seized of the importance of the suggestions made. In talking of the appointment of a civic wiring inspector, it was thought the city had other need for its funds when the work of this being undertaken by the underwriters, who also had. Lawyer, to vested with authority to compel observance of the laws."

ALL LONDON MYSTIFIED

Mrs. Cecil Campbell Unveils the Future and Tells of the Past

London, February 12.—An Oriental mystic who claims to have penetrated many of the mysteries not yet revealed to the Occidental world, has set all London speculating about her prophecies. Her name is Mrs. Cecil Campbell, and she is a disciple of the Yogas, who have taught her many of the mysteries of the future. One of the theories explained to her by the Yogas has to do with the names of different people. By a simple arithmetical calculation, not unlike the famous "Treble it and I will tell you your birthday," Mrs. Campbell can tell you whether or not the names of husband and wife are likely to spell happiness. Her theory appears to be that the names of the persons have a great influence on their lives and happiness. It is a question of "vibrations," and requires a technical "key." If, however, a person after studying the "key" finds that the numbers do not work out satisfactorily, he is strongly advised to use a nickname.

It is her prophecies regarding statesmen of the first magnitude that have brought Mrs. Campbell to the front. In this connection she says:

"Mr. Balfour must do nothing until the end of July. He was born under Cancer. Neptune is in Cancer, and brings plots, enemies and evil influences. When Jupiter enters Cancer at the end of July Mr. Balfour should make his first move. There will be very serious trouble in and out of Parliament at the close of the year. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman must be prepared for an accident to one of his ankles, and he will also be in danger from boiling liquids."

Sudden Death of J. Langley

Ottawa, February 12 — Mr. James Langley, assistant foreman of the government printing bureau, was found dead in his bed on Thursday morning. He had been ill for some time from indigestion. The deceased, who was 54 years of age, was born in Montreal, but came to Ottawa when a young man. He was a brother-in-law of the late Hon. Clarke Wallace.

Physician Dies From Blood Poisoning

Woodstock, N. B., February 12.—Dr. William H. Hand died at the Public Hospital here this morning at six o'clock, after an illness of some three weeks' duration brought on by blood poisoning contracted while performing an operation. He was one of the most prominent citizens of the place, and greatly regarded in every way.

A Gold Prospective Rise

Silver City, Nev., February 12.—When Mrs. Robert Slater, of Spring Valley, opened the faucet in her kitchen the other morning, some small gold nuggets fell out into the water. When the snow melts there will be an exploration of the ground through which the stream passes, and perhaps a "rush."

Ontario's Factory Fatalities

Toronto, February 12.—The reports of the Ontario factory inspectors shows that during 1905 there were in the factories of the province 652 accidents, of which forty were fatal, as against 678 accidents in 1904, with 37 fatalities.

Toronto Theatre Changes Hands

Toronto, February 12.—Mr. Ambrose J. Small has purchased the Grand Opera House from the estate of the late Alexander Manning, the price being $300,000. Mr. Small paid $75,000 in cash and gave a mortgage for the remaining $125,000. The Grand Opera House property was included in the portion of the estate which went to Mr. Percy Manning.

Another Peterboro Industry

Messrs Grafton & Co., the clothiers, well known here have purchased an important piece of real estate, Nos. 439-449 Dundas street, Woodstock. The price paid was a heavy one. The deal included the property and business of George Robinson, of that city. The property, formerly called the Scott Block, prior to the sale was known locally as the Robinson Block. Messrs. Grafton & Co., after stock-taking, will carry on the business.

HYOMEI KILLS CATARRHAL GERMS

Its Healing Air Reaches Every Tissue of Nose, Throat and Lungs.

All the stomach dosing in the world cannot do any actual good in the treatment of catarrhal troubles, unless the nose and throat are completely freed from the catarrhal germs, and the poison that they produce.

Hyomei is Nature's true cure for catarrh. It destroys all germs in the air passages and lungs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and effectually drives from the system all trace of the poison. When using the Hyomei treatment, the air you breathe is like that on the Mountains, high above sea level, where the pine woods fill the air with purifying and healing qualities that give health and strength to those suffering from diseases of the respiratory organs. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, the healing air of Hyomei reaches every tissue of nose, throat and lungs, and immediate relief is given, and a permanent cure is soon made.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler, medicine dropper, and one bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1.00, extra bottles 50 cents.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

ILLEGAL WHISKY

Inland Revenue Officers Search in Vain for Illicit Still

It is an open secret that several gun... per century, if not more, of tax-dodging that has not paid his ... just ... revenue are made in this county.

Last week Inspector Floody, of the Excise Department, Toronto, Mr. Wm Rudkins, of the local Customs House and County Constable Archie Moore attempted last week to locate an illicit still, which is alleged is in operation in the county. They were not successful in locating the still or in effecting the arrest of the alleged "moonshiners" although their efforts in that direction were most strenuous.

Their action was caused by the discovery that one of the most important utensils connected with distilling, viz., a still, had been shipped by a Toronto firm to a man in this city last August. Inspector Floody came down from Toronto, and on Thursday morning, accompanied by Mr. Rudkins and County Constable Moore, drove out to the home of the family who were supposed to have the still, near the head of Chemong Lake on the Emmismore side.

On their arrival at the house, situated near the shore of the lake, the officers made a thorough search of the premises. Those present denied emphatically all knowledge of a still on their property.

Neither still, worm, malt nor other evidence of distilling were found. The outbuildings around the place were also searched, but there were no traces of what was sought, so the officers returned to Peterboro.

That illicit distilling is done in this county is beyond dispute or doubt. Any one who could collect a bonus of $100 for every glass of moonshine or potteen, distilled illegally within, say, forty miles of this city, within the past year would have enough capital to take Mingo away for many a year. At the same time, any one who would or could put down many glasses of this pale, smoothly looking and smoky flavored red-hot intestine destroyer and brain annihilator would deserve six months twice a year if caught with it.

Anti-British Feeling in Japan

London, Feb. 12.—The strong opposition on the English-Japanese alliance, which is every day becoming more evident in Japan, has created considerable uneasiness here, and the Japanese government has been asked to prevent the publication of any more anti-British articles in the Japanese press.

As a last resort it has been decided that the Prince and Princess of Wales, when they leave India, are to go to Tokio to pay an official visit to the Mikado.

In the meantime King Edward is in favor of a complete reorganization of the British army, which both Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener have declared to be entirely insufficient for the protection of the empire, but with the strong labor representation in the House of Commons, it may prove very difficult to get the money necessary to bring the army up to date.

Preston Falls Masons Celebrate

Last week the thriving village of Preston Falls, had a district Masonic meeting, under guidance of the District Deputy Grand Master, J. W. Watson, esq., of Minden. The Masons of the village, had their new hall including a very fine suite of rooms, a very fine suite of rooms, including hall, dining room and kitchen, formally opened. The first and second degrees were exemplified respectively by Lindsay and Beaverton brethren, and the third degree was given in excellent form by the Haliburton lodge.

OUR BRIGADE PRAISED

Mr. Power, Toronto Has Kind Words for Our Local Fire Laddies

Yesterday morning, Mr. W. Power, of Toronto, official insurance adjuster, who came to this city in connection with the recent fire in the Oddfellows' Hall, was a guest at the Snowdon House.

A Times representative, who had the pleasure of conversing with Mr. Power, was assured by him, and his opinion is based upon a long and extended experience, that the fire in the Oddfellows' Hall, was handled by our local brigade in a manner that would reflect credit upon any trained brigade on the continent.

He considered the chief of the brigade and the firemen deserve great credit for the precaution they took in not using water. In many cases when similar fires have been discovered, the water has been immediately turned on. In this case had the firemen used water the damage that would have resulted would have been inestimable. Had it been turned on, it would have quickly soaked through into the offices and shops below doing incalculable damage.

The damage done was allowed for on a settlement basis of $186. Mr Power expressed, in no unmeasured terms, his high opinion of Chief Rutherford and the brigade's management of this fire, right in the center of Peterboro's mercantile locality.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

HOCKEY.

In the recent Belleville-Cobourg hockey match, a funny thing happened. Belleville won by two goals to the good, but one goal was scored in which the puck broke in two, half going into the net and the other in the air. Referee Waghorne allowed the tally attaching to it a precautionary rider, that he would place the matter before the O.H.A. The score was 8 to 6, and goals count, so that it was an important point.

* * * *

The Cobourgs are a bunch of game losers. They had no complaint to make. "We were fairly beaten," they said. The only thing they felt sore at was that Belleville did not beat them instead of Port Hope.

A new gallery has been built in the Barrie rink which will provide additional accommodation for one thousand spectators. It has been erected by the enterprise of Mr. Jas. Vair.

* * * *

The Mutual street rink, Toronto, is to be torn down and in its place is to be erected a building costing about $100,000.

The Caledonia Skating and Curling Company has bought the rink property and also 200 feet more of frontage on the Mutual street. The building will have a seating capacity of nearly 7,000, and will be constructed so that horse shows, mass meetings and band concerts can be held. Ar artificial ice plant will also be installed, so that the hockey players will not be depending on the weather man for ice.

The ice surface will be 80x200 feet in size and the total frontage will be 350 feet on Mutual street.

Arrangements were completed yesterday by Mr. Chris Graham, for a return match here with Brockville on Wednesday evening. The St. Lawrence puck chasers think they will show up better this coming game; in fact they have the nerve to assert that they will probably win. It is now up to our local patrons of sport and of good clean sport, to turn out in large numbers and encourage a Peterboro team that has this season emblazoned the name of Peterboro on the boards as a winner everywhere. It should also be borne in mind that it costs these clubs more than a trifle to travel about, and their only source of revenue is the gate receipts.

SIMPLE HEALTHFUL LIVING

The Problem Not Difficult of Solution

A Western woman who had been for years a sufferer from "chronic gastritis, induced, it is believed, by over indulgence in coffee," gives an interesting experience with a good, healthy moral attached to it:

"For 5 or 6 years I tried every patent nostrum advertised for the relief or cure of dyspepsia. Sometimes I found temporary relief; sometimes I was for months blistered and burned with plasters externally, or drugged and dieted till I was too disheartened and despondent to care whether I lived or died, for I never got any permanent relief.

"I have lived for weeks at a time on raw eggs, or dry toast, or buttermilk, or sweet milk I have fasted for days, suffering the agonies of starvation, and then endured equally acute agony because I must eventually eat.

"My kidneys became badly affected and a female weakness resulted. I was dropsical at times; at others much emaciated. I tried change of climate and spent three years travelling in search of health, coming back home to the same old routine of medicine.

"It is about three years now since I first tried Grape-Nuts food—not with any hope of finding anything I could eat, but because I was so sick of everything else. I liked the flavor of Grape-Nuts so much that I ate scarcely anything else for a week.

"I well remember my astonishment when I found I could satisfy my appetite without paying the penalty of hours of suffering; that I could eat a supper of Grape-Nuts and sleep all night afterwards—something I had not done for years.

"But even after a month's use of Grape-Nuts I did not imagine the relief was anything more than temporary till I found I was gaining flesh at the rate of five or six pounds per month, that my digestion was restored, my kidney trouble had disappeared and my nerves had become toned up and steady. I have eaten Grape-Nuts daily ever since and shall continue to do so as long as I live.

"At present I weigh 137 pounds—not flabby, dropsical fat, but hard, solid flesh. I eat three meals every day, can indulge in fruit, and never suffer a single pang from indigestion. My husband, who used to suffer from coffee poisoning (sour stomach, flatulence and heart burn) has long since given up the Arabian berry and, using Postum Coffee and Grape-Nuts food, has become a hale, hearty, healthy man.

"We think we have solved the problem of simple, healthful living, for after three years of Grape-Nuts food we are not tired of it. It is still delicious and supplies so perfectly the place of meat that our butcher's bills are an almost unknown quantity." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason.

A Crusade Against Cars on Sunday

Ontario Government Urged to Hasten With Legislation to Prevent the Extension of the Operation of Lines on Sabbath.

Toronto Feb. 12.—An annual affair of a local nature, so far as the scene came off at the Parliament buildings for the workman thereon one week day a week. They also asked that the legislation of 1895 be retained and given a place in the proposed consolidation of the Provincial statutes.

In regard to the respective jurisdictions of the Province and Dominion, the deputation held the view that in deciding upon this question the Privy Council had in mind the whole bill and not the various sections thereof. The Provincial Government, therefore they believed, did have jurisdiction in matters covered in several of these sections. All such legislation would have to be passed as a civil law, and the legislation prepared by the Alliance had been prepared with this consideration in view. It presented a clear-cut view of the case upon which a Privy Council decision could be obtained.

EARLY ACTION ASKED.

Early action would be advisable to remove a murky atmosphere which surrounded the question in the general mind. Were the bill passed early this session, the matter could be placed before the Court of Appeal in April, carried to the Privy Council in July, and a decision passed on November.

Rev. Dr Ross of London said that if the clause restricting the running of electric cars on Sunday should be omitted in the present revision of the electric railway laws, the result would be disastrous in London, which to date has no Sunday street cars. A line was being built from London to Port Stanley, which would, if not specially prohibited, break the present prevailing Sabbath.

Senator McMullen of Mount Forest said that human legislation should be along the lines of God's laws. They did not want to force others to go to church, but they did want to see that it anyone was disposed to go to church he should have the opportunity to do so.

"The thing that is eating the vitals of the national life of the Republic to the south of us," declared Senator McMullen, "is the open desecration of the Sabbath."

An Ontario Roosevelt was the picture opened up for the Premier by Senator McMullen, if he would take up seriously the question of Sunday legislation.

Street Car and Snowdon House Bus Meet Causing Much Damage to Latter

There was some excitement through out the city yesterday, when was learned that a George street car on its way south, had collided with the Snowden House bus, on its way from the early train.

At the corner of George and Sherbrook streets the bus, containing Mr. Frank White, recently returned from a prospecting trip in the Cobalt District, as it was passing north along George street at eight o'clock, returning from the C.P.R. station, and driven by Mr. Ed. McDonald. At Sherbrooke street the National Hotel bus which was in the lead, turned west and crossed the car tracks.

The driver of the Snowdon House bus, turned to the west and attempted to cross the car tracks. He says that the motorman of the approaching car going south, did not sound his gong and as a result he did not notice it approaching. The car was travelling at a high rate of speed. The bus was just crossing the track when struck, and as a result it was badly smashed. Mr. White was the only person inside the conveyance, and he was severely injured. Besides being badly shaken up, he received several cuts on the face and head, a thumb was put out of joint and his ankle sprained. Constable's ambulance was called, and he was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where, after anesthetics had been applied, his injuries were attended to, and he is resting easily. The driver and horses escaped without injury.

The motorman in charge of the car was Mr. J. Lemieux.

Mr. Snowden, owner of the bus, had not decided last night whether to institute an action for damages or not.

Over 200,000 Russians

Newspaper Kokumin states that the total number of troops returned from Manchuria to Japan up to December 23 last was 212,168 of all ranks. If the same rate of transportation is kept up the number that should be back in Japan by April 12 next would be 620,000. According to the Japan Mail, this aggregate strength of the different Japanese armies in the field at the cessation of peace was about 750,000.

SENSATION IN A CHURCH

Presbyterian Minister Said an Elder Was a Christian Who Petitioned for Liquor License

St. Catharines, Feb. 12. — Sunday morning at Thorold Presbyterian church the pastor, Rev. J. W. McLeod, referring to the movement to re-open the Mansion House, which license was cut off by the commission a short time ago, said he understood that a number of prominent citizens, some of them members of his own church, had signed the petition to the license commissioners asking for the license.

"Any man or woman who signed such a petition is not a Christian," said Mr McLeod, emphatically.

At these words, George Turner, ex-Mayor of Thorold, and an ex-county commissioner of Welland, froze in his family pew and strongly resented the imputation made by the pastor.

"I want to say to you, Mr. McLeod," said he "that I am one of those who signed the petition to re-open the hotel. I had good reasons for doing so and I want to say that I consider myself just as good a Christian as anyone in this church."

Mr. Turner then sat down. Mr. McLeod made no reply to Mr. Turner, but went on with his service as if nothing had happened.

The affair has created a big stir in Thorold.

A BIG BLAZE AT THE FALLS

All the Summer Cars of the Belt Line Destroyed by Fire

Niagara Falls, Ont., Feb. 12.—The car barns of the International Railway Company, located near The Whirlpool on the Canadian side, were destroyed by fire yesterday morning. A snow plow and twenty-seven cars were burned. The car loss included all the summer cars of the Niagara Falls Belt Line, and those which have been operated this winter on the Belt Line.

The fire was outside the water limits.

RAILWAY WILL CROSS SOUTH.

Santiago, Chile, Feb. 12.—The first section of the trans-Andine Railway was inaugurated yesterday. The line reaches to the foot of the Andes, where the tunnel begins. The line will shorten the time to Buenos Ayres by six hours. The president and the civil authorities were present at the inauguration ceremonies.

How Consumption Starts

Tired When You Wake--Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out —Snap All Gone

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start to-day. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added, nerve force developed, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Lloyd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this:

"Household worries and cares had almost exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, cuffle and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE PROPER MOVE

Britannia continues to rule the wave, and she means to continue to do it. So she is on the lookout for anything that will improve the condition of her navy. For instance, the British Admiralty officials are becoming more and more impressed with the absurdity of the apparent fact that nearly all men learn to swim except those who go to sea for a living. They are resolved to put an end to it, if possible, so far as the royal navy is concerned, and have just issued an order in which they impress upon commanding officers the importance of taking advantage of every opportunity to provide the necessary swimming instruction in view of the large proportion of men in the fleet who have no notion how to keep themselves afloat in case of accident. Instruction is to be given under proper supervision either from the ship or from boats for half an hour daily whenever the state and temperature of the water permit. Advantage is to be taken of every opportunity to send parties of non-swimmers away for instruction. Bathing, however, is only to take place when the temperature of the water is above 58 degrees Fahrenheit, and men under instruction are not to remain in the water more than ten minutes at any one time unless the temperature is above 60 degrees Fahrenheit. The admiralty thinks that all men should be able to swim 100 yards with clothes on. Life-saving is also taught to the more proficient.

It really does seem that people who live on the sea ought to know how to swim. It might also be mentioned that those who live on land ought to know how to walk.

CARE OF FURNITURE.

Keep New Pieces as Long as Possible Without Restoratives.

New furniture should be kept as long as possible without the use of restoratives. Furniture which has been finished with shellac or varnish, whether in glossy or dull finish, should never be cleansed with soap and water. Soap is made to cut oily substances and thus eats out the oil from the waxed, oiled or shellacked surface and works destruction. If an oil restorer seems a necessity, raw linseed oil and raw turpentine in equal parts applied on a piece of cheesecloth will be found most often of service.

For carved portions which require daily attention soft brushes, such as are used for the cleaning of silver, are the best agent. Brush the ornamented portions thoroughly with a dry brush and use a second for the real cleaning. Dip the second in turpentine and use without fear of scratching the surface of the wood.

Where white spots appear on surfaces from the dropping of liquids or from heat the immediate application of raw linseed oil generally restores the color. The oil should be left on the affected spot for several hours or overnight. Alcohol performs the service if applied at once to rosewood or highly finished mahogany. In each instance when the color has returned the spot should be repolished with a piece of cheesecloth moistened with turpentine.

COLLEGE GIRLS.

Statistics Which Go to Show That They Make Good Mothers.

An instructor at Vassar college has an odd and interesting collection of photographs—the photographs of the babies of young women who are college graduates. The babies in this collection are strong and beautiful. They number over 300. The instructor said of them:

"I began to collect pictures of the children of female A. B.'s and A. M.'s because I had heard so much talk about the higher education unfitting woman for her natural sphere, and so on.

"My collection proves that the higher education makes mothers of an excellence hitherto unknown. Highly educated women don't weaken themselves with tight corsets, with overmuch dancing and card playing. They are athletic and strong. Their bodies as well as their minds are developed.

"They enter upon the duties of motherhood with a unique courage and wisdom and strength, and the result is that their babies are the biggest, strongest, handsomest little creatures—but just look at those pictures," she cried, "and judge for yourself!"

WHAT A WISE WOMAN KNOWS

That to be witty at the expense of somebody else is positive cruelty.

That the ability to keep a friend is of much more value than that required to gain one.

That personalities are not always interesting and very often tiresome as well as offensive.

That a kind word put at interest brings back an enormous percentage of love and appreciation.

That to talk and talk and talk about herself and her belongings is very tiresome to people who listen.

That, though a loving thought may not seem to be appreciated, it has yet made her braver and better because of it.

That to learn to talk pleasantly about nothing in particular is a great art and prevents saying anything she might regret.

That to be always polite to the people at home is not only more womanly and sweet, but more refined than having "company" manners.—New York Press.

Children's Play Aprons.

For children's play aprons, to be worn Saturdays or at home in the afternoons, there is nothing more admirably adapted than plain brown linen, says the Chicago News. An excellent pattern is a plain sack affair, with little fullness and sleeves buttoning at the wrist. These aprons button in the back, but to prevent that bane of the girl with the braided hair forever catching in the buttons it is best to hide these under a slip band. While gingham does not make such pretty garments, it is still much used, and because it can be chosen in such dark and serviceable colors.

I am authorized by the Company to offer, subject to prior sale, 500,000 shares of the treasury stock of this Company at par.

TEN DOLLARS PER SHARE

Eighteen months ago a limited issue of the stock of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company was placed upon the market at $10 per share. It is now selling at $34.00 per share and in the meantime has paid 20 per cent. in dividends.

Col. W. C. Greene, who is President of both Companies, expects the stock of the Greene-Gold-Silver Company to exceed even this flattering record made by the Greene Consolidated Copper Company.

Full information, maps, prospectus, reports, etc., will be furnished upon application. Make all checks for subscriptions payable to the order of

The Lust of Hate

BY GUY BOOTHBY

taken in Cape Town, and reproduced in an American illustrated paper. It represented one of the only two survivors of the Fiji Princess, and I recognised you immediately, and followed you, first to Cape Town and then, bit by bit, out here. Now listen to me, for I've not much time left. My will is in my coat-pocket; when I'm dead, you can take it out and do as you like with it. You'll find yourself one of the richest men in the world, or I'm mistaken. I can only say I hope you'll have better luck with the money than I have had. I'm glad you've got it again; for, somehow, I'd fixed the idea in my head that I shouldn't rest quietly in my grave unless I restored it to you. One caution! Don't let Nikola get hold of it, that's all—for he's after you, I'm certain. He's been tracking you down these months past; and I've heard he's on his way here. I'm told he thinks I'm dead. He'll be right in his conjecture soon."

"Bartrand," I said, as solemnly as I knew how, "I will not take one halfpenny of the money. I am firmly resolved upon that. Nothing shall ever make me."

"Not take it? But it's your own. I never had any right to it from the beginning. I stole your secret while you were ill."

"That may be; but I'll not touch the money, come what may."

"But I must leave it to somebody."

"Then leave it to the London hospitals. I will not have a penny of it. Good heavens, man, you little know how basely I behaved towards you!"

"I've not time to hear it now, then," he answered. "Quick! let me make a new will while I've strength to sign it."

Pens, paper, and ink were soon forthcoming; and at his instruction Mr. Maybourne and the doctor between them drafted the will. When it was finished the dying man signed it, and then those present witnessed it, and the man lay back and closed his eyes. For a moment I thought he was gone, but I was mistaken. After a silence of about ten minutes he opened his eyes and looked at me.

"Do you remember Markapurlie?" he said. That was all. Then, with a grim smile upon his lips, he died, just as the clock on the wall above his head struck twelve. His last speech, for some reason or other, haunted me for weeks.
